Queen Mary defeated Queen Alexandra 17-12 yesterday on the former's diamond in a Public School Softball League intermediate game. Queen Alexandra had an 11-0 lead in the fourth but the Queen Mary crew rallied then with a big hitting spree, including homers by Dafoe, Lincoln and Brown. They scored six in the fourth, nine next time up and two in the sixth. Queen Alexandra got two in the first, one next time, three in the third, five in the fourth and one more in the seventh. Teams:

Queen Alex: Mason, Druce, Johnston, E. Anderson, Whitton, F. Anderson, Reid, Kilborn, Merritt, Olmstead, Cuffe, Baker, Conway, Woodward.

Queen Mary: Putnam, Dafoe, Lincoln, Jones, Brown, Dubay, Beck, Dobbin, Reynolds, Stinson, Friar, Hillier.

Umpire, Mrs. Bullock.

Yesterday's Stars

By The Associated Press.

Batting—Marty Marion, Cardinals: hit home run with bases loaded as St. Louis went into first place tie with 5-2 victory over Brooklyn. It was his first grand-slam homer in majors.

Pitching—Howie Pollet, Cardinals: turned back Brooklyn with five hits in best pitched game of day.

Close Decision

BROOKLYN, N.Y., June 2 (AP) —Fritzie Pruden, 146, St. Catharines, won a close 10-round decision over Don Williams, 146, Worcester, Mass., Thursday night in the feature fight at Fort Hamilton Arena. One judge scored it 5-5. Another judge and referee Teddy Martin gave Pruden the edge, 6-4.

Sparks Wings To 8-3 Win Over Buffalo

By The Associated Press

One of the reasons advanced for the rapid rise of Rochester Red Wings to first place in the International League is the batting of Hal (Hoot) Rice.

Rice, a 26-year-old outfielder, has whacked the ball at a resounding .511 pace in the Wings' last 13 games to bring his season mark up to a lofty .362.

During the 13-game hitting span Rice has 23 hits in 45 trips to the plate, including eight home runs, two triples and three doubles.

Rice, who never hit more than seven home runs in any of his previous four playing seasons, started the Wings to an 8-3 victory over Buffalo Bisons Thursday night.

The lefthanded hitter socked his ninth homer of the season in the first inning and the Wings never were headed.

Don Richmond followed up with a three-run homer, his seventh of the year, in the third and Russ Derry drove in the Wings' final three runs on his ninth-round-tripper and a pair of singles.

Baltimore and Springfield were rained out. The other teams were idle.

Marion Hits Grand-Slam Cards Crush Brooks 5-2

By JACK HAND,
Associated Press Sports Writer.

Old Cardinals never die. Take Marty Marion for instance.

For 11 major league years, Mr. Shortstop went quietly about his business. Never did he hit a home run with the bases loaded. Never, until Thursday night.

Marty waited until they really needed one. With Brooklyn in town and the Cardinals scrambling to wipe out the May 18 horror of blowing an 8-0 lead and losing 9-8, Marion hit his grand-slam homer. The resulting 5-2 victory hoisted St. Louis into a first place National League tie with the Dodgers.

Howie Pollett, another Cardinal of 1941-42 vintage, backed up Marion's clout with a five-hit pitching job. It was Howard's first 1950 conquest of the Brooks, a club he used to whip regularly.

The sixth straight Cardinal victory may have been expensive. Two regulars, catcher Joe Garagiola and third baseman Tommy Glaviano were forced to leave the game because of injuries. Garagiola suffered a shoulder separation when he tumbled at first base. Blaviano injured an ankle at third.

Closing In

Philadelphia Phils and Boston Braves both closed in on the Dodgers and Cards with afternoon victories. The Phils racked up Chicago 8-4, moving to within a half game of the leaders.

Curt Simmons, with the customary aid from reliefer Jim Konstanty, grabbed his seventh victory at the expense of Frank Hiller, routed in a five-run second inning.

Sid Gordon's grand slam homer started Boston on its way to a 14-2 rout of Pittsburgh. It was the Pirate's ninth straight loss, their longest losing streak in 11 years.

Split Twin Bill

Cincinnati and New York split a twilight-night doubleheader with the Reds taking the second game 5-2 behind Ewell Blackwell. A four-run rally in the ninth inning gave the Giants the opener 6-7.

Rain washed out the Detroit at Philadelphia and Cleveland at Boston night games in the American League.

Coming from behind to tie in the ninth, the Yankees finally whipped Chicago's revamped White Sox 6-5 in 10 innings. Joe Page who followed Allie Reynolds and Bob Porterfield to the mound, picked up his third victory by working only the 10th inning.

Three successive singles enabled St. Louis Browns to nip Washington 5-4 in 12 innings. The Senators, somewhat provoked when Bob Kuzava and Cass Michaels failed to show up after their recent trade, apologized to the fans.

Drunk Driver Jailed For Week

A seven-day jail sentence was imposed on Stanley Fife, Otonabee township, Thursday, when found guilty in police court of drunk driving, May 25.

Provincial Constable Roy Feeley said he saw Fife's car driving from side to side on Highway 7 about three or four miles east of Peterborough about 11:30 at night.

He said Fife came within about three inches of hitting a car driving in the opposite direction. With Constable John C. McKendry driving, the police cruiser followed Fife from half to three quarters of a mile. In that time Fife continued to wander about the road.

He passed three other cars driving in the opposite direction coming close to hitting them. He said Fife slowed his car down to about 15 miles an hour.

The police car pulled alongside and stopped him. Constable Feeley went back to Fife's car. He said Fife was starting to get out of the car and when he said "All right, Stan, you'd better come along," Fife replied: "What's wrong. Everything's all right."

The police constable said Fife was drunk. He smelled strongly of liquor; had a wobbly walk and his speech was thick.

Constable McKendry corroborated Constable Feeley's evidence.

Fife told the court he had only four draughts of beer to drink that evening. He said he had nearly hit the other car because its lights were very bright and lights of a car behind him were shining on his windshield.

He said he slowed down to give the car a chance to pass him. He added he wasn't drunk; the four beers he had drunk had no effect on him.

Drunk Driving Charge Dismissed

Charges of drunk driving and careless driving against Cecil Stark, 56 George St., were dismissed in police court by Magistrate W. R. Philp, KC, Thursday.

The charges were laid as a result of an accident in which Stark broke off a hydro pole on McDonnel St., east of Monaghan Rd., shortly after midnight May 28.

Stark said he had spent the evening with Gordon Smith demonstrating a boat on Chemong Lake which Smith was considering buying.

Before meeting Smith he had had two pints of beer and drank two with Smith between 5:30 and 6:30 p.m. After eating some supper they went out to the lake and remained there until about 10:30. He drove Smith while he made two business calls, one on the Chemong road and one on Parkhill Rd. west of Monaghan Rd.

From the last call he drove south on Monghan Rd and turned east onto McDonnel St. Just as he was completing the turn, he said, another car driving on the wrong side of the road was coming straight for him.

Hit Hydro Pole

He swung to the left and hit the pole, knocking down a transformer The steering wheel hit him in the stomach and pain caused by an ulcer, blacked him out for two or three minutes

Smith testified that after the accident Stark was "shaking like a leaf" He said he suggested they remain where they were and one of them would phone for the police But Stark found his car would still run and started out to drive to the police station

A short distance east of Park St. they were stopped by a police cruiser which nosed in front of them.

Staggered To Cruiser

Constable Harold Andrew testified Stark half fell out of the car and staggered as he walked about 30 feet toward the police cruiser Both Smith and Stark said the police cruiser was no more than about five feet away and Stark had no difficulty getting out of the car.

Magistrate Philp said he had no reason to doubt Smith's evidence and would give Stark the benefit of the doubt.

Fierce Hailstorm

PARIS, June 2 (Reuters)—Lightning killed two men and another suffered severe shock during a fierce hailstorm in Paris Thursday.

Dog Bites Girl Carrier Delivering Papers

LINDSAY, June 2.—A cocker spaniel took a bite which required eight stitches and four clamps when it jumped at 11-year-old Jean Douglas Wednesday afternoon while she was delivering newspapers on her daily route.

Because it was raining, Jean got off her bicycle to deliver each newspaper to the doors of the homes on her route. She had just dropped the paper on the verandah when the dog jumped at her face, inflicting two wounds, one just below the eye and another near the mouth.

Asleep At Wheel Jailed One Week

Convicted of being drunk in charge of a car, Douglas MacPhail, Jr., 53 Alfred St., was sentenced to seven days in jail in police court Thursday and his father's car was impounded for three months.

Evidence showed that McPhail had been found asleep in his car stopped in the middle of Armour Rd. at Otonabee St. with the lights on about 3.20 a.m. May 27.

Constable Allen Edmison said he shook McPhail awake and found him in a drunken condition.

MacPhail had been sick in the car and smelled strongly of alcohol besides being unsteady on his feet and being thick in his speech. He said the ignition key was turned on but the motor was not running.

Constable Douglas Stark, who accompanied Constable Edmison, said he had driven the MacPhail car back to the police station.

MacPhail told the court he had spent the evening with some friends, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Leonard and Leonard's sister, Shirley. They had driven to Cobourg and spent some time there.

During the evening, said MacPhail, he had drunk one shot of rye whiskey and four pints of beer. They left for Peterborough about one a.m. with McPhail driving. He said after reaching Peterborough he began to feel sick.

On Armour Rd., driving home, he felt sick again and stopped to get out of the car. He returned to the car and fell asleep. He testified the ignition switch was off.

He said he walked straight to the police cruiser after being awakened "except for a little piece of gravel."

He said recently he had had 22 teeth out and the afternoon of May 26 he had spent two hours timing an arc welding job. He felt he breathed in a good deal of dust and fumes from the job and that explained his becoming ill.

Magistrate W. R. Philp, K.C., said he thought MacPhail's explanation of his staggering on the road "rather unusual."

CBC Reporters Under Fire By MP Group

OTTAWA, June 2 (CP) — The Commons committee on radio broadcasting may hear more today on the viewpoints expressed by news commentators employed by the CBC.

An argument developed in the committee Thursday after Donald Fleming (PC-Toronto Eglinton) said the commentators expressed the "leftist" point of view more often than any other.

A. D. Dunton, CBC chairman, took issue with the statement and said the CBC should not be charged with a leftist unbalance without evidence to support the charge. He promised to give the committee information on the amount of time each news commentator was on the air in the 1949-50 fiscal year.

During the discussion, Mr Fleming said that he would put Matthew Halton, CBC commentator in London, "on the left." He felt Wilson Woodside, Toronto commentator, was very fair.

The Rev. E. G. Hansell (SC-MacLeod) asked about King Gordon, former CBC commentator at United Nations. He said he understood Mr. Gordon had left McGill University because of his leftist leanings.

Best Correspondent

Mr. Dunton said Mr. Gordon had been, on the word of authorities, the best correspondent at United Nations. He recently had been hired away from the CBC by U.N.

Alistair Stewart (CCF-Winnipeg North) said surely members could not complain there were too many leftist commentators on the CBC when not one had been named. In his opinion the balance was the other way.

Earlier, the committee was read a letter in which Joel Aldred of Toronto, former CBC announcer, said he and his friends were appalled at the wastage that goes on in CBC.

Mr. Aldred, dismissed by the CBC about a year, offered to appear before the committee as a witness. The committee agreed that a decision on whether he should be called should be deferred until he has filed particulars on his charges.

Touch On Programs

The discussion touched briefly on CBC programs.

On programs, Ernest Bushnell, director general of programs for the CBC, said there are great quantities of untapped artistic talent in Canada which could be trained for radio work. If the CBC had more funds, it would like to make greater use of available talent to replace some of the recorded programs.

Mr. Stewart said he would like to see the CBC develop a national symphony orchestra. Mr. Bushnell estimated it would cost between $300,000 and $350,000 to carry such an orchestra and he did not think one should be formed at the expense of existing symphony societies.

IUE Wins Vote At Westinghouse

PITTSBURGH, June 2—(AP)—A narrow margin gave the C.I.O. a victory among Electrical workers at Westinghouse Electric corporation's biggest plant.

The election, a run-off, was held Thursday. Company and union spokesmen said 13,067 were eligible to vote in the East Pittsburgh plant, and that 11,713 cast ballots.

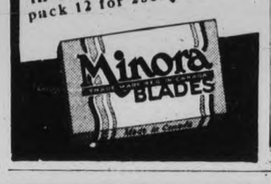
The result, now being certified, gave the International union of Electrical workers (C.I.O.) a majority of 258 votes over the left-wing United Electrical workers (Independent). That gave the C.I.O. union the right to act as bargaining agent for workers at the plant.

Both the U. E. and the I.U.E. waged bitter campaigns to win representational rights in Westinghouse plants throughout the United States. In April voting, each side won 20 plants.

Challenged ballots nullified an election at East Pittsburgh on April 27. The I.U.E. had a 100-vote majority, but 147 challenged ballots made a run-off necessary.

Anglican Synod Raps Press For Coverage

TORONTO, June 2.—(CP)—The press in Canada, and Toronto newspapers in particularly, were criticized at Thursday night's sittings of the Toronto Anglican diocese for "not playing ball" with the church in reports on church activities.



The criticism followed a report by Sam Wilson, chairman of the Synod's press and public relations committee, in which he suggested that every utterance given by church representatives should be carefully weighed. In this way, he said, there would be no misconception on the part of the public as to what the church stands for on all matters.

The Rev. C. R. Dowker, Toronto, said "I have no desire to find fault with the press, but I only wish to underline the fact that what the press regards as interesting is different to what the church believes is interesting."

The Rev. Arnold Wilkinson said "we're everlastingly praising the press, but the press is very quick to censor us." He said sentences were picked out of sermons for story and headline purposes.

R. V. Metcalfe said "we can't prevent the press from finding out what we are doing. The only way is to take them into our confidence. What have we as church people to hide?" He said the press is doing the church a service, "and if there is anything to hide then we deserve to have our faces turn scarlet."

Another delegate replied: "We're not trying to hide anything. The press can't be expected to know all the facts."

Crandall Claims He Is Right United Church Practice Wrong

The Rev. W. N. Crandall of Bethany resigned Thursday from the United Church of Canada, but he let go a couple of verbal shots before taking his departure.

A centre of theological controversy since he refused to baptize infants, the stocky, 36-year-old minister still claims he is right and the United Church practice is wrong.

In his letter of resignation he charges that the Peterborough Presbytery forwarded a request for his resignation to the Bay of Quinte Conference "without themselves discussing the Scriptural validity of Infant Baptism."

All along Mr. Crandall has contended that there is nothing in the teaching of Jesus, nor is there any biblical authority for infant baptism.

The Presbytery "has limited the scope of the Gospel message to the authority of the United Church Manual rather than the Holy Scriptures," he charges.

And he claims the presbytery "forced me to leave the pulpits of the Bethany pastoral charge without the consent of the congregations."

His resignation was one of the highlights of the 25th annual Bay of Quinte Conference held in Peterborough.

Mr. Crandall touched off the year's top theological dispute by stating (a) there is no biblical authority for infant baptism and it was contrary to his vows to preach anything contrary to the Bible; (b) as infants have not reached the "age of discretion" they are incapable of making the necessary spiritual decision required by baptism.

When he made known his refusal to baptize infants it split the congregations of his pastoral charge comprising some 500 people in the areas of Bethany, Ebeneezer, and Yelverton. His views drew attention and comment from United Church clergymen, laymen and others, all across Canada.

On May 5 he agreed to leave the Bethany-Ebeneezer-Yelverton circuit when asked to do so by a committee of the Peterborough presbytery and the official board of his pastoral charge. He described this move as "a change of pastoral relations."

But he refused to "resign."

"I'll resign only to the Conference and not to the presbytery," he told newsmen.

The resignation is effective June 30, the end of the pastoral year. His salary will continue until then and he and his young wife will be permitted to occupy the manse in Bethany.

Meanwhile he is looking around for another pulpit; or possibly secular work giving him time to preach.

"My plans are still indefinite," he told the Examiner.

After June 30 he will continue to be an ordained minister of the gospel but not a minister of the United Church.

Following is his letter of resignation, dated May 31, and accepted Thursday by the Bay of Quinte Conference:

Dear Brethren: Whereas Peterborough Presbytery has forwarded to the Bay of Quinte Conference a request for my resignation from the Ministry of the United Church of Canada because of my refusal to baptize infants, without themselves discussing the Scriptural validity of Infant Baptism, and has limited the scope of the Gospel message to the authority of the United Church Manual rather than that of Holy Scripture, and eventually forced me to leave the pulpits of the Bethany Pastoral Charge without the consent of the congregations, and, whereas a committee of the Bay of Quinte Conference has requested my resignation, I submit this, my resignation from the Ministry of the United Church of Canada, to be effective as of the end of the present pastoral year.

I have always been true to my Ordination vows and to my induction vows, being fully persuaded that the Holy Scriptures contain sufficiently all doctrines required for eternal salvation in our Lord Jesus Christ, instructing the people committed to my charge out of the said Scriptures and teaching nothing which is not agreeable thereto, while giving faithful diligence in administering the Sacraments as the Lord has commanded and as the Church has received the commandments which Christ gave.

I can no longer be one of those of whom Christ said "In vain do they worship me, teaching for doctrines the commandments of men" nor can I "reject the commandment of God" to keep the tradition of men. I love the little children and would not forbid them to come to our Saviour for His blessing but I cannot practice a ceremony which carries with it the doctrine of baptismal regeneration leading many to believe that they are thereby brought "into the family and household of God." I shall plan to serve the Lord where I may preach the Gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ and be free "to declare the whole counsel of God." I am content to say with the Apostle Paul, "I am not ashamed of the Gospel of Christ: for it is the power of God unto salvation to every one that believeth" and "Christ sent me not to baptize, but to preach the Gospel: not with wisdom of words, lest the Cross of Christ should be made of none effect. For the preaching of the Cross is to them that perish foolishness; but unto us which are saved it is the power of God."

Yours sincerely: Wilbur N. Crandall.

THE FIRST FULL REHEARSAL of the Trooping the Color took place recently in London on the Horse Guards Parade. The spectacle proved a fine attraction for thousands of Londoners enjoying their Whit Monday bank holiday. But the rehearsal of the Trooping the Color ceremony did not go according to plan for a Guards colonel who was unhorsed. The officer is seen getting to his feet while another officer calms his rearing charger. In right foreground are Guards recruits who attended the parade to see how things should be done.

Minister Deplores Gambling As Social Evil Number One

Speaking on the report of the committee of evangelism and social service, the Rev. Dr. R. C. Chalmers Thursday based his address on three things—the evil of gambling, the Lord's Day, and evangelism.

He reminded his listeners of what he ecalled "President Truman's sermon" given last year in Washington, in which the president of the United States called for a new moral conscience in his country.

Gambling was termed "social evil number one" by a Royal Commission on gambling in the United Kingdom, he said.

Sometimes, he said, we do not object to "the little forms of gambling." These have the same evil effect, said Dr. Chalmers, who is associate secretary of the United Church board of evangelism and social service.

"The spirit of gambling undermines the principle of work and is against Christian principles," he concluded.

Minimized observance of the Lard's Day, he said is a loss to the church and to God. In some U.S. cities, Sunday is a "bigger day of frivolity" than the rest of the week.

In Canada, "we have neglected the significance of the Lord's Day," and commercialism in some cities was undermining the spirit of the Sabbath.

"We must beware of this in our own communities," he said.

On evangelism, Dr. Chalmers said ministers and laymen should follow the lead of John Wesley's words—"Preach faith until you have it then preach faith." He also stressed the need of training lay persons as well as ministers to be evangelists.

Senate Approves Fisheries Agreement

OTTAWA, June 2 (CP) — The Senate Thursday approved ratification of the international convention for the Northwest Atlantic Fisheries, negotiated in Washington in January and February, 1949. There was no debate.

The signatory countries are Canada, the United States, Norway, Denmark, France, Italy, Spain and Portugal.

The Senate also gave second reading to the commons bill to amend the War Veterans Allowance Act bringing in some 3,000 additional eligibles for allowances for service extending as far back as the Riel rebellion.

Commons bill authorizing appointment of an additional vice-president of the National Research Council and providing money for carrying on government spendings of the estimates for the current fiscal year, were passed.

Gardiner Lauds Drive By Dairy Farmers

OTTAWA, June 2—(CP)—The current drive by dairy farmers to get Canadians to buy more of their butter, cheese, milk and other dairy products Thursday drew support from Agriculture Minister Gardiner.

In a statement, he commended the Dairy Farmers of Canada for collecting funds to launch a Canadian advertising campaign for their products and said it was "one of the most commendable steps which has been taken by any farmers organization in Canada."

Funds for launching the campaign are obtained through the collection of a cent on every pound of butterfat or milk equivalent produced by farmers during June.

Japanese Decorated

NAGASAKI, Japan, June 2 (AP)—Dr. Takashi Nagai, dying from effects of the 1945 atom bombing of this city and from his subsequent research, was presented two of Japan's highest medals Thursday. The Nagasaki University pathologist received the emperor's silver trophy and the prime minister's citation in a bedside ceremony. Nagai has written books on the effects of radioactivity as observed on himself

United Press, Union Reach Agreement

NEW YORK, June 2—(AP)—Negotiators for the United Press and the Commercial Telegraphers Union (AFL) have agreed on a formula for settling the union's five-week strike, Commissioner J. R. Mandelbaum of the Federal Mediation Service announced Thursday night.

The mediator said union delegates will recommend that the agreement be ratified by the membership. The strike will continue meanwhile, but sources close to the dispute said ratification may be completed by tonight.

Terms of the agreement were not made public pending ratification by both sides.

The strike by 265 striking teletype and maintenance men has involved United Press Bureaux throughout the United States. Service has been maintained with supervisory employees and some non-union "operators" transmitting the UP news report.

Reds In Bombay

BOMBAY, India, June 2 (AP)—The Peasants and Workers party, which has five representatives in the Bombay state legislature, Thursday announced it will henceforth be known as the Marxist-Leninist party. It said the party accepts guidance from the Cominform (international Communist organization.) The party is an offshoot of the ruling Congress party from which it broke away two years ago.

Says More Enthusiasm Needed In Christian Church

TORONTO, June 2. — "The communist and the ultra-nationalist: they believe their beliefs," Canon Cody warned Thursday's session of the Toronto diocese Anglican synod. "That is the point for the Christian: does he really believe? Are we prepared to act as missionaries and evangelists? Do we have the enthusiasm of the followers of these strange and noxious cults?"

Dr. Cody spoke on the report on mission work. "I am glad to see the younger clergy sharing in the debates as well as in the work," he declared. "We have too many decorative members of our communion."

Chancellor R. H. Soward, reporting on the national missionary activities, said that missionaries from China had brought back a Chinese proverb: "Communism is God's judgment on flabby churches." Canon L. A. Dixon, in speaking to the report, said that 16 dioceses of the Dominion were not yet self-support ing.

"I would like you to think of church extension in its larger sense, rather than as applied entirely to your own docese," he told the synod. "There would be no Toronto synod had it not been for the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel, founded more than 200 years ago."

Need Enthusiasm

The Rev. R. P. Walker, reporting for the missionary committee, said it would be necessary to enthuse laymen with the necessity of mission work, and recommended the appointment of a clergyman to lead missionary education in the diocese.

Protest against the penalties imposed by the Bishop's Court on contested seats was voted down by the session. The protest was raised by the Rev. C. J. Frank of Trinity Church. The penalty is this: If a parish fails to meet the assessments levied against it by synod officers, it is refused representation in synod.

Announcement is made of the default by a court appointed at the beginning of synod session by the bishop.

"It is extremely humiliating to be penalized for failure to pay parish assessments," said Mr. Frank. "I suggest that there should be investigation of the circumstances resulting in the default." Mr. Frank's parish was not the lone defaulter.

Would Eliminate Penalty

"I'd like to see that penalty eliminated altogether," Mr. Frank continued. "It's as much as saying that the people who have not paid their allotment are criminals." Mr. Frank moved that no penalty be exacted for failure to meet assessments of the current year, but only for the year preceding synod sessions.

"It would involve a change in our constitution," objected Chancellor R. H. Soward, "and it wouldn't accomplish anything at this session; it wouldn't be debatable now. Our system of synod administration costs something, and if we believe in it we must be prepared to pay for it. If congregations felt there was no urgency, I wonder how we would maintain the synod office?"

Bishop Beverley asked the chancellor to rule whether the matter could be voted at the current session. The chancellor ruled that the question could only be voted upon if 75 per cent of the synod were agreeable.

"The matter involves so much disruption that I don't think we should have it now," interjected F. G. Venables, Toronto, veteran lay member of synod. The synod voted to defer discussion of Mr. Frank's motion.

229 PAY UP

A. H. Cuttle, field commissioner on the 1949 budget of allotments and assessments, reported that 229 congregations out of 263 paid On a total allotment of $773,979 their quotas in full; 77 overpaid. the diocese paid $844,399. D. C. MacIntosh, permanent secretary-treasurer, said that costs of administration had risen 27 per cent since 1939, and cost of operating the synod office had increased by 19 per cent.

"We have heard some great eulogies of Rev. Mr. Kaminsky for his work in the mission to the Jews. I hope that those eulogies will take some practical form," declared C. H. Hale, Orillia, lay member. Mr. Hale sought to support the Rev. M. Kaminsky's request for aid in establishing a $25,000 gymnasium and assembly hall as part of the Nathanael Institute.

Mr. Kaminsky addressed his request to the church extension committee. But his hopes were, at least, deferred, when Dean C. E. Riley announced: "Our obligations are to the congregations who are meeting in public schools and public halls. When we have been able to take care of them, we are committed to parishes with uncompleted churches. I am afraid we cannot promise to give you any assistance in the near future, Mr. Kaminsky."

Title of Nobility in Germany Completely Out of Style

By RICHARD K. O'MALLEY

FRANKFURT, June 2 (AP)—A title of nobility in Germany today is about as useful as a punched meal ticket.

This used to be a land of pomp and circumstances. The pomp is gone and circumstances are tough.

A prince or a duke or a count used to eat pretty high on the hog. Nowadays most of them are content with the hocks—if and when.

The war and the hard times which followed put the nobility business on the skids. It has been going downhill ever since.

Some of the old nobility seems to be doing all right. It's a safe bet, though, that most of them would just as soon be plain Gus Schmidt with a steady job.

Take the case of Oscar Von Hindenburg, son of Paul Von Hindenburg, once Reich president.

Does Odd Jobs

Oscar is 67 years old now and he makes his living in a small village near, Lueneberg, British Zone, by doing odd jobs. These include hauling coal and potatoes.

It is reported that Prince Alexander Ferdinand Von Preussen, a grandson of Wilhelm II, makes his living selling textiles and folding beds.

They say Duke Earl Alexander Von Wuerttemberg has entered a cloister near Beuron in the US zone, and now is known only as "Brother Odo."

Many of the old nobles don't care to talk about themselves or their friends. They feel the less said the better.

Prince Otto Von Bismark, grandson of the "Iron Chancellor" now is living on his small estate. He apparently has sufficient funds from an inheritance to keep him comfortably.

Aids Refugees

A brother, Count Herbert Von Bismark, has interested himself in refugee problems and now devotes much of his time to helping refugees. In the hard days of 1945-46 Count Herbert laid aside his title, picked up an ax, and earned his living chopping wood.

Crown Prince Ruprecht Von Bayern, 80, lives in relative comfort in his Bavarian castle. It was reported that he recently contributed money from birthday presents to build small homes near his castle.

It is tougher for people like Count George Von Bassewitz-Behr. He was police chief of Hamburg. In 1947 he was tried for alleged war crimes and acquitted. Then the Russians extradited him. He has not been heard from since.

THE RESIGNATION of Rev. W. N. Crandall, of Bethany, as a United Church of Canada minister, was accepted at a meeting of the church's Bay of Quinte Conference. It will be effective June 30. Mr. Crandall recently refused to baptize infants on grounds that there is no scriptural authority for the practice.

Insurance Fund Still Growing

OTTAWA, June 2 (CP)—Canada's unemployment insurance fund, a major bulwark against depression, has kept right on growing despite the biggest splurge of unemployment since the war, Arthur McNamara, Deputy Minister of Labor, said on Thursday.

His figures indicated, however, that it was a close race between the fund's costs and its income in the last fiscal year. Mr. McNamara also said there is a good chance fishermen will be made eligible for benefits as the result of a survey now proceeding.

He told the parliamentary committee on old-age security the fund now totals $585,000,000 and that payments out in the fiscal year ending March 31, 1950, amounted to $85,824,000, an increase of nearly $36,000,000 over the previous fiscal year.

He later told a reporter that in the 1949-50 fiscal year about $100,000,000 was paid into the fund in the form of contributions, or $15,000,000 more than was paid out. In only two months of that year was the amount being paid out exceeded by the amount coming in.

Cattle Prices Recover Early Losses

TORONTO, June 2 — (CP) — Cattle prices eased a little Monday at the Ontario Stockyards, but picked up during the week and closed with most of the early losses recovered, the Dominion Marketing service reported today. Hogs, after showing sharp increases in the previous week, dropped $1.25 a hundredweight. Calves were firm and sheep and lambs stronger.

Cattle receipts totalled 6,728 head, 431 more than the previous week. Medium to good weighty steers sold at $27-$28 with choice up to $29. Medium to good light steers were $26-$28. Good heifers closed at $25.50 with tops at $26. Medium to good cows sold at $20-$22 and common cows sold downward to $17.50. Canners and cutters were mostly $14-$17. Good heavy bulls sold mostly at $21-$22. Fed yearlings ranged in price from $24-$29 according to quality. A few lots of picked stockers sold at $24-$26, with common downward to $18.

Calves totalled 1,917 head. Prices were firm at $29-$30 for choice vealers. Common to medium vealers ranged from $20-$27.

Hog receipts were 2,690 head. Prices settled on Wednesday at $30.75 for Grade A, with sows at $22.50 dressed.

Sheep and lambs were 437 head. Good spring lambs sold at $34-$36 and a few feed-lot lambs brought $28. Good light sheep were stronger at $14-$16.

Pension Bd. Charges Ottawa Discrimination

TORONTO, June 2—(CP)—The Ontario Old Age Pensions Commission claimed Thursday that the federal government discriminates against Ontario in the matter of pensions for aged persons in mental hospitals.

S. N. Asbury, chairman of the commission, said such "discrimination" would mean a loss of between $750,000 and $1,000,000 annually. This is the amount the Ontario commission has been paying between 1,500 and 1,800 pensioners in such institutions.

These persons have had their pensions taken away from them, the chairman said. The Federal Justice Department had ruled that mental patients are public charges, and hence not eligible for pensions. But such pensions are paid in Quebec and British Columbia, he said, under different regulations.

SURVEY DAMAGE—Volunteer workers survey damage in a bungalow living room in the Wildwood district of Greater Winnipeg, as flood waters of the Red River recede. Near the far wall is the remains of an upright piano, while in the centre of the room an overturned davenport already grows mouldy. Muck and slime almost obscures a radio in the lower right corner. This scene is typical of most of the 300 flooded homes in Wildwood.

Denies Forced To Leave Land

FRANKFURT, Germany, June 2 (AP)—Dana Adams Schmidt, Prague correspondent of the New York Times, said here Thursday that he left Czechoslovakia without being forced to go after his name was mentioned in a treason indictment as an alleged contact with a spy ring.

In a Prague dispatch to his newspaper Tuesday, Schmidt said he had known none of the persons with whom he was alleged to have made contact.

"I left Prague voluntarily — I was not expelled," Schmidt said. "They charged that I had contacts with these people and that I delivered information from them to the American embassy. Those charges are untrue."

Schmidt, one of about 20 westerners mentioned in connection with the Czechs now on trial, refused to comment further on the case of on his departure from Czechoslovakia.

Joint Agreement

At the morning House opening, Agriculture Minister Gardiner announced the signing of a joint Federal - Provincial agreement covering irrigation projects on the St. Mary's River in Alberta.

Prime Minister St. Laurent said no decision has been reached on whether the government's thousands of civil servants will get a five-day week in June, July and August this year.

In the Senate, 30 bills were given Royal assent by the acting deputy Governor-General, Chief Justice Thibaudeau Rinfret. They included two western gas pipeline measures—bills to incorporate the Alberta Natural Gas Company and the Prairie Transmission Lines, Limited, which want to build pipe lines from Alberta to British Columbia. The bills had been blocked in the Commons for months by members demanding assurance of an all-Canadian route for the pipelines.

In proposing legislation for better Federal handling of such emergencies as the Manitoba floods, Mr. Drew said an act should be brought down at this session, if possible. It should provide for effective co-operation with other agencies in such emergencies and should allow the Federal government to declare a national emergency when one existed.

Wants To Know Plan

The Progressive Conservative leader said the Federal government should announce what financial aid it proposed for Manitoba flood victims, should in some way help handle their return to evacuated homes and should emphasize to United States authorities the need for flood control along the American section of the Red River where the flood waters rose.

During the day, Resources Minister Winters told the House expenditures of his department in 1950-51 would provide employment in all provinces if the provincial governments signed agreements in such fields as the Trans-Canada Highway and housing. So far Nova Scotia, Quebec and Newfoundland have not entered into the highway agreement and no province has concluded a housing agreement, but the funds were there, waiting.

Howard Green (PC—Vancouver-Quadra) complained it was a "tragedy" that Canada had "no policy" for development and use of her iron-ore deposits. Mr. Winters said his department was concerned with resources of a continuing nature, not those capable of depletion.

3 Plead Guilty

ROCHESTER, N.Y., June 2 — (CP)—Three Buffalo men Thursday pleaded guilty and a fourth pleaded innocent to counterfeiting charges. They had been arrested in connection with the clean-up of a United States-Canadian counterfeiting ring. Salvatore Battaglia, 24; Vincent J. Calabrese, 22, and Louise Price, 26, pleaded guilty. Sentencing was set for June 12. Christopher Mercio, 41, pleaded innocent.

Elliott, Belleville, N. E. Zimmerman, Renfrew.

Appointed as commissioners on Thursday by the various presbyteries were: clergyg Revs. Preston Brown, Camborne, H. S. Cooke, Beachburg, M. C. Fisher, Brooklin, D. Bruce Gordon, Peterborough, H. A. Kent, Kingston, S. Littlewood, Bobcaygeon, A. L. Sisco, Tweed; laity—H. N. Bracken, Kingston, Arthur Collins, Pembroke, G. Dobbs, Madoc, R. F. Downey, Peterborough, H. Landers, Alderville, Fred Ormiston, Brooklin, and F. L. Weldon, Lindsay.

Children Start Parked Tractor

Children playing about a city tractor started it unexpectedly and sent it crashing into a parked car owned by Herb Warr, 511 O'Connell Rd., Thursday.

Warr told police he had come home at noon for dinner. While he parked his car, he saw a group of children playing about the tractor which the driver had left while he went for dinner.

Warr told the children to leave the tractor alone. A short time later, a small boy came to his door to tell him the tractor had run into his car.

Damage to the tractor was a dent in the hood over the sweeper. Constable Stewart Fife investigated.

CARPET MAKERS CONTRIBUTED $1,000 to the Manitoba Relief Fund on Friday afternoon when chairman of the employees council of Brinton-Peterborough Company, Frank Leether (centre, above), handed His Worship Max J. Swanston a cheque for $454. The management, represented by director R. Vern Dawson (left), presented a second cheque to the mayor for $546. Contributions from the city amount to $3,639.89 to date.—(Examiner Staff Photo)

Seeks Closer Co-operation On Work Jobs

"I can't see why the two engineering departments do not manage to work more closely together, any way," was the comment of Mayor Swanston this morning when asked about the council taking four or five feet off Watts St. after the watermain was laid.

"How often do we fix up a street and have the Utilities people come along and dig up for water and gas mains? If there was some way the two departments could have a better understanding of what they were doing, I think it would be a help. I'm positive the members of the Commission would want to have that kind of working arrangement but apparently nobody has done anything about it."

The Utilities Commission has to lower a stretch of water main in Ashburnham as an effect of the board of works lowering the grade of Watt St.

CARS TANGLE

Driving his car south on Stewart St., Leopold Courtice, Oshawa, caught the left front fender of a car owned by W. M. Edgar, Toronto, parked about three feet from the curb. The fender of Edgar's car was almost torn completely off and the grill and front bumper were damaged. The rear bumper of Courtice's car was damaged.

Catches Six Carp In Thirty Minutes Fishing On Scugog Using Worm For Bait

LINDSAY, June 2—A catch of six carp in the space of 30 minutes was John Simon's record Thursday morning on the Scugog.

With a worm on a small hook, Mr. Simons had thrown his line into the water with the idea of maybe catching a few mudcats, when the rod was almost jerked out of his hand. In a matter of seconds he had landed a large carp.

Throwing the line in again, another large fish was almost immediately off down stream with the hook in his mouth. And so it went on until Mr. Simons had six large fish on the bank beside him.

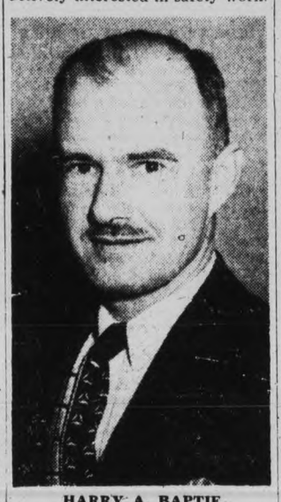
The largest of the fish was 30 inches in length, eight inches across, and weighed 9 pounds. The others ranged in length from 16 to 22 inches, and represented a total weight of 27 pounds. All of them were fat and looked extremely well fed.

Although he went on fishing for another hour, no further fish even nibbled at the worm, so Mr. Simons is hopeful that he has eliminated the whole of that particular school of carp—all with the aid of a small hook, a light casting line and a four ounce bamboo rod. "And," added Mr. Simons, "I had more fun in that half hour than I have had in a long time."

Accident Assoc'n Elect Baptie, Cameron

Harry A. Baptie, personnel manager of the Western Clock Co., has been elected chairman of the Central Ontario Division, Industrial Accident Prevention Association.

For the past 12 years he has been interested in safety measures. In 1947 and again in 1948 he was vice-chairman of the Peterborough-Lindsay section. And he is a former vice-chairman of the metal machine group in Peterborough.



Mr. Baptie was elected by the new 40-man executive after the annual meeting held Wednesday at the Cobourg Golf Club. He succeeds M. J. Redmond, of Cobourg.

New vice-chairman of the Peterborough-Lindsay section is Clyde J. Cameron, assistant works manager of the Peterborough Lock Co.

The other three sectional vice-chairmen are H. J. Rivest, Northern Electric Co., Belleville; J. C. Found, Oshawa Wood Products, Oshawa; and J. E. Morgan, Agricultural Chemicals Co., Cobourg-Port Hope.

Address By Candlelight

Dan A. Gasper, superintendent of the Canada Cement Co., Hull, spoke on "A better informed personnel." Mr. Gasper has been in industrial life about 30 years and for much of that time he has been actively interested in safety work.

HARRY A. BAPTIE

A bizarre touch was added to the meeeting when half way through Mr. Gasper's address the lights went out. A tree had fallen over the power lines and short-circuited the current.

After a few queries whether or not the meeting should continue, it was decided to go ahead. Mr. Gasper picked up the thread of his address and continued by candlelight.

A gave lwas presented to the retiring chairman by the national president of the IAPA, Keith Davidson, of Ottawa.

CLYDE J. CAMERON

Elections were held after the main meeting. The 40-man executive consists of 10 men from each of the four sections in the Central Ontario Division.

ALD. HURRELL DODDS

Dodds Retires From Customs After 37 Years

The retirement of Ald. Hurrell Dodds as chief appraiser on the staff of the customs department in Peterborough took effect on Wednesday. He is now on six months' superannuation leave.

Ald. Dodds joined the federal customs service 37 years ago. He is being succeeded in the position of chief appraiser by George F. Groombridge.

Mr. Walter Miller, collector customs, presented Ald. Dodds with a complete smoking outfit comprising two valuable pipes, humidor, tobacco and other details of the smokers' equipment. With this gift from the staff Wednesday afternoon, Mr. Miller expressed the appreciation of his associates of the long connection with Ald. Dodds and wished him "best of luck" and many years of pleasant retirement.

Representatives of the local importers, chiefly the manufacturing establishments, presented Ald Dodds with self-filling fountain pen. This gift was presented by Lawrence Gould of Outboard Marine and Manufacturing Company.

Immediate effect of his superannuation is the extension of the time which Ald. Dodds will have to devote to municipal affairs as chairman of the board of works.

Penny Banks In School Total $45,000

Individual savings of public school children in the city during the past three years, by use of a penny bank system, have amounted to a total of approximately $45,000.

Penny banks, which have been operated in all city schools since 1948, with children's accounts at the Grey and Bruce Trust and Savings Company, have been discontinued.

The school penny banks closed at the end of May.

Reason for the closing of the system, T. E. McKay, manager of the company said today, is that it has become too costly for the company to carry.

Apparently members of the fire department have a summer job on their hands keeping centennial year bunting on the downtown streets from becoming tangled by the wind. Several of the men were undoing this morning the disorder of the week's winds.

Board Reserves Judgment On 5 Liquor Licence Bids At Court House Hearings

Judgment was reserved today on five applications to the Liquor Licensing Board for new licenses to sell beer and wine. None were from Peterborough. Three of the applications were opposed. Most strenuous objection came from a number of Verulam Twp. residents who do not wish Bob Haven Inn to have a dining room license.

The Inn is located on Highway 36, a half mile south of Bobcaygeon. Last year Mr. and Mrs. Wilfrid Peters, proprietors, had their application for dining room and public house licenses refused. The proprietors have 10 bedroom at the Inn and want it classed as a hotel and to have permission to sell beer and wine at meals.

The applicants claimed that many of the 1,200-2,000 names on the "Dry" petition were from Bobcaygeon or other localities not in the municipality. Opposition, they declared, centred in Trinity United Church, Bobcaygeon.

In addition they pointed out that there was a preponderance of married women's names on the petition and few from the men.

Tourist Theme

A. M. Fulton, KC, Lindsay, conceded that a dining room licence would entice tourists but he said it was opposed by the majority of residents in the community and the community's interests came first.

"If tourists don't like having their meals without beer or wine let them go somewhere else," he said.

Grant Gordon, Toronto solicitor for the Peters, said "their premises is well suited for a country inn." Both Mr. and Mrs. Peters were people with an excellent local name and would run a first-class establishment.

Meeting the objection to the fact that Bob Haven Inn is not far from a school Mrs. Peters said she had an 8-year-old daughter and was as interested in her welfare "as any other would be."

Verulam "Drys"

A large delegation of "drys" from Verulam attended the hearing.

Judge W. T. Robb of Orangeville, chairman of the three-man board had to point out to a temperance group opposing a licence to Canadian Legion Branch 441, Kinmount, that the term "public house licence" was a misnomer.

Should the licence be granted it would allow beer to be sold to members only and their guests, he said.

"The phraseology, I grant you is misleading. The public cannot be invited or permitted."

G. W. Tippett, president of Branch 441, and the Legion solicitor R. I. Moore, K.C., Lindsay, presented the case for the ex-servicemen.

There was no opposition to applications by Owaissa Lodge, Mara township nor to Legion Branch 488 of Brechin.

Oshawa Opposition

Drys opposing the application of the Canadian Corps Assoc., Oshawa, for a licence found that a petition with 250 names could not be admitted as it was filed after the deadline.

The Rev. E. G. Robertson of King Street United Church, Oshawa, claimed there were already too many outlets in Oshawa and it would cause traffic congestion.

Lightning Strikes Barn Burns For Three Hours

ROSENEATH, June 2 (ENS)—Lightning struck Thomas Lean's barn on the first concession of Alnwick Twp., six miles west of Roseneath, during the heavy rain storm Thursday evening.

The barn burned for three hours, from 11 p.m. to 2 a.m., but was sufficiently far away from the house to cause no hazard to other property.

There were no cattle in the barn, but several tons of hay, half a mow of straw and 60 bushels of buckwheat were lost.

Also in the barn were a wagon, mower, seed drill, hay fork and rope, horse rake, corn scuffler and hay slings. Part of the loss is covered by insurance.

Remanded On Charge Assault 9-Year Girl

Arthur Dolan, 42, of Toronto was charged in police court today with indecent assault of a nine-year-old Peterborough girl between January 1 and April 30.

He was remanded on the charge without plea or election until June 8 on $1,000 bail.

Crown Attorney John A. Bradshaw said he was asking for the remand to consult a handwriting expert concerning some of the evidence.

World Undergoing Great Revolution

Religious Liberty Proclaimed In Many Countries Gaining Their Independence

"We are living through the greatest revolution in the history of man." These were the words of the Very Rev. J. H. Arnup, secretary of the United Church board of overseas missions, speaking to the Bay of Quinte Conference on the report of the committee on overseas missions.

He told his audience to think of the nations that have acquired their freedom in recent years—India, Indonesia, Burma and Ceylon. "Malaya and Indo-China are fighting a double fight—against Communism and for freedom."

"I would not say that China, while it has undergone a revolution, is free. It has merely undergone a change of mastery," he said.

When independence was gained by India, there was great concern felt for the future of mission work there. The Hindu government was trying to revive its ancient culture, and it was believed this might clash with Christian mission work.

But, said Mr. Arnup, it is reported that the Indian government has great good will toward Christianity. "I believe the new government of India is a very enlightened government indeed."

In China, Communism is in entire control and will be for an unknown period. "Although I hoped the talk of 'agrarian revolution' was true, I see now that the Russian influence is dominant."

China's new government, said Dr. Arnup, has also proclaimed religious freedom but at the same time, allows anti-religious groups to flourish at will.

The 13 Christian colleges in China, he said, were all carrying on with Communist approval. The only change is that servants and students have been allowed places on the board.

"My son, who is a doctor there, was the last missionary to arrive in China before the fall of the Nationalist government," he said. "He reports that the students are addicted to holidays, and have abolished examinations.

"But while we appreciate what the Communists are trying to do for the common people, we cannot appreciate their methods."

TO THE Citizens of Peterborough

The Citizens of Peterborough are invited at 3 p.m., Sunday, June 4, 1950.

The Memoriam Chapel at the Peterborough Civic Hospital will be dedicated by the Rev. W. J. Gilling, MBE, in grateful memory of the Navy, Army and Air Force personnel from Peterborough who died in the service of Canada during the Second Great War.

It is hoped by the Women of the Silver Cross Chapter that Governors of the Hospital and Members of the Staff, their wives and Members of the City and County Council, particularly all Officers, and ex-Service Men and Women, all next-of-kin, friends and comrades, will join in the Service.

County Farm Notes

By HARRY THEOBALD

Peterborough County Cattle Have Decreased By 5,218 Head Since TB Test In 1938-39 — Millbrook Spring Fair Wednesday, June 7 — One Cent A Pound Collection On Butter Fat In June For Publicity Campaign — Junior Farmers' Trip June 15-18.

The number of herds of cattle in Peterborough county has decreased by more than 1,000 in eleven years.

That is one of the facts shown in the report of the recent second general TB test received by the Examiner by Dr. George R. Penhall, veterinary surgeon of the health of animals division of the Federal Department of Canada.

Begun last year, this test of county cattle for evidence of tuberculosis was recently completed.

The final figures were:

Herds tested	1,836
Cattle tested	33,779
Reactors	35
Infected premises	21

Dr. Penhall also provides a comparative statement of the test made in 1938-39, as follows:

Herds tested	2,846
Cattle tested	38,997
Reactors	1,366

Shrinkage in numbers extends from across the board with: 1,010 fewer herds, 5,218 fewer cattle and 1,331 fewer reactors.

Frank Paterson commented briefly today that he knew there was some decline in the number of cattle in the county, "but really I did not think the number was so large—that 5,218 head."

Some elderly farmers had retired from active work, others had sold their farms to neighbors, but those instances represented only a minor factor in the decrease. Butter price might be another.

"Frankly," he said, "I'm surprised. On the other hand the figures show clearly that our cattle are remarkably free of any trace of tuberculosis. The ratio is close to one to every 1,000 head. That is most encouraging. We are now in an accredited area."

Norm McConkey suggested that butter prices have been out of line with cost of production, and the dairy farmer has been culling his herd and selling in the beef market, that has been strengthened by the opportunity of selling grades at home and across the US border.

"When a dairy farmer has this chance to sell at US prices, he had no alternative when he considered his cost of production and the slump in our butter prices," Mr. McConkey said. "I am just offering my opinion as to one of the causes of the shrinkage of our herds. I don't imagine that beef herds have gone down to the same extent.

Anyway, this is a good time for the dairy farmer to do some culling of animals that he knows are not profitable. When you can get 21 cents a pound for a Holstein cow at nine years, that is an undesirable member of the herd,—that calls for culling."

MILLBROOK FAIR

Just a reminder to district farmers who can take the afternoon off, Wednesday June 7—that's the date of the Millbrook spring fair. Gordon Staples is president of the agricultural society.

JUNIORS' TRIP

The first 37 junior farmers who apply for tickets for their tour into the eastern townships of Quebec will be accepted for transportation and hotel accommodation. That cost is $23; meals extra. They are leaving Thursday June 6 at 6 p.m. from the King St. bus terminal and are booked for the Lord Elgin Hotel that night. Friday will be spent in Ottawa, for the most part at Experimental Farms.

One of their Saturday calls will be to see the famous Ness Ayrshire herd at Howick, PQ. The party will return Sunday by way of Kingston and the lake shore.

FARMERS TO ADVERTISE

Milk producers have been widely informed of the plan of financing in June a publicity campaign, for their industry which should continue through the rest of the year.

Reeve James Gifford, chairman of the Ontario Cream Producers' Marketing Board, said recently: "We wish to commend the Dairy Farmers publicity and advertising campaign to our cream producers as a sound program, worthy of the unanimous support it is receiving across the Dominion.

We are coming to realize that the job of marketing has become as much a part of farming as production itself. Good marketing practice demands a sound advertising and publicity program, backed by the quality of products we can supply. It is essential also that producers promote the sale and use of dairy products in their own homes and elsewhere."

The Dairy Farmers of Canada have arranged for the collection of one cent a pound on June butterfat, or its milk equivalent, which is three cents a hundred pounds. Sentiment within the ranks of producers has been increasingly in favor of practical effort to obtain for their industry and its qualities the publicity which is recognized as a necessity in present day marketing.

Reeve Gifford told the Examiner that the contribution by the average cream producer this month will be around one dollar.

Creamery and dairy operators have been asked for their co-operation by applying the levy at their plants for the benefit of producers.

The fund is to be used in the interest of all branches of the dairy branch of agriculture,—whole milk, cheese, butter, cream, and concentrated milk. The advertising program will be directed through newspaper, radio and other channels. Essentially it is an effort to build up what is called public relations between the dairy farmer and the general public.

This change of attitude within the dairy ranks can be readily traced to the introduction of margarine. When this product, which farmers regard as nothing more than a butter substitute, found a new footing in Canada and appeared in retail distribution, all branches of the dairy industry recognized that they were seriously affected.

The manufacturers of margarine had at hand the means of advertising their wares. Against that invasion farmers could only raise voices of protest, and gradually they have realized, especially through their commodity executives that mere objection to the intruding product was a feeble position. It left out of the scheme of selling their goods the prime element of presenting the qualities of such food staples as milk, cheese, butter.

Discussion and facing up to the marketing problem has now reached the stage of a thoroughly considered plan of publicity. If any dairy farmer is opposed to this new policy he may notify his cream or dairy operator not to skim off his monthly cheque the cent a pound of butter fat.

And, as Mr. Glifford has estimated, that contribution will average one dollar for the month of June. Dairy farmers are expecting loyal support throughout the country for this public relations project. If they have been inclined to take for granted demand for their products, and also understanding of the background and problems of their industry, its primary place in the economy of this country, they have simply to remember the quick response to margarine when it reached the provisions stores.

HOLSTEIN SALE

Fifty Holsteins averaged $265 at the Glanworth consignment sale May 25. Highest price was $380 paid by Henry Conklin, Plain City, O., to Hill Bros. of St. Thomas for a bred heifer. Top figure for a milking female was $360, reached twice, for a four-year-old and two-year-old. Highest price for a bull was $340 paid by Gold Seal farms of Belmont, Ont. to Elmer Knox, Ingersoll, for Sovereign Montvic Concentrate, a son of "Sovereign" from a very good cow.

R. H. GRAHAM'S PREDICTION

Peterborough hog producers who attended their annual meeting last winter at the YMCA have probably forgotten the price prediction made by R. H. Graham of the Ontario Live Stock branch in his talk that afternoon about costs of production last year.

As secretary of the Ontario Hereford Breeders Association, Mr. Graham attended the Hereford sale at Morrow Park last Friday afternoon.

To the Examiner he said: "I've been hoping I'd see you here today, because I have been keeping two clippings in my pocket that are rather interesting."

One of them was from the Examiner's report of the meeting at YMCA quoting him to the effect that hogs on the rail would be 30c a pound before the end of this summer. That was his estimate at midwinter of the price trend six months in the future.

Pinned to that clipping was another from a Toronto newspaper's market page showing that on May 24 hogs were selling at 32 cents a pound. And that was before the end of spring, not summer, with still the prospect and certainly the hope of producers that prices will remain steady and firm through summer.

"I felt rather happy about that second news item, because as a matter of fact some farmers around the province were writing to the Minister, (Hon. T. L. Kennedy) objecting to the optimistic view I was taking of the summer price of hogs."

Mr. Graham was not preening himself on his venture into prediction, but there was satisfaction in having pointed out a trend that has been realized, so far. And, that is the present end of his prophesying.

Pork prices have been strong in sympathy with the beef market. Red brand beef has been at a high level, an all time high generally. Surplus stock has been crossing the border with the effect of making Canadian prices equivalent to those in the United States.

Supplies have been going to market in a spot between the last of the grain-fed beef and the first fed off grass.

JUNIOR WHEAT CLUB

The first 15 applicants for a junior wheat club to be organized here will be accepted as members. That is the announcement of F. C. Paterson who has turned the details over to Mr. Bell.

Members will be expected to seed two bushels of registered Cornell 595, which Mr. Bell expects to obtain from Robert Armstrong of Cavan.

Mr. Armstrong was one of the first Cornell producers of the district. The grain will be seed from the first registered Cornell distributed in Canada.

Mr. Bell said this would be a fall project open to boys and girls, from 12 to 20 years. He suggests that prospective members should soon begin thinking about it, select their land now, have it analyzed right away, and if seeding is on a sod field, plowing should be done around midsummer, as an early start in preparing the land.

Applications will be received at the Department of Agriculture office from now on. And, to repeat, the first fifteen will comprise the club membership.

FEDERATION DIRECTORS

A meeting of the directors of the Peterborough Federation of Agriculture will be held at the office of the Department of Agriculture, Tuesday, June 6, at 8 p.m.

"AG. REPS" CONFERENCE

F. C. Paterson and Robert Bell are leaving Monday to attend the conference of agricultural representatives at Guelph, June 6-8. Hon. T. L. Kennedy, Minister of Agriculture, will be the speaked on Wednesday evening. There are 57 representatives serving the Department, 27 assistants and five field men.

GRASSLAND DAYS

The dilatory spring and slow growth of hay account for the postponement of Oxford Silage Day from June 7 to June 21. It will be held on the farm of George de Montmorency near Woodstock. Postponement period was extended because the farm and home program at OAC is scheduled for the week of June 12.

The Eastern Ontario Grassland Day will be June 28 on the farm of G. T. Shepherd near Kingston.

SMALL SEED NEED

Farmer's Magazine says: "The Ontario Crop Improvement Association and the government departments and agricultural colleges who are placing so much emphasis on grassland improvement, have to a large extent overlooked a fundamental factor in making such improvement possible—an adequate supply of grass and clover seed. The short supply and the high price of these seeds this year will be by far the biggest barrier to grassland improvement.

We are aware that leading officers of the Crop Improvement Association are alive to this situation, but are the local associations making a genuine attempt to deal with it? Have they interested their members or even non-members in setting aside some of their best fields and putting them in shape to produce good crops of clean seed of the various classes of grasses and legumes that are required?"

SUGGESTS BUS TRIP

If Peterborough farmers are interested in an educational bus trip, F. C. Paterson said yesterday he would be glad to look after details of itinerary and other arrangements.

"Probably it might be sponsored by the milk producers or some other group," he said. "They could decide where they would like to go to see the practices that are carried on by farmers elsewhere. The general purpose would be to get ideas that could be adopted in our own work at home. Juniors had been talking about a trip to Lancaster, Pa. The trip could be any time between now and September, although there are definite advantages in a spring outing. To allow ample time to visit places, it should be a four-day trip."

Duke Of Windsor Refused Suggestion For Mistress

NEW YORK, June 2 (AP) — The Duke of Windsor thinks the British Government of 1936 would ratther have had its King carry on an illicit love affair than see him marry a divorcee and make her queen.

The former Edward VII tells his own story, of how the abdication crisis flared over his love for Wallis Simpson and of his unshakable resolve to marry her, in an article published this week in Life Magazine and to be published next week in the Montreal Standard.

Argument after argument followed with the then Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin, who stubbornly opposed the marriage.

"What separated us was not a sinful wish on my part, but rather the question of my right to marry as other men do," the Duke says in his memoirs. "If the Prime Minister's argument were to be carried to a logical conclusion, then the implicit suggestion, it seemed to me, was that I should take a mistress.

Suggests Mistress

"A discreet flat near-by. . . A key to a garden door. . . decorous associations — the relationship might be privately deplored, but it had had notable Royal precedents."

This King Edward refused to consider.

"As dispassionately as I could, I told him that marriage had become an indispensable condition to my continued existence, whether as King or as a man.

"'I intend to marry Mrs. Simpson as soon as she is free to marry,' I said.

"'If I could marry her as King well and good; I would be happy and in consequence a better King. But if on the other hand the government opposed the marriage, as Mr. Baldwin had given me reason to believe it would, then I was prepared to go."

Gives Details

The Duke describes in detail the part played by Canadian-born Lord Beaverbrook in the events leading to his abdication.

After a private talk at the palace Oct. 16, Lord Beaverbrook engineered a "gentleman's agreement" among British newspaper publishers to report the link between Wallis Simpson and the King without sensation. Some sections of the United States press were at the time predicting that the King would marry Wallis Simpson when she obtained her divorce.

In November, Lord Beaverbrook left to spend the winter in Arizona to ease his chronic asthma condition: The Duke says he learned of Lord Beaverbrook's sailing when the publisher was in mid-Atlantic and in a ship-to-shore telephone conversation persuaded him to come back on the same ship.

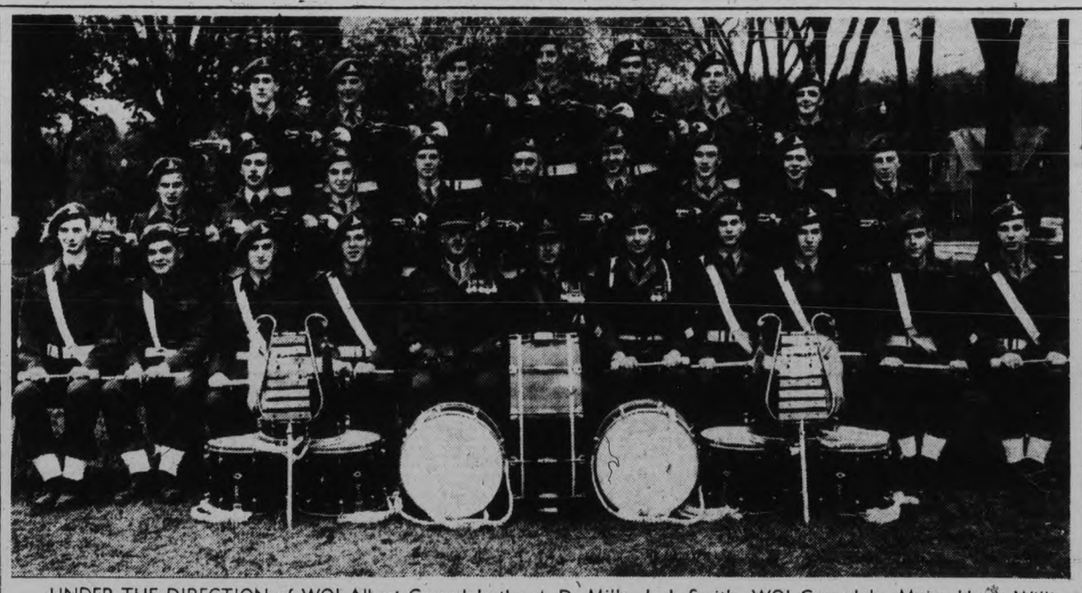
The Duke reveals that Lord Beaverbrook on his return urged Edward to withdraw a suggestion that a proposal for a morganatic marriage between the King and Wallis Simpson be placed before the British and Dominion cabinets.

But the cables had already been sent out to the Dominions.

"I would advise you to stop them," the Duke quoted Lord Beaverbrook as saying, "I am a Canadian. I know the Dominions. Their answer will be a swift and emphatic 'no'."

Turn It Down

Baldwin later told the Duke that inquiries among the Dominions were incomplete, but it was clear that legislation for a morganatic marriage would not be forthcoming.



Wallis' divorce from Ernest Simpson was to become final at the end of April, 1937, while the coronation ceremony was set for May 12.

The coronation service, the Duke writes, is fundamentally a religious service.

"The King is anointed with holy oil; he takes the sacrament; and as defender of the faith, he swears an oath to uphold the doctrines of the Church of England, which, of course, does not recognize divorce.

"For me to have gone through the coronation ceremony while harboring in my heart a secret intention to marry contrary to the church's tenets, would have meant being crowned with a lie on my lips.

"This I could not do."

Charge Bell Discriminates Against Business Firms

OTTAWA, June 2 (CP) — A spokesman for the Toronto Board of Trade has charged that an application by the Bell Telephone Company for rate increases discriminates against business in favor of the residential telephone user.

C. H. Lane, counsel for the Toronto board, told the Board of Transport Commissioners Thursday that the proposed rates "bear with undue weight" on the users of business lines and on business service such as receiving boards and toll charges.

He argued against the company's application for rate boosts in Ontario and Quebec which would have the effect of increasing the company' revenues by 20.6 per cent. Joining with him were counsel for Montreal, Quebec, Hamilton, Ottawa, Toronto, St. Thomas and Guelph.

W. S. McKay, counsel for St. Thomas and Guelph, said he assumed that since argument for the municipalities established "conclusively" that the company did not require all "that it has said it does," the rates submitted for approval "will only be approved after being reduced proportionately."

Asks Schedule Approved

He recommended that the board approve of a "proper" schedule of rates and issue orders that no regrouping of tariff schedules among the various municipalities be allowed with one year's notice and the right of the municipality to be heard before the board if it objects to the proposed regrouping after notice is given to it.

The hearing, now entering its 50th day, is due to conclude either today or tomorrow.

As support to his charge of discrimination, Mr. Lane referred to the Bell application as it would affect users in Montreal and Toronto.

The business service individual flat rate in these two cities, he said, is $7.35 a month, which the company prosposes to increase to $12—an increase of 63 per cent.

But the residential individual flat rate, which is $3.60 a month, is to be boosted only to $4.75—an increase of 32 per cent.

A. P. Polson, counsel for the city of Hamilton, said he believed the company had overstated its financial difficulties in seeking rate boosts.

"Its financial plight is not nearly so grim when the application is examined and its supporting testimony is heard."

G. C. Metcalfe, appearing for Ottawa, contended that the company had done little to economize or cut down the scale of its operating expenses.

Volcano Erupts

HONOLULU, June 2 (AP) — Mauna Loa, 13,680-foot volcano on the island of Hawaii, erupted Thursday night after 16 months of quiet. Frank Oberhansley, Hawaii national park superintendent, said red hot lava broke out on the southwest flank of the volcano at about 9,000 feet. A plane pilot that flew over Mauna Loa at 10 p.m., said smoke columns towered to 20,000 feet.

Vicar Says Old Testament Unfit For Children's Ears

LONDON, June 2 (Reuers) — Letters of support flooded in Thursday to a 66-year-old London Anglican vicar who thinks the Old Testament is not fit for the ears of children.

Canon Thomas Primitt Stevens of St. Paul's Church in the suburb of Wimbledon got in the news with an outspoken article in his parish magazine.

Commenting on the appeal of a bishop to teach the Bible continuously to the young, Canon Stephens wrote:

"If the dear bishop had recommended the teaching of the Gospels and the Acts—well and good.

"But the Bible as a whole? God save me from such superstition.

"Some of the stories are helpful, interesting and lovely. But quite often they deal with rape and murder, lies and brutality, exaggerated nationalism and war.

What Purpose?

"What purpose is to be served by teaching all these unpleasant stories to the young."

He said that when he was a student he had trouble with his eyes. He used to get his two sisters to read the Bible to him, but "I found some of the Old Testament so embarrassing that I had to make my sisters stop reading."

The outspoken vicar's wife told a reporter: "I think my husband is a very brave man to take up arms on this matter. It takes courage for a clergyman to criticize the Bible.

"He wrote his parish magazine article knowing full well that he would probably be bitterly criticized by people who take an old-fashioned view. It is a belief he has held for years and has never been afraid to argue about."

Hidden Suicide Impulses Bring Many Confessions

LONDON, June 2 (Reuters) — British psychiatrists have come up with what they claim to be an answer to one of crime's queerest problems—why innocent people give themselves up to police for murders they have not committed.

They say it is because the thought of being hanged satisfies a hidden impulse to commit suicide that lies at the back of many persons' minds.

In testimony before a Royal Commission set up to investigate capital punishment, the psychiatrists claim that many people have impulses to commit murder which may be traced back to childhood loves and hates.

The testimony was contained in a brief submitted by British Institute of Psycho-analysis.

The psychiatrists claimed that there was an urgent need for research into "the almost unexplored subject" of what goes on in a murderer's mind.

Feeling of Jealousy

Dealing with psychological developments in childhood, the brief said:

"A crucial development from the child's point of view occurs when the father comes into the picture in addition to the mother. The scene is now set for a triangular situation where feelings of jealousy play an important part.

"It is common at this stage for the mixed feelings of love and hate in the child to be dealt with by directing the love feelings towards one parent, and the hating ones toward the other, who is felt as an intruder and the cause of frustration.

"This situation would seem to provide the primitive psychological basis for the crime passional."

The institute reached the conclusion that capital punishment does not always fulfil, and often defeats, two of its supposed aims —deterring others from committing murder and satisfying a public demand for retribution.

Experimental Camera

WASHINGTON, June 2 (AP)— The U.S. army said today it has built a $500 camera out of "odds and ends" which will take pictures at a 100,000,000-a-second clip. The camera will be used for recording shock and detonation waves in the study of explosives.

Pope Makes Gift

PADERBORN, Germany, June 2 (Reuters)—Pope Pius has given 15,000 marks ($3,500) for the relatives of the 77 miners killed in a mine explosion in the Rhur last month, it was announced here Thursday.

Suggests Board Buy Islands

OTTAWA, June 2 (CP) — George Fulford (L-Leeds) suggested in the Commons Thursday night that the National Parks Board should purchase lands in the Rideau Lake system with a view to turning them into national parks.

This, he told Resources Minister Winters during consideration of departmental estimates, would be a "fitting monument" to the British engineers who built the Rideau Canal system.

He said the island parks of the Thousand Islands in the St. Lawrence had proved the success of such projects. No parks were giving more pleasure to Canadians than the Thousand Islands and they were also attracting thousands of American tourists.

Mr. Fulford suggested that the government should see what could be done about the purchase of Hill Island, the island on which the Canadian span of the International Bridge rested. Its beauty was being neglected and much timber was being cut from it and he believed it should be preserved.

Damascus, capital of Syria, was founded 4,000 years and is the world's most ancient city.

Judge Blocks Tie-up Of Ships

TORONTO, June 2 — (CP) — A tie-up of all Great Lakes vessels of the Upper Lakes and St. Lawrence Transportation Company, threatened by the Seafarers' International Union (AFL) for Friday night, was blocked Thursday when Mr. Justice A. M. LeBel issued an injunction effective until June 6.

The injunction restrains both the SIU and the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway and Steamship Clerks and Freight Handlers "or any other unions in Canada affiliated with the AFL" from inciting members to refuse to load or unload cargo from the plaintiffs' vessels at any port in Ontario.

The union, including a majority of longshoremen at Great Lakes ports, threatened the work stoppage as a result of the company's refusal to sign a union contract. The company has had a contract with the rival Canadian Seamen's Union since 1938 and Robert B. Angus, operating manager of the steamship company, says this contract still is in effect.

Question of continuing the injunction will be argued here on June 6. In an affidavit presented to court on Thursday Mr. Angus said that following the company's refusal on March 10 to enter into a contract with the SIU the company had been threatened with a tie-up of vessels as of midnight on the night of June 2.

GREATER SUCCESS in the warfare against cancer through the use of cytological methods for early diagnosis was predicted by two visiting experts, Dr. Malcolm Donaldson and Prof. James Young, who are returning home to Great Britain, after a two-day visit to the cytological laboratories in the Donner Building for Medical Research, McGill University, in Montreal. Left to right are seen Dr. Donaldson, Dr. J. Ernest Ayre, director of the laboratories, and Professor Young.

Synod Defers Action On Plan For Women Members

TORONTO, June 2.—The Toronto Anglican Synod Thursday reaffirmed the principal that women might be elected to its ranks but avoided establishing procedure providing for their election. More than an hour of debate on the subject was tinged with occasional acrimony, and punctuated, more frequently, with roars of laughter.

The first bone of contention was a motion introduced by the Rev. H. B. Snell, Church of St. Andrew and St. Luke, Toronto. Mr. Snell wanted the subject decided by a secret ballot. The Rev. T. P. Crosthwait, Church of St. Alban the Martyr, declared the motion was not in order on three distinct grounds.

A secret ballot would be setting a precedent declared Mr. Crosthwait; it wouldn't be practicable because of the time required, and it was quite contrary to any British parliamentary rules.

Chancellor R. H. Soward, synod authority on canon law ruled that a secret ballot could be taken.

Dean C. E. Riley observed: "Are we afraid of the ladies? There are a few in the gallery, and if we are afraid of them, perhaps they will retire while we settle this matter.

"It wouldn't look well in the eyes of the public if they were advised through the press that the members of synod are afraid of their wives, and the clergy are afraid of the ladies of their congregations," smiled Deal Riley.

"I take second place to no one in this hall in my respect for and love for the ladies," staunchly averred Mr. Snell. "In fact, it might be a good thing if some ladies replaced some of the members of the synod.

"We are not deciding on whether women shall be brought into the synod," declared Mr. Crosthwait, again taking the floor. "We are here to decide on the method of bringing them into the synod."

He was quickly countered by Canon C. A. Moulton of St. Simons, Toronto, who offered a motion to the effect that the synod affirmed in principle the right of women to be elected to it, but that the matter should be deferred until there was some definite de-women say that they wanted to be elected to synod," said Canon Moulton. "I do not feel we should be in too much of a hurry to take a back seat to the ladies. There are all too few situations in which men can be of service to the church. They are not so versatile as the ladies. There is not too much haste about this question, and I hope the bishop will save us from ourselves, if not from the ladies."

"I have never yet heard the mand for their admission.

Stalling Matters

He suggested that if women were to be elected to synod — hitherto an exclusively male body —then he would seek election to the Woman's Auxiliary.

Bishop Beverley at last managed to bring the question to a vote. By a narrow margin, it was decided the synod would affirm the principle of feminine membership, but would defer action to implement such membership. The senior officers of the diocese — Bishop Beverley excepted—voted solidly against women entering the synod of 1951.

2-Week Shut-down In Cornwall Plant

CORNWALL, June 2—(CP)—Drummond Giles, president of Courtaulds (Canada) Limited, Thursday announced a two-week shut-down in the company's textile yarn spinning division due to reduced activity in the apparel field.

The shut-down will start July 1, and will continue for two weeks, prior to the company's two-week holiday shut-down, making a total of one month in which the production of textile yarn will be halted.

Movie Column

Abbott, Costello Together For 15 Years

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, June 2 (AP)—Bud Abbott and Lou Costello are celebrating their 15th anniversary and Lou says "We're planning on 15 more"

Explaining the long and stormy association, Lou—he's the fat one —added: "We just couldn't bear to be separated; Siamese twins have that trouble, too."

How long have they been in movies?

"Fifteen years," said Bud.

"Ten!" rebuked Lou. "Ten years in the movies, dope!"

This sort of banter goes on constantly. For although the comics are partners, they are competitors as well. Whether they are onstage in a "Who's on first?" routine or offstage, in a cut-throat rummy match, they are constantly at odds.

Constant Competition

"Whatever Bud gets, Lou wants too—only bigger. As a result, both have outside businesses that rival those of Crosby and Hope. The competition reached the point of a split-up five years ago. But after a few months of name calling, they reconciled.

The duo first met while performing separate acts in burlesque. Lou had worked unsuccessfully in the movies and Bud came from the circus. They teamed up and their violent comedy became a sensation

Despite the sneers of arty film critics, A & C continued to rate high in the box office polls. They placed just below Hope and Crosby in last year's list of money making stars .Their studio figures that the boys have brought in $70,000,000 in their decade of film making.

Capsule Reviews

"Mystery Street" (MGM) is well above the average run of crime detection films. This modest little picture is a fascinating study of how a rookie detective (Ricardo Montalban) with the aid of a Harvard professor, solves a murder. Intelligent scripting and direction holds the attention throughout.

"Curtain Call at Cactus Street" (UI) doesn't pretend to be anything but entertainment and it generally succeeds in its purpose. It gives Donald O'Connor a chance to display his many talents, aided by Gale Storm, Eve Arden, Vincent Price and Walter Brennan The story concerns an acting troupe in the west. Lively entertainment but short of being a hit.

Over 3 Million

WINNIPEG, June 2 — (CP) — Manitoba's flood relief fund Thursday soared over the $3,000,000 mark.

Afraid To Talk

VANCOUVER, June 2 (CP)— The Vancouver Sun said in a newspage story Thursday that a world-wide Communist underground with cells in every port "takes care" of sailors who talk out of turn about what they see in Communist China. The story quoted seamen of the American freighter Dolly Madison as saying that fear had tied the tongues of sailors returning from Chinese ports.

Scientific Approach Urged For Problems

QUEBEC, June 2 (CP)—R. L. Weldon, president of the Bathurst Power and Paper Company, Thursday night told the summer meeting of the technical section of the Canadian Pulp and Paper Association to bring a scientific approach not only in their work "but also to the wider problems of today."

Mr. Weldon spoke following his election as an honorary life member of the association. He said nine new pulp and paper mills had been built or reconstructed in Canada since 1945 and "not one has been a newsprint producer."

The reason was that "over-all economics of new mills have not yet become sufficiently favorable."

Technical papers presented included one by C. H. Rimmer, Howard Smith Paper Mills Limited, Cornwall.

Permanently Barred

TORONTO, June 2 — (CP) — A United States immigration official said here Thursday that Nels Thibeault, president of the Sudbury Local of the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers, has been permanently barred from entering the United States. The Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers' Union was expelled some time ago from the CIO and the CCL beaus of Communist sympathies of its leaders.

Even when dried indoors... EVEN WITHOUT RINSING
Surf gives you Sweeter Washes
...whiter, brighter to look at!
...fresh-air-sweet to smell!
Surf contains an amazing detergent which not only gets out every trace of dirt and grease . . . but every hint of "dirty clothes" odor, too.
Your Surf-clean clothes are really doubly clean. Dazzling white, rainbow bright—and sunshiny sweet to smell. There's never a trace of sour, "musty" odor, even when you dry them indoors.
What's more—you don't even have to rinse those Surf-clean clothes.
Here's why: The detergent in Surf has the magic power of grabbing the dirt and holding it in the wash water. When you wring out the water, you wring the dirt out with it—and every hint of "dirty clothes" odor, too!
When you don't rinse, Surf's purifying action continues to keep clothes sweeter longer. So, if you prefer to rinse, add a little Surf to the rinse water.
Use Surf for EVERYTHING
Surf gives you rich, long-lasting suds, that do 3 times the work of ordinary soaps, in hardest water. Use it in the washing machine for your heavy wash. For lingerie and stockings, too.
All the Surf your grocer has now, in the same familiar blue box, is "no-rinse" Surf—especially developed to save you time and work.
Once you discover Surf you'll say it's the one and only suds for you.
"ORDINARY" CLEAN
A faint "musty" odor often betrays the fact that remnants of dirt still cling. Rinsing won't get rid of this . . . but Surf does!
SURF CLEAN
Even without rinsing, Surf removes every last trace of dirt and of odor, too! That's why it gets your clothes so white, so bright, so wonderfully sweet to smell!

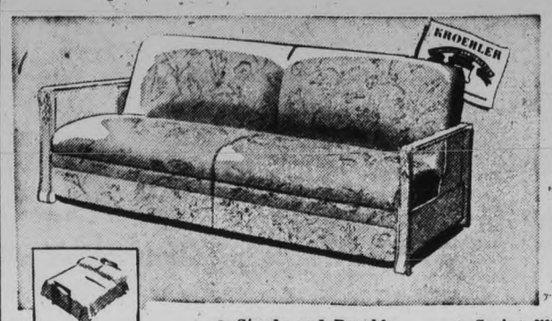
More Reforestation

OTTAWA, June 2—(CP)—Ray Thomas (SC, Wetaskiwin) urged in the Commons Thursday more active government steps in reforestation in Canada and particularly in Alberta. He said hundreds of millions of feet of timber was being lost every year to insects and to wastage of the timber industry.



Festival In Quebec?

QUEBEC, June 2 — (CP) — L'Evenement-Journal says today in a newspage story it has learned from Rev. Emile Legault, director of the Montreal Dramatic Group, Les Compagnons, that the National Drama Festival will be held here in 1952. The paper quoted Father Legault as saying Quebec has been chosen because it would coincide with festivities marking the centenary of the foundation of Laval University.

ANCIENT CHAPEL—A move is afoot on the Island of Orleans, near Quebec, to restore this little stone chapel dating back more than 200 years. The chapel, believed to have been built in 1734, has seldom been used in recent years. It will be cleaned and repaired and St. Pierre parish will preserve it as a monument to Quebec's French colonial times.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Smith Mark 50th Wedding Anniversary

Married in Reading, Berkshire, England, 50 years ago, Mr. and Mrs. John Smith, 116 McDonnel St., are today celebrating their golden wedding anniversary. They came to Peterborough in 1913, when the youngest of their three children Arthur, was a year old.

Mr. Smith retired three years ago from his decorating business, Smith Bros. and his two sons, John and Arthur run the business.

Fifty years is a long time, says Mrs. Smith, but it has been a good life. We got on so well because what we didn't agree on we just left. We have tried to hang on to the old philosophy of give and take, she says and we find it works.

Holding Family Dinner

A family dinner at the Empress Hotel today is the big event of the celebration.

Since they came to Canada shortly before the First World War, Mr. and Mrs. Smith have crossed the Atlantic five times. Mrs. Smith's sister is still in Reading and Mr. Smith's family is in London. Their last visit was in 1949.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith have both been active members of the Salvation Army. Mr. Smith, who is 73, has been playing in Salvation Army bands almost since the turn of the century.

A former bandmaster and secretary of Peterborough's Salvation Army band, he was also bandmaster of Ramsgate, Kent, England, where he and his wife lived five years before leaving England.

Mrs. Smith's three brothers, Arthur Wells and the late Frank and Henry Wells, played in the Salvation Army band under Mr. Smith in England and came to Peterborough shortly after the Smiths. All three played in the Peterborough band.

Mr. Smith's instrument is the cornet, his son Arthur now plays the cornet in the Salvation Army band and his 11-year-old grandson, Hugh, is also learning to play the same instrument.

Mrs. Smith was a Sergeant Major in the League of Mercy here for ten years, and was an active member for more than 30 years.

Salvation Army Work

As soon as my youngest son was old enough to go to school I became active in the work of the Salvation Army here, Mrs. Smith says. I believed in being at home with my children when they were small, but was able to get out and be more active as they got older, she says.

It's difficult for people to bring children up today because of the cramped living conditions, Mrs. Smith says.

The Smiths first set up home on Harvey St., moving 18 months later to Antrim St., where they lived until three years ago. Their daughter, Mrs. Alec Hunter (Eva) lives in Toronto. They also have six grandchildren and the farthest from home is Jackie in Vancouver.

Congratulations have come to Mr. and Mrs. Smith from friends and relatives in England and a certificate signed by the secretary of the Province of Ontario, congratulating them on behalf of the province.

Sent To Hospital

FRESNO, Calif., June 2—(AP)—A 28-year-old man who terrorized 23 passengers and forced an airliner to make an emergency landing here last Sunday, Thursday was ordered committed to a mental hospital. Stewardess Joan Heron told officers O'Reilly had become emotionally disturbed during the flight and accused her of trying to gas the passengers.

Soars Through Air

KING, Ont., June 2—(CP)—A brakeman was thrown 40 feet through a caboose window Thursday night and three cars were wrecked when a rural milk train plowed into the rear of a standing freight at King, 12 miles north of Toronto. Raikes Scruton, of Toronto, brakeman on the Canadian National Railways milk train, received a deep facial gash as he went through the caboose window.

Need More Churches

TORONTO, June 2 — (CP) — More churches and more ministers are among the most urgent needs of the church in Canada today, the Rev. W. R. Auld, of Midland, Thursday told the Toronto conference of the United Church of Canada. He said that there was a "tremendous field" for the establishment of new churches especially in centres around Toronto.

Unequal Sharing Of Goods In Britain Still Sore Point

By FORBES RHUDE,
Canadian PressBusiness Editor.

Years ago Felicia Hemans sang in verse of "The Stately Homes of England."

As you drive about Britain today, they still are among the most impressive things you see, and they make you realize what a tremendous amount of wealth must have poured into the country in the years before the world wars.

And then you see the miles of tenements or extremely humble homes in which millions are living; and you think that the impouring wealth must have been badly distributed. That limited distribution must be borne in mind in considering Britain's problems and thinking today.

Its origins probably go back to the fact that Britain's industrial growth was super-imposed on a class tradition which had its roots far back in the feudal system, which still existed despite long years of political evolution.

Markets Abroad

The system was the easier maintained because the markets for Britain's production were abroad rather than at home.

It was, for instance, different in North America. First, of course there was the great wealth of a relatively new continent, and later it was realized that a market for the output of mass production could be found only if buying power were put into the hands of the mass of people.

This didn't come about easily and it still is far short of creating a heaven on earth over here, but broadly speaking a greater distribution of goods has been accomplished.

Briton's didn't take kindly to the lack of general distribution of goods and there seems no doubt that they put the present government in power in 1945 in the hope that things might be made better for all.

Old Sores Remain

Some of the old sores remain and, in some instances at least, they affect production. Working men can be heard to say: "Why produce more, it will only go to the rich."

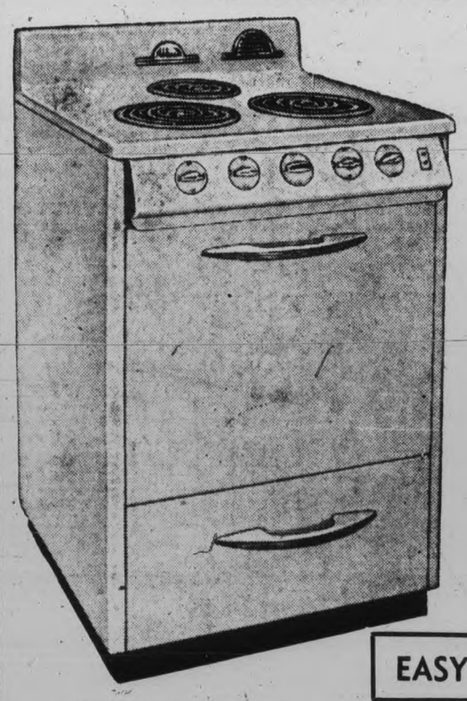
This is a sorry philosophy which, to the extent that it exists, hurts everyone including the man expressing it; but it is an inheritance from the sins of the past which must be overcome.

It gives rise to some problems. The man of low income is not likely to worry too much if taxes wiped out most of the income of his better-off neighbor. But yet, this process removes a class which once provided the investment money which Britain spread throughout the world and on which she received dividends; and the average person has not yet been educated to putting his increased earnings into investment.

Not Insurmountable

These are problems, but in the case of Britain they should not be insurmountable. Fortunately the average Briton has traditional political acumen and a good amount of common sense.

The industrialist, even while he complains of taxes and lack of incentive, still goes on trying to develop his business; and the worker, even while he may grumble, realizes there are two sides to any question. And virtually every one, except for a certain fringe, has his British pride.



Common sense and understanding seem to be working to bring the two sides closer together, though there is a considerable way to go.

Miss Violet Grace Weaver, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ward Weaver, 382 McDonnel St., and Mr. Richard William Leeper, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Leeper of Norwood are to be wed in the Church of the Open Bible at two o'clock.

At Bethany United Church, three o'clock is the time for the marriage of Grace Irene, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Driver, to Mr. Douglas Earl Bruce, son of Mr. and Mrs. Irvine Bruce of Toronto. St. Andrew's United Church, Millbrook, will be setting for the wedding of Melba Gertrude, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Ball, to Roy Clarke, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Dawson.

YWCA Has Important Voice In Work of United Nations

Assurance that the YWCA is having an important voice in United Nations was given here Thursday when Dr. Alice Arnold addressed local board and committee members.

Dr. Arnold was paying a short visit to Peterborough after attending the sessions of the commission on the status of women at Lake Success, N.Y. She is the YWCA consultant to the United Nations from headquarters staff of the World's YWCA at Geneva.

She said she is all for more women in political life. Especially in countries where they have a good chance for a fundamental education, she feels they should be aroused to take an interest in the administration of their own country. "They should take an active part and not merely talk about it." She explained that in her own country and three others of the east, women have just recently gotten the right to vote. Also that in many countries there is not enough money for schools so boys get the first chance of education.

Dr. Arnold referred to questions taken up at UN: the nationality of married women, which is often difficult in case of war; to see that women have the same rights as men in property claims; child labor and traffic in women. She said there are still a few countries where women have practically no rights. "We are going to see what we can do about women's status," she said, adding that it would be a long process in which the governments of individual countries would be consulted. She believes there are few women qualified to take over the top national positions, now entirely filled by men.

Asked about women in the Iron Curtain countries, she said they had a limited contact with them and that whenever possible work with them is carried out. Russia was not represented at the conference, she said.

Dr. Arnold, who holds a doctor's degree in law from the University of Geneva, had considerable experience in social work in Switzerland before joining the staff of the Intenational Red Cross in 1940, and in 1942 going to Berlin to work with the war Prisoners' Aid and with women internees. Since then she directed the joint world's YMCA/YECA service to displaced persons in Austria. She has been connected with the United Nations for two years.

Mrs. T. J. Carley, Peterborough YWCA president, opened the meeting at which Dr. Arnold spoke.

Centennial Tea Planned by CWL

The Centennial tea which is to be held on Wednesday afternoon next, June 7, on the grounds of the Stone School, Hunter and Rubidge Streets, under auspices of St. Peter's sub-division, Catholic Women's League, formed the main object of discussion at a special meeting of the league, held on Wednesday evening in St. Mary's School. The president, Mrs. S. J. Houlihan, was in the chair.

The president reported the gift of three dozen roses to Madame St. Laurent on the occasion of her recent visit to the city. The card which accompanied the bouquet was designed and executed by a member of the Sisterhood of St. Joseph and included a representation in gold of Peterborough's Lift Lock.

Mrs. Houlihan asked Miss Agnes Grant to take charge of arrangements for transportation of any members of the various local leagues who intend to attend the annual Diocesan convention, to be held in Bowmanville on June 14.

The district manager of Health Cooking Service of Toronto was present at the meeting, and outlined the method of securing one of the full-course dinners arranged by this firm in order to demonstrate their cooking utensils.

IODE to Protest Insignia Change

MONTREAL, June 2—(CP)—Canada's defense minister is to receive a protest against a decision to replace regimental insignia with a plain spray of maple leaves on crosses and graves of the Dominion's war dead.

The protest decision was taken by the National Chapter of Canada, Imperial Order, Daughters of the Eprire before the 50th national convention adjourned last night.

The national chapter noted that on a directive issued by the minister of national defense all regimental badges and designations on the crosses and graves of the war dead are being replaced by a plain spray of maple leaves and the words "Corps of Infantry" as the only identifying term.

It was resolved to "protest this denial of regimental identity to our dead and request parliament immediately to review and reverse this action as directed against the traditions and associations of our dead warriors.

The order further agreed to appeal to the public generally to add its protest to the government and to the minister of national defense, in particular, against the change in policy.

WMS Contributions For Missions Displayed Here

The WMS of Knox Church met at the home of Mrs. F. Milburn, supply secretary for the Peterborough Presbyterial this week. On display were 13 bedjackets, nine quilts, 14 complete layettes, 12 pair bedsocks, an assortment of books and toys and handcraft all for western mission fields. The articles were contributed by the WMS societies of Havelock, Westwood, Keene, Springville, Lakefield, Norwood, Bridgenorth, Warsaw United Churches and George Street, Mark Street, Trinity, St. James, St. Andrew's and Knox United Churches of Peterborough.

Guests at the meeting were: Mrs. A. Munro, Conference Branch Supply Secretary and Mrs. B. Jones from St. Andrew's United Church; Mrs. F. W. Burnham and Mrs. Roy Paul from George St. United Church; Mrs. A. Scriver, Mrs. A. Roberts, Mrs. E. Alton and Mrs. S. Matchett from Mark St. United Church.

President, Mrs. E. Mesley was in the chair and Mrs. H. Lewis was pianist. Miss Susan Summers reported nine hospital and 13 home calls were made. Mrs. J. Allen gave a splendid financial report. The historian, Mrs. James Gerard, urged reading of missionary books during the summer months. It was announced that there would be a paper collection on Saturday, June 13th.

Mrs. D. Gourley conducted the worship service assisted by Mrs. Mesley and Mrs. R. Laing.

Mrs. Milburn and daughters, Mrs. E. Pearse and Mrs. Chambers and Mrs. F. Dunford served refreshments. Mrs. J. Gerard cut a cake with 25 candles commemorating the Twenty-fifth Anniversary of Church Union.

After close of the meeting, Mrs. Mesley, Mrs. H. Clegg, Mrs. M. Lindsay and Mrs. Laing, a committee of the WMS, entertained the Nettie McKenzie Mission Band with a picnic, an annual event. Fifty-two boys and girls attended.

June Weather Makes People Think of Crisp Fruit Salads

By KAY REX

OTTAWA, June 2 — (CP) — Sticky June weather makes people think of things like tall frosted and crisp salads when they think of food.

It's time for the housewife to toss up such confections as frozen fruit salad as a special luncheon treat. Incidentally this is an excellent dish to serve the weekly bridge club when your turn comes around.

Ingredients: One cup stiff mayonnaise; three cups stiffly whipped cream; one teaspoon gelatine (dissolved in two tablespoons boiling water); three cups diced friut (pineapple, canteloupe, bananas, cherries, and so on.)

Combine the whipped cream and mayonnaise. Add gelatine and fruit. Put in mould and place in refrigerator for at least four hours. Serve on crisp lettuce leaves with mayonnaise or fruit dressing.

Grapefruit salad—Ingredients: 1½ tablespoons gelatine; one-quarter cup cold water; one-half cup boiling water; one-half cup sugar; two tablespoons lemon juice; one cup apple (cut in cubes); two cups grapefruit pulp and juice; one-half cup pecans, broken in pieces.

Soak gelatine in cold water for five minutes. Add boiling water and sugar. Stir until dissolved. Add apple, grapefruit, nuts and lemon juice. Mix thoroughly. Put into individual moulds which have been dipped in cold water. Chill. remove from moulds and arrange on crisp lettuce leaves. Garnish with whipped cream dressing and whole pecans.

As a refreshing dessert after a heavy meal mother might be able to coax the refrigerator to produce some apple ice cream.

Ingredients: Two cups grated apples (four medium apples); one-half cup fruit or fine granulated sugar; one-half pint whipping cream.

Grate the unpealed apples. After grating a small amount of the apple measure and sprinkle with part of sugar to prevent discoloration. Continue grating until two cups of apple have been measured. Whip cream and fold into apple mixture. Freeze. Serves six.

Apples also may be used in apple and salmon salad.

Ingredients: Two tart apples (diced); two cups flaked salmon; one cup diced celery; one-half cup grated raw carrots; salad dressing (about half a cup).

Mix the ingredients lightly. Pile in nests of crisp lettuce. Serves six.

Lobster, tuna fish or cold ham, veal or chicken, may be used in place of salmon.

Table Manners Annoy Youth Let Bars at Home Down

DEAR MISS DIX: Should children always be criticized about their table manners? Should they not be able to let down at home so as to enjoy a meal? I can remember in our home that many a wonderful meal, laboriously prepared by mother, was spoiled by the constant nagging of dad about our table manners. Home should be a place where you can be yourself and enjoy whatever you wish in any way you may. It does seem funny that such a trifling thing as table manners should mean so much to some people. Such a small matter as making a sandwich at the home dinner table has all but caused a revolution in our family. BOB, JR.

Dorothy Dix

ANSWER: I agree with you that home should be a place for rest and relaxation where we are entitled to many of the ceremonial conventions we observe with strangers, but that does not mean that we can do away with decencies of life, or are free to do things that get on other people's nerves. In fact, just because we are brought in daily contact with the members of our families it is the more necessary for us to watch our step and make ourselves attractive to them.

Can Be Important

And this matter of table etiquette cuts a much larger figure in that than you would suppose. You would be amazed at the number of letters I get from women who are on the verge of divorce because they have got to the point where they think they will commit murder if they have to watch the sloppy way their husbands eat another time, and from men who say they are married to perfectly good wives, but they can't stand them because thy make a hissing sound when they drink their coffee of a morning.

Of course, you resent being nagged about your table manners by your father. Doubtless he is worn out nagging you and would be only too glad to quit. It is only by telling children thousands of times not to do this and to do the other thing, that training soaks in somehow to teach them good manners and make them ladies and gentlemen.

DEAR MISS DIX: I have been married eight years. Have two children, a girl of 6 and a boy of 2. My husband is sensible. Makes a fair living. Doesn't drink, gamble or flirt. Is devoted to the children. We have a nice home and he stays home most of the time.

The trouble is I am careless by nature and my husband is very exact and punctual. He has tried to teach me to be careful, but no matter how hard I try I simply can't do it. At my first sign of carelessness my husband starts picking on me. He scolds me, insults me, calls me names and has got me so miserable that I am seriously thinking of leaving him. The only thing that keeps me with him is the children. If not for these arguments we would have been as happy a couple as could be found, but when he begins insulting me I actually go crazy. Would you advise me to leave him?

THIRD-ONE

ANSWER: You say you have tried to cure yourself of your carelessness, but you haven't tried hard enough. You haven't put your whole determination into it. You haven't brought every bit of will power you have to bear on it. You haven't used your brains in figuring out ways to outwit your personal devil and get the better of him.

You will commit a crime against your children if you deprive then of a good home and a good father because you resented his scolding you for your sloppiness. And remember that when you try to support your children you will find that employers are not more tolerant of carelessness than your husband is, and that it will be just as much a bar to your success in business as it is to your success in matrimony.

Of course, nobody likes to be scolded, but if you will try to correct your carlessness your husband will be so pleased he will meet you halfway and try to encourage you, and you will get pats on the back instead of the hammer.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I have a son who has been out of college a year. He is very anxious to get a job and has one offered him, but it will take him out of town. However, as I am not very well I have talked him out of taking it. I would turn my business over to him, but I don't want him to be in it, as it has very little money in it any more. I gave him a good home, clothes and spending money, but he is very dissatisfied.

WORRIED FATHER

ANSWER: Either let him go out and get a job with some one else, or else turn your business over to him. It may be that his young energy would put fresh vim into it and make it a success. You are being very selfish to your son in trying to keep him tied to you and refusing him his chance in the world.

Woman's Career Gathering Lore And Folk Longs

By ROD CURRIE

DARTMOUTH, NS —(CP)— A woman who makes a career out of gathering age-old folk songs and folklore says that Nova Scotia has an endless supply—probably tne most fascinating in Canada.

Helen Creighton, a Dartmouth native, has been touring Nova Scotia in pursuit of almost-forgotten folk-music since 1928.

Evey summer she packs her car with tape recorder, typewriter, notebooks and pencils and goes on a "collecting" tour of fishing villages and hamlets.

She collects recordings of folk-songs, ballads and dialects and also makes notes of historical interest. A number of her collections of folk stories, traditions, witch craft, legends and ghost stories have been published.

Miss Creighton's latest book "Folk Lore of Lunenburg County," was published recently.

The attractive, neatly-dressed woman says her books are designed mostly for university use and for other collectors.

The soft spoken historian, who does most of her writing sitting before a huge bay window overlooking Halifax harbor, has been awarded three Rockefeller fellowships. She used two of them to continue her studies at Indiana University, and the third assisted her in the recording aspect of her career.

Original Legends

While all the ballads published in her book were found in this province, she said that none of them originated here. They were brought to this country by early settlers. However, the province is rich with original legends.

Miss Creighton, who admits she isn't "too good a musician," says when she first started her collection she used a melodeon, and had to take the music down by hand. Since then the United States Congressional Library, for whom she has done a great deal of work, supplied her with a recording machine.

She now uses equipment supplied by the Canadian government and all recordings are sent to Ottawa to be archived and transcribed. The folklore notes she makes are also sent to Ottawa.

One of Miss Creighton's most difficult jobs is investigating the foundation for some of the many stories and traditions she picks up.

"Many times," she explained, "residents of a hamlet will tell me a story of a particular event that they believe happened in the village many years ago. Often I find it actually happened in the old country and the story was brought to this country by settlers."

Besides her job with the government, she is a fellow of the American Anthropological Association, represents the American Dialect Association and is correspondent in this area for the International Folk Music Council.

Winnipeg Pianist Needs More Give - - Critics

By WILLIAM BOSS

LONDON —(CP)— The finger-work of Canadian pianist Freda Trepel impressed London critics, but they told her to use more "give" in her playing.

The 31-year-old Winnipeger recently made her London debut at Wigmore Hall.

Like other programs offered by this year's crop of Canadian debutantes, hers was essentially romantic. Schubert, Schumann, and Chopin predominated.

Miss Trepel's technique, applied to a broader program, might have exacted greater tribute from the reviewers.

The Times spoke of her "natural aptitude for the instrument" and her "serviceable technique," while the Daily Telegraph said she had "real technical agility" and the Daily Herald noted that "her finger work was dexterous and fluent."

Reservations

Then all three entered their reservations.

Noting that it was "a predominantly romantic program," the Times said "she was inclined to play too fast, which is often a symptom of heartlessness."

Said the Daily Herald: "Her tone lacked variety."

The Daily Telegraph pointed up her need for "a wider variety of tone color." Also, her undoubted technical competence "led her to adopt exaggeratedly fast tempos."

Miss Trepel and the other Canadians, in bowing into Wigmore Hall, are meeting London's critics on their own ground, and would possibly obtain better notices if their initial program met the critics' expectations. Specialization could come later.

Council Upholds Indian Rights, Admission Chinese

LONDON, Ont., June 2.—(CP). — Admission of the wives, husbands and children under 21 of Chinese citizens was endorsed by the National Council of Women in annual session.

The council also favored treating Canadian Indians in the same way as citizens of other racial origin, permitting them to vote, to receive the old-age pension, the pension for the blind and the family allowance, and to have a voice in the administration of education.

In extending sympathy to Manitoba flood-sufferers and the victims of fires in Quebec, the council endorsed the recommendation that full use be made of town planning powers and housing assistance under the National Act provisions, dealing with intergovernmental participation in acquisition and development of land servicing and construction of homes.

Protests Chinese

Proposal to admit families of Chinese who are citizens of Canada brought objection from Mrs. E. J. Underhill of London.

"There is a great deal of communism in China," she said, "and in as much as the future of Canada is bound up in what sort of immigrants are allowed into the country and depends on keeping our country free of communism, I object strongly to the resolution. What is the suffering of one person compared to the welfare of a whole country?"

"If we can't match anything Communists from China can do in the next 100 years, or even 10 years, we ought to crawl out," Miss Beatrice Bridgen of Winnipg replied.

British Ties

A resolution from Truro, N.S., asking the National Council not to eliminate "ties of sentiment" with Britain was referred back to local councils for study. It referred to abolition of Privy Council appeals, and moved to delete Dominion from the Dominion of Canada, change the National Anthem, revise the flag, and appoint Canadian as governors-general.

Miss Brigden declared:

"I'm sure all Britons who came would want us to stand on our own feet and be independent," she said.

"Are we going to change everything traditional just because we have brought all these people in?" Mr. Douglas Baker of Truro asked. "Empire Day means a great deal to me. If people want to celebrate Canada Day, fine. But why not choose another day and retain Empire Day?"

City H&S Members Attend Session Can. Federation

The Canadian Federation of Home and School is holding the 13th annual convention at Emmanuel College, Toronto, this week, with every province except Prince Edward Island represented. Mrs. E. Chambers of Peterborough, vice-president of the Ontario Federation is one of the appointed delegates attending the sessions.

Thursday, program day, was open to the public and general membership and nine members of Peterborough Home and School Associations attending were Mrs. A. W. Nelson, district chairman, Mrs. W. T. Fanjoy, Mrs. L. Raper, Mrs. S. Malsch, Mrs. V. Reynolds, Mrs. D. Rostocky, Mrs F. Gray, Mrs. W. Thompson and Mrs. C. J. Law.

They heard outstanding educationists of the Dominion in three educational panel discussions, titled "A parent's education round table—parenthood a skill to be learned"; "A child's bill of rights" and "School education consultation on health as related to the child's bill of rights."

Also, Mr. D. Graham, director of education in Forest Hill village who spoke on the convention theme "a child's bill of rights," and Mrs. R. F. McLaughlin of Oshawa, past provincial president and life member in Canadian Federation, who briefly outlined the growth and changes since granting of a government charter in 1933. Peterborough Normal School director of music Mr. Quirt McKinney led group singing.

"Family Circle," a film about parents and showing Canadian Home and School groups in action, which will be seen in a chain of theatres, was also viewed.

Guay Talks To Police, Reopen Case?

Due To Hang June 23 For Plane Murder Of Wife, 22 Others

QUEBEC, June 3—(CP)—Jeweler J. Albert Guay—the man who time-bombed an airliner to kill his wife—has made a statement to police and reports have it that he has implicated several other persons. Premier Duplessis admitted Friday Guay had talked, thus confirming rumors he had made a confession. Guay, who did not testify in his own defence at his trial and who decided not to appeal the verdict of guilty returned against him March 14, is scheduled to be hanged June 23.

The Premier, who did not reveal the nature of Guay's statement, announced that a decision would be made next week in the matter.

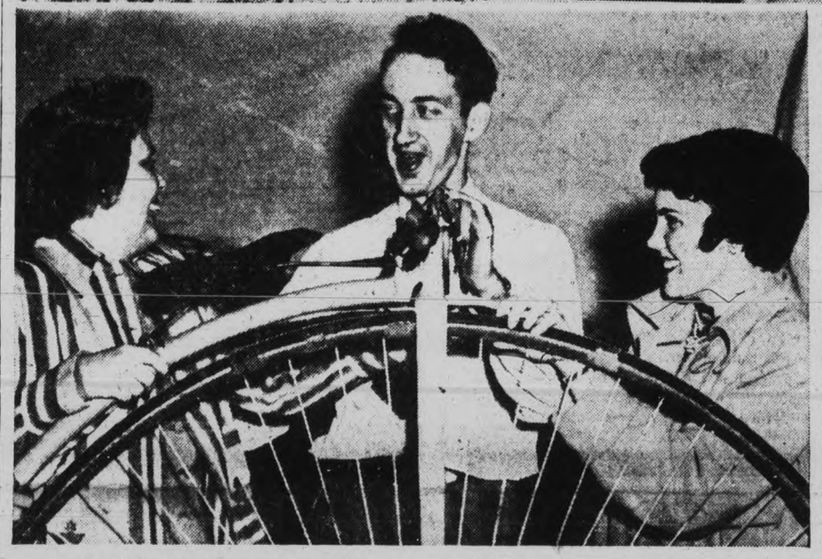
The man who will probably be called upon to make the final decision — whether other persons said to be accused by Guay should be prosecuted or not—is Hon. Antoine Rivard, Quebec solicitor-general, a noted criminologist.

Mr. Rivard prepared the prosecution of Guay in collaboration with Chief Crown Prosecutor Noel Dorion.

Killed 22 Others

During his trial, witnesses related how Guay, infatuated with a 19-year-old waitress, arranged to have a time-bomb manufactured and placed aboard an airliner on which his wife was a passenger. The plane exploded over Sault au Cochon, killing Guay's 26-year-old wife and 22 other passengers and crew members.

Reports that Guay had taked began soon after he was moved to the death cell of Montreal's Bordeaux jail to await execution.



Police sources at the time said that the value of any statement by Guay, implicating other persons, would have to be dependent on other evidence police might be able to gather backing it up.

A crown attorney, explaining the bearing of a statement from Guay, said that, in law, it was the evidence of a convicted man; and that to be of value before a court, it would have to be supported by independent evidence and independent witnesses.

PETERBOROUGH'S FIRST SPORTSMEN'S SHOW, sponsored by the Fish and Game Protective Association, was viewed by thousands of outdoor fans on Friday night. This afternoon and evening promise to crowd the Civic Arena to capacity. UPPER LEFT photo shows Joan Rogers of 386 Edison Ave., cuddling a cage full of small beagle hound puppies, her grandfather's. Former Dominion champion archer, Madge Mitchele of Toronto, shows UPPER RIGHT litle Barbara Kempt how to hold her large target bow. Barbara Ann Scott Shaken In Car Crash

HOLLYWOOD, June 3 (AP)—Barbara Ann Scott was shaken up in an automobile collision Friday night, but was able to take her usual part in ice skating show.

The passenger in the other car, Carl Augustine, 35, suffered possible hip fracture.

Miss Scott was riding with her mother in a car driven by Janet Falkner, 24, the skater's travelling companion. Mrs. Scott and Miss Falkner were also bruised slightly. Driver of the other car, George Valachos, 36, was treated for cuts and bruises.

Packing Union Asks Wage Hoist

TORONTO, June 3—(CP)—The United Packinghouse Workers (CIO) announced a new series of economic demands on the Canadian packing industry Friday night. The demands total 30 cents an hour and include a 15-cent hourly wage increase.

The program was formulated at a meeting of the Canadian union held in conjunction with the international convention at Minneapolis. Fred Dowling, of Toronto, was re-elected Canadian director and international vice-president.

The union announced that besides the wage increase it is seeking a reduction in the work week from 44 to 40 hours and a company-financed welfare plan. The demands will figure in negotiations for 1950-51 contracts scheduled to open this month with the three major packing companies—Canada Packers, Burns and Swift Canadian.

First Sportsmen's Show Opens In The Civic Arena

More than 1,000 people crowded the Civic Arena on Friday evening to witness Peterborough's first sportsmen's show sponsored by the Peterborough Fish and Game Protective Association. In preparation for the past several weeks, 50 display booths ring the cement floor of the winter ice space. The centre of the area is reserved for boats. A large tent at the west end exhibits wild life in cages and many interesting displays on reforestation by the Department of Lands and Forests.

/ "It is the worst series of headaches I ever had", said frustrated show chairman Don Smedor, "but the whole thing has exceeded our expectations. We hope it will be the forerunner of a similar event each year."

There is something of interest for everyone to see. Many the small gaffer can lay proud claim to having caught his limits of bass and pickerel and the occasional 'lunge. Some are skeptical of new-fangled gear and make no bones about saying so.

Three Men Arrested Selling Gold Bricks

NEW YORK, June 3—(AP)—City slickers stopped selling the Brooklyn Bridge long ago but the gold brick business has turned out to be brisk.

Police Friday arrested three men for selling gold bricks.

Michael Gagliano, assistant district attorney, said the trio plotted to sell thousands of the shiny but phony bricks to "a foreign government which is trying to stabilize its currency."

He did not elaborate.

The bricks are described as being 16 inches long, six inches wide and four inches thick.

The three men were accused of selling 14 bricks for $11,650 to Harry Pearlstein, quoted by Gagliano as saying he bought them "purely for investment purposes."

Police said the gold on the bricks was worth $440.

U.S. Storm Kills Nun 300 People Evacuated

CHICAGO, June 3—(AP)—A sudden electrical storm struck Chicago last night, killing one person — a nun — and causing heavy damage.

Thousands of basements and scores of viaducts were flooded. About 300 persons were evacuated from buildings on the northwest side when high tension wires snapped.

The roof of the paddock at the Maywood Park race track in suburban Maywood was blown 100 feet on to the tracks of the Soo Line railroad.

At the height of the storm, Mother Superior Lucille Pellizer, 50, of St. Philip Benizi Roman Catholic Church, was electrocuted in the adjoining nuns' home basement.

Typhoid Epidemic Hits Bavaria; Seven Die

MUNICH, Germany, June 3—(Reuters). — Seven persons have died and more than 350 have been taken to hospital in Bavaria this week in a typhoid epidemic which has been traced primarily to infected meat and dairy products, health authorities reported here today.

Schools and other meeting places in widely-separated stricken areas have been closed. Inhabitants in these areas have been ordered to report to emergency inoculation stations.

Opposition Blasts Government On Freight Rates

OTTAWA, June 3 (CP)—Federal handling of freight rates went through the wringer in the Commons Friday.

Members had a field day on the controversial issue for seven hours, with the government and its ratemaking agency coming under heavy opposition fire and with Liberal members coming to their rescue.

The debate was still in full blast as the house rose after a morning, afternoon and night of freight rates. Two votes on the question had to be put over until next week.

Transport Minister Chevrier announced that the two opposition motions, censuring the rate-regulatory board of Transport Commissioners, would be taken as motions of non-confidence in the government.

This indicated a vote on straight party lines, with Liberals lining up against the three opposition parties.

The votes will be on:

1. A motion by George Drew, Progressive Conservative Leader, to cut the estimate for transport board administration from $624,800 to $1.

2. A motion by Clarie Gillis (CCF-Cape Breton South) to cut the administration appropriation by $1—the traditional way of expressing dissatisfaction with a government agency.

M. J. Coldwell, CCF leader, told reporters that, in the event of his group's move being defeated, the CCF would support the motion of the Progressive Conservatives. The Social Credit party announced support for the Drew motion and likely also would back that of the CCF.

Living Costs Climb Halted

OTTAWA, June 3 (CP)—Declines in prices for women's wear and anthracite coal offset rises in beef and coffee prices during April to halt a four-month climb in living costs.

The Bureau of Statistics reported Friday that the cost of living index remained unchanged during April at an all-time high of 164.0. The index is calculated on the basis that 1935-39 prices equal 100.

Helping to arrest the upsurge in living costs were a four-tenth of a point drop in the clothing sub-index, from 181.2 to 180.8, and a half-point drop in the fuel and lighting group, from 138.0 to 137.5.

Countering these drops was a slight gain in foods, which climbed one-tenth of a point, from 204.5 to 204.6. A five-cent decline in butter and small decreases in eggs and pork couldn't offset an increase of four cents in beef and two cents in coffee.

Price reductions in women's wear caused the clothing sub-index decline. This group has been declining steadily from its all-time high of 184.1 in September, 1949.

Decreases in the price of anthracite coal proved more important than advances in electricity rates in some Ontario centres.

Britain Out, Expected To Join Later

Common Authority Has Full Power To Direct Activities

PARIS, June 3—(CP)—Six European governments agreed today to the idea of putting their coal and steel into a common pool as a means of unifying western Europe. A common high authority with full powers would be set up to direct the pool. In a joint communique issued in Paris, the governments of France, Western Germany, Belgium, Italy, Luxembourg and The Netherlands said they had "decided to pursue a common action of peace, European solidarity and economic and social progress."

Britain, waiting to learn what details would be worked out for the pool's operation, did not sign the communique. But in a separate statement the French foreign ministry declared:

"We are happy to know that the British government accepts the proposition to be kept informed on the progress of negotiations."

(In London, a British communique on the coal-steel plan said that the British government did not feel able to accept in advance nor did it wish to reject in advance the principles underlying the French proposal.

(The communique added Britain finds it impossible to join the negotiations on the terms proposed by the French government.)

It was the first time in history that six independent countries had agreed to meet and to pool part of their national sovereignty.

Sources close to French Foreign Minister Robert Schuman, the author of the proposal, said they were convinced Britain eventually would join the group and place its coal and steel production under the control of the proposed international authority.

Quebec Man Shot By Pub Pick Up

NORTH BAY, June 3 (CP). — Joseph E. Colleaux, 33, of Quebec, was seriously wounded on Friday night by a man he picked up after a visit to a hotel beverage room here. As surgeons at St. Joseph's Hospital operated on Colleaux for chest, neck and groin wounds, Provincial Police started a search of all roads in the area for the assailant who fled in Colleaux' new car.

Police said Colleaux was driving a new car here to meet his wife, coming by train, and that pending the train arrival he went to the hotel. From the hotel Colleaux and his new acquaintance went for a drive.

Colleaux was brought back here by a passing motorist, Donald Davis of Callander, who found him lying on the road. The injured man told Provincial Police that after travelling with the stranger two miles from North Bay the man demanded to be driven to Toronto, then shot him.

Fake Snakes Get Bird

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., June 3 — (AP) — Pigeons nested on rubber snakes under the eaves of the Palm Beach County Court House today. They cooed politely at astonished county commissioners peering from windows and then went quietly about the business of getting settled. "They're not so dumb," said Lake Lytal, County Commission Chairman. "The snakes are rubber and must be mighty comfortable compared to the hard ledge. But what do we do now?" Nobody had an answer. There was scratching of heads and talk of balloons and paper bags, but no decision was made. The Commissioners had firemen place 36 rubber snakes on the ledge under the eaves last week to drive the pigeons away.

Volcano Spews Stone, Lava 80 Families Flee

By STAN CARTER

KEALAKEKUA, Hawaii, June 3 — (AP) (By Radiophone)—Heavy black stone from erupting Mauna Loa covers hundreds of acres of Hawaii's Kona coast today.

Between 60 and 80 families have fled their homes. Lava has eaten into parts of villages.

It is a scene of both desolation and beauty created by one of the world's most active volcanos. Here and there is a fallen tree knocked over the lava that spills over the sides of the crater.

Mauna Loa broke loose Thursday night after a sleep of 18 months. Volcanologist Ruy H. Finch of the Hawaii volcano observatory said it was the most violent eruption on record for the tons of lava spewed within the first few hours. He predicted it might last two weeks.

He reported:

"The area outside the crater swept by lava in the first 12 hours was the greatest on record. Its most spectacular feature was the speed with which it covered the southwestern slopes of Mauna Loa."

Observers who have watched the eruption from the beginning say it was even more spectacular Friday night than Thursday night.

The lava was flowing at "breakneck" speed in spots—as high as 40 miles an hour.

Two fiery streams have reached the sea. A third neared the coastal highway 10 miles to the south. A fourth stream poured down toward Kau in the south point area.

Kona police ordered evacuation of another South Kona village Friday afternoon. It is the tiny settlement of Papa which is in the path of the third stream. So is Milolii village.

A lava bed—the one I was able to get close enough to see—had turned black. It still is dangerous. It is the one that first reached the sea.

The edge of this lava bed is higher than a man is tall. It appears much thicker in the centre. It is about one-quarter of a mile wide and stretches from Mauna Loa to the sea, blocking the coastal highway about a mile south of here.

Reds' March On Tokyo, Strike Flop

No Violence Seen As 27,000 Police Readied For Fight

By TOM LAMBERT

TOKYO, June 3—(AP)—A Communist "March on Tokyo" flopped today. So did a Communist-called general strike for all Japan. Both had been set to protest the trial of eight Japanese who attacked United States soldiers Memorial Day—May 30. The eight were convicted this afternoon.

The Communist failure here was complete. There wasn't a show of violence anywnere in Japan. Japanese police pulled the rug from under Communist plans by banning mass demonstrations outdoors.

The big blowout in Tokyo and the general strike were scheduled in retaliation for the arrest and quick trial of eight Japanese who stoned and roughed up five American soldiers.

The arrests grew out of Red demonstrations Memorial Day. They called a rally for the Imperial Plaza at the same time American troops were using it for memorial ceremonies. Japanese police prevented the Reds from using it. The Communists howled: "suppression."

Rally In Park

Later that day they rallied at Hibiya Park. Four soldiers of the U. S. Counter Intelligence Corps were assigned to observe. A signal corps photographer was there. They were attacked.

The eight Japanese subsequently arrested were charged with assault and disobeying occupation orders. An American military court this afternoon convicted all eight on the assault charges.

Kaneji Onishi, also convicted of disobeying the occupation, was sentenced to 10 years imprisonment at hard labor. Six of his fellows got seven years, another five.

The only retaliatory show the Communists pulled off today was an indoor union meeting that attracted about 5,000 persons. It opened and closed with the sing-

German Police Seize Red Barges

BERLIN, June 3—(AP)—West-German police seized 11 Soviet-zone barges today as hostages in the row with the Russians over canal traffic.

The Russians are holding up 70 western barges on the pretext of searching for contraband.

West-Berlin canal authorities said they would hold the 11 eastern ships until the Russians permit the water supply line to resume normal schedule.

The action may have stung the Soviets into a more conciliatory attitude. They told western waterways officials that eight of the 70 barges would be permitted to proceed during the week-end.

Timely Advice For Ontario Fishermen

30 Years Behind The Times

HALIFAX, June 3 — (CP). — Can it be that Ontario is 30 years behind the times when it comes to angling? Nova Scotia fishermen were asking themselves that question Friday night.

When Bluenose fishermen learned that Ontario anglers were just waking up to the fact that minnows fare far better in dead, dry leaves than in water they were shocked. That is the way it has been done down by the Atlantic for 25 years and more.

The minnow habitat question came to a boil when 12 of the wiggly fellows were shipped by air recently from Halifax to Peterborough, Ont. When the package was opened sportsmen were surprised to find the live bait packed in dry leaves. A Toronto paper's outdoor editor said it was the first time such a thing had happened.

Jim Egan who runs a sporting good store on the fringe of Halifax Harbor says he has been selling minnows packed in dry leaves, mostly maple, for the last 25 years.

But Egan has a word of advice for behind-the-times Ontario fishermen.

"Don't try packing 'em in moss. They will smother. I've tried it and it doesn't work."

Further advice was offered by Hardy Moffatt, secretary of the Nova Scotia Fish and Game Association. He is asistant superintendent of education for the province, so he gets a bit technical, calling the minnow "fundulus." Anyhow, he says get the brackish variety in preference to the fresh water kind. They will live longer in leaves, possibly four days if kept in a cool spot.

Adrenal Glands Cause

Hormones May Cure Alcoholics, Addicts

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE

NEW YORK, June 3 (AP) — Hormone injections can break up alcoholism and drug addiction, two physicians reported today.

They said evidence that both alcoholics and drug addicts suffer from the same trouble—lazy or impaired adrenal glands. Sleeping pill addicts even show the same mental patterns as alcoholics, the said.

In both addictions, the glands, apparently don't produce enough of the hormones that come from the outer covering (cortex) of the adrenal glands, they said. The injections overcome this lack. The hormone used is ACE, adrenal cortical extract.

The report was made by Drs. Harold Lovell and John W. Tintera of Flower and Fifth Avenue Hospitals, New York, to the American Geriatrics Society. Geriatrics is the medical specialization in problems and disease of old age.

The hormone injections "eliminate the torturing drying out period in alcoholism and lessen significantly the recurrent craving for alcohol," they said.

The physicians urged a triple treatment for alcoholism. One the hormone injections. Secondly, a diet low in starches and sugars, rich in proteins, and medium in fats. And third, joining Alcoholics Anonymous for moral support.

The hormone shots successfully overcome addiction to barbiturates or sleeping pills, and to narcotic drugs, they said. The treatment was much the same, but with more frequent injections of hormone. Sleep pill addicts were sent to hospital for 10 to 14 days, and narcotic addicts for at least three weeks.

Dr. Lovell and Dr. Tintera called alcoholism a disease with both mental and physical sides that act and react on one another.

Their studies show the adrenal gland's failure is one of the main factors involved. This failure may come from an inherited tendency, or can be acquired, they said. It affects blood sugar and may have other physical effects.

The gland failure might even start through mental stimuli, such as grief or worry, they theorized. The emotional upset affects the gland, and the reduced hormone output then causes more nervous or emotional troubles, which in turn lead to more physical effects on the gland.

There is also evidence, they added, that alcohol and certain drugs may either start or aggravate the gland failure.

DuplessisRenews Offer Of Seat To Liberal Chief

QUEBEC, June 3 (CP) — For the second time, Premier Duplessis has offered to clear the way for the new Quebec Liberal leader to take a seat in the Legislature.

Premier Duplessis, backed by a heavy Union Nationale majority said Friday his party would not oppose George Emile Lapalme if he should attempt to enter the House by contesting a seat vacated by one of the 10 Liberal seats.

At the same time he described Mr. Lapalme's reply to his first invitation as "puerile bravado." The Liberal leader had asked for a general election.

The Premier took up the subject anew at his regular press conference during which he announced that the Rimouski-Cabano relief and had so far brought in $400,000 in money and goods..

The Premier also announced that at the request of Archbishop Paul Emil Leger of Montreal, legislation giving a new charter to the University of Montreal would take effect Monday.

"I renew the generous offer made to Mr. Lapalme," said the Premier. "If a member of the opposition will resign to give Mr. Lapalme the opportunity to obtain a Quebec Legislative Assembly seat, election writs will be issued in the shortest legal delay and the Union Nationale will facilitate, in these circumstances, the election of Mr. Lapalme by acclamation by presenting no candidates in such a by-election."

The Premier said there was no reason to call general elections at present because the Union Nationale party won 1948 Quebec elections with 82 of 92 Legislative seats.

Wartime Houses To Be Vacated?

Gradual sale and removal of the wartime houses of the Hatton area is suggested by Mayor Swanston who is likely to insert it into one of the committee meeting discussions before long.

When some of the houses built by the Dominion government in other sections of the city become vacant, tenants in the Hatton section might be offered them. The occupants probably would not object to the transfer. There would be no serious dislocation of the tenants, but by that means the Hatton houses as they became vacant would gradually disappear.

That would be one approach to the problem of clearing the Hatton area, providing the original intentions of the city council and the government are carried out.

Man Fined $18,000 For Money Juggling

TORONTO, June 3—(CP)—John Stuart, 42, cough-drop company sales agent and sportsman, Friday was fined $18,000 and costs, or one year, after he pleaded guilty to three charges of violating foreign exchange control board regulations involving $24,300. He was given a week to pay the fine.

Evidence was that during 1947, 1948 and 1949, he made 12 trips to the United States. On each trip, the court was told, he changed U.S. cheques into Canadian dollars and then brought the money back to Canada.

The charges were that Stuart, who until recently was a director of the Toronto Argonaut football club and is well known in racing circles, unlawfully sold the currency, negotiated in it unlawfully and he did not declare it.

STEWART A. BROWN

Stewart Brown Awarded Scholarship

Stewart A. Brown of Peterborough, a graduate student in chemistry at Michigan State College, has been awarded the $1,200 Eastman Kodak fellowship for the 1950-51 academic year.

Mr. Brown is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Allan T. Brown, of Benson Ave.

The fellowship is awarded to an outstanding student in his final year of research for the doctor of philosophy degree.

Dr. Laurence L. Quill, head of MSC chemistry department, said, as quoted in the Lansing State Journal: "It permits a promising young scientist to devote his full efforts to graduate study during the final year, and thus to complete his research for the doctorate degree without interruption of other work."

Mr. Brown received a degree at Ontario Agricultural College and has been a graduate student at MSC since 1947. He earned a scholarship for the present academic year from the vitamin assay fund of the chemistry department. He is specializing in biochemistry.

Dog In Subway Halts Thousands

LONDON, June 3 (Reuters)—Thousands of Londoners were late coming home Friday night because a dog played "hide and seek" on part of the subway.

The dog, a white terrier, was one of four that got into Finsbury Park station and made for the platform. Porters caught three, but the terrier dashed to the platform, jumped on to the line and dashed into the tunnel.

All trains were stopped except one which crawled through the tunnel, trying to catch the elusive dog.

For half an hour, the terrible terrier was on the tracks. Then, almost two stations from his starting point, he was caught by a stationmaster who chased him down a tunnel on foot.

Possible Revenge

One angle to be considered was the possibility of revenge as a motive for Guay's statements, this crown source said.

The first step the crown will take, if it is felt that Guay's own testimony is necessary in any further trial, will be to ask the superior court to grant a stay of execution.

But, the crown source said, the presence of Guay at another trial was not absolutely necessary since a duly sworn statement was acceptable before a court. Cross-examination by defence counsel might even be arranged at Bordeaux jail, before a judge.

But this last step would be taken only if it was definitely decided that action would be taken against one or more persons named by Guay as accomplices.

New Lead Found In Killing; Hunting Robbers

MONTREAL, June 3 (CP) — The recently-merged Montreal homicide and hold-up squads today pressed their search for the killer of RCMP Constable Alexander Gamman and for the perpetrators of armed robberies that are plaguing the city.

Hopes of capturing the murderer of Gamman were revived Friday night when a man whose description fitted the killer staged a $35 hold-up at a downtown store.

Police said two men visited the Sterling Tea and Coffee Company Ltd., on downtown Lagauchetiere Street Friday afternoon and forced Mrs. M. White, an employee, to turn over $35 from the till.

Mrs. White gave a good description of a man who flashed an automatic revolver at her, saying: "Give me the money. This is a hold-up."

Detective Capt. Romeo Longpre, head of the squad, said the description given by Mrs. White tallied with that of Gamman's killer.

In their continued drive against crime, police Friday night announced they had arrested 22-year-old Maurice Racicot in connection with four hold-ups. The victims were all delivery boys.

Police also were seeking two men who slugged Philippe Maron, a construction firm owner, and escaped with a $4,000 payroll he was taking to his office.

Arrest Follows Entry And Theft

A 17-year-old hydro worker from Millbrook is in police cells today, charged with breaking and entering Glen Lunch, King St. lunch counter.

PC John Conlin said he heard glass breaking near the lunch counter, looked inside, and saw a man leave by the east door. He arrested Robert Thompson, and found 16 packages of cigarettes in his possession.

The officer said he went to the lunch counter between Aylmer and George Sts. at about 5:10 a.m. where he found the rear window broken. "I saw somebody moving around inside, and shortly after, a man left by the east door."

"I chased him across the parking lot towards Charlotte St. and caught him. He had 16 packages of cigarettes and about $7, $6 of it in half dollars."

A search of the premises afterwards showed two packages of cigarettes on the floor and glass smashed in a counter. The east door looked as though it had been forced.

Sportsmen's Show

Outdoor equipment exhibits predominate. At sporting goods stands there are glass, steel and bamboo fishing rods, plugs, trolling spoons, landing nets. There are hats, caps, jackets, blankets, hunting knives, portable stoves, and radios. In Peterborough, the Dominion's boat-building centre, there is a smart inboard runabout made in Port Carling, sloops and dinghies from Lakefield and many styles of outboard boat models.

The most interesting import is Herkimer the Halifax minnow displayed by a bait dealer. This lone fish in a small bowl is the survivor of a shipment of a dozen shipped in dry oak leaves by air and rail from Halifax to Peterborough. It was examined with great interest by forestry officials to determine what type of strange fish was being imported into the Kawarthas; Herkimer is a salt water reared specimen called a mummichog. He has everyone shaking their heads in misbelief. As one expert said, "if I hadn't seen the fish alive, I wouldn't have believed it was possible to ship bait all that distance by dry pack."

A mechanical import from Toronto showed how fish lines were braided. Harold Croney demonstrated bait casting and Bill Miller, fly casting, in a canvas pool at the Park St. entrance to the arena. Madge Mitchele, past Dominion ladies archery champion, and present holder of two international archery classics, demonstrated her skill to a large audience. Demonstrations in these classes were moved indoors on Friday night as a rain shower threatened.

Live animals in the rear outside tent drew tremendous crowds. The Kawartha Kennel Club had twelve thoroughbred breeds, one of each kind of hunting dog, in various cages. There were many other animals, a deer, monkey, donkey, pony and colt, guinea pigs, as well as a few cages of wildfowl. In the same tent on Saturday afternoon children participated in a show and each one received silver dollars for being good showmen.

Saturday evening features will include more fly casting and archery topped off by an old-time fiddling contest. Chairman Smedmor, to show that the big show had not entirely undermined his health, rode an ancient penny-and-farthing Victorian bicycle from time to time. From where he sat above the crowd, the show looked like a smashing success. The large audience agreed with him.

Colleges Urged Halt Addition Of New Courses

KINGSTON, June 3 (CP) — Sidney Smith, president of the University of Toronto, Friday urged universities to resist demands for new courses which should be given only in technical institutes or by other agencies.

"The 'know-why' must be the primary and dominant concern of universities," he told the National Conference of Canadian Universities. "In Canadian universities the offering of new occupational —or 'know-how'—courses and the manufacturing of new degrees to fit them should be a matter of deep concern, if not serious alarm.

"The extent of occupational certification by universities has already discounted the academic currency of this country. We should beware of the camels that seek from time to time to edge into our academic tents."

There was a danger of new professional courses "draining away the meagre financial resources so sorely needed for faculties of arts."

Liberals, CCF Oppose Name Canada Day

OTTAWA, June 3—(CP)—Liberal and CCF ranks in the Commons were split Friday night in a vote which reversed a decision made two years ago on the question of changing the name of Dominion Day—July 1—to Canada Day.

Members voted 73 to 39 to kill a bill that would have changed the name of the day on which the anniversary of Confederation is celebrated. In 1947, a similar bill was adopted by the Commons but defeated in the Senate. Both measures were sponsored by Phileas Cote (L.—Matapedia-Matane).

The division cut through the ranks of the Liberal and CCF parties. The Progressive Conservative and Social Credit members voted against the measure.

Works Minister Fournier, government leader in the Commons, voted for the measure. His cabinet colleagues—Veterans Minister Gregg and Resources Minister Winters—voted against the bill. Labor Minister Mitchell said he would have opposed it if he had not been paired.

Prime Minister St. Laurent and other members of the cabinet were not in the House when the vote was taken. George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, and Solon Low, Social Credit leader, led their supporters in opposing the measure, which can't be revived again this session.

M. J. Coldwell, CCF leader, also voted against the bill, but five of his supporters voted for it.

The United States government is expected to support the coal and steel pool negotiations.

Five-year Program

European economic co-operation went forward in a wider sphere Friday night as ministers from the European Marshall Plan countries authorized formulation of a five-year program of co-ordinated economic development.

The program is aimed at expanding European production to insure a brighter economic future after Marshall Plan money ends in mid-1952.

Union Chrysler Makes Bid To Avoid Strike

WINDSOR, Ont., June 3—(CP)—In an eleventh-hour effort to head off a major strike, Chrysler Corporation - U.A.W. negotiators held meetings until late Friday night, then resumed at nine a.m. today.

Top executives of both the company and union are taking part in the sessions, in an effort to break the deadlock before Monday's strike deadline.

This morning there was still no indication of how close—or far apart—the parties are in their contract talks.

Most observers felt, however, that the fact that the meetings are continuing is a favorable sign.

Last Sunday Chrysler workers voted to strike the Chrysler plants next Monday morning if contract negotiations are not completed.

Their new contract demands include a pension plan, and health security.

Minor officials of the union and company were in session all week without definite results. Friday top executives of both the company and union moved into the picture.

Reported heading the company committee is E. C. Row, vice president and general manager of Chrysler of Canada; Kenneth Crittenden, vice president and operating manager.

Heading the union committee is George Burt, Canadian regional director of the UAW; Earl R. Watson, president of Local 195; Harry Rooney, UAW international representative.

OBITUARIES

MRS. JOHN GARVEY

Mrs. John Garvey, Lot 8, Concession 6, Douro, died in hospital early today after a short illness. A lifelong resident of Douro, she was the daughter of the late Denis Delaney and Emma Kennedy.

She was educated in Douro and was an active member of St. Joseph's Church there.

She is survived by her husband, one sister, Mrs. Peter Doherty (Emma), of Otonabee, and one brother, John Delaney, of Warsaw.

Funeral will be Monday at 8.15 a.m. from the Duffus Funeral Home to St. Joseph's Church, Douro, for requiem mass at 9 a.m. Burial will be in St. Joseph's Cemetery.

MRS. JAMES MOORE

After being in poor health for two years, Mrs. Sarah Ann Moore, 276 Albert St., Belleville, died today at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. C. Bateson, 738 George St.

Born in Alnwick Twp., Mrs. Moore had lived the past seven years in Belleville, after living 18 years in Port Hope. Before then she lived in the vicinity of Warkworth.

She was the daughter of the late William Thompson and his wife, Sarah Archibald. She married James Moore, who died in 1931.

Mrs. Moore was a member of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church in Belleville. She is resting at the Kay Funeral Home, funeral arrangements not yet being announced.

She leaves six daughters, three sons and a brother: Mrs. C. Campbell (Ethel) of Galt; Mrs. W. A. Baker (Theresa), Rochester, NY; Mrs. J. C. Bateson (Evelyn) of Peterborough; Mrs. Leila Herriott of Toronto; Mrs. Mary Wood, Toronto; Miss Olive Moore, Belleville; Austin and William, both of Peterborough, and Ray of Erie, Pa. One brother, Thomas Thompson of Caronach, Sask.

Couple Celebrate With Guests 50 Years Ago

Ten of the wedding guests who, fifty years ago, witnessed the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Smith, 116 McDonnel St., in a church in Reading, Berkshire, England, were among those who joined in the golden wedding anniversary celebrations Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith, who have lived in Peterborough since their arrival from England in 1913, had a family party celebration in the Kawartha Room of the Empress Hotel on Friday.

Major Cyril Everitt spoke about Mr. and Mrs. Smith's activities with the Salvation Army, which started before they came to this country. Mr. Smith is a former bandmaster of the Peterborough band and Mrs. Smith was sergeant major in the League of Mercy for ten years.

Major Everitt presented the couple with a bouquet of Talisman roses, on behalf of the Peterborough Temple Corps. Mrs. Brig. Smith proposed the toast to the couple and spoke of some of the events of the past 50 years.

Among out of town guests were: Mrs. Brig. Smith, Mr. Fred Gray and Mrs. Frank Armstrong of Toronto. Other guests were Major and Mrs. Frank Armstrong of Toronto. Other guests were Major and Mrs. C. Everitt, Mr. and Mrs. Art Wells, Art Wells Jr., Miss Mary King, Miss Crisha Garner, Mr. and Mrs. W. Ford, Mrs. Northcott, Mrs. Jessie Ford, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Gray, Mr. and Mrs. Steven Tuck, Mr. and Mrs. W. Turner and family, Mrs. May Wells.

Many telegrams and other messages were read during the dinner.

Bull Market One Year Old, May Be At Top

By FRANK KAPLAN,
Canadian Press Staff Writer.

The bull market drive on stock exchanges held steady this week as it neared its first anniversary.

It was about last June 13 that the turning point came in stock prices. Markets previously had been declining steadily for about a year and in mid-June began slow steady upturn.

Security prices have been rising steadily, with very little interruption, since then.

Considerable resistance to the climb has appeared in recent weeks. Investors have become increasingly selective and cautious. Many observers have been predicting a "technical" reaction for some time to the almost uninterrupted advance.

A year ago most stocks sold at what streeters called "bargain prices." The steady rise has wiped out the bargains and now many investors who were in the market last year are taking their profits.

Best Gains Here

Canadian markets showed the best gains over five days while Wall Street moved sluggishly in four sessions. United States markets were closed Tuesday, Memorial Day. The Associated Press 60-stock average closed Friday at 78.9, unchanged from the previous Friday.

In Toronto and Montreal, industrial stocks climbed steadily into new high price ground.

Papers paced the advances. The average price level as measured by the Toronto Stock Exchange index of representative industrial stocks rose to the highest point since it was first compiled in 1934 in three successive sessions.

The Toronto index rose 3.25 from the previous Friday.

Despite the steady advances in industrial stocks, the little guy was still concentrating on penny golds. Activity continued booming in the Toronto mining boards. Prices jumped erractically and brokerage houses were working long overtime hours.

$800 Rotary Gift Aids Winnipeg People

"Words are inadequate to express our appreciation for your magnificent $800 Flood Aid gift," the Peterborough Rotary Club was informed in a letter from George A. Wilson, president of hte Rotary Club of Winnipeg.

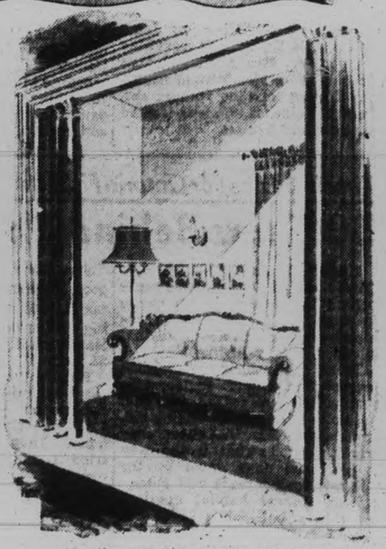
(This is part of $1,000 set aside for Winnipeg and the Rimouski Rotary Club, to aid in the disasters.)

Mr. Wilson stated that things are looking better there now that the waters are receding, and the club is devoting its efforts to the task of rehabilitation, which he describes as a tremendous one.

"The support from fellow Rotarians is helping wonderfully and we are overwhelemed by your generosity," he concluded.

Citizens Band Season Opens At Campbellford

CAMPBELLFORD, June 3 — (ENS)—A crowd of about 250 people attended the first band concert of the season given by Campbellford Citizens' band under the baton of Bandmaster Donald D. Bennett. The concert was held in the community centre.



There were several quartets, a few novelty numbers, two trombone solos by Pete Batman, and two coronet trios by three junior members of the organization.

Proceeds of the concert, and of those which will follow, will be used to purchase uniforms for the 32 members of the band.

Know-How and Know-Why

Some important things were said in Kingston yesterday by the president of the University of Toronto, Dr. Sidney Smith, in an address to the National Conference of Canadian Universities. He was talking about the pressure which is strongly upon universities today to offer courses of instruction in skills and techniques which do not properly belong to a university. The reason for this pressure is two-fold: people who like to think of themselves as "practical" are perpetually goading the universities to give "practical"—by which they mean money-making—instruction; and people who want to spend their lives in various occupations which are not quite trades, not quite businesses and not quite professions, are eager to get some sort of university standing, in order to gain prestige in the eyes of the gullible. Universities have to be extremely careful about admitting these clamorous new courses into their curricula; they are easier to let in than to root out.

• • •

A great deal of important university instruction is, of course, of a practical kind. It is the sort of learning which can be translated directly into money. Such instruction includes training in law, medicine, engineering, architecture and several other professions. But as Dr. Smith very aptly pointed out, such professions and such teaching are not concerned entirely with "know-how"; they are also concerned with "know-why". In other words, they involve a knowledge of more than an elaborate technique; they also involve some knowledge of mankind, some respect for human rights and the human spirit,—in short, at least a smattering of humanism. It was this necessity to be allied with humanism which first drew these courses of instruction into the university; it was felt that, in order to be a good doctor, or lawyer, a man must know something besides medicine and the law. If he knows no more he is a mere technician, and probably a dangerous fellow to have dealing with your affairs or your entrails. For as we see very plainly today, technicians without humanism, and scientists without responsibility, are the most dangerous people in the world.

• • •

And it is because the know-why of life is even more important than the know-how that faculties of arts are, in Dr. Smith's words, "the very hubs of our universities." He also said: "One may have a strong university notwithstanding the fact that there are within it weak professional schools; on the other hand if a faculty of arts is weak, low standards for the whole university are thereby established."

• • •

The orienting of a university around the faculty of arts puzzles many people, who cannot understand why the study of philosophy, literature and languages should take precedence over the study of more immediately useful matters. But the reason for it has been explained by Dr. Smith; it is only after one has learned the "why" of life that the "how" can be truly understood and rightly used.

June Week-End

This is the first week-end of June and we feel that we ought to rise to raptures of poetry in recognition of this sumptuous month. Certainly there is no lack of poets to quote from, even if our own heart has no June song. Most versifiers of sensitivity have had metrical flights in June. Coleridge: "The leafy month of June"; Matthew Arnold:

On a morn in June
When the dew glistens on the pearled ears,
A shiver runs through the deep corn for joy."

The list is interminable. But we are not really fond of June poetry, for a schoolboy reason.

The American poet J. R. Lowell wrote a hundred years ago a famous poem about June which found its way into school 'Readers'. It may be a great piece of writing, of the freshest water, but we are biased, and cannot consider it with a calm critical eye or a warm heart. It is a long poem, the lines are long, and it took two whole pages in the Fourth Reader. A generation or two of Ontario school-children were badgered by the thing (and the teacher) for the whole month of June, and had to get it by heart before the final examinations. We can still hear every dreary syllable:

What is so rare as a day in June?
Then, if ever, come perfect days.
Then Heaven tries earth if it be in tune
And over it softly her warm ear lays.
Wherever we look, wherever we listen.
etc., etc., etc.

No June verse for us. We might have felt differently had the Reader given us Carew's lovely:

Ask me no more where Jove bestows
When June is past, the fading rose.

But no, we had "What is so rare", and that did for us.

So this week-end no June poetry filters through the membranes of the ear and heart. We shall sit quite still, and verseless, feel right well how the sap creeps up and the blossoms swell. . . Dear God, can we never get away from that te-tum, te-tum, te-tum!

Of Importance To Canadians Going Overseas

This summer what will probably be the biggest trans-Atlantic migration of holidaying Canadians is taking place. There are several notable changes from pre-war travel affecting them. There is the new medium—the air. Before the war no mere tourist flew the Atlantic. Now the flight is so reliable, easy and ordinary that people forget that only a decade ago civilians did not travel by air across wastes of sea. Surface travel conditions have changed, another and less welcome result of the war. There are fewer ships, and bookings have to be made months in advance. No longer can a person decide to voyage to Britain one day and the next be on his way . . . We shall not depress travellers by referring to the very high fares.

Canadians can particularly deplore one new condition of trans-Atlantic passage by ship. Before the war no Canadian had to travel down to New York in order to get a berth to Britain or France. He could go at will from Canadian ports. Accommodation on St. Lawrence-plying ships, from and to Quebec and Montreal is so meagre now that only a few lucky thousands can sail from Canada. The rest have to take a not-inexpensive trip to a port in a foreign country, usually to New York, go through the bother of American customs and immigration, and return under the same awkward, and what used to be, unnecessary conditions. The sea is at Canada's gate, but many Canadians cannot use that gate when they want to go overseas.

One of the more annoying changes inconveniencing Canadian travellers is the necessity of getting visas for almost every country they visit. These cost money, take time to arrange, and are decidedly awkward restrictions on travel to the continent. In the thirties a Canadian with his British passport could go freely into almost any country in Europe. He did not, like Americans, have to go equipped with a bookload of visas. A Canadian used to be able to take his smug ease while an American fellow-traveller had to rush to a consulate the moment he put foot on national soil against which he had not previously fortified himself by a visa. Now a Canadian has to have a visa to enter even France and Italy.

There is no doubt a greater need now than before the war to keep check on a foreign person's movements in and out of a country. And increasing restrictions on freedom of travel have been a trend of this century. Before the Great War not even a passport was required for most international travel. Now fingerprints are demanded of Canadians in transit through friendly U.S.A.

Before the war the British Government, in agreement with the Dominions, had some sort of reciprocal arrangement with most countries so that Canadians and others of British nationality did not usually need visas. Could not our Department of External Affairs bend its efforts to secure some such mutual arrangement with at least the European countries which Canadians ordinarily visit?

The Marchbanks Correspondence

To Haubergeon Hydra, Esq.
Dear Mr. Hydra:

Permit me to address you briefly in your character as Deputy Director of Protocol for the government of Canada: Can't you do something about our national anthem?

I have recently been to Calgary to attend the Dominion Drama Festival. You will not know what that is, Mr. Hydra. Nobody in the Government has ever heard of the Dominion Drama Festival, and whenever it asks for a few thousands to help with its work, the Government folds up its large, capacious ears, fastens them with hairpins, and continues its customary work of handing out millions to the apple growers, the butter makers, the wheat growers, and other people who are unable, for one reason or another, to make their businesses pay. The Mongoloid idiocy of the Government in this respect is not what I want to talk about now, however; it is sufficient to say that the Dominion Drama Festival is a national movement unique in the world, and that it recently completed its year's work with a festival of eight plays, lasting a week, held in the city of Calgary. And before each play began "O Canada" was played and after each play was over "God Save The King" was played.

I am a loyal man, Mr. Hydra, but my loyalty does not respond well to this sort of flogging. I am also, in a modest way, a music lover. Now I am assured by a secret statistical service to which I subscribe that there are in all the world only two orchestras which play "O Canada" well, and only twenty-three (including military bands) which bring any real musicianship to the performance of "God Save The King". Would it not be better, therefore, upon all except the most solemn occasions, to omit "O Canada" and to play only the first eight bars of "God Save The King"? Men have lived for this country, and died for it, but I question how long they will put up with the life-in-death which is created by too many patriotic tunes, badly played.

Yours for a bigger, broader, deeper, higher and quieter Canada,
SAMUEL MARCHBANKS.

To Big Chief Marchbanks
How, Marchbanks!

You been in West, Marchbanks. I once in West. Went with harvest excursion but not like work so get job carving totem poles for Haida tribe. Haida sell poles to tourists, but can't carve fast enough so start production line. My job always carve big Thunder Bird on top of pole. You know Thunder Bird, Marchbanks. Fierce face with big nose, like magistrate. I carve Thunder Bird to look like every magistrate ever put me in jail. Good fun. But awful hard work, so every day I take 4 quart pail of beer to totem pole factory so I can rest my mind once in a while. One day big fat woman tourist come to factory. You Haida Indian, she say. No me Crokinole Indian, I say. Then you are impositor, she say. No, that kind of printer, I say. What you make there, she say. That Thunder Bird, I say. What that tin pail, she say. That Thunder Mug for Thunder Bird, I say. Joke, Marchbanks. Always joke with squaw. But she screech and tell her friends I am bad man and talk dirty to her. Lie, Marchbanks. Her man friend get cross with me. Why you talk dirty to my wife, he say. She lie to make herself important, I say; I only talk dirty to pretty squaw. He get mad and make big noise and fat woman screech. When they go away I resign from Thunder Bird job. Artist got delicate nerves, Marchbanks. Can't stand uproar. You buy any totem poles, Marchbanks? You got money? I need money.

How again,
OSCEOLA THUNDERBELLY,
(Chief of the Crokinoles).

To Mr. Adam Mulligrub, Landscape Architect
Dear Mulligrub:

You ask what kind of hedging I want along the southern boundary of the pleasure grounds at Marchbanks Towers. As a matter of fact I have a special problem there, of which I should have told you. It is at that point that my neighbour, Richard Dandiprat, invades my property in order to take my wheel barrow or my hose, or to recover the ball which he childishly bounces against the side of his house, or to make a shortcut to the bus stop. I have considered various types of thorn bushes but none of them, I fear, would quite fill the need.

Therefore I want you to fill a somewhat unusual order. Will you send to Central Africa for forty small Upas trees, and plant them in hedge formation at the necessary point. The Upas, with which you may not be familiar, is a tree which possesses long tentacles, like those of an octopus; at the end of each tentacle is a sucker of exceptional strength; when any living thing comes within reach of the Upas tree it grabs it with its suckers and drags it to the centre of the tree, where it tears off the flesh, and throws the bones upon the ground; it is upon flesh obtained in this way that the tree is nourished. A good planting of Upas will give me just the hedge I need, I think, and if Dandiprat and any of the neighbourhood dogs disappear it will be a good lesson to trespassers.

Warn the Customs men to be careful when examining the plants, will you? I don't want any trouble with the Government, which would probably expect me to pay for the uniforms of any missing officials.

Yours faithfully,
S. MARCHBANKS.

To Amyas Pilgarlic, Esq.
Dear Pil:

The Drama Festival was really very good. I have seen better plays, but the entertainment provided by the city of Calgary could not have been bettered. Indeed, if it had been augmented in any way, I should probably have succumbed; there is an effervescent quality about Alberta air which makes soda water quite unnecessary.

As for the audience at the Festival performances, it was fully up to the usual standard, and may even have surpassed it in some respects. I was a little disappointed in the Western coughing; but then, it takes years to train a theatre audience to cough properly, and the West is still young. Sometimes it would cough during a dull scene of a play; that is quite wrong, and a waste of material. A trained audience coughs, unerringly, just at the critical point of every scene, so as to make the voices of the actors inaudible and, if possible, to frighten them into forgetting what comes next. However, I have no doubt that the West will learn to cough properly in time; it is the country of the future, and will not neglect anything as important as that.

The Western audience is a little shaky in its laughing, as well. The Westerners simply laugh at the jokes as they come. Now of course an experienced Eastern audience knows that you must either laugh before the joke, to show that you have read the play, or else a few minutes after the joke has gone by, which suggests to the actors that their pants have fallen off, or that some similar mortifying mishap has befallen them. The Western audience is, at the moment, too much on the side of the actors—too interested in merely enjoying itself. But it will change.

Yours in all duty,
SAM.

SWORD IN THE DESERT

Camps Which Kill Hope

By TANYA MATTHEWS

SOME aspects of the usual reception accorded to Soviet escapees in Western Germany could not be better calculated to disillusion them with the West. A frequent complaint made by the escapees in the American zone at least, is that they are at first greeted with open arms, well taken care of during the early days when they are volunteering information about conditions on the Soviet side and then, when they show no prospects of revealing anything more, "disposed of and forgotten".

In the British zone, it appears as if some effort were being made to provide escapees with private billets, food and pocket money of up to forty marks a month. Officials assert that it often proves impossible to get them resettled in other countries in not more than a year.

Because of their terror of Smersh (Soviet secret counter-espionage organization) and fear of the hostility of the German population to any kind of refugees, but especially Soviet Russians, a number of escapees make straight for the Displaced Persons camps instead of taking advantage of the right of political asylum offered to them by the Allied authorities.

These camps, where the escapees mingle with the flood of general refugees and DPs of every nationality, might have been deliberately designed to kill hope. The wooden huts on the outskirts of towns or villages, almost invariably next to the railway line, look shabby and inhospitable. High grey stone German army barracks with the stale rooms and interminable corridors have an air of eternal doom about them. There are no gardens, no allotments for the inmates to work. Few but the children bother to go out even on the finest days. In one such camp, which I visited at mid-day, many of the escapees were only just getting up for lunch. They had not been reading, they had not been talking, they had just been lying on their bunks, staring at the wooden planks of the ceiling.

A typical room I saw in the Wipperfurth Camp, measuring twenty-five feet by twenty, contained six families — Lithuanians, Germans, Czechs — totalling twenty-one people, ten of them children. Lucky families have their "corners" near the window sides of the room. Privacy is gained through partitions made of blankets, rags or old newspapers. Amazingly enough the children — many of whom were born in the camps — all look healthy and seem to take their environment as a matter of course. Most of the refugees sleep in double-tiered bunks on straw mattresses covered with sack-cloth without blankets. Sheets are an unheard of luxury.

In these depressing camps, the refugees live a life of apathy, dirt and sexual promiscuity. The birth rate is high: it is not uncommon to find couples who have had one child a year since they became inmates. In one camp six per cent. of the refugees were estimated to be suffering from venereal disease. There are libraries, but only a few have the energy or interest to read.

The chief factor in producing this demoralization is the lack of work. There is a minority of strong characters in every camp who find work for themselves in the nearby town or in the countryside (in spite of unemployment totalling nearly two million in western Germany), just as there is a minority of "cosh boys" among the young men inmates and of prostitutes among the young women. But apathy is the prevailing sentiment. That this is not a necessary condition of camp life is shown by the example of the Ukrainian-Russian camp at Schleissheim, near Munich, which will, alas, have been broken up by the time this article appears. Schleissheim had been turned into a real Russian village with its inhabitants all at work. No one imagines that the escapees can be kept permanently idle or permanently in camps. But when they look for the prospects of useful activity beyond the camp horizon, the escapees find two big obstacles in their way. They are not wanted in the German economy with its huge burden of unemployed. And there is little demand for Soviet immigrants in the world outside Germany, except as labourers. The doctors, engineers, scientists and other intellectuals who form a high proportion of the escapees stand little chance of getting overseas unless they disguise themselves as manual workers.

IN the two years of its existence, the International Refugee Organization has arranged for the immigration of 690,115 of the 1,431,000 DPs for whose care it is responsible. But that is a mere drop in an ocean of need. After even a brief series of visits to the West German refugee camps, one is aware of the compelling necessity of a new international attempt to cope with the refugee problem, of which the Soviet escapees form part. The effort to organize mass emigration must be speedily renewed. These refugees who cannot emigrate must be financially aided to establish homogenous nationality camps and build a real community life. Cultural and intellectual interests must be revived to lift the refugees from their awful apathy. And work—"give us work" is the universal cry among the refugees—must be provided, even if it be economically unjustifiable work.

Unless something of this kind is done, the sore in the centre of Europe can only fester and spread to infect tissues that are still healthy. And if the tragic history of Europe between 1933 and 1939 taught us anything, it surely ought to have taught us the lesson that you don't solve major problems by treating them lightly.

Patrol to Stop St. Lawrence Poaching

(KINGSTON WHIG-STANDARD)

There will be widespread approval throughout Eastern Ontario—and especially in the area close to the St. Lawrence River—of the decision of the Ontario Department of Lands and Forests to make aerial patrols along the banks and waters of that river. These patrols are designed to stop fish and game poaching in Ontario waters.

Conservation officers are now patrolling hundreds of miles a day in light aircraft with special take-off and landing abilities. They can drop down on the surfaces of small bays, and generally cover territory far more quickly and effectively than was possible when they were rigidly limited to the areas which could be covered by motor launch. There is the further factor that inlets hidden from motor launches passing by are wide open to inspection from these light aircraft.

This decision of the Department of Lands and Forests was reached following receipt of many complaints from residents along the Canadian shore of the St. Lawrence, as far as the Quebec border. These complaints declared that the territory was being invaded by fishermen and hunters from the United States who were operating without licences and almost at will. Experience in other sections of the Province, and in other parts of Canada, have indicated that in all probability the complaints were well founded.

It would not be surprising, however, if the conservation officers occasionally find a Canadian or two doing some illegal fishing or hunting. While we know very well, from photographs and stories, that there are citizens for Ontario's fish and game laws, we also know there are Canadians similarly lacking in respect for the game laws of any Canadian province.

SOMETHING ON ACCOUNT

"Mary, did anybody telephone while I was out?"

"Yes, sir, but I couldn't make out the name. To be on the safe side I said you would let him have something on account tomorrow."

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

And the word of the Lord came unto me, saying, Son of man, what is that proverb that ye have in the land of Israel, saying, The days are prolonged, and every vision faileth?

Tell them therefore, Thus saith the Lord God; I will make this proverb to cease, and they shall no more use it as a proverb in Israel; but say unto them, The days are at hand, and the effect of every vision. . . For I am the Lord: I will speak, and the word that I shall speak shall come to pass; it shall be no more prolonged: for in your days, O rebellious house, will I say the word, and will perform it, saith the Lord God. (Ezek. 12: 21-23, 25.)

For as the earth bringeth forth her bud, and as the garden causeth the things that are sown in it to spring forth; so the Lord God will cause righteousness and praise to spring forth before all the nations. (Isa. 61: 11.)

✧ ✧ ✧

Praise ye the Lord. I will praise the Lord with my whole heart, in the assembly of the upright, and in the congregation. The works of the Lord are great, sought out of all them that have pleasure therein. His work is honourable and glorious: and his righteousness endureth for ever. He hath made his wonderful works to be remembered: the Lord is gracious and full of compassion. . . .

The works of his hands are verity and judgement; all his commandments are sure. They stand fast for ever and ever, and are done in truth and uprightness. (Ps. 111: 1-4, 7, 8.)

Letter To The Editor

OBJECTS TO FIREWORKS

Sir: I would like to ask the Mayor what is the idea of spending fifteen hundred dollars of the taxpayers money on fireworks when the streets need repairing? Look at some of our streets and see the way they are. You would be doing well to spend the money for repairs instead of letting it go in the river. If the taxpayers don't pay their taxes when they are due, we are charged 3 cents on the dollar. Personally I would like to know what is Peterborough coming to? Keep the working man down and you don't care if he is put on the street for not paying his taxes. Yet you will let fifteen hundred dollars go in the lake.

Thanking you.
(MRS.) M. HARRAN.

The Dean's Travels

Albert E. Norman, Australasian News Chief of the Christian Science Monitor in his despatch on the visit of Dr. Hewlett Johnson, The Red Dean, to Australia includes the following jingle by A. P. Herbert.

The Dean is off again, away he goes,
But not to Moscow as you might suppose;
Red as a rose—or should we say a dahlia?
He meets the Muscovites in far Australia.
(Though few, I think, of his peculiar kidney Reside in Melbourne, or, indeed, in Sydney.)
But I, dear Dean, am sorry that you went;
You have a job, I understand, in Kent.
And while you gad about the Antipodes,
What will they do in Canterbury, please?

Railroad workers often have to move loaded box cars on yards and sidings, by hand. These ponderous pieces are moved when the wheels are attacked with pinch bars by two or three men. It looks difficult to the observer, if not impossible, but workmen do it every day, somewhere, as a matter of course. "Moving the box car" or reference to it, is an expression I have heard used frequently of late. Chiefly to do with getting public groups to support some cause to their advantage, to get it rolling.

A Lands and Forests man was discussing with me this week the matter of fish and game clubs not using the information and suggestions put out by his department for their own good. "It's like moving a box car," he sighed; "we talk our heads off and get nowhere, it seems."

Then again, at many a coffee-club session, C. of C's Jim Fraser and myself soar to bright heights of fancy about promoting the Kawarthas. But we always pull up short, when we realize that there is no money to finance our dreams, even though we should knock ourselves out trying to interest various groups in them. More stationary box cars.

• • • •

Then, at a Chamber of Commerce banquet, at which deputy-minister of Travel and Publicity for Ontario Tom McCall was principal speaker, the matter was referred to again as he addressed the resort operators' section present. He told of the millions of dollars spent by Federal and Provincial governments and two railway systems to publicize Canada, to attract ten million American tourist dollars. It was going to be a stiff battle, he said, for Canada was only one of the nations in this gigantic competition.

Pointing at the resort operators assembled he warned, "In the Kawarthas, I think you are missing a bet by not selling your tourist industry to your merchants and local councils. You can't wait until May 15th each year to get out your tourist booklets and hope to attract some of this money. For my department, summer starts in February and so it should for all of you."

Ontario-seller McCall said that 40,000 unsolicited letters of appreciation each year are received by his department from satisfied American tourists. It is logical reasoning to suppose that if each resort operator outdid himself in selling service and Ontario, this year, these letters should double and triple. We are SO close to what they want.

Tom McCall received a polite applause instead of the guests tearing up the table cloths as the information hit them between the eyes. Looks like we should get out the pinch bars and start moving THIS box car. Mayor Max Swanston promised the support of the city council in ANY PLAN to promote the welfare of the district and increase tourist trade.

Cow Elk Corpse: "Deer Crossing"

Last week-end a large cow elk was killed on Highway 28 north of Caverly's Mill in the Apsley district. Game Warden Bob Trotter investigated and found it to be a two-year-old and presumed it was hit by a truck. Due to too many does and fawns being killed on that stretch of road by cars lately, he is having some signs erected to caution people. The usual signs "Deer Crossing" seem to be ignored. In fact, many motorists that GW Trotter has talked to thinks the crossing signs are a joke of some kind. How dull can some people be?

If A Wood Chuck Could Chuck

Mel Wight shot a large woodchuck around Trent River on Wednesday night. It has him guessing. Its back and stomach fur is long, red and silky like a fox's and even the ears are pointed. While Wight was stalking it, they appeared to perk up somewhat. The tail is that of a normal 'chuck but the whole animal is a definite freak.

Gratifying to know the first twin-engined plane landed at Skyboro Airport on Monday, took off with ease on Tuesday, and that pilot Frank Ross of Chicago remarked that it offered smoother conditions than many a licensed port. He was flying a Cessna. Rumours that the remainder of the main landing strip may be graded soon, is good news. Peterborough is a dozen years behind in having bang-up flying facilities; it would pay off handsomely in the tourist trade these days. The only private airport owner, Mac MacWilliams up on Pigeon Lake at Gail Park, tells me he has extended his one runway 400 feet; he expects one air party in a few days time and six more in September. This is the result of two flying parties visiting him early last fall; news gets around.

Big Trouters From Algonquin

The Big Five trout club, Rusty Edgar, Jim Girven, Drs. Gordon and Long and Doug Anderson, came back last week-end from a ten-day fishing spree in Algonquin; they beat the closed-travel ban—forest fire precaution—and brought back their full limits of speckles. None of the fish was less than 17 inches and went as large as 23. All had a grand time, even to the one member who consistently fell in the icy water; he shall henceforth be known as their Frog Man.

Trent Valley regional forester John Bell is getting some frantic calls from the Kawarthas at the start of the tent caterpillar season from resort people seeking provincial aid. There are no funds for this purpose, he has to advise them. Two pounds of DDT to 100 gallons of water in hand-sprayers, John says, makes the best solution for applying to affected buildings and near foliage.

Have been accused of nearly everything, from time to time, but never before of stealing two pairs of pants from a Game Warden. They were left on my desk for two days, didn't even see them. That gives you some idea of the mess my desk is in. Some day I shall take inventory and devote a whole column to it, after the fishing season is over, that is. The only time I object is when some American tourist plops a dead muskie on top of everything for my admiration.

Ladle In A Pot Of Gold

Village Parson

A MAN he was, to all the country dear,
And passing rich with forty pounds a year;
Remote from towns he ran his godly race,
Nor e'er had changed, nor wished to change his place;
Unpractised he to fawn, or seek for power,
By doctrines fashioned to the varying hour;
For other aims his heart had learned to prize,
More skilled to raise the wretched than to rise.
His house was known to all the vagrant train,
He chid their wanderings, but relieved their pain;
The long remembered beggar was his guest,
Whose beard descending swept his aged breast;
The ruined spendthrift, now no longer proud,
Claimed kindred there, and had his claims allowed;
The broken soldier, kindly bade to stay,
Sate by his fire, and talked the night away . . .

Thus to relieve the wretched was his pride,
And even his failings leaned to Virtue's side;
But in his duty prompt at every call,
He watched and wept, he prayed and felt, for all.

Irish Settlers In Their First Farm Year Fare Well On State Bounty, Cleared Land

By HOWARD PAMMETT, M.A.

From Sept. 1825 to Feb. 1826 Robinson supervised the placement of the emigrants personally. After his death, his brother wrote: "These people were dispersed over a large extent of country; the season happened to be unusually hot, and the interest my brother took in their health and comfort led him to make fatiguing journeys on foot . . .travelling many miles through the woods where no roads had then been opened ,sleeping in their huts, living on their fare. He contracted a fever in consequence, which impaired his constitution . . ." In Feb. 1826 he returned to York with the Governor's party and visited the settlement only occasionally thereafter. Alex McDonnell was left in charge of the Irish settlers, aided by Ritchie and Armstrong in distributing rations and supplies, and by Doctors Reade and Connin in tending the sick.

To keep the Irish on their lots clearing the bush instead of wandering away to get work, the government rations were continued until November 24, 1826, a period of 18 months. The rations were as plentiful as on the voyage from Ireland, except that now they got flour instead of shipbiscuit, and some fresh meat instead of salt pork at times; thus an average family of seven persons would get 25-40 lbs. of flour and 20-35 lbs. of meat per week. Most of them could live comfortably on half this amount, especially when it was supplemented by wild meat, fish and fruits in abundance.

Harrison, an early Asphodel settler, told of "one immigrant known to the narrator who in the course of two years not only fed his own large family well but sold sufficient of the pork and flour furnished him by government to buy two cows . . ." An Irish settler admitted: "This food was vastly more nourishing and wholesome than what we were accustomed to, a diet of potatoes all year round. In Ireland we never tasted meat . . . Sport lost half its charm when we were confident there were no vigilant keepers around with an eye for poachers, but where we were free to shoot all we could . . ." P. G. Towns, of Douro, wrote, "The principal diet of these early settlers was peasoup and pork, rye bread and butter . . . Some of the poorer settlers were content with potatoes, porridge and milk, and sometimes bran flakes . . ." to which of course they added fish, venison, rabbit, wild fruits, etc.

Bounty To Settlers

A bountiful government did not stop with free rations, leading one Irishman to exclaim, "How delighted the women were with the houses! They were so neat and clean, and furnished with everything necessary for a plain mode of living. No, true for you, we couldn't gaze far; the stumps and trees were too thick. But what of that? Hadn't we strong hearts and willing hands, and oxen besides? We received also a cow, an axe, an auger, a handsaw, a hammer, 100 nails, two gimlets, three hoes, a kettle, a fryingpan, an iron pot, eight quarts of Indian corn to plant, and, joy of joys, five bushels of seed potatoes. This was surely a land flowing with milk and honey, or rather, what is better, potatoes and pork . . ." Some of these supplies were purchased from the Ordnance Department, being supplies left over from the military settlements; some supplies and most of the food were purchased from nearby settlers or from Cobourg, Port Hope, York and Kingston merchants.

Since some of the Irish had also brought muskets, spades and other tools with them, they were better equipped than most ordinary settlers. The gift of a cow to each family was very beneficial, providing milk, cheese, butter, etc. The number of oxen distributed is uncertain, but one animal was given to each neighboring group of settlers for the common use of all in their heavy work, such as hauling supplies from Peterborough, dragging stumps out of the farms and road allowances, dragging logs for logging "bees" etc. These oxen were much more useful in those conditions than horses; a hundred years later a few Peterborough farmers still preferred oxen for heavy work; no doubt their sons are all tractor-conscious now.

Doctor's Work

In the first winter many immigrants were sick, and Dr. Reade was kept busy, ably assisted by Dr. Conin in the eastern and Dr. Hutchinson in the western townships. In addition to the blankets given the emigrants on the ships, Reade gave out 295 blankets to 108 families in the winter of 1825-26. No wonder there was abundant praise for this "very humane, hospitable, friendly little man," as Mrs. Stewart described him. Ague and malarial fever attacked all new settlers, until after a few years they had either died or become immune; fits of chills, fever, vomiting and shaking alternated, little affected by the backwoods remedies of peppermint and tansy, wild sarsaparilla or chamomile, taken with a dose of raw whisky.

The Ration Ledgers during these months contain laconic comments, such as this: "Timothy Egan, strayed into the woods at night in Asphodel, 12th Oct., 1825, when in a state of fever, and has not since been heard of." Captain Hall, who visited the district in 1827, wrote: "Both Pat and his wife as well as their children told me that they were delighted with their new situation, though everyone had been ill with the ague, and more than half of them had it still. Indeed, I do not think we entered a house in or near Peterborough where some members of the family were not suffering under this ferreting though not fatal complaint . . ."

The results of sickness and other, upsetting circumstances were that, from Sept. 1825 to Nov. 1826, there were 135 deaths and only 60 births among the Irish; of the babies born en route, few lived over the rigours of extreme heat and cold, ague and fever, harsh food and wilderness discomforts, until the spring of 1826. Of John Daly's family, for example, two children died in 1825, the father died in Feb. 1826, a girl 20 died soon after, and two more children before the summer; one son stayed in Lower Canada so that a family of 10 leaving Cork had dwindled to a mother and two sons by the autumn of 1826.

Yet the Irish had considerably more medical attention than most pioneers in the bush, with three doctors in the region. When Dr. Reade left in May 1826, Dr. Dowsley came to settle in Peterborough, but left shortly; he was followed by Dr. Roddy, who remained only a few years. Finally in 1830 Dr. Hutchinson, of Cavan, moved to Peterborough, practising for many years in the old Scott house west of Water Street midway between Charlotte and King Streets.

Gentry Complain

Some of the gentry complained of the method of settlement and the rations given to the Irish as discouraging industry. Rubidge said, "I think the government did too much for those already sent out . . . They are not left to find resources from their own industry and energy . . . During the time Mr. Robinson's settlers were getting rations, labourers' wages were higher than they had ever been known except through the war. This would certainly not have been the case if they had been less lavishly supplied . . ." Stewart wrote: "A thousand arguments might be produced in favor of mixing English and Scots with the Irish here, not so much for their mode of farming as from the good example they would give of sobriety, regularity, morality and steadiness . . ."

Strickland supported Stewart's argument, but was honest enough to add: "That experiment from the south of Ireland under the superintendence of the late Hon. Peter Robinson (who had died in 1838) in 1825 was the most extensive, and came immediately under my observation. These people have done as well as could be expected, considered the material of which they were composed. It has been observed however that whenever these people were located amongst the Protestant population, they made much better settlers than when remaining with Catholics, In fact, a great improvement is perceptible in the morality, industry and education of the rising generation."

The facts indicate that most of the Irish were industrious and appreciative. Robinson mentioned widow Johanna Hickie who settled in Ennismore with six children, and who in 1826 "had four acres cleared and raised 300 bu. potatoes, 100 bu. turnips and 60 bu. Indian corn." In 1827 Cornelius Sullivan told Capt. Hall: "My two sons like this country very well; they have chopped 20 acres of land, and we have got crops of wheat, oats, Indian corn, potatoes and some turnips, all coming up and almost ready to be cut; besides five or six acres more chopped and logged and soon to be in cultivation; and the boys like their independence . . ." Another man, head of a family of 12, by July 1827 had "cleared 26 acres of land, most of which are under rich cultivation."

Record of Land Cleared

In Robinson's Report to the British government covering the period to Nov. 24, 1826, the lands cleared by the Irish were listed: Douro—60 lots, 245½ acres cleared; Smith—34 lots, 113¼ acres cleared; Otonabee—51 acres, 186 acres; Emily—142 lots, 351½ acres cleared; Ennismore — 67 lots, 195 acres; Asphodel — 36 lots, 173 acres; Marmora—6 lots, 35 acres; Ops—7 lots, 12 acres cleared—the average being about four acres cleared per lot. He estimated the value of this at £4 an acre, approximately £5,250.

In the same report, the produce of the emigrants was listed: 65,399 bu. potatoes valued at 1s. each; 24,173 bu. turnips at 6d. each; 10,233½ bu. corn at 2s. 6d. per bu.; 338½ acres wheat sown in autumn of 1826 at £2 an acre; 9,067 lbs. maple sugar at 4d each, 38 oxen purchased by labour at £7 each; 69 cows at £4½ each; 152 hogs at 15s. each. By using these rather inflated prices, he attempted, not too successfully, to show that by their own industry in the first year the Irish had produced to the value of almost £12,000.

The average amount of land cleared, four or five acres per settler, was not too bad for the inexperienced Irish, shaken with ague and fever. As Guillet states in his book "Early Life in Upper Canada", clearing land was "an almost endless task if one worked alone. A good workman might clear an acre of land in a week, but he could not burn

Boxing Has Local Rebirth In Ashburnham Hall Club

By DON GRANT.

Still in its infancy the Peterborough Boxing Club has taken many long strides since it started seven months ago to teach local youths the manly art of self-defence.

Starting from scratch in the fall under the guidance of the Peterborough Administrative Boxing Council the club is becoming a smooth machine to turn out polished pugilists, each with a definite style.

The Boxing Council was formed early in the fall under the auspices of the Recreation Commission. All service organizations, the police departments and the fire department had representatives attending the organization meetings and the Ashburnham Hall club was started on its way —a healthy shot in the arm for the dying sport.

A novelty to the boys, the club was first swamped with enthusiastic youths who were under the impression that boxing was standing in a ring pounding aimlessly at each other. They soon discovered that there is much more to the sport when coach Ron Menzies started holding physical exercise drills and practices on the punching bags. Now the club is down to 12 regular fighters and 24 others who attend whenever possible.

Training Period

Novices never enter the ring without a period of extensive training under the coach and the club director. They are first taught to bob, weave and block before they begin to spar. The club management feel that without preliminary training it is impossible to learn to box by sparring alone.

An average night's workout now consists of a 20 minute period of rope skipping, three-minute rounds of shadow boxing, 10 minutes instruction on the heavy bag; 10 minutes instruction on the speed bag and the balance of the hour on supervised sparring. The club meets every Monday, Wednesday and Friday night at the old Ashburnham Hall.

According to club director, Ron Menzies, (after three months Charles Rees became coach), the boys need showers badly. After workouts they have been using the water, a sponge and a towel in the rub-downs. Several times the possibility of showers has been mentioned.

Hope For New Ring

Attempts to hold boxing cards with out-of-town boxers competing against local fighters have failed. The Toronto, Oshawa and Lindsay clubs object to the make-shift ring in use at the Ashburnham Hall. The present ring has a padded wall for one side instead of taut ropes.

As the result all the local boxers are performing in bouts in Lindsay. There the Peterborough boys have met the Lindsay club members three times. Cards will be held there every two weeks.

Mr. Menzies explains that bouts will be held there until funds are raised to build a suitable ring here. A regulation ring is estimated at $300.

Despite these handicaps Coach Charles Rees, who fought in more than 100 bouts as a welterweight before the war in Europe, has developed speedy, aggressive boxers such as Gerry Tyler. This starry fighter weighs in at 125 pounds and started his pugilistic career in Trenton when seven years old. He continued boxing in the Merchant Marine service with some success against such fighters as Jack LaBalled of Montreal and Terry Mason of Oshawa.

Two Peterborough youths, Lou Carveth, 109 pounds, and Ira (Kid) Bradley, 130 pounds, are showing considerable promise. Carveth has been fighting in district bouts for the last four or five years and is considered to be a consistent winner. Bradley has fought in bouts in the district and is improving steadily.

Other boxers now with the club are: Ron Emery of Lakefield, Larry Howran, Bob Legana, Bill Davis, Gord Barker and Paul McIlmoyle.

Through steady skipping, punching and fighting by the boxers in practice and in bouts, boxing is once more slowly coming to the fore in Peterborough.

THE BRADBURN HOME on London Street hill was one of the stately residences of Peterborough, with its gables, high windows and spacious lawns. This photograph was taken in its heyday about 1900. The house is now St. Vincent's Orphanage.

Present Orphanage Once Old Stately Home Of Early Mayor and The Bradburn Family

By HAZEL PAULL

The house now used at St. Vincent's orphanage, 293 London St., has changed greatly in appearance since it was built by W. S. Conger, an early mayor of Peterborough and a member of the first town council.

Thomas Bradburn, grandfather of Herbert I. Bradburn of Bradburn Securities, bought the house from Mr. Conger and moved his family from an apartment above Fair's store to the spacious home with grounds, which at that time extended to the railway track. Until 1900, when he died, Thomas Bradburn lived in the house and his widow continued to remain there until it was sold in 1909 to the corporation of the diocese of Peterborough and became St. Vincent's Orphanage.

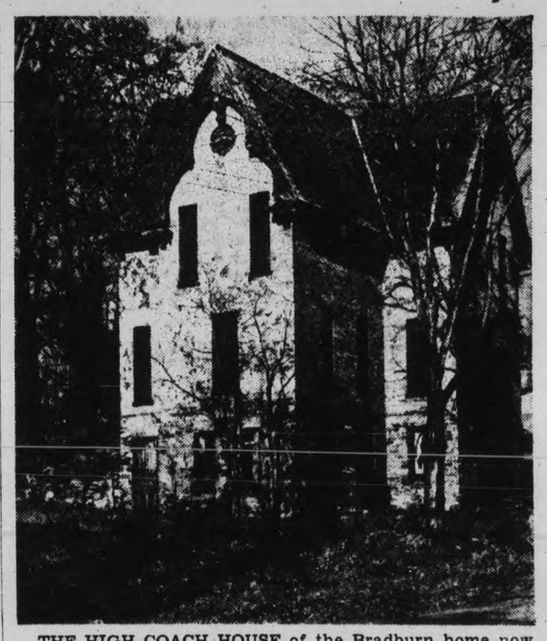
The Peterborough of Mr. Bradburn's day was a young city where the people still lived the intimate life of a village. At one time Mr. Bradburn operated a general store at the building which is now Fair's store and he would recall in later life, that buffalo robes were laid on the sidewalk for customers to walk on instead of soiling their shoes.

The store was a general meeting place for all-comers and a man would often enjoy a nip of whiskey with the store keeper before going on his way.

Farmers from outlying districts would purchase supplies all the year round but the reckoning would come only once annually when the crops were in. Mr. Bradburn would accept grain in payment for his supplies and kept a grain warehouse.

It was Thomas Bradburn who built the Bradburn Building on the east side of George St. He built it as a city building and it served this purpose until the 1880's, when the present city building was taken over.

The land on which the Bradburn Building stands is still owned by the city. Mr. Herbert Bradburn has the original plans of the building. Above the storey which is now the top of the building was a clock tower and in the centre of the building there was an arcade leading straight through to the market square.



The opera house was a large hall extending the full length of the building and was situated on the top floor with the stage at the north end. It is now formed into small rooms, though one big room remains.

Only record of the change over from the Bradburn building to the building at Simcoe and Water Sts. is a reference in Dobbin's history.

"The council decided to buy from James Stevenson the building at the corner of Water and Simcoe Sts. and to fit it up with council chamber, public offices, lock ups etc. Price paid for building $4,500. Alterations to cost $1,500.

Thomas Bradburn's son, William, father of Mr. Herbert Bradburn, was at one time mayor of Peterborough and a representative of Peterborough in the Ontario legislature.

Today the coach house is the more picturesque of the two buildings, although derelict, its character seems to form a link with the time of its heyday.

Lindsay Takes 5-3 Verdict In 7-Inning Tilt

A last inning rally by the Ashby intermediates in Lakeshore Baseball League fell short Friday night giving the Merchants a 5-3 win in a seven-inning tilt in Lindsay.

The locals were just beginning in the sixth and seventh innings to touch the deliveries of Lloyd Tamblyn on the mound for the Merchants. Up to the seventh h had only allowed two scratch singles and one run which was squeezed across in the second. Hits by Fitzgerald and McGrath, two walks and a balk were good for two runs in the seventh for the Ashby squad but failed to tie the score.

The Merchants nicked starter Carmen Jaquith in the first innings for two hits for a single run. They added a run in the fifth on one hit and two errors and two runs in the fourth on two hits and another error.

Brian Wade relieved Jacquith at the start of the fifth. In the last of the sixth the Merchants cashed in on an error and two hits for the fifth run.

Lloyd Tamblyn led his team at bat with two singles in three trips to the late while Ray Fitzgerald had two for three for the Petes, Dave Casey one for two, and Murph McGrath, one for three.

Lineups: Peterborough Ashby's—Conway 2nd, Miller 3rd, Pryde lf, Fitzgerald rf, Legrow 1st, McGrath c, McGillen cf, Fennell cf, Casey ss, Jaquith p, Wade p.

Don Mackintosh of the Sudbury Daily Star recently wrote a farewell piece to one Austin P. Morris who was "departing from the Nickel Belt for greener pastures in Peterborough." He planned to sell insurance here, Austy that is, not Don. Apparently, he was a well-liked chap up that way and was a member of the Ontario Softball Umpires Association, an officer in cage and softball, a good curler and a diamond scorer. On top of that, we learn he is quite a story-teller, and we must try to meet Mr. Morris one of these days. A chap who rates most of a daily column on a sports page must be an interesting character, indeed.

A meeting of the PMBA at seven Monday eve in the "Y" to close entries, Al Watkins advises. Schedule will be drawn up right after and the minor baseballers will go with what teams are in then. About 10 entered now, we believe, but none from the west end of the city. How come, don't they have children in that district any more? East and south are doing fine and the northend will have a few squads in. Boys who want to play ball and can't get a team in their district will be absorbed, but they must advise Al Watkins (phone 6879 evenings) or Cy Whatley at 2-2548. Tip Tops of Toronto, world's senior softball champs, will play here on July 8 with proceeds going to aid minor ball.

Loop Leaders On Deck

New Toronto of the Viaduct Major League plays the senior "A" Petes at three this aft, weather being right, in Riverside. And this is a most important baseball clash. New Toronto tops the six-team circuit now whilst the Petes are in second slot—and the men o' Murphy dropped one decision to date at New Toronto. But they feel they can take the leaders, and we know they can if they play hurry-up ball and get good twirling this aft from Bill Edger. Petes will be at full strength today and have no excuse if they don't mop up on the New Torontos. It shapes up as a swell ball game and rates a large crowd.

* * * * * *

Walt Murphy and Jack Cooper took in the OLA junior meeting at Brampton and entered a Peterborough team, to be coached by Lou Vitarelli. Other squads in are Fergus, Owen Sound, Toronto, Mimico, Weston, St. Catharines and Brampton. Yeah, an eight-team loop playing a single schedule, seven home and seven way games. Top four then go into "A" group playoffs and bottom four into "B" sawoffs. Young Petes open at Mimico on June 13 and are at home to Toronto on June 17, so they've got less than two weeks to get whittled down into a contending junior lacrosse team. But there's a lot of 20-year-old talent in this town.

* * * * * *

The rains came intermittently and then heavily at Miller Bowl last eve to finally force Referees Joe Murphy and Lu Vipond to call off the senior "A" lacrosse go near the finish of the second quarter with the score 5-5. Mimico were shorthanded to start with, some players being in a car accident near Newcastle, but the team was only down 5-3 the first frame. At full strength in the second they had it 5-5, and it looked like a dandy duel from there on in. But rain stopped it and more than 1,200 drew rain checks and headed home. Dugan had scored twice for the Petes while Thorpe, Ashbee and Bob Breakspear got the others, an assist each going to Ashbee, Nolan, Thorpe and Magee. Jerry Fitzgerald was away due to a death in the family. Game started nearly half an hour late. A tough break.

Marines beat Woollens 10-7 in nine frames whilst Westclox took a 6-3 decision o'er Electrics in seven last damp evening at the Bowl. The girls turned in some good softball on a slippery diamond, and those young Woollens weren't disgraced at all in their effort against the classy Marines. A bit more experience and a few breaks and they'll give any club in the circuit a battle. Westclox looked as good as ever in gaining their victory, though CGE miscues hurt the latter's cause somewhat. Marg Selkirk pitched four-hit ball for them. Lasses' contests there on Monday night, starting at seven: Westclox vs. Ashby's, and Woollens vs. CGE.

Westclox Girls Take Win Over Electrics

Westclox turned back CGE girls 6-3 at the Bowl last evening in a seven-inning game, rain interfering. It was a fair fray and would have been better on a dry diamond. The Clockers looked as good as ever in fashioning the victory, but CGE errors helped them somewhat, too. The Electrics got their runs in the sixth after Westclox had racked up a good lead in the first three heats.

Marg Selkirk pitched fine four-hit ball with five strikeouts, while M. Hodson was going well, also, but not getting as good support. M. Batley and B. McMahon for the losers, with M. Selkirk and S. Hardy of Clockers turned in good defensive games. S. Hardy hit a homer and single in three, B. Anderson a triple and a single in four, and B. Morrow two for four on the winners' side. M. Boyce led the losers at bat with a double and single in three attempts.

The teams:

Here And There In Sports . . .

By The Canadian Press

When Canada's top golfers tee off in the Canadian Open at Montreal late in August at least one of Western Canada's best will be among the missing.

Henry Martell, former Dominion amateur champion and now professional at the Edmonton Highlands Club, said Friday he doesn't plan entering. He said Stan Leonard of Vancouver also does not figure on taking in the tournament.

"For the trip to be of any value, I'd have to finish in the money," Martell said. "And that means right on the top. The trip lasting a full week, costs about $350 and that's a considerable sum to lay out unless you're sure there's going to be a return."

At Little Rock, Ark., golf pro E. J. (Dutch) Harrison Friday won the Canadian open trophy for a second time—in a courtroom.

Harrison complained in Chancery Court that the trophy, awarded him when he won the Canadian tournament at Toronto St. George's last year, had to be returned this summer but that his wife, whom he is suing for divorce, wouldn't let him have it.

Chancellor Frank Dodger ordered Mrs. Emma Harrison to surrender the trophy.

Harrison's lawyer, J. W. Barron, said the trophy was insured for more than $1,500.

Red-hot Ted Atkinson rode four winners at New York's Belmont Park Friday to run his total since Monday to 14.

The Toronto terror started his streak with five winners Monday, added three Tuesday, two Wednesday, and was blanked Thursday.

One of the veteran reinsman's winning rides Friday was aboard Greentree Stable's One Hitter in the featured Riverhead purse, a 1⅛ mile allowance test. One Hitter paid $3.80.

Atkinson's other winners were First Whirl at $6.60; Novel Request, $19.50; and Jam Session, $8.70.

At Worthing, England, British open champion Bobby Locke of South Africa shot golf as hot as the weather Friday to win the Spalding open golf tournament. Locke's total for four rounds was 267 on the 6,346 yard course.

Dai Rees, British internationalist, equalled Locke's record of 64 in his last round to jump into second place with an aggregate of 269.

Toronto Canadians of the Toronto National Soccer League defeated Montreal Carsteel 7-1 Friday in the first of a two-game interprovincial series for the Atholstan Cup. The second game will be played at Toronto Oakwood Stadium tonight.

Only a handful of spectators saw Friday night's game at Broadview Field, played on a soggy pitch in a downpour of rain. Tommy Wallace scored four goals for Toronto, with Bruce Falcon netting two and Hughie Fleming one. Montreal's goal was scored by Bill Gammon in the last few minutes of play.

Lloyd Mangrum of Chicago took a three-stroke lead after 36 holes of the $15,000 Fort Wayne open golf tournament by shooting his second straight 67 Friday.

Cary Middlecoff of Ormand Beach, Fla., United States open champion, who led the field with a 66 Thursday, slipped to a par 71 and was tied with Ed Oliver of Kenmore, Wash., for second place at 137. Oliver added a 70 to his first-round 67.

Ike Williams, world lightweight champion, Friday night won a 10-round decision over Lester Felton of Detroit in a dull non-title bout before a crowd of 14,292 that paid a gross of $35,520 at the Detroit Olympia.

Williams had no chance to make a match of it although he tried repeatedly to run as fast forward as Felton did backwards.

The decision was unanimous. On points, no one gave Felton better than a 60-40 break which is the worst he could get in Michigan in any round without a knockdown.

"MORNING STAR"—Sir Holland Goddard, chairman of the British machinery display at the Canadian International Trade Fair in Toronto, became Chief Morning Star of the Navajo tribe in a colonial ceremony Thursday. Here the British industrialist is shown with Blue Flower, Too, wife of Navajo Chief Natay who conferred the title.

Detroit Outfield Key To 2 Wins Over Athletics

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

Ask the average man "Who is Vic Wertz?" and you draw a blank stare. Yet this unsung slugger of Detroit Tigers could wind up the most valuable player in the American League.

Only one behind Boston's Vern Stephens with 46 runs batted in, Wertz is the rightfielder of an outfield called the best in baseball. Hoot Evers in left, Johnny Groth in centre and Wertz form the real strength of the Detroit club, backing up a fine pitching staff. As they go, so go the Tigers.

Friday night they were hot. As a result, the Tigers thumped Philadelphia A's in both ends of a twilight-night doubleheader 8-2 and 16-5.

Big Guns

Wertz and Evers were the big outfield guns. Vic drove home five runs in the first game, three with his sixth homer, and knocked in two more in the second—seven for the night. Ever had five hits, including a pair of doubles and a homer. Groth chipped in with a homer in the second game.

The Yankees' afternoon loss to Chicago, 6-5 in 12 innings, enabled the Tigers to gain ground. Now they're two games back.

Ray Scarborough, Eddie Robinson and Marv Rickert, all recent acquisitions, helped the White Sox upset the Yankees. Scarborough, making his first start since the big trade with Washington, went all the way.

Feller Routed

Back at Fenway Park, the much-maligned Boston Red Sox made quick work of Cleveland's Bobby Feller. The Sox scored six in the first inning en route to an 11-5 romp behind Joe Dobson.

Disaster hit the Washington club in a double loss to St. Louis and a flock of serious injuries. Outfielder Gil Coan suffered a skull fracture when he collided with Owen Friend, St. Louis infielder, sliding into second base. He'll be lost for at least a month.

Dick Weik, Mickey Grasso and Sam Mele of the Senators and Billy Demars of the Browns were forced to withdraw during the doubleheader.

Browns Win

The cellar-bound Brownies mauled Washington pitchers for 12 hits in a 10-5 twilight victory behind Al Widmar. Then they slaughtered Lloyd Hittle and two successors, 9-3, in the night game.

In the National League Brooklyn bounced back to regain the undisputed lead on an 8-1 victory over St. Louis. Don Newcombe allowed the Cards only five hits. Harry Brecheen was the loser.

Pittsburgh snapped its nine game losing streak, longest in 11 years, with the help of Ralph Kiner's 10th homer, edging Boston, 5-4. Rookie Bill MacDonald, the last Pirate winner May 23, got them back on the trail with a five-hitter.

Willie (The Knuck) Ramsdell walked four straight Giants in the ninth, forcing home the winning run, as New York nipped Cincinnati, 7-6.

Women Golfers Aid Flood Relief Fund

WINNIPEG, June 3 (CP) — Mrs. J. L. Petersen of Winnipeg, president of the Manitoba and Canadian Ladies' Golf Unions, Friday night said all entry fees for Manitoba's various provincial tournaments will be turned over to the Manitoba Flood Relief Fund.

(On May 30, the Canadian Press erroneously reported that net proceeds from the national golf tournament here in August would be turned over to the fund.)

The Inter-Provincial ladies' team championships will be played Aug. 18-19, followed by the Canadian amateur open, Aug. 21-26. The Canadian closed will be run concurrent with the inter-provincial and the qualifying round of the open.

Trigo, Irish-bred bay colt owned by W. Barnett, prominent Dublin Irishman, won the Derby at Epsom Downs 21 years ago today. In a field of 26, Trigo raced home a length-and-a-half ahead of Lord Woolavington's Walter Gay. Somerville Tattersall's Brienz was third. All the favorites were ileft in the ruck of the event.

Mt. Pleasant Wins

Mount Pleasant defeated Quakers 5-4 in a well-played Industrial Fastball League fixture on the former's diamond last evening. Smith of the losers was touched for only five hits and had three strikeouts but errors proved costly to Quakers. Prescott hit a homer and Connelly of Quakers had three for four at bat. Mitchell threw steady ball for the winners and had good backing. No one got more than one safety. Mt. Pleasant had three runs in the first and one each in the fourth and seventh as Quakers counted one in the fifth and three in a ninth-inning rally. Teams.

Quakers: Connelly, 3b; Prescott, 2b; Weaver, ss; Isaacs, c; Cooper, lf; Land, 2b; Logan, cf; Stewart, rf; Smith, p; Shine.

Marines Gain Girls' Win Over Woollens

Marines took a 10-7 Girls' Softball League verdict over the junior Woollens last evening at the East City Bowl. Errors and walks proved the main difference as the rather inexperienced Woollens were far from disgraced in an interesting contest. Marines showed more pep than previously to earn the duke, with S. Wakeford catching a good game. S. Whittaker took over the mound from H. White in the third to pitch nice ball and her backing was better than that afforded J. Black and S. Harris, who pitched in the fifth.

M. Laing and J. Walling went best in the field for the losers, as C. Rowan and S. Wakeford stood out for the Marines. C. Rowan hit a homer and single, with E. Mantle, M. Walling, S. Wakeford, S. Whittaker all have two safe hits for Outboards. Two hits each were garnered by S. Dafoe, R. Nayler (including a homer), C. Ferguson, J. Walling and J. McIslwain of Woollens.

The teams:

Marines: B. Ayotte, 3b; E. Mantle, 2b; M. Hill, 1b; M. Walling, cf; C. Rowan, ss; S. Wakeford, c; S. Whittaker, lf, p; M. Carr, rf; H. White, p, lf.

Woollens: J. McIlwain, rf; R. McInroy, 2b; J. Walling, cf; C. Ferguson, ss; C. Lawson, c; M. Laing, 1b; J. Black, p; S. Harris, p; R. Nayler, 3b; S. Dafoe, lf.

Napanee Takes Lead On 7-3 Kingston Win

NAPANEE, June 3 (CP) — Napanee Athletics took over first place in the Senior COBL here Friday night by defeating Kingston Disney Leafs 7-3. The winners jumped on Al Leonard for six hits and as many runs in the sixt hto grab the victory. Stan McTaggart was strong in the pinches for Napanee striking out eight and leaving nine runners stranded. Leonard struck out nine and four Napanee runners were left.

Napanee had the bases filled and none out in the sixth when ten hitters were up. Levandorski had three hits for Kingston but was nipped off third in the fifth.

Rochester Spears Win Over Royals

(By The Associated Press)

Tom Poholsky won't reach his legal maturity until Aug. 26 but the young righthander is turning in a man-sized job for Rochester Red Wings in their bid for the International League pennant.

Poholsky, who broke into organized ball in 1945 at the age of 16 with the Boston Red Sox organization, appears headed for a banner season.

The Detroit native pitched the pace-setting Wings to a 9-2 victory over the second-place Montreal Royals Friday night to increase the Wings' first-place margin to 2½ games.

Rochester locked up the decision with a five-run blast in the seventh which opened up an 8-2 lead. Steve Bilko homered for Rochester's final run in the ninth.

Baltimore Orioles moved to within a half-game of the Royals by edging Springfield Cubs 3-2. Two of Baltimore's runs were unearned.

Irv Medlinger started and received credit for the victory but needed help from Bill Kennedy in the ninth.

Andy Tomasic allowed the Chiefs only one hit but he was lifted after h walked the bases full in the last of the ninth with one out. Red Hardy took over and granted a two-run single to Frankie Drews before he retired the side.

Salvation Through Judgment Theme Of Zephaniah

By WILLIAM E. GILROY, DD

Salvation through judgment is the dominant theme of the Prophet Zephaniah, who lived and prophesied more than 600 years before Christ.

It was in the reign of Josiah, King of Judah, and one should read the twenty-second and twenty-third chapters of II Kings to get the historical setting and the events of the time. Josiah was only eight years old when his father died and he began his reign. But in his eighteenth year a great reformation occured upon the discovry in the Temple of the Book of the Law, probably portions of the Book of Deuteronomy.

Such a reformation, vividly described in II Kings 22, was long overdue, for the preceding reigns had been times of great wickedness, with flagrant idoltry, and the degradation and corruption of worship.

The time was pregnant with danger, and the fall of the kingdom, with the exile of the people to Babylon, was not for off. The little land of Palestine was caught as it has often been, between great warring empires, and Josiah himself, was to fall in battle, when he became involved against Egypt.

It was a time of opportunity, as well as of peril, for prophets. If they spoke words of truth and warning, if they pointed at the evils and weaknesses of what was ostensibly a time of prosperity, they were subject to the change that they were pessimists, and disloyal to their nation.

Even today, in our modern democracies, people don't like to hear anything but favorable words. Yet it is not the strength, but the weakness, of our concern, if we wish to safeguard our future.

What would one think of a physician if, instead of facing and treating some diseased part of the body, he went into raptures over how sound and healthy the rest of it was? The prophets were spiritually-minded social physicians, and that is why they dwelt so much upon the evils and injustices of their time.

But their purpose was salvation. Zephaniah, like his greater contemporary, Jeremiah, saw in the events of the time the judgments of God.

Salvation came through judgment, but not perhaps precisely as the prophet foresaw it: for it was only through defeat, disaster, and exile that that spiritual regeneration was to come.

Power Of Good Influence Blessing To All Mankind

By WILLIAM E. GILROY, DD

The Hebrew Prophet, Habakkuk, who probably lived about 600 BC is represented in our Bibles by only three comparatively short chapters. But in addition to the vividness and vigor of their portrayals of a time of war and invasion, and to the power of their questionings and judgments, these three chapters have given to us some oft-quoted and well-known sayings, the source of which is probably unknown even to many readers of the Bible.

In verse two of chapter two, for instance, is the origin of the saying "that he who runs may read," a reference to making things clear and plain. In the same chapter, in verse 14, is the reference to the "earth being filled with the knowledge of the glory of the Lord, as the waters cover the sea." And in the very next verse is the oft-repeated temperance quotation, "Woe unto him that giveth his neighbor drink," an injunction little regarded today.

But most notable are the words repeated in many churches, every Sunday, and often inscribed on walls and above altars, "The Lord is in His holy temple; let all the earth keep silence before Him."

But though Habakkuk's prophecy is memorable for these things, it is notable for something deeper than striking and lasting phrases. The prophet begins by his reference to his "burden," and his burden, as he proceeds to deliver it, was a heavy one.

It was a burden of wonderment and reflection concerning God, and God's providence. It was as if he had been looking out over our world today—seeing iniquity and evil apparently going unrebuked, with treacherous dealing, with power being used for cruel and evil ends, and the wicked devouring the righteous. Did God care? Was He so pure and holy that He could not look upon such evil, and was silent while the oppression went on?

But Habakkuk's words are not all of wonderment and doubt. He turns to a burden and swift-moving and terrible judgment. The hand of God is manifest in history. Sin finds nations and people out, quite as much as sin brings its results to individuals. results to individuals.

There were those in Israel who had not done justly, who had not loved mercy, and who had not walked humbly with their God. Their sin had weakened the fabric of a nation that was about to fall under the terror of invading Chaldean armies. It is a grim and terrible picture of war that Habakkuk gives, but he sees in this invading power the instrument of God's judgment upon a people, chosen to righteousness and greatness who had spurned God's call.

And what to these invaders themselves? Judgment was awaiting them also, and from our vantage point of history we know full well what happened to them.

What would Habakkak say about God's judgments today? It is worth a great deal of careful and prayerful thinking.

Comstocks Open Chapel, Funeral Home

A new Comstock Funeral Home and Chapel will be opened Monday on Rubidge St. at Simcoe St.

Max and Jack Comstock, cousins who run the 120-year-old business, will be giving Peterborough the first Chapel used exclusively for funeral services.

The funeral home also has four "slumber rooms" in the spacious building which is partly a remodeled house and partly an addition to original building.

The air conditioned rooms will be open for the public's inspection Monday and Tuesday until 10 p.m. Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock the chapel will be dedicated in a ceremony conducted on behalf of the Peterborough Ministerial Association by its president, Rev. Dr. D. Bruce Gordon and Archdeacon W. P. Robertson to which the public is invited.

The rooms are both practically designed and attractive. The woodwork is ivory and the furnniture in natural tones with pastel drapes. Adjoining the chapel room is a family room with a private entrance. The pews in the chapel will seat 150 and movable seats will take care of another 30.

In the newly built part of the funeral home is the chapel, an office, one of the slumber rooms, a garage and in the basement, the embalming room.

Comstocks have been operating a funeral service business and the furniture store since 1873 when Max and Jack's grandfather Aaron Comstock, bought out the business from Col. Thomas Poole, cabinet maker, for whom he had been working 20 years.

The business had been started in 1830 and Aaron Comstock joined it in 1853. The original site was at Brock and Chambers Sts. where the Canadian Flag Co. is now. From there it was moved to Sherbrooke St. at Jackson Park Creek. The next move was was where T. Eaton Co. is now. Here they were burned out in 1885 and moved across the street to build on the present site.

Aaron Comstock operated the business for many years and died in 1925 a few weeks before he would have become 91. His three sons, William, Manson and Jack took over.

Max's father, William, died in 1933. The second brother, Manson, died four years later and John Comstock, Jack's father died in 1941.

Since then the two cousins have operated the business in a partnership. A third cousin, Gordon McIntyre, works with the firm, an assistant in both ends of the business.

Both were educated here and attended the Canadian School of Embalming where Jack graduated in 1934 and Max in 1936.

For three years, 1945, 1946 and 1947, Max was elected to the Ontario Funeral Service Association. In 1948 he was appointed by the Lieutenant-Governor in council to the Board of Examiners under the Embalmers and Funeral Directors Act.

A year later Max was also appointed a director of the Canadian School of Embalming.

The funeral home's three employees, Jack B. Robinson, William S. Wildman and Joseph Finnie have all been with the firm a number of years.

1,001 Drawing Claims As Unemployed

Unemployment insurance claims continued downward during May but were still heavier than May 1949, William Mellis, manager of the National Employment, said today.

At May's end in Peterborough district (including adjoining counties) jobless persons drawing insurance funds totalled 1,001 as compared with 1,120 in April and 1,628 in March. The office recorded 615 men and 366 women applying for work in May. In 1949 during May 518 men were looking for employment and 279 women.

The number of local men on claim in May nearly doubled the May 1949 figure. There were 360 men on claim this May in comparison with 189 in May 1949. Women's claims in the local area were more than double May 1949's figure. Mr. Mellis explained that married women account for most of the women on claim this year, 420 in May against 173 for the same period last year. The local industries are not hiring married women, he said.

Postal claims during May for both men and women increased slightly over May 1949 figures. This year there were 152 men on postal claims while last year there were 126 on claim. The number of women drawing funds through the postals was 69 in May and 43 in May 1949.

With the temporary layoff at the Western Clock Company two weeks ago the number of short-time claims increased. Ninety men were on this type of claim in May and 90 women.

The increase in claims, Mr. Mellis said, was due to several factors. The local factories, he explained, did not employ as many. A large number of drifters men and women who have heard there is employment in Peterborough, from across the country, have swelled the ranks of Peterborough's unemployed. Construction work in this area, he added, is slightly later than last year, being held up by shortages of materials.

SCATTERED SETTLEMENTS

About 85 per cent of Newfoundland's population live in 1,300 small settlements scattered along 6,000 miles of coastline.

Port Hope Yachting Club Moves Inland To Rice Lake

After three summer sailing seasons of buffeting storms and flat calms on Lake Ontario, members of Port Hope's Yacht Club looked north this spring for more favourable waters. They found Rice Lake had everything to be desired. Thirty miles long with an average width of five miles, this lake is also shallow enough to kick up seas worthy of deep-water sailormen. They moved to Bewdley two weeks ago.

Under the drive of club Commodore Harry van Everdingen, they made arrangement with Arthur Metcalfe, owner of Pineridge Lodge, to use part of his docks and locker house and spacious water front. They built docks and locker house and moved two boats down from winter storage in a Lakefield factory and two north from Port Hope to Bewdley.

That is their fleet at the present time. Four snipe-class sailing sloops were refurbished from mast peak to bottoms of their centre boards. They broke out with new names—names of wild fowl that are native to Rice Lake. There is Golden Eye, Red Head, Pin Tail and Blue Bill and they ride to anchor as prettily as their namesakes.

One would think that a bustling club of 20 members would find some always waiting their turn to sail in community fleet boats. This is not so, according to Commodore van Everdingen.

He has worked out a log system which allows each crew, generally three, to sail for two-hour stretches and report back to the club wharf. If no one is waiting, the craft is taken out again for another stretch by the same crew. It worked out on large Lake Ontario last year so that everyone had a fair share of the sport.

Wants More Mememberss

The club hopes to increase membership this season and will, therefore, need more craft to accommodate them. Present roster is made up of young professional industrial specialists for the most part, the occasional business man and a photographer. Besides the commodore are R. McKay, vice, and Johnny Zufelt, secretary-treasurer.

They did not reveal who had staked the club to their initial investment, boats, docks and gear; it was estimated that it would be more than $2,000 and that the "godfather" was being paid off as membership increased and social function funds were credited to the account.

Some of the sailors have learned their sport the hard way when of tender years. The Commodore, a Dutchman who has lived and worked in Port Hope for 25 years, used to sail on the North Sea. He found Lake Ontario equally exciting but the weather, he said, was unpredictable.

All members agreed that Rice Lake should offer them constant prevailing winds and maximum days of fine sailing weather. They say they are also interested in having visiting sailors come down from the Kawarthas for a week-end of sport, in that way to encourage more sailing on Rice Lake. It is believed that only one sloop is being used there at the present time.

Normal Students Complete Exams

Peterborough Normal School students completed their examinations Friday afternoon. These final papers of the 105 students who had to write from one to 10 examinations will be marked in Toronto.

Several of the Peterborough Normal school teachers will be teaching at summer courses. Miss B. Latimer, secretary at the Normal, will be senior secretary at the education course at Northern Vocational school in Toronto. Quirt McKinney, master of music, will teach community relations in Toronto and London.

B. F. Smitheram, master of social studies and pyschology, will be principal of the education course in North Bay. C. E. English, will teach at a summer Normal school course for 2nd class teachers held in Toronto Normal.

The education courses are refresher courses for teachers before they receive their permanent certificate. Both courses start July 3.

NOMINATED

Representing the Bay of Quinte Conference on the General Council executive of the United Church of Canada will be the Rev. H. A. Kent, of Kingston, and E. L. Sackville of Peterborough. Dr. Kent is president of the conference for 1950-51. Alternate will be the Rev. J. E. Anderson of Brighton, immediate past president of the conference. They were elected Friday at the close of the conference.

Rev. A. Mathews Will Succeed Dr. Jas. Semple

An exchange of pastoral charges between the Rev. Dr. James Semple of George Street United Church, Peterborough and the Rev. Arnold Mathews of Trinity United Church, North Bay was announced at the final session of the Bay of Quinte Conference meeting here on Friday. The transfer will take place early in September.

Dr. Semple came to George Street six years ago after a successful pastorate of 12 years at Bridge Street United Church, Belleville. Dr. Semple was born in Ireland and entered the ministry of the Irish Methodist Church in 1910. He was loaned to the Saskatchewan Conference by the Irish Methodists and was ordained in Third Avenue Church Saskatoon on June 10, 1917.

Since then he has occupied pastoral charges at Sunderland, Sask., Palmerston, Ont., and Smiths Falls before going to Belleville. Since Church Union he has been one of the leaders of the United Church. For 15 years he was chairman of the settlement committee of the Conference and has been a member of several of the Boards of the church.

In Peterborough he has been one of the community leaders of the city and has taken a very active part in many community affairs. His congregation has increased in membership until today it is the largest in the city and attendance at the services has been the largest of the Protestant communion.

Graduate of McGill

Mr. Mathews is a graduate in Arts and theology of McGill University and the Montreal Theological College. In 1930-31 he did a year of post graduate work under the "Travelling Fellowship" at Mansfield College, Oxford. On returning to Canada he was for a year superintendent at St. Columba Settlement House, Montreal. He has held pastorates at Drummondville United Church, Quebec Memorial United Church, St. Catharines, Devine Street United Church, Sarnia and in 1914 went to North Bay.

In North Bay he has pioneered in the Young Adult Movement. The Young People's Group of his congregation is the most active in Northern Ontario. Both the Young Men's and Young Women's Bible classes are outstanding in the city with Mayor T. M. Palmer teaching the latter.

Mr. Mathews is a son of the parsonage his father being the late Rev. Albert Mathews who ministered for years in the Montreal Conference. He is fond of music, plays the piano and has a number of his poems published.

Mrs. Mathews is the former Evelyn Craw a daughter of the manse. She is a graduate of Victoria College and served six years as National Girls' Work secretary of the United Church. Her hobby is writing and her articles under her pen name "Nancy Cleaver" have appeared in The Country Gentleman, The American Home and Today's Health. They have a family of three children.

Set of Standards Required If Moral Life Is to Remain

Dr. Brock Chisholm, who said there wasn't any Santa Claus, was rebuked Friday by a United Church minister from Montreal for being "Childishly naive" in one of his latter statements.

The Rev. Gerald R. Cragg, pastor of Erskine and American United Church, Montreal, referred to Dr. Chisholm's recent statement that the people must be released from their feeling of guilt. He was speaking to the Bay of Quinte Conference at George St. United Church.

"What a childishly naive thing to say," commented Mr. Cragg.

"If there is to be any moral life at all," he said, "there must be a set of standards. However, a standard is only a yardstick which permits us to calculate how far we may go."

Mr. Cragg's sermon was bassed on Paul's epistle to the Romans, chapter 7—"Know ye not, brethren, (for I speak to them that know the law) how that the law hath dominion over a man as long as he liveth?"

Sin, he said, is wrongdoing. When a man kills another, the lawyer calls it a crime; the moralist, a vice; only religion calls it a sin.

The three stages of moral life, said he, were innocence, then the awareness of the difference between right and wrong, and finally, finding peace of mind.

Of Dr. Chisholm's statement, Mr. Cragg said "we cannot go back, morally or otherwise If there is to be any moral life at all, there must be a set of standards."

If Dr. Chisholm were to be believed, standards are wrong in that they set up a sense of guilt.

Mr. Cragg warned his audience against the power of sin, which is shown in man by the growth of lust from desire. "There is nothing wrong with desire—there is everything wrong with lust."

When a person at least finds peace of mind, he said, he recognizes the way in which God's love has worked, and "he yields himself into the hands of God."

Labor Minister To Attempt To Settle Lock Strike Which Is Now In Fifth Week

A break may be imminent in the strike at the Peterborough Lock Works. Late Friday Labor Minister Charles Daley informed the company and local 527, United Electrical Workers, that he would meet with representatives of both parties at the Parliament Buildings in Toronto, Tuesday morning. The strike, affecting about 170 production workers, has been in progress since May 4. To date there has been little sign of any agreement between the union and the company.

The strike, affecting about 170 production workers, has been in progress since May 4. To date there has been little sign of any agreement between the union and the company.

There have been no "incidents" on the picket line. The factory is deserted except for a daily inspection to comply with the Fire Marshall's regulations, and the office workers and management are working in a suite in the Empress Hotel.

Last week, in what was interpreted as a "back-to-work move ment," E. H. Howson, company president, said the company would open the gates if a sufficient number of employees decided to resume work.

Romeo Leonard, Local 527 president, labelled this move as an attempt "to try and break the picket line in order to smash the union." He added that the strikers were "solid" and would not return to the plant until they had won their demands.

The union wants a 42½-hour week with 45-hour pay; men's minimum rates raised from 93 cents an hour to $1, women's from 82 cents to 87 cents an hour; revision in the time schedule and seniority protection.

Peterborough Lock Co. officials say they cannot afford to pay increased wages and point to Conciliation Board findings for backing. The Board recommended no reduction in hours, no wage increases and co-operation between the two parties to obtain increased production.

Today a conference of workers from UE-union plants in the lock and builders' hardware industry —including two Belleville plants —is being held in Peterborough. Strike strategy and common problems confronting the industry will be discussed.

Local Donations To Flood Funds Nearly $14,000

Residents of Peterborough and district have contributed generously to the flood victims in southern Manitoba and those stricken by fire in Rimouski and Cabano.

Several community funds in this district have yielded at least $13,975.87. And there are still several thousands of dollars more in private subscriptions not mentioned as well as labor union contributions. No complete check can be made at this time.

As an official agent for the "Manitoba Flood Relief Fund" and the "Rimouski Fire Fund" the Examiner has acknowledged receipt of $3,435.95 as of Friday night. Contributions of less than $2 (not acknowledged in the paper) swell that figure.

The Roman Catholic diocese of Peterborough has raised an estimated $4,000—$1,500 of this sum coming from the city. Though receiving little publicity the work of soliciting funds through this source has gone on tirelessly.

Radio station CHEX has raised $2,900.03.

Strong civic support has come to the Mayor's Fund. Private citizens, various associations, storekeepers, miscellaneous business and industry have brought this fund's total up to $3,639.89.

Give Large Sums

The Kiwanis Club contributed $1,000 of this amount as did the Brinton-Peterborough Carpet Co. (donations of the company itself and the employees). The Outboard Marine and Manufacturing

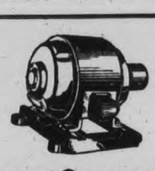
Employee Discharged Judge To Review Case

Judge F. F. P. Birnie, Walkerton, industrial inquiry commissioner, has been appointed by the Minister of Labor to settle a dispute involving a dismissed De Laval employee.

The employee is Jack Mackness, a former machinist in the separator department of De Laval Union officials say the reason for his dismissal about six weeks ago was because he was active in union organization.



For some time the United Electrical Workers have been carrying on an intensive campaign to organize the plant and they have already announced they have signed a majority of the eligible employees.

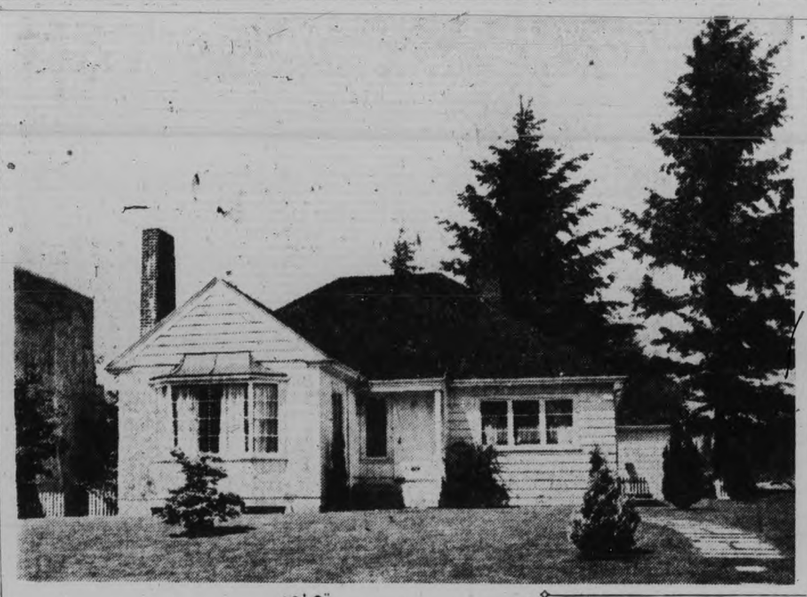
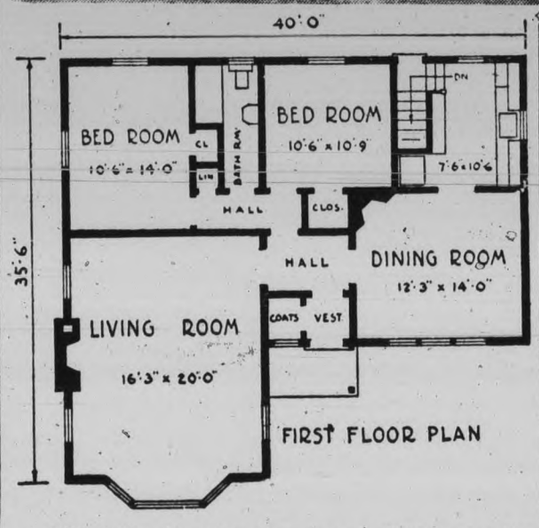
Rafters Serve As Base For Sheathing And Roofing

In one sense, rafters bear the same relation to the roof as joists to the floors. They serve as a base for sheathing and roofing materials. In flat roofs the rafters should be designed in the same way as floor joists. Although there are different types of auxiliary rafters, regular rafters are the ones that run directly from the eave to the ridge.



Spacing varies from 16 to 24 inches. For ordinary one-inch roof sheathing, 20 inches is satisfactory. Generally, wider spacing is not advisable. Conversely, closer spacing than 20 inches is unnecessary except where roofing materials are heavier than normal. If the attic is to be finished and the undersides of the roof rafters plastered, then 16-inch spacing should be used.



The size of regular rafters depends on the weight of the roofing material, the snow loads and the span of the rafter. A general guide for allowable loads and spans may be found in the Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation building standards. The span of the rafter is the distance between the point of the roof and the wall. Any overlap past the wall is not counted in the span.

The length should be sufficient to allow for the projection at the eave and the joint at the ridge. This should not be confused with the span. If the rafters run in line with the attic floor joists, they should be securely spiked at the joint. In any event they should be notched over the top plate that supports the joists.

Chase Money Ring

WINNIPEG, June 3—(CP)—Six men and three women Friday were charged with possessing counterfeit money as RCMP continued their probe into a bogus-money ring which threatened to flood Winnipeg with phoney $10 bills. Two other men arrested here Wednesday, when police swooped down on a dozen residences, were released. Three persons have been arrested in Toronto, allegedly for operations connected with those charged here.

HOUSE No. 64—Here is a compact little home with lines sure to please the cottage lover. Main exterior walls are of cedar clapboards, and the wing, formed by the living room, has lower walls of vertical boards with beaded joints. Using the plan shown here the house has five rooms. Most interesting are the spacious dining room with its corner fireplace; and the living room with its fireplace centred on the long outside wall, and the big bay window towards the street. For further information, write Home Building in Canada, 372 Bay St., Toronto.

Questions and Answers To Help Home Builders

Question: We have a well-built bungalow about 38 years old in which practically all the interior walls and ceilings are finished in tongue and groved, "V"-jointed, B.C. fir strips about 3" wide. All this woodwork is walnut stained and polished. Despite the fact that this woodwork is "good", the use of so much of it has not helped in the creation of a bright, happy interior. I am somewhat reluctant to start painting in an atempt to 'lighten" this up, as I feel that once paint is applied it will be practically impossible to take it off if the results are unsatisfactory. Have you any suggestions?

Answer: Tongue and groove panelling such as you describe would, if painted, look too much like a kitchen or glorified shed interior. Instead, you might either remove the present dark walnut finish right down to the original wood and then have the panelling waxed—or it could be covered with a wallboard of which there are many kinds suitable for the purpos, in which case a flat wall paint or wallpaper could be used to cover it. Stain removing means a good deal of time and hard manual labor. We would favour the wallboard.

Use Blunt Nails

Question: In nailing, which has the greater tendency to split wood—a sharp pointed nail or one with a blunt end?

Answer: Use of blunt-pointed wire nails will help reduce splitting, but at the loss of a certain amount of holding power. If splitting is a problem it is often best to use nails of smaller diamater, increasing the number if necessary to give the required strength.

Question: What is the recommended thickness for garage concrete floor slabs and for driveway slabs?

Answer: Garage concrete floor slabs should be not less than 4" thick, and should be laid on a fill of cinders, gravel or crushed stone having a minimum thickness of of 4". This slab should extend at least 2' beyond the door openings and be sloped. Drainage in one-car garages can be provided by sloping the floor towards the entrance, but if the garage is larger it is advisable to pitch the floor four ways to a central floor drain.

Garage driveway slabs should not be less than 4" thick. If the slab is reinforced, the fill may be omitted. Expansion joints should be provided every 30' and between the driveway slab and the concrete slab forming the garage floor.

Wallpapering Problem

Question: Our next door neighbour recently papered his hall and made such a good job of this, his first attempt, that I am tempted to try my own hand at it. One problem that neighbor Ryan ran into was that the uncolored edges of the paper resulted in a thin white seam showing down the edge of each joint. Have you any suggestions as to how this may be overcome?

Answer: To ensure invisible joints with dark ground wallpapers, take a piece of wallpaper which had been torn off the roll when opening it, and rub the color up with a stiff brush. Apply this to the ends of the roll from which the selvedges have been removed. This will produce a perfect edge-staining job with no light seams showing.

Caulking Log Cabins

Question: Is caulking compound satisfactory for use between tightly fitting logs in a well-built log cabin?—or is "chinking" standard procedure? Would appreciate any information you can give us on this subject.

Answer: If logs are reasonably straight and uniform in size and the corners carefully made, the opening between them will be small, often barely perceptible. When this is the case, the openings should be filled with some sort of caulking compound which is applied best with a pressure gun. Nozzles are available in different sizes to meet different requirements. Calking compounds are not adversely affected by heat or cold, retain their natural flexibility and have an adhesive property which causes them to adhere to the surface to which they are applied.

A good plastic compound will adhere to the logs under all conditions. A black fibre seal is not objectionable, and at the same time, gives a practical finish. It should be applied to both sides of the exterior and interior log walls, producing an almost hermetically sealed building. Applied with a pressure gun having a ⅜" nozzle, 1 gallon will fill about 300 linear feet of opening. If applied in cold weather, the materials should be heated to temperature of 60 degrees.

Millbrook Funeral For Allan W. Mitchell

MILLBROOK, June 3 (ENS)—The funeral of Allan Wilfred Mitchell, operator of the Mitchell Machine Shop, Tupper St., was held on Monday at the MacPherson Funeral Home, the Rev. T. G. Husser of St. Andrew's Church, officiating, assisted by the Rev. A. L. Sisco of Tweed, a former minister here. Burial was in St. John's Cemetery, Ida and pall bearers were Nellis Fallis, Ross Morton, Steve Morton, Jack Armstrong, Ray Brown and Roy Hunter.

Mr. Mitchell was a member of St. Andrew's United Church, Millbrook.

He died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Russell R. Card, Tweed, who had nursed him for the past year.

Mr. Mitchell was born in Cavan Twp. 60 years ago, son of the late John Mitchell and his wife, Catharine Widdis. His wife, the former Jessie Radley, died three years ago. He leaves an only daughter, Mrs. Russell Card (Helen) of Tweed and a sister, Mrs. J. J. Morton (Bertha) of Ida. Mrs. Hiram (Minnie), Mrs. Chester Fee (Zella) and Mrs. K. Brown (Jennie) predeceased him.

President Elected

MONTREAL, June 3—(AP)—Aneel E. Talbert, aviation editor of the New York Herald-Tribune, Friday was re-elected president of the Aviation Writers of America Association. The association is holding its annual convention here. William Corfield, London, Ont., Free Press, was elected a vice-president.

Lone Minnow Survives Long Air Trip

The greatest single attraction at Peterborough's first sportsmen's show which opened Friday at the Civic Arena is Herkimer, the minnow from Halifax. The only surviver of an air-rail shipment of 13 mummichog (fundulus heteroclutis) shipped to advertising manager L. L. Maguire of Outboard Marine Company, on Tuesday. Herkimer ogles the show audience from a goldfish bowl. Employee custodians at the factory have been feeding him bologney sandwiches which he eats with relish. Prepared fish food is sissy stuff for him. Herkimer comes of hardy breed.

The minnow shipment was the result of an office bet between Maguire and paymaster Bill Swiss. Twelve years ago Mr. Maguire went fishing for trout near Halifax, using minnows, packed in dry oak leaves instead of a water container. The bait survived for several hours. Mr. Maguire told this fish story to his fellows for 12 years and they dared him to have a shipment sent to Peterborough. It arrived on Tuesday after 24 hours on the way and Herkimer is proof to hundreds at the sport show.

Professional bait caster Harold Croney of Toronto who is demonstrating equipment at the show says there is no reason why Ontario minnows would not survive the same shipping treatment. He sees a revolution in bait packing for the tourist fisherman trade. Some Peterborough professional bait handlers say the idea is silly. They may be right but Herkimer the Halifax minnow is strong proof the dry oak leaf-packed bait will lure his share of the big ones.

64 Holsteins Carry $63,050 Price Tag

OAKVILLE, June 3 (CP) — Sixty-four Holstein cattle Friday brought a total of $63,050 at a national Holstein sale in this town 15 miles west of Toronto.

Mexican buyers made the heaviest purchases, taking 20 head.

Top price was $7,500 for the eight months old bull calf Glenafton Symbol owned by J. E. McCague, of Alliston. Purchaser was the Oxford Holstein Breeders' Association, Woodstock.

Glenafton Trojan, bred by McCague, was sold to the Mexican government for $3,200, second highest price of the day.

Clontnacally Princess Posch, six-year-old female consigned by Wilfred A. James of Sarnia, was sold to Robert W. Adams of Broken Arrow, Okla., for $1,750.

Committee Suggests Increase In Insurance On Church Buildings

Closing day of the 25th Bay of Quinte Conference of the United Church saw little business transacted. Much of the morning session was taken up by addresses of ministers who have 50 years or more of service.

Rev. H. C. Martin of Sterling, convenor of the conference sessional committee, today recommended increased insurance on church buildings. He suggested conference members in some cases were failing to provide enough insurance for their buildings.

Elmer Davis, lay members from Kingston, endorsed Mr. Martin's view. "I'm appalled every once in a while at the indifference some people show to insuring church buildings," he said.

The Rev. D. M. Smith of Campbellford told the conference he had some experience with insurance men. "They won't cover the replacement value. They say they have to allow so much depreciation for every year."

The conference passed a resolution recommending investigation into the problem.

The world relations committee of the conference is no more. The Rev. G. J. A. Whitehorne of Renfrew, convenor, said he was the only one who showed up, and that there was no report to "the involved world situation which confronts us."

A motion to join the world relations committee with the evangelism and social committee was passed.

The Rev. H. G. Crozier, ordained 51 years ago, and who first preached 55 years ago in Maynooth, said that after 21 years of preaching in Manitoba and 34 years of it in Ontario, he had come to certain conclusions.

One was that the evening service should be improved. Mr. Crozier said it used to be the better of the two, and now is "the heartbreak of every minister."

Waggling an admonishing finger, Mr. Crozier, his voice still strong, said "we are tolerating smoking and dancing and minor forms of gambling in some of our churches. First thing we know the people will be like Blake's vagabond, who said:

"But if at the church they would give us some ale . . .

Away from the church we never would stray.'"

"I don't believe in that kind of thing," he said.

Expect No Strike On Lake Boats

MONTREAL, June 3—(CP)—Officials of the Upper Lake and St. Lawrence Transportation Company said here Friday they expect no strike of seamen on their ships in the Great Lakes.

Earlier Friday night, representatives of the Seafarers' International Union (AFL) said in Fort William that plans were going ahead for a midnight strike, pending instructions from union headquarters in Montreal.

Hal Banks, Canadian director of the union, could not be reached here for comment.

Harry Davis, president of the rival Canadian Seamen's Union, issued a statement which said that seamen employed on the company's vessels "are all members of the CSU and are not going on any strike. The SIU has no membership aboard these ships and has no legitimate dispute with the company.

The SIU threatened the strike as a result of the company's refusal to sign a union contract.

Robert B. Angus, operating manager of the company in Toronto, said a contract in effect since 1938 with the CSU still is in effect.

Thursday, an injunction granted in Toronto ordered the union not to strike for at least four days.

Fund At $3,131,612

WINNIPEG, June 3—(CP)—Contributions of $126,350 Friday sent the Manitoba flood relief fund total up to $3,131,612. The objective is $10,000,000.

Speaker Visits UK

OTTAWA, June 3—(CP)—W. Ross Macdonald, speaker of the Commons, said Friday he has accepted an invitation to attend the opening of the new House of Commons of the United Kingdom on Oct. 26. He will be accompanied by Mrs. Macdonald.

REBEL ARTISTS — Lawren Harris of Vancouver (left) is one of four of an original group of seven rebels who broke away from European painting tradition 30 years ago. Dr. A. Y. Jackson (centre) of Toronto, another of the rebels says a trend toward abstraction has developed something new for Canadian art. Arthur Lismer (right) who teaches at the Museum of Fine Arts, Montreal, is another of the small group still in the profession.

Dies While Visiting After Friend's Death

WARKWORTH, June 3 (ENS) Mrs. Jennie McVety died suddenly on Tuesday while visiting the home of Mrs. A. Dugan, who had died the previous day. Mrs. McVety had been in poor health for some time, but her death was sudden and unexpected. She was aged 60.

Born in Percy Twp., she was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. James Cobbledick. She had three brothers and a sister. Tom is the only one still living.

In 1909, Mrs. McVety married William McVety and since that time she has lived on the second concession of Percy Twp. Mr. McVety died in October, 1939.

The funeral was held on Friday at her home, the Rev. J. M. Ritchie of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Warkworth, officiating. Burial was in Warkworth cemetery.

Surviving members of the family are Douglas McVety of Warkworth, Mrs. W. Fox (Viola), Mrs. Arthur Grill (Gladys) of Norham, George McVety of Norham, Gordon at home, Mrs. Glen Price (Clarice) of Peterborough, Evelyn of Pterborough, Donald McVety, Petrborough and a brother, Tom. There are nine grandchildren.

Church Backs Bylaw

TORONTO, June 3 — (CP) — A motion endorsing Toronto's new anti-discrimination by-law was passed Friday by the Anglican Synod of Toronto at its closing sessions. The by-law would forbid some personal service trades licensed by the city to discriminate among customers on the basis of race, color or creed. It will be considered at the next city council meeting.

Baptist Convention

MONTREAL, June 3—(CP)—More than 600 delegates are expected to attend the 62nd annual assembly of the Baptist convention of Ontario and Quebec June 12-15 in the suburban Westmount Baptist Church. Dr. H. H. Bingham, who for the last 10 years was general secretary-treasurer of the convention, will retire and will be succeeded by Rev. T. B. McDormand, of Toronto.

"REBEL" STILL WORKING—Fred Varley, one of seven Canadian artists who turned from the European tradition of canvas painting 30 years ago to develop a Canadian style, still is in business. This photo shows him instructing pupils at Doon Art School, Kitchener. Varley, one of the four remaining "rebels" of the group of seven has taught in Vancouver, Montreal, Ottawa and Toronto.

Old Rebel Frowns On New Abstract Painting Trend

TORONTO, June 3. (CP) — There's something new and disturbing in Canadian art, says A. Y. Jackson.

It's a trend toward abstraction which he thinks has no more merit than the trend against which he and six other rebels battled in a memorable explosion 30 years ago.

In those days, critics lambasted the now-famous Group of Seven for having the gall to put their native Canada on canvas, when most Canadian artists clung to the highly-touted European tradition.

"We thought a bull moose had as much right in the drawing-room as a Dutch cow or a French barnyard," Dr. Jackson said in an interview. It's a matter of record that the moose made it.

Four of the original group of seven still are in action. Arthur Lismer teaches at the Montreal Museum of Fine Arts. Lawren Harris paints in Vancouver. Fred Varley, after moving to Vancouver, Montreal and Ottawa, is back in Toronto, as is Dr. Jackson.

J. E. H. MacDonald, Franz Johnston and Frank Carmichael are dead.

White-haired, 67-year-old Dr. Jackson works in the same studio building in midtown Rosedale from which the rebels changed the pattern of Canadian art.

Only one of the original seven still is considered a radical, he said with a smile: Lawren Harris, now painting abstractions in Vancouver.

Now "Safe and Sound"

"I am held up as an example of young painters of safe and sound painting," said Dr. Jackson. "I still have pretty much the same ideas I had back in the early days. We were a group brought together by common ideals. Oddly enough, although called the Group of Seven, we were usually six or eight and the man who probably was the greatest of us, Tom Thomson, never was a member."

Several of the group got together in 1913. The First World War interrupted their plans; Jackson and Harris enlisted. In 1917, before their return to civilian life, Thomson was drowned in Algonquin Park.

The Group of Seven, although they didn't claim to have originated the "Paint Canada" idea, did more than any other group to bring Canada's wild, natural beauty to artistic prominence. Their first exhibition was held in 1920. Their name originated from the fact that all shared the Seven studios in the building erected in 1914 in the Rosedale Ravine.

"The critics lambasted us so hard it welded us together for 13 years. The intention when the building was erected by Harris and Dr. James McCallum, a patron of the arts, was to fill it with wild artists. The idea was to encourage bolder work."

The response seemed to bear out the promise. One Canadian critic described the paintings as "products of a deranged mind." This was typical. The attitude has changed since and many of those originals now hold places of honor in the National Gallery at Ottawa and in other art centres.

Dr. Jackson still feels as strongly as ever about Canada.

"I wish young Canadian painters would scatter across the country. There are millions of square miles of very exciting country, particularly in the precambrian shield. I would like to see them paint there as we did."

Army Trains More

OTTAWA, June 3—(CP)—The army reported Friday it expects to give summer training to a peac time record of 15,000 reservists this year, a one-third jump over last year, as the force toughens up for whatever the cold war may hold.

Movie Column

Movie Stars Turn Tables Rehearse Play

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, June 3 (AP)—They were movie actors working on a movie stage, but—they were rehearsing a stage play!

For a moment, I though I had gotten my medium mixed. But then the whole scheme was explained to me: The cast of "Born Yesterday" will perform the play nightly for a week and then make it into a movie.

"We're learning what we forgot 12 years ago," said Bill Holden, who has been away from the stage that long.

"Make it 13 for me," added Broderick Crawford. They returned to their rehearsal with Judy Holliday and the rest of the cast and I headed for the office of George Cukor, who is directing the film.

Invaluable

Cukor explained that the cast will perform the play for about five nights before small audiences of studio workers. Later the actors will switch to the movie script and film the picture in the usual manner.

The cost of building the stage and paying the actors is considerable and I asked Cukor why the outlay?

"I think it will be invaluable for the actors to get the style and flavor of 'Born Yesterday'," he remarked. "You see, we are trying something quite revolutionary in this picture—we are trying to preserve the original story. Since it was so expensive ($1,000,000) it is only natural that we should."

Almost Same

The movie script, he said, will follow the Garson Kanin play closely—or as closely as the censors will allow. Judy Holliday who played the junk dealer's mistress in the play, becomes merely his fiancee in the movie. Otherwise things are much the same.

"Obviously, the play must have had some value in the first place," the director said, "or it wouldn't have been so successful. The tendency in Hollywood is for ego-seeking creators to put their own stuff into a movie taken from a book or play. We are trying to avoid that here."

Visit Power Station

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., June 3 (CP)—Prime Minister Liaquat Ali Kahn, of Pakistan, and his wife arrived here Friday night for a one-day stop before they enter the United States. They are scheduled to tour Queenston power station today.

Mountie Buried

CALGARY, June 3—(CP)—Red - coated Royal Canadian Mounted Police buried one of their fellow members in Calgary Friday — Constable Alexander Gamman, victim of a Montreal gunman last week. Gamman was struck down by the gunman as he attempted to thwart a bank holdup in Montreal. He died in hospital 36 hours later.

HERBERT GASTMEIER

Lutherans Call Herb. Gostmeier

Herbert Gastmeier, a graduate of Waterloo College, affiliated with the University of Western Ontario, and a licentiate of the Theological Lutheran Seminary at Kitchener-Waterloo has accepted a call to the Peterborough area. He will serve at the Christ Lutheran Church in Maynooth and the Lutherans in Peterborough.

Mr. Gastmeier will be inducted this Sunday by Dr. J. H. Reble, Waterloo, president of the Synod, assisted by the Rev. A. Kivisikk of Waterloo.

Lutheran services have been conducted in Peterborough for the past four years and a Lutheran congregation is expected to be organized this year.

Steals $4,000 Payroll

MONTREAL, June 3—(CP)—A slug-and-snatch bandit Friday robbed Phillip Maron, construction company owner, of a $4,000 payroll. Maron said he was just entering his office on west-end Girouard Avenue when he was struck from behind by a man who snatched the payroll.

VENEZUELAN CAPITAL

Caracas, capital of Venezuela, is a beautiful city with a temperate year-round climate.

Predicts Use Of Television By The Church

Church programs by television were the prediction Friday of the Rev. D. Bruce Gordon of Trinity United Church, speaking to the Bay of Quinte Conference on the report of the radio committee.

"In 1925, there was no report on radio. In 1975, there will be no report on radio; there will be a report on television," he prophesied.

The conference approved a resolution from the committee calling for a full-time director of radio programs by the general council of the United Church.

The resolution referred to radio as "a powerful and ever more popular means of propaganda," and asked the general council to broaden the scope of the national committee on radio by the appointment of a full-time director.

The Rev. M. J. Aiken, of St. Andrew's United Church, said he thought few people listened to the programs, and that they were a waste of time. Other ministers said they had organized groups especially to listen to the 11 Wednesday night broadcasts put on by the conference last year.

Further reply to Mr. Aiken was given by the Rev. W. A. Amos, of Newtonville, who read the resolution. He said: "we are venturing into a new medium. You know what a student preacher sounds like in a large cathedral. The big trouble is that we haven't a minister who can handle this kind of work."

The resolution said further that radio was not being used as much as possible for "the extension of the work of our church." A director was needed because of the technical skill involved.

NATURE UNSPOILED

YOURS TO PROTECT

The CRESTED FLYCATCHER is common in parks, orchards and woodlands. He's olive-grey, reddish-brown and sulphur-yellow in color. Look for his short, ragged crest. His loud, harsh cry is heard in tall trees everywhere. He lives on insects, and should be protected.

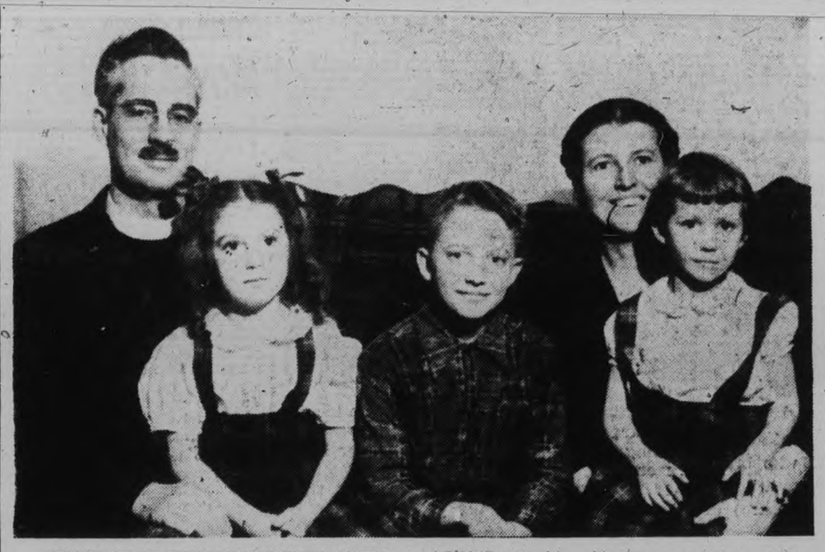
Bishop-Kleinsteuber Nuptials

Apple blossoms, snapdragons and ferns decorated Actinolite United Church for the marriage of Wilma Jeanne Pearl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Kleinsteuber, Actinolite, and Douglas James Bishop, Peterborough, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Bishop. Rev. Mr. Sisco officiated.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of French lace over ivory satin, made with fitted bodice and long sleeves coming to points over the hands, and seed pearls at the front of the neckline. Her fingertip veil of imported tulle illusion had inserts of lace and fell from a headdress matching the dress. She carried a cascade of red roses.



Miss Elsie Kleinsteuber, Peterborough, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid. Her gown was mauve with lace top and nylon skirt. She wore a matching halo of beads and seed pearls and carried a boquet of baby 'mums.

Mr. Malcolmn Reid, Peterborough, was groomsman.

Wedding music was played by Mrs. Sharpe, who also sang I'll Walk Beside You."

The reception was held at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Russell James. The bride's mother chose a dress of gray printed crepe with grey and navy accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

For travelling to Ottawa, the bride donned a brown beige suit with green accessories and corsage of Taliman roses. They will live in Peterborough.

Behave More Like Women To Be Effective: Sanders

LONDON, Ont., Jun 3—Women are going to be the deciding influence in Canada in the next 50 years, said Byrne Hope Sanders, speaking at a dinner of the National Council of Women Friday evening.

She believed that women are going to be effective because they are learning to behave like women, abandoning the conviction that aggressiveness and masculinity were necessary to be leaders.

"We have got to give a great deal more attention to the importance of politics," she declared. "And I don't just mean getting more women into parliament. I mean believing in and working for the dignity of the political life, and demanding the kind of laws and the kind of action we want by personal interest."

Resolutions Waste

Passing resolutions and forwarding them to political filing systems, Miss Sanders suggested, is so much waste. The personal interview, armed with facts and knowledge, and with women showing the same good sense and tact they show in their lives at home, would be far more effective.

More political argument at meetings and more women in municipal politics were other steps.

Economic good sense of women, she believed, could be used in two ways: They can help to fill the dollar-sterling gap by buying U.K. goods whenever possible, and by making it clear in homes that this is vital in Canada's self-interest, not just helping Britain.

They can also watch government expeditures, applying the same persistence and responsibility as in watching their own budgets.

But the most fascinating field of work for women, the speaker asserted, lies in women's work for women's happiness. She cited preparation for marriage to develop successful homes, and the real problems posed by the great increase in the number of married women working—not to be solved by moving resolutions urging that they be banned.

WMS Tops Million Not in Pace With Rising Costs

Announcing the highest annual receipts in the history of the Woman's Missionary Society of the United Church of Canada in 1949 —$1,015,006, Treasurer Mrs. J. R. Seaman warned that the increase in income, $74,130, "had not kept pace with the rising cost of maintenance in Canada and the seven overseas fields."

The year's financial statement was presented to the monthly executive meeting which has just concluded a three-days' sessions in Emmanuel College, as the regular annual meeting of the Dominion Board has been postponed until September, to coincide with the meeting of the general council and participate in its 25th anniversary observance.

Every conference branch across Canada showed an increase in their givings, said the treasurer. The sum of $55,934 was raised for gifts for building advance, a fund for special projects, which included new overseas personnel, cars for Canada and India, classrooms for a high school in Japan and a new hospital ward in India.

Report of the opening of three vacation schools in mid-May for evacuated children on Winnipeg beaches was received from Miss Dency McCalla on behalf of the Children's Work Committee of the Manitoba Conference, this having been made passible by an emergency grant of $800 from the society early in the flood period.

The Toronto City Council was commended by the meeting for proposed bylaw regarding discrimination

WMS workers from India, Africa, Trinidad as well as Canada presented reports on progress and needs in their areas

Mrs. James Laughland of Guelph was re-elected national president.

Margaret Beggs Bride Of James McIlvena

A pretty wedding took place Friday afternoon in Mark St. United Church when Margaret Hall Ingram, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Beggs, became the bride of Mr. James McIlvena, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Alex. McIlvena, all of Peterborough.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. B. S. Morwood and Mrs. Cecil Searles played traditional wedding music. Beautiful spring flowers decorated the altar and the guests' seats were marked with sprays of white lilacs tied with white bows.

The bride chose a dress of ice blue tissue faille and pearl grey accessories and wore a corsage of red roses and tiny white 'mums. She was given in marriage by her father and attended by her sister-in-law, Mrs. W. Beggs. A dress of dusky rose faille, navy accessories and a corsage of yellow roses were worn by the matron of honor.

Mr. Martin McIlvena was groomsman for his brother. Ushers were Russell Andrews of Oshawa and Douglas Butcher.

The reception following was in the church parlors. The bride's mother was assisting to receive, wearing a dress of Heaven blue sheer with navy accessories and a corsage of pink roses, and the groom's mother wore a navy ensemble with pink accessories and pink roses.

Immediately afterward the couple left on a motor trip to the United States. On return they will live at 166 Hunter St. E.

Of Interest to Women

DOROTHY DIX

Women Said Responsible For Most of the Divorces

"It's the women who are responsible for most of the broken homes," said a man the other day. "The fact that women are the petitioners in three-fourths of the divorce cases isn't just a gallant gesture on the part of men to give ladies what they want, no matter whether it is coming to them or not; neither does it mean that men are less satisfied as husbands than women are as wives. It simply means that a woman will throw a marriage into the junk pile just as she would a piece of china that was nicked or that she had got tired of, while a man will go on making it serve even if it has got a little cracked and he has sort of lost taste for it.

Dorothy Dix

"Perhaps the reason for this is that women have a more romantic ideal of husbands than husbands have of wives. Or it may be that women expect more of marriage than men do. Most likely it is because women have less idea of the binding nature of a contract than men have, so they have no compunctions about welching on one if it doesn't come up to all their fondest fancy painted. It is women who return things to the bargain counter if they decide that, after all, they don't want it when they get it home and give it the once over. But a man feels that he has to keep a thing that he has bought unless he has been cheated in the transaction.

Husbands Endure More.

"At any rate, wives won't stand for the things in their husbands that husbands meekly endure in their wives. Thousands of women, for instance, get divorces from their husbands because they are not good providers, but you never hear of a man getting a divorce from his wife because she isn't a good housekeeper.

"Women broadcast to the world what brutes their husbands are if they are surly and abusive, but you never hear the henpecked and nagged husband telling their woes. Women consider themselves martyrs if they are married to men who take them for granted and never show them any affection or tenderness, but the men who are married to the human refrigerators, and who spend their lives toiling to support women who never give them even a pat on the head, just charge it off to the profit and loss of matrimony, and say to themselves that if Maria's kisses are cold her coffee is always hot, and let it go at that.

"So if the matter were left to men, there would not be many broken homes. Having made their matrimonial bargains, they would stick to them. Marriage might not be all they expected of it; well, neither did that last batch of stock they bought go up the way they thought it would. Susie hasn't turned out to be the pin-feathered angel she looked to be during the days of courtship. Well, that's life. The show is never as good as the posters. Besides, every one has faults and we have to learn not to let other people's peculiarities get on our nerves.

"But women are not so philosophical in dealing with their husbands. They magnify every fault of their husbands and let their every peculiarity estrange them. They seem incapable of striking a balance and saying to themselves that while John isn't the hero of their girlish dreams, he is a mighty good provider, and that a wife can afford to overlook many minor defects in a husband who says it with charge accounts at the best shops.

Jealousy Brings Tragedy

"And it is women who break up the homes when their husbands do a little philandering, which generally is the last thing in the world the men intended to happen. Of course, you can't blame the wife for being jealous and feeling outraged and disgusted at seeing he husband making a fool of himself running after some girl young enough to be his daughter.

"But even so, it is she who turns a folly into a tragedy nine times out of ten. It is she who pulls down the house that would have sheltered her and her children in comfort to the end of her days by rushing to the divorce court.

"Mighty few men want their flirtations to end seriously. They don't want to be divorced from the wives they still love in spite of their own disloyality. They don't want their homes broken up. They don't want to be separated from their children. All they want is a little fling. They want to play hooky from domesticity, just as they used to play hooky from school. They want a second bite of romance, so to speak, and to be flattered into thinking that they are still devils among the women.

"And if wives could only realize that and meet the situation with a little patience and understanding and sense of humor, their wandering boys would come back to them to be spanked and kissed and forgiven. And thousands of wives would live comfortably in luxurious homes instead of starving on a little alimony, and millions of children would be saved from the blight of divided homes and being half-orphaned.

"For it is women who break up the homes."

Women to Blame In Unequal Rights

LONDON, Ont., June 3—(CP)—Women themselves are partly to blame for the opposition to married women working, was the decision of a group conference at sessions of the National Council of Women's annual convention.

Women take the traditional attitude that men are the wage-earners and therefore should have the highest salaries, and they criticize married women working, declared Miss Beatrice Brigden of the National Employment Service, Winnipeg.

She took a crack at the stipulation of the Unmployment Insurance Act which forbids a married, employed woman from collecting insurance six weeks before and six weeks after her child would be born, and cited cases of women putting the date of birth ahead and then, after the baby was born, continuing to juggle dates so that little insurance would be lost.

"The woman is not wanted by an employer, she can't get a job. Yet she must go those six weeks before a child is born without money," Miss Brigden pointed out.

The urge to oust the older woman—from 40 up—from employment was deplored by the conference. More pressure should be brought against governments for this practice, for it was felt they set the pattern and were followed by private firms

A country-wide pension scheme, controlled by the Federal Government, should counteract this, it was believed.

TV Effects

Television in time will have a greater effect on the ways of living than anything since the birth of the automobile age, T. J. Allard of Ottawa, manager of the Canadian Association of Broadcasters, predicted last night.

Taking part in a panel discussion of the National Council of Women convention, he said that TV even may replace some schools, "though it may not come in our lifetime."

On the other hand, film executive F. R. Crawley saw TV as a "passing flurry" which would affect movie attendance only temporarily. He granted though that in the next few years "we will be looking frantically for young people to fill television screens. We just won't be able to get enough of them."

Made History On Nipigon 1888 Canoe Trip

NIPIGON —(CP)— A man still needs a strong body and a cool head to travel by canoe through the wilderness of northwestern Ontario, where the advances of civilization have left no imprint on the white water and long portages.

Th difficulties and hardships of the canoe journey have decreased little since the summer of 1888—when a frail woman of 32 travelled the Nipigon river—a trip that would daunt many a man toughened by years of bush life.

Elizabeth Taylor, a soft-voiced, bespectacled little woman, had ambitions of travelling far down the Mackenzie River in the Canadian Northwest. The Nipigon trip was a tryout for the Mackenzie journey, which she took four years later.

13 Days in Bush

Miss Taylor, whose hometown was St. Paul, Minn., and whose father, James W. Taylor, was then American Consul at Winnipeg, spent 13 days in the bush country. Her companions on the trip to the mission included a missionary's wife, and Indian woman, the missionary's son and two Indian guides.

She ran the rapids with the Indians in canoes, braved fatique and blackflies on the portages, fished with a fly-rod and caught a trout. Towards the end of the return trip, she took a chill while crossing a lake during a storm, but recovered after the bushmen treated her with several slugs of whisky.

Later, she wrote to a friend in Connecticut:

"I am proud of the fact that I successfully accomplished the longest trip made by a fisherwoman on the (Nipigon) river at any time and saw the beautiful Lake Nipigon and the river from its head to its mouth. . . I had a perfectly beautiful time; I never spent a happier 13 days in my life."

"World Citizen" May Buy Castle As Headquarters

By HORACE CASTELL.

ROCCA SINIBALDA, Italy, June 3 — (Reuters). — A wealthy Boston-born woman has begun her plan to make this tiny village a world citizen centre by renting a huge medieval castle.

She is Mrs. Caresse Crosby, owner of the Washington publishers, Black Sun & Comapny, and a fervent "world citizen."

Her castle, built in the 16th century, rises from the top of a craggy rock in the centre of this poverty-stricken little village. Its 230 rooms have been sealed up for 30 years and bats swoop back and forth through its vaulted corridors.

Mrs. Crosby has said she is ready to buy the massive stone structure for 15,000,000 lire ($23,000).

Then, she said, she will turn it into the Italian headquarters of the world citizen movement. At the same time she plans to make the village Italy's first "world citizen village" and rename it "Rock of the World."

Mass Conversion

Her plans call for the mass conversion of the 600 peasants who live here, and she hopes to enlist the peasant woman in her "Women Against War" peace organization.

Slim, white-haired Mrs. Crosby, is a close friend of American "Citizen No. 1," Garry Davis, and was one of the earliest adherents of the "world citizenship" movement.

In Love With Castle

Last summer she came to Rocca Sinibalda, together with movie star Myrna Loy and Miss Loy's husband Gene Markey. She said she fell in love with the ancient castle and recently came to buy it.

The village sits on a dusty pile of rocks 100 miles from Rome, with fertile valleys falling away on all sides. Officials hope to convince Marshall Aid chiefs of the need to subsidize public works, such as increasing the water supply (which at present comes from wells and a sluggish, muddy stream), and bringing some industry to "The Rock."

Mrs. Crosby, who returned to Europe almost immediately after the armistice with Germany (She thinks she was the first American woman granted an entry visa by a European country after the war), said the world citizen movement can boast such adherents as writer John Steinbeck, scientist Albert Einstein, violinist Yehudi Menuhin, and British economist Lord Beveridge.

She herself is leader of a new allied movement of world citizens called "Women Against War," which she hopes to make the spearhead of the world citizenship movement.

In Rocca Sinibalda she is gathering the women of the village under her banner. She hopes they will sway local opinion — including the three local Communists—into making The Rock "The Rock of the World."

6—In Memoriams

BROWN—In loving memory of my dear wife, Mrs. Francis Brown, who passed away June 3, 1949.
One year has passed and gone,
Since one we loved so well
Was taken from our home on earth
With Jesus Christ to dwell.
The flowers we place upon her grave
May wither and decay,
But the love of her who sleeps beneath
Shall never fade away.
—Lovingly remembered by her husband and family.

BROWN—In loving memory of our dear mother and grandmother, Mrs. Francis Brown, who passed away June 3, 1949.
Take her in Thine arms, dear Lord,
And ever let her be
A messenger of love
Between our hearts and Thee.
—Remembered by Bert and Kathleen Rowe and family.

BROWN—In loving memory of a dear friend, Marie Brown, who passed away one year ago, June 3, 1949.
Her memory is as dear today
As in the hour she passed away.
—Sadly missed by Stella, Tom and Gladys.

DULMAGE—In loving memory of Edward H. Dulmage, who passed away June 4, 1948.
"Yet love will dream and faith will trust,
(Since He who knows our need is just)
That somehow, somewhere meet we must."
—Remembered by daughter Mabel.

DUVAL—In ever loving remembrance of my dear mother, Mrs. Mary Georgina Duval, the former Mrs. T. D. Park, who was called to rest two years ago, June 3rd, 1948.
She had a kindly smile for all,
Her heart was true and tender.
She toiled so hard for those she loved,
Then left us to remember.
—Dearly loved, deeply mourned by daughter Ivy and son-in-law Arthur

Peaceful be thy rest, dear grandma,
It is sweet to breathe your name;
In life we loved you dearly,
In death we do the same.
—Fondly remembered by her granddaughters, Sylvia Jeanette, and Sheila Geogina.

DUVAL—In loving memory of Mrs. Georgina Duval, who passed away June 3, 1948.
Just a thought of sweet remembrance,
Just a memory sad and true,
Just the love and sweet devotion
Of those who think of you.
—Remebered by her daughter Jean and son-in-law Chuck.

DUVAL—Georgina Mary Duval, who passed away June 3, 1948.
Peaceful be thy rest, dear mother,
It is sweet to breathe thy name,
In life we loved you dearly,
In death we do the same.
—Ever remembered by her daughter Enid, son-in-law Howard and grandchildren Ivey and Ronnie.

MARROCCO—In loving memory of a dear sister, Philomena Marrocco, who passed away June 3, 1938.
June brings sad memories
Of a loved one gone to rest.
She is often thought and longed for
By those who loved her best.
—Always remembered by her sister Lucy and brother-in-law George.

MEEHAN—In loving memory of Norman, who passed away June 3, 1946
He had a cheery smile, a pleasant way,
A helping hand to all he knew;
He was so kind, so generous and true;
On earth he nobly did his best,
Grant him, Jesus, heavenly rest.
—Always remembered by wife and daughter Ruby.

TYSON—In loving memory of a dear Philip, who passed away June 3, 1947.
Loving and kind in all his ways,
Upright and just to the end of his days,
Sincere and kind in heart and mind,
What a wonderful memory he left behind.
—Lovingly remembered by Myra.

SEDGWICK—In loving memory of Leonard G. Sedgwick, who passed away June 4th, 1949.
—Ever remembered by his wife and family.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

6—In Memoriams

SEDGWICK—In loving memory of a dear son and brother, Leonard Sedgwick, who passed away suddenly June 4, 1949.
"Remembrance keeps him near."
—Lovingly remembered by mother and sister.

TRIPP—In loving memory of Mrs. John Tripp, who passed away June 3rd, 1949.
One year has passed, dear Mother,
Since you were called away,
How well do we remember
That sad and weary day.
You suffered much, you murmured not,
We watched you day by day;
We cried and prayed that your dear life
Would not be taken away.
Oh what would we give to clasp your hand,
Your dear, kind face to see;
To hear your voice, to see your smile,
That meant so much to me
The happy hours we once enjoyed,
How sweet their memory still.
Your death has left a loneliness
This world can never fill.
—Fondly remembered and sadly missed by husband and family.

Too Much Work Ahead For City Hall Order

Book commitments of Peterborough Lumber Company will prevent them from supplying the mill work for the new city hall. This information was relayed to the board of works by J. H. Eastwood of Eastwood Construction Co.

As agreed in the contract for construction of the city hall, Mr. Eastwood was trying to have the mill work done locally. It was decided in the stage of letting the contract that as far as possible subcontracts and purchases of supplies would be done locally.

Peterborough Lumber Co. explained their position and asked that their quotation be withdrawn. No other lumber company in Peterborough has kiln facilities. The contractor consulted Marani and Morris, architects, and it was proposed that the mill work be obtained from Hill-Clark-Francis Co. of New Liskard.

The information from Eastwood Construction was received and approved.

28 Pastoral Changes Are Announced

A total of 28 settlements were listed Friday in the report of the settlement committee to the Bay of Quinte Conference's closing session at George St. United Church.

Only three will affect ministers in the Peterborough district. The Rev. Dr. James Semple will leave George St. United Church late this summer in an exchange with the Rev. Arnold A. Mathews of Trinity United Church, North Bay.

Replacing the Rev. W. N. Crandall at Bethany, Yelverton and Ebeneezer will be the Rev. James Hampson. Mr. Crandall's resignation was accepted Thursday by the conference. He said he could not agree with United Church doctrine on infant baptism.

Third district minister to be affected is the Rev. George Murray, of Keene, who will exchange with the Rev. H. B. Herrington, of Newburgh.

List of other settlements follows:

Marmora Wins

MARMORA, June 3—(ENS)—Marmora juvenile baseball team easily accounted for Campbellford at the Memorial Centre on Friday In their opening TVL fixture, by the score of 12-1. Owing to the rain, the game only lasted until the first of the sixth inning. The homesters had two new players augmenting their last season's team, James Hickey and Eldon Killian. The latter played last season for the north end juvenile team in Peterborough, sponsored by the Y's Men.

He got a two-bagger and a single besides fielding well at second. Drummond, last season's pitcher was in fine form, having 13 strike-outs to his credit. Ibey who started for Campbellford got into difficulties in the second and exchanged positions with McNaughton who was replaced by Rose in the fifth.

PAKISTAN REMEMBERS — Last year Arthur Brunton, Port Perry poultryman, shipped five dozen Rhode Island Red eggs for hatching to Pakistan's governor-general but didn't tender a bill. Replying to inquiries, he said he was glad to be of service. This week officials of the Pakistan Embassy in Ottawa invited Mr. Brunton to the city where he was entertained by them and presented with a solid silver tea service by Pakistan High Commissioner Mohammed Ali.

Gov't Jacks Duty On Strawberries

OTTAWA, June 3 (CP)—The Revenue Department Friday disclosed that it is increasing the tariff on imports of United States fresh strawberries and a horticultural council spokesman said it was done at the specific request of Canadian fruit and vegetable growers.

Effective Friday, American strawberries, which have been imported on an ad valorem duty of 10 per cent, will, instead, bear a specific duty of 1 3-5 cents a pound. The new rate will apply on shipments to all points in Quebec and Ontario, east of Port Arthur.

L. F. Burrows, secretary of the Canadian Horticultural Council, explained that the new rate will have the effect of protecting the Canadian market for domestic growers during the next six weeks when Canadian berries are being harvested and prepared for market.

At the end of the six-week period, the tariff on U. S. berries will be returned to the ad valorem rate.

Courses For Teachers To Learn New System

TORONTO, June 3 (CP)—Two special courses will be held this summer to prepare Ontario secondary and public school teachers for changes in the educational system slated to begin on a limited basis this fall, the Education Department announced on Friday. The courses will be held July 3-14 at Queen's University, Kingston and the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph.

Strike Plans Continue

FORT WILLIAM, June 3 (CP)—Union officials said Friday that plans for a midnight strike of members of the Seafarers' International Union (AFL) went ahead Friday pending instructions from union headquarters in Montreal.

An injunction granted Thursday in Toronto ordered the union not to strike against the Upper Lake and St. Lawrence Transportation Co. for at least four days.

Strike action was planned after the company refused to follow wage negotiations with a contract.

Irish Settlers

it all. A half-dozen working together sometimes chopped and burned an acre in a day, but as a general rule a settler was fortunate if he could clear 10 acres a year." Furthermore, the Irish emigrants did just about as well in Douro and Ennismore as they did in Smith and Otonabee among earlier settlers; the deciding factors were the distance to the market and depot at Peterborough, the state of the soil and the roads, the type of forest to be cleared, and of course their individual industry, rather than the example of morality, etc., shown them by their neighbours.

Earl in 1827 Peter Robinson was summoned to England to testify before a Parliamentary emigration committee about assisted emigration, to meet the criticism of English Reformers like John Bright. Robinson's Confidential Report to the Colonial Office "Emigration to Canada 1825" dated May 4, 1827, in his own handwriting, is preserved with other documents in the Peterborough Public Library Collection. He took with him to England a set of addresses signed by 52 Douro Irish, 34 Asphodel Irish, and 85 Irish from Emily, Smith and Ennismore, plus an address signed by 60 magistrates and other gentry of the district.

The Irish addresses were full of "our deep sense of gratitude to H.M. most gracious and bountiful government, and . . . how much of gratitude we owe to the Hon. Peter Robinson our leader our advicer our friend . . . " The magistrates and gentry were more restrained in expressing their gratitude for the Irish settlement, testifying to "the individual good character of the mass of persons composing that emigration . . .", and also hinting that they would be overjoyed to see more such government-sponsored emigration to fill "extensive tracts of excellent land unoccupied in the vicinity of the late settlements." But there were no more assisted emigrations of paupers from Ireland on the scale of the 1825 expedition, until after the famine 20 years later.

Vet Track Star Still Fast As Businessman

By FORBES RHUDE
Canadian Press Business Editor

It is 17 years since Lord Burghley hung up his track shoes but he seems to be moving as fast as ever.

For the Olympic hurdles winner of 1928 has packed into his 45 years the careers of athlete, soldier, politician, governor, business man, public speaker. And now he is cutting a growing figure in the British financial world.

His pace this year, in addition to his duties as director of several companies, has taken him to Scotland to be made rector of St. Andrew's University; to Pakistan as head of a British trade mission; to Copenhagen for a meeting of the International Olympic Committee; and this weekend to Canada to address the convention of the Investment Dealers' Association of Canada at the Seigniory Club, Que., June 7. He arrives at Dorval airport, Montreal, today, and will also visit Ottawa and Toronto.

Inherits Title

He was born David George Brownlow Cecil and carries the courtesy title Lord Burghley as the eldest son of the Marquess of Exeter to whose full titles he will, in normal course, succeed.

His friends know him as David Burghley and describe him as a "ball of fire," quick-thinking, quick - speaking, quick-moving who still almost runs across a room.

Says C. B. Cowley, native of St. Thomas, and for many years honorary secretary of the Canada Club in London:

"He is not only the best but the only extemporaneous speaker I have ever met who can be called upon without notice and make a connected speech on almost any subject."

He gave up an army career in 1929 to go into business in London and finished with competitive racing in 1933. He was member of parliament for the Peterborough division of Northamptonshire 1931-43, serving in that time as parliamentary secretary to two ministries.

Joined Guards

Early in the war he held a commission in the Grenadier Guards, but a snapped Achilles tendon caused him to be sent to the Ministry of Supply and Aircraft Production. In these duties, in 1943, he made a 44,000-mile trip, including a flight in a Lancaster bomber to Australia, via the Atlantic, Canada, and the Pacific.

Then, apparently with an eye on its relations with the United States, the British government sent him to Bermuda as governor and commander-in-chief 1943-45.

Since the war he has returned to the British business world and now is director of several companies, including National Provincial Bank, Ltd., British Overseas Airways Corporation, London and Lancashire Insurance Co. Ltd., Firestone Tyre and Rubber Co., Ltd., and A. C. Cossar, Ltd., radio firm, of which he is chairman.

He was chairman of the organizing committee for the Olympic Games in London in 1948; is chairman of the British Olympic Association; member of the International Olympic Committee; and president of the International Amateur Athletic Association.

Boy 10, Drowns

SMITHS FALLS, June 3 (CP) —Richard Flegg, 10, son of Mr and Mrs. Harold Flegg of Numegate, was drowned in the Kerfoot's stone quarry here Friday while swimming with some of his friends. Numegate is three miles north of here.

SECRET REVEALED—Viscount Alexander, left, has disclosed to the world that Canada is taking a back seat to no country in the development of guided missles and faster-than-sound jet planes. The Governor-General is shown inspecting a model of a North Star "Ice Wagon" used for aerial research, at the National Research Council laboratories where he made hte important disclosure. With him is J. L. Orr, NRC's low-temperature expert.

Basement Hall For Marmora RC Church

MARMORA, June 3—(ENS)—The contract for building of a new hall in the basement of the Sacred Heart Church, Marmora, has been awarded Joseph Rashotte of Tweed. The sub-contract of excavating has been let to Mr. Simone of the Port Hope Construction Company, who plans to commence operations about June 16.

The plans make provision for a large auditorium 90 feet by 40 feet, which will be completely free of any obstructions in the way of supports or pillars, since the upper floor of the church will be carried by steel girders.

A nuew heating system is to be installed, which will serve the dual purpose of heating the auditorium and the church.

The church, situated as it is on an elevation, lends itself in a way which will make the approach to the hall almost on ground evel.

Alexander, St. Laurent Lecture In Kingston

OTTAWA, June 3 (CP)—The Governor-General, Viscount Alexander, will give a lecture to the combined student bodies of the National Defence College and the Canadian Army Staff College at Kingston, Tuesday, army headquarters announced Friday.

During his stay at Kingston, the Governor-General will lunch with Gen. G. G. Simond, commandant of the two colleges. He will be accompanied by Lady Alexander.

Prime Minister St. Laurent will give a lecture at the colleges on Monday.

Collections Highest

TORONTO, June 3 (CP) — Highest annual receipts in the history of the Women's Missionary Society of the United Church of Canada were announced Friday by Mrs. J. R. Seaman, at the monthly executive meeting here. But she said the receipts of $1,015,006, an increase of $74,130, "had not kept pace with the rising cost of maintenance in Canada and the seven overseas fields. Mrs. James Laughland of Guelph, was re-elected national president.

Premier Frost To Open Three Hydro Stations

TORONTO, June 3 (CP) — Three new power generating stations will begin operations in June, Chairman Robert Saunders of the Ontario Hydro Commission announced Friday.

The stations are part of a program to provide the province with an additional 1,600,000 horsepower. Mr. Saunders said construction is running ahead of schedule.

Scheduled to open are:

Tunnel Station, near Thessalon, Ont., June 14; Pine Portage station, Nipigon, Ont., June 21; and Des Jotchims station on the Ottawa River, 35 miles north of Pembroke, Ont., June 28.

Premier Leslie Frost will attend opening ceremonies of each plant.

Plan Convention To Name Leader Of Ont. Liberals

TORONTO, June 3 (CP) — Completion of preliminary plans for an Ontario Liberal leadership convention is expected at meetings here June 17, secretary W. G. Hale of the Ontario Liberal Association said Friday.

The association's leadership committee, which has been surveying the field of possible candidates, meet today. It will report in the afternoon to the management committee, made up of some 60 members, which has the authority to set the date and place for a convention.

The provincial party leadership became vacant last September when Farquhar Oliver resigned after two years in the office. Mr. Hale said a contest for the vacancy is assured with contenders from the Ontario Legislature and the House of Commons and others not in either house. It is forecast that the convention will be held as soon as possible after the holiday season.

Mr. Hale said a general committee is drafting a policy for submission to the convention. It is headed by Colin Campbell, former Ontario Minister of Public Works.

Company Head Dies

TORONTO, June 3 (CP) — Word was received here Friday of the death in Montreal of Edward Foster, widely-known manufacturers' agent and president of a company bearing his name.

Mr. Foster was managing director of Tooke Brothers Ltd., prior to organizing his own business in 1911. He was also a director of Renfrew Textiles Ltd., Renfrew.

A native of St. Marys, he resided for many years in Toronto. He was a member of the Montreal Board of Trade, the British Textile Agents Association, the Commercial Travellers' Association, and the Engineers' Club.

Strike Ends On Salary Hike In United Press

NEW YORK, June 3—(AP)—The 33-day strike by teletype operators against the United Press was settled Friday on the basis of a $2.21-a-week general wage increase.

The Commercial Telegraphers' Union (AFL) agreed to send its 265 striking operators and maintenance men back to work at midnight Saturday.

The union said the company agreed to add $1.19 a week to the wages of operators who work before 7 a.m. or after 7 p.m.

The company did not reveal any figure but said it adjusted the night differential to match an agreement between the CTU and the International News Service.

In addition, the UP agreed to reinstate the union shop and to pay the operators $2 a month toward the cost of hospitalization.

The union said the package agreement added up to a gain of $3.90 a week.

The company did not estimate the over-all cost.

The UP said the settlement terms—except for the night differential—were the same as those turned down earlier in the week by the union.

Base pay before the strike was $90 for a 37½-hour week.

The union originally demanded a $15-a-week wage boost. They dropped this to $6.50 at one point in the pre-strike negotiations. The company's best pre-strike offer was an increase of $2.21 a week.

The operators walked out across the United States May 1. The United Press said it kept its service operating during the strike through the use of supervisory employees and some non-union operators.

GE Rejects UE Workers Demand

SCHENECTADY, NY, June 3—(AP). — The General Electric Company Thursday rejected a demand by the United Electrical Workers (Ind.) for immediate reinstatement of the union's contract at GE units where the union wo bargaining elections on May 25.

The company explained, however, that it has been "continuing voluntarily" provisions of the contract since April 1, when GE terminated the contract.

At the same time, the company agreed to meet with UEW representatives with a view toward negotiating a new contract.

GE had terminated its contract with the UEW April 1, pending settlement of a membership struggle between the UEW and the International Union of Electrical Workers (CIO). The IUE was formed after the UEW was ousted from the CIO on the ground that it was Communist-dominated.

Unofficial returns from the May 25 election show the UEW won 40 units in 29 communities, including the biggest units in Erie, Pa., and Schenectady.

Harwood Raises $27 For Winnipeg Victims

HARWOOD, June 3 —(ENS)—$27.22 was raised at a concert in aid of the Winnipeg relief fund, presented on Tuesday in the community hall.

Those taking part were a chorus from Harwood Public School, grades five and six, who presented a choral reading: Wayne Young, Sharon Hogg, Ronald Stevenson, Roger Kerr, Phyllis Issacs, Carmen Burrison, Ian Douglas, Helen Patch, Jack Minifie, Faye Murney, Rosalind Stephens, Patricia Zufelt, Pauline Drope, Edward Stephens and Miss Shirley Drope singing solos.

Patricia Zufelt and Pauline Drope played a piano duet, and Pauline Drope and Phyllis Isaac also played a duet.

Mrs. J. R. Meggs, who has been pianist for the school, was presented with a gift by Karen Butcher and an address was read by Mrs. Stillman.

Then followed a ladies' chorus by the Rice Lake group. Mr. Drope was chairman and Glen Hogg thanked those who had taken the students to the music festival in their cars.

Literary Awards To Six Authors, Three Repeaters

TORONTO, June 3 —(CP)—The mystery novel "Mr. Ames Against Time" has won for its author, Philip Child of Toronto, the Governor-General's literary award for fiction for 1949.

Announcement of the six annual awards was made by Franklin D. McDowell, chairman of the awards board of the Canadian Authors Association.

The award for creative non-fiction went to Hugh MacLennan of Montreal for "Cross Country." He received the fiction award in 1945 and 1948, with "Two Solitudes" and "The Precipice."

R. MacGregor Dawson of Toronto won the award for academic non-fiction for the second time in three years with "Democratic Government in Canada."

The poetry award went to "Red Heart and other Poems" by James Reaney of Winnipeg

The Leacock medal for humor was won by Earle Birney for "Turvey," a tale of army red tape and wartime fetishes.

Medal Given

For the first time, the juvenile class has been awarded a medal, rather than the citation previously given. This year's winner is R. S. Lambert of Toronto for "Franklin of the Arctic."

Dr. Child's "Mr. Ames Against Time" is a mystery story set in the environs of a theatre. The story also won the 1949 Ryerson fiction award. His "Day of Wrath" was a joint winner of the 1945 Ryerson award. A subaltern in the First World War, Dr. Child did newspaper and settlement work in New York and now is chancellor's professor of English at Trinity College. Aside from his four novels, including his Canadian historical romance, "The Village of Souls," he is well known for his many articles and his keen interest in literary affairs.

Roused Controversy

"Cross Country" is a collection of 10 of Dr. MacLennan's magazine articles. Born in Glace Bay, NS, he is one of Canada's best known writers. His articles and novels have provoked considerable controversy and secured him a large following.

Mr. Dawson's academic non-fiction award parallels his receipt of the award two years ago with "The Government of Canada." He is the author of many articles and several books on constitutional and political subjects. He is editor of the Canadian government series and professor of political economy at the University of Toronto.

"Red Hearts and other Poems" is James Reaney's first publication in book form, although his work is familiar to readers of poetry. He is lecturer in English and creative writing at the University of Manitoba.

Third Award

The award for 'Turvey" brings Earle Birney his third Governor-General award. He previously has received two poetry awards for "David and other Poems" and "Now is the Time." His novel is the story of Thomas Leadbeater Turvey, the common citizen-soldier of the Second World War. Mr. Birney is professor of English at the University of British Columbia.

Richard Stanton Lambert's "Franklin of the Arctic" was also named the outstanding juvenile of the year by the Canadian Library Association. Supervisor of school broadcasting for the CBC, Mr. Lambert is the author of many books of biography, sociology and radio, as well as adventure biographies for juveniles.

Presentation of the wards will be made June 30 at the annual dinner of the Canadian Authors' Association in Montreal.

Crown Corporation Has $400,000 Profit

OTTAWA, June 3 — (CP) — Operation of two Crown corporations—one a "deficit" undertaking, the other a thriving money-maker—was outlined Thursday before the Commons Public Accounts Committee.

The money-maker, reported the auditor-general, Watson Sellar, is the war-born Polymer Corporation Limited which operates a synthetic rubber plant at Sarnia. Mr. Sellar said he had no adverse comments to make on the operation of the government-owned company which is "improving all the time."

He told Gordon Fraser (PC, Peterborough West) that the corporation had a net profit of more than $400,000 in 1949 and that sale of goods in the United States and purchases from that country had resulted in "a net surplus of $3,000,000 in U.S. dollars."

But the auditor-general said he believed 'some improvements could be made in the way in which the deficit corporation—Canadian Arsenals Limited—reported in its balance sheet fixed assets originally costing $90,571,-113.

He suggested that the assets, shown only on a footnote on the balance sheet, might more appropriately be included at suitably depreciated values with other assets appearing in the report.

School Friends Bear Ken Madge To Grave

ROSENEATH, June 3 (ENS)—The funeral of Kenneth Madge, 21, was held today at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Madge, Fenella. The Rev. R. C. White, pastor of Fenella United Church, conducted the service, and pallbearers were former school friends: Elmer Sherwin, Heber and Elden Adams, Harland Elder, Mervin McNaught and Clare Harper. Many floral tributes were carried by former school friends.

Kenneth Madge was born June 3, 1928, at Fenella, the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Madge. He attended Fenella school and Sunday school. He died on Wednesday after a lengthy illness.

He is survived by his parents, two sisters: Mrs. O. J. Chiesa of Windsor and Miss Lois Madge of Peterborough; one brother, Anthony Madge of Baltimore.

Burial was in Bethany (Macklin's) Cemetery.

How Important Is This Man's "YES"?

D. R. THOMSON

He's the man whose "yes" helped to put an ambitious boy through medical school.

Another occasion, his friendly "yes" started a man in business and today that man's business is a growing, paying proposition.

And then there was the time his "yes" enabled a worried family to get from under a stack of unpaid bills and his friendly advice put that family's budget on a sound, secure basis.

This man whose "yes" has brought peace of mind to thousands of people by helping them get a fresh start is the manager of the Personal Finance Co. office in this city.

His job is to make personal loans, and to keep the transactions on a business-like basis. His years of experience with Personal have taught him to respect the honesty of local people—friends, relatives, or employer are not brought into the picture.

Don't borrow unnecessarily. But if a loan—for a month or a year, or longer—is the sensible thing for you (and you're the judge) the YES MAN will appreciate the chance to say "yes."

You can telephone him . . . or drop in to see him at the Personal Finance Company office. He says "yes" to 4 out of 5.

UAW Cancels Strike At Chrysler

Agreement Reached On New Contract, Get No Pension Plan

WINDSOR, Ont., June 5 — (CP) — Union employees of the Chrysler Corporation of Canada, Limited, voted this morning to accept a contract settlement between the company and Local 195, United Automobile Workers (C.I.O.). The agreement ended the threat of a strike called for 10 a.m. today.

The union announced that in a show-of-hands vote, employees at a meeting today ratified the agreement, forced in a marathon bargaining session which ended four hours before a 10 a.m. strike deadline for 3,600 Chrysler workers of Local 195.

The settlement, reached more than a year after contract talks first opened, gives employees a 10-cent-an-hour "package" increase.

The package includes a straight wage boost of six cents an hour and a company-paid hospital-medical-insurance plan which the union said is equal to four cents an hour.

No Pension Plan

The settlement does not include a pension plan.

It provides a two-year contract which can be opened after one year for new wage negotiations. Contract changes drop some of the penalties of the Rand formula dealing with union security and give arbitrators more freedom in settling disputes.

A company-paid pension plan was the chief aim of the union. It had asked for a $100-a-month pensions, and the company had offered to pay pensions of $55, but agreement could not be reached on funding or administration of the plan.

It was believed that the settlement would be formally ratified at a meeting this morning of the 3,600 Chrysler members of the UAW Local 195. They would have gone on strike at 10 a.m. if no settlement had been reached. Instead they left their jobs to attend the meeting, in the market building in downtown Windsor.

The final bargaining session which produced the new contract lasted from 10 a.m. Sunday to 6 a.m. today. It had been preceded by five days of negotiations.

The settlement ends a year-long contract dispute.

Germans Get More Industry

BONN, Germany, June 5 (AP) —The Allied High Commission turned control of the West-German chemical industry back to the Germans today except for products that could be used only for war purposes.

The Germans get control of some chemicals which can be used in war, but which also have peacetime uses.

The commission also scrapped many of the controls over the fine mechanics, optics and electronics industries.

Certain rocket fuel chemicals and poison war gases without peacetime uses will remain under allied control.

Nationalist Warship Shells Boat, Kills 6

HONG KONG, June 5.—(Reuters).—Six persons were killed today when a Chinese-owned ship, the 600-ton Cheung Hing, flying the British flag, was shelled by a nationalist warship outside the Chinese port of Amoy.

Reports reaching here said the six killed were believed to be passengers. One of the crew was wounded.

The ship, under her British captain, J. G. Skinner, was carrying 100 passengers from Amoy for Hong Kong, where she is expected tomorrow morning.

43-Inch Long Snake Moves In Bathroom

Unwanted Italian Visitor Prevents Household From Taking Baths

LONDON, June 5 (Reuters) —A dark green snake, 43 inches long, "squatted" in the bathroom of a London suburban house for 12 hours Sunday and kept the whole Lord family from having baths.

A policeman was sent for. Sceptically he poked a stick in a hole in the wooden panelling where the snake had made its lair. There was not even a hiss —so he left.

The zoo could not help—the duty keeper in the reptile house knew of no magic scent to lure snakes. Snake expert Bill Dash and snake charmer Denny Anderson from Sanger's circus also failed to catch the reptile.

Nor would it play ball when a man from the Royal Society For Prevention of Cruelty to Animals arrived with an iron pole with a running noose on the end to snare it.

Even a saucer of milk, a fresh egg, and chopped bacon placed in front of the hole failed to tempt the unwanted lodger.

It was not until late evening that the snake decided to come out. It ignored the bait and slid up a pipe. There it was captured and taken away to the zoo experts who identified it as Zamenisjugularis—a native of Italy.

Japanese Reds Beaten In Election Vote

TOKYO, June 5 — (AP) — Japan's voters, exercising their war-born governmental voice, apparently rebuked legislators who joined the April revolt against Gen. Douglas MacArthur in Sunday's election.

Incomplete returns showed they gave only sparing support in the House of Councillors' election to the dominant Green Wind Society which openly bucked MacArthur's occupation headquarters on a tax and reform bill.

This verdict and a continued anti-Communist trend were the outstanding factors after three-quarters of the 132 seats at stake were decided.

The Green Wind Society won only seven seats. Twenty-nine seats of its 71 plurality in the chamber were at stake.

One-Sided Race

Prime Minister Siheru Yoshida's and the Social Democrats continued to make a one-sided race for dominance.

The Liberals had 39 of the 96 seats already decided, the Socialists who showed the most surprising surge of influence had won 29. Thirteen Independents, two Farm Cooperative and one Farm Laborite were elected. No Communists have been successful so far. The Democratic party had only seven victories.

These results gave the Liberals a gain of two seats over those they had at stake in the campaign. The Socialists already had picked up a net increase of 12 seats.

The Communist-opposed Tokyo public works referendum appeared sure of approval. More than 419,000 voted for the project and 254,000 opposed it.

Four women were among the successful candidates.

Obtain Postponement Of Australian Trial

SYDNEY, Australia, June 5 — (AP). — Defence lawyers today obtained a postponement of Australia's last big war crimes trial against 95 Japanese on Los Negros Island in the Admiralties north of New Guinea.

The trial, scheduled to open today, was adjourned until Thursday.

The correspondent for the Sydney Morning Herald, said there was some belief that the Japanese defence counsel intends to use delaying tactics in the hope of putting off a verdict until after the signing of a Japanese peace treaty.

He said the Japanese probably believe that a peace treaty would quash the case and send all 95, charged with crimes against Australians, back home as free men.

RCAF Gets King's Color In Magnificent Pageantry

OTTAWA, June 5—(CP)—With magnificent pageantry, the R.C.A.F. was presented the King's Color by the Governor-General, Viscount Alexander, today in a display of military formalism not matched on Parliament Hill since the Royal visit of 1939.

At least nine of the 400 participating airmen collapsed and were carried off and another three were helped off the green lawns of the hill as the subdued excitement took its toll in the 75 minutes of pomp and precision.

Under cloudless skies about 10,000 persons stood three and four and five deep around the great, green lawns that provided a brilliant background for the ceremony, held on the official birthday of the King.

At one stage, as many as three airmen fell to the ground almost at once from the ranks that have been in training for weeks for the ceremony that saw not only an unprecedented presentation of the King's color to a Commonwealth air force but also the presentation of the color of the RCAF itself. The temperature was about 65 degrees but the sun was hot.

Carried Off

They were carried off on stretchers and the great show went on. Others fell to their knees and were helped off.

An RCAF nurse at one stage carried off an airman's bayoneted rifle.

A nurse said after the ceremony that none of the airmen was seriously ill. No official notice was taken of their departure. The show went on as though nothing had happened.

About half the 400 airmen participating were recently enlisted

The governor-general, ribbons and medals thick on the chest of his army uniform, told the airmen as he presented the colors to "keep them secure and stand ready to defend them from those who would do them and your country harm."

Great Significance

"The colors . . . will never serve as an actual rallying point in battle but have instead an even greater significance," he said as thousands listened. "They will serve as a visible commemoration of the sacrifices made by those thousands who gave their lives in the service of the Royal Canadian Air Force.

"They will serve as a token of the indomitable spirit shown by all those who served—and who continue to serve—in a young but proud service."

The ceremony, watched by cabinet minister, diplomats and members of parliament, was brilliant in music and pageantry

Its features included the sounding of the "Alert" and the royal salute by seven RCAF trumpeters using long, gleaming coronation trumpets brought from Egland just for the occasion.

Another was the carrying out of a "Feu-de-joie," the firing of three rounds, rifle by rifle, by the escort squadron of airmen with the trumpeters or the RCAF band playing between each round. Its climax was a royal salute.

Arrest Man 20 In Gold Theft

TIMMINS, June 5 (CP)—Provincial Police, convinced that three stolen gold bars valued at $25,000 each are still in the neighborhood, have tightened roadblocks around this Northern Ontario town.

Edward Clement, 20, a grinding-room employee at Delnite Mines, has been charged with breaking and entering the mine office where the gold was kept in a vault. He is held without bail pending a hearing tomorrow.

Search for the missing gold bars, three bars weighing 1,962 ounces, was carried out in the bush area near the mine. It was taken from the mine offices in a heavy safe that was removed from the company vault after a heavy explosion wrecked the vault door. The safe is still missing.

Officers were puzzled by the fact the vault explosion did not alarm the residents of the area early Friday morning.

Tire tracks indicated the safe with the gold had been carried off by truck and police said they believed three or more men were involved.

Japan Outlaws Communists

TOKYO, June 5.—(AP).—Japan's government has decided to outlaw the Communist party, Attorney General Ueda told Kyodo News Agency today.

The report followed a warning by Prime Minister Shigeru Yoshida Sunday that the action would be taken if there were further Red acts of violence.

Yoshida referred to an attack on five United States soldiers at a Communist rally last week.

Ueda said present laws are "inadequate" for dealing with the Communists.

"The basic policy of the government to outlaw the Communist party already has been decided on," Kyodo quoted him.

Yoshida in his statement described the attack on U.S. soldiers as at "politically-organized plot by the Communist party, aimed at causing unrest and panic in Japan and eventually deterring a peace settlement."

Truman Signs Aid Bill Says Big Boost To Peace

WASHINGTON June 5 (AP) President Truman signed the $3,121,450,000 foreign aid authorization bill today, calling it a "major contribution to peace and freedom in the world."

The measure authorizes five programs of world-wide aid, including funds for the third-year operation of the European Recovery Plan and a start on the "point four" proposal to develop backward areas.

"Taken together," Truman said of the five programs, "they add up to a broad, enlightened and typically-American enterprise in the building of a safe and prosperous world."

In his statement the President expressed special pleasure over the $35,000,000 fund approved for technical aid under the point four program.

He said it is an important step toward strengthening freedom and defeating "Communist imperialism," and expressed hope that Congress will soon pass a companion measure authorizing the government to encourage and support private investment in needy countries.

The measure's biggest authorization is $2,850,000 000 for carrying on the Marshall Plan in Europe for a third year. Other programs:

1. Aid to the free peoples of Korea, Southern Asia, and non-Communist China—$194,000,000. Of this total $100,000,000 is provided for the Republic of Korea.

2. Technical assistance to underdeveloped areas—$35,000 000.

3. Relief and public works for Arab refugees from Palestine — $27,450,000.

4. Continuing support for United Nations programs for child welfare—$15,000,000.

Find Canadian Girl Very Badly Beaten

SAN FRANCISCO, June 5 — (AP)—Mystery today shrouded the savage bludgeoning in the predawn of Sunday of a Canadian girl as she lay in bed.

The victim was Mary McIntyre, 25, formerly of Vancouver, an advertising agency secretary. She was in such critical condition that two homicide inspectors were assigned to the case.

Brain specialists removed a piece of skull pounded against her brain by blows from a blunt instrument. They said she had been struck at least three times.

Motive for the attack was not apparent. Doctors said she apparently had not been sexually assaulted. There were no signs of a struggle in her basement apartment. A wallet, containing possibly $15 or $20, was missing.

Takes 14 Days Rather Than Pay $10

House Hears Case As Diefenbaker Suggests Too Severe

OTTAWA, June 5—(CP)—The Commons today heard of the case of Mrs. Bessie Ellis-Reid, 58-year-old Ottawa widow, who served 14 days in jail rather than pay a fine of $10 and costs.

She was convicted last month at Shawville, Que., on two charges of violating wartime leasehold regulations and fined $5 and costs on each charge, with an eight-day optional jail term in each case.

Today, John Diefenbaker (PC—Lake Centre) suggested there had been "unnecessary harshness" in the case and asked Finance Minister Abbott for a report to the House.

The minister said Mrs. Ellis-Reid had been convicted of renting a $10-a-month housing unit for $13.40 and renting another $14 place for $17.

Refused To Pay

Mr. Abbott said the woman refused to pay the fine. He said inquiries by his department had brought the information that she would not pay "one dime" and that she considered the trial judge and the lawyers were crooked.

On her refusal to pay, there was no alternative but for her to serve the jail sentence.

The minister said she actually served 14 days, getting two days off for good behavior.

Mr. Diefenbaker declared his information was that the costs assessed against the woman had been $196, in addition to the two fines of $5 apiece.

Mr. Abbott said he did not have information on that point.

Follies Trio Killed In Crash

BEND, Ore., June 5 (AP) — A car carrying three members of the Ice Follies cast crashed into a rock pile shortly before dawn today, killing a dancer and a singer and injuring another member of the troupe.

Charles Davidson of Brantford, Ont., a star of the show, was killed almost instantly and so was Jeanne Crystall, of Brooklyn, N.Y., a vocalist.

Nancy MacKenzie of London, Ont., a member of the skating chorus, was seriously injured.

The three were driving from Portland to San Francisco after the Ice Follies completed its engagement in Portland. They were the car's only occupants.

Police were investigating to determine just how the accident occurred. They thought the lights of an oncoming truck might have blinded the driver so that the car veered into the roadside rock-pile, four miles north of here.

Demands City Break Hoodlums

HAMILTON, June 5 (CP) — Speaking of an outbreak of "hoodlumism" in Hamilton late Saturday night, Ald. C. Cline, of Ward Four, said today he would propose what might be called a "Special Citizens' Disciplinary Group" to cope with such cases.

The Alderman said he would discuss his proposal privately with members of the police commission.

While this was said by police to have been the first gang attack in several months, Ald. Cline said he knew of previous incidents in the west end in the York St. area which had not been reported in the press.

Inspector Walter Hagan, head of the detective department, said at noon today that two youths had been arrested for questioning in connection with the stabbing affray on King St. East at Sanford Avenue late Saturday night.

"We are conducting a complete investigation into the matter and intend to see that it is cleared up. Such nonsense cannot be tolerated on the city streets," said the inspector.

Bar Teen-Agers

TEANECK, N.J., June 5—(AP)—The manager of a Teaneck movie house has decided to close his doors to teen-agers, before they tear the place apart. The pre-teen age set will be admitted but teen-agers will have to be accompanied by their parents. The theatre has had fires set in it three times in the last three weeks. Police arrested a 15-year-old boy for the minor blazes. He was held for juvenile authorities after saying he set the fires "just for fun."

Police Posse Hunting Wild Gunman

NORTH BAY, June 5 (CP)—A police-led posse today pressed the hunt for Thomas Toohey, 24, of Kirkland Lake who faces a charge of wounding Joseph E. Colleaux of Malartic, Que., last Friday.

Colleaux, 38, was shot in the chest, neck and groin by a man he met in a local beverage room. While Colleaux feigned death his assailant escaped in Colleaux' automobile.

Toohey, a mine guard and former Vancouver policeman, was described as "dangerous." Police said he is armed with two .32-calibre revolvers, an automatic pistol and plenty of ammunition.

At Kirkland Lake, Toohey's 21-year-old wife Jean, said her husband will not let police take him alive.

"The only way he will give up is if his father is there or I am." She described him as "very, very sick."

Toohey was free on $500 bail at the time of the Colleaux shooting. He was charged with assaulting a policeman.

Colleaux's condition was reported "favorable" by hospital authorities.

Describes Assailant

The hunt for Toohey started after the wounded man had described his assailant. Police said that a scar on the attacker's forehead matched one that Toohey received recently in a motor accident. The weapons carried by the suspect had been stolen from his father, J. J. Toohey, captain of the guard at Wright-Hargreaves mine, according to police.

Ball Club Owner Dies

SYRACUSE, N.Y., June 5 (AP) —William F. Hofman, 65, owner of Syracuse Chiefs of the International Baseball League and former newspaper executive, died today. Hofman was found dead in bed by his wife. He attended a doubleheader here Sunday between his team and Jersey City.

Break Snow Record

KIRKLAND LAKE, June 5 —(CP)—Snow fell in Kirkland Lake early Sunday, breaking last year's record when the town had snow on June 2. The snow followed freezing rain, giving Kirkland Lake a belated touch of winter. The cold weather followed recent heat waves in which temperature readings touched 80 above.

Pro-Leopold Party Wins Belgian Election; Start Drive Restore King

Have Secured Margin Of Only Two Seats But Expect To Capture Control of Senate, To Strengthen Majority

BRUSSELS, June 5—(AP)—The Social Christian party, victorious in Sunday's Belgian parliamentary elections, embarked today on a program to bring exiled King Leopold III back to the throne. Enthusiastic party leaders predicted this will be accomplished by July 1, but leaders of the anti-Leopold opposition were not so sure.

The Social Christians, predominantly a Roman Catholic party, won 107 seats in the Lower House against 105 for the combined anti-Leopold forces of Socialists, Liberals and Communists. Ministry of the Interior officials said the Social Christians are sure to get control of the Senate, too. By law, only a majority of both houses sitting in joint session can end the regency of Prince Charles, Leopold's brother.

In Sunday's balloting the Social Christians won 54 of the 106 senate seats at stake. Ministry of interior officials said the party would get a minimum of 25 of the 46 seats which will be chosen by provincial councillors and at least 11 of the seats which the senators fill themselves. This would give pro-Leopold partisans at least 90 of the senate's 175 seats, or 197 votes to 190 in a joint session.

Social Christian strategy calls for formation of a government which can win a vote of confidence in both houses when they convene June 20. Then the senate and house would be summoned into joint session to end the regency and return Leopold to the throne.

May Upset Plans

But the ardently anti-Leopold Socialist party, which also made gains in the election, could throw a monkey wrench into the planning by calling general strikes and thus creating general unrest. The Socialists threatened prior to the election to follow such a course if Leopold is called back. The party's leaders were meeting today to consider a course of action in the light of Sunday's voting in which the Social Christians got only 46.9 per cent of the popular vote.

The Socialists could interpret this as indicating that slightly more than half of Belgium's population was still opposed to restoring the handsome, 48-year-old monarch to the throne.

Recover Rare Jewels Stolen From Statue

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica, June 5 (AP)—Costa Ricans have recovered the golden mantle and precious gems stolen May 12 from the statue of their sacred patron saint—the Virgin of the Angels.

Detective Chief Jorge Pacheco said the jewels had been recovered near Cartago, 20 miles southeast of San Jose, and that the alleged thieves had been arrested.

Estimates of the gems' value have ranged from $150,000 to nearly $1,000,000.

Midway Train Derailed, Blocks Street

CALLANDER, June 5 (CP) — One man was injured slightly on Sunday when 14 freight cars of a 20-car special Canadian National Railways train were derailed on one of this town's main streets.

The wreck blocked the road to the home of the Dionne quintuplets, nine miles south of North Bay.

The train was a special carrying only equipment of the Bernard and Barry midway concern. It was proceeding to Timmins where the show was to open today. Arthur Gagne, 22, of Conniston, near Sudbury, suffered shock and bruises. He was asleep in front of the open door of the car which carried the equipment of the side show he handled. The buckling car tossed him out of the open door and against a nearby fence, other midway employees said.

Railway executives could give no immediate reason for the mishap.

Everyone Scampers

Three Callander girls were waiting at the crossing to allow the train to pass. They backed up slightly, one said, when the approaching train seemed to be accompanied by an unusual "grumbling or growling" sound.

Suddenly as the train passed by cars started buckling right in front of them. They scampered. And immediately, monkeys scampered out of a car and played atop the overturned midway cars. None tried to escape. They hurried to their keepers when the latter appeared.

Main damage appeared to be rolling stock and the rail bed. Midway equipment suffered only minor damage.

Youth Stabbed By Teen-Agers

HAMILTON, June 5 (CP) — Stabbed in the chest during a street-corner brawl, 20-year-old Gerry Aitkin missed death by inches when he was attacked by a 'teen-age gang Saturday night.

After a night in hospital he was allowed to return home Sunday. Police said that one of three young hoodlums plunged a knife into Aitkin, the blade narrowly missing his heart.

Golfer's Slice Costs Him $924.39 In Supreme Court

NANAIMO, BC, June 5 (CP)— A bad slice on the golf course cost Charles Skittles $924.39.

The crux of the case was this: Are you supposed to yell "Fore" before you shoot or after your golf ball has started an erratic course from the clubhead?

The whole thing started a year ago on the nearby Qualicum Beach Course. Mrs. Doris McLaurin of Kelowna, BC, was hit in the face by a golf ball. It fractured her cheekbone.

Skittles said it was his slice that was to blame. He was driving home from the eighth tee while Mrs. McLaurin was playing the adjoining practice fairway.

Mrs. McLaurin asked $300 special damages and unstated general damages. She said the practice in golf was to shout the warning "fore" when another player was in range of a shot. Mr. Justice Norman Whittaker, in a judgment handed down on Saturday, agreed with her. He awarded her $174.39 for medical bills and $750 for unstated damages.

When the case was heard in Supreme Court here late in March, Mrs. McLaurin said Skittles had played his shot first and then had shouted his warning. She said she had not assumed the risk of being injured by going on to the course and there were no precautions she could have taken.

Skittles said the woman had not been in his "line of fire." When he had seen the ball slice and veer to the right, he had shouted a warning.

Skittles' drive travelled about 130 yards before it struck Mrs. McLaurin.

Armed Man Runs Wild Kills 2, Wounds Three

PORT OF SPAIN, Trinidad, June 5 (AP)—An armed man ran wild in the British West Indies Airways office here Saturday, shooting the assistant British trade commissioner and a young woman employee to death and wounding three other persons before committing suicide.

The gunman was identified as Gwaltemente Franco, 44, former member of the disbanded South Caribbean regiment.

The dead, in addition to Franco are Frank Doy, assistant British trade commissioner, and Marie Stevenson, 26, secretary to the personnel officer for the airline, to whom Franco had applied for a job.

Women in the building screamed and scrambled through open windows to precarious ledges during the shooting. One jumped 20 feet to the ground.

Lava Menaces Villages, New Eruption

Report Sea Boiling Mile Off Shore As Lava Pours Down

HONOLULU, June 5 —(AP) —Mighty Mauna Loa, continued its greatest eruption of the century today, spewing a lava flow toward the sea that endangered 35 homes and a resort lodge area.

Police at Kona, a village on the big island of Hawaii, said all residents of the endangered area had been evacuated. The new flow began about nightfall and raced at breakneck speed toward the sea. The lava's path transcends the southwest slope where the second and third flows of last week tumbled into the Pacific.

On the other side of the volcano foreman Ernest Morton, of the Kahuku Ranch, said the flow there seemed to be dying out.

The new lava stream coursed down the southeast flank, threatening buildings on Kahuku Ranch and the villages of Kau, Naahilu and Waiohinu. These are located on southeast Hawaii Island which is about 200 miles southeast of Honolulu.

For the fifth straight day, rivers of red-hot rock curled down the southwest slope, burned black paths through forests and green fields and boiled viciously into the ocean. These fiery streams already have consumed homes of 40 persons along the rich southwest Hawaii Kona coast and forced another 60 persons to flee.

"It's a tremendous flow—the greatest volume of this century," said volcanologist Ray H. Finch.

Along the southwest coast, Sunday spectators walked over the top of the lava stream that had cooled. But two other rivers of molten rock tumbled into the sea, churning the waters to scalding temperature and throwing up vast clouds of steam.

Volcanologists estimated the Pacific was boiling as much as a mile off shore.

Sick Only One Day Monkey At Zoo Dies

Bobo is dead. The filtration park zoo's prize monkey died last week.

He had been sick only a day, but park officials were unable to save him.

However, there is still one at the zoo. The monkey which was caught in the Beaver Lumber Company yard May 22 was taken to the filtration park. It was believed to have escaped from a carnival which left town May 20.

Superintendent of the filtration plant, James Harrison, said he thought Bobo might have caught some disease from the new monkey, but no one really knows what killed him.

Dr. W. E. Wilson Of Hastings Dies

HASTINGS, June 5—(ENS)— Dr. William Edgar Wilson, who was reeve of Hastings 1928-1931, and a member of the Hydro Commission for 15 years, died on Sunday in Peterborough hospital, at age of 80.

Born in Percy township, Dr. Wilson lived at Hastings 59 years and was a dentist by profession. He was widely known for his service in the community and it was during his term of office as reeve, that the hydro was put in at Hastings.

He was the husband of Margaret Cook, and his brother is Frank Wilson of Percy township.

Dr. Wilson was an elder of the Presbyterian Church at Hastings. The Rev. J. M. Ritchie will conduct the funeral service on Tuesday at 2:30 at Dr. Wilson's home and burial will be in Warkworth cemetery.

Surprise Shower For Bride-to-Be

ROSENEATH, June 5 (ENS)— Miss Mavis Thackeray, Cobourg, a bride-to-be was guest of honour at a kitchen shower on Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Ivan Thackeray.

Forty ladies of the neighborhood assembled at two o'clock bringing their gifts, and were welcomed by the hostess and ushered into a reception room daintily decorated with wedding bells, pink and white streamers and tulips. Completely taken by surprise the bride-to-be arrived to the strains of Lohengrin's bridal chorus and was showered with confetti by her friends, followed by community singing "I'd rather be Mrs. than Miss". Appropriate readings were given by Mrs. Delbert Brisbin, Mrs. Harold George and Mrs. Charles Sandercock.

The bride's hope chest and trousseau were displayed to the guests. The bride-to-be expressed her thanks to the guests for the gifts.

Lunch was served by the hostess. Miss Thackeray is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Thackeray, Roseneath.

Pro-Leopold

Social Christians were reported planning to form a new government immediately with the premiership going to Jean Duvieusart, present Minister of Economic Affairs and known as a moderate in the party ranks.

Biggest Gain

Ex-Premier Paul Henri Spaak's Socialists made the biggest single gain in Sunday's election. They won 78 seats, a gain of 12 over their previous strength.

The Social Christians gained only two seats over their strength in the previous House of Representatives—climbing from 105 to 107—but the gain was enough to ensure control of the lower chamber.

Anti-Leopold - Liberals and Communists dropped several seats to the Socialists and Social Christians.

Unofficial returns on the popular vote for the House of Representatives:

Social Christians 2,354,975 — 46.93 per cent.

Socialists 1,784,967—35.57.

Liberals 557,019—11.10.

Socialist-Liberal joint list 87,171—1.74.

Communists 234,325—4.66.

Total valid votes cast were 5,018,467 of which the combined anti-Leopold parties polled 2,663,492.

Say Atomic Edge Halts 3rd War

By MAX BOYD

WASHINGTON, June 5 (AP)— United States military planners are sticking to the belief that an American edge in atomic weapons can prevent a third world war.

If one does come, they feel such a head start would play a major role in achieving victory.

But in conversations with a reporter they made clear they do not think atomic superiority will make defence cheap or easy.

They believe that new tactical atomic weapons—weapons usable against troops and their lines of communications—hold the key to a defence setup which the west can achieve without spending beyond its means.

Third Variety Night Presented By School

FAIRVIEW, June 5 (ENS) — The third annual variety night presented by the teacher, Mrs. Gloria Robertson, and her pupils at schoolhouse No. 4, Smith, was a marked success and was given before a full house. The school was decorated with streamers, tulips and lilacs.

Harold Smith was chairman for the following program: rhythm band by grades one and two with piano accompaniment by Barbara Mann and led by Betty Northey; play, Time Machine;" The Minister's Mistake, and Tom Sawyer; Milk maid drill with Anna Northey at the piano; and community singing led by Mr. Quirt McKinney.

Mrs. Robertson gave a talk on the new curriculum for schools; Henry Sharpe expressed appreciation of the work accomplished by Mrs. Robertson and she was presented with a gift from the pupils and parents by Joyce Northey and Billie Gilbert.

Door prizes were drawn by Franelda Gibson and Mrs. Northey and were won by Mrs. E. Bulmer and Franelda Gibson. Terry McKinney received the door admission. A large number of articles were on display made by the pupils in the manual training classes, supervised by Mr Poole. Clarence Mann announced that the Fairview Farm Radio Forum bus trip to Guelph during Farmer Week would be on June 14. Lunch was served.

Head-on Crash Occurs In Front Of Fire Hall

Two cars crashed head on in front of the Fire Hall on Aylmer St., Saturday, but no one was hurt.

G. E. Carruthers, 212 Brock St., told police he was driving north on Aylmer St. He said he passed a car and found himself face-to-face with another car, driven by Raymond Girard, 280 Prince St.

Leaves Insulate Minnows Keeps Them Cool and Apart

HALIFAX, June 5 (CP)—Fishermen here disagree with an Ontario claim of a new way to ship live minnows.

A news story Saturday told of minnows being shipepd from here to Peterborough, Ont., in a box filled with dry oak leaves instead of the usual water bucket.

The method was hailed as something new, but urchins and grampas in Nova Scotia have been doing it that way for at least 30 years.

But just why do the minnows survive when packed in crispy leaves? Oddly enough, it was an Ontario-born expert who came along with the answer.

Dr. S. A. Beatty, native of Tweed and director of the fisheries experimental station here, declared:

"The leaves insulate them—keeps them cool and apart. They allow the air to circulate. There is nothing in the leaves as such to keep the fish alive—not any more than there is in old, dirty rags."

Bad news for inland anglers came from Bev Piers, manager of Cleve's Sporting Goods Limited, which shipped the bait. Piers declared the type of minnow found here is especially hardy. He does not think Ontario minnows could be shipped the same way—they couldn't stand the changes in temperature and foreign surroundings.

Piers was highly indignant that only one minnow—tagged Herkimer—of the 12 shipped to Peterborough was still alive. Herkimer was a feature attraction, in a goldfish bowl, at the Sportsmen's Show there. The shipment was made to settle a bet that it could be done.

"The minnows couldn't have been packed right," Piers snorted. "Give me enough leaves and I'll send minnows by the thousand to Vancouver or anywhere else. They'll last six days and perhaps longer in a cool place."

Regarding Herkimer, Piers says: "If he is kept long in the goldfish bowl without frequent changes of salt water, he will die from want of oxygen." Everything must be just right.

Reds Seize Turbines

VIENNA, June 5 (Reuters). — Yugoslav sources in Vienna alleged today that Russians confiscated and sent to Russia the giant turbines ordered by the Yugoslav Government from the Russian-controlled firm of Voith in St. Polten, Austria. The Russians, they said, have also forbidden the dispatch of another Yugoslav order, now ready to be delivered by way of the Danube to Yugoslavia.

Concert Violinist Mrs. P. Copeman Dies

TORONTO, June 5 (CP) — Mrs. Percy Copeman, concert violinist, music teacher and radio soloist, died Friday.

Mrs. Copeman, the former Margaret Cross of Vankleek Hill studied at the Ottawa Conservatory of Music and in Europe.

In 1914, after three years in Europe, she was interned by Austria. Her release was arranged by the late Sir Joseph Pope, Canadian undersecretary for external affairs. As one of the first to return from enemy territory in the First World War, she received widespread attention in the press.

In subsequent years Mrs. Copeman gave violin concerts under vice-regal patronage.

She is survived by a son, Dr. William Copeman of Smooth Rock Falls, Ont.

2-Storey Farmhouse Destroyed By Flames

WINCHESTER, June 5 (CP)— Fire Sunday destroyed a two-storey frame farmhouse, owned by Mirrill Tayler, two miles west of this town. Damage was estimated at $15,000.

The fire was believed to have started from a wood-burning stove. Neighbors on their way to church formed a bucket brigade to help control the blaze which for a time threatened neighboring homes.

Winchester is about 30 miles south of Ottawa.

Flood Fund Continues To Mount Locally

The flood fund continues to grow. Citizens of the city and district, shocked by newspaper pictures and newsreels of the flood and fire damage to Winnipeg and Rimouski, have dug deep into their pockets.

Subscriptions total $14,000— collected by The Examiner, CHEX, the Mayor's Fund, religious associations and labor unions.

Service clubs have donated generously, some of them sending funds directly to their corresponding clubs in the two stricken areas.

Contributions of $2 and more will be acknowledged in The Examiner. Cheques should be made out to the Manitoba Flood Relief Fund, or the Rimouski Fire Fund. Send them "Care of The Examiner, Peterborough".

These are two of Saturday's donations:

Previous contributions	$3,435.95

Churchill Says Baldwin Great Adversary

ASTLEY, Worcestershire, England, June 5 — (CP). — Winston Churchill regards the late Stanley Baldwin as the "most formidable" politician he has ever known.

Churchill paid tribute to the Conservative Prime Minister of the inter-war years, who died December 14, 1947, in a speech at a memorial ceremony.

"Here was a statesman," said Churchill, "who over a long period of years exercised a remarkable personal influence upon British politics and British fortunes.

"In domestic policies he was one of the most capable leaders you could have found for many generations."

Churchill said Lord Baldwin of Bewdley achieved two notable triumphs in his 1924-1929 administration. One was in foreign affairs, where he "sustained" Sir Austen Chamberlain in negotiating the Pact of Locarno. The second was in steadily improving the living standards of the British people.

As for Baldwin's second administration, starting in 1931, Churchill said his old Chief was overwhelmed by a series of foreign and military events with which he was not specially fitted to deal.

"As I was his chief critic upon these issues, I have a right to declare here and now that his courage and patriotism did not fail. Although the tragic course of events belied his judgment not all who now claim superior wisdom foresaw what was approaching."

Two Trenton Bands Take First Place

GUELPH, June 5 (CP) — RCAF bands from Trenton station took first place in two classes at a military tattoo here Saturday.

In the bugle and drum competition, Trenton scored 177 points out of 200 to win the senior division. Trenton also won class two of the senior open competition.

Queen's Own Rifles of Toronto won first in class one and class three of the senior open. Prescott Scout House Band won the junior bugle and drum, and classes four and five of the open.

No Clues Uncovered

TORONTO, June 5 — (CP) — A five-hour search by nearly 400 volunteers Sunday failed to uncover any clues in the week-old disappearance of Mabel Crumback, pretty 19-year-old who disappeared from her home in York Township late last Sunday. The girl's father, Sheldon Crumback, believes she was enticed away and foul play is feared.

VICE PROBE — Pacifique (Pax) Plante, dismissed two years ago as assistant Montreal police director on charges of insubordination, is a key figure in a petition for a probe into municipal and police activities in Montreal. This photo shows him in superior court awaiting the arrival of Associate Chief Justice O. S. Tyndale, who handed down a judgment ordering an investigation next Sept. 1.

Retrial Of Wm. Yuzwa To Wait Fall Assizes

LINDSAY, June 5.—It now appears that there will be no special trial for William Yuzwa before the regular fall assizes in November, according to Crown Attorney Lorne Jordan. Yuzwa is being held in the Victoria County jail, charged with the November 18 slaying of Jack Loucks on Lindsay's main street.

Yuzwa's counsel, B. J. Spencer Pitt, announced a few weeks ago that he was making application to the chief justice for a special trial, saying he wished to avoid, if possible, having his client held in prison for several additional months waiting for the regular sittings.

When Yuzwa appeared at the spring assizes held in February, the jury could not reach a verdict, and consequently the case was set down to be heard again this autumn. With the next assizes scheduled for November, this means that trial will take place a full year after the offense was committed.

Mr. Jordan explained that the special trial would have been held before the summer vacation, but since he has received no notification of it, he believes the case will not be brought up until the fall.

Small Boy's Face Cut When 2 Cars Collide

A small boy had his face cut and considerable damage was done to two cars in a collision at McDonnel and Reid Sts. Saturday.

The three-year-old boy, Brian O'Donnell, 719 Donegal St., was riding with his father, Fred O'Donnell, and mother.

O'Donnell, driving south on Reid St., met in collision with a car driven by Richard Hope, 215 Hunter St. W., travelling north and making a left turn into McDonnel St.

The windshield, left front fender, and left front headlight on the O'Donnell car were all damaged. The Hope car had a crumpled right front fender and a damaged front bumper.

15 Little Pigs

CAMPBELLFORD, June 5—(ENS)—Reg. P. Seymour of Seymour township, near Campbellford, has a sow of which he is mighty proud. Seven weeks ago Saturday she gave birth to 15 little pigs.

Today, all 15 are alive and healthy and ready to be weaned. Mr. Seymour says this is by far the best luck he has had in raising pigs, and believes it is a record for the district.

The pigs weighed a total of 510 pounds on Saturday and Mr. Seymour intends to wean them right away. He markets about 175 to 200 pigs every year and usually ships them when they reach a weight of about 200 pounds.

He maintains a pig is one of the cleanest animals if looked after. They will keep themselves clean if you keep their pen clean, he says.

Mr. Seymour started farming at his present location about four years ago, prior to which he worked for the Bell Telephone Company in Peterborough.

Writer Impressed By Visit To St. Paul's

By FORBES RHUDE
Canadian Press Business Editor.

A few printed words in a simple black frame are perhaps the most impressive of all things that one can see on a visit to London.

You see them as you enter St. Paul's Cathedral, and they say:

"As you go around this great cathedral and when you are thinking of your visit to it, of all that your eyes have seen of its splendour and its beauty, of the memorials to men famous in the history of their country and yours which find a place in it, remember that it is first and last a House of God, and that in it, and in the cathedrals which stood on this same place before it, prayer and worship has been offered to God for more than 1,300 years."

It may have been the mood of the moment, but the words seemed to bring alive all the people who had stood in that spot through the centuries.

London is full of memorials and of old places, but some of them may give the feeling of dead hands out of the past rather than living hands pointing towards the futures. There is something of the vanity of human wishes in them.

St. Paul's Different

St. Paul's seems different; it rises above everything.

Every one remarks on the "Miracle of St. Paul's," which is its survival through the war years.

There was another thought in St. Paul's, and it was of the grim possibilities the world faces.

I had thought I had detected in Britain a certain sadness at what an atomic war could bring to this land which had been able to defend itself against all else through centuries.

In the last war St. Paul's survived. If it had been destroyed it would have been a national sorrow, but it would have been rebuilt, and the sacredness of the site would have remained.

Crowds See MacMillan Wins Outboard Race

CAMPBELLFORD, June 5 — (ENS) — Hector McMillan of Campbellford won the open class outboard race held at Consecon by the Consecon Outboard Club on Sunday afternoon. He was presented with a trophy before one of the largest crowds to attend a regata in the community.

Cars were lined three and four deep the entire length of the beach.

Mr. MacMillan, whose hobby is outboard racing, has won many cups at regattas in the district. The water was quite choppy in the strong winds. He plans to attend the regatta to be held at Crystal Beach in Madoc on Sunday next.

Fund Gets $1,741 For Disaster Victims

MEAFORD June 5 (CP)—Contributions totalling $1,741 were forwarded last week to the Manitoba and Quebec relief funds by the Ontario Creamery Association, as an initial contribution to the funds.

Collection is being made through the office of the association here on a suggested basis of the cash equivalent of 50 pounds of butter from each creameryman of Ontario, to be divided equally between the fire victims of Rimouski and Cabano in Quebec and the flood sufferers in Manitoba or otherwise as desired.

The Manitoba fund received $1,045 in this week's remittance and the Quebec fund $696.

Bach Concerto Series Climax

Two outstanding Peterborough musicians, Agnes Logan Green, pianist, and Christopher Gledhill, organist, paid tribute to the genium of Johann Sebastian Bach Sunday evening in their playing of the master's great keyboard concerto in D minor. It was the last in a series of Sunday evening programs carried out by Mr. Gledhill in St. Paul's Church in observance of the bicentenary of Bach's death.

Mr. Gledhill began the organ program with the prelude and fugue in B minor, and followed with the free and expressive prelude and fugue in A minor. Then came the D minor concerto with its poignant and lovely second (adagio) movement and its contrasting brilliant third and final movement. The Busoni piano enlargement was used. It was a signal performance, and the first time this work has been heard in Peterborough. Mrs. Green has played the concerto before the war with Dr. Charles Peaker (sometime organist of Knox United Church in Peterborough) at Eaton Auditorium, Toronto, and with Godfrey Hewitt, of Christ Church, Ottawa.

Mr. Gledhill closed the program with Bach's last work, written when he was ill and blind, and could only dictate his composition: In Direst Need, an exposition of an old chorale.

"My right to rule not an Empire but my own life had been challenged"

In the Standard this week, the Duke of Windsor tells of receiving an urgent message. It was to begin the big crisis of his life. It begged him to avoid a clash with the Government, by having Wallis Warfield Simpson go abroad.

Stunned, hurt and angry at this suggestion, he was quickly aroused to meet this challenge — and in his own words he dramatically describes the storm that broke around their private lives.

Never before has the life of a king been so fully, frankly and intimately recorded — this week in The Standard!

Hospital Site And Fabric

Once again the sun shone on a Civic Hospital ceremony, when crowds attended on Sunday the dedication of its chapel of retreat. Peterborough has to thank the women of the Silver Cross organization (wives and mothers of men killed overseas) for the quiet beauty of the chapel furnishings and memorial window. The new hospital is not quite ready for occupancy and full inspection. But in a few weeks the building will be open to the public who can then see it in its entirety.

* * *

It is sometimes thought that Peterborough cannot build grandly or with vision. This building and its siting give the lie to the assumption. The Board of Governors of the hospital, whose chairman is Mr. John R. Marshall, other civic officials, and the people who are the taxpayers, have built proudly and well. The design of the hospital fabric—its exterior, at any rate—may be a bit stodgy, somewhat uninspired and not remarkably touched by the winds of modernity. There is no grandiloquent use of brick, nor of glass; no inspired employment of suspensions in the modern Swedish, Dutch or American manner. The building may appear heavy, from its stolid compromise between brick and windows. But the best of modern design has gone into the interior and equipment, and perhaps that is as it should be. A hospital is primarily for use, not for the eye.

* * *

The siting of the hospital is magnificent. That is not too strong a word to use. As long as the building lasts, people and patients will praise and be thankful for the vision of the men who chose this site. It gives an exalted view, and their vision has been pregnant.

* * *

This new hospital and its situation seem to express the aspirations and kindliness of the people of Peterborough and its district who built it. Here is their desire to succour the sick, to comfort the afflicted, to heal the wounded, and to usher little infants into the world with gladness and lovingkindness. Here is their longing to lift the heart and to exalt the spirit, to rise above the commercial and industrial world which lies below in the middle distance, the city chimneys cloaked by verdant foliage, church spires rising from undistinguished streets, and beyond on the wide horizon, undulating, lush land and blue-green hills:

Unto the hills around do I lift up
My longing eyes;
O whence for me shall my salvation come,
From whence arise?

* * *

The hospital has been built at great cost. But what are dollars and cents in time-rolling years? The heart of Peterborough is revealed in this new group of buildings and their eminence. If it is possible for humans to build better than they knew, have not we of Peterborough so built? In this day, let us not count the cost. Let us be thankful, and proud. A vision has been realized. The new hospital is a splendid expression of our stature, our magnanimity, our hope and our faith. The concourse attending the dedication of the chapel yesterday testify the sincerity with which the hospital has been built.

Fiction Readers At P.C.V.S.

We are interested in the news that the students of P.C.V.S. have borrowed 12,348 books from their school library during the past academic year. Of the books borrowed, 5,245 were works of fiction. It is curious how, as time wears on, fiction loses some of its enchantment. But fiction is the best introduction to reading, and it is excellent in itself.

We have not much time for people who complain that fiction forms the bulk of most people's reading. Why shouldn't it? We all like to be told stories, and there is more to be learned about life from a good story than from many a volume which essentially unbookish people would call "serious." In this connection we recall the anger of one of the greatest of fiction writers, Jane Austen, when somebody referred to a book in her hearing as "Only a novel." In her scornful description of this incident (which she later worked into a novel of her own, Northanger Abbey), she described a novel as "a work in which the greatest powers of the mind are displayed, in which the most thorough knowledge of human nature, the happiest delineation of its varieties, the liveliest effusions of wit and humour are conveyed to the world in the best chosen language." She was, of course, speaking of novels of the better sort; fortunately there are a great many of them.

It is good news that so much reading is being done at P.C.V.S. It is quite impossible to learn in class all the things which one needs to know in order to live happily and wisely. But these things can be learned from books ——by people who are capable of learning them at all.

Tie Bout In U.S. Witch Hunt?

Larry Adler, famous harmonica player, and Paul Draper, well-known dancer, had been billed to appear at a concert in Greenwich, Connecticut. Mrs. John T. McCullough, housewife, objected on the ground that both performers were pro-Communists. The two men promptly brought suit for $200,000, and in charging the jury Federal Judge Joseph T. Smith said: "In the present climate of this country there can be no question that to charge a man with being a Communist or pro-Communist or traitor does hold him up to ridicule and contempt."

When a climate such as that referred to by Judge Smith is in the main the product of natural reaction, it is unpleasant enough. It may be understandable, since people are learning to realize that a member of a Cominform-ruled political group is a potential traitor. Yet the U.S. Communist Party, as such—and the Canadian—are still legal. To name a person a Communist, then, should not be libellous, but it may be when popular opinion overwhelmingly holds Communists in contempt.

But when such a climate is in large part due to the influence of political extremists at the other end of the scale, it is even more unpleasant. That seems the case in the United States. In the action under discussion, for instance, Mrs. McCullough was cheered on by Society Columnist Igor Cassini ("Cholly Knickerbocker" of the New York Journal American), columnists George Sokolsky, Bill Cunningham and Westbrook Pegler, and radio commentator Fulton Lewis, Jr. Whether influenced by these men or not, Mrs. McCullough described a liberal as a person with leftist tendencies and declared she hated them.

We have read three of the Columnists mentioned, but we shall discuss only one, and that briefly. The virulence of Westbrook Pegler is almost frightening; no more vicious attacks were ever made by Joseph Goebbels. Pegler has flatly declared that killing a labour picket is not murder; his columns are violently anti-Semitic. His attacks on the Roosevelt family, including the late President, drip with venom. His columns are shocking examples of the worst in personal journalism.

The trial ended with a split jury, and was described as "a tie". We do not think it was. We prefer to think it a victory for moderate members of the jury, thoroughly disgusted by pro-Communists on the one hand and Pegler and his ilk on the other.

Publisher As Chancellor

The newspaper world of Canada rejoices that John Bassett, the publisher of the Montreal Gazette has been made Chancellor of Bishop's University. Mr. Bassett is admired by his colleagues as a journalist of high principles and a fine Canadian gentleman. Bishop's has honoured him, and we are sure that he will bring honour to the university.

Another Canadian journalist, Arthur Ford of the London Free Press, is Chancellor of the University of Western Ontario. The newspaper fraternity is greatly pleased by these evidences that the world of the press and the world of learning are not so far apart as some people think. In a world where freedom of thought and freedom of information are of the utmost importance, such associations warm the heart and rejoice the mind.

Musical Notes

By PETER PIPER

BEETHOVEN'S work is, like Caesar's Gaul, divided into three parts. The first period is that of his youth, when he was learning the craft of composing by imitating Haydn and Mozart. This is a stage through which every young composer goes. These early works, such as the opus 18 string quartets and the first few piano sonatas, are still played and display unusual promise. They lack something of the concision and subtlety of the mature work of the older masters who served as his models, but there is a youthful energy, a powerful constructive ability, a new depth of feeling that shows itself from time to time. Beethoven's artistic growth was a slower and more painful process than Mozart's. The mastery that he attained was the result of a hard struggle. Some of his happiest and most spontaneous-sounding ideas only came to him after he had tried dozens of alternatives.

◇ ◇ ◇

HIS second period is the period of the Beethoven that everybody knows—the Eroica and the Fifth Symphonies, the Pathetique and the Waldstein Sonatas, the Rasumovsky Quartets. Here the tendencies that had appeared by fits and starts in the earlier works became permanent features of his style. Beethoven, after unremitting struggle, had found himself and emerged as a mature artist of compelling originality. He infused new and gripping drama into the "sonata form", and at the same time sacrificed none of its coherence; in fact many of his finest movements, such as the first movement of the fifth symphony are developed from one apparently insignificant musical idea of four notes. From such an acorn grew a mighty oak, and it is this quality of organic development that is so marked in Beethoven's mature style. The noble pathos of the big tunes in his slow movements was something new, and so were the mercurial scherzi which he often wrote instead of the more stately minuet. In one field he may be said to have failed—in Opera. His "Fidelio", which is still performed for the sake of its music, is nevertheless a magnificent failure. Offended by the frivolous attitude towards marital fidelity displayed in the libretti of some of the operas of his predecessor Mozart he resolved to write something of a more improving nature. Unfortunately the libretto of "Fidelio", though very improving, was dramatically weak. Worse than this, Beethoven himself had little sense of the theatre. The characters in the drama are little more than lay figures and possess no life of their own.

CONTROVERSY has still not died down over Beethoven's third and last period. In 1812 he was seriously ill, and his deafness increased alarmingly. Beethoven became a recluse, shut off from normal social contacts, and more and more enveloped in his own thoughts. Like most recluses he became more and more eccentric in his habits. The terrible handicap of deafness was doubly cruel to him, a creative musician at the height of his powers. But Beethoven, with typical obstinacy and courage refused to be daunted. He continued composing even when he was totally deaf and unable to hear his works performed. This infirmity had far-reaching effects on his style. In the first place he became progressively less interested in sensuous beauty and more interested in intellectual beauty. As time went on a note of resignation made itself more and more noticeable. At the same time he became more experimental, sometimes even to the point of deliberate freakishness, and this bewildered his contemporaries who were unanimous in admiring his earlier work. They considered his last string quartets and piano sonatas to be the scribblings of a lunatic who had once been a musical genius. Modern opinion has on the whole drastically revised this estimate. It is generally agreed that these last works are the summit of Beethoven's achievement. Some years ago E. J. Moeran, the contemporary English composer sent me a score of the quartet in C sharp minor with the following words: "Here is a score of the greatest quartet ever written. Some go as far as to consider it the greatest musical work in existence". If there is any music-lover who does not know this work I strongly advise him to remedy the defect at once by getting a score and a recording, or, better still, to hear it in the flesh.

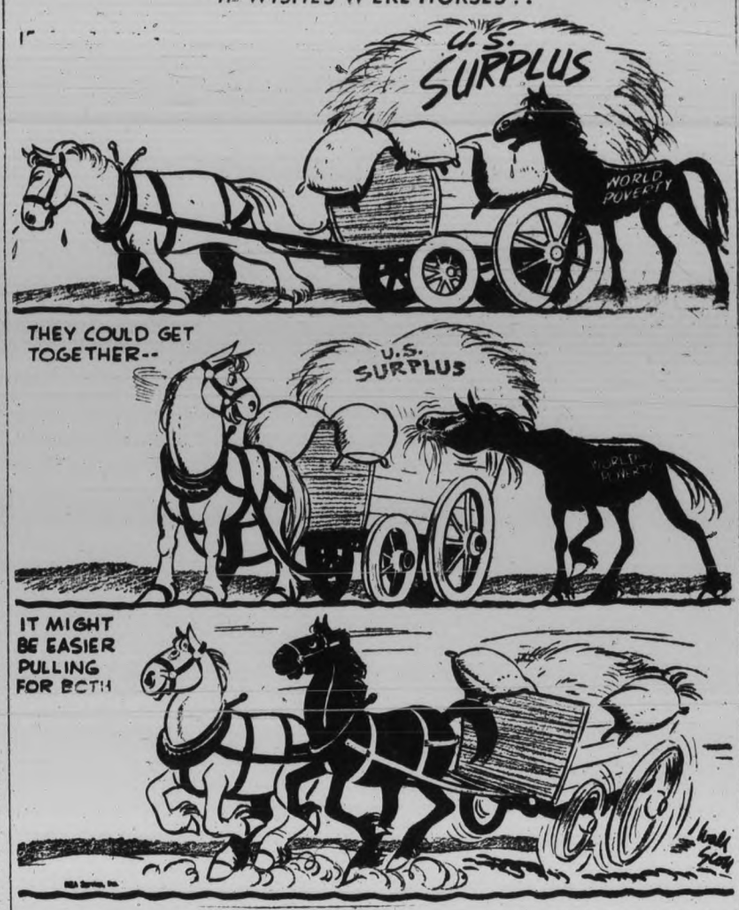
WHEN talking about composers one point is always cropping up—those opus numbers. I am afraid that I have not a very good memory for numbers and so I have nothing but admiration for those who can reel off the opus numbers of various works. These numbers indicate the order of publication—for example Beethoven's opus 1 was his first published work. Sometimes an opus will consist of one work, but frequently it consists of a batch of works, usually of the same character. In this case they are numbered op. 1, nos. 1, 2, 3, etc. As an example of this Beethoven's three "Rasumovsky" quartets are numbered Op. 59, nos. 1, 2 and 3. It should be remembered that the order of the opus numbers indicates the order of publication, not the order of composition. It frequently happens that an early work is not published until later on, and then it is of course given the next opus number available. When a composer dies he usually leaves a good deal of unpublished material behind. Some of this may consist of abandoned fragments, some of works on which he was engaged up to his death, and usually some completed works that had remained unpublished for various reasons. If it is decided to publish them they come out as "op. posth." (Posthumous work). Sometimes a work may be lost for several years. This happened in the case of Schumann's violin concerto which turned up a few years ago in a Berlin museum. The discovery raised quite a sensation at the time, as it was alleged that it had been brought about by means of spiritualism.



Litter-Bugs

(Vancouver Province)

Perhaps we are reaching for the moon. Perhaps this spring madness to strew fish and chip containers and lunch bags on green grass is as natural as nesting and nothing can be done about it.

But surely it is not too much to expect an enlightened generation of park enthusiasts to take some interest in keeping their recreation ground clean. No sensible bird will foul its own nest.

Toscanini's Triumph

By NORA BELOFF

ARTURO Toscanini, 83 year old "maestro" of the world, is just completing a triumphal eight-thousand mile tour of the United States in his own special train. The godlike treatment he has received from one end of America to the other, makes nonsense of the widespread European fallacy that this continent cares for nothing but coca-cola, baseball, movies and money.

It would be hard, perhaps impossible, to find any film star or sports champion who could command anything like the reverence and honour that has been heaped on the elderly conductor of "high-brow" music. Certainly no musician in history has anywhere obtained such adulation in his own lifetime.

Recently I have travelled through some of the cities where the Toscanini train has called: Los Angeles, San Francisco, Portland and this week, Washington, where his arrival is greeted by local critics as "top music news of the last eight years".

Everywhere there has been the same sell-out of concert tickets several months in advance. Everywhere the public has been agog with stories about his exuberant disposition, volatile artistic temperament, and, above all, his "eternal youth". The week he came to California, an entire special supplement of the San Francisco Chronicle was published in his honour: stories of his life, praise of his talents, formal and informal photos filled its eight pages.

The special train which is taking Toscanini and his orchestra on their fabulously successful trip is specially equipped for his convenience. It travels far more slowly than ordinary American trains in order to preserve the maestro from jolts. It has a special built-in bed for his comfort and two compartments have been ripped down to make room for a bath.

He has also the extra large cupboard space he requires for his wardrobe which contains among other things forty dress shirts. Even this number does not save the management from making special arrangements with his New York laundry; shirts are flown back at every important town and replacements flown forward to the next stop.

TOSCANINI also travels well supplied with conductors' batons: this allows him to leave one behind at each city he plays in. It is then auctioned at fancy prices for local charities. In Washington bids for the precious little stick started pouring in long before Toscanini arrived. Proceeds go to a children's holiday camp.

The fuss is an American expression of unstinted admiration for a great genius. But his special popularity springs partly from his eccentricities, his white-headed impishness, his radiant personal charm. The "maestro" himself is keenly aware of the special place he occupies in the heart of this giant public. Sometimes he chooses familiar ways of expressing his appreciation. In a great southern city, for instance, he enchanted his audience by following up a serious programme with a performance of the anthem of the southern states: "Dixie". Seeing thousands besides themselves with delight, he hopped back on the stage and made the orchestra play it again.

Peak of Municipal Taxation

(Ottawa Journal)

And yet there is no assurance that municipal tax rates have reached their peak. Councils are helpless in the grip of forces they cannot control. They face demands from the people for more and more in the way of service, and at the same time the fact that everything they buy, whether labour or materials or equipment, costs very much more than in pre-war days. They face too the problems of an antiquated tax system devised for a simpler age and which makes real estate the beast of burden of municipal government. But it is equally true that already taxes here and in many Ontario cities have reached a point where the home-owners must wonder whether he isn't being a sucker, and where taxes affect the standard of living.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

And when Jesus was passed over again by ship unto the other side, much people gathered unto him: and he was nigh unto the sea. And, behold, there cometh one of the rulers of the synagogue, Jairus by name; and when he saw him, he fell at his feet, and besought him greatly, saying, My little daughter lieth at the point of death: I pray thee, come and lay thy hands on her, that she may be healed; and she shall live.

And Jesus went with him; and much people followed him, and thronged him. . . While he yet spake, there came from the ruler of the synagogue's house certain which said, Thy daughter is dead: why troublest thou the Master any further?

As soon as Jesus heard the word that was spoken, he saith unto the ruler of the synagogue, Be not afraid, only believe. And he suffered no man to follow him, save Peter, and James, and John the brother of James. And he cometh to the house of the ruler of the synagogue, and seeth the tumult, and them that wept and wailed greatly.

And when he was come in, he saith unto them, Why make ye this ado, and weep? the damsel is not dead, but sleepeth.

And they laughed him to scorn. But when he had put them all out, he taketh the father and the mother of the damsel, and them that were with him, and entereth in where the damsel was lying. And he took the damsel by the hand, and said unto her, Talitha cumi; which is, being interpreted, Damsel, I say unto thee, arise.

And straightway the damsel arose and walked; for she was of the age of twelve years. And they were astonished with a great astonishment. (Mark 5: 21-24, 35-42.)

Unconsidered Trifles

Puffing and blowing, the young man just managed to jump into a carriage as the train left the station.

The middle-aged man in the corner eyed him with scorn.

"When I was your age, my lad," he said, "I could run half a mile, catch a train by the skin of my teeth, and yet be as fresh as a daisy."

"Yes," gasped the young fellow, "but I missed this one at the last station."

Macpherson had wandered off to another church, and his parson was striving to bring him back to the fold.

"Why weren't you at the kirk on Sunday," he inquired.

"I was at Mr. MacGregor's kirk," Macpherson replied, airily.

"Now," reasoned the parson, "I don't like you running around to strange kirks like that. Not that I object to your hearing Mr. MacGregor, but I'm sure you widna like your sheep straying into strange pastures."

"Parson," was the calm rejoinder, "I widna care a straw—if it was better grass."

Rubber Supply Crisis Facing World

SINGAPORE, June 5 —(AP)— A crisis faces the rubber-consuming world as stocks of natural rubber in southeast Asia dwindle and prices continue to rise.

The crux is that heavy world demands created by stock-piling in the cold war is outstripping supply.

It is feared that Malaya's rich estate, on which major rubber consumers depend may crack under the strain.

Malayan rubber trade authorities say three main factors contribute to the present situation:

1. Heavy Russian buying.
2. A heavy shortage of rubber for immediate delivery.
3. Huge stocks bottled up in Indonesia.

Unsettled political and economic conditions in other parts of southeast Asia provoked Russia into coming into the Malayan market for her rubber supplies. The Soviet took delivery of nearly 40,000 tons this year up to April, most of it purchased earlier.

Blame Price

The acute shortage of rubber for immediate delivery is blamed for the climbing price of rubber during the last four months.

An estimated 70,000 tons of cured rubber are in Indonesian warehouses. Conditions there are unstable politically and economically. Following the Indonesian government's recent devaluation of currency by 50 per cent, rubber holders wouldn't sell their commodity for fear of further devaluation or depreciation in the value of the currency.

If those stocks can be released somehow, the shortage will be relieved.

European and Chinese estates and smallholders alike are braving Communist terrorism to produce Malaya's chief export. European estates are main targets of terrorists and have been turned into miniature fortresses.

Two Men Charged With Theft Of Bricks

Two men were arrested Saturday and charged with theft of bricks from Archie Henderson, Armour Rd. They are Donald Lightbody, 381 Grady Ave., and Gerald Johnson, 389 Queen St.

Johnson was remanded to June 6 on bail of $1,000 and the charge against Lightbody was adjourned to June 6, by Magistrate W. R. Philp.

Mr. Henderson had complained to police earlier that bricks were being stolen from his property. The two men were arrested by PC Douglas Farthing.

Wants To Decide Education Tax

KINGSTON, June 5 (CP) — Prime Minister St. Laurent said Saturday he hoped the Dominion-Provincial conference scheduled for this fall would consider what proportion of the national income would be taken in taxes for the development of education.

In an unscheduled address to the National Conference of Canadian Universities, Mr. St. Laurent said it may be that the present tax fields of the provinces are inadequate to support the necessary development of education.

"We should be prepared to provide a sufficient portion of the country's taxes not only to keep alive but make it possible for development to take place in the important service of education," he said.

"The development of Canadian universities is not going to be passed in the night."

The Prime Minister said he spoke not in his official capacity, but "as an active member of my own university staff." Mr. St. Laurent is a Professor of Laval University, Montreal.

Mrs. Ruth Douglas' "Fatties Anonymous" Latest Fad Aids Those With Excess Poundage

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK, June 5 —(AP)— Now it's "Fattie's Anonymous."

The founder is Mrs. Ruth Douglas, a 240-pound housewife.

"Fatties are sensitive about weight," she says. "I say it's about time we stopped being sensitive and started being sensible.

"We've got to do something about it, and the first thing to do it admit we're fat and that we need some help. We're not buxom, plump, obese or sturdy. We're just plain fat and any other way you put it is just another of a million evasions."

FA , she says, is going to do for the overweight what the first anonymous—alcoholics—has done for the group that reaches for a triple brandy instead of the chocolate creams. At the moment it is in the organization stage, with a comparative handful of members.

Mrs. Douglas has posted public notices and is sure it will spread like a chain letter.

According to the plan, interested men and women will attend a meeting without committing themselves to membership. They will decide later whether to join. Once decided, it will be hard to turn back.

Help Each Other

"We'll move in to help them," she explains, "we'll see they get help—psychiatric if necessary. We'll move into their offices and tell their associates they are on diets and please help them by not slipping them candy bars

"We'll talk to the waitresses and managers in their luncheon spots and ask them not to give them whipped cream even when they cry for it.

That's not all. FA will set up a committee to check and evaluate reducing methods, systems and aids. There will be a clothes exchange so that members in the process of shrinking won't have to lay out a small fortune to keep covered in stages of reducing.

FA, Mrs. Douglas says, is for people who are 30 or more pounds overweight, but this isn't a hard and fast rule.

"The idea is to make people happy, and some people feel fat when they are five pounds overweight."

Petes Defeated By UEW In Soccer Tilt

The UE soccer team have now won two games in the elimination series of the Ontario Cup after they defeated the Petes 4-1 Saturday afternoon at King Edward Park, before a fair attendance.

Indifferent play was evident in the early stages, with UE being erratic in front of the goal, although Woodcock of Petes was brilliant between the sticks. On an individual effort Featherstone opened the scoring. Petes with only 10 men repeatedly broke through the defence to finish wide of the mark, while G. Foster of UE twice smashed the crossbar with terrific drives. Dalton Downer arrived to make the full quota. Lackadaisical play continued until near the interval, when Strong quickly evaded two men to centre in goal when G. Foster headed into the rigging.

The second half revealed no constructive combinations by either team, although UE halves Craig, T. Foster Jr., and McGann endeavored to force the forwards to action that finally clicked when Duffus, after hitting the cross-bar, made amends on the next visit, by rapping home a 25-yard drive. Petes failed to function as a team. Eventually Petes reduced the count through H. Payne and E. Dane. Woodcock again was outstanding in goal, but he had to admit defeat when Strong made it 4-1.

Petes — E. Woodcock, goal; N. Downer and Al Downer, backs; K. Downer, J. Kinna, and W. Cribbis, half-backs; W. Downer, H. Payne, J. Hennessey, F. Marino, and E. Lane; subs, N. Lane and D. Downer.

UE — J. Hutchinson, goal; E. Downer and S. Murduff, backs; J. Craig, T. Foster Jr., and H. Steel, half-backs; R. Strong, A. Duffus, G. Foster, G. Downer, and A. Featherstone; subs, S. McGann and J. Chamberlain.

Referee—T. Foster, Sr.; linesman, W. Post and J. Adams.

Owen Sound Whips Tigers In 10-4 Battle

OWEN SOUND, June 5 (CP) — Owen Sound Crescents defeated Hamilton Tigers 10-4 in a hard-hitting Senior Ontario Lacrosse Association game here Saturday night before more than 1,000 fans.

Jack Mason and Harry Kazarian each scored three goals for Owen Sound. Russ Slater scored two and Jack Foote and Don Campbell got the others. Hamilton's goal-scorers were Blaine McDonald, Scott, Capula and Love.

Remember When—

By The Canadian Press

Gene Tunney successfully retained his light-heavy weight boxing title at New York 25 years ago tonight. Stacked against Tom Gibbons, rugged St. Paul battler, Tunney scored a knockout in the 12th round of their scheduled 15-round bout. The New Yorker entered heavyweight ranks the same year, rising to be champion in 1926 and retiring undefeated a year later.

Citation Sets World Record In Big Race

ALBANY, Calif., June 5 (AP) —Where does Citation go from here now that he's set two world records?

The Calumet Farm flier Saturday won the Golden Gate mile in 1:33 3-5 to break the world record of 1:34 set by his stablemate, Coaltown, at Washington Park, Chicago, last summer.

He also became the top all-time money-winning horse. His $14,550 share of the 20,000 purse, boosted his earnings to $924,630. Stymie, the previous record-holder and now retired, won $918,485.

But again, the big question is: will "Big Cy" go for the $1,000,000 mark?

His trainer, Jimmy Jones, isn't sure.

He doesn't know if he'll send Citation against Noor—two-time conqueror of Citation at Santa Anita—in the $50,000 added Golden Gate Handicap June 24.

Hasn't Decided

Said Jimmy:

"I'd like to run him once before the big race but I'll have to wait a few days and see how he acts before I make up my mind.

"It's hard on a trainer to be forced to race a short horse."

That last remark called for an explanation—whether Jones considers Citation a "short horse," one that has not reached his peak of condition.

"He will be a short horse every time he goes to the post because his legs are such that I just cannot drill him hard," said Jones. "If I do, he may break down and that I don't want to happen."

Citation has never been out of the money, winning 29 of his 36 starts and finishing second seven times.

He won Saturday after finishing second five times in a row.

Excelsiors Triumph

BRAMPTON, June 5 (CP) — Brampton Excelsiors broke through the Toronto defences in the third period to defeat the Torontos 22-8 in a senior Ontario Lacrosse Association game Saturday. It was the third straight win for Excelsiors. Archie Browning led the attack with seven goals and Harry Graham and Gord Cruickshank each scored tw

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

By CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Talk about your "rub o' the green"—something golfers say solemnly is an act of God and therefore beyond their control—we see two items of interest to the divot diggers at Peterborough and Kawartha Clubs. One is Geiger counters. Don't go away, we'll explain. It's for the bane of the golfing brethren, lost balls. A Goodrich research chap at Brockville, Ont., unveiled the atomic, talking, non-losable ball. Puts 1/50 of a gram of radioactive material under the rubber cover of the ball, plus a miniature Geiger counter. A ball is lost so a counter is brought into play. As it approaches the ball, an erratice sound reaches the ear phones, growing in volume till the blinkin' ball is found. An A.P. dispatch out of Akron verifies this, you non-believers.

* * * * * *

Also, we hear they're planning to speed up tournament play by making the guys get around the course faster. That, we're all for. Other sports are speeding up to meet modern demands, and it has been finally discovered that folks take too long doing the 18 holes. Anywhere from about three and a half hours up, some taking four and a half in tournament play! What are they doing, looking at the scenery? The USGA is ordering competitors henceforth to speed up or stroke penalties may be imposed. It's just as important to a ballster to get a hit as a golfer to get distance on his tee-off, but the ballster's time is limited.

Girls And Guys Play

Let's see what's in the flowing Bowl tonight and tomorrow. Yep, it's the lasses this p.m. (weather being right) at seven. Westclox play Ashby's, followed by Woollens vs. CGE in loop fixtures. That first one should be keen, and anything could happen in the nightcap. Tomorrow, the men hold sway, in that spot with UEW teeing off 'gainst Mutuals at seven, and then Orphans trying to break into the victory column at the expense of the East Citizens from the former village of Ashburnham. Two neat numbers expected in this twin bill for softball fans.

'Twas too wet at Riverside on Saturday, so the senior baseball game was postponed. Petes are away tomorrow and back here next Saturday. Speaking of their last tilt, Gord Campbell of the Star writes: "Top hurler in the Viaduct League at the moment is Peterborough's Doug Plunkett, 21-year-old nephew of Al of Dumbells fame, with three straight triumphs, including the first no-hitter in many a moon. When Plunkett fanned 13 Stafford batters and scattered seven hits to give the Petes a 6-4 win and a second-place tie, he ran his strikeouts to 34 in three games. Not only that, but the righthander has given up only 12 hits and eight passes in his 27 innings of mound duty." Bunny Morganson of the Tely calls Plunkett "a solid sender".

* * * * * *

Pick Doing Quite Well

Ted Reeve of the Tely speaks thusly of a former Petes' puck coach and a fine chap: "Up with Pick Hines to have a look at that outdoor artificial ice sheet on Danforth just south of Viaduct Park, and the layout is lovely. The pipes are in, 80-yard stretch of them, and a fine building back of the pond. Ice skating from October through April, no matter what the weather may be. Putting new roads in past the ball park and new lights, and that building, boosted the cost on Brother Hines and his backers over a quarter of a million, but they shouldn't be long getting it back as soon as the freeze pipes are turned on and the public address system starts playing." Good stuff, Pick, old top.

The UE soccer squad took a 4-1 win Saturday o'er Petes at King Edward Park for their second decision of the Ontario Cup elimination series. Next one is this Wednesday at 6.30 p.m. with Jim Buchan the referee. First midweek go of the season. A lot of local soccer fans will be heading for Toronto on June 14 in a bus leaving at four. They'll witness the English Internationalists play the Manchester United eleven. First time in Canada for two Old Country teams to play each other, and the OFA reports more than 30,000 tickets sold for the match. More accommodation has been asked on the other side of the Toronto exhibition grandstand.

Ont. Invaders Capture Athletic Titles

By W. R. WHEATLEY

MONTREAL, June 5—(CP)—The record-scanners and crystal gazers came around to the conclusion today that that Dominion and Quebec provincial track and field schoolboy championships are largely a benefit show for invading forces and a pain in the neck to the athletically-minded host Montrealers.

Up at Molson Stadium Saturday, in rain and soggy weather, a brand new challenger, Stamford Collegiate Institute from up Niagara Falls way — grabbed major team honors and tossed in a triple winner to boot.

As if that weren't enough for the harassed hosts, nine of the 11 records broken were gleefully gathered in by out-of-towners.

Stamford concentrated its effort in class five—for boys under 20. They scored two firsts, against three for Glebe, but cluttered up the lower placings with point winners.

Leave No Doubt

Stamford wound up with 28 points against Glebe's 20, making sure of the title when Wayne Burns placed second in the 12-pound shot put late in the day.

The four other classes in the day-long competition ranged in age from 13 to 17.

Westmount (Montreal) Junior High won the Class One title. Montreal High placed second.

The Ottawa entrants atoned somewhat for Glebe's lapse when the Lisgar Collegiate boys won the Class Two championship, accounting for three firsts.

At Vancouver, the touringEnglish Football Association soccer team displayed flawless form Saturday in romping to a clean-cut 7-1 win over British Columbia All-Stars.

It was the second match between the teams. They played to a 4-4 draw last Tuesday.

TORONTO WINS

Toronto Canadians easily won the Lord Atholstan Trophy, emblematic of the Ontario-Quebec interprovincial soccer title, by defeating Montreal Carsteel 4-1 at Toronto Saturday night. Canadians, who played in the Toronto National League, won the first game Friday by 7-1, thus taking the round 11-2.

P-W Cricketers Turn Back West Torontos

By C. H. IRESON.

The Peterborough - Whitaker Cricket Club turned back West Toronto 92 to 18 Saturday in Toronto in a council match, second division. It was the first meeting of these teams and a highly satisfactory win for the local team.

Batting first, the P-W men did well on a sticky wicket. Top scorer was F. Scott, a newcomer, with 26. B. Roberts had 15 and G. Cotton 11, with the total of 92 good under the circumstances.

The West Toronto inning was a series of disasters against the bowling of F. Booth and F. Dyer. The "fall of the wickets" tells the story. Booth took five wickets for four runs, Dyer five for 10, and there were four extra to make a total of 18, the innings lasting just about half an hour.

Next Saturday Parkdale A team plays here in a council match. Following is a scoring summary for Saturday:

P-W — Batting, W. Wright 6, B. Roberts 15, E. Collan 11, F. Booth 9, F. Scott 26, R. Rollwagen 2, R. Tetshall 4, W. Freeman 1, F. Dyer 6. T. Fraser 0, J. Wild 6 not out, extras 6; total 92.

Fall of wickets—1 for 14, 2 for 34, 3 for 39, 4 for 53, 5 for 60, 6 for 70, 7 for 73, 8 for 80, 9 for 83, 10 for 82.

Bowling — E. Grant 5 wickets for 32 runs, L. Symons 2 for 26, K. Maze 1 for 15, J. Longbridge 2 for 13.

West Toronto—Batting, L. Symons 6, J. Pritchard 0, K. Maze 0 E. Grant 2, J. Longbridge 0, T. Williams 0, H. Bird 0, B. Goring 3, W. Willshaw 0, T. Willshaw 2, J. Cretney 0 not out, extras 6; total 18.

Fall of wickets — 1 for 2, 2 for 5, 3 for 12, 4, 5 and 6 for 13, 7 for 15, 8 for 18, 9 for 18, 10 for 18.

LAWN BOWLING

By HERB MARTIN

As far as we lawn bowlers are concerned, if the weather man could see his way clear and send along just a little bit warmer weather, it would be o.k. with us. While we have had a few games, the weather has not been ideal for lawn bowling.

The schedule for this week is just about the same as it will be for the remaining weeks of the season—schedule games and tournaments.

And speaking of tournaments—our club is holding its first open tournament of the season this Wednesday afternoon and evening. It's men's rinks and the main prize is that ever popular Stratton Trophy. This trophy is probably the oldest trophy played for in this district. It was presented to the club for annual competition away back in 1912 by the late Hon. J. R. Stratton. The club was situated then on the Sir Sanford Fleming property at the corner of Bethune, Brock and Aylmer Sts. It has been won by members of clubs all around the circuit and is now once more up for competition. Get up a rink yourself. Don't wait for some one to ask you.

Today's thought: If it is abuse, why one is sure to hear of it from one damned good-natured friend or another.—Sheridan.

Here and There In Sport

By The Canadian Press

Montreal Alouettes, Dominion football champions, have set July 29 for the beginning of their football training season — earliest date in the club's history—all because of an expected mass invasion of football players from the United States.

Lew Hayman, coach of the Grey Cup winners, said that so far 40 U.S. players have applied for berths and by the time training opens his desk will be piled with 60 more applications.

The Americans were cut loose through the amalgamation of two professional loops, the All-American Conference and the National Football League.

Hayman said he is scheduling early training because he wants to size up as quickly as possible the U.S. players seeking berths.

"By the time training starts, we'll have at least 100 applications from Americans to join the Alouettes," Hayman said. "And when the Big Four schedule is launched, I hope to have the seven best Americans in the country with Montreal."

Under Canadian Rugby Union rules, the team is allowed seven imports. So far, only one American has been officially signed—Frankie Filchok, quarterback recently voted Canada's athlete of the year."

Joe DiMaggio, of New York Yankees, hit one of the longest home runs in Yankee Stadium history in the seventh inning of Saturday's second game against Chicago White Sox.

DiMaggio socked one of Bill Wight's pitches into the left-centrefield bleachers, close to the Chicago bullpen. The drive travelled at least 425 feet. Two men were on base. Only Hank Greenbery and Jimmy Fox are credited with longer blasts to that section of the stadium.

DiMaggio's blow sparked the Yanks to a 6-3 victory over Chicago after the New York Yankees had taken the opener 3-1.

At Fort Wayne, Ind., Lloyd Mangrum, of Chicago, playing steady one-under-par golf, Sunday won the $15,000 Fort Wayne open with a 72-hole total of 271, three strikes better than Chunky Ed (Porky) Oliver, of Kenmore, Wash.

Johnny Palmer, Badin, N.C., moved in to finish third on the basis of a 68 Sunday. His 277-stroke total was just one better than Norman Von Nida, a campaigner from Sydney, Australia, who fired the last day's best round—a 67.

St. Louis Cardinals and Brooklyn Dodgers plan to break another major league baseball tradition with Sunday night baseball July 16, it was announced Saturday at St. Louis.

Fred Saigh, president of the Cardinals, said Branch Rickey, president of the Dodgers, had agreed to reset Saturday's rained-out game for that night.

A day Cardinal-Dodger game already is on the books. There will be two admissions for the day-night Sunday affair.

Royals Split Doubleheader With Rochester

By The Associated Press.

Ronnie Lee, a pint sized left-hander, is shaping up as one of the best relief pitchers in the International League.

Lee, only 21, came up to Montreal Royals late last season after winning 13 and losing nine for last-place Newport News of the Piedmont League and won two games and lost none.

This year he has won five games, lost two and saved a number of others in relief roles for the Royals.

Lee kept the second-place Royals in hailing distance of the pace-setting Rochester Red Wings Sunday by gaining credit for Montreal's 9-8 victory in the first half of a doubleheader. The Wings came back to grab the finale 6-5 to protect their 1½ game edge.

The Wings pounded starter Carl Erskine out of the box in the fifth inning of the opener with a five-run blast to take a 7-2 lead. Lee finally quelled the rally.

Lee also saw action in the windup. He entered in the sixth with the Wings in front 4-1 and left in the bottom half for a pinch-hitter.

Dump Orioles

Springfield Cubs dumped Baltimore Orioles 6-4 and 1-0 to virtually tie the Orioles for third place, 3½ games behind the Red Wings.

The Cubs scored four runs in the fifth to wipe out a 4-1 deficit and clinched the opener when Carmen Mauro homered in the seventh. The Cubs won the nightcap in the eighth inning when Smokey Burgess singled with the bases loaded.

Syracuse and Jersey City divided a doubleheader, the Chiefs taking the opener 7-5 on Frankie Drews' two-run homer and the Giants the nightcap 6-3. The Giants won the second in the seventh inning, scoring three runs on three errors.

Buffalo Bisons turned back Toronto Maple Leafs 6-1 in the first game of a twin bill with Clem Hausmann and Charley Harris limiting the Leafs to six hits.

Toronto was leading the Bisons 14-6 in the nightcap when play was stopped because of Toronto's Sunday curfew law. Play will be resumed with the Bisons at bat in the fifth inning the next time Buffalo visits Toronto.

Jack Guest Wins

ST. CATHARINES, June 5 — (CP)—Jack Guest Jr., of Toronto, son of the former Diamond Sculls champion, won the Canadian Schoolboys' rowing championship Saturday in record-breaking time. Guest, bearing the colors of Etobicoke High School, sped over the one-mile course in six minutes 14 seconds, cracking the old mark by 28 seconds.

Cubs Drop Brooklyn 13-8 Thanks To 'Old' Players

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sport Writer

Frankee Frisch is a candidate for the "manager of the year" award—all because his pre-season plan backfired.

How come? Well, when Frisch took his Chicago Cubs for conditioning to California's Catalina Islands last February, he announced he planned to rebuild his club with youth.

No more of those old, slow-footed veterans who finished in last place in 1949. From now on, the Cubs would be graced by eager youngsters. Of the 39 men in camp, 20 were kids up for their first real chance in the majors.

The Cubs broke fast and today, after seven weeks of competition, are the surprise of the league. They're in fifth place with a better than .500 rating and are only four games behind the leaders.

Now what about the youth movement? Oh, yes. Hank Edward's is the club's batting leader with .365. He's 31 years old. Hank Sauer is the teams' as well as the league's runs-batted-in leader with 36. He's also 31. Andy Pafko is tops in home runs with eight. He's 29, and then there's 33-year-old Phil Cavarretta, who is hitting .328 and oding a grand job at first in his 17th big league season.

On the pitching side, Johnny Schmitz, Frank Hiller and Walt Dubiel, all past 29, have won 10 games among them.

Only Six Left

And the youngsters? Well, there are only six left. Outside of Bob Borkowski not one is hitting .300.

E wards, Cavarretta, Sauer and Pafko, all had a hand in Sunday's 13-8 triumph over Brooklyn that dropped the dodgers into a first place tie with St. Louis Cardinals. The Cards gained a full game by defeating Philadelphia Phillies 6-2.

Edwards batted in four runs with the doubles and a single. Cavarretta smacked two singles and his second home run. Sauer tied Bob Elliott of Boston for the league's runs batted in leadership by driving in a tally. Pafko got a couple of hits and two walks in five times at bat. The victory went to Schmitz.

Max Lanier pitched and batted the Cards to their victory. He limited the Phils to eight hits and tripled with the bases loaded to feature a five-run sixth inning blast that wined out a 2-1 deficit. Ken Heintzelman was the loser.

Down Pirates

New York's improving Giants swept past Pittsburgh into sixth place defeating the Pirates 4-3. The Giants continued their policy of winning games in the final inning, tallying three times in the ninth to overcome a 3-1 deficit. Whitey Lockman's two-out, two-run triple won the game.

Thanks to Ken Raffensberger's four-hit pitching, the Cincinnati Reds gained a split in their doubleheader with Boston Braves. Raffensberger shut out Boston 3-0 in the opener, but the Braves came back to blast Herm Wehmerier from the box to win the nightcap 7-6.

New York Yankees maintained their 2½-game lead over Detroit in the American League as Lefty Ed Lopat shut out Cleveland Indians and Bob Lemon 7-0. Detroit's Art Houtteman also hurled a shutout, blanking Washington Senators 3-0.

Led by Walt Dropo, Birdie Tebbetts, Ted Williams and Al Zarilla, the Red Sox pounded out 21 hits to bury Chicago's White Sox under a 17-7 score.

St. Louis Browns and Philadelphia Athletics divided a doubleheader. The Browns won the opener 12-5 and the A's took the second 13-9, with a nine-run first inning.

Wine Drinking Drivers Enter Contest

By SERGE MAURI

PARIS, June 5 (AP)— If you can drink cognac for three hours, and then drive your car between two rows of pins without upsetting any—

And then back your car across the road between two poles without touching either of them, and, still backing, park it between two other rows of pins—

Then you may have a chance to win a gastronomic "rally" or tour-contest being held across France June 9 to June 19. You might become famous as the first champion of the "Gastromobilists."

The manoeuver described above is only one of the test for the driver — and their respective livers — competing in the rally. The winner will be the driver who upsets the fewest pins while competing the 1,518-kilometer (about 900-mile) circuit and participating in all the dinners and and wine-tasting ceremonies.

The idea of combining cognac and motor cars might sound strange to Canadians, and outrageous to organizations devoted to safety, but motorists in France long have had the habit of driving extra miles out of their way for a good bottle of wine or a special dish in some small restaurant known for its cuisine.

Competitors will start June 9 from Dijon, centre of the famous burgundy wine district, and wind up 10 days later—if they can—at Cheverny, a castle on the Loire River. The route will take them across the regions most celebrated for good food and good wine, including the Bordeaux area.

The schedule calls for banquet-lunches and dinner-feasts all along the route. Drivers will be expected to taste local specialties, wines and liqueurs.

The promoters have limited the number of entries to 300. About 100 have entered so far, including 50 Frenchmen, about 30 from Britain, and 20 from Belgium and Holland.

The organizers say they will award a large number of prizes with a total value of 1,000,000 francs (about $3,300) to the rally winners.

Make Investigation

MATAMOROS, Mexico, June 5 (AP)—A special investigator of the Mexican immigration service arrived Sunday to investigate charges by a Montreal couple that they were mistreated recently in the Matamoros jail. Inspector Leovigildo Gomez said his instructions are to make a thorough check into the complaint of Mr. and Mrs. Vern Tremewen. They said they were jailed for an alleged violation of Mexico's tourist-permit regulations and that Tremewen was flogged and beaten while in custody last weekend.

Giant-Size Paper

ATLANTA, June 5 (AP)—The first edition of the combined Sunday Atlanta Journal and Constitution rolled off presses Saturday night right on schedule — 1,237,000 pounds of it. Merger of two of the largest newspapers in the southern states produced a 240-page inaugural issue with 12 sections, including three different magazine inserts and 20 pages of selected comics. A single paper weighed 2½ pounds and sold at the regular price of 15 cents.

Charged With Arson

ODESSA, June 5 — (CP). — David Martin of Gananoque on Sunday was charged by police with setting two fires to distract attention while $1700 was removed from a tool box belonging to his father-in-law. The fires occurred recently at a sawmill and grist mill in this village near Kingston. The money was taken from Freeman Wright's tool chest while the grist mill was burning.

Fear Drowning

TORONTO, June 5 — (CP). — Chief Garnet McGill of the Toronto Township police force said Saturday that Tommy Fisher, 12, who disappeared from his suburban Lakeview home Friday, may have been drowned in Port Credit Harbor. His mother, Mrs. John Fisher, said she did not believe he was drowned. "I think he has thumbed a ride and someone has taken him away."

Glider Sets Record

TORONTO, June 5 — (CP).— A glider built at the University of Toronto Sunday set what is believed a new Canadian flight record. Piloted by Frank Brame 26, the craft travelled from Oshawa to Kingston, a distance of 118 miles, in 5 house 42 minutes. Brame is a senior instructor at the Toronto Glider Club.

Temperature Hits 84

LONDON, June 5 (Reuters)— The hottest day of the year hit London Sunday, sending temperatures to 84 degrees fahrenheit in the shade and Londoners to beaches, parks, and the country. The continent also was undergoing a heat wave, with temperatures above 85 in western Germany and a Saturday high of 118 in Sevilla, Spain.

Big Meat Export Raises Prices Says Merchant

Housewives have been asking for some time why meat prices have been soaring and Joseph Jebson, manager of Braunds stores, told the Examiner today that the answer lies in a great increase in quantities of meat being exported from Canada.

Export of some types of meat have increased more than 400 per cent since 1949, Mr. Jebson says. Most of the exports are to the States and are the cause of high meat prices on the home market, Mr. Jebson says.

Quoting figures prepared by the Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, Mr. Jebson says quantities of live cattle exported in 1949 were 42 238. In 1950 the figure jumped up 161 per cent to 110 - 609. Live calves: 11,401 in 1949, 13,065 in 1950, an increase of 14 6 per cent; sheep and lambs alive: 17,371 in 1949, 87.753 in 1950, an increase of more than 400 per cent. Dressed meats: beef and veal, 12,000 000 pounds in 1949 and 13,000,000 in 1950, an increase of 35 per cent.

24 Dogs Picked Up

Fifty-nine dogs were destroyed during May, Inspector Gerald A. Dunford, reported at a recent meeting of the Peterborough Humane Society. Twenty-four dogs were picked up during the month and four were returned to the owners. Another dog was removed from Little Lake, where it had drowned and four dogs were killed on the city streets.

Eighty-eight cats were destroyed during the month and an additional seven cats were killed on the streets. Five squirrels were destroyed.

Mr. Dunford reported one unusual incident, the case of an escaped monkey which was taken to the filitration plant zoo.

Western Pair Placed First In Trophy Event

The Peterborough Ornamental swimmers placed second in the Forbes-Munro Trophy competition in the Canadian synchronized swimming championsihps in Montreal over the week-end.

Jean Millard and Norma Gant combined on the duet swimming to place second to the University of Western Ontario club's entry which captured the trophy for the second straight year. The Peterborough girls were given silver medals. The Aquamaids of Toronto were third and Peterborough's other pair, Iris Reilly and Shirley Moldaver, placed fourth.

The Forbes-Munro Trophy was presented to the Canadian Amateur Swimming Association last year by the local club in honor of the coach, Mrs. Pansy Forbes, and the manager Cookson Munro. The trophy is for duets.

In the Gale Trophy, for skills and solos, Friday night, Jean Millard placed eighth in a field of 28 swimmers. The meet celebrated the 25th anniversary of the trophy.

The Peterborough swimmers did not enter the Harold Daly Trophy events Saturday afternoon.

The swimmers were accompanied by the club coach, Mrs. Pansy Forbes.

Schools Mark King's Birthday

School children, bank workers and government workers, are celebrating King George VI's 55th birthday today.

Ontario liquor stores and breweries warehouses are closed, and courts are not operating. The post office is offering only a restricted service.

King George was born on December 14, 1895, but statutes have set his official birthday in June. Private business, with some exceptions, does not celebrate the holiday.

Decoration Day Set For June 26

Decoration Day celebrations by the Peterborough Oddfellows will be held Sunday, June 26, this year. The service will be recorded and broadcast Sunday evening by radio station CHEX

Speaker at the ceremony will be Dr. D. Bruce Gordon of Trinity United Church. His address will be given following placing of flowers on the graves of former Oddfellows.

The services will be at 3 p.m. and the Salvation Army band will play.

Dump Truck Overturns During Heavy Rain

Selvig said he had been driving alone west on Clonsilla Ave. through a driving rain storm about 25 to 30 miles an hour. As he rounded a curve near Western Ave., he met three cars in a string approaching him.

The second car pulled out to pass and Selvig turned his truck to the right shoulder to avoid a crash. His right rear wheel slipped over the edge of the ditch and dragged the truck over into a roll.

Constable Andre Dalton investigated.

Boy's Finger Severed

A three-year-old boy, Donald Meharrie had the top of his little finger on his left hand taken off when he apparently put out his hand to catch a door which a high wind was slamming shut.

The finger was severed at the first joint. The child was sitting in a high chair close to the door when the accident happened.

Donald is the son of Mr. and Mrs. M. Meharrie, 675 Cameron St.

Impressed Throng Attends Hospital Chapel Dedication

The new Civic Hospital Chapel, in which Peterborough Chapter of The Silver Cross Women of Canada have placed a stained glass window and provided furnishings, was dedicated on Sunday as a memorial chapel to Navy, Army and Air Force persons from Peterborough who died in the service of Canada during the second world war. The Rev. W. J. Gilling, M.B.E., R.D., former principal Protestant chaplain Canadian Army Overseas, dedicated the chapel by pronouncing:

"In the faith of Jesus Christ, we dedicate this chapel, in the name of God the Father, God the Son and God the Holy Ghost.

"Here let true faith, the fear of God, and brotherly love ever remain".

Many hundreds of people who visited the hospital to take part in the service filled the main entrance hall, corridors and rooms near the chapel. Seating had been placed throughout the front part of the first floor and the service was relayed by microphone to many who were unable to see the speakers. The service was conducted in the corridor at the door of the chapel, the chapel itself being large enough to accommodate only a few people.

Mayor M. J. Swanston formally presented the furnishings and memorial window to the Board of Governors of the hospital, on behalf of the Silver Cross women. J. R. Marshall, chairman of the board, accepted them and spoke of the board's appreciation.

4 Services Represented

During the dedication service, the services were represented by Lt.-Col. M. E. Clarke, ED., Lt.-Commander J. B. Raine, RCN, AC-1 William Rowbotham, QMS Rene Vivash, CWAC, Flight Sgt. Pat Vaisey, RCAF (WD) Lt/NS Dorothy Grady, who stood at the entrance to the chapel.

The Coventry Singers, under the direction of John Hooper, opened the service singing Bach's "Blessed Jesu, At Thy Word". Responses to words declared by Mr. Gilling were said by the congregation and Psalm 84 "O how amiable are thy dwelling" was read responsively.

Mr. Gilling led prayers after the dedication and the Coventry Singers sang Healey Willan's "Hail Gladdening Light".

Mr. Gilling said that special tribute should be paid to the women of the Silver Cross for their vision in seeking permission to place "within the walls of heal-

Chilly Evening For 1st Concert Summer Bands

Before a chilled audience on the slopes of Nicholls Oval the Salvation Army Temple Band presented Sunday the first in a series of summer Sunday night programs under the direction of Bandmaster G. Routly.

Prior to the opening selections by the band, Ald. Hurrell Dodds on behalf of the Recreation Commission introduced Major Charles Everitt as master of ceremonies for the evening. He also welcomed the people to the weekly concerts which will be provided by the Salvation Army band, the Citizens' band, the Peterborough Film Council and the Peterborough Ministerial Association.

Col. Harold Ritchie, a former officer of the Salvation Army, offered a prayer before the final number, the Hallelujah chorus.

Following a chimes prelude the band played the popular hymn, O God Our Help in Ages Past, the soloist being H. Barton. Other selections were: War March of the Priests; Scandinavian Songs; Soldiers Chorus; My Fortress; Sons of the Army; a trombone solo by W. Scott, None But the Lonely Heart; Moments With the Masters; Under Two Flags; Aascalon.

The concert next Sunday will be presented by the Citizens' Band.

King's Birthdays

The People's Chimes in St. John's Church were rung before noon to herald the official birthday of the King. King George VI was born December 14, 1895, so this is not the actual birthday. In the first year of his reign it was decided that a holiday so close to Christmas was not entirely desirable, so the anniversary observance was officially advanced six months, to June, but not to June 14. In practice the birthday is celebrated the first Monday in June. King George V's birthday fell on June 3, and was always observed then. King Edward VIII (Duke of Windsor), born 1894, had only one birthday when he was on the throne, June 23, 1936. The court was in mourning then so there were no celebrations.

Gerald Stenton Named Agent Hamilton Office

After 15 years as Agent of the Canadian Pacific Express Company in Peterborough, Gerald M. Stenton, 149 Sophia St., has accepted the position as agent for the company in Hamilton. He expects to report to his new post by the end of the week.

Mr. Stenton has 39 years service with the C.P. Express, 20 of them in Peterborough. He began working with the firm at the station in 1911 when Major A. G. Carruthers was agent. He served till 1915 when he enlisted in the Army. Following the war, Mr. Stenton remained here for one year and then was transferred as agent at Kingston, a position he held 15 years until his return here, succeeding J. H. Seels in 1935.

A member of the Rotary Club, he is chairman of the publicity committee.

The new agent for Peterborough will be Mr. William Browne, present agent at Renfrew. Mr. Browne began his Express work in Ottawa and served several years as chief clerk in Kingston under Mr. Stenton and Mr. Fraser Skinner, both of Peterborough. He was posted to Renfrew from that city.

Youths Damage Tent At Show

Peterborough's first outdoor Sportsmen's Show, sponsored by the Peterborough Fish and Game Association, closed its second and final night on Saturday. The executives were more than pleased with the way the public supported it. There were 2,000 paid admissions on Saturday evening. Although unpaid expenses and gate receipts have not been tallied in full, chairman Don Smedmor was quite optimistic that the effort made a little money.

One incident on Sunday pared down the profits. The large tent at the west entrance which was used for the animal and bird displays was wrecked by mischievious youngsters. Not content with throwing numerous rocks at the big top, which was ripped in several places, they removed all the pole supports along one side and cut at least two of the main guy ropes. Show sponsors estimate that it will cost from $50 to $75 to repair the damage.

Animals and birds were taken away on Sunday. It is reported that the caged deer from the Filtration Park Zoo took more effort to recapture and reload into a truck, than was required to bring it to the show in the first place. The lone donkey put on a stubborn fit and took five men more than half an hour with a long rope to get it up the truck runway and on its way home.

Millbrook Man Held On Charge Of Rifle Aiming

Albert Richards, Millbr[illegible] was charged in Cobourg police court today with pointing a rifle at "person unknown" and was remanded to June 9.

Richards was arrested following a complaint Sunday evening by a Peterborough couple, whose name is believed to be Millard. They told police they offered Richards a ride.

Richards was carrying a rifle and because there were children in the car, the couple asked him to take any bullets out of the gun.

They told police Richards backed away from the car and began shooting.

Richards was later arrested by provincial constable C. Meadows of Cobourg.

SANITATION COURSE PASSED

Ronald M. MacPherson, Sanitary Instector, has passed the examination for a public health certificate of the University of Toronto through its School of Hygiene. Mr. MacPherson was the only one to specialize in the sanitation branch of public health service. His name stood alone in the report of the results of the recent examinations.

Lively Debates Expected In New Zealand

WELLINGTON, NZ, June 5—(Reuters)— A series of lively debates is expected to mark the first session of New Zealand's new non-Labor parliament, due to open here late this month.

For the first time since 1935, Labor will not occupy the treasury benches. Peter Fraser, former Labor Prime Minister, is expected to find plenty of targets for attack as leader of the opposition.

Already, Prime Minister Sidney Holland and his Nationalist colleagues have drafted a number of bills which will substantially reverse or modify Labor's legislation during the last 15 years.

Subjects likely to draw fire from the opposition include Holland's recently-announced cut in subsidies on butter, bread, milk, eggs, coal and other goods and services.

The Prime Minister has promised that salaries, wages, social security benefits, and other incomes will be increased to meet the inevitable rises in the cost of living.

Great Conjecture

There is much conjecture as present as to the detail of a bill promised by Holland to abolish, "in its present form," the legislative council—the non-elective Upper House of New Zealand's bi-cameral parliament.

At present, Labor holds a majority in the council. As leader of the opposition, Holland twice introduced a private measure to abolish the council. His bill was defeated each time.

Holland believes, however, that there is need for a more up-to-date revisory chamber to safeguard against "hasty or ill-advised" legislation originating in the elected House.

Full details of the new government's legislative program on industrial matters are not yet known. But there will be a bill abolishing compulsory trade union levies for party political purposes, and another giving individual unions the right to decide by secret ballot whether or not they wish to remain the closed shop in their particular field.

Set Invasion Date

HONG KONG, June 5 (AP)—Top Chinese Communist commanders and their Russian advisers have set the date for the invasion of Formosa, the independent newspaper Wah Kiu Yat Po said Friday. The newspaper, which has connection inside Red China, said the decision was made at a super-secret meeting in Canton May 2.

Britain Puts Ghosts To Work For Dollars

By ARTHUR W. WHITE

LONDON, June 5 (AP). — Britain is putting her historic ghosts to work to help earn $70,000,000 tourist dollars this summer, cashing in on the world-wide love of ghost stories.

From the haunted Tower of London to William Shakespeare's sleepy hometown, Stratford-on-Avon, anxious-to-please guides and inn-keepers are boning up on the fascinating national legends tourists like to hear — the more horrific or romantic, the better.

The tourist industry, now greeting the first big rush of 1950's expected 600,000 foreign visitors, is finding British ghosts almost as valuable a stock-in-trade as the famous White Cliffs of Dover or Canterbury Cathedral.

Altogether, the country hopes to make $164,000,000 from the tourists before November's yellow fogs and wet weather strangle the traffic.

Has Biggest Wallop

The gloomy, 900-year-old Tower of London — oldest active service fortress in Europe — packs the biggest entertainment wallop, boasting 40 colorfully-garbed "Beefeater" guides with every detail of the Tower's bloody history at their fingertips.

The spectres of many long-dead Tower victims, including two beheaded wives of King Henry VIII — Anne Boleyn and Katharine Howard — are suposed to haunt its ramparts. At night the screams of tortured men are reputed to echo in the dungeons. Visitors eat it up.

Another celebrated British spook lives 100 miles away in rustic Warwickshire, where 18-year-old William Shakespeare wooed and won pretty Anne Hathaway in 1582. Naturally, it's the Bard himself.

Local legend says Shakespeare's restless spirit still wanders along the Avon River on clear, moonlit nights, particularly when one of his plays is being performed at the Riverside Memorial Theatre.

Haunts Mansion.

Ghost-hunters agree Britain's premier spook — a woman — haunts a hilltop Elizabethan mansion called Hill Hall. She's known as the Grey Lady and is 350 years old. Her story is a lulu: The seven sons of Sir Thomas Smyth, Queen Elizabeth's Secretary of State, are said to have fought a crazy duel among themselves with razor-sharp daggers for her love, stabbing each other to death. They gasped out their lives in a gory heap.

For centuries shocked Hill Hall visitors have reported seeing a wraith-like figure in white pacing around a circle of bloodstains on the floor.

Jealous Boy Friend Kills Woman, Himself

PELL CITY, Ala., June 5 (AP)—Alvin Bailey, 23, killed his 35-year-old sweetheart after finding her in another man's arms, then fatally wounded himself with a shot in the temple.

Sheriff Iva Davis said Bailey drove for hours with the woman's battered body in his car before he turned himself to die at her side yesterday.

In a note Bailey said he "went crazy" when he found Mrs. Gertrude Klein, about 35, with another man Wednesday night.

Navy Still Ready To Fight Pirates At Sea

By DOUGLAS HOW

OTTAWA, June 5—(CP)—Canada's Navy has never met one but that doesn't mean it has written off the pirate as a potential menace under 20th century naval conditions. On the contrary, the sea force has just refused to allow him to walk the plank into legal oblivion.

As a matter of fact, the pirate stands as a symbol of the sweeping thoroughness with which the navy and the other forces have tackled the revision of military law to put it into a single, unified code.

He's right in there in the new act as one of a number of people who can be classified as an "enemy" under the law. The act is under Commons committee study.

The section says an enemy includes "armed mutineers, armed rebels, armed rioters and pirates."

The committee of veterans passed the section without batting a nautical eye. A reporter was intrigued, though, and took it up with defence department law officers.

"Pooh," he said, scoffing, "who ever hears of pirates these days?"

"You," said one officer, "should read your own papers. There are stories about pirates from China and sometimes from South America. Besides we have to cover anyone we might be fighting, not only foreign countries."

"Where did the section come from"

"It's always been there, in the Navy Act."

"Has the navy ever met a pirate?"

This officer was an army officer and he wasn't entirely sure So the reporter tried a navy officer and he said the navy had never had the pleasure of meeting a pirate but that didn't mean the law still shouldn't cover pirates, just in case.

"Listen to what the dictionary says," he said. "Here it is. The Oxford concise dictionary, the one we accept under regulations, says a pirate is 'a sea robber or a marauder'."

He considered that conclusive, ample justification for extending the pirate's legal life. Certainly, he said, the navy conceivably could come up against pirates under the Oxford dictionary interpretation of what a pirate is.

"We might meet pirates these days," he said with final emphasis. "Streamlined pirates."

Labrador Ores May Win Seaway Approval

By JAMES C. MUNN

WASHINGTON, June 5 (AP). — The rich iron ores of bleak Labrador may some day be the means of winning United States Congressional approval for the long-sought $800,000,000 St. Lawrence Seaway and Power projects.

The proposed seaway would enable deep-draught ships to travel from the mouth of the St. Lawrence River to Duluth, Minn., 2,350 miles away at the western-most point of the Great Lakes.

For decades, construction of the seaway has been blocked by power companies, railroad management and port cities of the Atlantic and Gulf coasts of the United States.

These interests have always contended that the seaway, and its related power development, would work an unfair economic hardship on them. Advocates say such claims are without foundation.

Valid or not, recent testimony before the House of Representatives Public Works Committee left the impression that the opposition arguments may crumble before the growing need of the United States for new supplies of iron ore.

Reserves Exhausted

U.S. reserves of high-grade iron ores are nearing exhaustion. The steel industry realizes this and in recent years has spent millions seeking new deposits.

In addition to the Labrador deposits, estimated to contain 350,000,000 to 400,000,000 tons of rich ores, new sources have been found in Venezuela and Africa. But these discoveries raise a transportation problem.

Even should the transportation problem be solved, a further difficulty arises:

Could steel manufacturers expect adequate ore supplies from abroad in time of war?

Interior Secretary Oscar Chapman and Army Secretary Frank Pace, to mention only two, think not. What is the alternative?

Need Seaway

Labrador ores, they say, brought through the protected inland route that the St. Lawrence Seaway would make it possible.

But why can't Labrador ores be shipped over the existing St. Lawrence-Great Lakes waterway? They can, but not enough to maintain the present level of steel prices.

The existing 14-foot St. Lawrence channel isn't deep enough for the ore ships now in use. A channel at least 28 feet deep would have to be dredged through the International Rapids section of the St. Lawrence near Massena, N.Y.

Engineers estimate that proposed power facilities near Massena would generate more than 13,000,000,000 kilowatt hours of energy a year. The production would be shared equally between the United States and Canada.

Sost Little

Advocates of the project thus argue that the power development would cost the United States Government nothing. And that the same would be true of the seaway construction because of tolls that would be levied on shipping. Canada, which is eager for the seaway, has agreed "in principle" to the tolls proposition.

The Department of Commerce has estimated that tolls would pay off the seaway cost in about 53 years.

There is no chance that Congress will authorize the project, first discussed more than 50 years ago, in this session. The bill must be introduced again in the next Congress.

"ACTIVATED" Shell Premium is the most powerful gasoline your car can use!

The year was 1835...

... over 32 miles of primitive roads and tangled woodland trails walked six Canadian pioneers . . . arguing fiercely as they went. Their purpose: to kill each other's vote!

Yes, these six early settlers knew they were evenly divided in opinion . . . that three would vote for one candidate Dr. William Dunlop, The Canada Company's man . . . and three would vote for the other candidate, Col. Anthony Van Egmond. Yet they made the gruelling march to Goderich, Ontario, there to cast their ballots in the 1835 election of The Upper Canada Legislative Assembly. Not one of the six said "There's no use my going—my vote will be killed."

When YOU cast your secret ballot at every election—municipal, provincial, federal—you exercise a duty and privilege planned, worked and fought for by your forefathers. Your vote protects the future of your children. To fail in this duty is to be less than a good citizen.

Detroit Drive For Funds Hottest Issue

DETROIT, June 5 — (AP). — A new type of charitable fund-raising campaign, Detroit's torch drive, right now is the hottest thing in its field.

The drive, with the motto "Give Once For All," last fall raised $9,200,000 for 142 national and community aid organizations.

Since then, the Detroit office has received more than 1,300 queries from other cities asking "How?"

National organizations, such as the Red Cross and the March of Dimes, also are quite concerned but for a different reason. They see in it a threat to their own independent drives and activities.

As the motto indicates, the Torch Drive was the only large-scale, mass solicitation made in Detroit. It included all the city's Red Feather (Community Chest) agencies, plus others that had staged private drives.

Fair Division

Walter C. Laidlaw, chairman of the United Foundation, which staged the drive, explained its objectives:

"We want to bring efficiency to fund raising by making one out of many drives, and to distribute funds on an equitable basis," he says.

The plan works this way:

1—A non-profit corporation is set up to unify the raising of money for the operation of health and community services.

2—The services themselves are approached and invited to join in the single drive. It is pointed out that one campaign can slash the overhead costs of running separate campaigns.

3—The services go out together and ask donations. Their talking point is: "Contribute now and you won't be asked for another year."

Where the plan has caught on the most, Laidlaw says, is in Detroit's teeming industrial plants. Both management and workers appreciate the immunity from 10 to 20 assaults a year on their pocketbooks.

Two Students Drown While Boating

By The Canadian Press

Two McGill University students were drowned Sunday in the St. Lawrence river, among eight weekend fatalities in Eastern Canada recorded by The Canadian Press.

Four persons lost their lives in traffic mishaps, one was killed by a train and another burned to death.

John Dohan, 21, and Joan Birch, 19, both of Montreal, were drowned in the St. Lawrence off Pointe Claire in suburban Montreal. They were sailing when the girl apparently fell from the boat and Dohan was drowned in an attempt to rescue her.

Glendon Trowse, 14, was burned to death and his parents seriously burned when fire destroyed their farmhouse near Wakefield, Que.

Joseph Neveue, 45, was struck and killed by a Canadian National Railways locomotive at Crabtree Mills, 40 miles north of Montreal.

Three of the traffic fatalities were in Ontario and one in Saint John, N.B. Arthur Chaput, 49, was fatally injured by a truck at Espanola, 30 miles west of Sudbury. John Batt, 65, was killed when hit by a streetcar at Toronto Saturday night, and William Daubney, 81, died at London from injuries received in a motorcar accident some days previously. At Saint John, three-year-old Gerard Richards was run over and killed by a truck.

The eight weekend fatalities followed five deaths by drowning in Eastern Ontario Friday.

Learns At Seance That He Should Paint Pictures

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, June 5 (AP)—The success of Oscar de Mejo in the art world gets more fantastic the more you learn about it.

De Mejo (pronounced May-ho), who is the husband of a Tress Vallei, has sold 65 canvases within the last year, no small achievement for any artist. But it is more remarkable when you learn that:

1. He has been painting for only a year;

2. He has never had an art lesson;

3. He says that a ghost told him to take up painting.

Let de Mejo explain it in his own words:

"When Alida (his wife) and I came here from Italy, I didn't exactly know what to do. I started a band with Tony Romano and we had luck for a while, but we folded in Phoenix . . .

Ghost Artist

"I have always been interested in spiritualism and one night I was invited to a seance. We heard a tapping and it turned out to be someone asking for me. It was a boy who had died in New Orleans in 1912 at the age of 14. He had taken up art before he died and wanted me to carry on his work. I said I would."

Style "Primitive"

De Mejo bought a set of paints and started in. Working six to eight hours a day, he turned out a canvas almost daily. Unschooled in art, he developed his own "primitive" style.

Friends admired de Mejo's bright and expressive scenes and urged him to market them. So he hauled some of them down to a Los Angeles department store and made an immediate sale.

Success Dazzles

Successful shows in Los Angeles, San Francisco and New York followed. "Anybody can do it," he said. "All you have to do is get a set of paints and start in. I think it's better to do without lessons. Then you can develop your own style."

Capsule Review

"The Glass Menagerie" (WB) is probably the best-acted picture of this year. The Tennessee Williams play has been brought to the screen with a good feeling for its generally-sombre mood. Gertrude Lawrence, Jane Wyman and Arthur Kennedy form the pathetic family and Kirk Douglas is the gentleman caller. A hopeful ending has been tacked on to the movie version to relieve the pessimism.

Thomas Mann Celebrates 75th Birthday In Zurich

By W. G. ROGERS

NEW YORK, June 5 (AP)—On Tuesday, in Zurich, Switzerland, in the company of his wife, several children and grandchildren, novelist Thomas Mann will celebrate his 75th birthday

"Celebrate" is perhaps a strong word, he said on his way through New York recently to Europe. "I will be in the circle of my family."

Despite his age, the Nobel Prize winner looks healthy enough for a rousing celebration.

New Translation

Perhaps it will be sufficient observance of the day, however, to know that Paris has just brought out a translation of his last novel, "Doctor Faustus," and that a generous selection of his work, "The Thomas Mann Rader," edited by Joseph Warner Angell from H. T. Lowe-Porter's translations, will be published on his birthday by Alfred A. Knopk in New York.

Mann speaks in sober tones of the "temptation of the democracies to take fascism as brother-in-arms" in Germany and of the "tendency to consider German nationalism as a bulwark against Russia."

He understands Britain's and the United States' "comprehensible fear" of communism. But he had always hoped, he said, that "Russia and America would meet half way, that Russia would grow more democratic and America more socialist." This hope, he says, is dimming.

The Written Word

What is the position of the creative worker in a crisis of this sort?

"The influence of the writer is hard to define," Mann explained. "He cannot of course be an active politician But I shall never stop doing my best to help out the good cause.

"If I am skeptical of the writer's power to influence history, I do believe nevertheless in the power of the written word. The writer should not live in an ivory tower, he should participate in the problems of mankind. It's not quite right, in other words, to say today that art and literature have nothing to do with politics."

---They Taste As Good As They Look---

GRAPE-NUTS ORANGE MUFFINS

- 2 cups sifted flour
- 3 teaspoons Calumet Baking Powder
- ⅔ cup sugar
- ½ teaspoon salt
- 2 eggs, well beaten
- ¾ cup orange juice
- 1 tablespoon grated orange rind
- 2 tablespoons melted butter or other shortening
- 1 cup Grape-Nuts

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder, sugar, and salt, and sift again. Combine eggs, orange juice and rind, and shortening. Add to flour, beating only enough to dampen all flour. Add Grape-Nuts. Bake in hot, greased muffin pans in hot oven (425° F.) 20 to 25 minutes. Makes 12 muffins.

Attendants Frocked Alike At Jean Hopkins' Wedding

White lilacs and gladioli at the altar of All Saints' Anglican Church Saturday afternoon were setting for the wedding of Audrey Jean, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter P. Hopkins, Chamberlain St., to Mr. Peter William Johnson.

The Rev. W. E. Kibblewhite officiated and Mrs. Elsie Chambers Flett was at the organ. Before the ceremony Miss Iris Whalon sang "The Lord's Prayer" and during signing of the register, "All joy be thine."

The bride was lovely in a gown with slight train made of white corded taffeta on princess lines with strapless bodice, topped with a long-sleeved bolero of Dutch lace, buttoned from the neckline. She wore a tiny helmet cap of the same lace with a fingertip veil of silk illusion and carried a muff of lace covered with lilacs and orchids. Mr. Hopkins gave his daughter in marriage.

Bridal attendants were Miss Elsie Bradley, her cousin from Inkster, Michigan, as matron of honor, Miss Dorothy Dummitt and Miss Moira Whalon as bridesmaids. They were frocked alike in dusty rose crepe made on simple lines with square neckline, short cap sleeves and slightly full skirts. Their gloves were white and their helmet caps, made similarly to the bride's, were of the dusty rose crepe with clusters of flowers at one side to match their cascades of pale pink carnations.

Mr. Robert Hopkins was the groomsman and ushers were Ronald and Donald Johnson and Edwin Hopkins.

The reception took place at 585 Homewood Avenue, the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. Whalon. The bride's mother was greeting guests in a gown of grey tissue faille trimmed with lace worn with a black straw hat with pink flower trim and a corsage of pink roses.

For travelling the bride chose a summer suit of beige, matching hat and purse, cocoa suede shoes and white gloves. Her corsage was an orchid.

The couple will live in Peterborough.

Hazel V. Rennie R. O. Brown Take Marriage Vows

Rings and vows were exchanged in Trinity United church Saturday afternoon when the Rev. Dr. D. Bruce Gordon solemnized the marriage of Hazel Victoria, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Rennie of Pontypool, and Mr. Robert Oliver Brown, the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Brown of Deseronto.

White lilacs and tulips were in two standards at the altar and decorating the church. The music was played by Mr. Donald Kennedy, organist, and at signing of the register he accompanied Mrs. D. B. Gordon singing "Through the years."

The bride was given in marriage by her father and was gowned in white sat fashioned with sweetheart neckline and sleeves coming to points at the wrist, a moulded bodice and full skirt. She wore a single strand of pearls with earrings and a ring to match. Her fingertip veil of embroidered illusion was caught to a bonnet of Chantilly lace trimmed with pearls and she carried a cascade of orchids and tiny 'mums.

Maid of honor Miss Maxine Elliott and bridesmaid Miss Jean Brown of Kingston, cousin of the groom, were in frocks of yellow and blue taffeta, styled similiarly to the bride's with short sleeves and they wore matching mittens. Each had a braided halo of the taffeta, entwined with tiny seed pearls and carried a cascade of Johanna Hill roses on a frame of the material of their dresses.

The groom's attendant was Mr. Gaynor Rendall of Deseronto. Ushers were Donald Grandy, Peterborough and Glen Gibson, Deseronto.

The reception was in the church parlor with the bride's mother receiving in a gown of navy flowered taffeta and navy accessories with a hat of natural straw and wearing pink roses in a corsage. She was assisted by the groom's mother, who was in grey flowered silk and wearing a grey straw hat and corsage of mauve sweet peas. Mrs. Gordon sang again, choosing "Tell me why the stars do shine," and Mr. R. Henary sang at the close, "Bless this house."

Mr. and Mrs. Brown left on a wedding trip to the Thousand Islands and through New York state the bride wearing a cordella suit in morning mist shade with navy accessories and an orchid corsage on a white plume.

On return they will live at 22 Carlisle St., Kingston.

Leeper-Weaver Vows Taken

In the Church of the Open Bible, decorated with tulips and lilacs, the marriage took place Saturday afternoon of Violet Grace, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ward Weaver Sr., McDonnel St., and Mr. Richard William Leeper, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Leeper of Norwood.

The Rev. Walter S. Crone performed the ceremony. Miss Jean McLeod played wedding music, and during signing of the register Mrs. Leitha Mansell sang "A Wedding Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was traditionally gowned in white satin with beading at the high neckline, long sleeves trimmed with lace, and the skirt falling into a flowing train. A beaded headdress held her fingertip veil of tulle and she carried American Beauty roses.

Attendants Miss Edna Revoy and Mrs. O. Clements were in similarly styled frocks of yellow and mauve embossed organza with hats of matching net, and they carried bouquets of red and yellow roses. Joan Weaver, niece of the bride, as flower girl, was dressed in white organza over green taffeta with headdress of white net, and she carried sweetpeas.

Mr. Harold McKay attended the groom and ushers were Ward Weaver and Clifford Sedgwick.

At the reception afterward, in the YWCA green room, the bride's mother was receiving in a dress of navy sheer and white straw hat. Also the groom's mother, who wore navy flowered crepe with navy hat. Each had a corsage of red roses.

When leaving later for points west the bride was wearing a navy gabardine suit and pink accessories, and had a corsage of white roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Leeper will live at 515 Cross St.

Four Attend Grace Driver Bride of D. E. Bruce, Toronto

Bethany United Church, decorated with tall standards of apple blossoms, ferns, tulips and lilacs, formed a lovely setting for the wedding, Saturday afternoon of Grace Irene, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Driver of Bethany to Douglas Earl Bruce, son of Mr. and Mrs. Irvine Bruce of Toronto. The double ring ceremony was solemnized by the Rev. W. R. Crandall.

Wedding music was played by Miss Betty Waddell and Miss Joyce Lywood, of Lindsay, cousin of the bride, sang "I Love You Truly" before the bridal party entered the church and "Through The Years" during the signing of the register.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in a gown of white slipper satin. It was designed on princess lines, the skirt ending in a full train. The fitted bodice had a marquisette yoke, with bertha collar of satin, edged with seed pearls, and the long sleeves came to points over her hands. The full length bridal veil was of net illusion, caught to a halo of orange blossoms. She carried a cascade of deep red roses.

Matron of honor for her sister, Mrs. Verne Mulligan wore orchid taffet, extending in a slight train, tiny puff sleeves and sweetheart neckline, with matching poke bonnet, finger tip veil and mittens and carried a nosegay of variegated sweet peas with background of frilled orchid ribbon. Miss Gladys Driver of Toronto was her sister's maid of honor, wearing a floor-length gown of green taffeta, with matching overskirt of net, tiny cap sleeves and Chinese collar. She wore a tiny Dutch hat and taffeta mittens of the same material, and carried a nosegay of pink sweet peas. Mrs. Bruce Beacock of Toronto, sister of the groom, as bridesmaid wore yellow taffeta of the same design, with matching Dutch hat and mittens and nosegay of mixed sweet peas. Little Dianne Mulligan, neice of the bride, was the flower girl, dressed in pink taffeta, made with tight bodice, a bertha collar, and bouffant skirt, with matching poke bonnet and carried pink sweet peas.

Mr. Frank Meades, Toronto, was groomsman. Ushers were Maurice Driver and Verne Mulligan of Bethany and Harold Meades and Bruce Beacock, Toronto.

The reception for about 70 guests was held at the home of the bride's parents, where Mrs. Driver received in a dress of blush pink faille, with matching lace trim, navy accessories and corsage of butterfly roses. Mrs. Irvine Bruce, also receiving guests, wore wine crepe with navy accessories and corsage of yellow roses. Assisting with serving the buffet luncheon were the Misses Hazel White, Olive McGill, Evelyn Mantle, Dorothy Ginn, Marie Carr, Beverly Pomeroy and Peggy Reynolds.

For travelling to New York City, the bride wore a suit of rosewood gabardine, with matching topcoat. Her accessories were of navy and she was wearing a corsage of butterfly roses.

The couple will live at 13 Fenwick Ave., Toronto.

Audrey Windsor is Bride, In Lovely Church Setting

Many out-of-town guests attended the wedding on Saturday of Audrey Elizabeth, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stanley Windsor of Peterborough, to Mr. Ross Farquhar, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Farquhar of Toronto. The double ring ceremony was performed in All Saints' Anglican Church by the Rev. W. E. Kibblewhite, assisted by the Rev. F. C. McMulkin of Toronto.

Enhancing the church setting were standards filled with white lilacs and gladioli and touches of flame color. Music was played by Mrs. H. A. Lye of Winnipeg, cousin of the bride. Miss Barbara Chase of Lindsay was the soloist who sang, before the ceremony, "O perfect love," and at signing of the register, "Because."

The bride wore a beautiful gown of white satin and French imported lace with a yoke of nylon appliqued in lace and the full skirt with lace trim ending in a long graceful train. A tiara of pearls and rhinestones held her full length veil of silk illusion and she was carrying a white prayer book and an orchid with streamers of stephanotis and white lilacs. She was given in marriage by her father.

Attending as matron of honor was Mrs. J. McNeil of Toronto, cousin of the groom, whose bouffant frock of pastel yellow sheer was fashioned with cape collar edged with self-ruching and short puff sleeves, and had a sash of yellow taffeta with butterfly bow and streamers falling to the floor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. F. Ronco and Mrs. Wm. Blundell, frocked in pastel pink and green organdy with floral design, made with a drop-shoulder effect and cap sleeves. All of the attendants wore matching picture hats of net edged with Chantilly lace and lace mittens and they carried cascades of mauve iris and little America 'mums.

The groom's attendant was his brother, Mr. Joseph Farquhar of Toronto. Another brother, Jack Farquhar of Windsor, ushered with Ronald Cochrane, Peterborough.

The reception was at Club Aragon where Mrs. Windsor was receiving in a gown of silver streak mesh with Chantilly lace panel and wearing a matching picture hat trimmed with pink lilacs, pink gloves, and a corsage of sweetheart roses on a pink feather. The groom's mother, assisting her, was gowned in leaf green sheer made with drape effect and had black accessories and a corsage of yellow roses on a green feather.

For her going-away outfit the bride chose a bolero jacket dress of beige faille with bodice of of bronze lace, and she wore cinnamon-tone accessories and carried a coat of grey needlepoint. Her corsage was of white gladioli cups and blue cornflower.

After their wedding trip through the central States, Mr. and Mrs. Farquhar will live at 218 Reid St., Peterborough.

Spinster Says Single Life Long List of Blessings

DEAR MISS DIX: I work for a large firm. Most of the men in it are married and they are always pitying me because I am drifting into maidenhood and telling me that I haven't much time left in which to get a husband. I smile and compare my lot with that of their wives. I live in a pleasant boarding house where I have delicious food that I do not have to prepare myself. A pretty room that I do not have to keep clean. My day's work begins at 9 and ends at 5 after which my time is my own.

My salary provides me with good clothes, trips, amusements. I have no man to keep placated nor tied to me.

The wives, as a rule, look ten years older than I do. Their work is never done. They have to make every dollar do the work of five. They have to cook and wash and sew and wrestle with children. They have to bear with men who drink and flirt and philander and who are grouchy and hard to live with and to save my life I can't see where their lot is better than mine. Do you? A FREE SOUL

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: I certainly do not, unless they have such an overwhelming passion for their husbands that it takes the sting out of every sacrifice and makes them feel that every hardship is worth while if only they can be with their adored Tom, Dicks and Harrys.

Marriage a Risk

Now, I'm not saying that a girl shouldn't marry until she can take out a foolproof insurance on matrimonial bliss. If she did, she would never marry. Marriage is bound to be a dangerous venture and the old proverb "nothing ventured, nothing have" is as good in it as it is elsewhere in life.

But I do say that the girl with a good job who marries thinking that she is going to better her worldly position generally finds out that she guessed wrong. As a wife she has to work longer hours than she did in any office, and she works for board and clothes with no pay envelope, and she finds her husband lots harder to get along with and more critical than her boss was.

And the only thing that makes marriage worth while is just being so much in love with her husband that nothing matters.

But when a man whose wife is wrestling with pots and pans and babies and wearing hand-me-downs pities the competent business girl because she isn't married, it certainly is a joke.

DEAR MISS DIX: My husband and I have been married almost four years. No children. No happiness because we are just two opposite types of people. He likes to sit at home and never enjoys anything where he must spend money. I like to step out occasionally. He fusses even when I spend my own money. About six months ago I became tired of such a life and so I left him. We were separated only a few days and he begged me to come back, after which he was an ideal husband for two or three months. I was perfectly happy and thought he was, but he says that he can never be happy with me again. He believes there is a mate for every person and he thinks we are mismated. I love him and it breaks my heart to think of giving him up. I am working and am self-supporting. I am 20 years old and he is 22. What should we do?

T. N. C.

ANSWER: You are 20 and have been married four years. He is 22 and has been married four years. Two children who married before they were old enough to know what they wanted in a wife and husband and whose tastes have changed and who now find that they don't like what they've got and can't get along together. Another illustration of the tragic result of too early marriages.

If you really love your husband, before you finally wreck your home don't you think that you should give your marriage another chance? You haven't really tried it out yet. In marriage the one who loves most and to whom the breaking up of the marriage would mean the most suffering must necessarily make the greatest sacrifice to keep the marriage a going concern. This being true, it is up to you, if you wish to keep your husband, to make yourself the kind of wife he wants. It is a question of which you would rather have—your husband and your home, or go to parties and movies.

DEAR MISS DIX: My boy friend and I are both working and making about the same salary. Do you think it wrong for me to suggest going Dutch treat to him when we go out together? We are only friends and I'd like to pay my part of a treat, but he becomes furious if I even mention it. N .W.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: It is a very sensible arrangement and one that is followed by many young couples these days. But if your friend objects to it, that settles the matter as far as he is concerned. Many boys have a foolish pride that makes them feel inferior of a girl pays her share.

Woman Scorns Perils of Game Reserve

CAPETOWN, June. — (CP). — Mrs. Esme Lowands—known as "Tess of the Bushveld," the only woman ever to have served as an active game warden in South Africa—sailed from Capetown recently on a six-month lecture tour of Europe.

Now in her early 50's, Mrs. Lowands has led a life of adventure in an area of the Transvaal teeming with game, which few of her city sisters would envy.

Mrs. Lowands, after qualifying as a teacher, married the warden in charge of the 160,000-area Sabi game reserve on the western borders of the Kruger National Park.

This reserve consists of 25 farms with nine camps and is favored by poachers, Europeans and natives alike, who invade it in organized gangs.

Mrs. Lowands' duties were, until the Second World War began, largely domestic, with anything from baby mambas confronting her when she stepped into the dining-room armed only with a fluster.

Then her husband went on active service. Rather than give up the life in the wilds, Mrs. Lowands stepped into his shoes.

As the only woman in the huge reserve, and often the only white person, Mrs. Lowands, accompanied by native assistants, regularly patrolled the reserve by motor truck.

"You can keep pretty busy by patrolling a game reserve like that. You have to when there's nobody around to talk to," said Mrs. Lowands.

"But when it is night in the jungle and you hear the throb of the native tom-toms in the Kraal nearby and you know by the vibrating roars of the lions and the barking of the jackals that you are surrounded, then your nerves must be good."

Mrs. Lowands stayed in the reserve on her own for more than two years until her husband was invalided out of the armed forces.

Then she went to Johannesburg to help organize the Wild Life Protection Society, and later became the first woman member of the Town Council of Barberton where she was born.

Fat Free Low Calorie Dinner Prepared by Mary Moore

By MARY MOORE

This section is devoted usually to Special-Purpose Menus but today it features a meal that was fat-free—entirely.

We had occasion to entertain a guest whose diet must be fat-free and it was fun seeing just how tempting a meal one could produce under that strict limitation. Our low-calorie dinner today gives the menu, and the directions outline the "how-to-do."

✧ ✧ ✧

Fat Free Company Dinner

Chilled canned pineapple juice
Broiled Porterhouse steak
Watercress
Carrot strips (see notes)
Boiled new potatoes
Chive and parsley sauce
(see notes)
Shredded fresh pineapple
Angel food cake with chopped cherry frosting
Clear coffee

Directions

The sauce seemed to be most welcome discovery for our guest for he had been trying vainly to enjoy vegetables with salt and sprinklings of lemon juice on them, and did miss the butter and the Hollandaise sauce and the cheese gratings he had been accustomed to.

Emem's Chive and Parsley Sauce

One-half cup homogenized milk, ½ cup liquid from cooking asparagus, 3 tablespoons cold water, 2 tablespoons flour, ¼ teaspoon salt, shake of white pepper, 2 teaspoons lemon juice, 1 tablespoon each finely chopped chives and parsley. Heat milk and asparagus liquid and stir into them the flour and water stirred to a smooth paste, and stir until thick. Add all remaining ingredients; the lemon juice must be added slowly.

This sauce may be varied a great deal: add grated lemon rind or curry powder or chopped pimiento or grated skimmed milk cheese, or any variation that you can think up that do not include fat.

I have only one entree dish, and it is fairly large and rectangular so I cut the carrots in strips the same length and size as the asparagus and arranged them in a parallel pile in one end of the dish and the asparagus likewise at the other.

The potatoes were medium sized so I left them whole and sprinkled them with paprika and served them on the platter with the steak and watercress. We passed the all-purpose sauce.

The frosting for the cake was made of icing sugar, maraschino cherry juice and chopped maraschino cherries.

If some readers find this menu too exactly suit their needs, write to me, for since having to prepare that meal I have though of several other fat-free meals I could have served.

QUESTION: Would you please tell me everthing about a Dutch oven? I remember Grandma talking about her Dutch oven, and I have read different recipes where one was used but I am ignorant about their proper use. Are they used for roasts or stews and would you consider one better for roasting than an ordinary roaster? Thanking you in advance, and I also enjoy your items each week in our paper. Mrs. A. J. M.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: The major function of a Dutch oven is for cooking tough meats until tender and other foods that require long, slow cooking. It does not take the place of a roasting pan,—except where you would use it for pot roasting meat that could be cooked until tender in oven at low temperature.

The Dutch oven excels when you are preparing and serving such foods as beef stew with fluffy dumpling, Italian spaghetti, chicken fricassee and fish chowder, etc.

I will give you a few Dutch oven recipes.

Country Style Chicken

One 4 or 5 pound fowl, cut up, 1-3 cup flour, 3 teaspoons salt, 6 each pared medium potatoes, onions, scraped carrots, 2 green peppers, seeded and cut in narrow strips (optional), 1 tablespoon sugar, ¼ teaspoon pepper, 1 20-oz. tin tomatoes, 1 cup boiling water, 4 tablespoons flour, 6 tablespoons cold water. Prepare chicken, by cleaning, washing, drying and singeing. Then roll it in the flour which has been mixed with ½ teaspoon of salt. Brown in the fat in a Dutch oven, and remove pieces as they brown. Place 2-3 of the raw vegetables in bottom of Dutch oven.

Lay chicken on top and add remaining raw vegetables. Mix together the sugar, pepper, tomatoes, remaining 2½ teaspoons salt and boiling water and pour into Dutch oven. Cover; simmer for 1¾ to 2 hours or bake at 375 deg. Fahr. Remove chicken and vegetables to hot platter and keep hot. Into the remaining gravy stir the flour which has been mixed to a smooth paste with the cold water, until thick. Pour over chicken on platter and serve at once. An appropriate garnish is rings of green pepper.

Pot Roast (in Dutch Oven)

Select a firm piece of beef, either solid or rolled—almost any inexpensive cut will do. Wipe meat with cold damp cloth and sear in some of the fat trimmed from the roast in hot Dutch oven with trivet removed—over direct heat. When uniformly browned add ½ to ¾ cup boiling water, pouring down sides of kettle, not over meat, or canned tomatoes, slip trivet under meat, cover and reduce heat as low as possible (or bake in oven at 275 deg. Fahr.) for about 3¾ hours. Remove meat to hot platter. Mix together 2 tablespoons flour and 2 tablespoons cold water; make liquid in Dutch oven up to 1 cup and stir in flour paste until thick; strain over meat on platter and serve vegetables around the meat in a border. (Of course vegetables may be cooked with the meat if desired—but as I have said in this column before I think fluffy mashed potatoes are ideal with pot roast and pot roast gravy.)

✧ ✧ ✧

QUESTION: Just try this recipe for Dill pickles. You will fined it will solve all of your difficulties. We have used it for many years. Vinegar tends to soften the pickles and spoils the real dill flavor. J. M.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Thank you for the dill pickle recipe. I hope the reader who was enquiring sees this method.

✧ ✧ ✧

Dill Pickles (J. Miller)

Put 2 tablespoons mustard seed and some dill in bottom of ½ gal. jar; wipe cucumbers and fill jars with layers of dill and cucumbers; then cover with hot brine made of 1 cup salt (common cooking salt—not iodized) to 14 cups boiling water. Seal and do not disturb for 2 months when they will be ready to use.

Makes 4-2quart jars brine.

Thank you J. Miller.

Being Able to Eat Meat But Still Remain Solven.

By MARY MOORE

At a risk of repeating myself, and because I might help you to manage your meat purchases without worrying over prospects of moving into the poorhouse—I am still harping on the subject of meat prices

I have just come away from an interview with a cattle and hog buyer and he tells me again that the aggregate cost of meat is higher this week (higher than last week) than ever before in Canadian records

If this statement is to be analyzed it is true that the dressed weight of whole hogs was 34½ cents last summer and this month (at time of writing) it is 33 cents; but the price of beef is so much higher that it carries the average price over the top.

Something must be done or someone will have to be summonsed as Little Albert's Mother declared.

You can serve hamburg or wieners in a variety of ways and I am giving you a new idea for both today.

Split Weiners Baked on Beans with Barbecue Sauce

(I cannot bring myself to recommend baking your own beans in this weather nor when canned baked beans may be bought so reasonably.) Fill a casserole with canned baked beans, and on top place 1 lb. weiners partially split and bury them a little in the beans and heat through in hot oven until liquid bubbles.

Make barbecue sauce by sauteing ¼ cup chopped onion in 2 tablespoons butter or shortening for 5 minutes, then add 2 tablespoons each brown sugar and prepared mustard, ½ teaspoon paprika, 1-3 cup each vinegar and water. Let this heat through enough to just simmer. Pass when weiners and beans are served on plates.

Since I belong to the school that wants its steak and roast beef rare, I think you will understand why I do not like meat loaves. They are too dry and stodgy. So I treat our hamburg steak this way.

Broiled Meat Cakes

To 1 lb. hamburg or ground stewing beef add ½ cup hot whole milk and salt and pepper and Worcestershire sauce to taste. Make into cakes about 1 inch thick by 3 inches in diameter. If desired wrap each meat cake with strips of side bacon around edge and fasten with toothpick. Have broiler as hot as you would have it for steak—about 500 deg. Fahr. if it is an electric burner. Place meat cakes on broiler pan and boil one side until medium brown, turn over, do same to other side and turn over twice again. This requires about 12 mins. if oven is very hot and meat cakes are thick—and leaves them moist and a delicate pink in centre. Serve very hot on hot plates, with oven-French-fried potatoes.

—Lovingly remembered by his niece and nephew, Elizabeth and Roland Clifford.

HEASMAN—In loving memory of our dear brother, John F. Heasman, who passed away Jun 5th, 1949.
The pearly gates were opened,
A gentle voice said "Come."
And with farewells unspoken,
He gently entered home.
—Lovingly remembered by sister and brother-in-law.

7—Cards of Thanks

Mrs. Tom Martin and family wish to extend their sincere thanks and appreciation to Rev. Kaye, attending doctor and nurses of Civic Hospital especially Ladies' Aid and all kind friends and neighbours who helped so much during illness and bereavement of the late Mr. Martin.

Mrs. Spence wishes to express her sincere thanks to the sisters, nurses and attending doctor for their care and kindness; also to all the kind friends who visited her and sent cards, letters and flowers during her illness in St. Joseph's Hospital.

Veterans Join For Service

PUT-IN-BAY, O., June 5 (AP) —About 1,000 Canadian and American veterans of world wars one and two gathered here Sunday to mark the 135 years of peace between the two countries.

They also paid tribute to British and U. S. soldiers who died in the famed battle of Lake Erie just off this island. It was there that Commodore Oliver Hazard Perry defeated the British fleet and won control of the lakes.

Three British and three Americans, all killed in the war of 1812, are buried in the Perry Memorial, a towering pillar. The Canadian and American veterans Sunday each deposited a wreath and their country's flag inside the memorial.

There also was a joint parade of Legionnaires through the island preceding the memorial services. Bruce Henderson, Ohio State legion commander, and G. M. Fitzgerald, Canadian Legion commander in Ontario, both spoke.

Kosciusko Cameraman Wins Top News Prize

WASHINGTON, June 5 (AP)—Billy McMillan of the Kosciusko, Miss., Star-Herald Sunday was named winner of the National Press Photographers' annual competition for his news picture of the capture of two killers in Mississippi early this year.

The National Press Photographers' Association said McMillan will receive a $100 reward when the association opens its convention at Atlantic City, N. J., on Thursday. McMillan's picture won out against 600 others.

The $50 second prize will go to photographer Jervas W. Baldwin of the Des Moines (Ia.) Register and Tribune for his picture of a small child, deaf since birth, hearing for the first time through an electronic amplifier.

Charles Hoff of the New York Daily News, winner of the $25 third prize, entered a photograph showing the distorted features of boxer Kid Gavilan as he took a blow on the head in a Philadelphia bout.

Pope Consecrates Altar In Grottos

VATICAN CITY, June 5—(AP)—In a strictly private ceremony, Pope Pius today consecrated the central altar dedicated to Saint Peter in the Vatican grottos.

The solemn ceremony climaxed long years of excavations and preparations of the grotto which, Pope Pius 11½ years ago said, marks the place where the first Pope and Prince of the Apostles—Saint Peter—was placed to rest.

The ceremony proceeded while hundreds of holy year pilgrims prayed on the basilica's marble floors at the head of the ancient crypts, unaware.

The Pontiff and a small party of prelates and Vatican officials entered the grottos from a new doorway that leads directly to the excavations.

Vatican sources said the ceremony today was limited to consecration of the central altar, whose stones include slabs from the original basilica built by the Emperor Constantine to mark the spot where Saint Peter was believed to be buried.

ing a chapel for prayer and meditation. A chapel which would call to mind the heroic sacrifice of those "who poured out the sweet red wine of youth."

From the earliest times, the church had been concerned with the welfare of the sick—the first hospitals of healing were religious foundations.

Brief Sermon

Taking for his text: "But Jesus saith unto him, 'Follow me and leave the dead to bury their own dead.'" Mr. Gilling interpreted this "hard, severe and unvarnished language," by explaining that to regard the dead as still alive, was to sin against the sovereign rights of the Lord of Heaven and Earth.

In time and space they were dead and if man treated them as if they were still living and tried to keep back part of his own life in an artificial way, he was menaced with death, clinging to the temporal existence of the dead.

The Last Post was sounded by Band Sgt. C. Gallagher, 50 HAA Regt. RCA, and the Nunc Dimittis was chanted by the Coventry Singers.

Howard Garfield Buck Funeral At Hastings

HAVELOCK, June 5—(ENS)—The funeral of Howard Garfield Buck, 66, was held today at his residence and was conducted by the Rev. F. R. Vanderburgh, of Havelock United Church. Pallbearers were members of Norwood Lodge AF and AM No. 223, of which Mr. Buck was a member. Burial was in Norwood cemetery.

Mr. Buck's death late Saturday night followed an illness which extended over a period of several years. He was born in Asphodel township and was a son of the late James D. Buck and Mary Elizabeth Pengelly.

In his early manhood he went to live in Detroit, Michigan, where he was engaged in the insurance business with the Prudential Life Insurance Company. He came to Havelock in 1941.

He was twice married, his first wife, who died in 1938, being formerly Agnes Craighead, a sister of the present Mrs. Buck.

Surviving besides his widow, formerly Christiana Craighead Hubbel, are a stepson, George W. Hubbel, of Havelock, and a stepdaughter, Mrs. Edith White, of Toronto; two sisters, Mrs. Harry Wildman, of Norwood, and Mrs. Pearl Herron, of Detroit, Mich.; three brothers, Daniel, of Norwood, and Frank and Thomas of Detroit, Mich.

Professor Dies

LOS ANGELES, June 5.—(AP)—Professor Earl Blackstone, educator and author of books on business and typewriting, is dead at the age of 56. Blackstone, head of the University of Southern California's business education and secretarial administration department, died of a heart attack Sunday.

Declare Healing Of Sickness Full Answer To Human Trouble

Vast new evidences of the power of pure Christianity to solve mankind's problems in modern times were reported today by The Christian Science Board of Directors.

Addressing a gathering of nearly 7,500 Christian Scienctists at the annual meeting of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, the Directors declared that healing of sickness, "release and enrichment"—a full answer to human troubles—awaits all mankind through the utilizing of spiritual power.

Emphasizing "the meaning of pure Christianity" for the present age, the Directors pointed to concrete evidence that spiritual power can be utilized to heal diseases, enlarge individual capacity, provide "sure guidance," uncover hidden resources, and provide without measure "the precise good that is needed" by every individual in every human circumstance.

Their message, read by Thomas E. Hurley, retiring First Reader of The Mother Church, highlighted a session at which progress was reported in many Christian Science activities. A report of healings of serious diseases by Christian Science, compiled from many countries, was read. The Directors reported that a "marvelous new effectiveness" in the practice of Christianity is resulting today from the "scientific understanding" of its meaning. In referring to substantial growth during the past years in the number of Christian Science churches and the ranks of the denomination, the Directors added: "The healing work of Christian Science, always the best barometer of growth in the movement, was never of better quality or on a larger scale than in the last year."

Filled Three Auditoriums

The audience filled three auditoriums in the Mother Church edifices as well as a nearby theatre. Adherents traveled from every state in the union and from Europe, Asia, Australia, and other distant points to attend.

Many arrived in time to attend Sunday services yesterday, and The Mother Church—whose main auditorium seats over 4,000—used the theatre building for the overflow. In addition to today's comprehensive session, a series of meetings on various special subjects will be held tomorrow and Wednesday.

Throughout the main session ran the theme of the validity and power of Christianity to answer the problems of the modern age. Walter S. Cross of Fitchburg, Mass., Christian Science practitioner and incoming President of the Mother Church, declared in his keynote address:

"Men need a deeper understanding of God and His laws in order to cope with the present-day chaos and confusion in world affairs. There is an answer to the mesmeric doctrines of tyranny and mental domination which would spread terrorism over large areas of the globe. The answer lies in the spiritual realm, and is available now."

Steady progress was reported in reports of various Christian Science activities. George Channing, Manager of Committees on Publications, reported that insurance companies and state laws in growing number recognize the validity of Christian Science treatment, and the right of Christian Scientists to practice their religion by relying wholly upon prayer for physical healing.

In referring to Camp Welfare activities of the church, Gordon V. Comer, mentioned the healing within one week of a veteran, suffering from paralysis, who had not walked for 8 years and had not talked for 20 years.

Reporting for the Trustees of The Christian Science Publishing Society, John H. Hoagland, Manager, said circulation of The Christian Science Monitor and of the denomination's weekly, monthly, and quarterly religious periodicals had "reached the highest levels since their founding." He reported an "increasing volume of healing testimonies" volunteered by persons restored to health by Christian Science.

The church does not publish membership figures, but the Directors reported that in each year since 1902, the net gain in membership has exceeded the gain of 2,784 reported for that year by Mary Baker Eddy, the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science. In each of the last 40 years, including the one just past, the gain "has been several times as large" they stated. They reported a net gain of 38 Christian Science churches in the past year, bringing the total to more than 3,000.

Stirling Triumphs

HASTINGS, June 5 (ENS) — The Norwood band was in attendance and the opening ceremonies held by the Reeve and council to open the ball season, but because of rain the ceremonies were cancelled.

Stirling defeated Hastings Legion 7-5 in Hastings in a well played game. The rain came to mar the opening of the park and the game finally broke up in the bottom half of the eighth, when Hastings was threatening to take the lead. West started on the mound for Hastings, and was in trouble right from the first batter. Two hits and three errors behind him netted Stirling three runs. Stirling added three more in the third on three more hits, one of them a long homer by Utman with one mate aboard Crowley took over the mound duties in the fourth and showed the old form, and was in control of the game from there on.

Rogers went the route for Stirling and tied the Legion batters in knots till the seventh, when his control slipped and Legion finally found their battery eyes.

Hastings—V. Phillips, M. Fife, J. Wilson, M. Richardson, J. Morrow, B. Scott, D. West, J. Crowley, L. Thomas, R. Scriver, and K. Oliver.

Stirling—D. Bastedo, B. Mason, Lanigan, Rogers, Dafoe, Wright, Montgomery, Zyfelt, Utman.

To Head Cabinet

DAMASCUS, Syria, June 5 (AP)—Nazem Koudsi, vice-president of the Populist party, heads a new eight-man Syrian cabinet announced Sunday. In addition to the premiership, he will hold the foreign affairs portfolio. Koudsi had been asked by Hachem Bey El Atassi, chief of state, to form a new government after the resignation last Monday of Premier Khaled Bey Azzem's cabinet.

Eliminate Bars

NEW YORK, June 5 (AP) — All designations of race, creed, and color will be eliminated from "situations-wanted" advertisements henceforth in the journal of the American Medical Association, it was announced today. Edward W. Edwards, chairman of the New York state commission against discrimination, said an agreement on the matter had been reached between his commission and the American Medical Association.

Ex-President Dies

CHICAGO, June 5 (AP)—Dr. Kazys Grinius, 83, former president and premier of Lithuania, died at his home Sunday night. He came to the United States in 1947 and made his home at Chicago. Dr. Grinius was premier of Lithuania from 1920 to 1922 and president in 1926. He and his family fled from the Russian occupation in 1944.

To Set Minimum

SASKATOON, June 5 (CP)—A minimum salary for ministers of $2,200 is the objective of the United Church in 1950, it was stated in a report read Saturday to the Saskatchewan conference of the church. A. J. Trotter of Saskatoon said tat in addition to the minimum salary, more money will be available for travelling allowances. Plans for 1951 called for further increase in minimum salary to $2,400.

Rose Marie, Sunny Author Still Going Strong At 76

By SAUL PETT

NEW YORK, June 5 (AP)—At 76, Otto Harbach could sit back at his Westchester county estate and watch royalty cheques being delivered as regularly as the milk.

He could, but he doesn't. The renowned librettist, author of such big and enduring hits as "Rose Marie" "Desert Song" and "Roberta," is busier than ever.

For one thing, he has just taken on the heavy chore of being president of the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers. Also, he is writing a new musical play with Peter de Rose. And he is busy making changes in some of his old successes which are continually being revived.

Takes it Easy

At other times, Otto Harbach takes it easy, of course, when he goes to the theatre, plays the violin or helps a young librettist edit his book.

"When the bug bites you, it never gives up," says the white-haired, tall, erect writer.

The bug hit Harback in 1907, when he wrote his first show, "Three Twins," with composer Karl Hoschna. Thereafter, he had at least one show on Broadway every year for the next 25 years. In 1926, he broke a record with five plays produced in one season.

Harbach wrote the book for a long string of his hit shows, including "The Firefly," "High Jinks," "Crinoline Girl," "Katinka," "Up in Mabel's Room," "Kid Boots," "No, No Nanette," "Sunny," "Song of the Flame," and "The Cat and the Fiddle."

1,000 Songs

In his time, he has supplied words for more than 1,000 songs. Among them: "Desert Song," "Cuddle up a Little Closer, Lovey Mine;" Giannina Mia;" I Won't Dance"; "Indian Love Call"; "Love Nest"; "Love's own Song"; "The Night was Made for Love"; "One Alone"; "Rose Marie"; "Song of the Flame"; "Sympathy"; "Touch of Your Hand"; "Who," and "Smoke Gets in Your Eyes."

He recalls that when he and Friml wrote "Rose Marie" in 1924, Broadway was clamoring for "eye and ear shows for the tired businessman."

Something Different

"We were told then," Harbach says, "that the public wanted only musical shows with a light, frivolous plot written with tongue in cheek...

"But we tried something different in 'Rose Marie.' It was unusually serious for a musical—even had a death

"So, the critics planned it. As a matter of fact, for several weeks we had to give away hundreds of seats to dress the house. But finally it caught on, and became an international hit."

Cobourg Victors

COBOURG, June 5 (ENS) — Cobourg Orphans defeated Oshawa in an exhibition intermediate softball game Saturday night by the score of 9-4. The Orphans not being in a regular league this season, are playing exhibition games.

Ball, on the mound for Cobourg in the first five innings, was touched for only two hits and Platt, who pitched the rest of the game, held Oshawa hitless. The visitors' last two counters were registered as a result of a walk and an error. Cooper had a homer, a double and a single for the locals and Jack Bevan also had a home run. Cobourg knocked Zakarow out of the box inn the third inning. Morey, who replaced him on the mound, was pounded for four runs in the eighth inning.

Smuts Improving

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa, June 5 (AP)—Field Marshal Jan Christiaan Smuts felt well enough Sunday to chat with members of his family for the first time since he was stricken with pneumonia a week ago. A medical bulletin said "signs of heart embarrassment are less and have responded to treatment. Oxygen is now administered only occasionally after bouts of coughing... In general progress is being maintained."

LOPAT WINS AGAIN

Pitching—Ed Lopat, Yankees, shut out the Indians 7-0 with six singles for his 24th victory over Cleveland against six losses.

Sultan Dead

SINGAPORE, June 5 (Reuters) — Sir Ahmed Tajudd in Akhazul Khairi Wadin, sultan of Brunei, Borneo, died here Sunday at the age of 38 after a sudden haemorrhage. His body will be flown back to Brunei, one of the smallest territories in the commonwealth with a population of 30,000. His brother, Duli Tengiran Bendahara, 32, succeeds him.

More Propaganda

MOSCOW, June 5 (AP)—The Communist youth newspaper Konsomol Pravda declared today the east-west cold war is driving millions of Americans crazy. "Seventeen million lunatics," the paper said. "That's the sad result of the 'cold war' Mr. (Secretary of State Dean) Acheson began."

Doukhobors Try Blast Rail Line

NELSON, B.C., June 5 (CP)—New Doukhobor violence—the first in two weeks—broke out late Saturday night in a two-pronged attack when a Canadian Pacific rail line was blasted and an attempt was made to fire a school.

Inspector R. S. Nelson of the provincial police detachment said the rail bombing occurred at Shoreacres with a "light charge" damaging one rail.

A guard from a nearby bridge heard the blast and stopped an approaching freight. A fuse of about 30 feet was used.

The attempted burning of the school occurred at Paterson where a nearby resident discovered a typical Doukhobor incendiary mechanism of a wick and gasoline bottles.

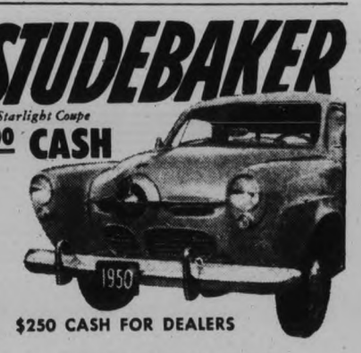
Two weeks ago a railway bridge at Grand Forks close to the international boundary was blasted.

Youth Remanded On Charge Of Theft

Robert Thompson, 17-year-old hydro worker from Millbrook, was Saturday remanded to June 6 on $500 bail by Magistrate W. R. Philp. Thompson was charged with breaking and entering Glen's Lunch, King St., and stealing 16 packages of cigarettes. He was arrested by PC John Conlin at 5:15 a.m. Saturday.

Mass Performance

DETROIT, June 5—(AP)—Ever hear of a piano selection arranged for 746 hands? No? Well, that's right. Composers ordinarily score their piano compositors, at most, for eight hands—four persons. But Sunday, at Olympic Stadium here, 373 boys and girls sat down at 187 pianos pianos and simultaneously thumped through two selections. The occasion was the seventh annual Michigan music festival.



Dewey Guest Speaker

OTTAWA, June 5 — (CP). — Governor Thomas E. Dewey of New York will visit the Central Canada Exhibition here August 23, an exhibition official said on Sunday. Mr. Dewey will speak at a special luncheon marking Internataional Day, one of a series of events arranged for the Exhibition which will run from August 21 to 26.

St. Laurent Speaker

OTTAWA, June 5 — (CP). — Prime Minister St. Laurent is going to make another trip to the United States—this time to President Truman's home state, Missouri. He left Sunday night for St. Louis, Mo., where he will address the graduating classes of the University of St. Louis on Tuesday and receive an honorary degree of Doctor of Laws. He will return to Ottawa Thursday.

'Sunshine Man' In Bed 23 Years Makes Life Happier For Shut-ins

By MARGARET WALZEM

MARIETTA, Ga., June 5. (CP) —Twenty-three years ago Clarence Power went to bed in fine fettle and awoke the victim of a creeping paralysis.

That's how Power, "The Sunshine Man," became a shut-in and made a lot of other shut-ins the happier for it.

The disease which attacked Power was multiple solerosis, which killed baseball's Lou Gehrig. In time Power could turn only his head. Doctors told his wife he had but a few days to live.

"We spent our time in tears and prayer until one night we decided to go on with the prayers and stop the crying," says Power.

For 10 years all Power could exercise was his brain. He was unable to hold a book. Only his radio provided diversion.

Power thought a lot about his plight and then he began thinking about the plight of others.

Finally, after a lot of prayers —and some home-made medicine —Power was able to sit up in bed, move his arms and begin working on an "international shut-in's day."

Only a Dream

But this day for visiting and writing the sick, now observed in 25 states and several foreign countries on the first Sunday in June, was only a dream for Power those first years.

Then one hot summer day, Mrs. Power left a blanket on the edge of her husband's bed. He began toying with an idea he'd had for some time—that heat might benefit his helpless body.

He asked his wife to cover him with the blanket and make him a brew out of some fat pine knots.

His grandfather, he recalled, had great faith in products of the pine.

Mrs. Power placed the pine knots in a jar, covered them with boiling water and, when cool, served the liquid to her husband.

Drinks Special Water

He drank the resinous water for days. Then one afternoon he could move two fingers. When he read that most invalids don't get enough iodine, in went a few drops of that.

In a few more weeks he could move all but his legs, but his muscles still were sore. Thinking back to his father again, he remembered his remedy for aches and added a dash of witch hazel.

Power's doctor said at first the mixture neither would help nor hurt him. But when he noted the change he advised, "If that stuff is doing all this, keep right on with it."

Power continued taking it until he decided the potion had done all it could.

Then he ordered a typewriter He still hasn't any sensation in his hands but he pecks out hundreds of letters. When he reads about someone's illness or sorrow he promptly sends a note or card. Answers pour in, as many as 400 a month. Often addressed only to "The Sunshine Man," Marietta, Ga."

He never leaves his room, except through his letters. His answers would be the envy of an autograph collector.

Notes have come from such diverse personalities as the former United States secretary of state, Cordell Hull; the Dionne quintuplets of Callander, Ont.; Babe Ruth; and Betty Grable.

Please Yourself Says Fishing Editor

KEWANNA, Ind., June 5 (AP) —If you want to do business with the Kewanna Observer today just walk into the office and write your own advertisement or news item.

The door is open, but publisher Bill Lyon is not there. Fishing is too good. His weekly newspaper came out with this notice on page one:

"The office of the Observer will be closed June 1, 2 and 3, due to good fishing conditions. The office door will be left open and paper and pencil will be on the counter for accommodation of patrons who wish toleave news items, advertising, or seek estimates on job work."

Organize Calf Club For Marmora Twp.

MARMORA, June 5 (ENS)— Under sponsorship of Marmora Agricultural Society, a calf club was recently organized in the council chamber of the town hall.

The meeting was opened by Reeve Irwin McCoy, of Marmora township. A. O. Dalrymple, Agricultural Representative for Hastings county, was present to explain the rules and regulations and pointed out the benefits to be derived by those taking part.

He also showed some slides dealing with judging of dairy cattle.

11-Year-Old Girl Bitten In Face By Dog

LINDSAY, June 5 —(CP)—A dog which attacked a 11-year-old Lindsay girl, inflicting serious facial wounds, has been ordered destroyed. The animal, a cockerel spaniel, sprang at young Jean Douglas as she delivered papers here. Eight stitches and four clamps were required to close wounds near one eye and the mouth. The girl had just delivered a paper at the home of A. Douglas and was attacked as she picked up her bicycle.

Sees Day Steers So Valuable No Longer Be Used For Meat

By WILLIAM FERRIS

CHICAGO, June 5 —(AP)— Can you think of a day when steers will be so valuable that no one will eat beef?

It sounds fantastic. But Victor Conquest, general manager of the research and development division of Armour and Company, meat packers, says it's a technical possibility.

"The trend for 65 years has been toward greater use of the part of animals for pharmaceuticals, chemicals and purposes other than meat," Conquest says.

"And as one part is taken from an animal for pharmaceuticals and other products, it isn't available any longer for eating.

"Of course, there are other factors involved and I don't think we'll stop eating meat. But just on the basis of what has happened in the past, and what is happening today, a situation could develop in a 100 years where meat-animal carcasses would become so valuable for other uses that they wouldn't be eaten as beef, pork or lamb."

Old-time packers didn't make much use of the waste in packing operations, although they tried.

Research Departments

All large packers now have extensive research departments, but Armour has gone into pharmaceutical research to a greater extent than any of the others. Its most noteworthy discovery since the war has been ACTH, a drug which still is in the testing stage but with revolutionary medical possibilities.

ACTH is made from the pituitary glands of hogs, and it takes 20 to 30 hogs to make one dose. ACTH stimulates the adrenal gland. Results have been startling in cases of rheumatoid arthritis, gout, ulcerative colitis, asthma and a wide assortment of other diseases.

Several other companies now make ACTH. Prices of hog pituiary glands have soared. They now are quoted as high as $25 a pound, compared with $8 in 1947.

Armour got into the meat by-product business in 1882, when it started using blood, bones and meat scraps to make soap and fertilizer. Three years later it began producing pepsin from hog parts, and soon the company got its first chemist.

Today, Armour has about 200 chemists and more than 100 other technological personnel in its research department.

Norham WA To Hold Evening Supper Party

WARKWORTH, June 5 (ENS) —Norham Women's Association a branch of the St. Paul's W.A. of Warkworth, met in the Community Centre on Thursday.

The president, Mrs. F. Platt, was in charge of the meeting, which opened with a hymn and was followed by prayer by Mrs. H. G. Lester. The scripture lesson was read by Mrs. Knox.

The treasurer reported the sum of $16.97 on hand from the previous month and over $41 cleared from lunch served at the musical festival.

It was decided to donate $10 to the Winnipeg Relief Fund.

Mrs. Lester invited the Norham women to attend the sectional rally of the WMS to be held in Warkworth on June 7.

The June meeting of the association will be held in the evening, a supper being served at 7 p.m.

A committee, composed of Mrs. Denike, Mrs. Edwards, Mrs. Norman Gummer and Mrs. Palmateer, was appointed to plan the supper menu. The date of the meeting was changed to June 29, being the fifth Thursday in the month.

Readings were given by Mrs. Richard Knight and Mrs. Ed. Mitchell. A contest was won by Mrs. Bert West.

Lunch was served by the lunch committee.

House Built, Family In, 6½ Hours Does Job

SANTA ROSA, Calif., June 5— (AP). — Men began building a five-room house here Friday at 8 a.m.

At 2:30 p.m. it was completed, including an installed television set, and a couple with a baby moved in.

It was contractor Hugh Codding's idea of how to make the opening of a $2,000,000 development.

In all, 120 workers were used.

Mr. and Mrs. Willis G. Hilliard and their 19-months-old son moved into the two-bedroom home. Built on 855 square feet of space, the frame residence also includes a living-room, dining-room, kitchen, and garage.

MacArthur Purges 24 Top Reds

Japanese Government Follows Orders To Curb Communists

TOKYO, June 6 — (AP) — Gen. MacArthur, angered by Japanese Red attacks on United States soldiers, ordered 24 top Communist leaders purged today and the Japanese Government swiftly followed his command.

The government promptly notified the 24 members of the Communist party central committee they have been barred from politics.

Seven of them will vacate parliamentary seats. All will be prohibited from party membership or any other political activity. They will be barred from positions of influence in other activities.

The swift move which MacArthur ordered in a letter to Premier Shigeru Yoshida will cost the Reds their principal public speakers and most effective leaders. Technically they also will be prohibited from guiding party affairs or writing.

Take No Chances

Notification of the purge by the government was made in a series of telegrams and special delivery letters to the Reds.

National police, who took steps to guard against possible retaliatory action, arrested two union leaders for their alleged part in the May 30 demonstration during which American soldiers were attacked.

The government, in the wake of Sunday's elections which saw Yoshida's pro-occupation liberal party retained in power, already had announced its intention of outlawing the Communist party

Among the Politburo leaders purged were Kyuichi Tokuda, general secretary; Sanze Mozaka, Moscow-trained strategist, and Yoshio Shiga, leader of the militant Communist college students, all parliament members.

Chinese Quit Aviation Group

MONTREAL, June 6 (AP) — The Chinese Kuomintang Government today withdrew from the International Civil Aviation Organization.

The resignation, to be effective in one year, followed by four days a demand by the Chinese Central Powers' government that Kuomintang delegates be thrown out of the ICAO Assembly, now in session here.

However, notification was transmitted through the U. S. representative on the ICAO's council.

No reason for the decision was given. The notification said merely that China "has decided to withdraw from the convention on international civil aviation signed at Chicago, Dec. 7, 1944, in accordance with Article 95 of the said convention, and as a result China will also withdraw from the ICAO."

800-Lb. Man Lives In Two Counties

FISHHOOK, Ill., June 6 (AP)—Robert Earl Hughes is not sure he's the fattest person in the world—he weighs 800 pounds—but he is positive of one thing.

He says: "I'll bet there's nobody as big as me living in two counties at the same time."

Hughes, 24, lives on his father's farm which is astride the boundary of two Illinois counties. The line separating Pike and Brown counties runs through the middle of the Hughes living room. So Robert claims he lives in two counties.

Hughes was 24 last Sunday—but he didn't get any gifts of clothing. All his clothes are made to order. His chest measures 106 inches; his waistline is eight feet, 10 inches; his legs at the knees measure 33 33 inches.

Advocates Whippings

SARNIA, June 6 — (CP) —Whipping with a light strap for all juvenile first offenders was advocated by Judge E. A. Shaunessy at today's opening of the general sessions of the Peace for Lambton County. Scoring the general increase of crime, Judge Shaunessy said he believes the Criminal Code should be amended to permit mild corporal punishment in such cases. Speaking before the Grand Jury, Judge Shaunessy asked the members to consider his suggestion and, if they saw fit, to make a recommendation along those lines.

Hold Inquiry On Sabotage Of New Carrier

LONDON, June 6 (Reuters)—The Admiralty said today investigations are continuing into what it called an "incident" aboard the Royal Navy's new 23,000-ton aircraft carrier, Illustrious.

Three signal flares were found in the Illustrious' boiler room on May 1, the Admiralty said. It added there was no explosion, damage or casualties.

Meanwhile at an inquest today in Plymouth into the death of two seamen killed when a plane crashed on the Illustrious May 15, the city coroner returned a verdict of accidental death. Some reports had said the inquest might shed some light on the reports of sabotage.

Naval Intelligence officers and security police were reported to be investigating attempted sabotage to the 23,000-ton carrier. The Royal Navy refused to discuss the report.

But it was understood evidence at the inquiry may concern one allegation of sabotage.

The naval correspondent of the London Daily Express reported the whole company of the vessel had been screened and 160, mainly engine-room and stokehold workesr, carefully questioned in a secret investigation.

Find Two Flares

This began after two magnesium signal flares were found a month ago hidden near the boiler when the Illustrious was carrying one of the most impressive gatherings of naval brass ever assembled aboard one ship, the newspaper added.

Viscount Hall, First Lord of the Admiralty, was among the distinguished guests on board when Illustrious sailed from her base at Devonport for the Northwest port of Birkenhead May 4. She became a floating grandstand for 1,000 guests gathered to watch the launching in the Mersey River of Britain's latest aircraft carrier, Ark Royal.

But soon after leaving Devonport the two magnesium flares were found, the report added. Apparently it was intended that the heat of the boiler-room would detonate or ignite them so that these would act like small incendiary bombs.

The Illustrious is normally the Navy's trials carrier, used for testing new planes and equipment.

When the reported investigation is completed, no statement is likely.

3-Gun Man Hears Police Kills Himself

Takes In Boarder Woman Suspicious Calls For Police Aid

SAULT STE. MARIE, June 6 —(CP)—Ten policemen converged on a rooming house here Monday and one of them was starting to kick in the door of a room when a shot rang qut.

The shot was the suicide of Thomas (Duke) Toohey, 24-year-old former policeman, who sent a bullet through his brain and made good his boast that "they will never take me alive."

Toohey, a crack shot, was found dead with a bullet hole in his temple. He had a revolver in each hand and a third gun was beside his bed.

He had started to write a suicide note before the policeman tracked him down in their search for the gunman who seriously wounded Joseph Colleaux of Malartic, Que., and stole his new automobile at North Bay Friday night.

Large police squads had hunted Toohey since Colleaux identified his attacker Saturday. Colleaux, recovering from his wounds, said the man wounded him three times and left him for dead.

North Bay Provincial Police issued a warrant for Toohey, free on bail of $500 on a charge of assaulting a Kirkland Lake officer.

Mrs. Thomas Love, who runs a roominghouse here, took in a new boarder and thought he seemed "such a nice, well-mannered man." But her sister heard radio broadcasts about the North Bay attack and warned her about taking in new roomers. Mrs. Love thought about the new boarder and when he left the house to get some sandwiches, she telephoned police.

The roomer returned and stayed in his room. Mrs. Love went to a neighbor's home and called police again. Police squad cars surrounded the roominghouse.

Provincial Constables Elvin Somers and Gordon Drysdale moved up the stairs and knocked on the door.

"Who's that?" asked a voice from inside.

Cpl. Mike Perepelytz of Sault Ste. Marie started to kick in the door when the shot rang out. The police battered in the door to find Toohey sprawled across the bed.

Investigate Visitors

TORONTO, June 6—(CP) —Investigation of recent visitors to Toronto's Don Jail is under way as a result of an attempted escape Sunday of about 17 prisoners. C. F. Neelands, Ontario Deputy Reforms Minister, said pieces of hacksaw blades were found after guards noticed that a bar to one of the windows on the second floor had been partially sawn through.

Angry Hastings MP Lets Off Steam In House Says Bancroft Slandered Not 'Tough Village'

OTTAWA, June 6—(CP)—G. S. White (PC, Hastings-Peterborough) criticized the weekly Monfreal Standard in the Commons Monday night for what he termed an "untrue, slimy and slanderous" article about the village of Bancroft.

He said the article, entitled "Bancroft Was Tough" and was written by Mackenzie Porter, reported that Bancroft had "very primitive conditions and shanty standards." It dealt with "sex crimes, illegitimate children, shanty standards, intermarriage, deformities, Indians, liquor and various other matters on the same level."

It was "slanderous in many respects, untrue in practically every statement made in it and most unfair to all the people of a very large community."

Mr. White said he had written to the Standard pointing out "the many errors and the nature of the slanderous references." After a "long" delay, the editor published "only certain parts of my letter."

Bancroft, with a population of approximately 1,100, is in Mr. White's constituency.

Believe Prowling Bears Have Devoured 3-Year-Old Quebec Child

QUEBEC, June 6—(CP)—Prowling black bears are believed to have eaten tiny Nicole Renaud, and a huge search for the three-year-old girl in a patch of woods a scant eight miles from this city of 150,000 has been called off. Nicole wandered into the woods near the village of Chateaul Bigot, just north of here, Saturday afternoon.

On Saturday night, a great search was launched, led by Provincial Police and army officers. By Monday, up to 1,000 soldiers, policemen and civilians were beating the wood around Chateau Bigot.

Monday night they admitted defeat.

"We have come to the conclusion that Nicole has been devoured by bears or a bear," Lieut. Martin Healy, of the provincial police, told the Canadian Press.

Healy, who directed the search since it was instituted, added that efforts to find Nicole have been abandoned.

Sounds Alarm

Nicole, clad in blue denim slacks, last was seen playing with Nicole Bilodeau, about her own age, in Chateau Bigot. The little Bilodeau girl rushed screaming into her home Saturday afternoon and told her mother: "Mommy, Nicole has gone into the woods."

The search swung into high gear Sunday when bear tracks were discovered.

At first it was feared that the child might have been kidnapped but police abandoned that theory. An unidentified man was questioned Monday but later released.

"There is nothing to indicate foul play," said Lieut. Healy Monday night. "However, we will investigate any report or clue coming to us that might lead to recovery of the girl."

An area 10 miles in radius was covered Monday by searchers, who were assisted by walkie-talkie radios and an airplane flying overhead.

Some Quebec business firms sent sound trucks with announcers constantly crying: Nicole! Nicole!" The trucks were driven through the country farm roads and wood-cutters' lanes.

Searcher Pierre Vezina said Monday that the woods were too thick for a three-year-old to survive more than a few hours.

Hidden Gunmen Attack Shelton

FAIRFIELD, Ill., June 6 (AP) —Gunmen firing from ambush tried again Monday to take the life of "Little Earl" Shelton. But bullets apparently intended for him plowed into a companion, wounding him critically. The associate, Dellos Wylie, 35, was taken to hospital. He was shot three times in the back.

Wylie and Little Earl, 34, recently bought a building to be used as a garage.

The pair drove up to the building Monday afternoon and sat chatting. There was a sudden burst of gunfire and bullets tore into the car.

Earl ducked, shoved Wylie out of the vehicle and followed. They fled into the garage. A second fusillade ripped into the building.

Sheriff Elmer Brown said Wylie had to make a run for it, probably to hide behind the building. He was cut down in his tracks.

The shooting marked another chapter in the bloody history of the Sheltons. Little Earl is a nephew of "Big Earl" Shelton, whose two brothers were shot and killed from ambush—Carl in October, 1947, and Bernie in July, 1948.

Buffalo Man Feared Drowned

BUFFALO, N. Y., June 6 (CP) —Joseph Raleigh of Buffalo, N. Y., was missing and presumed drowned in Lake Erie after his small sail boat was washed ashore at Thunder Bay, Ont., the United States Coast Guard said today.

The Coast Guard said the boat was identified today by the missing man's father. It was washed ashore Monday. Thunder Bay is about 6½ miles west of Buffalo.

Raleigh, 27, sailed Sunday from Port Maitland, Ont., but never completed his planned 45-mile trip to Buffalo.

The Coast Guard said a plane, helicopter and a power boat were searching for Raleigh's body.

Premier Stalin Voted Worst Dressed Man

WASHINGTON, June 6 (AP)—Prime Minister Stalin today got an unofficial rating as "the worst dressed man on the international scene."

Haberdasher Paul D. Gilbert, addressing the Association of Better Business Bureaus, awarded the title. Gilbert, head of the National Association of Retail Clothiers, added:

"A lot of the world's problems would be solved if Joe Stalin would come over here and get himself a nice summer suit—a good straw hat and a pair of brown and white shoes.

"His pictures indicate that he'd take a short stout size. . .

"I'd like to invite him over to my store in South Bend, Ind. We'd fix him up with an outfit that would make even Marshal Tito like him."

Believes Devaluation Won't Last Too Long

OTTAWA, June 6 (CP)—Devaluation of the Canadian dollar in relation to United States funds may not last very long, Trade Minister Howe suggested in the Commons Monday.

In a guarded statement, he said he did not know how long the 10 per cent discount would last. It might be five or 10 years, or it might not continue very long.

Then he added there were "certain factors" that "raise a doubt in my mind as to just whether that period will not be shorter rather than longer."

Mr. Howe did not name the factors involved.

Wins Legal Battle

OTTAWA, June 6—(CP)—A mother's legal battle in American and Canadian courts for the custody of her son ended in victory before the Supreme Court of Canada today. In a majority judgment the court awarded Mrs. Evelyn McKee of Kitchener the custody of her 10-year-old son, Terry, after she had given an undertaking that she will live in the United States with her son and keep the boy's father Mark T. McKee fully advised as to the child's whereabouts. Mrs. McKee also was awarded costs of the action throughout.

28 Reported Missing, Press Search

Take To Life Rafts As Big Plane Drops Into Ocean

MIAMI, Fla., June 6—(AP) —The destroyer U.S.S. Saufley today radioed that it had picked up 37 survivors of a twin-engine C-46 airplane which crashed into the Atlantic Ocean 275 miles northeast of here. Those saved included the pilot.

There was no report on the remainder of the 65 passengers and crew who were on the plane.

The destroyer informed Coast Guard headquarters at 10.20 a.m. ERT that all the survivors picked up on rafts were "in good condition".

The pilot's belief that all the missing passengers had life jackets raised hopes that the loss of life would be small.

A huge air and sea search was under way for the remainder of the 65 persons aboard the Westair Company plane.

All the passengers were migratory workers from Puerto Rico, en route to the United States. The plane was heading for Wilmington, N. C., when a motor failed.

Destroyer Makes Contact

The destroyer Saufley started picking up the survivors from five life rafts at 8:30 a.m. EDT as coast guard and commercial planes hovered overhead. Coast guard cutters, freighters and other vessels were in the area.

The rescue came almost exactly a year after a transport plane went into the Atlantic on the take-off from San Juan, Puerto Rico, to Miami, killing 53 persons.

Survivors were plucked from the sea today less than 10 hours after the stricken aircraft's pilot messaged "it looks like I'm going into the drink."

Coast Guard Captain George McCabe, who has been directing the search, said the rafts were located approximately 275 miles east northeast of Miami.

McCabe said first survivors were sighted at 6.15 a.m., about 55 miles nearer Miami than had been expected.

This was at variance with an earlier message which said they were located at the exact place where the missing aircraft was last reported.

The first laconic message radioed from a search plane to Coast Guard air-sea rescue headquarters contained just two words:

"Sighted survivors."

Plane Report

The report came from a Coast Guard plane, one of about 30 participating in the search.

Capt. George McCabe of the Coast Guard, who was directing the search, said the plane which spotted the survivors was based at Elizabeth City, N.C.

It developed engine trouble

Forced Citizenship

BUENOS AIRES, June 6—(Reuters) — All adult foreigners who live permanently in Argentina for five years will become Argentine citizens under a law which the government has submitted to Congress. While these foreigners would "automatically" be considered Argentine citizens after five years, they must present themselves to a Federal Judge in order to obtain citizenship papers.

Bandits Lose In Running Cafe Gun Battle

NEW YORK, June 6 (AP)—A running gun battle between police and holdup men in the Greenwich Village night club belt early today left one bandit dead and two bandits and a bystander wounded.

Two patrons were slugged on the head with gun butts when they resisted three holdup men who invaded the Little Casino Cafe and fled without loot.

Dozens of persons in the crowded neighborhood ducked into doorways as a score of shots were exchanged.

Two of the bandits were wounded and captured after their getaway car crashed into a construction derrick.

The third fugitive ran into a death trap when he sought refuge in the kitchen of an almost empty cafe nearby. He was shot to death there when he was trapped by two policemen and came out shooting.

A patrolman, hearing the robbers shooting in the Little Casino, engaged them in battle as they fled in their car. He wounded two of them. Two other policemen then joined the chase.

The dead man was Harold A. Sellers, 20, of Brooklyn.

The two alleged robbers wounded were Ralph Chirilles, 19, and John Penna, 25.

Louis La Presto, 43, the bystander, was in serious condition with a bullet wound in the head. Police said he was shot by one of the gunmen to cover their escape from the Casino.

Horses Wear Falsies

BALTIMORE, June 6 — (AP)—Maryland race horses are wearing falsies, too.

They're better than tennis balls, give more bounce.

The rubber sponge cups are taped on back of the foreleg fetlocks, the first protuding joints above the hooves, where some thoroughbreds bear down in galloping. The cups protect the horses from cuts and bruises on the heels.

Trainers used to cut tennis balls in half to fit them on such horses. But falsies give better protection, explained trainer C. W. Shaw, Jr., of Fallston, Md.

Don't make the horses look any better, though, he added.

Abbott Flies To Winnipeg Discusses Aid

Will Meet Officials In Manitoba To Determine Damage

OTTAWA, June 6 —(CP)—Finance Minister Abbott will fly to Winnipeg today to discuss with Manitoba officials assistance to be extended to victims of the Red River Valley flood by the federal government.

Mr. Abbott will meet Wednesday with Premier Campbell of Manitoba and with the federal-provincial commission established to investigate the damages caused by the flood.

"These discussions will concern the assistance to be given by the Government of Canada to the Government of Manitoba to help in meeting the costs it has incurred or will incur in dealing with the flood and the damage caused by the flood," said an announcement from the minister's office.

Prime Minister St. Laurent already has announced that any federal assistance to the flood victims will be made through the Manitoba Government.

A similar system was followed a few years ago during disastrous floods in the Fraser River Valley. The federal government made a grant of $5,000,000 to the British Columbia Government for relief of flood victims and also contributed to the cost of works aimed at preventing new floods.

No indication has yet been given of the amount the federal government will contribute to Manitoba.

3 Safecrackers Behind Bars

GALT, June 6 (CP) — Three Toronto men—William Armitage, Albert Hall and Albert Jensen—said by police to be expert safecrackers, are behind bars here today.

Fifty minutes after Galt police were notified of a break-in at the Valley View Creamery early this morning, the trio was arrested by Provincial Police near Burlington. They are charged with breaking, entering, safe cracking and theft at the creamery and theft of tools from a CNR shed.

The door of the creamery safe had been pried off and between $300 and $500 taken. A nearby resident was awakened at 4 a.m. by hammering noises coming from the creamery and saw two men. He called police who informed neighboring police forces by radio.

Constable Jack Trotman of the Dundas Provincial Police, patrolling No. 6 Highway, spotted a car speeding towards Hamilton and took up the chase to the Queen Elizabeth Highway at a speed of 85 to 90 miles an hour.

In the meantime he radioed an appeal for help and a road block was set up outside Burlington and the Toronto trio captured at 4:55 a.m. Galt officers picked up the prisoners and brought them here.

Allies Cool To Request For German Police Force

FRANKFURT, Germany, June 6 (AP)—High Allied officials are giving a chilly reception to West-German government proposals to form a federal police force.

The Germans have just tossed a politically embarrassing issue into the laps of the Allied high commissioners by asking for 25,000 police answerable only to the federal government at Bonn.

Allied officials said they are fearful of the reaction in Britain, France and the United States if they give in to the German request. The French, particularly, fear a centralized police force would be converted into a new German army.

However, there has been no final decision on the request by West German chancellor Konrad Adenauer.

A decision probably will be made within a month by the Allied high commissioners. Officials here call the issue one of the most explosive to face the Allies since the German occupation began five years ago.

The autocratic central police system of the Hitler regime has been broken down by the Allies since 1945. In its place, each of the West German states now has its own separate police. These now total about 100,000 men armed with light weapons.

Now Adenauer has told the Allies that the state police are inadequate. He says he needs federal police for "prestige and security reasons."

While the West German police have been broken down into separate state groups, Russia has molded a Nazi-type police system independent of state control in East Germany.

Practice of Democracy Best Defence—St. Laurent

ST. LOUIS, June 6 (CP) — Prime Minister St. Laurent of Canada said today the most effective weapon against Communist infiltration on the North American continent is the "confident practice of democracy and freedom and justice."

Doctorate of Laws

He spoke after receiving an honorary Doctorate of Laws degree from St. Louis University. Warning against the spread of "fear and suspicion," he expressed belief in an address prepared for delivery that it is essential" that there be public confidence in the "good faith and honest intentions" of men in high office

He said he was convinced that "the vast majority of North Americans are deeply enough attached to our free institutions to make it impossible for a comparative handful of Communist agents to destroy them."

The "real" menace was not the direct menace of the "tiny" Communist minority within North America, but the spread of Soviet imperialism in less happy continents. The "real" safety lay in stopping the tide "and turning it back far away from our shores."

The Communists were taught that so-called "capitalist" society eventually would collapse of its own weight and that, with the collapse, their opportunity would come. They now were trying to speed up the hoped-for collapse "by all kinds of insidious means."

One of the means was the Soviet Communist fifth column which "unhappily exists in every country—including your country and mine." No free nations could afford to neglect any proper precaution to find the secret Communist agents "who are in a position to do harm to the nation's security."

Ammunition Dump Explodes In Spain

BARCELONA, Spain, June 6—(Reuters—A military ammunition dump at Nampino, about 20 miles north of here, blew up today, blasting in the doors and windows of buildings for miles around. Five soldiers guarding the dump were injured slightly.

The blast partly wrecked factories in the area and shook Barcelona. Doors were blown off their hinges in Sabadell, six miles away.

Last big explosion in Spain was in July, 1949, when 30 persons died and 60 were injured in a powder-magazine blast at Tarancon, near Madrid.

Nearly 300 persons were killed and several thousand injured on Aug. 18, 1947, at the port of Cadiz after an explosion in a submarine depot.

World Living In Twilight Zone–Pearson

OTTAWA, June 6 (CP)—The world is living in a "sort of twilight zone" between peace and war, External Affairs Minister Pearson told the Commons Monday, but peace will emerge "if we order our affairs in a wise, firm and unprovocative way internationally."

There were times he said, when "we wonder whether that twilight is between darkness and light or between light and darkness."

The fact remained that "one or the other is bound to follow." He, for one, did not feel "any sense of complacency."

But, he told the chamber, "if we order our affairs in a wise, firm and unprovocative way internationally, we have no reason to believe that the twilight will not be followed by light."

Mr. Pearson gave the House a broad review of the recent Atlantic Pact meetings in London and indicated he saw the possibility that the alliance may eventually lead to "an Atlantic commonwealth of free states" and perhaps to one world unity.

Opposition speakers gave general support to the government's foreign policy.

Not Worried

Mr. Pearson said he was not worried about any surrender of sovereignty. The government was trying to make "our sovereignty work for us."

Replying to Mr. Graydon, he said the question of civilian defence did not come up at London, though it was a matter to be studied by an Atlantic Pact committee.

He could not say what Canada's role would be under the Pact or what it was likely to cost. The roles of the various member states and the costs now were being worked out. However, the costs could not be too high if they guaranteed peace and prevented war.

As for Canada's economic obligations under the Pact, it might be that Canada could most usefully contribute strategic materials.

Can't Depend On Defences

DETROIT, June 6 (CP)—The United States cannot depend on defences in any future war because "there is no such thing as an airtight radar fence," Gen. George C. Kenney, commander of the United States Air University, told the Economic Club of Detroit Monday.

"No matter how good we make our defence," Gen. Kenney said, "a determined bomber attack will get a certain percentage of its units through."

If the United States were not ready to fight when first attacked "we may not get a chance to fight at all," he said.

At present the country was strong enough to deter any aggressor from attacking, but if a potential enemy gained enough arms superiority "he will make the decision of peace or war without reference to us except as a target."

Describes WI In Old Country

HAVELOCK, June 6—(ENS)—Mrs. W. J. Goodswan of Brookdale branch of the Women's Institute, was guest speaker on Monday at the Havelock Women's Institute meeting.

A native of England, she spoke on how the home economics department of the Women's Institute functions in that country.

England, she said, has much to thank Canada for in sending Mrs. Watts from the Department of Agriculture to organize women's institute there. England is a place of lanes and small hamlets and each hamlet leads its own life and needs it own diversions. There were clubs for the men and activities for children but nothing for the women, and this was where the women's institute filled a great need. She told about the help the courses sponsored by the WI were, in wartime, when it was not money that was scarce but coupons.

The handcraft, exhibits are made in the county and every article is marked on its merits, not first, second and third as in Canada. There were usually about 4,000 exhibits from each county and the best of these went on to the national exhibit.

Mrs. Goodswan exhibited a number of articles of her work, among them being two toy dogs which had been shown at the national exhibit. She also had on display a luncheon cloth which was more than a hundred years old and was made by her great-great-great grandmother. She said Canadian women could beat their English sisters in crochet work.

$10 For Winnipeg

A donation of $10 was voted for the Winnipeg flood relief fund.

The receipts from the recent salvage collection were $19.88. The treasurer announced that $47 had been realized from the Teen-Town Revue which the society sponsored recently.

A letter of thanks was read from the Unitarian Service of Canada for a donation and shipment of clothing.

To Make Quilt

The quilt, to be entered in the contest at the district annual meeting here on June 15, will be quilted at the home of Mrs. H. Pollock this week. Mrs. H. Hoard and Mrs. R. Melville were appointed a committee to display the quilt. The latter was appointed the delegate and Mrs. H. Pollock the pianist for the district annual meeting.

The president, Mrs. S. Southward, presided for the business session, with Mrs. F. McKenzie as program convener.

Tea-hour hostesses were Mrs. H. Pollock, Mrs. R. Melville and Mrs. F. McKenzie. Mrs. McKenzie gave a demonstration in making "Raggedy Ann" salad, which was used at the lunch period.

Drew Requests Defence Debate

OTTAWA, June 6 (CP) — George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, called today for an early House of Commons defence debate in view of the "entirely new concept of Canadian defence" he said this was outlined Monday by External Affairs Minister Pearson.

The House leader, Works Minister Fournier, said defence matters will be discussed tomorrow. A House committee was expected to complete its study of certain defence bills later today and report back to the House.

They would be studied tomorrow and once they were concluded, defence estimates would be called.

Mr. Drew raised the issue at House opening by asking when defence estimates will be debated. He referred to Mr. Pearson's speech in which the Minister said the accepted principle of balanced Atlantic Pact forces may eventually mean an end of the concept of defence through massed infantry.

Have $643,000 Fund Reserve

TORONTO, June 6 — (CP) — The Ontario Canteen Fund, established from army canteen surpluses during the first world war, has a $643,000 reserve, Col. T. M. Medland, fund chairman, reported today.

He said that in the 10-month period ended March 31, $32,499 was spent in help for needy veterans and education grants to their depndents. However, because of interest earnings, net cost to the fund amounted to $14,696.

Administration costs had been cut to $325 a month, Col. Medland said. Formerly the amount was $825 a month.

The fund is administered by five trustees headed by Col. Medland. Other members are: Harold Tolley, Sault Ste. Marie, vice-president of the Ontario Command of the Canadian Legion; Stanley Harpham, Toronto, past president of the Ontario Command of the Canadian Corps Association; Edward S. Evans, Toronto, second vice-president of the Dominion Command of the Canadian Legion; and G. R. Johnstone, Brockville.

Gets 30-Day Sentence For Bottle Beating

WINDSOR, June 6 (CP) — A Detroit youth, Jerry Sidelinker, was sentenced today to 30 days for beating a Windsor man with a beer bottle. His companion, Delbert Little of Detroit, was fined $25 after conviction on the same charge of assault causing bodily harm.

Murray Steeves testified the two youths attacked him with a broken bottle and their boots. He had a deep cut over one eye and a long gash on his arm.

Magistrate J. A. Hanrahan told Sidelinker the 30-day sentence "will give the immigration department sufficient time to exercise its right to deport you."

Greedy Gulls Hooked

AUCKLAND, N.Z.— (CP)— A local fisherman would give a lot for bait tagged "for fish only". While his back was turned, seagulls swooped down on a 50-hook, baited line and stared towing it aloft. When it was all over 10 gulls escaped somewhat the worse for wear and two had to be killed.

25,000 Books In Library Of Minister

When he died recently Dr. Bland eloquent and social - minded United Church minister, left a magnificent private library of 25,000 books which are now being sold.

A glance at the titles of some of the books show the breadth of the veteran Dr. Bland's interests. Although religious works predominate, there are also in abundance books of history, biography, poetry, art philosophy, economics and politics, geography and travel.

The ancient classics mingle with such modern works as Stuart Chase's "The Tragedy of Waste" and Ross Munro's "Gauntlet to Overlord," the history of the Canadian army in the Second World War.

Dr. Bland had 22 volumes dealing with Abraham Lincoln. There is even a 25-center on physiognomy—the appraisal of character from facial features, and Freud's three-inch-thick "Psycho-pathology of Everyday Life." And with this heavy fare is mingled some leavening fare from the pen of Stephen Leacock.

Covers Everything

"The library covers everthing under the sun," said the Rev. John Hardwicke of Teeswater, Ont., long-time friend of Dr. Bland who is conducting the sale. "There's even one titled 'The Natural History of Ice and Snow.'"

Mr. Hardwicke said the books are being sold at about one-third original cost. Choosing a few bargains at random, he picked up "Italian Pleasure Gardens," originally $10, now $3.50; Hastings dictionary of the Bible in four volumes, $75 when new, now selling at $15; Harmsworth's $75 eight-volume history of the world knocked down to $6.

Proceeds of the sale—an estimated $40,000—will go to Mrs. Bland.

Being a minister, Dr. Bland was not wealthy. Mr. Hardwicke explained the mystery of his ownership of so many books this way: "Some of the books were given him for review, but the majority he bought. He spent over half his income on books."

Price Trends Point Down On Exchange

TORONTO, June 6 — (CP) — Traders slowed for breath as the session progressed on the Toronto Stock Exchange today after handling a flood of accumulated weekend orders earlier in the day. Business was brisk at the opening following the three-day holiday weekend. Price trends pointed downwards.

Base Metals opened higher but sagged under mild selling pressure. The opening burst following recent price increases in zinc and nickel carried the list to the highest average price levels in 13 years. Gains were quickly reduced and the list settled into a narrow rut.

Industrials encountered a solid wall of downward pressure following advances last week into new high price ground. Papers, leaders in recent upturns, paced the decline. Losses ranged up to a point. Utilities, steels, foods, agricultures, liquors and refining oils were also lower.

Western Oils were also pushed lower.

Low-priced gold stocks continued comparatively brisk traders. Changes were slight in most cases. Senior and Junior Leaders weakened slightly.

Find Opened Mailbag In Legislative Bldgs.

TORONTO, June 6 (CP)—An opened mailbag was discovered today in a first-floor washroom at the Ontario Parliament Buildings. Police expressed belief that it was stolen from a mail truck in some other part of the city.

The buildings were closed on Monday for the King's birthday holiday. Their corridors were in semi-darkness while electricians worked on the lighting system.

Some letters still were in the bag.

LEARNED HER LESSON

"Isn't it funny how things you learned at school suddenly come back? My washings always had a yellow tinge and then I remembered our chemistry teacher telling us that seven colours combine to make white, and one of them is blue. That is why there is no true white without blue. So of course, I use Reckitt's Blue now to keep my clothes white always—just a swish or two in the final rinse. Out of the blue comes the whitest wash."

Farm Family Escapes Flames, House Destroyed

OMEMEE, June 6— (ENS). — Waking at 3 a.m. Monday to find the back part of his farm house on fire, John Biss and family, two miles south of Omemee, escaped, but lost their home as the entire building was consumed by flames.

When the crackling of fire woke him, he aroused his wife and two-year-old son Frank and the three rushed out.

An alarm was telephoned and in a short time men from the neighborhood and nearby Mount Pleasant were able to remove some furniture.

Hear Explosion

When the blaze was at its height, an unexplained explosion occurred which blasted Melville Handley of Mount Pleasant out of a doorway. He suffered no serious injury.

George Magee, father of Mrs. Biss, had his neck and forehead burnt when a door slammed and locked, trapping him in a burning room. He finally managed his escape through a window.

The Omemee Fire Brigade arrived too late to save the house, but was successful in saving the barn which was quite near.

Mr. and Mrs. Biss purchased their home and moved into it from Toronto about a year ago, and in that time had made several improvements. At the time of the fire the house was being re-shingled and was about three-quarters completed. Their loss is partially covered by insurance.

Heavy Damage Caused By Frost Boosts Mill Rate

COBOURG, June 6 (ENS) — An 11 mill tax rate for roads was forecast for 1950, subject to revision if the council so decides, when the June session of Northumberland and Durham counties Council opened Monday afternoon. This is one mill more than last year.

The report of the road superintendent for the period up to April 30, revealed that an estimated frost damage of $10,000 jumped up to $30,000, due to unexpected severe weather in March of this year.

The counties treasurer, William Barr, informed the council, that the auditors' report showed a deficit of $10,149.31 last year. $5,000 of this was on account of unexpected road expenditure and around $5,000 was in connection with a special grant to Campbellford Hospital.

The road superintendent's report for the period ending April 30, referred to the heavy frost damage, worst in many years. The most severe frost damage took place on No. 25 near Monganston; No. 18 between Cobourg and Coldsprings; No. 10 between Canton and Garden Hill and between Bowmanville and Tyron. Washout damage was fairly general. Three bridges and large culverts were put out of commission and two were damaged. Two were put out of commission by floods, two by excessive loads and one by age.

Repairs other than reported in January have not been excessive. Repair of break-up and washout damage is nearly finished, along with completion of chloriding. Grading is finished on a half-mile construction job on No. 62 and construction has started on No. 1 between Hampton and Taunton and a small job on No. 14 in Cartwright.

$5,559.75 On Roads

Non-subsidy expenditures to the end of April totalled $1,232.80. Maintenance totalled $58,400.72 and among the items were snow removal of $19,092.05 (most of the snow falling in March); sanding $2,610, grading, etc., $5,156.20; holes, frost boils, washouts, $21,926. Construction amounted to $4,583.71 and miscellaneous amounted to $6,172.61. A power shovel cost $12,873.34 and some minor items of machinery brought the machinery expenditure to $13,029.43. Total outlay, less credits, $5,559.75.

The report of the Road Commission, presented by Reeve A. Wartman of Percy township, revealed that the situation in regard to work on urban roads, as provided for in an amendment to the Highway Improvement Act, was somewhat obscure. Reeve Wartman said that they were under the impression that the procedure to follow in doing work on urban roads was to take the roads into the counties road system and then, when the work was completed, turn them back to the municipality.

In 1948, two roads in Newcastle were taken over. However, the Department of Highways apparently wanted a piece of county road in every urban municipality and the bylaws were sent back unapproved by the Department. The same thing occurred in connection with a piece of road at Millbrook. Another situation exists in Brighton township.

Statements Confused

Asked how the matter became so confused, the Reeve said that the information from the Deputy-Minister had been that the roads would be handled by taking them into the counties and then reverting them to the urban municipalities but now the Minister came along and said once they were in the counties they stayed there.

The Road Commission report revealed that drastic reduction had to be made in the number of requests for road construction which could be filled. An additional $17,000 was required to carry out the road program, or one half mill, and it was not known yet whether the supplementary bylaw would be approved. This would work out to a quarter of a mill for the counties to meet extra and the same amount in the subsidy.

Snow removal was set at $25,000 and most of this was used up by the late snows this year. Sanding was reduced to $5,000 and grading etc. was fixed at $20,000. The work done in gravel refill was so extensive as to approach almost the scale of construction. Surface treating was set at $14,000 and prime at $14,150. The original figure for maintenance was $139,000 and was now $176,550.

Streets In Port Hope

There had been a request for construction on two streets in the town of Port Hope but the Road Commission had not come to a decision yet. Construction accordingly was figured out at $104,500; maintenance, $176,600; new machinery, $17,000; miscellaneous, $17,000; Trenton suburban road, $13,000 or a total of $324,100. As the estimate had been $306,000, the debt balance would now be $17,350.

In reply to a query about the two connecting links in Bowmanville, Reeve Wartman said that it would depend on how much money could be spared.

"We in Cartwright have the honor of the biggest reduction of all," said Reeve B. Heaslip of Cartwright with a dab of ironic humour.

Council passed a resolution thanking the property committee for the redecoration of the counties council chamber.

The following communications and resolutions were dealt with.

Sent To Committees

The budget for 1950, referred to finance committee, the pension plan, referred to finance; requests for grants from Women's Institutes, Junior Farmers, Peterborough Civic Hospital and other groups, referred to finance. Also to that committee went the request from the Children's Aid Society for a grant of $5,000 for a building project.

A resolution from Hastings County Council that the federal government exempt counties homes from sales tax was referred to the legislative and bylaws committee. A resolution from Carlton County that there should be an appeal from Municipal Board findings re annexations, was referred to legislative and bylaws.

A resolution from Brant county recommending a more equitable tax spread on rural lands for school purposes, also was referred to the legislative and bylaws committee. A request from SS No. 3, Brighton, that it be placed in the Campbellford school area, was referred to the schools committee. A letter was received from the Dept. in regard to alterations and rejections in the bylaws relative to high school areas was referred to schools committee.

Waterloo county challenged all other county councils, including Northumberland and Durham, to a barber shop quartette competition at their fall fair. The challenge was tabled for further consideration. The juvenile court committee recommended that the government establish a mental health clinic for these counties and Peterborough, Victoria and Haliburton counties; referred to the bylaws committee.

BETHANY, June 6—(ENS)— The profusion of flowers in bloom, especially the tulips, at the home of Miss Mattie Thompson and Miss Lily Thompson is attracting much attention in the village. The home was previously owned by their uncle, the Rev. Robert Johnston, who was a retired Methodist minister and who made a hobby of flowers, owning some rare varieties of tulips, with all their many colors. After his death the garden fell into disuse and was neglected for many years

The Misses' Thompsons' are most generous with bouquets to their neighbors, to the sick and shut-ins of the village, also donating flowers for the churches and any special occasions.

Rotarians Hear Taped Program

CAMPBELLFORD, June 6. — (ENS).—A rather novel program was enjoyed at the Monday meeting of the Campbellford Rotary Club when Rotarian Frank DeCarrol presented a tape recording of a portion of the program that took place at the number 147 district conference held at Bigwin Inn on Thursday last. The program included the usual Rotary sing-song and a couple of speeches. One highlight of the affair was a presentation of vocal solos given by Francis DeCarrol, son of Rotarian Frank Francis won renown for himself as a baritone recently in the music festival at Toronto. This was all faithfully recorded on the tape.

President Chas. Calver moved a vote of thanks to the delegates from Campbellford who attended the conference, and specially to Frank DeCarrol who recorded the entire program on his tape recorder.

Further portions of the program that took place at the conference will be presented at later meetings.

The Little Ships of Ten Years Ago

"We shall go on to the end. We shall fight in France, we shall fight on the seas and oceans, we shall fight with growing confidence and growing strength in the air. We shall defend our islands whatever the cost may be. We shall fight on the beaches, we shall fight on the landing grounds, we shall fight in the fields and streets and in the hills. We shall never surrender and even if, which I do not for a moment believe, this island, or even part of it, is subjugated and starving, then our empire across the seas, armed and guarded by the British fleet, will carry on the struggle until, in God's good time, the new world, in all its strength and might, sets forth to the rescue and liberation of the old".

These famous words met the eyes of readers of the front page of this newspaper on another Tuesday, a Tuesday ten years ago. The date was June 4th, 1940; the place, a hushed House of Commons; the occasion the evacuation of Dunkirk.

• • •

Prime Minister Churchill that day told the world of the "miracle of delivery" when 335,000 men of the British army had been lifted from jaws of the encircling German armies, by the Brighton Belles, the Ciel de France, the Galleon's Reach, a thousand little coasters, yachts, paddle steamers and ferries which had taken trippers around the harbour for a shilling. It was the hour of glory for these brave little ships. Never had such a fleet gone to war before; never had so great a task been imposed on such little vessels, frail, aged or saucy.

• • •

Britain's expeditionary force was rescued, but left behind were their armaments which it was to take several years to replenish. Left also were thirty thousand killed, wounded and missing. In exalting the victory snatched from defeat, Mr. Churchill did not mince words that Britain had suffered "a colossal military defeat", and he warned that "wars were not won by evacuations". It was four long years afterwards that Allied soldiers again landed on the soil of France from which they had been driven at Dunkirk.

• • •

The triple headlines of the Examiner on the first June week of 1940 shout hollowly today, like echoes from a grim cavern. Were the charged days of Dunkirk only ten short years ago?

The Television Craze

The television craze has hit the U.S.A. very hard, and it will not be long before it is unleashed on Canada in all its fury. Readers who are old enough to remember the sudden popularity of radio after the First Great War will recall the anxieties and hopes which it aroused; there were people who were sure that it would revolutionize civilization, and there were others who knew that it brought the doom of civilization, there were those who saw in it a great new means of education, and others who insisted that it would fill the air with rubbish. In the course of time the tumult was stilled, and we now see that radio, like most other things, is good or bad according to the way in which it is used. Presumably it will be the same with television.

At present, however, the excitement is rising, and there is no suggestion that it has come within measureable distance of its peak. Television itself is imperfect and, in our opinion, not particularly amusing. The restricted area in which the performers work, and the strangely crude quality of many of the programs, suggest home movies more than anything else. But it is certain that in ten or twenty years television shows will be elaborate and technically excellent; undoubtedly some means will be found to overcome the present limitation which confines telecasting to an area of fifty square miles, or so.

There are features of television which we hope will soon be altered. We cannot escape a feeling that there is something beneath the dignity of a human being in the present system which demands that people sit in the dark in their own homes, with their eyes fixed upon a small screen, to watch a wrestling match in a city a few miles away. The radio mercifully permits its listeners to see one another, to knit, and even to read in a limited and unsatisfactory sort of way. But television demands a complete surrender. The only way to put the gadget in its place is to shut it off, and that requires more strength of will than most owners of sets can muster up at present.

We wonder if the seeds of television's destruction do not lie in its imperious demands on the watcher's time. Radio can be made into a background for other pleasures, if that is what is wanted; but television permits no rivals. That could be its undoing.

Outbreak In Western Germany

For months the western world held its breath anticipating an outbreak of violence in Berlin Whit Sunday when Communist German youths held a scheduled rally. It was feared that Russian-inspired bands would try to seize the Allied sectors of Berlin. But there were no outbreaks and the ready American tanks were not used. The violence, it now appears, was on the Allied side of the Iron Curtain, and the Communists had better control of their youths than had the authorities in West Germany of theirs. West Germans waylaid and stoned German youths returning from the Sunday Communist rally.

It should be noted, however, that these young Germans were permitted to go to the eastern section for the Communist jamboree. No German youths are let out of East Germany to attend, say, a democratic rally or even a weiner roast, in West Germany. If they were, they would be dead certain to get a dreadful mauling if they ever dared to return to the east.

Incidentally, we hear much talk of the tens of thousands of Germans living under the Communist regime whose most ardent desire is to escape to the free democracy of West Germany. We seldom hear that there are persons in West Germany who have anything but horror for the ways of East Germany. It is therefore interesting that 10,000 West German youths could be found with sufficient enthusiasm for Communist Germany to travel there for the Whitsun rally.

Smoke Damage

An American expert on smoke, its causes, prevention and stench, told the Smoke Prevention Association of America meeting in Montreal recently that direct economic losses from air pollution in the United States are at least $1,500,000,000 a year. That is a lot of dollar ciphers to smoke out of the economy of a country even as rich as the U.S.A. It reinforces our opinion that smoke is more than a bother.

Industrial and domestic smoke lies over the countenance of this century like a death-mask. One drives into Toronto from the relatively pure air of Number 2 highway, and miles before the blobs of skyscrapers are seen (actually on most days they cannot be seen until they are right under the nose), the pall of grey tells the presence of Toronto's million. A person stands on Hamilton's mountain and generally cannot see the city below for haze. No doubt some of it is muggy heat from which Hamilton suffers, but much of it is smog. Even Peterborough forewarns its presence by a blanket of smoke encompassing it. Ten miles distant the smoke clouds the city's area; from the Watertrough Hill it can be seen standing in the air distinct as the fumes from the Styx.

Some smoke is inevitable in an unatomic industrial age. As much as there is in our cities is an abomination. A great deal of the pollution can be avoided.

Saturday Night Stubs Its Toe

A note in the current issue of Saturday Night reads thus:

Somebody should tell the Peterborough Examiner the first lines of "The Maple Leaf". It prints them: "In days of yore the hero Wolfe, Britain's glory did maintain". This is quite true. And we printed the lines in that form because that is the way we learned them from A Canadian Song Book, edited by Sir Ernest Macmillan and published under the auspices of the National Council of Education. If Saturday Night knows some other version with a better claim to authenticity, we should be pleased to hear about it.

Saturday Night is printed on coated paper, a circumstance which seems to give it delusions of intellectual grandeur and infallibility.

NOTE AND COMMENT

The news that the Campbells and Macdonalds have made it up after that little affair which happened in 1692 gives us hope that in time—probably a good long time—we shall be on good terms with our former allies of the U.S.S.R.

Spain Struggles With Poverty And State Controls

By DAPHNE KIRKPATRICK

"IT is impossible to eat, because food is so dear". This statement is made so often by chance working-class acquaintances in Spain, starting with one's hotel chambermaid, that it soon becomes a refrain.

Despite cost of living bonuses, prices—particularly of food — have far outstripped wages. An unskilled manual worker receives about 13.50 pesetas a day while lunch at a moderately good hotel costs about 30 pesetas. Landlords are not allowed to raise the rent of unfurnished flats — until the occupant moves—with the result that one resident of long standing in Madrid pays more a month for bread than for rent.

✧ ✧ ✧

OFFICIAL rations are entirely inadequate and everyone buys on the black market, the Army canteens supplying much of the material. A friend told me that she bought rice, which is very scarce, from her dressmaker to whom it was sold by a colonel's wife at the full black market price. The colonel's wife made the profit since she obtained the rice through her husband, the dressmaker receiving only a tip.

✧ ✧ ✧

SPANISH workers have an eight-hour day and six-day week. Those with large families benefit from a points system by which a proportion of the profits of a company is distributed to those with dependents. There are worker's tribunals in each district which almost invariably decide disputes in the workers' favour and there are, in theory at any rate, excellent social services. Although those advantages may not be universally applied, the majority of town-dwellers undoubtedly benefit from them. Despite this fact, the high cost of living, particularly of food, inadequate housing and low salaries make the working classes bitter and dissatisfied. The middle-classes, too, are badly hit by the high cost of living and it is common for one man to hold three different jobs in order to maintain accepted standards.

✧ ✧ ✧

BUSINESS people in Spain complain of the difficulties which face them. Over-centralization clogs the wheels of industry. In accordance with the theory of the corporate State, each industry is run by a Sindicato with headquarters in Madrid. Raw materials are distributed through the Sindicatos which, in the case of essential industries, such as olive oil, control every process of production and distribution. Almost all commodities in current use are subject to price control, although there has recently been a move towards greater freedom, potatoes and a number of other goods having been de-controlled. Essential foods, such as wheat, are bought at official prices from the the farmer who is allowed to keep a proportion of the crop for himself. The extent of control is far-reaching and rules and regulations abound. In a compilation of banking laws, for example, the first punishable offence is that of blasphemy.

✧ ✧ ✧

SPAIN'S industry has been crippled by lack of electric power on which it is dependent. Great progress has been made in the installation of dams and hydro-electric plant but, owing to a series of droughts, firms in industrial Barcelona were, during last winter, working for only a few hours each day. They were, however, expected to continue paying their employees and were not allowed to declare themselves bankrupt until all their assets were liquidated.

THE State-owned Instituto Nacional de Industria (National Institute of Industry), originally intended to provide capital for essential industries, is a thorn in the side of private business, since it is in a position to help itself to the lion's share of raw materials. One of its latest projects is a steel plant in Asturias which is viewed askance by private steel industrialists.

The differential peseta rate is the Spanish exporter's nightmare. Not only are there different rates of exchange for each commodity, but the import and export rate for the same commodity, often differs and, moreover, is constantly changing. Only firms which have earned foreign currency are entitled to keep a proportion of it. Owing to the stringency of the foreign exchange position, no Spaniards can take any money with them out of the country unless especially authorized to do so.

SHORTAGE of foreign currency has made it extremely difficult to obtain urgently needed raw materials, particularly steel and cotton. Fertilizers are desperately needed to raise agricultural production which, although agriculture is Spain's principal industry, has been falling in face of a rising demand from a rapidly increasing population. In Valencia, large areas of orange-trees have been attacked by blight because they lacked fertilizers.

✧ ✧ ✧

THE whole transport system is badly in need of re-equipment. The present rate of renewal is quite inadequate, particularly in the case of the railways. There are, however, a number of new lorries, American, British and some of Spanish manufacture, to be seen, and Madrid has made great progress in replacing old trams by new buses. Many large American cars are to be seen in Madrid and other big cities. They belong to the wealthy few, among which are to be numbered the higher ranks of the Army.

THE cost of the defence forces is a heavy burden on the country. Out of the current budget, about 47 per cent. is devoted to the armed services and Ministry of the Interior, which controls the various branches of the police.

Politically, Franco today is more secure than ever, all open opposition to him having virtually ceased. For example, two years ago it was not safe for landlords to visit their estates in Estremadura because of guerrillas—now all is peaceful. Although Spain desperately needs a large American loan, there seems little doubt that Franco is capable of carrying on somehow without one.

ALTHOUGH Franco has so far refused to accept American conditions for a loan, there have recently been indications that he intends to adopt a more conciliatory attitude towards the investment of foreign capital, hitherto restricted to twenty-five per cent. in any enterprise. He has in any case little security to offer, Spain's gold reserve being now worth little more than 40 million dollars. But in default of gold, her strategic position remains Spain's greatest asset.

Letters To The Editor

THANKS FROM THE SICK CHILDREN'S HOSPITAL

Sir: Recently the Board of Trustees of the Hospital for Sick Children and the committee engaged in the Building Fund Campaign met for the presentation of a detailed report on the recent campaign so successfully concluded. It is no longer news to you that the target of $4,000,000 set at the start of the campaign on November 21, was not only reached but was topped by half a million, by the time the campaign closed on March 31. Substantial contributions were received from subscribers outside the Toronto area.

Thanks are especially due to editors, like yourself, because of the wholehearted interest you took in the campaign and the support given in the news and editorial columns of your papers. The campaign was conducted with the minimum of expense and in fact, complete costs amounted to only $28,690.62, just slightly over ½ of 1 per cent.

However, this letter is not intended to be a "news" story. As you know, it is one of the duties of the Chairman to close the meeting with an official vote of thanks, and seldom, if ever, have I taken on that duty with so much pleasure and heartfelt appreciation for a job magnificently well done. Your co-operation and active support of this worthy campaign contributed in no small measure to its undoubted success. Your real acknowledgement will be the many, many children of this generation and the generations to come, healed in body and mind, who will laugh and run, speak and walk about, happy and healthy, thanks to you and the generosity of the thousands of people who contributed to the Hospital for Sick Children Building Fund.

On behalf of the Board of Trustees, the children and their parents, may I tender you my most grateful thanks.

Yours sincerely,
R. A. LAIDLAW,
Chairman, Board of Trustees.

BIG COUNTRY, MIGHTY NEIGHBOUR

Sir: I was intrigued by that brief and keen editorial titled "Americana", with its three "unrelated items" from "the great big U.S.A. scene". As one of your farm readers I was, naturally, interested in the following point: "The American government spends more than a million dollars a day in its farm price support program, on buying butter, cheese and powered milk alone."

It is indeed a fact that, in the 'land of the good neighbour', everything they do seems tinged with what I would term 'giantism'. As you indicate, and in the pursuit of happiness "when the U.S.A. goes on a holiday weekend such as last, more than 400 persons are killed...."

As a farmer, I was rather impressed with the fact that, according to my reading, the home market for wheat in 1950 south of the Line is a mere 690,000,000 bushels—i.e., about five times Canada's domestic demand, of 140,000,000 bushels—though they have more than ten times our population. Curiously enough, that U.S. home wheat market called for 690,000,000 bushels back in 1940—when they had 20 million fewer mouths in that "fearful and wonderful country". Of course, the demand for the bread-cereal automatically declines as the living standards elevate, and 57 varieties of nutritional necessities and luxuries are within easy reach of the average pocketbook?

Finally, may I quote from your Buffalo contemporary (Courier-Express) in the course of a grim story indicating that the threat of a new dust-bowl on the great plains is mounting: "In the 1950 blowing areas, observers estimate the wheat loss to the farmers at $275,000,000. Farmers over a wide area already have plowed under lost wheat. Some have turned cattle into the wheatfields to graze what they can out of the crop".

Yes, sir, whatever they do down there, they seem to do so "in a big way"? I figure J.C., decidedly fortunate to have such a powerful fenceline neighbour!

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Now Israel loved Joseph more than all his children, because he was the son of his old age: and he made him a coat of many colours. And when his brethren saw that their father loved him more than all his brethren, they hated him, and could not speak peaceably unto him.... And his brethren went to feed their father's flock in Shechem.

And Israel said unto Joseph, Do not thy brethren feed the flock in Shechem? come, and I will send thee unto them....

And when they saw him afar off, even before he came near unto them, they conspired against him to slay him.... And it came to pass, when Joseph was come unto his brethren, that they stript Joseph out of his coat, his coat of many colours that was on him, and they took him, and cast him into a pit: and the pit was empty, there was no water in it....

Then there passed by Midianites merchantmen; and they drew and lifted up Joseph out of the pit, and sold Joseph to the Ishmeelites for twenty pieces of silver: and they brought Joseph into Egypt. (Gen. 37: 3, 4, 12, 13, 18, 23, 24, 28.)

✧ ✧ ✧

Thou wilt keep him in perfect peace, whose mind is stayed on thee: because he trusteth in thee.

Trust ye in the Lord for ever: for in the Lord JEHOVAH is everlasting strength. (Isa. 26: 3, 4.)

Unconsidered Trifles

A local preacher was asked to preach at a chapel about six miles from his home. Taking his wife with him, they reached the chapel, the wife entering by the main door and her husband by the vestry door. A deacon found the lady a seat and brought her a hymn book. After the service he again went to her in a friendly manner and said, "I hope we shall have the pleasure of seeing you here again. We have some very nice services here, but," he added in an undertone, "it isn't very often we get such a duffer in the pulpit as the one we've had tonight."

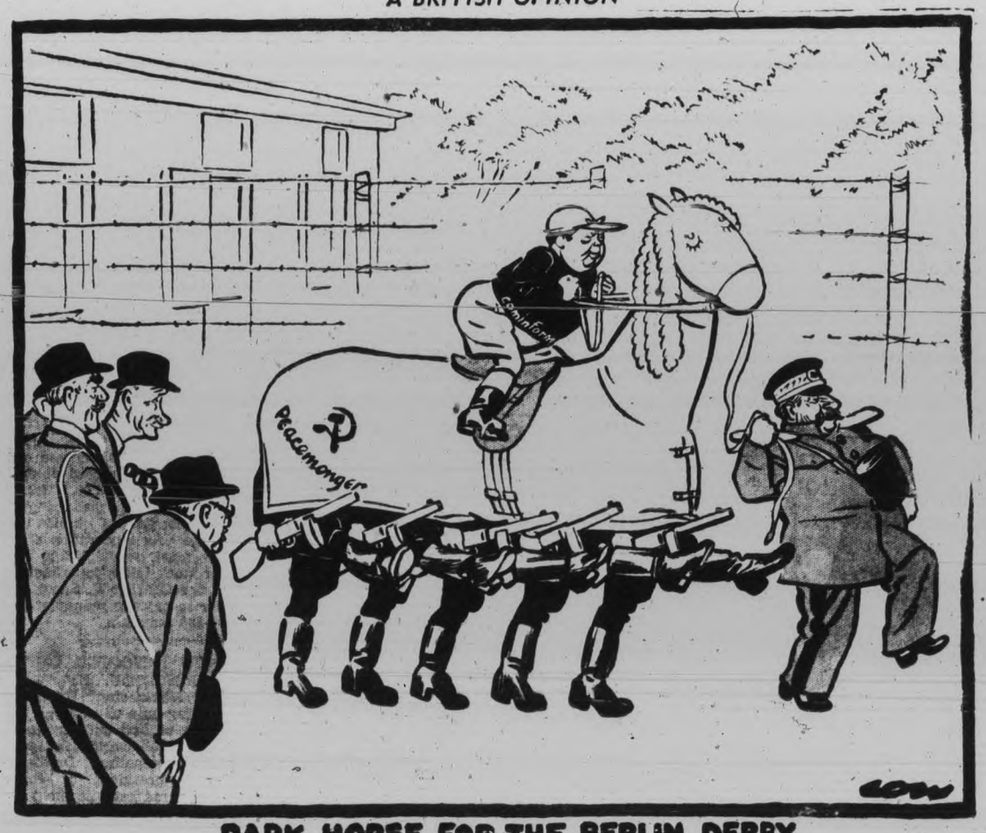
The blacksmith's sweetheart entered the forge just as he paused to wipe the perspiration from his brow.



"Shall we go to the pictures tonight John?" she asked.

"Nay, lass," he replied. "I'm playing darts for the club."

"I'm tired of you and your silly darts."

"Come, come," pleaded the blacksmith, picking up the heavy hammer. "A man must get exercise sometimes."

U.S. Executives Praise Trade Fair Setup

By FORBES RHUDE

TORONTO, June 6.—(CP).—A group of United States business executives are taking a two-day look at the Canadian International Trade Fair. Here are some of their comments as given at a press conference:

Reuel W. Elton, general manager, American Trade Association Executives, Washington:

"There is something here that hasn't as yet been told. We have, in international trade fairs, an avenue towards world peace.

"When competitors sit down together and start calling each other by their first names, they stop calling each other by other names. They find that they are the same people and then their industry starts to improve."

E. E. Schellbacher, director of commercial intelligence and special service division, office of international trade, U.S. Department of Commerce:

"Only through world trade we can find out what the people of the rest of the world can do. Until we see what others do, we think we are the only ones who can do it."

Get Ideas

Orrin B. Werntz, executive secretary, National Screw Machine Products Association, Cleveland:

"We learn that we don't make everything in the world and don't make everything best.

"I am disappointed at not seeing more Canadian exhibitors."

In general the United States group gave enthusiastic tribute to the fair's administration, including Chairman Glen Bannerman director of the Canadian government exhibition commission and his staff.

Said Wayne C. Taylor, assistant to the administrator, Economic Co-operation Administration, Washington:

"We have come to sit at Mr. Bannerman's feet."

Said John M. Gage, managing director, first United States international trade fair, Chicago, which will be held in August:

Hope To Do As Well

"We can't surpass the job here, in our first year, but we hope to do a comparable one."

And Charles E. Boyd, secretary, Retail Merchants Association of Detroit:

"Detroit hopes to have a trade fair a year hence, and I am sure other United States cities will follow suit."

Boyd said he was surprised at the attitude of some business men who fear immediate competition without realizing that it leads to a round-robin trade which will grow and benefit all.

Said Hampton M. Auld, executive secretary, recorder-controller section, Scientific Apparatus Makers Association, New York:

"We will try to impress the people of the United States that such fairs lead to trade 'which gathers snow as it rolls along'.

Loses $1,200, Car To Thugs With Bottles

TORONTO, June 6.—(CP). — Norman Smith, 34, was slugged and robbed of $1,200 and his automobile by two bottle-wielding thugs Monday night. Smith had just left his auto repair shop when he was attacked. The hold-up men were waiting in the back seat of the car and he was slugged unconscious when he got in.

When he revived, Smith found himself lying in a field in suburban North York. He was treated for a gash on his head.

Farmer Paralyzed

KITCHENER, June 6 (CP)—His arm paralyzed, 35-year-old Alten Zellar lay helpless in a field for more than an hour Monday while an ambulance driver tried to locate the field. Zeller was injured when he attempted to stop a team of runaway horses pulling a manure spreader on his farm southwest of Kitchener. The spreader ran over his arm. Doctors said no bones were broken, but Zeller was almost completely paralyzed.

Re-Elected President

TORONTO, June 6 (CP)—E. S. Welch, St. Catharines, was re-elected president of the Ontario division of the Canadian Cancer Society Monday. In his annual report Mr. Welch stated that during the past year 335 cancer patients received 339,571 dressings free of charge through the services provided by the Ontario division. These dressings were made by 471 groups of volunteer workers.

3 Die In Landslide

BOGOTA, Colombia, June 6—(AP)—A landslide near Chinchina, 100 miles southwest of Bogota, Monday killed three men and injured several others, the newspaper El Tiempo said. Another paper, El Espectador, said heavy rains falling again in Caldas province, after a brief respite, had flooded rich farmlands and left hundreds of families homeless. The village of Santuario, about 65 miles west of Bogota, was flooded.

FLOATING HOUSES—These houses in Morris, Man., ripped from their foundations by swirling flood waters of the Red River, present many obstacles to rehabilitation workers. Several navy ducks are used to tow the houses back to higher land. Many of the dwellings are damaged beyond repair and often crash into boats carting workers or returning evacuees.

Mrs. H. Rayson Tells History Of Bethany WA

BETHANY, June 6—(ENS)—At the June meeting of the Women's Auxiliary of St. Paul's Church at the home of Mrs. Rupert Wood, with Mrs. Hope Rayson as joint hostess, Mrs. J. J. Hamilton presided and gave an account of the early activities of the Women's Auxiliary. The record books before 1920 had been lost to the branch and as Mrs. Hamilton is the only living member who has had consecutive membership since the beginning of the Auxiliary, the information contained in her report was of particular value.

"The Women's Auxiliary of St. Paul's Church was organized in May, 1907, by Bishop Reeves and his wife, at the home of the Rev. Cooper Aylwin. The officers elected at the meeting were: Mrs. Johnston Morton, president; Mrs. W. H. McCartney, vice-president; Mrs. F. W. Reynolds, secretary; Miss C. Rainbird, treasurer.

The charter members were the aforementioned officers and Mrs. G. H. Brereton, Mrs. Charles Reynolds, Mrs. Albert Reynolds, Mrs. John Smith, Sr., Mrs. A. Griffin, Miss Emily Preston, Mrs E. Swanson, Mrs. Aylwin, Mrs. Graham, Mrs. D. Cairns, Mrs. Isaac Preston, Mrs. J. J. Hamilton, Mrs. George Twigg and Miss Victoria Morris. Just after this meeting, Mrs. F. W. Reynolds moved to Toronto and Miss Rainbird was appointed as the secretary and Mrs. G. Twigg, treasurer. Soon, Miss Rainbird died and Mrs. J. Ward was appointed secretary and acted until 1915, when Mrs. Weir took the office until 1922. Mrs. Hamilton followed Mrs. Weir and held office until 1937. Mrs. W. H. McCartney was elected president about 1913 and remained in office for 20 years and on her retirement was made a life member by the branch.

During the early years, all preparations for bazaar work, making up of goods into artices of clothing, making of quilts etc. were done at the meetings which lasted from 1:30 to 5 p.m. No refreshments were served except at the annual meeting, which was always held at the Rectory.

First Bazaar

The first bazaar was held in the old town hall, which was destroyed by fire in 1911. Admission was 10 cents and for a further 10 cents refreshments were served . . . all you could eat . . . of sandwiches, cake, pie and tarts, with an accompanying cup of tea.

The profits were very small, even with goods bought at a ten per cent discount, and if at the close of the bazaar, there were any remaining articles, they were marked down further in price. The bazaar was, as is now, an annual event.

There was a record attendance of 19 members at the meeting. Mrs. Allan Gribble read the Bible and Mrs. T. S. Gault gave several items from "The Living Message".

Balance Exceeds $200.

The treasurer, Miss Winnifred Nesbitt, reported talent money donated in the amount of $24.50; The allotment box for the half year contained $16.32 and was donated to the wardens of the church; the bank balance was well over $200. Reports from all the committees were received as well as a list of artices on hand for the Fair Bazaar.

Five pairs of workman's socks were sent to the flood area in Winnipeg.

There will be no meetings during the months of July and August and Mrs. Alex Sinclair invited the members to her home for the September meeting.

Refreshments were served.

15,000 Acres Burned In May

TORONTO, June 6.—(CP).—Fire rangers and foresters began to relax today after fighting a flurry of bush fires which during the last month burned out 15,000 acres in Ontario.

An official of the Lands Department said today that new spring growth, which is beginning to cover the dry, dangerous litter of the forest floor, had lessened the danger of more outbreaks.

He said that "as usual, careless people were responsible for nearly all the outbreaks."

Largest of the blazes fought was in Teck township, in the Kirkland Lake area, where flames swept more than 5,000 acres.

Largest single number of fires recorded to May 31 was in the Parry Sound "forest" district where 50 were fought. In the Trent district, 23 fires burned through 5,749 acres, most of it scrub land.

Village Man's Father Funeral In Hamilton

ROSENEATH, June 6 (ENS) — The funeral of the late James Stewart Surerus was held in Hamilton on Thursday, June 1 conducted by Canon H. A. Leake, rector of All Saints Anglican Church of that city.

The pall bearers were close friends of the deceased: William Hunter, W. S. Sterling, Robert Cruikshanks, E. Steinecker, Alvin Swartz, and R. H. McMaster, Dundas.

Archdeacon McIntosh assisted with the committal service at Grove Cemetery, Dundas.

Mr. Surerus is survived by two sons, Richard of Roseneath and Louis of Springfield, Tennessee.

Announce Deficit

BONN, Germany, June 6—(AP)—The West German government announced Monday it faces a 1950 budget deficit of about 900,000,000 marks ($214,200,000) unless it can scrape up some new tax revenue or find new ways to save money. It is blamed the Allied occupation costs—which the Germans pay to maintain Allied forces in their country for part of the deficit.

Cottage Vanishes

HONEY HARBOR, June 6 (CP)—It was just the weekend to open up the cottage., Mr. and Mrs. Orville Drummond of Kingston invited a few friends and set out for this Georgian Bay resort. They found an excellent stone foundation on their property—but no cottage. Police, pondering its disappearance, had no clues.

Volcano Quieter

HONOLULU, June 6—(AP)—Mauna Loa simmered down today after five days of its most violent fireworks display in modern times Rivers of lava still coiled down the massive 13,680-foot volcano's flaming flanks and probably world for weeks to come. But the worst appeared to be over.

Go After Tourists

HALIFAX, June 6—(CP)—Finlay D. Patterson of Sarnia, Canadian Restaurant Association president, told a provincial meeting of the organization here Monday night he tourist industry can be doubled in the next 10 years "if we go after it properly". The greatest hazard to the tourist business is the "sloppy' dirty restaurant, with unappetizing food served by poorly trained waitresses."

Heavy Hail Storm

SASKATOON, June 6—(CP)—The northwest section of Saskatoon was lashed Monday night by a short, but heavy hail storm. Hail stones about an inch in diameter broke several windows in one home and also beat down tree branches and gardens in the same area. Heavy rain fell for about a half hour in the one section of the city.

Resources Depleted

AMHERST, N.S., June 6 (CP) — Resources Minister Winters warned Monday night that Canada's forest resources are being depleted "at an alarming rate" and urged national co-operation, both private and governmental, in mapping a national forestry plan for preservation and development. In a speech to the 11th annual meeting of the Maritime Lumber Bureau, Mr. Winters also dealt with maritime prosperity and predicted higher employment and national income figures.

Canadian Farmers May See Boost In Western Wheat

OTTAWA, June 6 (CP)—Canadian farmers may see an increase in the $1.40-a-bushel initial payment for western wheat next year if all goes well, but there is to be no further financial settlement with Britain on the Anglo-Canadian wheat contract which ends next month.

These disclosures emerged from a Commons discussion on wheat Monday, during which a CCF amendment to have the initial price boosted to $1.75 a bushel for the 1950-51 crop year starting Aug. 1 was defeated. Trade Minister Howe told the House such a move might deplete the wheat pool in its first year under a new system of operaion.

Answering opposition criticism and questions. Mr. Howe made these announcements:

1. The government will increase the initial payment "if by next February the pool has accumulated a considerable surplus through paying a low initial price." In that event, payment would be made for past deliveries of wheat and a new initial price set for future deliveries.

2. Britain has told Canada that she has fulfilled obligations under the Anglo-Canadian wheat contract clause which said the United Kingdom would "have regard" for the low prices at which she obtained wheat in the first two years of the 600,000,000-bushel four-year contract.

Extend Board

The wheat discussion developed on study of a bill to extend the life of the Canadian Wheat Board. The board is increasing its membership from three to five because of increased work. It will now be represented on the International Wheat Council and will also handle the marketing of coarse grains.

After discussion at the afternoon and night sittings, the House gave third and final reading to the legislation.

The proposal to boost the initial price of wheat to $1.75 for the next crop year came from M. J. Coldwell, CCF leader. He said farmers should be compensated for "sacrifices" made during the operation of the British contract when wheat was sold at prices lower than the so-called world prices.

When the House finally voted. Mr. Coldwell's amendment was defeated, 87 to 40, with Progressive Conservatives, CCF and Social Credit members voting solidly for the motion against the Liberal majority.

Working Perfectly

Petes Drop First of Season To Hamilton Tigers, 11 to 9

By DON GRANT

Up to Monday night the Hamilton Tigers seemed to be toothless tigers but then they proved they had teeth by nipping a 11-9 win in Hamilton over the Petes. Hamilton's first win was Peterborough's first loss.

The Tigers managed to slip through the first half with a poor brand of lacrosse. The Petes were able to outplay them throughout the first half hour and were on the upper shelf of a 6-4 score at the half mark.

Hamilton began a comeback in the third with the advantage of two Petes' penalties. Full of determination both teams battled, the Petes to hold their lead and Hamilton to overcome it. Hamilton, using their weight, tied the score and went ahead 8-7 at the end of the third. Peterborough tied the score at the first of the fourth but Hamilton went on to win with a stalling offensive play.

Drew Seven

Referees Bill Fitzgerald and Gus Madson, both of St. Catharines, had little trouble but handed out 12 penalties, seven to the Petes. Most of the penalties were for slashing in the last few minutes of the second period when tempers flared with the close score and play.

Favell for Hamilton and Speck for Peterborough were steady between the pipes throughout. Speck pulled the Petes through the torrid space when the locals were two men short by making sensational stops on Tiger attempts.

The scoring by both teams was well distributed. Bob Thorpe led the Petes with three goals while Dootch Vitarelli had two goals and an assist, Gerry Fitzgerald a goal and two assists, as did Don Ashbee and Arn Dugan. Tommy Love was tops for Hamilton with three goals and an assist with teammate Tony Copula with two goals and two assists.

Got The First

Kinna on the edge of the crease scored the first counter on a corner pass from Vitarelli. Thorpe put them up two when he backhanded a running catch from Fitzgerald into the twine. Stu Scott rifled home a McKenzie pass and later McKenzie tied the score 2-all with a hot 20-foot shot. Vitarelli snared a long pass from Magee at the close for a breakaway.

Vitarelli picked up his second counter to open the second on a pass from Jack Breakspeare. With each team a man short, Ashbee whipped home a long pass from Fitzgerald. Dugan feinted a shot and passed to Thorpe who had edged in on top of Favell. He did not have a chance to make a save. While Kinna and Dorney were in the sinbin Tommy Love sent home a backhander. Pup Curtin and Jack Breakspeare were in the penalty box when Copula scored the fourth Tiger goal from a pile-up in front.

A Neat Counter

Fitzgerald and Ashbee combined on a passing play to open the second half with Fitzgerald scoring. Hamilton started to press and four goals were scored, Doyle on a long pass from Hogan, Digby in alone, MacDonald on a pass from Love, and Love parting the Petes' defence to put Hamilton one up.

Dugan, Ashbee and Thorpe broke loose early in the fourth with Dugan scoring. Twelve seconds later Grainger sent Hamilton up once again on a passing play from a free ball. Copula, 15 seconds later, scored from Grainger at the faceoff, followed by Dugan, 14 seconds later, breaking into the open for the ninth Petes goal. Love sank the game clincher on a solo play.

Peterborough—Goal, Speck; defence, Nolan, Fitzgerald; centre, E. Creighton; wings, Dugan, Ashbee; rover, Thorpe; alternates, Kinna, Magee, Curtin, Vitarelli, Buchanan, B. Breakspeare, J. Breakespeare.

Hamilton — Goal, Favell; defence, McKenzie, Edmond; centre, Doyle; wings, Grainger, MacDonald; rover, Shortridge; alternates, Hogan, Copula, Scott, Dorney, Love, Digby, Guthro.

Rays Win In 11th

A three-run drive in the 11th inning last night gave Raybestos a 12-11 verdict over Mt. Pleasant at Brinton in a fine fastball fray. The visitors had scored two in their half of the 11th after getting six in the third and one each in the fifth, eighth and ninth. Rays tallied one each in the fourth and fifth, two in the sixth and ninth with three counting in the seventh. Crary's triple with two aboard won the game for the. Teams:

Mt. Pleasant—Hill, Hanbeck, Riches, Mitchell, Bryan, McKnight, Parker, Larmer, Crawford, Jamieson.

Rays—Crampton, Simpson, S. Maudsley, Crary, Pryde, Giles, Murphy, L. Maudsley, Nicholls, O'Toole.

Petes Tie Fray At 5-All With The Ports

Art Pagett's fighting intermediates solved the delivery of Keith Mooney of Port Hope in the sixth inning of last evening's twilight baseball game at Riverside to pump five runs across the pan, tie up the game and avert defeat.

The game ended 5-5 after one extra inning of play in the seven-inning fixture as Umpire Devine wisely called it with darkness falling, at the end of the eighth. But it was a thriller.

Peterborough were unable to do much with the mace in the early innings as Mooney fanned five and received steady support afield, while the Lakeshore nine pushed four runs across in the third and added another in the fifth on three solid bingles by Foote, Mann and Keeler. But Pagett opened the sixth with a hard smash to left and Sullivan followed with another to put two aboard.

Drove One In

Fitzgerald then drove a hard single to right to score Pagett. A wild pitch by Mooney scored Sully while Buck Legrow worked out a base on balls, stole second and when Fitzgerald scored on the throw, Legrow lit for third and made it. McGrath tripled on a high, hard drive to deep left-centre scoring Legrow. Dave Casey drove him in with the tying run on a sharp drive to left.

That was all. Hal Woods took over for the visitors, squelched the rally and held Petes while Lefty Dorris did likewise to subdue Ontarios for the final three in a great relief chore—a big factor in saving the game.

Pagett and Casey led at bat with two hits apiece in four trips while Foote, Mann and Thixon, long time stars for Ontarios each plunked the apple for two solid bingles in four official trips to the platter. Don Floyd made four sparkling catches in the centre garden to shine afield.

Tweed Triumphs

MARMORA, June 6 (ENS) — In their home game with Tweed in the Canadian Legion Zone F-3 Softball League on Monday evening, Marmora lost by the score of 15-7. The homesters came from behind to lead by one run in the third and at the end of the fifth the teams were tied but later errors proved costly for them and Tweed won. Begley pitched for Marmora for seven innings and showed good form while given fair support Gray took over in the eighth when Tweed garnered six runs off his offerings. R. Langevin, who started for Tweed, was relieved by D. Manion in the fourth.

Features of the game were homers by Courtney in sixth and Magee. Teams:

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

By CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Director of recreation Alex Sinclair sends out invites to sports organizations to meet the recreation commission at 7.30 tonight in the committee room of the city buildings. Idea is to form plans for a centenary recreation and sports week here, commencing Aug. 28. He says: "The purpose of this week is not only to celebrate the centenary but to focus the attention of all citizens of Peterborough and district on the many types of sporting and athletic events carried out in the city. Each group will be asked to arrange the activities of their own sport on one special day during that week." If all co-operate, it should be a lively week in this borough.

Some of those, besides many big league ball writers, who objected to Babe Ruth's selection over Ty Cobb as the outstanding ball player of the first half century, were: Burt Shotton, Clark Griffith, Walter Johnson, Clyde Milan, Nick Altrock, Ossie Bluege, Roger Peckinpaugh, George Morgridge, Eddie Collins, George Sisler, Tris Speaker, Connie Mack, Donie Bush, Billy Southworth, Al Simmons, Hazen Cuyler, Del Baker, Steve O'Neill, Carl Mays, Mickey Cochrane, Duffy Lewis, Al Schacht, Bob Quinn, Jack Coombs, Ira Thomas, Jimmy Dykes and a raft more. Modern sports writers—many of whom never saw either Ruth or Cobb play—named the Babe as tops.

* * * * * *

But Figures Don't Lie

It might be pointed out that a nationwide poll of players and writers in 1936 placed Cobb as No. 1 in baseball's Hall of Fame, with Ruth and Hans Wagner tied for second, 11 points behind. And in 1942, the Sporting News conducted a poll in which 102 former managers and players voted Cobb as the greatest, with Wagner second and Ruth third. Cold statistics show that the Georgia Peach (who hit .367 in 24 years) retired with 90 big league records, while the Bambino closed his career with 45. Need more be said? Ruth with his mighty homers had more color and crowd appeal—and he was more popular than the fiery Tyrus—but Cobb had no peer on the diamond in his lengthy career.

Secretary Frank Feaver of the OASA points out in Bulletin No. 12 that there is definitely no leadoff allowed in softball. Any runner who stands off the base after a pitcher assumes his position is out. Affiliations close on July 1 and copies of constitutions must be forwarded to the secretary. Certificates may be had for the asking and they must be signed before a player takes part in a game. These are to be returned to Feaver by July 20, and loop winners must be declared by Aug. 29 for senior "A" or "B" and by Aug. 15 for all other series. Games with OASA teams require no special permission but teams should be sure their opponents have all signed certificates.

Lasses In Fine Form

Followers of the femmes—in a softball sense, that is—saw two grand games at the Bowl d'Ashburnham last gloaming. One couldn't ask for keener competition in this well-balanced circuit. Westclox had to hustle plenty and play errorless ball to beat Ashby's 3-1, with M. Downer and D. McFadden both hurling nifty ball. Couple of Ashby errors meant the difference in this duel. Woollens extended the CGE-ers plenty, too, ere the Electrics grabbed the bulkier side of a 6-4 count. R. Boyce pitched seven-hit ball and sent back 16 on strikes in the one-hour tilt. Yeah, two swell scraps. Marines meet Westclox there tomorrow, followed by Ashby's vs. CGE.

* * * * * *

Petes' senior lacrossers dropped a toughie in Hamilton last e'en as the Tigers drove late for an 11-9 OLA verdict. Their first win and the Petes' first loss of the young season. Seven penalties of the dozen handed out didn't help the Creighton crew, either, though Goalie Ralph Speck turned in a dandy chore between the pipes. Bob Thorpe scored three goals, with Dootch Vitarelli, Jerry Fitzgerald, Don Ashbee and Arn Dugan each in on three counters. A neat number but a tough one to lose to the champions of Ontario and Mann Cup finalists of '49. Owen Sound took Weston 15-5 last eve in a rough joust, three players requiring stitches for head wounds. The Toronto entry (a new one this season) plays here on Friday.

Westclox Girls Gain Win In Nifty Game

Westclox squeezed out a 3-1 Girls' Softball League victory over Ashby's at the Bowl last evening in the best game seen so far this season. It was a real twirling duel between M. Downer and D. McFadden, with two Ashby errors spelling the difference. The Clockers turned in a perfect fielding chore back of M. Downer's six-hit hurling, as she fanned seven. D. McFadden kept 10 hits scattered but for three and a run in the fifth and whiffed four. The game was run off in slightly more than an hour.

M. Downer and J. Hardy stood out for the victors while J. Dunk—despite two miscues—turned in a good effort, along with M. Freeman, for the losers. M. Downer, M. Hawthorne, J. Vass and B. Morrow each collected two safe hits for Westclox. E. McFadden was the only Ashby hitter to get more than one safe blow as she got two for four tries.

Here And There In Sports . . .

By The Canadian Press

Phil Marchildon, who won 19 games for Philadelphia Athletics in 1947, was granted his outright release Monday by the International League Buffalo Bisons.

Leo T. Miller, general manager of the Bisons, made the announcement at Buffalo as the team passed through on its way from Toronto to Syracuse.

At Penetanguishene, Ont., native only Sunday had been placed on the inactive list by the last-place Bisons. He had started five games since being sold to Buffalo this spring by the A's, and hadn't lasted beyond the fifth inning in any one.

Since 1947 Marchildon has been a disappointment. Still plagued by war nerves, result of 10 months in a prisoner-of-war camp in Germany after he was shot down while flying with the RCAF as a gunner, he won only nine games in 1948 and saw little action last year. A sore arm also bothered him.

Marchildon could not immediately be reached Monday night for information as to his future plans.

Frankie Almond of Vancouver Monday night won the Canadian featherweight boxing title by knocking out Lou Alter of Montreal in the 10th round of a scheduled 12-rounder at Vancouver. Almond weighed 126, Alter 123½.

The end came suddenly at 1:48. Almond ripped a terrific right into Alter's body. Alter writhed in agony on the canvas as referee Hed McDonald counted him out.

The 21-year-old Almond softened up Alter with an effective left hook. Alter fought from a deep crouch, pushing up at Almond with his left hand. Though he connected frequently, he seemed to hurt Almond only once, in the fourth round with a swing to the head.

At Saint John, N. B., a wrestling show was held at the Forum Monday night despite action by Mayor E. W. Patterson in cancelling licences granted to rival promoters for holding shows at the same time and place.

"Top Promotions" obtained a licence from the Mayor, and rival promoter Jack McAllister also received a licence from city hall after getting a permit from the Saint John Boxing and Wrestling Commission.

The Mayor said he felt it was the turn of "Top Promotions" to hold a show. He had suggested that the rival promoters be given alternate Monday nights. Because of the confusion, and to preserve peace, he cancelled both licences, he said.

The "cancellation" was followed by a statement by George T. Kane, chairman of the Boxing and Wrestling Commission, who said that despite the Mayor's "uncalled for and unwarranted proclamation" one show would be held. He said the commission had been set up by the Mayor and common council under an act of the Legislature.

The card held, without disturbance, was the one promoted by McAllister.

At Winona, Minn., an amateur baseball player died Monday in hospital after he was hit behind the ear by a pitched ball.

Eugene Schoolmeier, 28, Fountain City, Wis., was the victim. He was struck during a game at Dodge, Wis., across the Mississippi River from Winona, Sunday. He finished the game, but on the way home became delirious, and was taken to hospital.

Electrics Take Close One Over Woollens

In a swell girls' softball struggle at the Bowl last night, CGE pulled out a 6-4 triumph over the Woollens. It took just an hour to play and was a thriller throughout. Woollens lost out because they couldn't hit in the clutches, being held to seven singles by R. Boyce who struck out 16 in a great showing. L. Derry on the other mound held the Electrics to nine blows and sent four back on strikes, each side kicking in with but one error.

R. Boyce and B. McMahon were the defensive stars for the Electrics, while L. Derry and C. Ferguson shone for the Woollens. J. Finnie topped CGE at bat with three for four, as R. Boyce hit a double and single in four. J. McInroy was the big Woollens hitter with a homer and two singles in five attempts. McLaing came through with a two-bagger.

Sizzling Tigers March On Blasting Senators 7-4

By JOE REICHLER,
Associated Press Sports Writer.

Detroit owns one of the most beautiful baseball parks in the country but the Tigers would just as soon play elsewhere.

The reason? The Tigers have been almost unbeatable on foreign fields. In contrast they've played under .500 ball in Briggs Stadium.

The Tigers whipped the Senators in Washington 7-4 Monday night for their 19th triumph in 22 games away from home. That's an amazing .864 percentage and far better than the front-running New York Yankees' fine record of 14-4 on the road. At home Detroit has won only eight while losing nine.

Monday's triumph coupled with New York's 3-2 defeat by Cleveland pushed the runner-up Tigers within 1½ games of the Yankees. Boston's third place Red Sox buried Chicago White Sox 12-0 to climb within four games of the top.

Brooklyn's Dodgers gained undisputed possession of first place in the National League vanquishing Chicago Cubs 13-1 while Philadelphia Phils shaded St. Louis Cardinals 6-5. In the only other league game, New York Giants edged out Pittsburgh Pirates 5-4 in 10 innings.

Half-game Edge

The Dodgers now enjoy a half-game edge on the Phils who swept past the Cards by a half length on the strength of their victory.

Outstanding in Monday's doings was the batting of George Kell and Hoot Evers of the Tigers; Vern Stephens and Ted Williams, Red Sox; Bob Kennedy, Indians; Del Ennis, Phillies; Bob Morgan, Dodgers and Sam Calderone, Giants.

Other noteworthy achievements were the pitching of Cleveland's Bobby Feller, Boston's Maury McDermott, Brooklyn's Preacher Roe, Philadelphia's Robin Roberts and the New York Giants' Andy Hansen.

Kell, American League's champion batting last season, moved into a tie with Cleveland's Larry Doby for the batting leadership at .388 by rapping four straight singles. Evers made only two hits but one was a homer and the other a triple to drive in five runs.

Third Triumph

Dizzy Trout went the distance for his third triumph without a loss and the Tigers' sixth in succession.

Stephens clouted his 11th homer and a double to drive in four runs. Williams collected two hits.

McDermott, who replaced starter Ellis Kinder with one out and two on in the first, yielded only four hits in getting credit for the shutout, it was his fourth triumph against one loss.

Kennedy scored two of Cleveland's three runs via a single and a home run. Feller allowed five hits in registering his fourth triumph.

Cubs Defeat Red Wings 2-1

By The Associated Press

A 50-year layoff hasn't dulled Springfield's ability to win ball games. The Cubs, playing in the International League for the first time since 1900, are making a determined bid for the league championship.

Under the capable hands of Stan Hack, the great former Chicago Cub third baseman, Springfield today is in fourth place 2½ games off the pace. The Cubs rang up their fourth straight victory Monday night, shading the league-leading Rochester Red Wings 2-1.

Righthander Bob Spicer held the Wings to seven hits. Bob Thurman's home run in the sixth inning snapped a 1-1 deadlock.

Baltimore Orioles, behind Bob Raneys eight-hit pitching, whipped Montreal Royals 9-6. George Byam, with four singles, topped the Baltimore batsmen.

Eddie Shoke's 10th-inning single, scoring Carden Gillenwater, gave Syracuse a 5-4 triumph over Buffalo Bisons. Ed Blake, who pitched only the 10th, picked up his first victory.

Steve Ridzik pitched Toronto Maple Leafs to a 9-2 victory over Jersey City. Ridzik, in winning his second game, gave up five hits, striking out eight.

PETERBOROUGH-MADE PRODUCTS AT CENTENNIAL EXHIBITION

Industrial Growth of City Revealed At Big Show

Peterborough's citizens are going to get a glimpse of what local industries have been contributing to the city's growth in the last 100 years when they stroll up to the Armouries this week to see the Peterborough Centennial Industrial Exhibition.

To some extent this four-day show beginning Tuesday at 7 p.m. will correspond to the Trade Fair of a year ago. But where the Trade Fair was about half composed of retail store exhibits, this year's show will be strictly an industrial affair. It will feature products made by local industries.

Once again the show will be sponsored by the Kiwanis as was last year's fair.

Largest of the 28 exhibits are from the Canadian General Electric Company and the Ontario Department of Lands and Forests. The foresters display will show the four main branches of activities of the department.

One section will illustrate the use of raw land of Peterborough county such as lumbering and recreation in summer resorts. Another section will be a display of the department's forest fire fighting equipment.

Some pheasants, ducks, and foxes will symbolize the fish and wildlife branch. And the final section will feature reforestation of wasteland.

Another big display is being put on by Peterborough's public schools and PCVS. They will be showing off their skills in woodwork and machine shop products.

One of the most unusual shows is the Peterborough Art Association exhibit. It will depict an old-fashioned drawing room with its antiques of various kinds, including furniture, draperies and figurines.

Each night at 10 p.m., a draw for a door prize will be held. The prizes, no small potatoes, are: a three-day trip by air to New York, a Brinton carpet, an Outboard Marine motor, and a chesterfield suite.

Some of the exhibitors, such as the Western Clock Co., will be holding draws of their own as well.

DUTCH TREATED — Dutch sailors line up alongside one of two destroyer escorts which were formally delivered to the Royal Netherlands Navy in ceremonies at the Boston Naval Shipyard. The vessels are the first to be delivered to any foreign government under terms of the Mutual Defence Assistance Program. The two are the U.S.S. Burrows (shown) and the U.S.S. Rinehart.

More Inspection Said Needed On Investments

OTTAWA, June 6 — (CP) — Senator John T. Haig, Progressive Conservative leader, told the Senate Monday night that government legislation to widen the investment scope of Canadian and foreign insurance companies would bring a need for "very much more inspection" by the government insurance department.

Speaking on a second reading of a bill amending the Canadian and British Insurance Companies Act of 1932, he said insurance was a good form of investment and he was not against the bill. But "we will have to have very much more inspection in our insurance department if we are going to widen field of investment."

Senator W. D. Euler (L, Ontario) saw a danger in some companies advancing too much money on mortgages. He also said he would like to see an amendment to the measure to permit stock companies whose stock had risen above its par value to mutualize themselves without running into the present income tax difficulties.

Senator J. G. Fogo (L, Ontario) in explaining the legislation, said the total business of Canadian life insurance companies had grown from $2,000,000,000 in 1919 to $14,000,000,000 at the end of 1949.

The legislation was to bring the 1932 legislation up to date and few new principles were involved.

The bill, along with a companion measure relating to foreign insurance companies, was given second reading and sent to a committee for further study.

Ottawa Girl Wins Scholarship

TORONTO, June 6 (CP)—The second William Lyon Mackenzie King fellowship was awarded Monday night by the University of Toronto to Joan Hutchinson of Ottawa.

The fellowship, valued at $500, is endowed by a group of the former Prime Minister's friends and is awarded annually on the basis of personality, initiative and academic ability. It permits one year's post-graduate study in international relations at the University of Toronto.

Miss Hutchinson, a graduate of Glebe Collegiate in Ottawa, spent her third undergraduate year at Queen's University in Kingston, and returned to Toronto this year for her final term.

FELLOWSHIP WINNER — Joan Orrin Hutchinson, of Ottawa, has been awarded the second W. L. Mackenzie King Fellowship. The fellowship, for one years' post graduate work at the University of Toronto in international relations, is endowed by a group of friends of the former prime minister. Miss Hutchinson plans to spend the summer in Europe before resuming her studies.

Hon. Harold Scott To Open Centennial Industrial Show

The Hon. Harold Scott, Minister for the Department of Lands and Forests, will open the Peterborough Centennial Industrial Exhibition Tuesday night at 8 p.m.

On hand to assist him will be Mayor Max J. Swanston. Ontario's Minister of Labor, Charles Daley will be on hand to speak as well.

The Industrial Exhibition will be a four day show from Tuesday to Friday illustrating the part local industry has played in the growth of Peterborough in its 100 years' history.

To Give Dinner

Preceding the opening of the exhibition, the city's Industrial Committee will give a dinner in honor of Peterborough's manufacturers. Labor Minister Daly will be guest speaker at the dinner.

In all, 28 exhibits will be on display. Four of them, the Department of Lands and Forests, the Peterborough Art Association, the city's public schools and PCVS, and the Kiwanis, will not be industrial.

The other exhibitors will be Campbell's Dairy, Brinton Carpet Co., Ovaltine, J. J. Turner, Dominion Woollens, DeLaval Co., Canadian Sealbright Co., Outboard Marine Manufacturing Co., Peterborough Lock Co., Nashua Paper Co., Wonder Bakeries Ltd.

Quaker Oats Co., Peterborough Lumber Co., Colonial Weaving Co., Raybestos Co., Peterborough Block Supply Co., Western Clock Co., Silverwood's Dairy, Canada Packers, Peterborough Canoe Co., Dewart Milling Co., Canadian General Electric, Peterborough Co-operative Services, and Canadian Ventilating Shades Ltd.

Guards Foil Mass Break-out

TORONTO, June 6 — (CVP) — Officials said Monday night that an attempted mass break-out from the city's Don Jail was foiled late Sunday night.

Guards making a late check discovered a partly-sawn iron bar protecting a window screen, and further investigation uncovered a hacksaw and broken bits of blades.

The partly-sawed bar was on a window of the second floor of the old jail on the banks of the Don River. This floor is called by prisoners the "Kingston Quarters," meaning that prisoners there are men being held for transfer to Kingston Penetentiary.

Prisoners involved were immediately placed in solitary confinement. There were 17 prisoners on the floor, some of them destined for Kingston and others being men with criminal records awaiting trial in city courts.

HASTINGS, June 6—(ENS)—Canon S. R. Spencer probably considers himself an authority on grandchildren. When he christened Neil Percival Macklin, he christened his 22nd grandchild.

The child is the daughter of Mrs. Ross Macklin, the Canon's daughter, and Mr. Macklin. The baptismal service was in St. George's Anglican Church, Hastings.

OTTAWA, June 6 — (CP) — External Affairs Minister Pearson confessed Monday night in the Commons that pictures of movie actress Lana Turner are distracting and "extremely interesting."

He came across the pictures while reading an article in Look Magazine entitled "Why the United States and Canada Should Be One Country." It was written by George E. Shea, Jr., of the Wall Street Journal.

"I must admit," said Mr. Pearson with a grin, "that my attention was distracted when I tried to read it, because on the page opposite the article were some extremely interesting pictures of a movie actress called Lana Turner.

"For my part I felt that those pictures deal more impressively, more authoritatively and more truthfully with the subject with which they were concerned than did Mr. Shea's article."

He went on to say that Canada's future includes the closest possible co-operation with, but not absorption by, the United States.

Accepts Election

REGINA, June 6 (CP)— The Rev. Michael E. Coleman, Canon missioner of Duncan, B.C., has accepted election as Anglican bishop of Qu'Appelle diocese, the Very Rev. William Cole, dean of Qu'Appelle announced Monday. He succeeds the Rt Rev. E. H. Knowles, resigned as sixth bishop of the diocese.

New Jobs Open Up

WASHINGTON, June 6 (AP)—More than a million new jobs opened up in the United States in May giving the country its biggest employment total since August and cutting unemployment to the lowest point since April, 1949. The census bureau reported Monday that 59,731,000 civilians held jobs in May after an 867,000 increase in employment on farms and a 196,000 gain elsewhere, marking the third successive month in which work opportunities had improved.

List Governors

MONTREAL, June 6 (CP) — Names of the four governors of the University of Montreal appointed by the ecclesiastical authorities were announced Monday by the Most Rev. P.-A. Leger, Archbishop of Montreal. The post of chancellor will be assumed by Msgr. Leger himself, while the board of directors will be composed of Msgr. Olivier Maurault, the present rector; Msgr. Joseph-Arthur Papineau, Bishop of Joliette and Msgr. Arthur Douville, Bishop of St. Hyacinthe.

Announces Appointment

OTTAWA, June 6 (CP)—Archbishop Ildebrando Antoniutti, apostolic delegate, announced Monday night that Pope Pius has appointed Most Rev. Joseph A. Papineau, Bishop of Joliette Que., assistant to the pontifical throne and Roman count.

From The Tree To The Finished Product!

From the forested areas of Peterborough County comes the Lumber from which the Peterborough Lumber Co. Ltd. manufactures, in their own shops in Peterborough, the article on display.

These represent the custom millwork which forms part of a completely-equipped planning and dry kiln service; adding to the Made-in-Peterborough industries of which we are proud to be a part.

Drawl Popular, How He Got It Still Mystery

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, June 6 (AP)—Jimmy Stewart's lazy drawl is one of the most famous products of Hollywood, but, says the lanky star, "I don't know exactly how I got it."

"Nobody noticed it much until I got to Hollywood," said the actor. "People seemed to like it, so of course I didn't try to get rid of it.

"It couldn't be geographical. I'm from Pennsylvania, and they don't have a drawl there. They do have a few peculiarities of speech, though. You don't notice them until you get away from home. I get tickled when I hear my mother sometimes; she'll say she is going to 'rid' a room. That means she's going to clean it."

About his speech habits, Jimmy added, "I think it's a combination of slow talking and stuttering. It has been a handicap to me at times. When I have to speak rapidly and forcefully, I have trouble.

"But, I guess, I can't complain."

Odds 'n' Ends

Charlie Chaplin is working far into the night on his new movie script. He has cancelled all social engagements in order to get the new film ready for early production. It could be that he is heartened by the success of the "City Lights" re-issue, following his disappointment with "Monsieur Verdoux." Chaplin believes the latter was his greatest effort, but the public felt differently.

Here's an apt double billing now in town. "Tight Little Island," about an island's Scotch binge, is teamed with "The Big Hangover."

Kissless pitcures are becoming prevalent in Hollywood, which is getting more unromantic by the day. Rhonda Fleming and Quebec's Glenn Ford exchange no kisses in "Beyond The Sunset," nor do William Holden and Nancy Olson in "Union Station."

Capsulte Review

"The Men" (UA) is a profoundly moving film, mainly because it bears a resemblance to a line that is rare in Hollywood films. It tells about the treatment of war veterans who are paralyzed from the waist down. The theme is filmed in such a human manner that it becomes entertainment. The cast, many of them real veterans, is uniformly excellent. Marlon Brando's debut is strange but provocative. Teresa Wright and Everett Sloane perform with understanding.

Held For Assault

STREETSVILLE, June 6 (CP)—Two brothers, Harold and Norman Leslie, were held by police Monday on charges of assault after Donald Manderson, 19, was taken to hospital with multiple bruises following a fight near this village near Toronto. Police said that Manderson was stripped of his clothes, covered with boot-black and struck about the face and head.

See No Settlement

LONDON, Ont., June 6 (CP)—A mass meeting of United Steel Workers (CIO) strikers was told Monday night there was no immediate hope of a settlement at the Empire Press Manufacturing Company walkout now in its second week. The union seeks a shorter work week with the same take-home pay and company-paid pensions. About 500 persons are affected.

HON. CHARLES DALEY, Ontario Minister of Labor, will be guest speaker at a dinner given by the Peterborough Industrial Committee for the manufacturers of the city tonight in the Empress Hotel, being held in conjunction with the opening of the Peterborough Centennial Exhibition tonight in the Armouries. He will also assist the Hon. Harold Scott, Minister of Lands and Forests, in officially opening the exhibition at 8 p.m.

WILLIAM OVENS, in the dual role of chairman of the Peterborough Centennial Committee and chairman of the Industrial Exhibition committee of the Kiwanis Club, sponsors of the exhibition, have been largely responsible for organizing the Peterborough Centennial Industrial Exhibition which opens tonight at 7 p.m. in the Armouries.

HON HAROLD SCOTT, — minister for the Department of Lands and Forests, will tonight officially open the Peterborough Centennial Industrial Exhibition at 8 p.m. in the Armouries. The fair will be a birdseye view of the contribution which local industries have made to the development of Peterborough.

Hydrogen Lines As Weapon Outlined Now

NEW YORK, June 6 — (AP) — The possibility of hydrogen bomb lines to destroy life over hundreds of thousands of miles is described by a well-known atomic scientist in the magazine American Scholar.

Professor Harrison Brown, of the University of Chicago, says in an article published Monday in the periodical that a hydrogen bomb line would be a series of bombs in a line that might be hundreds of miles long but which would contain few of these bombs.

Dr. Brown does not say how many would be necessary to form the "line," but calculations published by other scientists have indicated that a dozen or less might suffice.

"If the hydrogen bomb works," he writes, "technically speaking, it is easy to visualize a series of hydrogen bomb explosions carried out along a north-south line at about the longtitude of Prague. The radio-activity produced by the explosions would be carried eastward by the winds, destroying all life within a strip 1,500 miles wide, extending from Leningrad to Odessa, and 3,000 miles deep, extending from Prague to the Ural mountains.

Not Dangerous

"By the time the radio-activity passed the Urals (approximately three days) the intensity would be lower and the destruction would be less. By the time the Pacific had been crossed and the West Coast of America reached, the radio-activity would not be dangerous.

"Many human beings could survive such an attack by protecting themselves with shielding, and wearing gas masks to filter radio-active dust. But radio-activity is not specific against human beings. Animals and vegetation within the area would be destroyed. Such an attack would produce a scorched earth of an extent unprecedented in history.

"The United States could be attacked in similar manner. Hydrogen bomb explosions could be set off on a north-south line in the Pacific approximately 1,000 miles west of California. The radio-active dust would reach California in about a day, and New York in four or five days, killing most life as it traversed the continent."

IT MAY BE A RATHER TIGHT SQUEEZE but this Londoner doesn't mind the arms of attendants as she gets a look at King George as he alights from a carriage to attend a dinner of the Coldstream Guards at the Nulli Secundus Club, in London. The King, as Colonel-in-Chief of the Guards, was the first sovereign to dine with the club since King William IV.

Locomotive Company Now Under Fairbanks

KINGSTON, June 6 (CP) — Stockholders of Canadian Locomotive Company Monday gave control of the firm's operations to Fairbanks, Morse and Company of Chicago and Canadian Fairbanks-Morse Company Ltd., of Montreal.

Canadian Locomotive is the oldest steam locomotive builder in the Dominion.

The directors, following the stockholders' meeting, elected Robert H. Morse, Jr., president and chief executive.

Canadian Locomotive will retain its corporate identity and continue to make its regular line of products Mr. Morse said.

It is expected that Diesel locomotives, new to the company, will be in production in a short time.

Senator Praises British Monarchs

OTTAWA, June 6 (CP)—Senator Thomas Vien (L-Quebec) said Monday night the Commonwealth owed "a debt to providence" for having been blessed during the last 50 years with monarchs of the British Crown who drew loyalty and respect while so many other countries "went by the board."

Speaking in the Senate on the occasion of the celebration of the birthday of King George VI, he recalled that the King's actual birthday was in December. But out of respect to his late father, King George V, the present King had decreed that it be celebrated on his father's birthday or the Monday nearest June 3.

Get Provincial Grant

MONTREAL, June 6 (CP) — The provincial government has granted $3,000 to the Association des Fanfares Amateurs of Quebec Province for the organization and promotion of a music festival for trumpeters in Granby June 18, officials of the association announced Monday. The festival will be attended by representatives of similar organizations from Ontario and by government officials.

Indict Western Union On Gambling Charges

BRIDGETON, N.J., June 6 — (AP)—The Western Union Telegraph Company was indicted Monday on gambling charges for transmitting money-order racing bets in New Jersey.

Nelson F. Stamler, deputy state attorney-general, said $300,000 a year was bet through the Western Union office in this South Jersey community of 16,000 persons.

Western Union collected an average of $26,000 a year on message charges, he added, and about $120,000 came back in return money orders to successful gamblers.

Stamler said Western Union facilities were used in an attempt to get around New Jersey gambling laws.

2,500 Ft. Sewer New System Laid In Lindsay

Lindsay has completed half the laying of 16-inch sewers to connect with the disposal plant. Some 2,500 feet have been laid and only 14 men have been needed to do the job.

The new pipelines differ from other Lindsay sewers, which depend on gravity. The new system will have sewage pumped through it at 75 pounds pressure. This has made grading unnecessary, and permitted the use of a composition pipe made up of a mixture of cement and asbestos. They come in 13-foot and six-foot lengths.

The ends of the pipes are machined to allow free passage of two rubber bands which are used in sealing the joint. The calking process is quite simple with this type of pipe. A hood is pulled over the joint by means of a friction jack. Under this hood are the two rubber bands and at the conclusion of the process, one band seals the joint on each pipe. This type of calking permits a great deal of flexibility of pipe movement that is not possible with a cast iron or a concrete sewer. A 13 foot pipe has a play in any direction of 13 inches and two six-foot pipes has a play of 21 inches. Hence the line can be laid up and down hills and around long curves without the use of elbows.

Earl Tracey, foreman of the job, states that of the 2,500 feet dug, between 1,200 and 1,500 feet had to be blasted.

COLOR CEREMONY—These fine Coronation Trumpets, the only ones of their kind in Canada, announced the consecration and presentation of the King's Colors of the Royal Canadian Air Force and the Colors of the Royal Canadian Air Force at a full-dress ceremony on Ottawa's Parliament Hill on Monday. After the colors were dedicated they were presented to the Air Force by the Governor-General.

Court Suspends Brick-Stealers

Pleading guilty to two charges each of stealing bricks, a bricklayer, Gerald Johnston, 389 Queen St., and his helper, Donald Lightbody, 381 Grady Ave., were both placed on suspended sentence in police court today.

The evidence showed that Johnston and Lightbody, needing bricks to finish a chimney they were building, stole the bricks they were lacking.

Detective Sergeant W. A. Clarke told the court Archie Henderson reported Friday that bricks had been taken from his lot at Curtis Ave. and Parkhill Rd.

Constable Douglas Farthing was left to watch the lot Friday night and he caught both Lightbody and Johnston attempting to steal more bricks.

The bricks they had taken and not used were returned. Another 720 bricks had been built into the chimney the pair were working on. Some of these bricks were owned by Fred O'Grady.

Johnston and Lightbody gave as their reason for taking the bricks they had not been able to buy any bricks in town until a new shipment arrived.

"It was a very foolish thing to do," Johnston admitted.

Continue To Aid Flood Victims

Rallying to the calls for aid from southern Manitoba and Rimouski residents of Peterborough and district have now boosted the disaster victims funds to well over $14,000.

Donations run from a few pennies raised by small children at street-corner bazaars to the hundreds of dollars from industrial plants and their employees. There has been a constant flow of cheques into the Examiner from private citizens and these have been passed along to the Manitoba Flood Relief Fund headquarters in Winnipeg.

By Monday night the Examiner had acknowledged receipt of $3,497.95. All contributions of $2 or more are being noted in this paper.

Following are some further contributions made Monday to the "Manitoba Flood Relief Fund", sent "Care of the Examiner":

2 Zahodnik Brothers Appear As Criminal Sessions Begin

Two of the Zahodnik brothers—once charged with William Yuzwa of Hamilton in the slaying of Jack Loucks of Lindsay—will appear at the current sittings of the court of general sessions facing charges of assault occasioning actual bodily harm. Theirs will be one of three criminal cases listed for the general sessions which began at 2 p.m. today in the county courthouse.

James Zahodnik, 34, Hamilton, is charged with assaulting and beating Mr. and Mrs. James Hogan, proprietors of the Melody Inn, located on Highway 28, two miles north of Lakefield.

The assaults were said to have taken place before midnight, November 17 when an argument broke out after the three Zahodniks and Yuzwa ordered coffee from the proprietors.

John Zahodnik, 37, Toronto, is charged with the assault of Mr. Hogan—the two against James and the one against John are for actual bodily harm.

Paul Zahodnik, 28, also of Hamilton, had all counts against him withdrawn.

Originally the four men were charged with the stabbing murder of Jack Loucks on the main street of Lindsay, November 18. But at the preliminary hearing December 16 they were discharged by Magistrate E. A. Gee of Lindsay.

The 32-year-old Yuzwa was subsequently tried for murder but the jury were unable to agree. The three Zahodniks were then re-arrested on the assault charges. As the offences were said to have occurred in Peterborough County they are to be tried here.

Other Cases

Francis McGrath, 34, Charlotte St., and Cyril Gerster, 35, Simcoe St., face charges of receiving nearly two tons of stolen copper wire.

The wire was stolen in October from the warehouse of the Smith Transport Co. where it had been stored after being brought from Phillip's Electric, Brockville.

Both men were committed for trial in a higher court on December 20 by Magistrate W. R. Philp, K.C.

The third criminal case is that of William Holland, 24, Peterborough. He is charged with the theft of a diamond ring and a diamond-studded brooch from Mrs. Blanche Dixon of Rubidge St.

He also was committed for trial by Magistrate Philp on May 12.

Six petitions for citizenship will also be heard later today.

BIRTH RATE DECREASES

The birth rate in Peterborough was 149 for May as compared with 169 last year. The number of deaths this year in May was 57 an increase of 12 over the same period last year. Since January marriages are not being recorded municipally; there were 46 in May 1949.

3 HOURS LATE

The CNR train which arrives daily from Toronto between 8.30 and 9 p.m., was three hours late on Monday evening. Railway officials at the station and downtown office were unable to state today the reason for the delay, but the Examiner understands from other sources that there was a break down at Markham.

$4,500 COLLECTED

CHOOSE PCVS COURSES

During the past week Grade VIII public school pupils made their choice of Collegiate courses for next year. The filled-in forms were returned to the school today. They had a choice of four courses, Industrial Arts, Home Economics, the General Course and the new 2-year course. The latter course is for students who plan to take only two years of secondary schooling.

Locals Propose Joint Meeting To 3 Lock Firms

A joint meeting of company and union representatives to discuss negotiating problems in the lock industry has been proposed by three United Electrical Workers' locals.

One of the firms invited to this meeting—tentatively set at June 12—is the Peterborough Lock Co. whose 170 production employees have been out on strike since May 4.

The other two would be Yale and Towne, St. Catharines, and Belleville Lock Co., Belleville. Letters to this effect have been sent to all three firms by their shop locals.

Lock Conference

This move originated in a "lock conference" held in Peterborough Saturday. Five delegates from both Local 533, Belleville, and Local 592, St. Catharines, were present.

Heading the Local 527 representatives was President R. J. Leonard; J. Bedell from Local 533; and L. Arndt from Local 592.

In their identical letters to the three managements the unions claimed that despite record-making profits by the company the workers were forced to accept wage cuts, speed ups, and layoffs regardless of length of service.

Letter Sent

"In negotiations for new contracts in each of the companies organized into our union we have met with one and the same attitude by managements: no improvements in living standards for our members and instead, proposed wage cuts and worsening of working conditions."

All three declared they were prepared "to defend ourselves unitedly against management as our membership in Peterborough Lock are now doing on the picket line."

But they were also prepared to reach a settlement with the lock industry, they said, "provided management shows the good faith necessary to negotiate and conclude new union agreements."

Boys Camp Plans Well Advanced

Peterborough boys outnumber the out-of-town boys applying for camping weeks at the Y's Men's Club camp on Clear Lake this summer, Donald Duncan, boys' work secretary at the YMCA, said today.

Out of the 58 boys who have applied for 145 camping weeks 44 are from Peterborough, two from Welland, Niagara Falls, Toronto and Cobourg, one from Norwood and Port Hope. The camp officials expressed a desire this year for an increase in the number of local boys to attend the camp.

The applications are slightly behind last year. Mr. Duncan said that he expects the camp to be full by the middle of this month. At present it is one-third full. The two middle weeks of camp this year are over half full now. The camp operates from July 1 to August 12.

Earl Druery, program director in 1949 and a member of the Peterborough Public School staff, is Camp Director this year. Consultant director will be N. C. Munro. Mrs. Druery will be the camp hostess. Jack Stuart is the chairman of the club's camp committee which is composed of Joseph Rowan, Edward McDonald, Richard Cochrane, Grant Gillespie, George Moore, Jack Richardson, William Moorhead, Cookson Munro, Robert Simmons, Jack Thornton, Joseph Watson, Ken Young and Al Holmes.

Camp Kawartha had its beginning in 1921 under the ownership of the Rotary Club. In 1940 the Rotary Club leased the land and the equipment to the Y's Men's Club which is operating the camp for the 10th consecutive year this year.

OBITUARY

GEORGE GARNET POGUE

George Garnet Pogue, 84, of 82 Lansdowne St., died today in hospital following a lengthy illness. He was born in Fenelon Falls, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Pogue, and has lived almost a lifetime in the city.

He leaves his wife, the former Alice Inkpin, and two daughters, Mrs. Harold Wilson (Lillie) of Peterborough and Mrs. Thomas Simpson (Pearl) in Michigan. One son, Charles Pogue, lives in Royal, Mich., and a brother, also Charles Pogue, in Port Colborne. Mr. Pogue was a member of Park Street Baptist Church.

Funeral service will be held on Thursday at the Nisbett Funeral Home at 2 p.m. The Rev. E. J. Whan will officiate and burial will be at Little Lake Cemetery.

Norwegian Pulp Output

OSLO —(CP)— Norway's production of pulp increased last year to 901,500 tons from 823,500 tons in 1948. Although pulp production has increased steadily since the war, it is still below the record output of 1,095,000 tons in 1937.

Bluenose Minnows

The dry-pack minnow incident between Halifax and Peterborough, less than a week ago, was so successful that advertising manager L. L. Maguire, Outboard Marine Company, is having three dozen more mummichog minnows shipped to-day from Halifax for the opening of the Industrial Trade Fair to-night. They are expected to arrive on the CPR train from Toronto at 8 p.m. EST to-night. A wire from the shipper, Cleve's Sporting Goods shop, Halifax to Mr. Maguire said: "Hope some of them will be kicking when they arrive." The air-lift package will be opened in view of the Fair visitors, who can see for themselves whether they are breathless, or not.

City Hall Work Lifts Building To 1949 Levels

The $643,000 city hall job boosts the total of 1950 building permits almost to the level of last year, as reported today from the office of City Engineer Chalmers.

The aggregate for May was $1,256,034 as compared with $608,372 in the fifth month last year.

Total for five months this year is $1,661,747, and the corresponding amount in 1949 was $1,786,149.

Permits for 62 houses were issued in May. Their estimated value is $454,000.

In May last year there were 77 permits for dwellings, estimated at $491,200. The figures for last month indicate that building activity in Peterborough is continuing at almost the same high volume as a year ago.

Month's Summary

Summary of the permits last month is: 24 garages, 5,630; 62 houses, $454,000; 120 miscellaneous permits, $796,404; totals: 206 permits for $1,256,034.

And for May last year: 20 garages, $5,885; 77 houses, $491,200; 105 miscellaneous permits, $111,287; totals: 202 permits for $608,372.

Permits from Jan. 1 to May 31, this year $1,661,747, and last year $1,786,149.

Decoration Day Set For Sunday, June 25

The annual observance of Decoration Day by the Oddfellows of Peterborough will be Sunday, June 25, at the Little Lake Cemetery.

The speaker at the ceremony will be the Rev. Dr. D. B. Gordon, of Trinity United Church. After his address a wreath will be placed in the Oddfellows plot in remembrance of members of lodges other than those of Peterborough, who are buried in the cemetery. And the concluding part of the afternoon of remembrance will be the placing of flowers on all the other I.O.O.F. graves.

Priest Warns

Rev. Robert Macdonald of St. Alphonsus Church has requested the Examiner to warn the members of other parishes in the city against some person representing himself as "Father McGuire" who is reported to be soliciting subscriptions of $100 to brick that west-end church. "We are happy to say that our church has been bricked, and it is news to us that any person should be asking for contributions," Father Macdonald said. "There is no need and no authority for it, and it is a spurious appeal which no one should recognize."

He Came To City With $520 For Groceries, Pay Hospital Lost at Cards: Other On Trial

Steve Popelink, 36, of Toronto, was today committed for trial in a higher court on $1,000 bail in police court on a charge of stealing $390 from Herbert Lindsay, an Ida bushworker, Jan. 6. Lindsay said he was cheated out of the money in a card game by Popelink and a second man in a hotel room. Popelink's defence counsel, George B. Bagwell, Toronto, argued that there was no evidence of theft. He said Lindsay had merely lost the money in a card game in which he thought Popelink was a bigger sucker than he was.

Magistrate W. R. Philp, K.C., said he was committing Popelink on Lindsay's testimony that it was his understanding the money was to be returned after the game was completed and they were not playing for keeps.

Lindsay Testifies

Lindsay testified he had come into Peterborough with $520 to buy groceries and pay a hospital bill. He was waiting for a bus at George and Charlotte Sts. to go to the hospital when approached by Popelink.

The accused asked him if he knew where there was a "playhouse" in town. Popelink went on to say he had been working washing dishes in a lumber camp up north and had $1,500 with him and wanted to have a good time.

At this point a second unidentified man came along and Popelink asked him the same thing. The second man suggested Popelink get a taxi and look for some girls.

Popelink said he already had tried that and spent $7 on a taxi for nothing. Lindsay said the 3 of them were walking along the street discussing the matter when the second man warned Popelink he was foolish to carry that much money with him, that someone might hit him over the head and rob him.

"Only Local Farmers"

Popelink was alarmed, but the second man assured him "we're only local farmers and we don't want your money."

The second man then said he used to know Peterborough quite well and he thought he knew were he could get a couple of girls.

They all went up to Popelink's hotel room.

Popelink told them if he could get some girls, he would give them both $10. They all went up to Popelink's hotel room where the second man pretended to make a phone call and said the girls would be over in 15 minutes.

Popelink then told them he had made his money playing a game called "polio" with the boys in the lumber camp. The second man said he had never heard of it and wanted to see how to play.

"I Don't Play Cards"

"There's no use you're dealing out a hand for me. I don't know how to play cards. I never played cards and I won't play," Lindsay told the pair. However they dealt three hands anyway.

They bet 25 cents on their hands and Lindsay thought he would be "an awful simp" not to play because he thought it was "just for fun."

He said the second fellow dropped his hand as soon as he got it and picked up Lindsay's hand. With Lindsay's hand he bet Popelink on the cards with Lindsay's money. Lindsay found he had won $20.

But he said he didn't pick up the money. In a short time, with the second man playing Lindsay's hands with Lindsay's money, he was betting $100 on a hand.

Lindsay said he wanted to get out of the game, but Popelink said "Alright, if you back out, I win. You're beat. You're bluffed."

Lindsay said he thought of grabbing his money and trying to get out of the room, but the second man was always behind him between him and the door.

On the last hand the second man said he would deal and "gave me a wink as though he was going to stack the deck."

Four Aces

He dealt Lindsay four aces, and winked again "as though it was the best hand in the deck."

He had told them he would bet two $500 victory bonds against Popelink's $1,000 But he said he would have to go to his aunt's house in town to get the bonds. He and Lindsay would drive him there.

They walked out of the hotel and got about a block away when Lindsay turned back "to watch the hotel." He stood outside about three minutes and then went back up to the room to find it locked and Popelink gone.

Under cross quesioning, Lindsay said the two men had told him all the money would be returned after the game, that they were just playing for fun.

He said he wasn't interested in the girls who were supposed to be coming or the whisky they had been talking of. He also said he had never played poker.

"I always thought Peterborough was a good clean place," he added.

Company, Union To Queen's Pk. On Lock Strike

Both Local 527 and the Peterborough Lock Co. have chosen their representatives for Wednesday's meeting with Labor Minister Charles Daley at Queen's Park.

Out of these talks may come a formula for ending the month-long strike at Peterborough Lock. At present the plant is completely shut down and is being picketed by the union.

E. H. Howson, company president, will head the company's team which will also include Robert Maybee, managing director, Alan Heideman and Claude Bastable.

Mr. Daley's invitation came after the city council, clerical and other local groups, had asked him to use his offices to try and bring about agreement between the two parties.

R. J. Leonard, president of Local 527, will head the union team. Assisting will be John Rowley, representative, and Ross Russell, UE district organizer.

Camp Kawartha Outing For 8,000 Boys

Weekly rates at Camp Kawartha, operated by the Y's Men's Club, will remain at $10 this year for one good reason, camp chairman Jack Stewart told Peterborough Rotary Club on Monday.

The good reason was that if rates were raised, parents of more than one boy might not be able to afford to send both boys to camp.

Mr. Stewart, chairman of the boys' camp for nine years, was giving the camp's annual report. The property on which the camp stands was bought in 1921 by Rotary and since 1941 has been leased to the Y's Men.

In 1949, Mr. Stewart said, 176 boys attended camp, most of whom were from Peterborough and district, although boys came from points as widely separated as Drummondville, Que., and Winnipeg. Largest group from a point outside Peterborough was made up of 15 boys from Lindsay.

Since 1921 almost 8,000 boys have attended the camp, and last year, girls attended for the first time. However, that was after the boys had left.

The YWCA and CGIT rented the camp for ten-day periods each. Mr. Stewart said the camp was closed in the middle of August because it was hard for boys to maintain their enthusiasm.

Income from the camp and from the clubs supporting it was $6,358.47 in 1949, and disbursements amounted to $6,355.31, leaving a bank balance in October of last year of $3.16.

Size of the bank balance brought questions from the floor after the speech as to why the camp did not raise its weekly rate. Mr. Stewart had said earlier that the cost of operation per boy-week was more than $17.

Ship Reaches

over the Atlantic and when one engine quit, it made a vain attempt to reach Nassau in the Bahamas but fell about 150 miles short.

Last word came from the crippled craft at 11.06 p.m. EDT Monday night. Veteran pilot Joseph Halsey of Seattle radioed he was flying at 200 feet and losing altitude rapidly.

About an hour later, a sister ship circling the area, reported it spotted a flare and a flashlight blinking out an S O S.

The Miami weather bureau said conditions in the area were not dangerous for the large life rafts the plane carried.

The C-46 was equipped with seven 10-man life rafts, 65 Mae West life jackets and one Gibson girl life jacket.

First word of the impending crash came at 10.49 p.m. EDT when Halsey radioed that one of the plane's engines was dead and he was turning back to Nassau. The last word came only 17 minutes later.

About 12.30 a.m., a sister plane, flying south from Wilmington, circled the area and reported it sighted a flare and the flashlight signals.

It remained at the scene until its fuel supply ran low, then flew into Nassau for more.

Minister Says Church 'Doped'

MONTREAL, June 6 (CP) — A youthful Scottish clergyman Monday night challenged Presbyterians to "cease diluting the faith" and added that the Communists are right when they say that christianity has become doped.

"The christian church must be reformed again and again if it is to function as a force for good," said Dr. Thomas F. Torrance, 35, of Edinburgh. He addressed more than 400 delegates to the pre-assembly congress of the Presbyterian Church in Canada and their friends at MacVicar Memorial Church here.

The delegates, representing many parts of Canada, Monday opened a three-day congress which marks the 75th anniversary of the founding in Montreal of the Presbyterian Church in Canada.

Rotarian Writes From Munich

Peterborough Rotary Club heard a letter Monday from a former Rotarian studying press photography in Munich. His name is Zdenek Plyecka, and he received CARE parcels from the local club during the past few years.

He sent the club 30 photographs taken in Munich, subjects of which vary from pictures of Munich ruins to portraits.

His letter follows:

"During my stay in Germany, where I am waiting for the extension of the DP-Bill, which I hope will enable me to emigrate to USA, I was studying press photography at a school in Munich.

"You have been kind enough to send me during this period CARE packages which helped me a lot and I want to thank you once more for your kindness.

"Please accept some photographies of mine, which I made during my stay here."

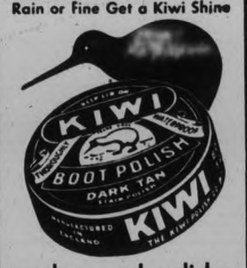
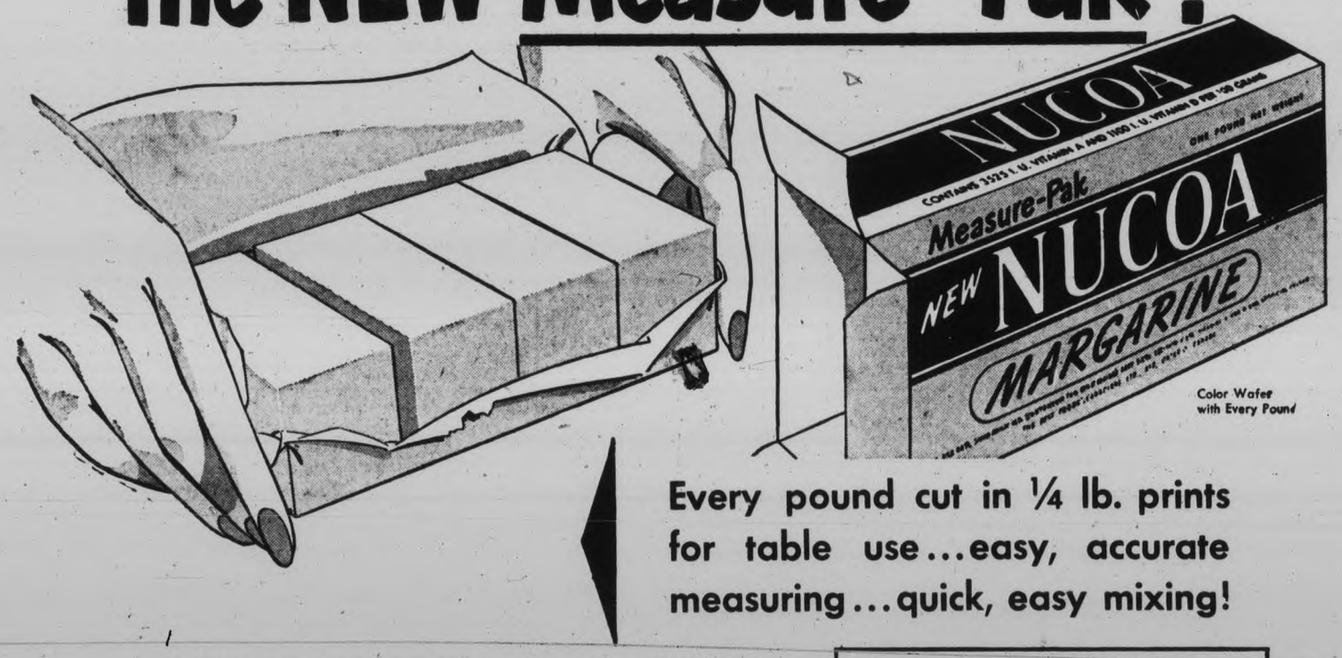
Portrait Unveiled Of Dr. E. S. Archibald



OTTAWA, June 6 — (CP) — A portrait of Dr. E. S. Archibald, director of the Dominion Experimental Farms, was unveiled Monday night at Lansdowne Park, home of the Ottawa Winter Fair.

It will be the first portrait to be hung when a Canadian agricultural "Hall of Fame" for outstanding Canadian agriculturists is realized.

The painting is the work of a young Ottawa artist, Robert S. Hyndman, and was financed by donations from more than 650 Canadians. It was presented to Dr. George Hooper, who succeeded Dr. Archibald as president of the Ottawa Winter Fair.



Until a Canadian agricultural "Hall of Fame" comes into being, the portrait will remain in the custody of the president of the Ottawa Winter Fair.

Mixed Emotions Greet Ruling For Negroes

ATLANTA, Ga., June 6 (AP)—Consternation, elation and outright defiance were the south's mixed reactions today to the latest rulings by the United States Supreme Court against segregation of Negroes.

The nine-man Supreme Court, before adjourning until October, ruled Monday that:

1. A Negro law student must be admitted to the all-white University of Texas. The High Court held that separate law school facilities offered in Texas for Negroes are not equal.

2. Negro graduate students at the University of Oklahoma must not be made to sit apart from white students in classrooms.

3. Southern U.S. railroads must not segregate white and Negro passengers in dining cars.

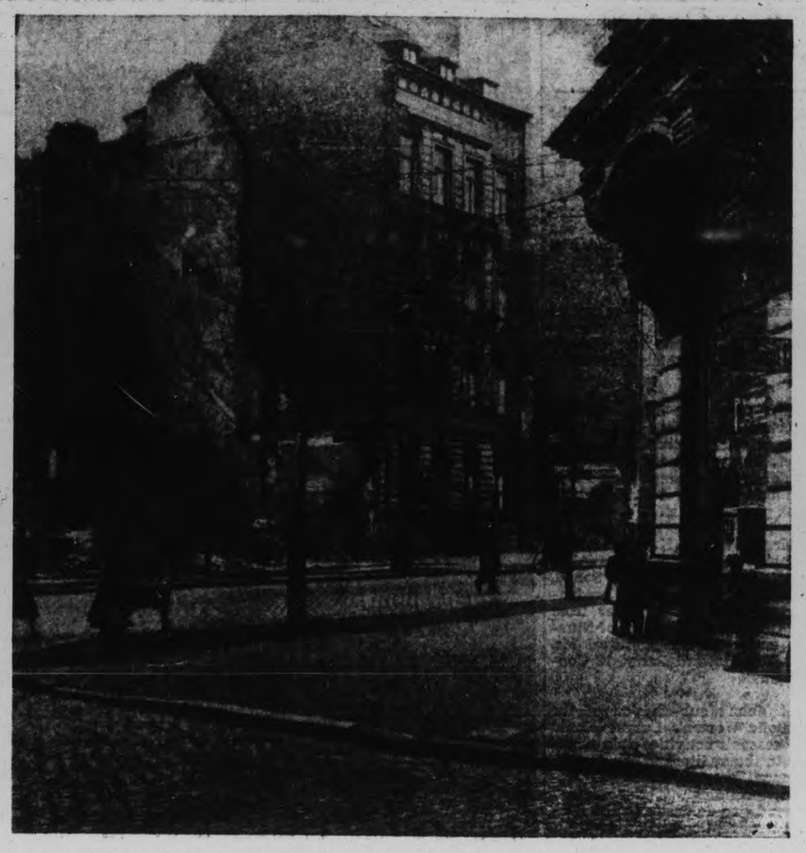
None of the decisions bans segregation, as such, in general; each ruling dealt with a specific case.

In the Texas and Oklahoma cases, the court stuck by the old legal theory of "separate but equal." But the decisions caught the south with its "equal" facilities for Negroes down.

Not one southern state supports a Negro medical school. Not one southern Negro university can award a Ph.D. degree.

Too Costly

M. D. Collins, Georgia's public school superintendent, estimated it would take $100,000,000 to bring this state's Negro public schools to a par with the white schools.



Reaction depended on where the spokesman stood. For instance, Governor Herman Talmadge of Georgia, a champion of "white supremacy," was indignant.

"As long as I am governor, Negroes will not be admitted to white schools," he said.

The managing editor of a Negro newspaper, the Atlanta World, was jubilant. Editor W. A. Fowlkes said the court's edicts "certainly will be a means by which the south will join in the parade of democracy."

Dr. T. S. Painter, president of the University of Texas, said the Negro, Heman Marion Sweatt, will be admitted "if that is the order of the U.S. Supreme Court as interpreted by (State) Attorney-General Price Daniel." Daniel did not say what his interpretation would be.

SIX YEARS HAVE PASSED since liberating Allied forces hit the Normandy beaches on June 6, 1944, and many changes have taken place in Europe since that time. The two scenes below, taken at Cologne, Germany, showing a battle spot at the height of its destruction and six years after, as a peaceful street corner, give a typical example of the reconstruction that has taken place so far. At left, troops of the 104th US Infantry Division enter Cologne, already practically destroyed by aerial bombardment and artillery fire. At right, on the same spot six years after, Cologne residents move quietly about their daily affairs. Note that post office, at right, is still doing business at its old stand. Apartment house in centre, once blasted wide open, has a new wall and roof.

Robinson Clips Villemain To Take Fight

PHILADELPHIA, June 6 (AP)—Sugar Ray Robinson, the master craftsman of the ring, has a one-state interest in the middleweight crown today after doing a workmanlike job on stocky Robert Villemain of France.

But the lanky Sugar from New York definitely would like recognition in the other 47 states—even to the extent of giving up his welterweight title—before retiring in two years.

Robinson won the Pennsylvania version of the 160-pound championship Monday night before a disappointing crowd of 22,004 which paid $119,007. He displayed a variety of blows that, while not able to knock him out, caused Villemain to say in his dressing room:

"He's a real champion. He hits harder than any man I ever met."

"It's a wonderful thrill to win the world's middleweight championship, even if it's only for the State of Pennsylvania," said Robinson in his dressing room.

"Now I'd like to be champion of the entire world," he added.

And to that end, Sugar Ray said he is ready to meet Jake Lamotta, recognized 160-pound king everywhere except in Pennsylvania, anytime and anywhere.

While the National Boxing Association declined to go along with the Pennsylvania Commission in recognizing the bout as a championship affair, it ruled that the winner of the Lamotta-Rocky Graziano fight in New York June 28 must meet Robinson within 90 days.

School Literary Group Has Gift For Teacher

NORWOOD, June 6—(ENS)—The last literary meeting of the year was held at Norwood High School on Friday. Ross Horne was master of ceremonies, Marina Morton played a piano solo, after which a duet was sung by Joan Soper and Frances Pacey.

A harmonica solo by Gerald Johnson was very much enjoyed, after which he played quiz master. A solo was sung by Jean Dunlop, followed by a guitar solo by Laurence Metcalfe.

Miss Jacombe, who will not be back on the teaching staff next year, was presented with a pair of lamps by the president of the literary executive, Doris Moore, as a token of the students' appreciation.

Mr. Breckon gave a critic's report, during which he entertained with a harmonica solo.

Dummer Prohibits Dumping Of Garbage

WARSAW, June 6—(ENS)—At the June meeting of the Dummer council a bylaw was passed prohibiting the dumping of garbage and refuse on the township road allowances. The bylaw was sponsored by Councillors Olver and Sloan and on motion of Councillors Olver and Hamblin a copy was ordered sent to the Attorney General of Ontario.

General accounts totalling $145.13 were ordered paid on motion of Councillors Sloan and Hamblin and on motio nof Councillors Gallaher and Sloan road accounts totalling $839.63 were ordered paid.

Quakers Take Win

Quakers beat Woollens 10-2 last night in their softball fixture on three runs in the second, two in the sixth and five in the seventh. Woollens were held well in check by Montgomery till the ast two heats when they got one run each. The hitting was even, at 10 apiece, but Woolens had three errors as Quakers played perfect defensive ball. Lenard led the losers with two hits as Nolan, Lomax and Logan got two apiece and Prescott a homer for the winners. Teams:

Woollens—Weichorek c, Revoy c, Borland rf, Anderson ss, Lenard 1b, Schell 2b, Coughlin cf, Killett cf, McMillan 3b, Armstrong lf, Doris p.

Quakers—Connelly 1b, Prescott 2b, Hughes lf, Nolan ss, Lomax c, Land 3b, Logan cf, Stewart rf, Stanburg rf, Montgomery p.

Sign New Man?

Carl Voyles, coach of Hamilton Tiger-Cats football team, said on Monday night at Hamilton that Edgar (Special Delivery) Jones, former U. S. pro with Cleveland Browns, may be signed as assistant coach of the Hamilton club.

Voyles returned to Hamilton after attending the professional football draft meeting in Philadelphia.

He said Jones had intimated his desire to come to Hamilton in a coaching capacity. A halfback, Jones now is on the retired list because of a shoulder injury. If signed, it would likely be in a playing-coach capacity.

Voyles stated he has lines on several other U. S. players. "We may easily have 20 try out with us. . . . We will try to get the best seven," Voyles said.

64 World Delegates On Way To Empire Press Union Parley

QUEBEC, June 6 (CP)—From around the world, 64 delegates to the second Imperial Press Conference to be held in Canada are travelling toward Quebec and the conference opening June 8.

Members of the Empire Press Union, they came from the United Kingdom, the Commonwealth countries and the colonies to join with Canadian publishers in the seventh of a series of unique meetings started 43 years ago.

On the Empress of Scotland arriving at Quebec today is a contingent of 36, including representatives from the United Kingdom, India, Singapore and Gibraltar, and Sir Keith Murdoch and W. H. Flather, respective heads of the Australian and New Zealand delegations.

Meanwhile the main Australian and New Zealand delegates are converging on Quebec from the west after landing in Vancouver. Col. J. J. Astor, principal proprietor of The Times of London and president of the union, came to Canada earlier to accept an honorary degree from McGill.

Other Delegates

Delegates will also be here from South Africa, Pakistan, Malta, Ceylon, Singapore, the Fiji Islands, the Bahamas, Bermuda and the West Indies.

For three weeks they will travel Ontario and Quebec, hold business sessions in Quebec and Ottawa, meet political and industrial leaders at a series of social functions, visit industries and holiday in Ontario's Muskoka.

High on the agenda of the Ottawa meetings June 14-17 is a two-day session on "freedom of the press" when members will discuss means of protecting the right to impart information and opinion without restriction.

All business meetings will be open ones, except those dealing with administration of the union.

At its last conference in London in 1946 the union reaffirmed the fundamental principle that "freedom of thought and expression is the right of all the peoples of the British Commonwealth and Empire."

It held that the first duty of the press "is to lay before the people a prompt, accurate and full record of passing events throughout the world, and for the performance of this duty the conference claims for the press the freest access to all materials and means of production, in order that newspapers may freely compete in the varied and copious presentation of news."

Founded In 1907

Aimed at integrating the widely-separated Empire by linking the whole British press in a continuous friendly co-operation, the union was founded in 1907.

Senator W. Rupert Davies, publisher of the Kingston Whig-Standard, is chairman of the Canadian section of the Empire Press Union, host to the visiting delegates. Victor Sifton, pub lisher of the Winnipeg Free Press, is vice-chairman of the section and chairman o f the national committee in charge of arrangements.

Twenty-seven of the 63 men delegates are bringing their wives to Canada. The 64th delegate is a woman—Hon. Mabel Strickland, editor of the Times of Malta.

Split Ownership

NEW YORK, June 6 (AP) — Directors of General Motors Corporation Monday proposed that ownership of the company be split into more than 88,000,000 shares. At present ownership is represented by a little more than 44,000,000 shares. Directors recommended that each shareholder be given two shares for the one now owned. The change would give General Motors the largest number of shares outstanding of any company in existence.

It's NEW... this 3-Piece
KITCHEN FUNNEL SET
NOT ON SALE IN THE STORES

A grand kitchen help and such a bargain . . . does what ordinary funnels cannot do. Consists of LARGE and SMALL FUNNEL with REMOVABLE STRAINER. Used either together or separately as required, they'll do practically every kind of funneling or straining job you'll ever need . . . quicker and better. The set is handsome and strong . . . withstands short-term boiling . . . washes in a jiffy. Don't miss this chance. Send for yours now.

LARGE FUNNEL
4⅞ inches diameter; 2⅞ inches deep. Fits large receptacles with 2 inch mouth or more. Big capacity — holds nearly one pint at any given moment. Excellent for use in home canning and preserving.

SMALL FUNNEL
2⅞ inches diameter; 2⅝ inches deep. For small-mouthed receptacles (down to ½ inch). For filling salt and pepper shakers and dozens of similar uses.

REMOVABLE STRAINER
1⅞ inches diameter. Easy to slip in or out. Will not "sag" or "bow". Very easy to clean.

But look — they work together!
Fit them together for a small funnel with BIG funnel capacity. Ordinary small funnels waste time and patience. Now you can pour freely — leave slow-straining liquids while you do other things.

26 Nurses Graduate from Civic Hospital Prizes, Diplomas and Gold Pins Presented

Twenty-six young women solemnly repeated a professional pledge of service, were given certificates and received medals, worn only by qualified graduates of a School of Nursing, during graduation exercises of the Peterborough Civic Hospital, carried out Monday evening. Eleven of the nurses come from homes in the city, the others from nearby points and several northern towns.

Misses Ellen Abernethy, June Agnew, Elinor Bird, Agnes Bowler, Merle Dauncey, Joan Deyell, Marilyn Hutchinson, Marion Parks, Nancy Spring, Murrel Wight, and Gloria Wiechorek are of Peterborough. The other graduates are: Misses Mary Blair and Mary Dawson of Millbrook; Shirley Fleming and Beverley Palmer of Ivanhoe; Marcia Flowers of Coppercliff; Dorothy Lowes and Vivian Rowan of Cavan; Myrl McMullen of Havelock; Odne Potter of Swastika; Joan Plunkett of Trenton; Mary Ray of Bridgenorth; Mary Rodger of Parry Sound; Doreen Seney of Ida; Alison Townsend of Young's Point; Joyce Wheeler of Brighton.

Veteran Scholarship

Outstanding among them is Miss Bowler, who, after serving in the RCAF (WD), four and a half years, has completed the nursing course and won the A. H. Campbell scholarship which entitles her to one year postgraduate study in University. She will take the course in obstetrical nursing, and the hope was expressed by Mr. Ian McRae, when presenting the scholarship, that she will then join the Civic Hospital staff.

Miss Bowler is also winner of a prize for obstetrical nursing, given by the Service of Obstetrics and Gynecology, which was presented by Dr. J. C. C. Dawson.

Gold medallist of the School, the student having the highest percentage during training, is Miss Nancy Spring who got 88 per cent. The silver medallist is Miss Joan Deyell with 86 per cent. These awards by the Board of Governors were presented by Dr G. S. Cameron.

Miss Deyell is also winner of a prize for surgical nursing, given by Dr. Robert J. Young, and presented on this occasion, due to his absence, by Mr. Melville Johnston.

Miss Mary Blair is the student who has shown the most marked interest in the patient as a person, and she was awarded the prize for bedside nursing, offered by the Women's Auxiliary. A cheque for $50. was presented by Mrs. Ross Williamson, who advised also that two bursaries are available from the Auxiliary, obtainable on application.

New Prize

For the first time, a prize was offered by Dr. R. A. Kelly, Medical Officer of Health, who called it "a prize for preventive medicine," or, "for community health." The winner, Miss Muriel Wight, is an example, since she had lost only a half day of training time through illness, and she had an over-all average of 90 per cent on subjects pertaining to this phase of study. Her prize was given in silver dollars.

Each graduate received her diploma from Mr. Ian McRae, chairman of the School of Nursing committee, and her medal from Miss A. L. Thomson, principal of the School.

Thermometer sets, given by the Women's Auxiliary, were presented to each by the president, Mrs. Ernest Braund. A membership in the Alumnae Association for one year is the gift of that organization and 26 certificates were presented by Mrs. Roy Taylor, president. The Gideon Society's practice of giving a New Testament to each nurse was carried out by the president, Mrs. Herbert Pullyblank.

Prizes to nurses-in-training tor academic standing in their year were also presented at this time. Second year prizes given by the medical staff were presented by Dr. G. R. Scott to Miss Stella Wilkinson, first, and Miss Shirley Gordon, who were also winners in their first year. Winners of the 1949-50 prizes, given by the Board of Governors and presented by Dr. S. Y. Walsh, were Miss Jean Brown, first, and Miss Shirley Brooks.

Principal's Report

A report on the school, read by Miss Thomson, indicated the good name it has earned since 75 applications were received during the year. Also, that it has been approved by Queen's University for the training of the student who is qualifying for a degree in nursing, and one such student is entering this September. Five postgraduate students from Ontario Universities have spent a month in observation of the teaching curriculum.

She advised that the fall class is filled with 34 students (15 applicants were turned down for lack of room) and that there is already a waiting list for 1951. Miss Thomson stated the aims of the school are: to select students who show particular aptitude to nursing; to guide their learning toward giving efficient service to society as professional nurses and attain the fullest professional growth of which they are capable; to provide suitable opportunities for growth of the individual toward fullest contribution to society as a woman and a citizen.

The present hospital staff consists of 33 supervisory nurses and 86 students. The curriculum includes instruction by physicians and surgeons of the city, the MOH, supervisors of public health and VON, and science teachers of PCVS, as well as by supervisors and head nurses. The block system of teaching is followed throughout the year. Three months pediatric training is taken in Toronto by each student, and, Miss Thomson advised, a three month course in psychiatry is to be compulsory throughout the province this year.

Hospital superintendent Mr John Hornal presented each graduate to the large audience attending the ceremony in the Collegiate auditorium. Program announcements were made by Mr J. R. Marshall, chairman of the Board of Governors. Mayor M. J. Swanston extended greetings and congratulations from the city. A prayer of dedication was pronounced by Venerable Archdeacon W. P. Robertson. Mr. Christopher Gledhill played a musical prelude, the professional march, and anthems.

Provost of Trinity College Addresses Graduate Nurses

Memorable words of truth and advice about dealing with sick humanity, spoken Monday evening in a short address by the Rev Dr. R. S. K. Seeley of Toronto, penetrated the emotional cloak of the young women to whom they were addressed, the Civic Hospital 1950 graduating class.

"You are now ready for a profession which throughout the ages has been of high standard; which is different from any other form of work because it requires full realization of the responsibility which must not be looked on as a job and its professional implications forgotten.

"Emphasis has been newly placed on the necessity for regarding the patient as a whole and I urge you not to think of your patients as 'cases,' but as people, entitled to the care, respect and thoughtfulness which you yourself would expect.

Health of the Whole Person

Leading up to these remarks, Dr. Seeley said: "Health of mind and of spirit, as well as of body, has of recent years been strongly considered in bringing about full recovery. But, in the first century of the Christian era it was realized that mind and spirit affected health of the body. The word 'health' is associated with 'whole' and a whole person is therefore healthy in mind, spirit and body.

"It would be impossible to exercise your profession correctly if you worked on the body alone," Dr. Seeley said to the nurses, remarking that the same applies to doctors. As a clergyman he has found that "in sickness the mind is much more receptive than in health," and he stated "all concerned with the sick should remember this sensitivity, especially in the little things. There is always a certain amount of fear and terror about being in hospital but it can be alleviated or eliminated by the nurse."

However, the speaker warned "It is impossible for anyone to give what they haven't got. You may be concerned about bringing wholeness of health to your patient, but you must yourself have the ease and assurance which you are trying to give. If your mind is on some problem or far-removed object, or you are in bad temper, there will be such a reflection in your work and on your patient."

Personnel and Building

Having thoroughly inspected the new Civic Hospital building, Dr. Seeley spoke also of the great advantage it will give the city in dealing with the sick. But he stressed that personnel is more important than building or equipment because human relations are the main thing throughout their use. He also charged the new graduates to be the kind of nurses that will attract others to a profession which is needing greater numbers all the time.

Dr. Seeley, who is provost and vice-chancellor of Trinity College was introduced by Venerable Archdeacon W. P. Robertson who stated the speaker had been the choice for his position because of "burning interest in youth and the qualifications which youth demands." A graduate of Cambridge University, he came to Canada in 1938, and was at the cathedral church in Kingston, leaving to Trinity in 1948.

yellow tulips, bringing out the Association and school colors.

Mrs. Roy Taylor, Alumnae president, and Mrs. M. B. Pringle, past president, poured the tea and it was served by Mrs. E. Brackenridge, Mrs. T. Holyman, Mrs. D. Snelgrove and Mrs. F. Revoy.

Beautiful flowers forming the stage setting for graduation exercises in the Collegiate auditorium were provided by the Women's Auxiliary.

Ushering the guests to seats was handled by Alumnists, Mrs. E. Wellman, Miss E. Crawford, Miss B. Greatrix, Mrs. Phyllis Kingdon, Mrs. M. Forsythe, Mrs. J. Campbell, Miss Jean Gillespie and Mrs. J. Bryett.

Following graduation, a reception for their families, given by the Board of Governors was held in the Empress Kawartha Room. Miss A. L. Thomson, principal of the School of Nursing, received with the newly designated nurses.

Regina Minister Performs Rites Andrews-Preston

At the Park St. Alliance Church Opal Beatrice, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Preston, of RR 3, Lakefield, and Arthur, William Andrews, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Andrews of South Monaghan were married by the Rev. George Blockett, who came from Regina for this occasion.

Spring flowers decorated for the occasion and Mrs. R. Hobson played wedding music. During signing of the register, Miss F. Collins sang the "Wedding Prayer."

The bride was given in marriage by Mr. Dudley Hewitt. Her dress was of white faconne crepe, over satin, and she wore a matching scalloped headdress and fingertip veil and carried orchids with lily of the valley.

Miss Dorothy Hooey and Miss Roxie Lamble as bridesmaids were in similar frocks of mauve and yellow faconne with matching bandeaux and flower girl Jane Ann Kornelson wore green taffeta with a matching bow. They carried baskets of sweet peas and carnations.

The groomsman was Mr. H. Preston and ushers were Lorne and Ronald Rutherford.

A reception was held in the Selwyn Hall with the bride's mother, assisting, dressed in grey figured crepe and black hat and wearing a corsage of pink carnations. Also the groom's mother whose dress was of navy petit point, her accessories black and her corsage of carnations.

The bride and groom have gone on a wedding trip to western Canada, Mrs. Andrews travelling in a grey pic and pic suit with navy accessories.

On return they will live on the groom's farm in South Monaghan.

Graduating Nurses Honored By Associate Groups

Those graduating from the Civic Hospital School of Nursing have, in the past few days, been recipients of many lovely gifts, honors from associated organizations and congratulations and good wishes from a host of friends.

Intermediate student nurses gave them a breakfast Saturday morning in the hospital dining room. Place cards on this occasion were tiny nurses' caps and gifts to each of the 26 graduates were coffee spoons with the school crest on the handle.

Members of the Alumnae Association on Monday afternoon acted as hostesses to the graduating class and their friends when a lovely tea was held at the Kaledan nurses' residence.

Entertaining was done on the spacious and lovely grounds where the lace-covered tea table was centred with a beautiful bouquet of lilacs, purple iris and

Girl Resents Tyranny Of "Interfering" Parents

DEAR MISS DIX: I am a girl 19 years old and have been self-supporting for more than a year. My parents have carefully brought me up and I am not unappreciative of what they have done for me, but they persist in interfering in my quite normal and conservative ideals of life. They insist on choosing my friends for me and are rude and disagreeable to others who come to my home. They make wholly unwarranted inquiries into my personal affairs. I am forced to account for every minute of my time away from home during the day and threatened with dire punishment if each explanation does not meet with their biased approval. I contribute two-third of my salary to the household and feel that I am entitled to enjoy a few of the privileges which every girl of my age should have, without constant wrangling and unreasonable criticism.

Dorothy Dix

DOWNTRODDEN

◇ ◇ ◇

ANSWER: And yet parents ask why girls leave home! They leave home for exactly the same reason that prisoners break out of jail. To get a little liberty. To get a breath of freedom.

Motives are Worthy

Of course, the parents who enslave their children do it from the best of motives and for what they consider their children's good. They are so sure that they are wiser than their children can possibly be, and that their opinions and standards are the only proper ones, that they feel justified in forcing the youngsters to do their way and taking all initiative away from them. Theirs is the tyranny of love, but chains are not the less galling because the are plated with affection. They cut just as deeply into the flesh of those they bind, and they are harder to break.

It seems a strange thing that ordinary intelligent people do not realize that the strongest passion of the human heart is personal liberty. Strange that they cannot realize that their children grow up and feel that they have a right to regulate their own conduct and, above all, a right to their privacy into which even a mother cannot pry with impunity.

Certainly a girl who is 19 and who has sense enough to hold down a good job is capable of deciding most of the questions concerning her conduct, and if she is uncertain she will ask her parents' advice, if they have kept their hands off and recognized and girl's right to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness in her own way.

◇ ◇ ◇

DEAR MISS DIX: I am a young married woman very much in love with my husband, but this is my problem: My mother did not want me to marry at all and tried every way in the world to prevent me from doing so. Even told my husband that she didn't want him in the family. Since our marriage mother has got over it and forgotten that she opposed my husband, but he hasn't forgiven her and has such a hatred for her that he doesn't even want me to go to visit her, and says I will have to choose between my mother and him. I won't stay away from my mother and I don't want to lose my husband, so what would you suggest?

A HEART BROKEN WIFE

ANSWER: The only solution for your problem is for your husband to put your happiness before his very natural resentment toward your mother, and to prove his affections for you by ignoring the past.

He must be broad-minded enough to recognize that your mother's opposition to your marriage was just a selfish and possessive old woman's desire to keep her child for herself, and that her opposition to him had nothing personal in it. She was just jealous of any one whom her daughter loved better than herself and any other suitor would have been equally unwelcome.

And, anyway, he should realize that your happiness is the first consideration and that he will break your heart if he separates you from the mother you love in spite of her faults and weaknesses, and whose life is bound up in you.

There is no need for your husband to visit your mother if he hates her. If he is very bitter about it, he might never even have her in his house, but he goes beyond the right that any husband possesses when he forbids you to go to see her.

◇ ◇ ◇

DEAR MISS DIX: How long must a man wait after his wife's death before he marries again? I am very much in love with a woman and want to marry her, but she thinks we should wait a year. Do you think it necessary?

ANONYMOUS

◇ ◇ ◇

ANSWER: Not necessary, of course, but a matter of good taste. Custom has made it conventional for a man to wait a year after his wife's death before he remarries, and a man breaks this unwritten law to his discredit. People think a little less of him if he does, and feel that he should have paid that much respect to his wife's memory.

MR. AND MRS. GERALD W. PAGETT

Pagett-Storey Nuptials Held

St. Luke's Anglican Church was the setting for a wedding ceremony Saturday afternoon in which Barbara Phyllis Storey became the bride of Gerald Walter Pagett, with the Rev. Walter J. Gilling officiating. The bride is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Storey, and the groom a son of Mrs. A. Pagett and the late Mr. Pagett, all of Peterborough.

An altar bouquet was of snapdragon and carnations and the chancel steps were banked with white lilacs and ferns. Mr. John Hooper played the wedding music.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Frederick Storey. Her gown had a bodice of white Chantilly lace with yoke of net, outlined with seed pearls and the hooped skirt of satin was overdraped with net. Her veil of embroidered net fell to the floor from a pearl-encrusted crown and she was carrying a bouquet of red roses.

Maid of honor was her sister, Miss Mildred Storey, who was gowned in deep pink bengaline. Bridesmaid and flower girl were her nieces, Miss Shirley Storey and Miss Sherron Storey in frocks of pale turquoise brocaded satin and yellow voile over taffeta. Each wore a halo hat to match her dress and carried a bouquet of roses and sweet peas in contrasting shades.

Mr. Donald Pagett was the groomsman and ushers were Donald Allen and Jack Doris.

At the reception, held in the Empress Kawartha Room, the bride's mother received in a dress of jewel blue crepe with pale inserts and wore a white straw hat and corsake of pink roses. The groom's mother was in navy figured sheer dress and navy redingote and wore a navy felt hat and corsage of red roses.

A message of congratulation came during the afternoon from the bride's brother in Jacksonville, Florida.

When leaving later for Toronto to board the plane to New York City, the bride was wearing a navy sheer dress with matching accessories and grey gabardine topcoat. Her corsage was of white sweet peas and pink roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Pagett will live at 557 Braidwood Avenue.

Mercy Flight Brings Milk To Tiny Babies

By MARK RONAYNE.

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., (CP) — The skies were crisply radiant but they failed to match the sunshine that the big RCAF flying boat brought into the homes of the fisherfolk at ice-isolated Cook's harbor at the tip of northern Newfoundland.

Skimming in for a landing on the dappled harbor the Canso aircraft brought babies their first milk in seven weeks. Older folk could once again enjoy a cup of tea.

For the search and rescue unit at nearby Torbay Airport, it was just another routine trip. The amphibian carried 1,000 pounds of food to the rock-bound village to alleviate privation caused by a food shortage that began nearly two months earlier.

The crack Canso crew made the trip with the same nonchalance as they would partake of a short beer. But for this reporter there were more exciting moments—especially when I sighted a "brown cloud."

Low Ceiling

That was when we were on the return hop, and found the ceiling dangerously low at Torbay, ignoring a forecast that it would be between 800 and 1,000 feet.

The pilot played it safe by winging out over Conception Bay and gradually easing down. The steamy solor of the cloud became darker—then, suddenly, it was brown.

I turned to mention this peculiar tint to our unperturbed photographer but by that time the plane had banked sharply away from my brown cloud—which was iron-ore stuffed Bell Island.

A few more feet it appeared, and we would have been down in the iron mines with the Wabana workers.

Sunday School Picnics at Church

An enjoyable picnic on St. Luke's Church grounds was held on Saturday by the Primary Department of the Sunday School, under the direction of Mrs. Earl Maniece, who was ably assisted by Mr. W. King and others. Races and games made up the program, and at supper time the children were treated to ice-cream and chocolate milk.

Women Make Bets In Royal Boxes

LONDON, June 6 (Reuters).—Women in the royal enclosure from which the royal family watches the races can bet at this month's Ascot race meeting "on the rail" if they wish to do so.

"The Duke of Norfolk, who is His Majesty's representative, has never received instructions that women may not, equally with men, place bets with the bookmakers who line the rails of the royal enclosure," said an official at the Ascot offices in St. James' Palace.

The official made it clear that there was no foundation for a suggestion at last year royal meeting that some women had been asked to leave because they placed their bets in this way, or that their names had been taken and that they would be barred from the enclosure this year.

"There has been no change of policy," the official said. "There seemed to be a great deal of doubt and uncertainty among some racegoers on the point last year. The position was precisely the same last year as it is now."

Say Birth Control To Hinder Doctors

LEEDS, England, June 6. (CP).—Roman Catholic doctors may eventually find themselves excluded from Britain's National Health Service because of their stand on birth control, a speaker suggested at a meeting here.

Mrs. A. Kemball of Manchester, past president of the Roman Catholic Women's League, said the Royal Commission on Population had recommended that National Health Service officials be prepared to offer birth-control advice to any married couple wanting it.

She contended that if this were put into effect, Roman Catholic doctors, nurses, midwives and health visitors could not accept office in N.H.S.

Mrs. Kemball, who is a Manchester alderman, said that what the commisison should have emphasized was not the need for birth control but of more and better houses in which children could be brought up.

Hungarian Woman Raised in Slums Is Mill Director

By PETER FURST

BUDAPEST, June 6 (Reuters).—From Budapest slum director to director of the largest Hungarian textile mills, the Goldberger factories, is the success story of Mrs. Joseph Vegh.

Mrs. Vegh, mother of two boys, has been at work since she left school at 15 after six years of elementary schooling.

Her three sisters, like herself, became workers in their early teens, the two oldest in a weaving mill, the third in a shoe factory. She herself received a wage of slightly more than two cents an hour during her first years of work.

At home, the family lived in a single room — her own family of six and a sub-tenant who rented sleeping space for himself, his wife and a child in a corner of the room.

"On Sunday," she says, "we used to go to the movies. For 20 fillers (about four cents) we were able to enjoy Tom Mix. I believe this was my only spiritual nourishment at the time. I never read books, except perhaps one of the paper-backed trashy novels translated from German."

Aids Children

Married in 1941 to a woodworker, she, with other women of her neighborhood, set up dairy kitchens, nurseries and kindergartens for neglected children wandering the streets in the early months of 1945 in search of their parents.

For a year, she was cashier at a movie house, then a telephone operator in an export-import company. Later she became a worker in the Ministry of Agriculture.

Made Director

But her heart was in work with women's organizations. Finally, last year, largely as a result of her successful work in the Democratic Front of Hungarian Women, she was made director of the Goldberger textile plant, where 80 per cent of the workers are women.

This was something entirely new to her. She knew little of management, of the problems facing the administration of a large factory.

She enrolled in the correspondence branch of the Economic and Technical Academy, which was specifically established to train workers for management positions.

She spent long weeks and months, all her leisure time, becoming acquainted with the factory. Fellow workers took her through every inch of the plant on Saturday afternoons and Sundays, explaining the various workshops.

Today, she spends only a quarter of her working time in the office and the rest at the two plants belonging to the Goldberger concern.

"On weekdays," she says, "I am a mother from 6 a.m. until a quarter to eight, washing, dressing and feeding the children and taking my bigger boy to school. I now have two boys, one of them eight, the other four. And when I get home at night, I invariably find the older boy's copy book on the table because I have to correct his exercises."

What's Right

Your child is asked to sell tickets to some school, church, or club affair.

WRONG: Take the tickets and ask all of your friends to buy one.

RIGHT: Let the child get out and sell them on his own. It is an imposition to ask friends to buy tickets, since because they are friends they cannot very well refues to do so.

You start to tell a funny story about your husband and he protests.

WRONG: Go right on telling it, and repeat it any time in the future when you think it will get a laugh.

will sell her wheat, appeared to be "working perfectly" to date, Mr. Howe said.

Britain has told the United States that she will not require Marshall aid for the purchase of wheat in the next year. She will buy all her North American purchases of wheat from Canada with dollars.

J. A. Ross (PC-Souris) asked if Mr. Howe was dependent on the international wheat agreement to sell between 100,000,000 and 120,000,000 bushels to Britain in the next crop year, as he had announced.

Mr. Howe replied that he was "depending on the undertaking that Britain's North American wheat will be bought in Canada and that the price will be the current price within the limits of the international wheat agreemen. Within the agreement, the signatory countries had to buy wheat at the floor at which it was offered to them—currently $1.54 a bushel.

Sees Curbing Of Press Liberty

GLASGOW, June 6 (Reuters)—The Glasgow Herald says today that there are signs of encroachment on the liberty of the press within the Commonwealth.

"Currency controls and the restriction of newsprint supplies, although the outcome of economic conditions, could be turned to political uses," the paper says in an editorial on this month's conference of the Empire Press Union in Canada.

"In South Africa the precedent of Britain's royal commission on the press is to be followed and there is little doubt that the aim is restrictive," it adds.

A convention on press freedom drawn up in the United Nations is bound to be a compromise acceptable to Communist governments. Governments with little honest interest in human rights may subscribe to it as an excuse to enact press laws and so to gain more control.

"There should be no need for special press laws. The newspapers in any country ought to be free to exercise the same rights as ordinary citizens except during declared national emergencies," the Herald says.

Board Suggests Shorter Week

WINDSOR, June 6 (CP) — A union shop for plant employees and a reduction in the work week from 44 to 40 hours are among recommendations in a majority report of the Conciliation Board which heard points at issue between Canadian Industries Limited and United Automobile Workers (CIO).

The report is signed by Judge Harold D. Lang, of Stratford, board chairman, and Drummond Wren of Toronto, union nominee. A minority report was issued by Bernard Rose of Montreal, company nominee to the board.

The majority report suggests that the union abandon its demand for changes in the company's pension and welfare plans at the present time, but says such plans are "proper subjects for collective bargaining."

The report deals with the affairs of UAW Local 195, representing plant employees, and Local 240, representing office employees.

Coalition Government Resigns In Belgium

BRUSSELS, June 6 — (AP) — Belgium's coalition government resigned today in the wake of the pro - Leopold Social Christian Party's victory in parliamentary elections last Sunday.

Outgoing Premier Gaston Eyskens said he would report the resignation of his cabinet of Social Christians (Catholics) and Liberals later today to Regent Prince Charles.

The regent was expected to name a premier designate tomorrow but it was not known whether the new government would be entirely Social Christian.

Some Catholic leaders meanwhile confidently predicted the four-vote margin their party won Sunday in the lower parliamentary house assured the recall to the throne of King Leopold. The king, held by the Germans after he surrendered Belgium's army in 1940, has been in exile in Switzerland since the war's end.

Liquor Control Board Gives Scholarships

TORONTO, June 6.—(CP) — The University of Toronto today announced receipt of $1,000 from the Ontario Liquor Control Board to be used for scholarships.

The fund is to encourage graduate students, enrolled for master of social work degrees, to do research dealing with some phase of the school problems arising from use of alcohol. Individual awards will range from $200 to $400.

Seven Ships Make Survey Of Gulf Stream

OTTAWA, June 6. — (CP). — Seven Canadian and United States ships will make a 1,500-mile survey of the Gulf Stream this month in an attempt to unravel some of the mysteries of the wide, warm current that flows out of the Gulf of Mexico.

The ships will be manned by 350 men, including 50 civilian-scientists.

In a joint announcement Monday night Canadian naval headquarters here and the hydrographic office of the U.S. Navy in Washington said the survey will cover some 1,500 miles of ocean in a three-week period.

Due to start today, the survey is code-named Operation Cabot, after John Cabot who first encountered the Gulf Stream in 1497. It will be a co-operative effort involving some of North America's best oceanographic scientists.

Study Variations

Main purpose of the survey will be to discover why, in recent years, the Gulf Stream has been found to meander widely between Cape Hatteras and the tail of the Grand Banks.

Variations in the stream may move north or south at the rate of up to two-miles a day. Large eddies are formed, moving north or south of the stream and the whole complex pattern changes from week to week.

The ships will first sail at spaced intervals in a general easterly direction along the Gulf Stream and obtain data on the location and speed of the stream. Later five ships will each sail north and south along a given longitude, stopping every two hours to obtain temperature and salinity observations down to a depth of 6,000 feet.

Hears Russian Subs In South Asian Waters

CANBERRA, Australia, June 6 (Reuters)—Percy Spender, Minister for External Affairs, told parliament today he had received communications about reports of Russian submarines in southeast Asian waters, but he did not propose to disclose their nature.

"The House will understand why I do not propose to disclose these communications," he said in answer to a parliamentary question.

"The government is watching activities in the Southeast Asian area and will co-operate fully with the United Kingdom and United States governments," he said.

His questioner had suggested that it might be possible for submarines to land Communist agents in the area.

Negro Girl Graduates At Guelph Hospital

GUELPH, June 6 (CP)—Marrisse Scott of Owen Sound, refused admission to nursing school in her hometown hospital three years ago, will be graduated tomorrow from St. Joseph's Hospital here as a full-fledged nurse.

Hospital officials here say that the Negro girl, whom the Owen Sound hospital considered "unsuitable" for a nursing career, is "a credit to her profession in every way." She is extremely popular with patients, the hospital staff and her fellow students.

Marrisse herself told an interviewer:

"Discrimination simply doesn't exist here."

Will Introduce Bill For Operating House

OTTAWA, June 6 (CP)—The government gave notice today it's ready to bring in a bill to provide for the "operation and maintenance" of a home for the prime minister of Canada. The money would be provided by parliament.

The home, a 19th century mansion overlooking the Ottawa River, now is being renovated for its first occupants, Prime Minister and Mrs. St. Laurent. It is expected to be some months before they move in.

Tornado Hits Texas

KENNY, Tex., June 6—(AP)—A fast-striking tornado ripped through southeast Texas Monday, batterinf five villages and injuring at least eight persons. Winds estimated at 79 miles an hour accompanied the twister.

No Word of Clergy

SEOUL, Korea, June 6—(AP)—Bishop Patrick J. Burne today expressed concern for the safety of 67 German Catholic clergy jailed in North Korea more than a year ago. He said no reply had been received to the inquiries to the Reds about the group.

Sun Just Ghost Old Hands Wander Back

By SAUL PETT

NEW YORK, June 6 (AP) — Five months after its death, the home of The New York Sun looks like a partially filled grave.

Soon all physical traces of one of the oldest and best known newspapers in the United States will be gone. That will make the end of the 116-year-old Sun final and irrevocable.

There were four men still in the city room the other day.

All four were grey, all were older than 60. Three stood where the rewrite desks used to be and discussed stories they had covered. Occasionally they looked affectionately at the "man in the corner," Keats Speed, who for 43 years was managing editor and then executive editor of the paper.

The four men looked as though they were on a small island. The slow disintegration of The Sun's separate parts was forming a narrowing perimeter around them.

There were gaps on the floor where the copy desk and the foreign desk and the rewrite desks used to be. The room had only three phones. There used to be 40.

Quite A Change

Toward the back, the old Sun morgue was occupied by The New York State Rent Control Commission, which also had moved into The Sun's old recreation room, sports department, "music room" and "antiques" room. The door to the sports department had a new sign: "Litigation."

The Commission will soon take over the city room.

Across the hall, the composing room was empty and dark. The Sun's old linotpyes were scattered all over — some are even in Canada.

Most of the press units went to The New York World-Telegram, which bought the paper Jan. 4 and added "The Sun" to its masthead.

Although his paper is five months dead, Speed comes down to the office every week day the way he always did.

"I'll keep coming down as long as I can help get the boys jobs," he said. "Almost every day I get a call for a recommendation."

125 Placed

Of the 161 people who once worked in the editorial department of The Sun, he said, 125 have jobs elsewhere.

The three men near the rewrite section were George Gaston, composing room makeup chief, who had been with The Sun 40 years; Harry Factor, West Side district reporter, with The Sun 35 years, and John Barlow, lobster trick (early morning) city editor with The Sun 36 years.

None of them had jobs. All of them visit the city room fairly regularly, when they aren't job-hunting. Other Sun editors and writers still visit the plant. Also, the neighborhood bar and barber. Habit dies slowly.

Asks For Divorce

NEW YORK, June 6—(AP)—Mrs. Ella Halsey, 80, filed a suit Monday for legal separation from Charles W. Halsey, 75, after 57 years of marriage. She said her husband had a terrible temper and she couldn't stand it any longer.

Wrong Pays Visit

OTTAWA, June 6 (CP)—Hume Wrong, Canadian ambassador to the United States, is paying a periodic visit to the capital. It is understood Mr. Wrong will be briefed by External Affairs Minister Pearson on developments of the Atlantic-Pact meeting in London last month before returning to his post in Washington.

Begin Soon New Highway

TORONTO, June 6 — (CP) — Paving of the new Toronto-Barrie highway will begin in "the more or less immediate future," Highways Minister Doucett announced Monday night.

Speaking in the "Provincial Affairs" series over the Ontario network of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, Mr. Doucett said necessary materials now are available and contrcts hve been let for completion of the 60-mile road.

Mr. Doucett reviewed progress made in the province's $150,000,000, five-year highway extension program, undertaken several months ago.

He said surveys are under way to determine the route of a proposed new dual highway through Western Ontario from Windsor to a point east of Toronto. Modernization of the Dundas highway between Windsor and Paris, five miles west of Brantford, will also be undertaken.

NEW BISHOP OF LONDON —Most Rev. John Christopher Cody, 50, became the sixth Roman Catholic Bishop of London, Ont., when Most Rev. John T. Kidd, 81, died last Wednesday. A native of Ottawa, he was coadjutor bishop of London for the last four years, an appointment which gave him the right of succession. Earlier, he was bishop of Victoria, B.C.

Head-on Crash Hurts Policeman

STE. THERESE, Que., June 6 (CP)—Detective Lieut. Alfred Castonguay, head of the Montreal Police Morality Squad, is in critical condition in a Montreal hospital while nine other persons are recovering from injuries suffered in a head-on collision between two automobiles Monday near this town 20 miles north of Montreal.

Hospital authorities reported that Lieut. Castonguay suffered a probable fractured pelvis, a broken right leg and fractured ribs. The nine others were said to be in fair condition with lesser injuries

Castonguay was appointed head of the morality squad three months ago, following a shake-up in the anti-vice squad.

AND ANSWER QUESTIONS

The Quebec Provincial Publicity Bureau was formed in 1946 to "emphasize the characteristics, traditions, cultural values, etc., of the province."

CO-FOUNDER OF FOUNDATION—Dr. Wilfred Shute who, with his brother, Dr. Evan Shute, founded the Shute Foundation of London, Ont., is involved in a controversy over the use of Vitamin E in treatment of persons suffering congestive heart troubles. Both doctors support use of Vitamin E and have done extensive research in the use of vitamins for various disorders.

Baptist Group Holds Shower

NORWOOD, June 6 (ENS)—The Baptist Young People of Norwood held a shower for Miss Violet Weaver and Mr. Richard Leeper on Friday at the home of Mr. Everett Sedgwick.

A short meeting was held with Mrs. Jack Girvan in charge. At the close Richard Leeper and Miss Violet Weaver were called forward and Edlin Buck read an address while Everett Sedgwick presented a table lamp. The couple thanked everyone for the gift and also Mrs. A. Sedgwick for having the shower at her home.

A few games and contests were played and a lunch was served, followed by home-made candy.

WI Hear Talk On Cancer Cure And Care

ROSENEATH, June 6 (ENS)—"There is no final answer to the cause of cancer," said Miss A. O'Leary, RN, guest speaker at the June meeting of Roseneath Women's Institute. Miss O'Leary is the public health nurse for the townships of Percy and Alnwick, and her subject was "Cancer." She said, "more information is needed about cancer. Deaths are due to delayed action, fear of cancer almost as distressing as disease itself."

Miss O'Leary suggested as preventative measures: Avoid eating hot foods, chronic constipation and ill fitting dentures. The speaker mentioned methods of treatment: surgery, radium and X-ray, and advised periodic examinations by a physician at least once a year. In conclusion Miss O'Leary said, "the best weapon against cancer is knowledge, our problem is not to find a cure for cancer but to find cancer while still curable."

Miss O'Leary was introduced and thanked by the president, Mrs. Harold Taylor.

The meeting was held in the township hall with Mrs. Cephas Robins as hostess. Mrs. Bart Thackeray, secretary - treasurer, reported a balance on hand of $86.40.

Plans were made to attend the district annual meeting at Wicklow United Church on June 14th when Miss Anna P. Lewis, superintendent of WI's of Ontario will be the guest speaker. The branch delegates are Mrs. Harold Taylor, Mrs. Fred Murphy, Mrs. Bart Thackeray and Mrs. F. Brown.

An application will be made to the WI department Toronto, for an instructor to come to Roseneath in the late fall to be in charge of a short course in "Home care of the sick."

The district project chosen for the year was: first choice—"Health before and after forty," second choice—"What to do until the doctor comes."

A report of the X-ray survey was given. Approximately 150 people were X-rayed.

A donation of $25 was voted to the Manitoba Flood Relief Fund.

A discussion arose about having a canteen on the Agricultural Field Day in Roseneath June 21. The following committee was appointed; Mrs. H. Taylor, Mrs. Fred Murphy, Mrs. Oscar Adams, Mrs. Robert Linton; Mrs. Charles Sandercock, Mrs. George Mouncey and Mrs. C. Grigg.

Mrs. Charlton Grigg announced the following numbers on the program, with Mrs. Oscar Adams as pianist. Miss Joan Grigg a contest, names of vehicles; a birthbay prize donated by Mrs. Albert Halstead and won by Mrs. Alfred Pringle; readings by Mrs. Harold Taylor and Mrs. Charles Sandercock.

- 1 egg, well beaten
- 3 tablespoons melted butter or other shortening

• Pour milk over bran and let stand 5 minutes. Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder, salt, and sugar, and sift again. Add egg and butter to bran mixture and mix well. Add flour, beating only enough to dampen all flour. Bake in greased muffin pans in hot oven (425°F.) 25 to 30 minutes. Makes 10 muffins.

Lie Demands United Nations Admit Red China To End Cold War Dispute

Says Only Way To World Peace In Ending Split In U.N. Organization; Pleads For Support Of New Peace Plan

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., June 7—(CP)—U.N. Secretary-General Trygve Lie carried his demand for settlement of the Chinese representation dispute and ending the cold war to all members of the United Nations today. He told them, in effect, that unless Red China is seated in the U.N. and the Russians come back to the United Nations meetings, there can be no progress toward world peace. By letter and by radio messages in 22 languages, Lie appealed for support of a 10-point peace plan he has already presented in person to President Truman and to Prime Minister Stalin during his "Save-The-U.N." mission to Moscow last month.

Lie also plugged his plan when he saw British and French leaders during his European trip.

He said in his letter that he could not tell UN members what his confidential talks revealed but that all four countries left him confident they still rely on the UN for negotiation of world problems His letter and memorandum also outlined concretely for the first time his 10 proposals for a 20-year peace program.

To Push Proposals

Lie said he is going to push his proposals before the 11-country Security Council "at the appropriate time" and also may take them into the full 59-country assembly that meets here Sept. 19. He has said in previous statements that if the Chinese question is not settled by then, the assembly would meet in confusion.

Lie is on record with a memorandum stating that a government in control of the people and territory of a country should be its representative in the UN.

He has never denied that this means he favors the immediate seating of Communist China and the ousting of Nationalist Chinese representatives whose government is holding out in Formosa. But 29 bodies of the UN have refused to oust the Nationalists on Russia's demand, and Russia and her satellites have walked out of or boycotted those groups since Jan. 10.

Must Be United

In his newest letter, Lie says only "it is evident that no significant progress can be made while the members of the United Nations remain sharply divided

Watchmaker Arraigned In Bomb Plot Which Killed 23 On Plane

Judge Grants Stay of Execution For Guay Until January 12; Hearing For Ruest Fixed For June 14

QUEBEC, June 7—(CP)—Hon. Antoine Rivard, Quebec solicitor-general, today announced Chief Judge Albert Sevigny had granted a stay of execution till Jan. 12 for J. Albert Guay, small-time jeweller, who was scheduled to be hanged June 23 for time-bombing an airliner. The announcement came after Genereux Ruest, 51-year-old watchmaker, was charged with murder in the Sault Au Cochon crash which took 23 lives. Guay previously was convicted of murder for the death of his wife in the disaster. His original execution date was next June 23.

Ruest, a cripple, hobbled into court on crutches and ws arraigned before Judge Achille Pettigrew of the Court of Sessions.

Preliminary hearing was fixed for June 14 and Ruest, grey-faced, was remanded to police cells.

Earlier the Quebec attorney-general's department made known it would decide today whether to ask for a stay of execution for Guay in case he should be needed as a witness in the case of the watchmaker.

Arrest Watchmaker

The 51-year-old crippled watchmaker was arrested Tuesday night and charged with being an accessory before the fact in the murder of Mrs. Guay—a crime for which Guay is sentenced to be hanged June 23.

Rivard said "a decision will be taken sometime this afternoon" to decide whether the crown will go before the Superior Court and ask for a stay of execution for Guay.

May Arrest Others

There were still possibilities that other persons, presumably implicated by Guay in a statement he made to police from his death cell at Bordeaux Jail near Montreal, would be arrested.

Mr. Rivard said however: "There will be no other arrests, for the moment."

Although 23 persons died in the crash, Guay was specifically convicted of murdering his wife.

Crown Prosecutor Noel Dorion said Ruest "deliberately" helped Guay murder his wife by putting together a detonating device used in a time-bomb which sent a Canadian Pacific airliner crashing into a Sault Au Cochon, Que., mountainside.

Mr. Dorion, who handled the prosecution's case at Guay's trial, said he could not say whether Ruest's arrest came as the result of a statement Guay made in his death cell. Guay has refused to appeal his sentence.

Wavell Given Hero's Funeral Down Thames

LONDON, June 7 (Reuters)—Field Marshal Earl Wavell, who led the Allied forces to their first land victory of the second world war in North Africa, was given a hero's funeral here today.

In the first river funeral since 1806, when Lord Nelson's body was brought from Greenwich Palace to St. Paul's Cathedral, the Field - Marshal's body borne slowly up the Thames by launch from the Tower of London to Westminster Abbey.

Nineteen guns fired by the Tower battery broke the morning silence as the Union Jack-draped coffin was placed on the launch.

The body had lain in state in the Norman Chapel of the Tower—of which Lord Wavell was formerly constable—since his death May 24.

Two naval vessels in escort formed the river cortege for the 25-minute voyage. Men of the Royal Navy and the RAF lined the route from the landing stage at Westminster to the Abbey.

Guards of honor waited at the great door of the Abbey as the coffin was taken inside.

The pallbearers included Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery, Gen. Sir James Steel, Adjutant-General of the British Forces; Lord Cunningham, Admiral of the Fleet; Sir John Slessor, Air Chief Marshal; and Field Marshal Viscount Alanbrooke.

The King was represented by Field Marshal Lord Wilson and other representatives of the Royal Family were in the procession.

Lord Wavell was to be buried privately in the cloisters of his old school at Winchester.

Flags throughout London flew at half staff.

Riddell Gets McNaughton Job

OTTAWA, June 7—(CP)—R. G. (Gerry) Riddell, executive assistant to External Affairs Minister Pearson, today was named head of Canada's delegation to the United Nations, succeeding Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton.

At the same time, the External Affairs Department announced these other shifts:

1. Lt. Gen. Maurice Pope, Canada's respresentative in Germany for the past few years, goes to Belgium as Ambassador.

2. T. W. L. MacDermot, head of the European division at departmental headquarters, is posted to South Africa as High Commissioner.

Mr. Riddell, 42, takes the place of Gen. McNaughton who has been named to the International Joint Commission.

Want To Know What Makes Firefly Glow

OAK RIDGE, Tenn., June 7. — (AP). — Science wants to know what makes a fire-fly glow.

Dr. Bernard L. Strehler, a Johns Hopkins University scientist, ordered 100,000 fireflies today to try to find out.

He told Oak Ridge youngsters he'd pay 25 cents a 100 for all the live lightning bugs they bring in. Scientists know a substance called luciferin causes the fireflies to glow, but they don't know how the bugs make the stuff.

"That's what we want to find out," Dr. Strehler said. "I think this research should be very enlightening."

Money Costs Life

LONDON, June 7—(AP)—Lorenzo Matthew may have been killed because he had money in his pocket. He was struck by lightning during a storm at the Kempton Park race track last Friday. At an inquest Tuesday, the coroner said lightning had split in two several pound notes in Matthew's pocket. Each note has a metal strip inside it as a guard against forgery. The strips were burned. A verdict of accidental death was returned.

Dr. G. A. Howson Dies Today At Residence

One of Peterborough's most beloved and esteemed senior physicians, Dr. George Arthur Howson, died this morning at his residence in Chemong Park. He had been seriously ill since last autumn.

He leaves his widow, the former Jean Eastwood and one daughter, Agnes. A brother Ernest H., and three sisters, Miss Alexandria Howson of Peterborough, Mrs. Frank Simpson (Miriam) of Detroit and Mrs. Hackett (Helen) of Toronto, survive.

Dr. Howson had a distinguished medical career, after graduating from Queen's University. The graduating class of 1915 left as a body for war service, and Dr. Howson was among the 21 who enlisted in the ranks as reinforcement to the Duchess of Connaught's Canadian Red Cross Hospital on Lord Astor's estate in Clivedon, England. He was commissioned in the British Royal Army Medical Corps in May, 1915, and from that time until 1919 served with the RAMC from which he was demobilized in 1919 with the rank of major.

He saw service at Gallipoli, Kashmir (northern India) and in Germany with the army of occupation.

Studies In England

Following the war Dr. Howson did five years post-graduate work in London, principally at the Queen Charlotte hospital and the Chelsea Hospital for Women, where he specialized in obstetrics and gynaecology.

Dr. Howson returned to Peterborough to practise and joined the staff of the Clinic in February 1925. He established a very large obstetrical practice, but in recent years he limited his work more and more to gynaecology and related surgery.

372 Douks Must Spend 1,111 Years In Prison

VANCOUVER, June 7—(CP)—For parading in the nude and for burning homes, 372 Doukhobors must spend a total of 1,111 years in prison. But where? Ask harassed government authorities. Jail space is difficult to find. Prominent British Columbia educationists believe that, although it will take a long time—more than two years at least—they are determined to succeed in solving the problem where others have failed.

Least worried about the years of strife in the mountainous Kootenays, 250 miles east of here, are the complex Sons of Freedom, 2,000 minority clansmen of the law-abiding orthodox Doukhobors.

This, it appears, is the big obstacle facing University of British Columbia scholars, who term the Doukobor problem "unique and unbelievably complex." This week, the Sons of Freedom still were whooping it up, protesting among other things, the "coming of a third world war" and modern day life in general.

Organize Committee

"Interested and qualified" members of the UBC faculty recently organized consulting and research committees to act on the problem, 50 years old in B.C. Before that, it was Saskatchewan's problem; and before that, Russia's. The Doukhobors originally came from Russia to escape Czarist persecution.

Dr. Norman Mackenzie, UBC president, is provisional chairman; anthropologist Prof. H. B. Hawthorn is provisional director. Both know the difficulties involved in enlightening the Sons of Freedom.

"Similar minority group studies in the United States, India and Australia have produced encouraging results," said Prof. Hawthorn.

"We consider this to be an 'intelligent gamble' with many factors—known and unknown—standing between us and success."

Where will the law-breaking Sons, their wives and children be kept? The answer, indications are, will be discarded military installations on Vancouver Island, such as Comox, the already-crowded B.C. penitentiary at New Westminster and Eastern Canada jails.

UK Scientist Has Atom Discovery

KINGSTON, June 7—(CP)—The Democracies have blazed a new trail in atomic energy development.

This one deals specifically with the technical and highly-complicated field of the hitherto unaccountable movements of tiny electrons in an atom explosion.

The trail-blazer, Dr. J. M. Robson, said that it "affords an important check that the basic theory of radioactivity is correct."

Dr. Robson, one of a team of United Kingdom scientists working at Canada's Chalk River atomic project, disclosed some of the results of his experiments before the annual meeting of the Royal Society of Canada.

His discovery, gleaned from two years of laboratory work, permits scientists to "tape" the exact amount of energy carried off by the tiny electrons, one of two infinitesimal particles which result when the neutron walls of the hydrogen atom are split.

Knowledge of this discovery, which Canadian scientists hope is not yet in Russia's hands, will be passed along to the United Kingdom and the United States as part of the tri-nation co-operation on atomic development.

Gen. MacArthur Purges 17 More Reds

TOKYO, June 7 (AP) — Gen. MacArthur tonight ordered 17 more Japanese Communists purged.

Banned were those responsible for the editorial policies of Akahata, the party newspaper in Japan.

MacArthur, Supreme Allied occupation commander, said in a letter to Premier Shigeru Yoshida that the move was an alternate "method of correction" to closing the newspaper or re-establishing censorship. Both of these courses, he said, were repugnant to him.

The purge order came a few hours after the red party had named an eight-man "leading group" to replace the 24 Politburo members purged by the government Tuesday on MacArthur's orders.

On New List

Included in the new purge list was Katsumi Kikunami who was named as one of the eight in the "leading group" announced at party headquarters. Others purged tonight were mainly editorial workers on the newspaper.

The announcement of the new leaders of the Japanese party was made after Premier Yoshida, had said he was considering outlawing the Communist party in Japan.

Etsuo Shiino, a former coal miner who was held in prison 10 years by Japan's former militarists, heads the new Communist group.

Carrier Plane Crash

HALIFAX, June 7 (CP) — A Firefly aircraft from the aircraft carrier Magnificent crashed in the sea today off the east coast of Nova Scotia and one man is missing and believed downed. The plane was piloted by Lieut. D. J. Fisher of Toronto who was picked up by the destroyer Micmac. Missing and believed drowned is Able Seaman Walter Mitchell, of Rockingham Post Office, Nova Scotia.

First Heat Wave Of Year Hits Ontario

By The Canadian Press

The first real heat wave of the year is settling over Eastern Canada—and folks love it.

Except for a brief warm-up about May 24, spring so far has been generally cool. But the hot weather most persons count on in June has arrived at last.

Afternoon temperatures in the 80's were forecast for Southern Ontario again today, and they are expected to reach 85 tomorrow at Windsor, St. Thomas, London, Wingham, Toronto and Hamilton.

Northern Ontario, as well, will start to feel the warmth today. By tomorrow, thermometers may read 80 degrees at Earlton and 85 in Sudbury.

Toronto, with 83 degrees, was Ontario's hot spot yesterday.

The tropical air, which swept into Ontario on strong southwest winds, moved eastward towards Ottawa and Montreal today, and afternoon temperatures in those cities were expected to rise to 80 degrees. However, most parts of Quebec east of Montreal probably will not feel the heat for another day or two.

It is pleasant, but slightly cooler, in the Maritimes. Afternoon temperatures in the 70's today were forecast.

Records Lost In College Fire

ANN ARBOR, Mich., June 7—(AP)—Priceless records and the work of years of research were destroyed in a fire which swept the University of Michigan's Haven Hall Tuesday.

The university estimated that to replace the 87-year-old building would cost $3,500,000.

One fireman was injured. Five student volunteer fire fighters were overcome by smoke.

The blaze was first noticed on the roof in the late afternoon. Four hundred students taking final examinations in the building filed outside safely.

Haven Hall, one of the university's oldest buildings, housed the institution's bureau of government library. The library was destroyed. Also destroyed were records of the sociology, journalism and history departments.

The cause of the fire was undetermined.

Need Birch Road

WINDSOR, June 7—(CP)—Judge Albert J. Gordon thinks that the disappearance of the old-fashioned woodshed has a good deal to do with the increase in crime. Opening general sessions of the County Court Tuesday, Judge Gordon said that application of a piece of birch to the "right part of the anatomy" of some young people, during their formative years, would contribute to the lessening of crime.

Canadian Envoy Seeks Air-Mail Divorce

TORONTO, June 7—(CP). — George Power, Canadian diplomat, is seeking an air-mail divorce from a Russian ballerina.

Power, 38-year-old former Canadian vice-consul at Detroit, was granted permission by the courts Tuesday to serve divorce papers by mail on his Russian wife in Moscow.

He married the ballerina, the former Eleanora Kuznetsova, in 1945 while he was serving as private secretary to the Canadian ambassador to the Soviet Union. He left Russia five months later, and since that time Russian authorities have refused his wife permission to leave the country to join him. His wife obtained a Russian divorce from him in 1947 and is reported to have married again.

Canadian divorce papers will be served on Power's wife by registered air mail. There is just one catch—in order to complete the divorce Power must received acknowledgment of receipt of the papers.

Provincial Police Roadblocks Trap Pair In Stolen Taxi

NEW LISKEARD, June 7 (CP) —Roadblocks thrown up through use of Provincial Police radio figured in the arrest early today of Donald Walker, 28, and Herman Koch, 27, charged with the armed robbery of Stanley Borkowski, Kirkland Lake taxi driver.

Borkowski told police he was slugged and pushed out of his cab on the highway near Dane, about seven miles south of Kirkland Lake.

Provincial Constable Robert Bagg of Haileybury said Koch gave himself up to him here about two hours after the holdup. The officer arrested Vallier as the man, travelling in a taxicab, tried to pass a roadblock here.

Police quoted Borkowski as saying two men called his cab in Kirkland Lake Tuesday night. He drove them to the Dane area, where one of the men struck him on the head. Then, the cabbie told police, they pushed or threw him out of the cab and sped south towards New Liskeard.

Stunned and bleeding, Borkowski stumbled to a nearby dwelling or store, from where a telephone call was put in to police in Kirkland Lake.

A radio call immediately went out from district headquarters at Haileybury to put all radio patrol cars in the area between North Bay and Kirkland Lake on the alert. Within 2½ hours after the robbery was reported, the two suspects were in custody.

Claims Gentle Person Kills 12 With Arsenic

PARIS, June 7 — (AP). — Madame Marie Besnard looks like a kindly grandmother and claims a "gentle character," but French police say she is responsible for the arsenic deaths of 12 of her close relations.

After nearly three months of mental tests, doctors on Tuesday ruled the 54-year-old French peasant woman was sane and must face trial for murder.

Mme. Besnard is accused of poisoning her parents, two husbands, the parents of her second husband, and six other persons—all since 1927. Conviction could mean death on the guillotine.

During the sanity tests Mme. Besnard told doctors:

"I have a gentle character. I go to mass every Sunday and I take Communion at Easter and on All Saints' Day."

Britain Sends Cutlery Gifts

LONDON, June 7 — (CP) — Several thousand pieces of cutlery and enough crockery for 160 families will be shipped to Canada tomorrow aboard the SS Beaverdell.

Sailing of the Beaverdell will mark the first sea shipment of relief supplies for distressed families in Manitoba and Quebec. A sister ship, the Beaverglen, will sail later this month.

A Commonwealth Relations Office spokesman today gave a tentative list of supplies destined for the Beaverdell. There will be blankets, sheets, 2½ tons of curtain material, some toys, 160 complete sets of crockery and "several thousand" pieces of cutlery.

The spokesman said it is difficult to estimate how many gifts from private firms or individuals have been sent or are on their way.

Elephants Won't Co-operate Lifter Left Holding Bag

TRENTON, N. J., June 7 (AP) —Jack Walsh, the Trenton strong boy, tried to lift two live elephants Tuesday night and failed —but it really wasn't all his fault.

In the first place, just try getting two elephants on the same small platform. In the second place, just try keeping them there.

It took seven men to carry the 435-pound wooden platform out on a baseball diamond.

Then they tried to coax Siam and Delhi up a ramp. The elephants refused. That's why Jack couldn't lift the two of them together.

Five-year-old Siam weighs 2,050 and Delhi, 2½, tips the scales at a petite 1,635.

Walsh, 22, then tried it with the heaviest elephant alone, a feat he had done at a carnival here May 10th. He got under the platform and strained. It began to quiver, and Siam got scared and bolted down the ramp.

Not easily discouraged, the youthful weight lifter put 21 baseball players on the platform Total weight: about 4,289 pounds

But he couldn't budge it.

He took one player off and still couldn't move it, so he gave up and the baseball game took over.

Believe 26 Die In Crash, Start Inquiry

Charge Firm Breaks Safety Rules; Search Continuing

MIAMI, Fla., June 7—(AP)—A searching investigation began today into the crash of a C-46 plane in which 28 Puerto Ricans apparently lost their lives.

Representatives of the Civil Aeronautics Board and the Puerto Rican government flew to San Juan and Charleston, S.C., to open inquiries.

Meanwhile, the destroyer Eaufley steamed toward Charleston with 37 survivors. It was due to dock at 5 p.m. EDT.

Eight were known dead and scant hope was held for 20 others aboard the twin-engine plane that went down in the Atlantic 275 miles east northeast of Miami Monday night.

The 165-foot cutter Aurora, three coast guard planes and one air force craft continued to search the area for possible survivors, but officials said there was little hope of finding any more.

The pilot, co-pilot and steward were among those rescued from the plane, which was en route from San Juan to Wilmington, N. C., with 62 Puerto Rican migrant workers aboard.

Investigate Company

The Civil Aeronautics Administration said officials of Westair Company, operators of the plane, were under investigation for alleged violation of safety regulations.

A complaint was filed with the CAB in October against the Aviation Corporation of Seattle, Wash., which does business under the name of Westair Company, the CAA said.

The complaint asked for revocation of the company's operating authority. It alleged the company's planes had been overloaded, that equipment had been operated while not in good condition, and that there had been other departures from federal regulations.

A CAB examiner completed hearings on the complaint last month but has not yet submitted his findings.

Irving H. Mansfield, treasurer of Westair Company, said many of the charges were based on "badly confused" or "actually perjured" testimony.

FRANK DOUGLAS FERGUSON, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh A. Ferguson, 126 Lansdowne St., received the BSc degree with honors in ceramic engineering from the University of Toronto at convocation in Toronto today. He served with the Royal Canadian Air Force during the war.

Navy Accepts Military Law

OTTAWA, June 7—(CP)—The navy bowed to the majority Tuesday and accepted complete uniformity of military law for all three armed forces, but not entirely happily.

One result is that, technically, at least, a navy officer could be demoted as a punishment just as could an officer in the other forces. Another is a toughening of punishments available to army and air force commanding officers to bring them into line with the navy, and a lessening of certain powers held by naval CO's.

With settlement of that last and foremost issue, the Commons defence committee ended study of a 103-page bill to consolidate and modernize defence legislation in a single code, one of numerous reflections of the post-war drive for services unification.

Plan To Abolish Hanging "Talked Out"

OTTAWA, June 7 (CP)—Two lawyers joined in the Commons Tuesday night in opposing a suggestion by a business man that hanging be abolished as punishment for murder in this country.

They were Solicitor-General Lapointe, the man who reviews the evidence of murder trials for grounds of clemency, and A. L. Smith (PC-Calgary West), Calgary lawyer whose work as a Crown prosecutor has sent more than one murderer to the gallows.

They "talked out" a private bill introduced by Ross Thatcher (CCF-Moose Jaw), Moose Jaw hardware merchant, which proposed the abolition of capital punishment. The bill failed to advance during the hour set aside for study of private legislation.

Mr. Lapointe, son of the late Justice Minister Lapointe, said it was parliament's duty to retain capital punishment as a deterrent to wilful murder, no matter how distasteful hanging might be.

Mr. Smith said that for wilful murder he was in favor of "Hanging by the neck until dead and may God have mercy on your soul."

Dreary Study

The one-hour debate took the spotlight away from a dreary day-long study of veterans estimates, during which Veterans Minister Gregg answered a steady flow of opposition questions about the detailed operation of his department.

Buying Power Up As Session Progresses

TORONTO, June 7 (CP) — Buying power increased steadily as the session progressed on the Toronto Stock Exchange today, lifting base metal and western oil stocks into new high territory. Industrials, leaders in Tuesday's downturn, attracted attention for some strong gains.

Western oils started the upturn. Foothills, Leduc West and Atlantic Oil sold at new highs. The advance pulled the exchange's index of representative western oil stocks to the highest point in 13 years.

Base metals also broke into new high territory. The group established a new high early Tuesday but lost almost all of the advance in later dealings. Today's prices edged ahead slowly and steadily. East Sullivan, MacDonald Mines and Consolidated Smelters were among the gainers.

Papers, utilities, steels, refining oils and constructions were in steadily increasing demand.

Junior gold producers dipped slightly and penny prospects were comparatively dull.

Will Get New Mayor At Regular Election

SYDNEY, N.S., June 7 (CP)—This steel-making city, whose last elected mayor now is in penitentiary for manslaughter, will wait until its regular election date next Dec. 5 to pick another, it was learned today.

Acting Mayor Tony Gallagher will continue in office until then. Past mayor Dan Jack MacLean was convicted some months ago of the manslaughter of his longtime friend, city clerk Joseph MacKinnon, a cripple.

A reliable source said today the new election lists probably could be ready by late October but city council decided the expense of holding two elections in five weeks would be impractical.

Hope Fading Fast In Lake Erie Search

FORT ERIE, June 7 (CP) — Hope faded today in the search for Joseph Rawleigh, 27, of Kenmore, N. Y., missing since Monday when he set out on a boat trip to Buffalo from Port Rowan, Ont.

His 12-foot flat-bottom sailing sloop was discovered Tuesday washed up at Thunder Bay, near Crystal Beach.

The U. S. coastguard is aiding Provincial Police in a search along the entire shore of Lake Erie. A motor lifeboat and the coastguard cutter Cherry are conducting an intensive search of Lake Erie waters.

Although Rawleigh's sloop carried two life cushions, Lieut Frank Paul of the U. S. coastguard said he did not believe they would be adequate to keep a person afloat for any lengthy period.

$108,119 Raised To Aid Britain By Fred Mann

Fred G. Mann has informed the council that he has closed the Peterborough branch of United Emergency Fund for Britain and disbursed a total in that account of $4,730.89 in food packages to Peterborough, England.

In the background of Mr. Mann's good deeds was the Peterborough and District British War Victims Fund, of which he was in charge, amounting to $97,684.33.

Almost forgotten is the appeal which the Ontario government directed throughout the province for assistance to people of Britain who suffered heavy losses in a flooded condition of farm lands and various communities soon after the war.

City council requested Mr. Mann, with Dick Raine and the late Gordon Armstrong, both members of the council at that time, to assume the details of collection of gifts in Peterborough for that purpose. The total of that response was $5,704.48. It was said that the Peterborough per capita contribution was larger than that of any other community in the province.

The total of those three endeavours in local aid to stricken people in Britain amounted to $108,119.70. Mr. Mann became the medium and also the untiring promoter of these good community works.

Ald. J. A. Dewart moved a vote of thanks to Mr. Mann last night for the leadership he had given in raising the large amount for worthy causes in the name of the people of this city. Ald. J. E. Gillespie seconded this motion.

Fred W. Jopling Dies Suddenly

Frederick William Jopling of Bridgenorth, member of the retail meat business of Jopling Bros., George St., died suddenly at his home Tuesday afternoon of a heart attack. He had come into the city as usual in the morning, and had gone home from the store later in the day.

Mr. Jopling was born at Bridgenorth, son of Garthorne Jopling and Isabel McKeown. He had spent his life at Chemong Lake, although he was probably as well known in Peterborough, and elsewhere in the county.

Surviving members of his family are his widow, the former Edith Elliott, one son Frank (Drake) Jopling, daughter, Mrs. Clifford Hartman (Phyllis) of Bridgenorth; two brothers, James and Harry, and sister, Mrs. Pearl Pettersone, also of Bridgenorth.

Mr. Jopling was a member of the United Church. The funeral will be Thursday, June 8 at 2 p.m. from the family residence at Bridgenorth, to the United Church in the village. The service will be conducted by the Rev. D. P. Morris. Burial will be at Little Lake Cemetery.

MORE ABOUT—

Dr. G. A. Howson

His exceptional medical knowledge and experience, his kindly nature and generous humanity gave him a wide influence in Peterborough. He was more of a home man than a clubman, and his concern for the welfare of his fellows made him a beloved figure.

Pays Tribute

Dr. G. S. Cameron paid tribute today to Dr. Howson as a colleague and friend when he said: "You could rely on Arthur Howson to the limit. He was a great friend and honorable and in all his dealings. As an obstetrician he had a very high standing". Dr. Cameron spoke feelingly for the medical fraternity of Peterborough and for the staff of Dr. Howson's friends when he said that as a man and a friend there was "none better" than Dr. Howson.

He was a warm friend and supporter of his alma mater, Queen's University, and had for many years been a member of the executive of the Peterborough branch of Queen's Alumni.

The body is resting at the Chemong Park residence until Friday noon. Funeral services will be held at 2.30 p.m. Friday from St. John's Church, of which he was a member, to Little Lake Cemetery. Archdeacon W. P. Robertson will officiate. Arrangements are being made by Bellegehem's Funeral Home.

Forest Fires Out

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., June 7—(CP)—The Newfoundland Natural Resources Department Tuesday night reported that all forest forest in the province were out. Fires during the last few days ran wild in tall timber between Lewisporte, Brown's Arm and Larencetown, burning over 12 square miles.

UK May Impair Economic Setup

NEW YORK, June 7 (CP) — The New York Times today quoted Defence Minister Emanuel Shinwell of Britain as saying Britain's national economy might have to be "impaired" to build up adequate defences.

In a newspage story from London, the newspaper quotes Shinwell as saying he hopes that would not occur for it would be "playing into the hands of a potential enemy."

Shinwell spoke at a luncheon to inaugurate the 50th annual Royal Tournament opening today. His statement, the Times says, created surprise among government officials.

Not New Policy

These officials say they do not believe Shinwell's views express any new cabinet policy.

The Times notes that one section of the communique issued by the recent meeting of the North Atlantic Council said its directives were formulated on the basis that defence development would not impair social and economic progress of member countries.

Commenting on Shinwell's statement, government officials said there is every likelihood Britain will have to increase her defence spending.

The Times says Shinwell hinted that the RAF now has definite operational priority within Britain's defence set-up; that secrecy about post-war military secrets might be relaxed.

France Has Proposed European Coal Pool

PARIS, June 7 (Reuters) — France has proposed to Italy, Germany and the Benelux countries that negotiations for forming a European coal and steel pool begin June 20, an official announcement said today.

Paul Henri Teitgen, minister in charge of information, announced this at today's meeting of the council of ministers, mainly devoted to a policy statement by Foreign Minister Robert Schuman.

Teitgen emphasized that the setting up a of common high authority to administer the pool was the key idea of the French plan.

To achieve a result, he added, the plan should be examined among "convinced" partisans of the usefulness of this high authority.

"A relative agreement was finally reached with Great Britain" on this basis, he added, emphasizing that Britain would be kept informed at every stage of the negotiations.

Comes For Operation

AUCKLAND, NZ, June 7 — (Reuters). — A 13-year-old girl left Auckland today on a 7,000-mile trip to Toronto to be operated on for a rare heart disease. The girl, Gillian Bordman of Napier, NZ, was accompanied by her parents.

Self-Inflicted Wound Killed Toohey—Jury

SAULT STE. MARIE, June 7—(CP)—A Coroner's Jury Tuesday night found that Thomas Toohey, 24-year-old North Bay man, died Monday from "a self-inflicted gunshot wound while a fugitive from justice.

The jury deliberated for 15 minutes on the evidence of seven witnesses.

Toohey's body was identified by his father, who came to the Sault for the inquest.

Provincial Constable E. J. Somers repeated the story he had told reporters earlier. The car in which Toohey had escaped North Bay police had been found not far from the roominghouse in which the fugitive died. With Cons. Gordon Drysdale, Somers had answered a call from roominghouse proprietor Mrs. Edith Love. The officers entered the house with guns drawn, went up to Tooney's room and tapped on the door three times. Somers said he heard a muttered "Hello," and seconds later a shot was fired in the room.

Farm Experts Judged By Good Advice

GUELPH, June 7 — (AP) — Most Ontario farmers judge the advice of agricultural representatives largely on whether it helps them make money, a farm expert said today.

Dr. H. L. Patterson, director of the farm economics branch of the provincial agriculture department told the annual conference of agricultural representatives: "The majority of farmers in Ontario are mostly working managers".

They had neither the time nor the resources to make sound decisions in management without the aid of the agricultural representatives. Until they found otherwise, they thought the representative had the missing answers.

"Advice of an agricultural representative is going to be judged largely on whether the man who acted on it made or lost money. For this reason it is essential that the representative who wishes to be a success keep uppermost the dollars and cents, the costs and returns involved in every recommendation."

Roman Catholics Face New Threat

BUDAPEST, Hungary, June 7 (AP)—Hungary's Roman Catholics were threatened today with what appeared to be a new government campaign against their church. Criticism was levelled, too, at segments of the Jewish and Protestant churches in the country.

Education Minister Jozef Reval, deputy secretary-general of the Hungarian Communist Party, attacked the Roman Catholic clergy as an "imperialist agency." He said the teaching of religion probably would be abolished in secondary schools.

Roman Catholics, he said, had "abused the loyal and patient attitude of the government and the (Communist) party toward religious education."

The minister's statement was published in the press as the text of a recent speech. In it he also attacked certain elements of the Jewish church for "supporting reactionary Zionism" and predicted an "increased fight" against such "servants of American imperialism" as the Baptist and Adventist Protestant groups.

Reval attacked Catholic leaders for refusing to take an oath of allegiance to the government on the grounds they needed permission from the Vatican

What Direction For Canadian Patriotism?

Last week a Quebec M.P. brought a bill into the Commons to change the name of our national holiday on July 1 from "Dominion Day" to "Canada Day"; the motion was defeated by 73 to 39. The bill was part of a determined, though not well organised, campaign to give a new direction to Canadian patriotism. The chief enthusiasm for this campaign is felt in the province of Quebec, but there are people all over the country who are sympathetic toward it. The principal aim of the campaign is to root out any associations with Britain which have found a place in Canadian life.

• • •

We have no sympathy with this point of view, and we feel that it should be firmly discouraged. The Examiner is not colonial in feeling or slavishly pro-British, as readers of our editorials know. We are as anxious as any newspaper in the country that Canada should be independent, strong and great. But we do not believe that independence, strength or greatness can be achieved by an ungrateful and stupid pretence that this country does not owe a debt to Britain.

• • •

The debt is not one which causes Canada to be ashamed. We have made substantial returns to Britain in two wars and in days of peace for the assistance which Britain gave this country when it was new and struggling. Now that we are an independent nation within the British Commonwealth we need have no feeling of inferiority. But it would be sheer stupidity to forget that much of what is best in our country is a part of our British heritage.

• • •

Not all Canadians agree. Our French-Canadian compatriots disagree strongly and the following extract from an editorial in the Montreal paper Le Devoir sums up what many of them feel:

> Royalism is the last refuge of imperialism. It, like the allegiance to the English Crown, will be the last constitutional link which attaches us to Great Britain when we shall have repatriated the constitution. To adopt the military vocabulary, royalism has become the last line of defence. All the other lines have collapsed. And shrewd imperialists are prudently falling back on that line of defence. There remain elements that defend certain advanced positions, members who wish to retain "Rule Britannia" and the word "dominion." But that is a question of simple "pockets" that will be liquidated quickly enough. The resistance might be much harder when it becames a question of beginning the curtailment of royalism. General Pearkes, will not, it seems, be alone when it becomes a question of maintaining the word "royal" in military designations and, apparently, in the whole official vocabulary. Royalism in Canada is synonymous with imperialism or colonialism. To extol the republic is not so much a question of choosing between two systems of government as it is to work for the complete independence of Canada.

This is nonsensical, but it is a type of nonsense which is widely believed in Quebec—a province which has fared extremely well under rule founded on British models.

• • •

Canadian patriotism can develop simply and naturally, acknowledging a debt to the past; Canadian patriotism can also develop crookedly, repudiating its debt to the past and weakening its connection with that extremely practical and admirable league of nations, the British Commonwealth. We feel that it would be shameful and ungrateful to take the second course. Undoubtedly our opinion in that matter is coloured by the fact that Peterborough is almost entirely a city of British background, although fully Canadian in its present outlook and future planning. And it must be kept in mind that the people of British extraction in this country are now very little more than one-half of the total population, according to the census of 1941. The time to decide what direction Canadian patriotism is to take, and to do something about it, is right now.

• • •

It is foolish to suggest that an acknowledgement of our British heritage, and a continuance in the British Commonwealth, limits our independence, or makes us in any way "colonial". We are as free as it would be possible for us to be in any republic in the world. And it would be foolish to pursue a hollow nationalism as though it would lead us to a position of strength. This is not an age of nationalism, but of internationalism. Our position in the British Commonwealth gives us a high degree of internationalism already. The friendship and the favourable terms which we enjoy with the U.S.A. adds largely to that internationalism. Let us not be pushed off the wise and admirable course which we have taken by people within Canada who want to spite Britain, to reverse the victory on the Plains of Abraham, or simply to weaken us by making mischief.

Edward Johnson's Career

Edward Johnson, general manager of the Metropolitan Opera Association of New York since 1935, and now in his seventieth year, retired last week. This outstanding Canadian has had an illustrious career. He rose from the ranks of a fife and drum band in his native Guelph to the highest operatic position in North America. While he was attending the University of Toronto a visiting choral conductor urged him to devote all his time to music. He went to New York as a tenor soloist in a large church there. Then he made his stage debut in operetta. In that day all singers who wished to succeed on this continent had to study in Europe. Edward Johnston went to Florence for two years.

In 1904 he made his debut as Eduardo di Giovanni in Padua. Two years later Toscanini chose him for the title role in the performance in Italian of Wagner's Parsifal. This Milan success at La Scala placed him as a permanent star in Italy's greatest opera house.

His eminence in Europe made secure the success of even a native North American on this continent. He returned to sing with the Chicago opera, and in 1922 joined the Metropolitan, the year in which Caruso died. Gatti-Casazza was then mid-way through his twenty-seven years as general manager and although the Metropolitan's most glamorous period was ended (the days of the De Reskes, Melba, Nordica and Caruso), a flourishing post-war epoch made "the Met." the goal of all opera singers. Edward Johnson sang title roles until he was in his fifties. In 1935 Gatti-Casazza retired, and Johnson was chosen to succeed him.

Thus began a new epoch for the Metropolitan and for the Canadian tenor. It is said that actors and singers are stupid. Edward Johnson, an actor and singer, proved himself far from stupid in his conduct of the Metropolitan through its most difficult period. The stock-market crash of 1929 wiped out its millionaire supporters; the war intervened to decimate the staff. But Edward Johnson kept the institution alive artistically and financially.

It is interesting that the four influential chief executives of the chief opera company on this non-operatic continent, and probably now the world's most important have been in turn a Czech-American (Maurice Grau), an Austrian (Henrich Conried), an Italian (Gatti-Casazza) and a Canadian (Edward Johnson). An Austrian succeeds.

Mr. Johnson has always warmly supported music in Canada. His retirement from the Metropolitan will give him more time to devote to his native country's cultural advancement, to the benefit of this country which is vastly and rightly proud of her distinguished son.

Fuel For British Wheels

Britons have not been able to "step on the gas" for more than ten years. When war came the precious imported commodity, called petrol in Britain, was taken from civilians. When the war ended a tight rationing system left cars immobile most of the time. Gasoline was no longer a precious military fuel, but it was beyond Britain's war-exhausted purse. The country did not have the dollars to buy from American-controlled wells and her motor vehicles had to limp along on small quantities of sterling country fuel. Now a financial arrangement has been made with American oil companies and ten days ago British drivers could say "fill her up". The nation is now wheeling blithely through beloved countryside in the lovely prime of the year. Perhaps it is the fillip which Britons have needed more than brighter foods and stronger Scotch. And is it also the fuel which will roll the Labour Party to the polls on six purring cylinders?

NOTE AND COMMENT

The Prime Minister has hinted that he is sympathetic to the demands that Ottawa should give some aid to education. Whee! Soon we'll be able to pay federal taxes for that, too! Oh, lucky, lucky us!

From The Critic's Notebook

A GENTLEWOMAN IN UPPER CANADA: The Journals of Anne Langton, edited by H. H. Langton, (Clarke, Irwin, Toronto).

THE publishers are to be thanked for bringing out this contribution to Canadian history and letters, well printed and attractively bound and illustrated, at a modest price. The first edition will no doubt become a collector's item in future years. It should be of special interest to Peterborough and district readers, for Peterborough, Bobcaygeon and Fenelon Falls from 1837 to 1846 are its locale.

Ann Langton was the sister of John Langton, whose Early Days in Upper Canada (a selection from his letters) was published in 1926. John Langton was a younger son of Thomas Langton, and emigrated to Canada in 1833 to try his hand at farming. He settled on the eastern arm of Sturgeon Lake near Fenelon Falls. Later he was to have Upper Canadian celebrity as an M.P., Auditor-General of Canada and Vice-Chancellor of the University of Toronto.

His sister Ane came out to Canada with the father Thomas, the mother and a maiden aunt, in 1937, to join John. She was then 33, and like her brother had had a generous education in England and Italy. It was in Rome that she studied painting, and it was due to this training and her graceful ability that the book owes its delightful and historically interesting sketches. The Langton family emigrated because little future enlargement seemed possible for them in England, where they were living in reduced circumstances after disastrous investments following the Napoleonic Wars, and because the father, Thomas, was adventurous. They left behind the eldest son William, who became a prosperous banker. It was to him that nearly all the correspondence in this book was addressed.

MANY journals are written with an eye to eventual publication. Neither John's nor Anne's was. This gives the book a homely intimacy and an especially valuable insight into the ways and thoughts of pioneer gentlefolk settlers.

The editor, H. H. Langton, a son of John Langton, has arranged the excerpts from letters and journals so that the whole narrative reads connectedly. He has also written for it a brief preface and an epilogue which give the pioneer's own accounts a biographical and historical setting. It is a faithful and praiseworthy editorship.

✧ ✧ ✧

MOST of the work is given over to Anne's letters, as its title suggests. But first there is John's letter to his father dated from Blythe Cottage (he was building Blythe House for the family when they arrived; it still stands, though now uninhabited). John cautions his father on the propopsed emigration, and gives to us readers a century later a revealing account of the conditions gentlefolk must expect to encounter: the lack of doctors, the salt pork, the heat of summer, the cold of winter, the absence of a cultivated society of older people.

The gentle mother writes of the trans-Atlantic voyage to New York, thence by packet and train and packet and stage to Albany, Niagara, New York, Port Hope, Rice Lake, Peterborough and Fenelon Falls. How raw the country must have seemed, and how odd these people must have been in it—though there were fellow gentry who had already settled, the Moodies, Stricklands, Traills, Dennistouns, Stewarts, and others. Mrs. Thomas Langton writes as the party reaches Peterborough:

"We dine at the public table, with a small party of men, or perhaps gentlemen, living in Peterborough." A bewildering situation for an English gentlewoman. She meets her son John, who has rowed out in the Otonabee to meet the family on board the creeking boat from Rice Lake: "With his naked brawny arms he scarcely looked like my once fair-skinned son,".

ANNE with her painter's eyes finds beauty and stimulation in the scenes. But she also comments on the difficulty of getting servants, the political situation ('the rebels have been put down'), and is soon involved in the elemental necessities of shelter and food in pioneer territory. "I am not a backwoodsman yet in this, that I cannot feel easy when near the end of my stores." John thought my anxiety very laboured when I saw the bottom of my candle box. Here they have been so accustomed at times to be without things, that they take matters over and above easily", Anne Langton wrote in September of 1837. In October she records that: "This morning my mother and I cut up a little porkling we have killed yesterday, and we agreed, when on a small scale, it was more agreeable to operate ourselves than stand by and give directions".

Anne and other English gentry like her never became backwoodsmen, except "on a small scale". By training and nature they could not. They were pioneer gentry, but they were not the pioneers who tamed this country and laid its foundations. They enriched its life; they brought books, they were keen observers, and some like Anne Langton and Susanna Moodie have left us valuable accounts of the scene, and they brought with them some money, which was oil to the pioneer communities' work. Even John Langton, who worked hard at clearing land and building a home, had to desert the farm and the woods.

THE freshness of the new life which carried Anne Langton through the first rough year wore off. Her journal becomes more and more concerned with domestic problems, ways of combatting the cold, of making butter, and then, as she settles in, to whatever minor social life was possible and bits of gentle gossip. She never lost heart, but there are such extracts as this from January 9th, 1839:

"I have been dipping into Laing's 'Norway', a book John has been reading with great interest. He thinks if the Yankees take possession we must go to Norway. It seems, indeed, to possess some wonderful advantages; that of being nearer home is not a little one. At that distance one might almost make an annual trip to see one's friends in England". In early June of that year the household entertained (with considerable preparation and expectation) some other local gentry. "When we who had worked in sight of each other all day, cast off our red shirts and our aprons, and dressed ourselves like ladies and gentlemen at home to sit down to our meal, I was reminded of children playing at a feast, the girls having prepared it, while the boys painted their little boat".

Anne Langton's journal is poignant reading now, though there is nothing of self-pity in it. They never let the side down, and such families did well for their adopted, crude land. How well is testified by this book, and other writings of similar English folk of the period in Upper Canada. Not since their time has there been such a richness of record and observation. After them a whole century had to pass before this province could find writers with the time, the desire and the capacity to set down in words the ethos, customs and morals of their time and place. Even today, has Ontario a roll-call of regional writers to compare with Mrs. Moodie, Mrs. Traill, Mrs. Stewart and the Langtons?

ONE puts down this book with gratitude for the light it throws on other days, but with something of sadness for the inarticulate thousands of pioneers whom these writers surveyed from above. The poor wrought mightily with their hands and had no historian of their trials and pains and individual achievements. Which was of the greater value to this country: to clear by hand ten acres of stubborn bush or to draw a sketch of the clearing? To stick to the land through two hard generations as the penniless did, or to dabble at farming for a decade or less, then go to York or Peterborough and take a government job; or to return to England as so many friends of the Langtons did?

Who contributed more to Canada of a hundred years ago: a Patrick or a Donald of unremembered surnames—the poor Irish, the Scottish crofters, and Scotch-Irish of Ulster—or the higher-born immigrants? If the English gentry could not return to their own land, they at least had the means, the British army pensions, or connections to drift into towns and escape the rigours of the woods they had faced bravely for a few years. The poor had to stick it out, to die beaten and nameless, or to create their own patrimony and family tree.

Blythe House which John Langton built is now derelict. Many peasant log shanties of the people about them have become substantial homes. From whom did the preachers, teachers, scientists, financiers, writers and parliamentarians of Upper Canada today descend—the English gentry or the real and poor pioneers who battled with the land and the elements without advantage of tea-parties, literacy or gently-cultivated sensibilities?

Such people as the Langtons of Upper Canada a century ago (a century ago? Miss Langton died ripe in years in 1893) were perhaps the yeast of this country; but they were not the wheat from which Ontario today derives its sustenance. It is proper to revere them as individual writers and adventurous, valiant gentry, but not as a pioneer class. Their books speak most eloquently of their own kind who cut little ice in the Canadian backwoods, then or now; literally then, figuratively now.

LOOK—PETROL!

Letters To The Editor

CARELESS GARBAGE DUMPING

Sir: In a recent editorial you criticized some country people for depositing unsightly garbage beside the public highway. What about some citizens of Peterborough, who with a garbage waggon calling at their doors, persist in dumping garbage (including paper which could be easily burned) on the river bank, not only despoiling the natural beauty of the river but making it unsightly as well.

Just below the Brinton Carpet Co.'s plant there is a spot that could easily be made into a beauty spot, but instead, is littered with piles of unsightly garbage. If citizens are not sanitary-minded enough to keep their own property clean should they be allowed to mar the natural beauty of one of Peterborough's greatests assets, the river.

Yours truly,
RATEPAYER.

ED. NOTE: Our correspondent has misinterpreted our editorial of May 29, which referred to city dwellers who dump their rubbish in the country.

REFORMED DEVILS NEEDED

Sir: Went into your city the other night to hear the tentative sermon of a full-fledged preacher, son of a neighbouring farmer. He took as a title 'Strength and Beauty', from the text, 'And upon the top was lily work, so was the work of the pillars finished', Kings 7: 22—a natural for a country bred, who knows the strength and beauty of country life, for it is born in him and not acquired.

Again was appalled at the smallness of an evening congregation of a large city church and the meagreness and stinginess and noisiness of its offering, quarters, dimes and even nickels clicked into the plate,—yet the givers were well dressed. Perhaps that is why Christ said 'make friends of the mammon of unrighteousness'; He knew the cold barrenness of professing touchstones and simulation of goodness. What we need is reformed devils with life and go, genuine, with ingenuity and the generous abandon that now throws into the coffers of pleasure and swift troughs of beer and pop.

So could we the luke-warm and the majority, who make no pretense of goodness or badness, become definite, ardent lovers or haters (but hate destroys, love revives). Our great choices of churches are tokens of our freedom, and for those who criticize the diversity of beliefs, the non-denominational is an inviting simplicity acknowledging individual right to 'ones unity with god', via His son and Holy Spirit. What we cherish we keep, it is the people who make a church or government, it or they cannot rise above its people, so it is us (the people) who must rise; quit cahorting with the old serpent and give bills (ten dollar ones) to the 'wine of life' on a church plate—so find our true silver by our invitation and proposal to the Holy One. He will never come until we make ourselves receptives—it is now or never—freedom or communism—take your choice. You are free He says. So was Adam and Eve.

Drunken Drivers

(Moose Jaw Times-Herald)

Every owner of a car knows the law—if he does not, he has no business driving a car. Nobody compels him to drink; if he gets drunk he does so of his own free will.

But so often men convicted of offences plead for leniency on account of their wives, families, other relatives or their jobs. The proper time to think of these is before, not after, they put themselves in shape to get into trouble. There cannot be any sympathy for such persons; they have only themselves to blame.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

And Joseph was brought down to Egypt; and Potiphar, an officer of Pharaoh, captain of the guard, an Egyptian, bought him of the hands of the Ishmeelites, which had brought him down thither. And the Lord was with Joseph, and he was a prosperous man; and he was in the house of his master the Egyptian . . . And Joseph found grace in his sight, and he served him: and he made him overseer over his house, and all that he had he put into his hand . . .

And it came to pass after these things that his master's wife cast her eyes upon Joseph and she said, Lie with me.

But he refused, and said unto his master's wife, Behold, my master wotteth not what is with me in the house, and he hath committed all that he hath to my hand; there is none greater in this house than I; neither hath he kept back any thing from me but thee, because thou art his wife: how then can I do this great wickedness, and sin against God? (Gen. 39: 1, 2, 4, 7, 8, 9.)

My son if sinners entice thee, consent thou not. (Prov. 1: 10.)

✧ ✧ ✧

When wisdom entereth into thine heart, and knowledge is pleasant unto thy soul; discretion shall preserve thee, understanding shall keep thee . . . To deliver thee from the strange woman, even from the stranger which flattereth with her words: which forsaketh the guide of her youth, and forgetteth the covenant of her God. (Prov. 2: 10, 11, 16, 17.)

Unconsidered Trifles

For more than an hour the mild-mannered little man in the witness box had squirmed helplessly under the cold hostile questioning of the opposing counsel.

"You say," prompted the attorney, "that you have crossed the Atlantic seven times."

"Yes, sir," replied the witness.

"And where were you born?"

"Then, sir," thundered the lawyer, "if you were born in New York and have crossed the Atlantic seven times, how does it happen that you aren't on the other side at this moment? Answer me that!"

"Because sir," replied the witness very quietly, "on my last trip I came home by way of Siberia and the Pacific Ocean."

✧ ✧ ✧

A judge had given his decision on a case and counsel for plaintiff rose and questioned it.

"I cannot allow you to reopen this case after I've given my decision," said his lordship.

"Then, judge, I may as well sit down," returned the lawyer. "It's no use knocking my head against a stone wall."

"Sir, I know it is no use knocking your head against a stone wall," returned the judge. "But I know no other who could perform the operation with less personal injury than yourself."

Neighbourliness

(Letnbridge Herald)

It's heart-warming to read that six farmers in the Champion district put their tractors to work to seed 163 acres of crop for a neighbour who is sick in hospital.

One's confidence in human society gets a lift to read that a thousand Mennonite farmers in Manitoba have a thousand tractors readied to help the Red River Valley farmers seed their crops when the river drops and the land dries out a few weeks hence.

In these days of cold war talk it's pleasant to know there are warm and generous hearts.

They Plan Their Dying

(MONTREAL GAZETTE)

LORD Horder, one of Great Britain's most eminent physicians, has written a letter to the Sunday Times on the subject of euthanasia, or the so-called "mercy killing".

It is an unusual letter. For it points out the curious fact that those who have most to say in advocating euthanasia are generally those who have the least to do with the suffering patient.

Lord Horder has run his finger down the list of medical supporters of "mercy killing." And he was impressed (as he believes any other "knowledgeable reader" will be) by the comparatively few names to be found of medical men and women actually engaged in serving the sick in hospitals or in the patients' homes. The list was mostly made up of "specialist surgeons, of public health officials, of professors, and of psychiatrists," most of whom are several degrees removed, and some entirely removed, from the actual death-bed.

The fact seems to him significant, as well it might. After all, what really matters is the experience of the persons who might become candidates for mercy killing, and the physicians whose duty it is to attend them. This is of greater consequence than the views of those who can afford to take what Lord Horder calls "the cold and objective view of the robustly healthy theorist, or of any of those—lay or medical—whose patience cannot tolerate the unconscionable time that some folk take a-dying."

What a physician of Lord Horder's standing has to say will be of interest to many observers, who have sensed in the movement for euthanasia not only compassion for the human sufferer but a medical expression of the common desire of some people to plan and order everyone else's living, and even their dying.

Senate Hears Shipping Bill

OTTAWA, June 7—(CP)—The Senate Tuesday gave a second reading and sent to committee for further study a bill to implement in Canada's Shipping Act the International Convention for the Safety of Life at Sea which was signed in London in June, 1948.

Senator Wishart Robertson, government leader, told the Senate Canada as a signatory country, intended to accept the convention governing the safety of life at sea if parliament enacted the amendments proposed in the bill.

Apart from the safety convention the bill contained other provisions put forward as amendments to the Canada Shipping Act. These would require the licensing for identification purposes of small vessels under 10 tons maintained in Canada by aliens; the licensing of vessels equipped with outboard motors; the exemption from licensing requirements of certain vessels to take care of special cases and the imposition of penalties for failure to abide by the regulations.

The bill also contained a provision that the issuance of temporary certificates as master to persons qualified to take charge of motor vessels, not exceeding 65 feet in length, carrying passengers in an open cockpit or in a cockpit covered by a light trunk cabin and plying on inland or minor Canadian waters.

Token Payments For VC Winners

OTTAWA, June 7 (CP)—The War Office in London continues to make token payments in sterling to Canadian winners of the Victoria Cross and the Distinguished Conduct Medal in the first world war, Veterans Minister Gregg said Tuesday night in the Commons.

Mr. Gregg, himself a V.C. winner in the first world war, said that a token payment of £10 a year ($30 at current exchange) was made if the man won the decoration while in the ranks. An officer received nothing.

During the second world war the Canadian government decided it would assume the responsibilities for token payments.

L. E. Cardiff (PC, Huron North) said that since devaluation of the pound the V.C. winners of the first world war were receiving less. He wondered if something could be done to change that situation. Mr. Gregg promised to consider the representations.

R. H. Perry Named Ashbury Headmaster

OTTAWA, June 7 (CP)—R. H. Perry, 47, of Toronto, has been appointed headmaster of Ashbury College, Duncan K. MacTavish, chairman of the board of governors, announced Tuesday. He succeeds C. L. Ogden Glass, recently appointed headmaster of Bishop's College School, Lennoxville, Que.

Mr. Perry is currently director of the educational program at Hart House, University of Toronto, and formerly was dean and supervisor of residence of Ajax Division at the university.

He is expected to attend the closing ceremonies at Ashbury Thursday and will probably take up his new duties sometime in July.

Native of St. Catharines, the new headmaster received his primary education at Ridley College, St. Catharines; Dean Close, England; St. Catharines Collegiate Institute; and Hamilton Collegiate Institute.

Suburban Folk Impose Curfew

TORONTO, June 7 — (CP) — Residents of the West Toronto suburb from which 19-year-old Mabel Crumback disappeared a week ago last Sunday, have imposed a curfew on their children.

Walter Hill, president of the South Runnymede Ratepayers' Association, said that in many cases parents are bringing their daughters in before dark.

He appeared before a York township council meeting at which the reward for information about the missing girl was raised from $300 to $1,000 as a result of representations by householders.

Drunk Said He Wanted Only To Rest In Cell

"I was ahead of you on that one," commented Ralph Bryson, Toronto, as Magistrate W. R. Philp KC found him guilty in police court Tuesday of a charge of being drunk.

Bryson said he had gone to the police station the night of May 27 for a night's lodging.

"I was always under the impression that the law was for the protection of society," Bryson said. "I was trying to avoid getting into trouble when I went into the police station."

Constable Allen Edmison testified Bryson was brought into the police station by Constable Sherman Keliele. He said Bryson was drunk.

Bryson denied he was drunk and insisted he had come into the police station himself.

"You can't both be right," said Magistrate Philp.

"That's right your honor," Bryson replied.

"I find you guilty," said the magistrate.

"I was ahead of you on that one," was Bryson's comment.

Hope To Change Conference Title

QUEBEC, June 7—(CP)—The leader of the delegation of publishers and editors from South Africa to the seventh Imperial Press Conference said Tuesday he would bring up before the conference the subject of the name "Empire Press Union"—the organization which has grouped Commonwealth publishers since 1907—with the hope of altering it to meet "the changed situation in the Commonwealth."

Horace Flather, a Yorkshire-born and trained newspaperman, now editor of the Argus at Cape Town, said there were delegates to the conference from nationalist newspapers in South Africa.

Mr Flather said that he had seen Nationalist Prime Minister Malan shortly before embarking on the voyage to Canada and he had said:

"Nationalist newspapers have nothing against the Empire Press Union as such and would have liked to participate, however, they were opposed strongly to its title."

Ask Jamblyn's
SUMMER PUNCH: "Could you give me a good recipe for a concentrated summer punch which I could keep in the refrigerator and hand out as hospitably as necessary? We do not drink or serve liquor and we are not fond of soft drinks. Something home-made, please."
We have exactly the cold drink concentrate you want. It's sharp and pungent, yet satisfying. Combine 7 cups white sugar and 7 cups hot water and boil for five minutes. Cool slightly and pour over 4 tablespoons grated lemon rind and 1 cup lemon juice. Add 1 ounce citric acid and 1 ounce tartaric acid; stir till dissolved. Store in the refrigerator and dilute as required with ice cold water, using one part syrup to three parts water. This will yield 3½ quarts of syrup, sufficient to make 2 gallons of beverage.
ARTHRITIS VICTIM: "My four-and-a-half-year-old girl has had rheumatoid arthritis for three and a half years. She is totally crippled and has been carried about for that length of time. But I am sure I could get her walking if I had the apparatus used by polio patients. Where can I get it?"
The J. F. Hartz Co. advise that first you consult your doctor and see what type of equipment he would recommend. Then if he does suggest this walker they can rent you one. You pay a $40 deposit which is applied on your rent. That is $10 for the first 2 weeks and $3.50 a week from then on. The Hartz Co. are at 34 Grenville Street and they will be happy to be of assistance to you.

Toronto Aces Defeat Petes By A 3-2 Count In 10 Heats

Edging the Petes 3-2 in 10 innings last night at Viaduct Park, the Toronto Aces took over undisputed possession of second spot, dropping the Murphyites to third, in the Viaduct Baseball League. A large crowd saw a thrilling tilt with the Petes tying it at 2-2 in the ninth but losing by a run in overtime. Bill Edger hurled fine ball for the losers, keeping 10 hits pretty well scattered as he fanned five and walked but one. Big Alf Williams was steady, too, on the Aces' mound, though he was nicked for 13 hits and four walks while striking out eight. He had better support as the Petes booted four, the earned runs being 2-2. Sadler of Aces was ejected in the seventh for arguing over an umpire's decision. Ed. Murphy, as a pinch-hitter, singled to score the tying marker in the ninth.

Led The Way

Al Menzies and Bill Dadson had two for four hits each, one of the former's being a two-bagger. Pat Wilson hit a double and single in five, with Howie Dalton and Bill Edger getting two for five each. Ed Murphy had one in one appearance. But the Petes didn't come through as clutch hitters, leaving 16 runners stranded. McKillop led Aces with two in three attempts, Calder, McMurray and Davis each having two for five, one of the latter's being the game-winning double in the 10th. A pickup by Sadler and catch by Wilson were defensive features in a game which saw a lot of smart plays made.

Aces shoved a run across in the second on Irvine's fielder's choice after an error on Joe Krol and his forceout. Irvine took second on McMurray's hit and got all the way home fast on an out from third to second to first, when a double play was not called. The Petes tied it in the fifth Edger was safe on an error but forced by Lowrey, who took second on Garvey's hit and raced in on a two-bagger by Wilson.

Tied In Ninth

In the eighth, McMurray got on through a miscue, was sacrificed by McKillop and tore in on a hit by Davis. The Petes tied it again in the ninth when Wilson beat out a hit, took third on a double by Menzies and home on Murphy's single. The Pete's manager took over left field then for the rest of the route. In the last of the 10th with two out, McKillop drew a questionable walk and pilfered second, scoring the big one when Davis blasted a double to left to finish the fray.

In four different innings, the Petes left three runners on the sacks, failing with the payoff punch in the tight tussle. The Aces left a dozen stranded, too, but had that money clout when it counted to win the verdict.

Springfield Club Divides Doubleheader

By the Associated Press.

"Winner—Ihde."

Typographical error, you say. Nope, just Al Ihde winning another game for Springfield Cubs.

Ihde, property of Chicago Cubs, is the solid man behind Stan Hack's Springfield Club. His seven victories are why the Little Cubs today are challenging for the International League lead.

Ihde stopped the front-running Rochester Red Wings 12-3 Tuesday night in the second game of a twilight-night doubleheader. It was a "must" victory for Springfield, since it lost the opener 4-1. A loss would have dropped the Cubs 4½ games off the pace.

Instead, they are in third place 2½ lengths back.

Rochester won the first game behind the effective pitching of John Wittig, who scattered six hits. Larry Claffone and Steve Bilko accounted for the Wings' runs with a brace of two-run homers.

Other league action saw Montreal clip second-place Baltimore 8-3, Jersey City sweep Toronto 7-6 and 12-1, and Buffalo and Syracuse split, the Bisons taking the opener 3-0 and Syracuse the nightcap 3-2.

Queen Mary Victors

Queen Mary defeated May's Seniors 13-11 at May's in a replay of a tie game of last Thursday. It was close all the way with Haig hurling good ball. The winners got four runs each in the second and sixth stanzas, one in the third and two each in the fourth and fifth. May's shoved five across in the first, three in the fifth, and one apiece in the third, sixth and seventh. Teams:

May's: Shaw, Greeniss, Chambo, J. McFadden, Tully, Marsahll, G. McFadden, Dunstan, M. McFadden.

Queen Mary: Mann, Staves, Brown, Haig, Jobbitt, Stewart, Dafoe, Brisbois, White, Welsh, Wilson.

Riggs, Van Horn In

Defending champion Bobby Riggs and Welby Van Horn, four-ranking professional, won their way into the quarter-finals of the 24th national professional tennis championships Tuesday night at Cleveland.

Riggs whipped Pierre Pellizza, former French Davis Cup star, 6-1, 8-6. The little Los Angeles netter looked sharp in spite of his comparative inactivity on the courts this winter.

Van Horn, a Philadelphian, who like Riggs had a first round bye, also looked impressive in his first tournament victory. He won from Joe Whalen of Ponte Vedra, Fla., 1936 pro champ, 6-2, 3-6, 6-2.

East City Gets High One From Orphans

Terry Woods twirled fine ball in the nightcap of the men's softball double-header at the Bowl last evening to defeat Orphans 19-5 as the East City boys pounded three hurlers for 13 hits, including five extra-base blows to rack up a high one.

Woods struck out nine and walked but two, scored four runs himself and batted .333 for a real night's work.

Cournyea, O'Heron, Sullivan, Wyatt and Wade led the hit-parade for East City with two hits apiece with Cournyea smacking two triples and Bobby Wyatt clipping an inside homer by virtue of footwork. Cornwell featured with five fielding at second. Bill Crowley and Sanderson with two apiece each led Orphans while Byers conked a three-run homer over the right field fence in the seventh for the best single effort.

Here And There In Sports . . .

By The Canadian Press

Joe Louis, former world's heavyweight boxing champion, does not intend to take a crack at Lee Savold's new heavyweight crown, Louis' secretary said on Tuesday night at New Liskeard.

The secretary, Leonard Reed, was asked if Joe intended to take on the Englewood, N. J. battler whon won the British and European versions of the world heavyweight title Tuesday by defeating Bruce Woodcock of England at London.

"Joe certainly does not intend to take a crack at him," replied Reed. "The proper thing would be for the winner to take on Ezzard Charles, the current champion. Joe hasn't made his mind up yet on any comeback. His next statement in this regard will depend on what the doctors say about Ezzard Charles."

Charles, recognized as world champion by the United States National Boxing Association, now is laid up with a heart ailment.

The NBA covers all the States except New York, which never recognized a successor to Louis after his retirement in 1949.

Louis, who is travelling through Northern Ontario, was not available for comment.

At Cambridge, England, Rich Ferguson of Toronto and Bob McFarlane of London, Ont., ran second and third respectively in races at a track meet Tuesday night.

The Canadian track stars visiting Britain competed as members of a team representing the Amateur Athletic Association of Britain against a squad made up of Oxford and Cambridge University students.

Ferguson was 25 yards behind J. I. Disley who clocked 9:21.2 to win the two-mile race.

In the 220-yard dash, MacFarlane placed behind Mc Donald Bailey, who set a track record of 21.6 seconds, and J. C. M. Wilkinson who was second.

Al Pickard of Regina, president of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association, said Tuesday at Calgary he doesn't plan to run for re-election when the CAHA holds its annual general meeting in Banff, Alta., starting today.

Election of officers will be held Friday.

Pickard declined to comment on a report that he may take over leadership of the Western Canada Senior Hockey League if D. P. McDonald of Calgary, now president, resigns. It has been predicted that Mr. McDonald will resign the post because of pressure of business.

One of the major points to come up will be the matter of signing all hockey players to contracts. At present they are all signed to playing cards but only a few are signed to contracts. This would apply to senior and junior "A" players only.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

By CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

While Canada is athletically minded and we have plenty of sports the year around, this country isn't classed as first rate in any game but hockey. That is, by other countries. Hence, a national sports development plan guaranteed to lift Canada from the second division in international competition has been submitted by Sports College to the AAU of C, the British Empire Games Association and the Canadian Olympic Association. Director Lloyd Percival of Sports College is asking for the $14,000 now in the Olympic fund in order to start this program, with the idea of producing noticeable effects by the 1952 Olympic Games, with contending teams in all international sports by 1954. More power to him.

* * * * * *

He proposes to survey and analyze Canada's needs, draw up a list of potential Olympic athletes, provide coaching, info and training for outstanding athletes and develop other promising material. Right now, 18-year-old Rich Ferguson of Toronto, the fastest schoolboy in the world at distances from one to three miles, is a product of Sports College training. He is now touring Europe and meeting the best. It cost $400 to train him through Sports College in three years, including diet, equipment and instruction. Other stars are in the making among the 400,000 members getting coaching material. Canada was 18th in the last Olympic standings, and it's time it moved up much higher.

Parish Loop Going

Another good softball league recently started play here, the Parish League. It consists of St. Anne's Pirates, St. Alphonsus Braves, Sacred Heart Red Sox, Immaculate Conception Cubs and St. Peter's Yanks. Thus, all sections in the city are covered and play is provided for many veterans not quite of City League calibre (though in some cases they are) and youngsters on the way up in this abbreviated diamond game. Games tonight at 6.45 are: Cubs at Red Sox, and Braves at Yanks. Play is twice a week out into July, with playoffs following.

* * * * * *

Men's softball is going in for a Canadian championship series now, and we believe Johnny Russelle's team will enter tourney playdowns from Peterborough. Entries must be in by July 15 with the Ontario tournament in Toronto from Aug. 28 to Sept. 2. Competitions are being held in Calgary, Regina, Winnipeg, Montreal and Toronto, with entries in from Alberta, British Columbia, Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Ontario and Quebec. The Ontario winner meets the Quebec champion in the eastern semi-finals on Sept. 2-4. Teams may carry two replacements, and Johnny—if he gets the pitching—might field a pretty strong squad. It shows how nation-wide is the game of softball today.

UE Boys Came Close

Looks like it'll be quite a task to turn back Mutuals in the men's Bowl loop, but UEW came mighty close last p.m. It went 11 heats ere the Russelle gees gained an 8-7 decision. They had fine relief flinging from Don Bigford and hard hitting by Harrison, Carpenter, Greenlaw and Foster. Gordon threw real good ball for UE, while Thomson and Legrow led at bat. Some neat fielding served up to a hefty crowd. East City took Orphans 19-5 back of excellent twirling by Terry Woods, and loud bats carried by Cournyea, O'Heron, Sullivan, Wyatt and Wade. The youthful O's weren't at their best, but Crowley and Sanderson led the hitters. Mutuals now have won five in five, UE has three and two, East City two and three, with Orphans fives losses. Tomorrow, it's: East City vs. Mutuals, and UE vs. Orphans.

* * * * * *

Up at Toronto, Aces got a run in the 10th to edge the Petes 3-2 and take over second spot alone in the Viaduct Baseball Loop. A goodly gallery saw an exciting scrap. Bill Edger's pitching rated him a better break but mates' miscues and lack of clutch clouters a few times made the difference. Men o' Murphy had an edge in hitting as well as hurling, and they did some swell fielding in spots, but Aces still toted home the victory. Williams pitched well in the pinches, with McKillop, Davis, McMurray and Calder each getting two hits. Menzies, Dadson, Edger, Wilson and Dalton had two apiece for the losers, and Manager Ed Murphy hit a run-producing single when he got into action in the ninth. He was loose up there and came through nicely. Garvey and Dalton were busy at the keystone sack and Wilson reeled in a nice grab in the pasture. Petes, now in third slot, meet Dovers here Saturday.

Ziegler Believes Phil Marchildon Can Still Win, May Join Leafs

TORONTO, June 7.—General Manager Joe Ziegler of the baseball Leafs holds a strong belief that Phil Marchildon "can pitch and win in Triple A ball and even the majors."

On that confidence basis, the once-great righthander of Philadelphia Athletics may yet wind up with the team that signed him to his first pro contract 11 years ago—the same Leafs.

The Penetanguishene native, who never returned to his brilliant form after 10 months of half-starved privation in a German prison camp during the war, apparently had reached the end of chuck row when Buffalo Bisons released him outright Monday. Ziegler, however, telephoned him in Buffalo and Marchildon will stop for a chat, at least, on his way home.

"Marchildon has some business to clean up in Buffalo, but we'll have a talk in a day or two," said Ziegler. "I'm very interested in Phil and I'm thinking seriously of giving him a chance."

Hasn't Decided

In Buffalo, Marchildon said: "I haven't decided a thing. I think I'd like it very much in Toronto, though. I'll have a talk with Joe."

Unable to win for the Bisons, Marchildon still feels his arm will come around and that his trouble mostly is mental. A nervous condition brought on by his war service and imprisonment as a flying member of the RCAF caught up with him when he showed no wins and three losses with Connie Mack's A's last year. He was sold to Buffalo this spring, apparently washed up as a major leaguer at 32.

Marchildon last made a mound appearance at the stadium here in the fall of 1940 with a good relief job against Montreal Royals.

Ziegler, in announcing he might try Marchildon, also revealed that Chattanooga had asked for an extension of a 30-day option on infielder Vic Barnhart. Sold conditionally by the Leafs to the Double A club, he recently was sidelined by a playing accident in which 14 stitches were taken in his knee.

Mutuals Defeat UEW, 8-7 In 11th Frame

Don Bigford's fine relief hurling enabled Mutuals to edge UE 8-7 in the opener of last night's twin bill of men's softball at the Bowl before the largest crowd of the season. It took 11 innings to decide the issue, however, when with one away in the home half, Giardino squeezed Bob Greenlaw in from third with the pay-off counter after the latter had hit safely to left centre and scampered all the way to the hot corner aided by an error.

Bigford relieved Hunter with the score tied, two aboard and none away in the seventh, and held his rivals for four innings, fanning four. Gordon pitched a fine game after a shaky first-inning in a hard, close struggle. Harrison with three and Carpenter, Greenlaw and Foster two hits apiece were best for Mutuals, while Thomson and Legrow led UE. The fielding of Mackness was a treat at short while Legrow, Carpenter and White supplied sparkling catches in the outfield.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—
Without Calomel — And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go
The liver should pour out about 2 pints of bile juice into your digestive tract every day. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food may not digest. It may just decay in the digestive tract. Then gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. You feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.
It takes those mild, gentle Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these 2 pints of bile flowing freely to make you feel "up and up." Get a package today. Effective in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. 35¢ at any druggists.

Tigers Trip Senators 11-8 Lipon Team's Sparkplug

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer.

Around Detroit they are saying that Johnny Lipon is the real reason why the Tigers are giving New York Yankees and Boston Red Sox the battle of their lives in the tense American League pennant race.

Today the Tigers, with Lipon playing every one of their 41 games, were in first place to the start of their three-game series at the Yankee Stadium. The Tiger shortstop is enjoying his greatest year at bat and in the field.

The 27-year-old native of Detroit is hitting .335. He has hit safely in his last 19 games, the best mark in the majors this season. His fine work at shortstop is responsible for the Tigers owning one of the best double play records in the league.

Lipon is not the only Tiger on a hitting spree. George Kell, last year's batting king, is back at the head of the class with a .388 figure. Hoot Evers is hitting .362 and Vic Hertz .318.

All but Wertz contributed heavily to the Tigers' 11-8 slugfest victory over Washington Senators Tuesday. The triumph, seventh in succession for the Bengals, pushed them into first place by two percentage points over the Yankees.

Blast Yankees

The Yankees were blasted from the top by Cleveland's Indians, who pummelled two pitchers for 22 hits for a lopsided 16-2 triumph.

Luke Easter and Bob Kennedy each collected four hits for the Indians.

The White Sox handed Joe McCarthy's Red Sox a rude shock when little Kenny Holcombe won his first game of the year, turning back Boston's sluggers 8-4.

St. Louis Cardinals deadlocked Brooklyn for the National League lead by shading Philadelphia 5-4 after Chicago dumped the Dodgers 7-6.

Walks with the bases filled decided both games.

At St. Louis, Curt Simmons passed Johnny Lindell in the eighth inning, forcing in Harry Walker with the tie-breaking run.

Brooklyn reliefer Jack Banta walked pinch-hitter Emil Verban with none out and the bases full in the last of the 10th inning at Chicago to force in the deciding run for the Cubs.

Thomson Checks

Bobby Thomson blasted two home runs and a triple, driving home six runs, to lead the New Yorkers to a 10-4 victory over Pittsburgh. It was the Pirates' 13th loss in 14 games.

Earl Torgeson's three-run triple was the key hit as the Boston Braves let loose with five runs in the ninth inning to sink Cincinnati 8-3.

St. Louis Browns, who have been showing signs of life recently, came from behind to nip

Remember When—

A 72-hole total of 282 was good enough to win the United States open golf championship and create a record. Tony Manero, New York Italian won the title with that score at Springfield, Mass., 14 years ago today. The 282-total was cut to 276 by Ben Hogan, Hershey, Pa. sta. in Los Angeles in 1948, a mark that still stands.

Savold Hammers Woodcock Into Submission

LONDON, June 7 (Reuters)—Lee Savold, of Englewood, N. J., hammered Bruce Woodcock of Doncaster, Yorkshire, out of world heavyweight contention on Tuesday night and laid claim to the British version of the world championship.

Savold's victory, scored via a fourth round technical knockout, was clean-cut.

The American appeared well ahead on points when referee Andy Smyth stopped the contest with blood pouring from a cut over Bruce's left eye.

The fight, scheduled for 15 rounds, was recognized by the British Boxing Board of Control as filling the world championships. Ezzard Charles, Cincinnati Negro is recognized by the National Boxing Association of the United States as world champion.

Bill Daly, Lee's manager, said "We're in the money now. We're all set to go places."

Nat Fleischer, editor of Ring Magazine, who saw the contest, told reporters: "I expected Savold to win just like that, and now he can be regarded as very high indeed in the world heavyweight class."

"He is not, however, as far as we in America are concerned the world champion until he has a fight with at least another leading American."

Chief weapon in Savold's armory was a jabbing, drumming left, which never stopped playing over Woodcock's head and body.

Woodcock's rattlesnake right lacked venom and though the former railwayman threw it several times with all his might he never connected solidly.

Paving, Tenants Before Council

W. B. Bennett Paving Company, Oshawa, was awarded the contract for this season's street paving program at their tender of $149,995.80 by the Council Tuesday night.

Their bid was the lowest of three received by the board of works, and its acceptance was recommended in the report of the board read by Ald. H. Dodds, chairman.

The resignation of Miss Florence Johnston from the welfare department because of ill-health was adopted as recommended in the report of the board of review, submitted by Ald. H. F. Waddell, chairman. She receives a pension of $584.44 a year, beginning June 15.

Miss Johnston has been a valuable member of the municipal staff for years in the office of the city clerk, and subsequently in the welfare department.

City Tenants

The following is quoted from the report of the property committee, of which Ald. E. C. Braund is chairman:

"That the mayor and clerk be instructed to sign the notice to Thomas and Joseph Anthony, tenants at 322 George St., and to Jim Hum, tenant at 328 George St., since the lease of these tenants with the city expired May 1, 1950, and the city received no notice from them of their intention to exercise the option of renewing the lease as provided in its terms.

"That on the advice of the city solicitor, this committee proceed to negotiate new terms for the tenancy of Thomas and Joseph Anthony and Jim Hum for the city premises they occupy on George St., and that in the meantime the city clerk not accept further rent payments from these tenants."

GRAND FALLS, Nfld., June 7—(CP)—The Anglo-Newfoundland Development Company announced yesterday that pulp and sulphite workers in the company's plant here will get a five-per-cent wage increase. The company's sulphite machine, closed down since last year, went into operation again Tuesday. Some 4,000 men are involved. Present basic wage was not available

Urge Disarmament

WASHINGTON, June 7—(AP)—Eleven Congress members Tuesday urged the United Nations to call an immediate disarmament conference as a move to avert the threat of hydrogen bomb warfare. Seven Democrats and four Republicans signed a resolution calling for a world peace crusade and declaring: "The prospect of the hydrogen bomb propels the peoples of the earth into danger above and beyond anything heretofore conceived by man."

Guest Artists

QUEBEC, June 7 (CP) — St. George's Cathedral choir of Kingston, will sing at St. Michael's Church and at the Cathedral of the Holy Trinity here next Sunday, it was announced Tuesday night. The choir, which includes 50 men and boys, will sing at St. Michael's Hall, Saturday night. It will be accompanied by Very Rev. A. Briarly-Browne, Dean of Ontario and rector of St. George's Cathedral.

United Counties Finance Committee Recommends Tax Rate Of 11 Mills For 1950

COBOURG, June 7 (ENS) — The Finance Committee, approving the 1950 budget with an 11-mill tax rate Tuesday recommended that the necessary by-law be drawn up for consideration by Northumberland and Durham Counties Council. The rate was 10 mills last year.

Law enforcement costs were estimated at $38,000, made up by $22,000 for administration of justice; $12,000, counties jail and $4,000 for juvenile court. Total for charity and welfare was $129,000 and included $18,000 for counties home; $43,000 Children's Aid; $15,000 indigent patients; hospital grants, $20,500; health unit, $32,500. General administration totalled $37,000; roads, $142,000.

Total to be raised including the $10,000 deficit plus $17,420 extra for roads—$389,391.60. This will produce a surplus of $900.

Reeve Roy Dodge's report on Family Court revealed active cases, there were 507 visits and 75 of family affairs and 29 juvenile cases. Thirteen family affair cases were reported to court and 24 juvenile cases.

In the same categories, 62 were non-court instances and five were juvenile cases. In family affairs cases there were 507 visits and in juvenile cases, 376 visits. 132 children were involved in the first classification and 50 in the second. One juvenile was admitted to Ontario Hospital, one to a foster home and two to the Boys' Training School.

$1,360.54 was paid through the office on court orders for non-support.

Problems dealt with by the Family Court officials involved jealousy, home management, threatening bodily harm, assault, non-support, drunkenness, mental illness, marital discord, unemployment, desertion, indecent behaviour, truancy, dangerous use of firearms, setting fires, theft.

Bills Unpaid

Reeve Roy Dodge of Cobourg, counties council representative on the Cobourg Hospital Board, said he had been shown a list of indigent patients accounts by the board, which had not been paid.

Warden Bruce Jandrew replied that most of the accounts had been paid. William Barr, clerk-treasurer of the counties, pointed out that there were few accounts which had not been paid for the simple reason that the townships were disputing them and it was no use the counties paying the accounts when they could not collect from the townships.

In connection with the request of the Children's Aid Society for a grant of $5,000 for their building fund, Dr. N. S. McKechnie, member of the Society, said that efforts to get office accommodation to replace the present inadequate office space ad not been successful.

Lot Already Purchased

Accordingly a lot had been purchased and contracts let for an office building which would cost from $29,000 to $30,000. $15,000 was available for use from the reserves and this amount, with a $4,000 bequest which had been received recently, would leave only about $10,000 to raise.

If the counties would make a grant of $5,000, the remaining $5,000 could be in the form of a mortgage. In the past six years the Society had raised $10,000 by popular subscription, including $4,400 raised this year, to which the Dept. of Welfare had added $1,100.

Percy Gooding, weed inspector, told the council session that it was a waste of money to spray hardy weeds on a basis of Northumberland one year and Durham the next, because under the alternative spraying, the weeds were not sufficiently checked. Poison ivy had been sprayed very effectively by the proper spray in sufficient quantities.

Weed seed from western grains were causing considerable trouble to farmers with clover. Farm machinery being transported along the highway, often spread large quantities of weed seeds, Mr. Good said.

Recommend Grants

The finance committee recommended payment of the usual $1,500 grants to the hospitals in Bowmanville, Port Hope, Cobourg and Peterborough Civic Hospital. It was decided to increase to $8 the daily rate for indigents, following the request of Oshawa Hospital.

Other grants recommended included $4,000 for the Family Court; $500 to agricultural representative; $1,000 Canadian National Institute for the Blind; $500 to Salvation Army; $175 to Junior Farmers group in both counties; Women's Institutes, $50; agricultural societies, $2,500.

Sunday Talent Show Sponsored By Rotary

CAMPBELLFORD, June 7 — (ENS) — Campbellford Rotary Club is sponsoring a talent show to be presented in the Aron Theatre on Sunday evening. The show will feature local talent, and perhaps an imported quartet. The theatre has been donated for the occasion by Peter Barnes and the program is under the direction of John M. Herd and Wes Sweet of Edgewater Park.

Peter Barnes of Campbellford, who owns and operates Foto Nite Amateur Shows, Ltd., comprising about ten theatres in Ontario, western Canada and the United States, is holding a benefit show at each of the theatres next week, the entire proceeds of which will be turned over to the Manitoba Flood Relief Fund.

A message to Canadian Motorists about our new 88 and 98 Gasoline

TWO NEW HIGHER OCTANE GASOLINES HAVE BEEN PERFECTED FOR CANADIAN USE. 40 YEARS OF CONTINUOUS RESEARCH AND DEVELOPMENT HAVE RESULTED IN THIS GASOLINE ACHIEVEMENT.

B-A has added the most modern process equipment available to their refineries. And with this new equipment in operation, B-A can now supply Canadian motorists with new B-A 88 gasoline—excellent performance with economy . . . and new B-A 98 gasoline—peak performance in any car.

The difference between B-A's new gasolines and other gasolines is in the refining. A completely new modern refining technique is being employed. B-A has found a way to tailor-make the new B-A 88 and 98 gasolines so that the octane numbers of all the different fractions are relatively close.

So the new gasolines at your B-A service station are "high-jump" gasolines . . . gasolines that give better acceleration over a wider range of speeds. Better performance over the entire speed range. The new gasolines have balanced volatility. They vaporize readily to give dependable acceleration, more "get up and go." And the new gasolines give you cleaner combustion. They reduce lubricating oil consumption. Give you lower maintenance costs. Prolong your valve, ring and spark plug life. Give you worthwhile gasoline savings and greater economy.

The new gasolines, because of their more uniform octane number, eliminate engine roughness. They give you knock-free power and smoother performance.

Yes, there's a new experience awaiting you at your B-A service station. Drive in today and fill up with new B-A 88 or 98 gasoline. You'll get more power and better performance than ever before. At the sign of the big B-A!

Millbrook Man Pleads Guilty Of Pilfering

Caught a few minutes after he broke into Glen's Lunch on King St. early Saturday morning and stole 16 packages of cigarettes and $7 in cash, William Charles Thompson, 17, Millbrook, pleaded guilty to the charge in police court Tuesday.

He was given a suspended sentence of one year. Constable John Conlin who arrested Thompson said the youth misled police into thinking his name was Robert James Thompson, his brother's name.

There was some confusion over Thompson in court as well. He was at first represented by John Corkery and pleaded guilty before consulting Mr. Corkery.

Mr. Corkery asked permission to confer with the youth and as Thompson was being asked to plead again, W. J. Arthur Fair appeared to say he had been retained by the youth's father to act for him.

After a talk with the two lawyers and his father, Thompson pleaded guilty again.

Crash of Glass

Constable Conlin said he had been checking the area between Charlotte and King Sts. when he heard the crash of glass breaking.

He investigated and found the rear window of Glen's Lunch broken. Looking inside he saw someone move from behind a counter toward the rear door.

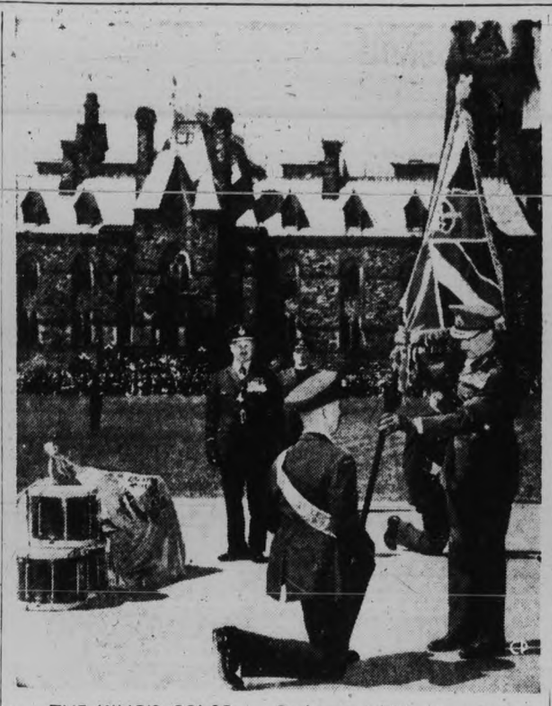
The back door was locked so he moved to a position from which he could see all approaches to the lunch bar. In a minute or two he saw Thompson running away and shouted to him to stop. But Thompson kept on running.

Constable Conlin ran after him and caught him in a laneway off Charlotte St. west of George St. When searched in the police station, the cigarettes and money were found on Thompson.

Suggests Two Ways Solving Trade Worry

TORONTO, June 7 — (CP) — James S. Duncan, president of Massey-Harris Company Limited, and chairman of the Dollar-Sterling Trade Board, Tuesday night suggested two ways of solving Canada's trade and monetary problems.

These are the broadening of Canada's export markets and the opening still wider of the doors of immigration, he told a dinner in honor of foreign exhibitors at the International Trade Fair here.



"It is necessary for us to carry our products to a wider group of countries," he said. "Almost of equal importance, we should open wider the doors of immigration . . . so as to build up our national strength and to provide a larger consumers' market at home."

May Extend Project

TORONTO, June 7 (CP)—The Toronto housing authority indicated Tuesday it may extend a housing project now under way in the east-central Regent Park area to other sections of the city. Controller Allan Lamport indicated that the city may begin construction soon in other old sections—the western Trinity Park and north-central Yorkville districts.

Flood Fund Climbs

WINNIPEG, June 7 (CP)—The Manitoba Flood Relief Fund on Tuesday totalled $3,400,000, an increase of more than $165,000 since Sunday night. A $5,000 cheque reached fund officials Tuesday from a community drive in Woodstock.

Says Companies Blocking Gov't

LONDON, Ont., June 7 (CP)—The provincial government dares not implement the recommendations of the Kennedy Forest Report because the pulp and paper companies don't want any part of them, E. E. Johnson, Fort William lumberman, said in an address to members of the Progress Club here Tuesday.

He said the Kennedy Report urged the government to end single-purpose operation (cutting by one forest industry for one use only) and to permit all groups of operators to work co-operatively, diverting the timber from each area to its proper and sensible use.

Mr. Johnston charged that Ontario government policy has allowed an "iron curtain" to rise around Northern Ontario's areas to the exclusion of all but pulp and paper companies.

Lumbering and other forest industries will be put out of business, he charged, and a program of maximum use of Ontario's trees will be impossible. A program of full utilization would mean greatly increased employment and a higher living standard in wide areas of the province, he said.

He said that the Ontario forest industry has fallen under control of a monopoly which he said is wasting and destroying a main natural resource.

To Study In Canada

LONDON, June 7 (Reuters)—British Agricultural scientists and administrators have accepted the Canadian government's invitation to study the work of Canadian agricultural institutions this summer, the Ministry of Agriculture announced Tuesday. Sir William Ogg, director of the Rothamsted Agricultural Experimental Station, will lead five other prominent experts in a party due in Canada June 26.

Thames Slimmed Down In Waterloo Bridge Area

By WILLIAM BOSS

LONDON, June 7 — (CP) — Old Father Thames is being corsetted. By the time the job is done, he'll be 145 feet thinner at Waterloo Bridge. For one-third of a mile, between Westminster and Waterloo Bridges, the ancient stream is losing an average of 110 feet in width as engineers reclaim land from the river bed. At Waterloo Bridge the shrinkage is from 1,125 to 980 feet.

The activity is on the south bank, fast being made ready for the festival of Britain 1951.

Conversion of derelict blitz sites near County Hall into next year's gigantic festival, besides proving a multi-million-dollar tourist attraction, it is expected to give Britons themselves a relief from drab austerity.

While the festival will embrace a good many buildings—such as a hall of science and a hall of industry—only a few will remain after the fair.

New Buildings

They are the new concert hall, the new national theatre and a government block. In the construction of these Londoners are taking especial interest. Since the Queen's hall went down under the blitz they have been pressing for an auditorium worthy of the finest orchestras. Agitation for a national theatre has gone on for a quarter-century.

The concert hall alone will cost £1,250,000 ($3,875,000). It is to be sound proof from the trains nearby and under it and from airplanes overhead, and will accommodate 3,450 persons.

The job has top priority and even trade unions are co-operating in its tempo by allowing labor-saving devices to be used.

Said contractor R. R. Costain: "Work is equivalent to the provision of 12 hp per man, which must represent a higher proportion than has ever been used before in any comparable operation. To achieve this it has been necessary to employ not merely standard equipment but to supplement it by the invention of numerous gadgets."

ANCIENT BUILDINGS

The government buildings in the Hague were founded in 1249 by William IV, Count of Holland.

Lt.-Col. Henry Tuttle SA Officer Dies

TORONTO, June 7 — (CP) — Lt.-Col. Henry Charles Tutte, 69, former public relations secretary for the Salvation Army, died Tuesday.

Lt.-Col. Tutte came to Toronto from Vancouver two weeks ago. He had lived in Vancouver for a considerable period following his retirement in 1946.

A native of England, he was the son of pioneer Salvation Army officers. He came to Canada in 1904 and entered Salvation Army Training College in Toronto in 1908.

He was a frequent contributor to Salvation Army periodicals and the author of more than 200 published poems.

Survivors include Mrs. J. Sloan, Sarnia, a sister.

Plan To Abolish

Earlier, the chamber shoved its prorogation drive up another notch by pushing four more minor bills along their legislative path

Mr. Lapointe recalled that a parliamentary committee formed in 1937 to study abolition of capital punishment had decided that there should be no change. It had tried to determine if there was some form of punishment more humane than hanging.

"The type of murderer hanged," he said, "is usually a vicious, cold-blooded killer."

The crime itself was usually premeditated and committed for gain or for some sordid motive. While it was impossible to show through statistics just how much of a deterrent hanging was to murder, Canada's reputation for sure and swift justice had a deterrent effect on crime generally.

Rejects Request

In the veterans study, Mr. Gregg turned down opposition requests for establishment of a veterans committee in the 1951 session and said he felt there should be a committee only when there was important legislation requiring detailed study. At other times, the department should be free to consolidate legislation already adopted and polish its administration

He reported that more than 1,000 of the 1,415 survivors of the Canadian Expeditionary Force to Hong Kong now are receiving pensions while about 200 more are entitled to treatment for disability The department is keeping a close watch on the other 200 survivors, not now disabled

Card From Missing Son Brings Dad To Oshawa

OSHAWA, June 7 (CP) — A Father's Day card, written by a 17-year-old boy missing from his home five weeks, brought his fatther flying here Tuesday from Cookshire, Que.—just in hope.

Walter Dore said his son, Norman, disappeared without explanation after lunch on May 3.

The envelope of the card was postmarked Oshawa and the card was signed: "Your ungrateful son."

The boy is described as being five feet nine inches tall, weighing 120 pounds and with auburn hair.

$90,000 Skins Seized By Department

SUDBURY, June 7 (CP) — Some $90,000 worth of beaver skins seized recently in this area are being released to dealers, lands and forest department officials said Tuesday. They said the furs were seized because their American buyer had not taken out an export licence.

Officials were inclined to discount earlier reports that the buyer was linked with a fur-smuggling ring. They indicated, however, that a charge will be laid against the New York man if he returns to Canada. They did not identify him.

Officials said he made only partial payments on the furs and at least half the furs have already been released. They emphasized that the furs were trapped legally and bought legally by Canadian dealers. Only the American buyer was at fault.

The New Yorker, travelling by plane, was said by officials to have visited Sault Ste. Marie, Cochrane, Sudbury, North Bay and Pembroke recently.

Seized In North Bay

At the same time, department officials disclosed that a shipment of 1,235 skins, bound from Sudbury to New York, was seized two weeks ago in North Bay.

They alleged that 1,831 skins were purchased without a buyer's permit in Cochrane and 2,072 in the Sudbury area. In each case, the furs were valued at rougly $45,000 altogether. It is reported that the pelts were shipped to freezing-locker plants in several United States cities.

The department's officers said they believe the aim of the transaction was to escape payment of a $7.50 manufacturing tax which the U.S. government levies on each imported beaver pelt.

They also said charges of selling to an illegal buyer are pending against at least one Northern Ontario fur dealer.

Study Labor Unity

NEW YORK, June 7 (AP)—A CIO committee will meet soon with representatives of the AFL to try to agree on a program leading to "labor unity." Philip Murray, CIO president, announced the appointment of the committee Tuesday. A similar group already has been formed in the AFL.

Alack! 36 Smelly Minnows Arrive Dead In Oak Leaves

By NICK NICKELS, Outdoor Editor

Thirty-six dead and very smelly mummichog minnows were exhumed from dry oak leaves this morning at the Kiwanian Industrial Fair booth by L. L. Maguire, advertising manager of Outboard Marine company. In a second attempt to have dry-packed minnows shipped from Halifax to Peterborough in less than a week, it looks doubtful whether the Maritimers claim that they will live in dry leaves from 24 to 36 hours, is workable.

However, to give Blue Nosers the benefit of doubt, the reason for this second shipment being a failure can be traced to two factors. First, the ventilated package, which left Halifax by TCA on Tuesday morning, was shucked off at Montreal's Dorval Airport. In place of being switched to a Toronto aircraft, and there were two connecting flights, to connect with a Toronto-Peterborough train on Tuesday evening, the fish hung around Montreal and were put on two train connections via Belleville to Peterborough. Recipient of the shipment, Mr. Maguire, estimated the unnecessary lapse of time in travel was the undoing of the experiment.

Dead Bunch

He also thought the packaging this time did not contain enough dry leaf packing; the dead fish were bunched together in the square-cornered box. Had the box been round of the ice-cream type it might have eliminated the crowding of the fish which was fatal.

The story about the first shipment of which "Herkimer" survived to become star of the outdoor show last weekend, has caused much interest throughout the province. And because no one can yet fathom why some of the fish remained alive, Dr. S. A. Beatty, director of Halifax's fishery experimental station, explained:

"Leaves insulate them—keeps them cool and apart. They allow the air to circulate. There is nothing in the leaves as such to keep the fish alive—not any more than there is in dirty old rags."

Manager of Cleve's Sporting Goods store, Bev Piers of Halifax declares his mummichogs are especially hardy. He doubts whether Ontario's minows could be shipped the same way. Well, Peterborough may surprise him within a few days. Kawartha baitman Cy Hopkins is already experimenting with dry-pack chub and shiners, and if everything is in order he will prove the stamina of Kawartha bait by making a return shipment to Mr. Piers, possibly this weekend. This time, the rail-air routing will be meticulously worked out and alerted all the way down the line. The transportation battle, Ontario versus Maritime minnows, is on.

Nashua Paper Offers Land As Playground

Part of the Nashua Paper Company property will be used as a playground for children of the Braidwood Ave. neighborhood this summer.

George R. Clarke, manager, is placing the lot to the east of Nashua plant at the disposal of the city for the juniors of that district.

Incidentally, the expansive lawn to the west of the manufacturing buildings with the background of elms and shrubs has been a beauty spot all spring, trim, verdant, and a grand scenic surrounding for the new industrial estate.

There is a nominal rental of one dollar a year. The city will assume the playground equipment and supervision. This place is, to repeat, east of the factory, not west.

"That is a fine gesture by Nashua Paper," Mayor Swanston commented.

The appreciation of the council is expressed to the company and Mr. Clarke in a resolution by Aldermen Young and Burrows.

City Council Accepts Wilkes' Resignation

The resignation of Norman A. Wilkes as assessment commissioner was reluctantly accepted by the council Tuesday night.

"We regret that we have to accept it," said Ald. H. F. Waddell. "Mr. Wilkes is going to a better job (assessment commissioner) in Hamilton. In the short time that he has been here, Peterborough has had the benefit of his ability. He has strengthened the assessment department, and also the whole city building staff."

The Waddell motion was seconded by Ald. Dewart.

"Mr. Wilkes has made a lot of friends here," said Mayor Swanston. "He has done a fine job and has been a lot of help."

Mr. Wilkes requested that his duties terminate June 30, but the council of Hamilton has expressed its willingness, Mayor Swanston said, that he may remain here until the end of July. If the council needs his help at any time, the Hamilton council will permit him to come here for a few days.

In his letter, Mr. Wilkes thanked the council for the support he had received as assessment commissioner, and also for friendly relations with the council, the members of his department, the city hall staff, and also the encouraging interest of many citizens.

ON RECREATION COMMISSION

As recommended by the Recreation Commission, Arnold Olmstead was appointed a member of the commission by the council Tuesday night succeeding Dick Ouimet.

Jury Service Opportunity Says Judge

Serving as a juryman is a liberal education in itself, Judge D. B. Coleman of Whitby said Tuesday.

He was addressing the grand jury who must return bills on three criminal cases at the general sessions of the peace. Judge Coleman will preside this week and Judge S. L. Smoke will complete the sittings.

Judge Coleman said he was amazed to find people who shirked jury duty.

"When we realize how much the country offers and how little it asks of us, we should be gratified to serve," he said.

In Canada there is the right to live, work and go where we please, he stated. No country has more freedom.

Law Asks Little

"The law asks little of citizens but one thing that is asked is service on juries."

He suggested that the grand jury pay particular attention to the courthouse and the county jail. Most of the public buildings have been inspected recently by a grand jury and he felt they might be by-passed this time.

Gordon Langley of Burnham St. was appointed foreman by his fellow jurors. The 13 men are Ralph Adamson, Otonabee; Barry Ottewell, Monaghan Rd.; George Cook, Lakefield; George Henry, Bethune St.; Vernon Hunt, Aylmer St.; Charles Ireland, Smith; Orville Kennaley, Parnell St.; Mr. Langley; Melville Moncrief, Smith; Fred Metcalfe, Carlisle Ave.; John A. Mason, Armour Rd.; Harry Northrop, Anne St.; and Kenneth Kemp, Downie St.

3 Criminal Cases

Three criminal cases are listed: —James Zahodnik of Hamilton and his brother John of Toronto are charged with the assault occassioning actual bodily harm of James Hogan, formerly proprietor of the Melody Inn, two miles north of Lakefield.

In addition James Zahodnik is charged with assaulting Hazel Hogan, wife of the proprietor, in an argument that followed the ordering of coffee.

Francis McGrath, Charlotte St., and Cyril Gerster, Simcoe St., are being tried on charges of receiving nearly two tons of stolen copper wire.

William Holland, also of Peterborough, is charged with the theft of a diamond ring and diamond-studded brooch.

Brookdale People Ask Protection For Kiddies

Brookdale Home Owners' Association asked the council Tuesday night for measures of protection for their children in going to Queen Alexandra school, particularly in crossing No. 7 highway at its entrance into the city from the north.

They suggest police protection at certain periods when children are going and coming from school; alerting signs for motor traffic and conspicuous parallel crossing lines at Aberdeen Ave.

At the beginning of the fall term there will be fifteen kindergarden children starting off to school from the Brookdale homes.

Daley Tells Manufacturers Organized Labor Benefits

"No economic system brings more contentment, stability, happiness and prosperity than our own free enterprise, or capitalism if you will," the Hon. Charles Daley, Ontario's Minister of Labor, told Peterborough manufacturers at a dinner in their honor Tuesday put on by the city's Industrial Commission headed by H. L. Garner.

When you examine the tremendous development still to be done in the country's north and equal advances in the offing in industry comes the realization "We're a very fortunate people," Mr. Daley continued.

"Organization of labor is, in my opinion," the labor minister said, "a good thing and is definitely a part of the scheme of things today."

He said organized labor had done much to raise the standard of living of the country.

But, he went on, he thought it was possible for a country to have too many laws. He said it was a fallacy to think you could legislate an ideal state. Rather than a welter of interlacing laws he thought the greatest need was for tolerance and understanding in attaining happy labor-management relations.

Challenge To Both

It was a challenge to both management and labor to provide the opportunity "for those willing to work to be able to do so, and under good conditions." He said it was also very necessary to take care of those not able to work.

With this in mind he said he was going to meet with labor union officials and Peterborough Lock Co. officials to try to work out some solution to the strike now four weeks old.

He said, in Ontario there has been less industrial disruption than in any other area in the world of equal industrialization.

"Here," he continued, "it is not inculcated in the minds of the people that the world owes them a living or that they can get something for nothing."

But here in Ontario a man's skill, initiative and ability can earn its greatest rewards.

Mr. Garner, acting as chairman at the dinner, welcomed the manufacturers and members of the city council who had been invited along with Mayor Max J. Swanston. He outlined the work and the aims of the Industrial Commission to help strengthen local industry and attract new industry to the city.

He said A. Plaskett, president of the Kiwanis Club and Bill Ovens, chairman of the club's industrial exhibition committee, who were responsible for organizing the exhibition deserved congratulations for their efforts.

Mr. Daley was introduced by the Honorable Harold Scott, Minister of Lands and Forests, and thanked by Percy Dallin.

GRATEFUL TO CITY

Mayor Swanston and the members of the council received last night a letter from Hon. Louis St. Laurent thanking them for the many courtesies and kindnesses shown to himself, his wife and daughter on their visit to Peterborough May 20 for the opening of Civic Hospital. He also expressed his gratitude for the city's gift of a made-in-Peterborough carpet.

Lawn Bowlers Donate $250

Members of the Peterborough Lawn Bowling Club donated $250 to the Manitoba Relief Fund Tuesday following a club collection.

This and other donations to the fund have boosted Peterborough's citizens' help to Winnipeg and Rimouski to nearly $15,000.

By Tuesday night the Examiner had acknowledged the receipt of $3,757.95 which it has passed on to the Manitoba Flood Relief Fund headquarters in Winnipeg.

All contributions of $2 or more are being published in the paper. Following are some of the contributions made Tuesday to the "Manitoba Flood Relief Fund" sent "Care of the Examiner":

Previous contributions	$3,497.95
The Peterborough Lawn Bowling Club	$250.00
H. T. Crosbie	$5.00
Overseas Club c/o Mrs. K. Davidson	$5.00
Total	$3,757.95

JUDGE BOOSTS RELIEF FUND

While charging the Grand Jury at Peterborough County Court House Tuesday afternoon, Judge D. B. Coleman of Whitby called attention to the flood disaster in the Red River Valley. "I'm sure that the people in the county and city of Peterborough will do their utmost to help," he said. He asked that generous donations be given to the relief fund."

Six Citizenship Applicants Required Deny Communism

Six Peterborough residents were recommended for citizenship Tuesday by Judge D. B. Coleman of Whitby.

Three of them were men and they were asked—among other questions—whether or not they had ever been communists. All replied "no" and expressed themselves as satisfied with the democratic way of life.

Two of the men were Chinese —Yee Pork Shung, proprietor of the Hollywood Cafe and Hum Jem Sing of the De Luxe Cafe. Both have been Peterborough residents for a number of years and have made several trips to China

Mr. Yee first came to Canada in 1913 and he settled here permanently in 1934. He is married and has a wife and two children in China.

Mr. Hum, who returned from China in December, also has a wife and two children still there.

Andrew Christian Jensen, a 60-year-old carpenter who lives on Park St., was asked if he were willing to bear arms in defence of his adopted country. He came from Denmark in 1927.

Mr. Jensen said he was prepared to fight for Canada and told Judge Coleman he had never been a Communist.

The three women recommended for citizenship after their petitions had been heard were Mrs. Norma Marguerite Dinesen, Park St., Mrs. Rita Lucille Dinesen, Carlisle Ave., and Mrs. Wilma Eleanor Dinesen, also of Carlisle Ave. All of them were born in Canada and married Danish citizens.

Want Steel Fence To Bar Trampers At Confederation

If the Department of National Defence is willing to contribute part of the cost of $1,295, city council intends to place a steel fence along the west side of Confederation Park.

"I think we could wait until we get word back from Lt.-Col. Max Clarke as to the Department's willingness to assume a share of the cost," Mayor Swanston suggested at the council meeting Tuesday night. "In the meantime, members of the council should arrange to go up there with the parks superintendent, and see what he is proposing to do."

Ald. Herbert Young agreed to this reference to the military authorities. He had explained the purpose of the fence, as protection for the park, and moved that the council approve the expenditure.

Tramp Lawns

Armar Butcher, parks superintendnt, has been trying to keep the public, including the students of PCVI, from tramping across the lawn, instead of walking around by paved strip through the park.

"Can't we built a sidewalk at less than the fence will cost?" Ald. J. E. Gillespie enquired.

Ald. Young said the walk along the pedestrian path worn in the grass "wouldn't do any good."

Ald. Gillespie: "You lay a sidewalk where people naturally walk."

Ald. Young: "It is only 25 feet along McDonnel St. to the concrete walk that is laid through the park, but they won't do it."

Students and the public generally prefer the short cut. It is also said the Collegiate young people swarm across the grass into the park, strew lunch and other paper there, and generally prevent the parks department from keeping Confederation Square as neat and green as Mr. Butcher wishes it to be.

Steel and Stout

Ald. Young said Mr. Butcher had interviewed Mr. C. S. Browne, principal of PCVS but without effect. The fence is the only alternative. It will be of steel and stout. Eventually it will be obscured by a hedge. When set up it will be painted green.

That's the Butcher proposal, but it appeared Tuesday night to have been hung up for the present until the council learns whether the Defence Department is willing to pay any part of the cost.

Obituary

FREDERICK WILLIAM SMETHURST

Born and educated in England, Frederick William Smethurst, husband of the former Alice Mary Bleakley, died today in hospital after a short illness. He was in his 73rd year, and lived at 70 Lee St.

A veteran of the 93rd Battalion, Mr. Smethurst was born in Manchester, the son of the late Isaac Smethurst and Elizabeth Eastwood. He was a member of St. Luke's Anglican Church, and had lived in Peterborough 38 years.

He is survived by his widow, three daughters, Mrs. R. Nolan (Alice), Mrs. A. Hann (Evelyn), Mrs. W. Merrett (Elizabeth), and one son, Alfred, all of Peterborough; one sister, Mrs. W. Brown of Toronto, and 13 grandchildren.

Funeral service will be Friday at 2 p.m. in Comstock's funeral home, Rubidge St., the Rev. Walter Gilling officiating. Burial will be in Little Lake Cemetery.

SPIREA IN BLOOM

The spirea hedge at King Edward School is coming into bloom, and will be heavy with its white flowers before the end of the week.

Two Ontario Ministers Open Varied Industrial Display

The Peterborough Centennial Industrial Exhibition opened with a big splash but not so many swimmers in the Armouries Tuesday night when only a fair crowd turned out to hear the Hon. Harold Scott, Minister of Lands and Forests and Minister of Labor Charles Daley officially open the fair sponsored by the Kiwanis Club.

But for those who came the industries of Peterborough put on a fine show which many people will be interested to see in the next three nights the fair is open.

Peterborough started with just one industry brought into being by Adam Scott, but, in the more than 100 years since, 86 industries have been added to the scene, said Mr. Scott.

"During the past century, some industries have passed out of the scene owing to changing economic conditions. But other new processes have sprung up in their place," he pointed out.

"The fact that new industries came in is a tribute to past and present municipal governments because industry only comes to places which are active and thriving communities with sound, honest municipal governments and pleasant surroundings for their staffs to live in," Mr. Scott said.

The Hon. Mr. Daley said he wanted to congratulate Peterborough and its industries on behalf of the Ontario government on the development they have displayed and the exhibition they were putting on.

24 Industries Display

Twenty-four of the city's industries put on interesting displays of their work and their products.

The Canadian General Electric Company showed giant electrical equipment including generators, current breakers and insulators which stood higher than a tall man.

One of the displays which drew the greatest number of spectators was that put on by the Department of Lands and Forests with realistic illustrations of the four phases of their work.

Handsome pheasants of different varieties and red foxes strutted their stuff in wire cages for the onlookers. A model lake and surrounding country complete with cottages and summer resorts and even fishermen was set up in the foresters' booth.

School Students Work

Another top attraction was the display of work of the boys and girls of the city's public schools and the Vocational department of PCVS.

Beautifully finished coffee tables and end tables and even an upholstered chair showed what the student wood workers could do. Finely turned tools and machine parts made in the collegiate machine shop showed equal skill by boys working in the machine shop.

Girls of all public school grades and of the vocational school were showing a colorful display of their handiwork with a needle and sewing machine.

Specially constructed Johnson and Erinrude motors in action were set to show how the motors worked, in the Outboard Marine booth.

The Western Clock Co. showed some of the clocks turned out in the first weeks of their production in Peterborough.

Spectators had a glimpse into a parlor of more than 50 years ago in the show put on by the Peterborough Art Association.

Tuesday night's door prize, an Outboard Marine motor, was won by Alex Beggs, 244 Lansdowne St., who held ticket number 231. Seven other prizes were handed out to holders of lucky tickets in a draw.

Lord Burghley Suggests Trade Solutions

SEIGNIORY CLUB, Que., June 7 (CP)—Lord Burghley, athlete turned financier, today gave his proposals for solution of current trade problems in an address to the annual meeting of the Investment Dealers' Association of Canada.

In brief: "If only 15 to 20 per cent of Canada's imports from the United States could be obtained from Britain and the sterling area, Canada's dollar gap would be bridged and at the same time Britain's problems would be eased."

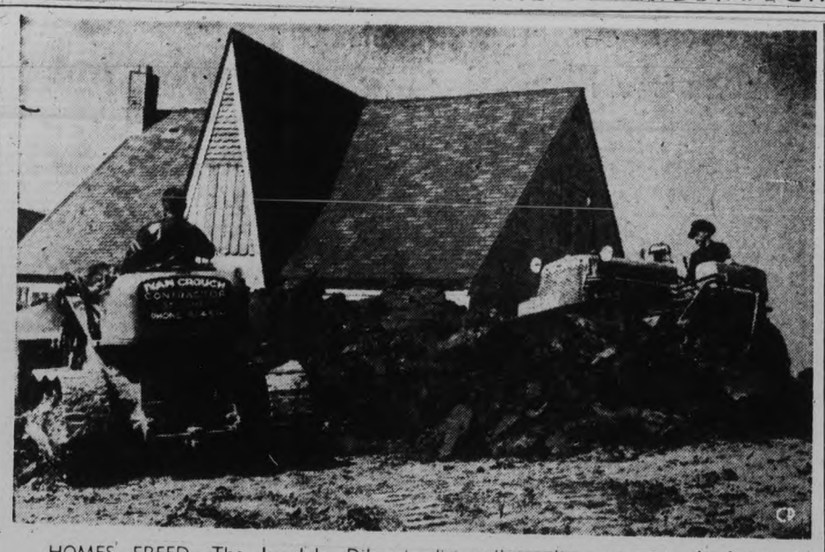
Further:

Canada might invest overseas part of her surplus earnings from the non-dollar world.

And encouragement might be given to migration of British workers to help in Canada's expansion.

"The workers are there and the technical skill is there. Given encouragement, assisted passages, help in settlement, opportunity to immigrate as family units (this would involve accepting a proportion of older immigrants, but they need not necessarily be a liability on the Canadian economy) there is no doubt that there would be a considerable response.

Must Negotiate



"It would be necessary to negotiate with British authorities for a relaxation of the stringent regulations on the amount of capital to be taken out of the country by the individual emigrant, in order to encourage the family unit to move, and to enable the skilled worker to bring his savings with him. The long-term advantage to Britain should enable some mutually satisfactory arrangement to be negotiated.

"In dealing with the situation in which we find ourselves today, nothing will be gained by half-measures. A bold program executed with vigor and thoroughness is required. We do well to constantly remind ourselves that it is fatally easy to ignore the wider issues at stake under the pressure of day-to-day events."

Canada cannot solve her problems, said Lord Burghley, through transactions only with the United States.

"She can hardly expect the United States to absorb her huge agricultural surplus . . . in spite of the marked improvement in her trade deficit with the U.S., Canada's surplusses coincide too closely with U.S. surplusses to inspire confidence in the prospect of permanent solution along these lines."

Lord Burghley is the eldest son and heir of the Marquess of Exeter, and in 1928 won the 400-metre Olympic hurdles at Amsterdam.

HOMES FREED—The Lyndale Dike, which held back flood waters on the Red River from Norwood homes, is being removed. Here bulldozers chew away the great dirt wall to allow access to the homes it surrounded. Removal of the dike was urged by residents of St. Boniface, anxious to return to their homes.

Charges Government "Passing The Buck"

OTTAWA, June 7 — (CP) — Clarie Gillis, CCF member of the Commons for Cape Breton South, Tuesday night accused the government of "passing the buck" on the question of combatting unemployment.

In an address on the CBS's program of free time for political parties, he said Canada has a dangerous unemployment problem which demands immediate federal action.

On the same program, Hazen Argue (CCF, Assiniboia) said the government "stands idly by while our markets slip away and the spectre of agricultural surpluses returns to haunt the producer."

Winnipeg Man Father Of Year

TORONTO, June 7 — (CP) — Gordon Pollon, of Winnipeg, has been chosen Canadian Father of the Year and given the annual $100 award from the Canadian Father's Day Council.

The council said the award recognizes "his unselfish efforts in the face of personal difficulties to man the Winnipeg dikes" during the recent flood crisis.

"That he saw his family to safety and then carried on his duties side by side with his neighbors, though grievously ill (with a throat ulcer), is an action worthy of note," the committee said of the printing firm employee.

Pollon's own five-room bungalow, which cost $8,000 last year, will need at least $4,000 worth of repairs, exclusive of the cost of replacing furniture and other belongings.

Movie Column

Actress' Life Dogged By Ill Fortune

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, June 7 (AP)—She seemed to be a girl who was amazingly lucky, and yet her whole life was dogged by ill fortune. That was Jean Harlow, who died 13 years ago today.

"No matter what I do, I always end up on page one," sighed the platinum blonde. And she was right. In the eight short years that she flashed across the Hollywood scene, she created an impression that is still vivid in the public mind.

Born Harlean Carpentier, she took her mother's maiden name for her film career. But Hollywood did not immediately recognize her talents. She played bits and bathing beauties.

Grandpa Interferes

Her career nearly ended when her grandfather in Kansas City saw her on the screen in lacy black underthings. He protested and she got a release from her contract. After dropping out of films, she was signed by Howard Hughes to play the vamp in "Hell's Angels."

Then she soared to the top, her platinum tresses sending millions of American women to the drug store for peroxide.

While her movie luck was great, love was an elusive thing for Jean. At 16, she ran away from home to marry Chicago sportsman Charles McGrew and came to California. They were divorced two years later.

In 1932, she married Paul Bern, film executive. A month later, his nude body was found on the bathroom floor of their Beverly Hills home, a bullet in his temple and the gun in his hand. He left a cryptic note:

"Dearest dear: Unfortunately, this is the only way to make good the frightful wrong I have done you and to wipe out my abject humiliation. I love you. P.S.—You understand that last night was only a comedy."

Great Love

The following year, the actress married cameraman Hal Rossen, but a divorce followed a few months later.

Perhaps her greatest love was William Powell. She and the actor had the same kind of humor and enjoyed each other's company tremendously. But whatever plans they had for marriage ended with her death June 7, 1937.

Powell was at her bedside, trying to comfort her in the last hours as uremic poisoning spread to her brain. Doctors gave her two blood transfusions but her breathing faded and stopped. She was only 26.

Toronto Home Aids Refugees

TORONTO, June 7 — (CP) — Flood or fires—it makes no difference to the McCanns.

The East-Central home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack McCann has been a haven for three weeks for five Winnipeg flood victims. Now they've left and 11 victims of a fire have moved in.

The McCanns were hosts to Mrs. Nellie Kelsch, of Winnipeg, and her four children until the end of May. By Monday their house returned to its normal routine with the Kelschs on their way back to the flooded Manitoba city.

Then later the same day in trooped 11 weary fire refugees, the clothing they wore their only possessions. At the head of the new procession was Mrs. Allan Needham, Mrs. McCann's sister.

The Needhams were burned out of their Palgrave, Ont., home some 45 miles northwest of Toronto. Trapped in the two-room cabin were a pet dog and cat.

Criticizes Canadians For Negative Attitude

MONTREAL, June 7—(CP)—Merrill Denison, United States playwright and author, said Tuesday night that Canadians have a negative attitude towards their own achievements.

Addressing the second annual general meeting and conference of the Canadian Public Relations Society, he said Canadians appeared to have delfberately adopted "a national cult and intellectual dullness."

Many Canadians take greater pride "in the things they are not and have not done than in the things they are and have done."

A resident of Toronto for several years, Mr. Denison said that Canadians seemed either ignorant or curiously indifferent to the country's accomplishments.

TWO MOTHERS—Edgar Retter (centre) 18-year-old Estonian orphan who recently escaped from a Russian internment camp, sits beside his two new "mothers." Retter tried to get into Canada as a stowaway but was held by immigration authorities. Then two women, Mrs. Adele Gruneau (right), an official of the Estonian Society in Montreal, and Mrs. Margaret Torunski (left), a German who has a farm in Ahuntsic, Que., offered to adopt him. The immigration department reviewed his case and decided to admit him.

Places Wreathes

TORONTO, June 7 (CP) — Arthur Van Koughnet, who attended Sir John A. Macdonald's funeral in Kingston, 59 years ago, placed a wreath Tuesday on Sir John's monument in Queen's Park here. Mr. Van Koughnet, who says he's "well past the three score and 10," has down through the years paid similar annual tribute to the man who was Prime Minister at the time of Confederation.

Labor, Industry Urged To Co-operate

MONTREAL, June 7 (CP) — Organized labor and industrial leaders must think, plan and work in terms of community values, the Rev. Dr. J. R. Mutchmor of Toronto, secretary of the Board of Evangelism and Social Service of the United Church of Canada, said Tuesday.

In an address on "The Church and Industry" presented at the annual meeting of the Montreal and Ottawa Conference of the Church, he deplored "stalling" in negotiations between the heads of industry and labor.

"Small grievances may be magnified. Some industries with high assets feel they can stand a strike—they may welcome or even provoke industrial strife." He urged the solving of these difficulties through good will.

"Canada's little people—the organized and unorganized workers in industry—are being caught in a giant squeeze caused by a free-for-all drive for gain and power between management and labor, Dr. Mutchmor charged.

He called upon churches to spearhead local action to end competition in industry which has led to widespread unemployment.

Mrs. Chas. M. Scott First Appointee National Convener

Firs appointment of a Peterborough members of IODE to the National executive was made at final sessions of the annual meeting of the National Chapter at Montreal when Mrs. C. M. Scott was named Convener of Work in India.

Mrs. Scott is the present regent of 57th Regiment Chapter of Peterborough and is a councillor on the Provincial Chapter executive. She did live in India for 17 years while her husband, Dr. Scott, was serving as medical missionary.

As national convener she will be responsible for promotion of interest in India throughout the Dominion, working through the ten provincial conveners. The present project of IODE is the translation of nurses' textbooks into Hindu, in the mid-Indian area, and a large contribution toward this work was made this year. The organization has given aid to the Canada Wing of a school at Poona, and an interdenominational hospital at Nasik.

Chabinies-Sul

Natives of Poland, Maria Sul and Jozef Chabinies, were married Saturday in St. Peter's Cathedral in a ceremony performed by a Polish priest from Toronto. The bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Sul are now living in Peterborough also.

She wore a lovely bridal gown of white satin made on princess lines with lace panels in the skirt and an over-shoulder yoke of the lace set-in in pointed design, and finished with a small collar of satin. Her train-length veil of embroidered net was caught to a pearl-studded tiara and her bouquet of white roses was backed with white plumes. Her two bridesmaids wore frocks of pastel blue and green with headbands of matching flowers and carried pink roses.

The groom was attended by two Polish friends.

The couple will live at 277 Aylmer St.

Robertson-Hutton

In the rectory of St. Mary's Church, Lindsay, Saturday, the Rev. Charles Gay solemnized the marriage of Helen Gertrude, daughter of Mr. Thomas Hutton of Lindsay and the late Mrs. Hutton, and Reginald Lorne Robertson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. J. Robertson, Peterborough.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was wearing a powder blue suit with navy accessories and corsage of pink roses. She was attended by her sister, Mrs. Molly Hawkins who wore a navy suit with navy and white accessories and yellow carnations.

Mr. George Mongraw was groomsman.

Mr. and Mrs. Robertson will live at 57½ Hunter St. E., Peterborough.

Stella Hall Wed At Westwood To Kenneth Leckie

St. Michael's And All Angels Anglican Church at Westwood was the setting on Tuesday afternoon for a lovely wedding, solemnized by the Rev. P. A. Rickard of Ena Stella Hall to Mr. Kenneth Alexander Leckie of Peterborough, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Leckie. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur W. Hall of Asphodel township.

Lilacs and tulips with banking of ferns decorated for the occasion. Mr. Jack Godfrey played the wedding music and Mrs. Wm. Morris sang, at the signing of the register, "O Perfect Love."

The bride's gown of white satin had wide bands of lace set in layers on the skirt front from waist to hem, the back falling in soft folds which extended in a slight train. A nylon yoke inset in the bodice was edged with over-shoulder folds of the satin and the long sleeves were finished with points over the hands. Her train-length veil of silk net fell from a tiara of satin and pearls and she carried a bouquet of American beauty roses. Mr. Hall gave his daughter in marriage.

Maid of honor was the groom's sister, Miss Helen Leckie, frocked in mauve nylon over satin and wearing a cap of matching net with flowers. Her bouquet was of mauve and yellow 'mums. Miss Lillian Wilson, also of Peterborough, was the bridesmaid and wore a gown of pink lace and headdress of pink net and she carried pink carnations with white 'mums. Little Carol Hopkins of Havelock as flower girl was dressed in yellow dotted Swiss voile, the full skirt caught up at the hemline with bows, and had a wreath of flowers on her cap. She carried a nosegay of pansies and lily of the valley.

Attending the groom was Clarence Chamberlain and ushering was Ted King, both of Peterborough.

A reception was held in the Westwood Town Hall for about 50 guests, mostly from Peterborough, followed by a dance with about 200 attending. The bride's mother was dressed in wine silk faille and wore grey accessories and a corsage of Talisman roses. The groom's mother was in grey silk with navy hat and accessories and had red roses.

The bride and groom are taking a trip to Niagara Falls on which the bride is wearing a teal blue gabardine suit, blue felt hat and black accessories.

They will live at 422 Edison Ave.

What's Right

A friend of your wife is visiting in your home.

WRONG: Jump to perform the little courtesies for the visitor, but don't bother about them when it is your wife who is starting to move a chair or whose cigarette needs lighting.

RIGHT: Be every bit as courteous to your wife as you are to other women.

MR. AND MRS. ROBERT O. BROWN of Kingston, pictured after their marriage which took place Saturday in Trinity United Church. The bride is the former Hazel Rennie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Rennie of Pontypool. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Brown of Deseronto. —Garfield Studio Photo.

Dawson-Ball Wedding Rites

A double ring wedding ceremony in St. Andrew's United church at Millbrook Saturday united Melba Gertrude, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Melville W. Ball, and Roy Clarke Dawson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Dawson, all of Millbrook.

A floral setting of tulips and lilacs was arranged at the altar where the Rev. T. G. Husser officiated. Miss Mabel Clarry of Peterborough, played the wedding music as she had done for the bride's grandmother, Mrs. I. W. Larmer. The soloist was Mr. Edward Hewitt, who sang "The Lord's Prayer" before the ceremony and "Because" at signing of the register.

The bridal gown of white was fashioned of embroidered marquisette with satin panels in the skirt and a yoke of net at the neckline was outlined with seed pearls and heart-shaped medallions. She wore a full length veil of silk net, embroidered with seed pears, which was gathered to a coronet of pearl-trimmed velvet leaves and she carried red roses.

Mr. Ball gave his daughter in marriage and she was attended by her sister, Miss Leona Hall as maid of honor, the groom's sister, Miss Margaret Dawson as bridesmaid, and her younger sister, Sharon Ball as flower girl.

The groom's brother, Mr. Brenton Dawson, was his attendant and a young brother, George Dawson, carried the rings. Ushering were the bride's brothers, H. I. and A. J. Ball, and the groom's cousins, James Dawson and Wm. Moncrief.

Frocks worn by the maid of honor and bridesmaid were of yellow and mauve marquisette in bouffant style and they had matching caps of net trimmed with pearls. The flower girl's dress was of green organdy with ruffle trim, the long full skirt with a scalloped edge, caught up in front to show a lace-edged slip and she wore a headband to match. Each carried a bouquet of spring flowers.

The bride's mother chose a gown of navy mesh and large hat of navy straw and she wore pink roses. The groom's mother wore a dress of mauve sheer with a black hat trimmed with lilacs and a corsage of roses. Both assisted the bridal party in receiving the guests at the bride's home.

When leaving later on a wedding trip to United States, the bride was wearing a turquoise crepe dress with white hat and accessories and a grey topcoat. On return they will live in Millbrook.

London Show Gives Clues To Fall Fashion Highlights

By ALISON SETTLE

Second week of the "London Fashion Fortnight" opened after a successful preliminary week of buying. Australian, Canadian, and American buyers, with purchasers from 31 other countries, have placed satisfactory orders.

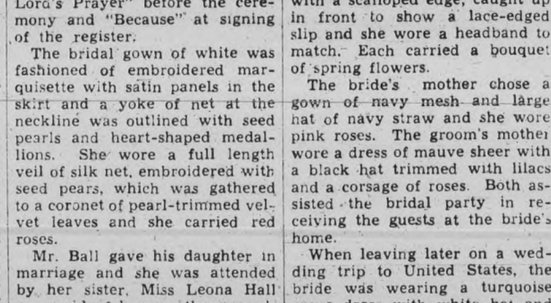
The concerted showings are in the main by manufacturers in the lower price brackets, but furs, millinery and jewellery associations are also staging displays. At the higher end of the model wholesale houses, whose designs stem either from Paris or from their own highly-paid British designers (this especially for suits and coats), are showing in their own salons while giving united receptions to visiting buyers. A reception to show the jewellery and silverware talent of England at St. Guthurun's House off Cheapside ushered in further evenings of entertaining, but during this week these will be mainly private parties to limited numbers.

All the clothes being bought are, of course, autumn and winter ranges and some of the fabrics, at the better end of the trade, are magnificent. The reversible coatings have won high praise for their makers. Coat colourings include tortoiseshell shades blended with blacks and greys, greens (an oakleaf green being specially favoured), moles with yellow overchecking mole with black and pale grey overchecks, and many greys with yellow. At the inexpensive end there is a tremendous amount of peony purple being shown, a totally unexpected colour but a high favourite with corduroy coatmakers.

Coat lines at the inexpensive end are mainly swaggers with detachable belts. At the top end buyers are looking for modified swaggers with foldback fronts showing a broad line of contrasting colour. They approve box coats and dustcoats with vast, lowplaced pockets. There are also excellent wraparounds with small collars. One of the few notes of criticism from the visiting buyers concerned the many over-sized, fancy collars shown in the cheaper ranges, at a time when Paris has moved away from big to quite small collars.

Fabrics in the best designed coats include camelhair reversible with tartan, a material which has gained high praise, also some splendid "tapestry tweeds", which are tweeds overchecked with raised patterns of knobs or ratines.

The best suits show revers opening to the waist, the buttons fastening below the waistline, which is usually marked by a minute dogslead belt. Skirts are pleated or plain, almost invariably slim.



Among the best dresses shown are those in which the bodice lines are deeply cut out, filled in with matching or contrasting vestees. There are many apron fronts, often overlapping pleated backs, but the absence of permanent pleating in Britain was at first mentioned as a matter of concern by buyers. As the majority of the models shown are in wool and American-style permanent pleating can be used only on synthetic fabrics, the matter proved to be not as serious as it seemed, judging by the initial complaints. It is also conceded that British semi-permanent pleating, when done by the best firms, exceeds anything to be found elsewhere.

Sleeves of dresses are now mainly set in, often lightly padded but not in any sense squared, the lines gently sloping.

The evening dresses shown, other than in the private salons of high-class dress firms are mainly priced at very low sums, a surprise both to home and overseas buyers, for this is a market which Britain has neglected for some years. At the top end of the market some rich fabrics are used, mainly with halter tops and pleated skirts of full length, colours being richly sombre.

The raincoat display shows a changed attitude. Gone are the old dull raincoats which matched the British winter skies; in their place are bright colours in proofed gabardines, Egyptian cotton cambrics, rubberized spun silks, slipper satins and rayon crepes. Colours varied from cherry reds through blues and greens to tortoiseshells. Blacks had details in gay colour contrasts. Collars included high Regency shapes, some shoulder capes were shown, and some of the most charming in the display by the "Proofed Garment Manufacturers Association", included companion hats like little jockey caps.

DOROTHY DIX

Husband Thief Faces Battle With Loving, Anxious Wife

DEAR MISS DIX: My husband is 29 years old. Last summer a 17-year-old girl went to work for him and they fell in love with each other. He himself admits that it is probably infatuation on his part. Strangely enough, the girl's mother does all she can to encourage the affair. Asks him to her house all the time. Cooks up good things for him to eat. Even went so far as to tell him that if he would take out separation papers he could stay at her house all he wanted to.

My friends think I am crazy not to leave my husband, but I love him more than anything in the world. I realize he has done wrong, but I don't think he altogether to blame. Don't you think that if I stick to him through this affair he will love me more than ever after it is over?

Dorothy Dix

DESPERATE WIFE

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: You are meeting a dangerous situation with courage and wisdom and if you will just stand to your guns you will win out. Nine women out of ten lose their husbands under similar circumstances.

Holds Trump Card

The wife always has one trump card in her hand. That is her marriage certificate. Her husband can't divorce her as long as she behaves herself, and the other woman can't marry him unless he does. That fact alone should make even a jealous wife think a long time before she goes to the divorce court and so hands her husband over to her rival.

But the point is that you do love him and you can save him, and in course of time he will get tired of philandering and settle down into the most devoted of husbands and will forget that he ever loved any other woman but you. For it is a curious thing that a man can break his wife's heart with his little affairs and still be absolutely faithful to her in his heart.

There are two good reasons for a wife's sticking to a philandering husband instead of throwing him overboard as he deserves. The chief one is that she does not secure her happiness by divorcing him if she loves him. The decree absolute does not heal the hurt in her heart, nor fill the lonely places in her life, and she is less unhappy having a little of his society than she is entirely separated from him.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: What do you think of a sarcastic girl who always says something that makes you wish to Heaven you were not in her presence? I mean the kind of girl, who, if you pay her a compliment, always intimates that she sees through you and knows you are doing it in order to get some profit for yourself.

POP

ANSWER: I think the sarcastic girl cuts her throat with her own tongue. Everybody is afraid of her, and she has in particular the worst technique in the world in dealing with men, for they stand in greater dread of her than they do of a roaring lion.

There are two kinds of sarcastic girls. One is the girl who has a knack of wisecracking and who thinks she is witty when she says rude things to people. She thinks she makes herself admired by holding people up to ridicule and making them figures of fun for others to scoff at.

The other type of sarcastic girl is the one who is socially inept. She doesn't know what to say nor how to say it. She has no graciousness of manner and so she takes refuge in brusqueness. She does not know how to meet courtesy nor affection, so she turns them away from her door.

A wise girl is never sarcastic. She bites her tongue off rather than make a snappy comeback, no matter how great the temptation, and she doesn't throw any doubt on the sincerity of a man's love-making. She acts as if she believes him.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: About twelve years ago the man who is now my husband was engaged to a very nice girl whom he loved dearly. Through a misunderstanding the engagement was broken and the girl married another man. A few years later we were married. Now this other woman has divorced her husband, with whom she was very unhappy. I know she still loves my husband and he loves her, although he is a good husband to me. But I do not really love him and I would be happier away from him. Now what shall I do? Tell him that I know he is miserable with me and give him a divorce and let him marry the woman he loves, or shall I stumble on wasting the best part of three lives?

A CONSTANT READER

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Page Solomon. But my plain and practical light on the subject is that the wise and moral thing to do would be to divorce your huband and thus straighten out the snarl with which Fate has entangled your lives. I see no reason why three people should be miserable keeping up the convention of a marriage that is no real marriage when they might all be happy if it were broken up.

British Parents Lack Facts About Sterility

By MURIEL NARRAWAY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, June —(CP)— Fertility clinics" are recommended in a report by Britain's Royal Commission on Population.

It is the opinion of the commission that more should be done to help childless couples who wish to become parents.

One suggestion is that an official paper be handed every couple who apply for a marriage licence, telling them "the facts of life."

It has been found that many married couples are ignorant of the most elementary facts of sexual techniques.

"Few people are aware of the importance of the male factor in fecundity," says the report.

"There is still a general tendency to regard the wife as being to blame (for sterility) and for the husband to refuse to submit to examination."

About 10 per cent of husbands examined were incapable of reproduction. Lack of confidence was another reported cause of childlessness.

Childless couples who submit to examination sometimes conceive almost immediately afterwards without any sort of treatment having been given.

Psychological Effect

"It may well be that the psychological effect of being reassured that they are a perfectly normal married couple has restored self-confidence," says the report.

It is the opinion of one big London hospital that many childless couples do not realize they can be helped.

"Already there are a number of fertility clinics in operation—but not enough," the report said. "We need them scattered about the country. And we need them staffed by specialists. Only they are really qualified to tackle the highly specialized business of fertility."

But here is the snag: "It is not easy to attract suitable qualified workers into this unremunerative field."

Another part of the report dealt with child mortality and said it was partly induced by many others not using the "mother's welfare" clinics.

If all mothers used the clinics infant deaths could be cut to 20 per 1,000 due to better feeding during pregnancy and better care at birth.

Care in this direction alone would have saved 11,000 babies in England and Wales in 1948.

7 OUT OF 57 HEINZ VARIETIES are money-saving MAIN COURSE MEALS

When meal-making time is crowded with so many other things to do—when food-budgets are stretched to the limit—when guests drop in unexpectedly and you have to whip up a snack—in fact, many times during a busy week you will thank your stars and the Heinz chefs for providing you with seven main course dishes that can be waiting on your pantry shelves, ready for emergencies. All four kinds of Heinz Oven-Baked Beans are now back on the market—old time favourites, all of them. To this delicious foursome Heinz has just added a new variety, Cooked Spaghetti with Meat, which makes a pleasing and satisfying variation from the long-established Heinz Spaghetti in Tomato Sauce with Cheese. Finally, to complete a group of 7 main course meals, there is Heinz Cooked Macaroni in Cream Sauce with Cheese, now made to a new, improved recipe.

The way Heinz bakes Beans is the way you like them best—tender with oven-baked goodness and steeped in Heinz own unequalled Tomato Sauce.

Some prefer the old-fashioned Pork and Beans which Heinz makes with the same rich tomato sauce and a generous portion of pork.

He-man appetites, which often hanker for strong flavours, find just what they're looking for in Heinz Oven-Baked Red Kidney Beans with Pork.

The latest of the four Heinz favourites to return to the market is the Boston Style tin, the beans drenched in Molasses Sauce, with Pork.

Here is one of the long-time best-sellers in the famous 57 family. Heinz chefs make their own delicious spaghetti, adding cheese and tomato sauce.

The newest variety to come from Heinz kitchens is this Cooked Spaghetti with Meat, containing beef, cheese, tomato sauce and fragrant spices.

Macaroni and Cheese, cooked as only Heinz can, is another economy dish, packed with flavour and nourishment, and so easy to fix.

6—In Memoriams

ARMSTRONG—In loving memory of my wife and mother, Alma Grace Armstrong, who passed away June 7th, 1949.
Those whom we love go out of sight,
but never out of mind;
They are cherished in the hearts of those they leave behind.
Loving and kind in all her ways,
Upright and just to the end of her
days.
Sincere and true in heart and mind,
Beautiful memories she left behind.
—Sadly missed and ever remembered by husband Raymond and son Richard.

BELL—In loving memory of Percy T. Bell, who passed away three years ago, June 8, 1947.
Gone dear father, gone forever,
How we miss your smiling face,
But you left us to remember
None on earth can take your place.
A happy home we once enjoyed
How sweet the memory still,
But death has left a loneliness
The world can never fill.
—Sadly missed by wife and family.

FENN—In loving memory of a dear mother, Kathleen Fenn, who passed away June 7, 1945.
Oft and oft our thoughts do wander
To the grave not far away,
Where we laid our dear mother.
Just five years ago today.
—Ever remembered by daughter Margaret and son-in-law Lawrence.

RONCO—In loving memory of a dear father, Joseph Ronco, who passed away June 7, 1931.
Loving and kind in all his ways,
Upright and just to the end of his days.
Sincere and kind in heart and mind,
What a beautiful memory he left behind.
—Sadly missed by His daughter Lucy and son-in-law George.

ROWNTREE—In loving memory of our dear son, Charles Rowntree, who passed away June 7, 1939.
Oh, what would I give to clasp your hand,
Your dear kind face to see,
Your loving smile, your welcome voice
That meant so much to me.
No one knows the silent heartache,
Only those who have such
Can tell of the grief that borne in silence
For the one I love so well.
—Ever remembered by his mother, Mrs. Ira Outwater, father, sister and brother.

Copper Coil Wire Case Before Petit Jury

A jury to try Francis McGrath, 34, of Charlotte St. and Cyril Gerster, 35, of Simcoe St., charged with receiving 15 coils of heavy copper wire while it was being transported from Kingston to the Peterborough plant of the C.G.E., was sworn in today by Sheriff J. A. Harstone. The two, who pleaded not guilty, are being tried at the court of general session in the County Building, and their case opened today.

W. J. A. Fair, KC, is defending McGrath and Gerster's counsel is I. E. Weldon, KC, of Lindsay and Toronto.

Robert Harrington, who was manager of the Peterborough depot of Smith Transport Co., told the court that he was called by city police at 3 a.m. Monday morning, Oct. 17, and when he went to the company's warehouse on Bethune Street he found a truck there, loaded with wire, and it appeared that the tarpaulin had been removed.

The previous day a truck had been loaded in Kingston with 112 coils of wire for delivery to the CGE in Peterborough.

Trucker's Evidence

James Metcalfe, trucker, of Bewdley, told the court today that he had been approached by Hyman Albert, scrap metal dealer, at his home on Sunday, Oct. 15 last year, to drive his truck to Peterborough that evening and then to drive to Lindsay, to be there by 8 or 8.30 the following morning.

He accordingly drove to Peterborough, to Albert's junk yard on Bethune St. and there met Gerster, who told him to drive to Anthony's freight shed. He drove there and McGrath came along and picked up the truck, leaving him to sit in his (McGrath's) car. McGrath had said he would be back in about 20 minutes.

Police Arrive

Before McGrath returned the city police arrived and Metcalfe was taken to the police station.

Metcalfe told the court he did not know whether his truck was to be empty or loaded, for the journey to Lindsay? He had asked Gerster if anything stolen was going to be put on the truck and the answer had been no. If there was going to be stolen goods, then he would not have allowed his truck to be used.

Constable Douglas Farthing said he had seen Metcalfe's truck drive west on Hunter St. and south on Bethune St. to the Smith Transport warehouse. He had also seen a Smith's Transport truck drive away from the warehouse.

15 Coils Found

Constable Donald MacKay said he found the Metcalfe truck, after speaking to McGrath and it contained 15 coils of copper rod, covered with a tarpaulin.

The constable quoted McGrath as saying he knew the truck was loaded by the way it handled, but did not know what the load was.

McGrath first made contact with the police when he found Metcalfe was not in his car when he returned. He went to the police station to ask if the keys to his car were there.

Members of the jury were J. H. Hiland, Smith; Allan Milburn, Smith; Deburke Sproule, Peterborough; Hector Latchford, N. Monaghan; Russel Little, Douro; Lionel Lipsett, Peterborough; Ewart Malcolm, Peterborough; Allen Reid, Otonabee; Thomas Hawthorne, Smith; Stanley Miles, Dummer; William Mackenzie, Peterborough and Cecil Harte-Maxwell.

W. J. Atchison

William John Atchison, 72, of Port Hope, who died May 23rd, was a resident of South Monaghan until four years ago. He is survived by his wife, the former Effie Murney, four daughters and three sons: Mrs. Arthur Bryan (Olive), Ida, Ontario; Reginal of South Monaghan; Mrs. George Tapscott (Cora), Dale; Leonard of Toronto; Mrs. George Dolley (Muriel) of Port Hope; Lloyd of South Monaghan; and Mrs. Gus Anstey (Audrey) of Port Hope; and two sisters, Mrs. George Bonner, Millbrook, and Mrs. Sid Todd of Cavan.

Park St. Drain Final Approval

As approved by the Ontario Municipal Board, the Park St. storm drain project received final warrant of the council Tuesday night.

The authorizing bylaw was given its third reading, thereby placing in the hands of City Engineer Chalmers the sanction of the municipality to proceed with this improvement as soon as he can undertake it.

The Park St. drain in the petitions for it and the neighborhood opposition to it, or rather to its financing, has been reported from time to time. The third reading of the bylaw introduced by Ald. Dodds is the final step of approach to the actual work.

Third reading was also given the bylaw for a sewer on Armour Road from Hunter St. to Douro St.; likewise first reading for sewers on Wolsley, Fairbairn and Wellington Streets.

Mrs. Moore Funeral

Funeral for the late Mrs. Sarah Ann Moore, 87, of 738 George St., was held on Tuesday at the Kaye Funeral Home. The Rev. M. J. Aiken of St. Andrew's United Church officiated and pall-bearers were Murray Herriott, Roy, Earl and Allen Moore, Douglas and Colin Baker. Burial was at Warkworth Cemetery where Raymond Moore and Leonard White acted as additional pall-bearers.

Strikes Forecast For New Zealand Show No Signs Of Materializing

AUCKLAND, N.Z., June 7 (CP) —Forecasts that a change of government after 14 years of Socialism would be followed by an industrial upheaval and a grave outbreak of strikes in New Zealand have so far proved unfounded.

In the six months since the National Party Government took office there has, in fact(been a high degree of industrial harmony.

Some observers even went so far as to predict, before the election, that if the Labor Government were defeated there would be a virtual workers' revolt in the Dominion. There were predictions of "direct action" and another election being forced in a short time.

There has been no sign of any such development so far. Instead, the long-simmering dissension in the industrial labor movement has resulted in domestic strife within the movement and the formation of rival national organizations. Meanwhile one of the most militant unions, the Waterside Workers' Union, has been accused by a labor leader of making a pact with the new government over the system of waterfront control.

Replying to this charge, Prime Minister Sidney Holland explained how the new government was going about avoiding industrial strife.

No Personalities

"The public will have been quick to notice that there has been a remarkable degree of industrial peace since the present government took office," he said "This is no fluke or accident. All the elements of serious industrial trouble have been present on several occasions, but the government did not indulge in a campaign of personalities that so often leads to trouble, but discussed the matter with both sides around the table, and trouble has been avoided.

"I am happy to say that we have found a considerable degree of reasonableness on both sides. Naturally strong views are held by both employers and employees, but the Minister of Labor, Hon. W. Sullivan, has succeeded in not allowing these differences to develop into the kind of trouble that in the past has caused such public upset and disastrous loss of wages.

"I wish to express my appreciation to employees' and employers' representatives for helping in the promotion of industrial harmony. They have great influence in their hands and they have used it wisely. Long may they continue to do so.

"The government will look forward to more conferences with the watersiders, the ship owners, and with any other body which desires to encourage and promote happy industrial relationships for the benefit of all sections of the community."

You might not believe it to look at this furniture, but this was once a modern, well-kept living room. F. Recksiedler gloomily inspects the havoc left behind by the flood in his home at Morris, Manitoba. "I could be working on my farm if my tractor wasn't under water," he told a Manitoba Flood Relief Fund reporter, when this picture was taken.

TORONTO, June 7 (CP) — A proposal that immediate talks on amalgamation be held by the 13 greater Toronto municipalities is made in a brief to be presented to the Ontario Municipal Board by York Township. The board is scheduled to sit June 19 to hear an application by Toronto for amalgamation with the 12 surrounding municipalities.

Makes Fastest Trip On Queen Elizabeth

LONDON, June 7 (Reuters)—Capt. Charles Ford, commodore of the Cunard Fleet, Tuesday night took the 83,000-ton liner Queen Elizabeth into Southampton after the fastest crossing he has made in her—and possibly his last.

Ford, master of the world's largest ship, doubts whether he will take her to sea again.

"I shall be 63—the normal Cunard retiring age—this month," he said, "but I have not yet been told whether this is my last trip or not. Some masters of the Queen have gone on for a time beyond the 63 age limit."

The Elizabeth crossed from New York in four days, 15 hours —an average of 28.81 knots.

2 Zahodniks On Trial For Assault

Fight At Melody Inn Night of Nov. 17 Described To Jury

The events of the memorable night of November 17 last year, when Jack Loucks was killed on the main street of Lindsay and there was a free-for-all at the Melody Inn, one-and-a-half miles north east of Lakefield, are being recounted again, this time at the court of general session at the court house.

James and John Zahodnick, who were with their brother Paul and William Yuzwa that night, are being tried on charges of assaulting Mr. and Mrs. James Hogan, the couple operating the restaurant and service station.

The trial of both men on the charge of assaulting Mr. Hogan opened today before Judge D. B. Coleman of Whitby and a petit jury comprising Douglas Mitchell, North Monaghan, Charles Wood, Otonabee, Robert P. McCabe, Peterborough, Stanley Kerneghan, Peterborough, Harold Hamilton, Peterborough, J. Howard Moebus, Peterborough, Joseph Murphy, Peterborough, Edward Johnston, Peterborough, Roy K. Irwin, Peterborough, Isaac K. Rattenbury, Peterborough, David Leether, Peterborough, and James Heffernan, Peterborough.

Hogan Testifies

Hogan told the court today, when questioned by Crown Attorney John Bradshaw, that the four men came into the restaurant and ordered four coffees. The three Zahodniks sat up to the counter and Yuzwa went behind the counter to play waiter. Hogan said he asked the men if they would mind waiting while the coffee was being made and James Zahodnik swore that "he didn't have to wait for any———."

As James Zahodnik said this he brought his fist down on a pack-

Will Announce Flood Aid Soon

WINNIPEG, June 8 (CP)—An initial federal contribution toward the cost of flood rehabilitation in the Red river valley will be announced within a few days Finance Minister Abbott said Wednesday.

He said the money probably will be paid before the end of June to the Manitoba government which will handle distribution among flood victims.

While he declined any specific estimate of flood damage in the worst Red river flood of a century, the finance minister told a press conference it is "fair to say the dollar damage in Manitoba will be considerably in excess of that in the Fraser valley in 1948."

(Fraser valley damage was about $11,000,000)

He said Ottawa will make a "substantial" contribution to the cost of rehabilitation and river-control projects to prevent a recurrence of this spring's flooding.

Call Out All Men Fight Flood At Rainy

FORT FRANCES, June 8 (CP) — All able-bodied men were called out today to sandbag the Point Park area of Fort Frances as Rainy Lake edged within a fraction of an inch of its all-time high.

High water which had already eaten away large chunks of shoreline began pouring over the road fronting a cluster of cottages. An east wind such as Wednesday's would cause serious damage to shoreline and property.

The huge J. A. Mathieu sawmill, four miles northeast of here on Rainy's shore, was closed down Wednesday night after a week-long battle to keep it open.

CNR spokesmen said the line is operating "with difficulty" over many flooded stretches of track. Bridges were weighted down with rails as water crept up on the trestles.

Allow Cabinet To Set Size Of Army

OTTAWA, June 8.—(CP). — The Commons has agreed to strip away parliament's traditional formal power to set the size of the regular army—but it still will have power of it indirectly, through control of defence expenditures. This agreement came Wednesday after Defence Minister Claxton said manpower has become far less important than equipment in modern miltary establishments. Mr. Claxton indicated, too, that Canada's regular forces are virtually at the ceiling intended for them in peacetime. The ceiling envisaged, he said, is 50,000. The three services now contain just about that many men.

The discussion arose as the House sped through a 251-clause bill to consolidate and modernize defence legislation in one act, so swiftly in fact that A. L. Smith (PC, Calgary West) complained that he missed 12 sections when he turned away to blow his nose.

Earlier the House gave final approval to a number of bills. They included one amending the Prairie Farm Assistance Act which provides crop failure bonuses, another amending the Militia Pension Act and another embracing Senate amendments to the Income Tax Act.

Study Every Clause

The rapid approval of the Defence Bill contrasted with the slow serious study by a special House committee that approved 40 amendments and thrashed over virtually every clause. It was that committee study that made

Says Wife Deserted Him Eden Granted Divorce

LONDON, June 8—(AP)—Former Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden won a divorce decree today by testifying that his attractive brunette wife deserted him in 1947 to live in the United States. Eden, whose political ambitions as Deputy Conservative leader may be jeopardized by divorce in straitlaced Britain, was granted a decree nisi in a five-minute hearing before Justice Francis Hodson.

The dapper, greying Eden—still handsome at 53—told the court in a firm voice that his wife insisted on visiting the United States in 1946, that he accompanied her there and that she then refused to return to her native Britain.

Mrs. Eden, 45, who spent most of her time since 1946 in the U.S. and Bermuda, was not represented at the hearing. She did not contest the action.

A decree nisi becomes absolute in six weeks under British divorce law, unless there is an objection raised in court.

Eden, who wore a dark blue suit, was the only witness at the hearing.

Letters from Mrs. Eden were produced in court, but not read. The former foreign secretary refused to comment as he strode quickly from the courtroom after the verdict was announced.

Gossip over the domestic split of the Edens has been common in London for many months. But friends of the deputy Conservative Leader speculated that he would avoid divorce because of the probable effect on his political career.

As the recognized deputy to Winston Churchill, Eden was in line for eventual leadership of the Conservative party—and the post of prime minister when and if the Tories regain power.

Some observers predicted that his five-minute appearance in divorce court today virtually ended any changes he might have had of ever becoming prime minister.

They recalled that the stamp of divorce, regardless of cause, was practically an unsurmountable barrier to leadership in the British government. No person who has been a party to a divorce suit —severely frowned upon by the Church of England — has ever been prime minister.

Find 5th Survivor In Sea Crash

LONDON, June 8 —(AP)—A fifth survivor and another dead crew member of a United States B-29 bomber were plucked from the North Sea today, nearly 24 hours after their flaming plane plunged into the water.

This left four men still missing from the crash, off the Norfolk coast of southeast England. Five of the 11-man crew have been picked up alive and two dead. Ships and planes pressed the hunt for the men still missing.

An RAF rescue launch found the fifth survivor, who was injured and suffering from his long stay in the cold water.

Walsh and Ebert, in a rubber dinghy, were pulled from the sea almost immediately by the British trawler Warren, which at the same time recovered the dead airman.

Allen and the fourth survivor were rescued early today by combined British - American search forces after the airmen had floated for more than 13 hours in "Mae West" life jackets.

Tiny Slice of New York Land Brings Million At Auction

NEW YORK, June 8—(AP)—A T-shaped piece of land no bigger than a cornpatch was sold Wednesday at auction for $1,292,500.

A part of the world's third tallest office building, the 66-storey "Sixty Wall Tower" in the heart of the Wall Street district, stands on the T-shaped tract and pays $58,000 a year rent to whomever owns the land.

A buzz of conversation died abruptly when auctioneer Daniel J. McElveney, Jr., banged his fist on the lectern and roared out the traditional opening.

"Nine hundred thousand," a voice barked.

McElveney seemed hurt.

"One million . . . One million fifty . . . one million two hundred thousand . . ."

Up and up the price jumped.

The auctioneer pleaded, spread his arms.

"One million hundred eighty-seven thousand five hundred!"

McElveney called another halt. Then, "All right," he said. "Going once . . . Going twice . . . Going for the third and last time . . ."

"Two-ninety," said a quiet voice, meaning $1,290,000.

"Ninety-two-fifty," said another voice.

McElveney's fist slammed down again—and the sale was made, by the New York Trust Company, as trustee for the Cortlandt F Bishop Estate, to the Demov, Callahan and Morris law firm for an undisclosed client.

Speedboat Upsets 1 Drowns, 2 Rescued

STURGEON FALLS, June 8 (CP)—Kenneth Tomlinson, 13, was drowned and two men narrowly escaped death when the speedboat in which they were riding overturned in the Sturgeon River near here Wednesday night.

Victor St. Amand, owner of the speedboat, was brought to hospital here suffering from shock. Terry Piche, third man in the boat, was not injured.

Two guides employed at a Sturgeon Falls hotel saw the boat keel over and reached the scene as the boy disappeared beneath the water. Herbert Genereaux and Emile Beaudette, the guides, rescued the two survivors.

Piche said the boat's motor was wide open as it made a fast turn and the three were thrown into the river.

Two Perish In Flames, 3 Injured

Seven Other Children Escape Safely, Cigarette Blamed

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., June 8—(CP)—Two young girls were burned to death early today in a fire that destroyed their home in adjacent Stamford Township. Three other persons were taken to hospital with severe burns. Dead are Arline Waugh, 16, who gave her life in a futile effort to save her sister, Fanny, 5.

In hospital are Mrs. Hazel Waugh, 36, mother of the girls; a son, Kenneth, 12; and a daughter, Sylvia, 7.

The father, Gordon Waugh, and seven other children ranging in age from one month to 14 years, escaped unharmed.

One of the children, 13-year-old Donald, said the blaze was caused by a cigarette. He said his mother apparently fell asleep while lying on a couch and smoking.

Arline's body was found just inside the front door. Fanny died in her bed.

Donald Waugh, who discovered the fire, quickly tossed his brother, Gerald, out the window. Kenneth threw Leslie out ond Sylvia tried vainly to rouse Fanny.

Driven Back

Michael McNeill, a neighbor, entered the small house on Church's Lane in an attempt to save Fanny but flames drove him out

Roger Hunt, St. John Ambulance instructor, was credited with saving the life of one-month-old Gwyendolin Waugh.

Hunt, who had given first aid to Mrs. Waugh and her son and daughter, before taking them to hospital, returned to the fire scene a second time. He was asked to look at the tiny black-haired baby who had been carried into the home of Mr. and Mrs. Michael McNeill, immediately behind the burning house. Hunt realized the child was near-

Eight Men Drowned As Truck In Ditch

COURTLAND, Calif., June 8 (AP)—At least eight men were drowned Wednesday night when a truck carrying more than 20 farm workers flipped over into an irrigation ditch near here.

Rescuers found seven dead after the truck was pulled from the ditch. Another died while being taken to hospital in Sacramento, 25 miles away. Three were in hospital and as many as six remained unaccounted for.

Soviets Appoint Four Civilians

BERLIN, June 8 — (AP) — Russia today named civilians to replace four military rulers in East Germany in a move apparently designed to bolster the prestige of the Communist East German state.

The changes accelerated the switch from military to civilian control in the Russian zone and were accomplished by indications that new responsibilities were being delegated to the area's Communist - controlled German government.

Allied observers believed, however, the changes did not mean that Moscow was loosening its grip on East Germany but rather was pulling the Kremlin-created state closer toward early partnership as a full-fledged satellite in the Soviet bloc.

The best known of the four men recalled to Moscow was Maj.-Gen. Alexander G. Kotikov, 58-year-old former Red commandant of Berlin and representative of the Soviet control commission in Berlin since the establishment of the East German government last November.

It was Kotikov's frequent use of the veto power which wrecked co-ordinated four-power rule of the city. He was replaced by Sergei Alexeivitch Dengin.

Honesty Pays Off

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J., June 8 — (AP) — Crowds passed by a tiny tissue paper package on the boardwalk Wednesday, but a Rochester, N.Y., woman picked it up and found $21,000 in jewels. For her honesty in returning the three platinum and diamond bracelets, Mrs. Harold W. Nichols received a $500 dinner ring from Nat. Y. Yamron, owner of a boardwalk jewelry store. An employee of the store had put the package in a coat pocket, where a lining was torn and the bracelets slipped out.

Colorful Sight As King Inspects Guards

LONDON, June 8 (Reuters) — The King, in scarlet uniform and towering bearskin, stood under a hot sun during London's Horseguards parade today to take his birthday salute at the annual trooping-the-color ceremony.

Londoners thronged the route from Buckingham Palace to the parade ground to cheer the Royal family.

The sun blazed down from clear blue skies as the King left the palace wearing the uniform of Colonel-in-Chief of the Coldstream Guards.

Earlier, the crowd outside the palace had seen the Queen driven off for the parade ground with Princess Margaret in an open carriage. Queen Mother Mary and Princess Elizabeth, expecting her second baby, drove by car.

On the parade-ground, 45 officers and 1,306 other ranks of His Majesty's Brigade of Guards, wearing their 22-inch-high bearskins and full dress uniforms, paraded in a 75-degree temperature.

Colorful Sight

Massed bands, drums, and pipes of the brigade provided martial music for the Royal inspection, the trooping of the color, and the march-past.

Stands overlooking the parade ground, reserved for distinguished visitors, were full, the men wearing grey top hats and formal morning dress and the women making a colorful spectacle in gay summer dresses.

The King returned to Buckingham Palace at the head of his Guards, where there was another march-past. At noon the Royal Horse Artillery fired a Royal salute of 41 guns in Hyde Park.

The birthday was celebrated in other parts of the world today, though last Monday was set aside in Canada to honor the anniversary.

LAWYERS UNDIGNIFIED

TORONTO, June 8 (CP) — Mr. Justice J. L. Wilson today refused to hear the cases of two lawyers dressed in light summer suits which he considers undignified for the court room.

Railway Unions Send Out 90,000 Ballots To Take New Strike Vote

Returnable Date July 24, Hall Says In 40-Hour Week Dispute Three Railroads Involved In Controversy

MONTREAL, June 8—(CP)—Fifter International Brotherhoods involved in a wages-hours dispute with Canadian railways announced today that they are distributing 90,000 strike ballots and the returnable date is July 24. The announcement came from Frank H. Hall, Chairman of the negotiating committee of the unions affiliated with the American Federation of Labor. The unions sought a 40-hour week in place of the present 48-hour week plus a seven-cent hourly general wage increase. A Federal Conciliation Board in April recommended a compromise which was accepted by the carriers but rejected by the Union executive.

Will Cast Votes

The strike ballots being distributed today will ask union members whether they wish to go on strike to back their executive.

Mr. Hall said the reason the returnable date was set at July 24 was to allow time to cover "many remote areas and enable the members, in many cases where desirable, to have lodge meetings."

The railways involved are Canadian Pacific, Canadian National, Toronto, Hamilton and Buffalo and Ontario Northland.

The Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employees (C.C.L.), whose 30,000 members are also involved in a dispute with the railways over similar demands, has also announced that it intends taking a strike ballot.

Suing Constable

MILTON, June 8—(CP)—Benjamin D. Rachlin of Acton, 15 miles northeast of Guelph, is suing Provincial Constable Raymond Schisler of Georgetown for $500 over his arrest Oct. 25 on charges of speeding and of resisting arrest. The charges against Mr. Rachlin were dismissed. Mr. Rachlin, owner of a clothing store and a jewelry store in Acton, claims he was wrongly arrested and that he suffered at the hands of the police.

Phones "Heaven"

INDIANAPOLIS, June 8 —(AP)— Methodist Bishop Richard C. Raines stared at his May telephone bill Wednesday—it had a 70-cent charge for a long distance call to "Heaven." Bishop Raines could recall no telephone conversation with the Pearly Gates. He did make a call to New Haven, Ind., May 8. The telephone company said no, the call was to Heaven, though nobody knew just where that is.

The Indiana Methodist leader says he's not going to argue about it.

Prime Minister To Pay $5,000 Rent

OTTAWA, June 8 (CP)—Canada's prime ministers will have to pay rent on the official residence being built for them by parliament.

That was made known in a bill authorizing the new home, which received first reading in the Commons Wednesday after a brief flurry of controversy between government and opposition members.

As proposed by the government in the bill, the prime minister will pay $5,000 a year for food and lodging for himself and his family, to be applied against government costs of maintaining and operating the establishment.

Government Pays Too

Cost of official hospitality will be paid by the government, which also will pay the staff of the big home on the bank of the Ottawa River in Rockcliffe near the home of the governor-general.

The bill ran into a snag when Trade Minister Howe, acting prime minister, sought to get discussion on it concluded during the day in the absence of Prime Minister St. Laurent in the United States.

Plane Seeking Stolen Gold

TIMMINS, June 8 (CP) — Radio-equipped police cars and an airplane today were pressed into the hunt for three bars of stolen gold.

District Inspector E. R. Robbie of the Ontario Provincial Police announced the widening of the search, which so far has revealed no trace of the $75,000 worth of gold taken last Friday from the Delnite Mine, five miles south of here.

The inspector said all road blocks, at which police have been questioning motorists passing through this northern Ontario gold mining area, have been tightened. The entire area from Hearst and Kapuskasing to Cochrane, Matheson and Iroquois Falls is being combed.

Forty provincial police officers now are working on the case. Sixteen officers were brought in this week from Kapuskasing, Cochrane and Iroquois Falls.

Best Anti-Tank Weapons Being Shipped To Europe

WASHINGTON, June 8 (AP)—The United States is reported to be shipping some of its best anti-tank weapons to European allies which might be in the path of massive Russian armored forces in a future war.

Defence officials said the weapons—bound mostly for France under the arms aid program—include bazookas, rocket launchers, and recoilless power rifles still in the secret stage.

At the same time, the U. S. Army is pressing a long-range program aimed at countering the threat of Russia's potent armored forces.

Officials told a reporter Wednesday that US medium tanks—including some modernized Second World War types—are among the weapons being sent to Europe.

The Senate armed forces and foreign relations committees are holding joint hearings on the Truman administration's request for $1,222,500,000 for the second year of the program to rearm the western allies.

Senator Henry Cabot Lodge (Rep., Mass.) a foreign relations committee member, told reporters that this program "is the most practical step toward world peace we can take at present.

Lodge, an army officer in the Second World War, said that under the arms program "within three or four years western Europe can be made an unattractive target for Russian aggression — and without bankrupting the United States."

Gen. George C. Marshall, wartime army chief of staff and former secretary of state, met behind closed doors with the two Senate committees. One Senator afterwards quoted the General as saying there is a second danger in the arms program: that the US may rearm some country which ultimately will elect a Communist government.

The Senator, who asked not to be quoted by name, said:

"Marshall said that was a calculated risk that must be taken—but that the risk was worth the gamble."

Prairies Have Snow As East Swelters

By The Canadian Press.

Calgary and Toronto represented the extremes in a topsy-turvy Canadian weather picture today as the east sweltered in a June heat wave while temperatures dropped below freezing in parts of the west.

The mercury fell to 27 during the night at Calgary—lowest in the country—while Malton Airport, just north of Toronto, reported 88 Wednesday.

The sharp weather contrast was illustrated by a report from Climax, Sask., 275 miles west of Regina, of snow Wednesday; while in Toronto the suburbs were forced to put restrictions on use of water for lawns.

The storm that produced snow in other parts of the prairies and sent temperatures down to 32 in Prince Albert and 29 in Jasper was heading eastward.

Wheat Growers Losing Old Customers, Must Take U.S. Supplies

'50 North American Crop Outlook Uncertain Wheat Bureau Says; Netherlands, Norway Drop Out Of Market

OTTAWA, June 8—(CP)—A wheat expert indicates that United States Marshall Plan Aid is hitting into Canadian wheat sales. George McIvor, Chairman of the Canadian Wheat Board, told the Commons Agricultural Committee Wednesday that many of Canada's traditional customers are unable to buy Canadian wheat because they receive Marshall Plan Aid which requires them to buy American supplies. At the same time the Bureau of Statistics reported that the wheat supplies available for export and carry-over in all parts of the world have climbed from 749,000,000 bushels at May 1 a year ago to 876,000,000 bushels, an increase of 118,000,000 bushels.

This increase in world supply, coupled with the loss of some traditional markets through Marshall aid policy, may form two vital factors in the sale of Canadian wheat in the new crop year beginning next August.

Talks In London

Negotiations under the international wheat agreement will open up in London before the new crop year begins. The pact prices next year call for a minimum of $1.54 and a maximum of $1.98 per bushel. Canada has been getting $2 a bushel this year from the United Kingdom, her biggest overseas wheat market.

Mr. McIvor, who normally makes his headquarters in Winnipeg, testified as the Commons committee opened study of the board's 1948-1949 report.

Examples of traditional Canadian customers who have been forced to forego Canadian supplies, said Mr. McIvor, are the Netherlands and Norway.

Oppose Plan Chaplains Enters As NCO's

OTTAWA, June 8 — (CP). — Defence Minister Claxton said on Wednesday in the Commons Canadian church authorities were opposed to suggestions that chaplains should enter the armed forces as non-commissioned officers.

He made the statement after J. M. Macdonnell (PC-Toronto-Greenwood) and H. W. Herridge (CCF-Kootenay West) criticized the present system under which the chaplains enter the forces as commissioned, non-combatant officers. They said that the granting of the commissions took the chaplains away from the men in the ranks who needed their assistance.

Mr. Herridge said he could never picture an apostle with a batman.

Mr. Claxton said that when he took over the Defence Department a few years ago he had consulted representatives of Roman Catholic and Protestant churches on the question of commissions for chaplains. Their views were opposed to those expressed by Mr. Macdonnell and Mr. Herridge.

Rank Important

The representatives said that rank was of importance to chaplains. If they were to exercise their functions properly they had to have respect and status.

As a result of these conversations, he decided to make no change in policy with respect to chaplains.

Mr. Claxton said Mr. Macdonnell was wrong in stating that if a man in the ranks wanted to see the chaplain he had to be paraded before him by a non-commissioned officer. Both officers and men had access to the chaplain in the same way as they had access to their spiritual advisr in civilian life.

In raising the question, Mr. Macdonnell said that in the French Army chaplains were non-commissioned. He understood that this system worked well and he felt it should be considered.

Never Such Possibility

"In Canada there never has been such a possibility and I am sure there never could be such a possibility and I am sure there never could be such a possibility," he added.

"With forces such as we envisage, the army could not be a threat. But in modern times I think that what is far more important really than the size of the forces is the kind of equipment they have.

"Then in order to effect control it would be desirable not only to control the number of men but the number of aircraft, tanks and so on."

He held that parliament, through the control of defence department estimates and appropriations, has "complete control over the armed forces."

the swift House study possible. The bill now goes to the Senate.

The clause about the size of the army was raised by Percy Wright (CCF, Melfort) who said the bill would, for the first time, place in the hands of the cabinet instead of parliament the power to set that size. This ended a tradition that dated back to Cromwell's day in England. It was a distinct departure which members should weigh.

Mr. Claxton said the justification "is that, under existing arrangements, the number of men actually involved in the defence of any country at one time is only one of a great number of factors that constitute the control of defence."

The provision, he said, went back 200 years or so when the size of England's army could be a threat to the state.

EYE TOPICS

THE FIVE-INCH SHELF

Think of all the presses in the world printing hundreds of millions of words every year in the form of advertising matter, newspapers, magazines, novels, plays, light essays and heavy scientific articles. Every word, every dotted "i" and crossed "t" is addressed to the eye. So much in this avalanche of print is important that we build great stone libraries to store it and invent card catalogues which make it easy to locate the facts that we need.

Dr. Vannevar Bush, the mantific Research and Development as the head of the Office of Scien- during the war, coordinated the work of some 6,000 scientists in developing radar, the atomic bomb, the proximity fuse and other inventions, is convinced that we are already swamped by print.

Dr. Bush suggests that we invent some efficient ways of utilizing the publications that we so carefully store and catalogue.

First of all we must save space. That is already being done with microfilm. A whole page of a book is reduced by photography to the size of a postage-stamp, a whole newspaper to the size of a dollar bill. Of course we must read the film. That is done by projecting it on a screen, so that the type is greatly enlarged. Many libraries and offices are equipped with such apparatus now. You sit at a desk and reel off the film page by page.

Many of us find ourselves avoiding anything printed when we possibly can. Because books mean type that blurs . . . jumbles . . . moves out of focus Newspapers, telephone directories—they all become our enemies. All we get from them are headaches, upset nerves and a general feeling of irritation with everything and everyone. Our eyes are doing what any overworked or faulty organ does. They are signalling that they need help

Astor Named Chairman Of Conference

QUEBEC, June 8 (CP)—Colonel the Hon. John J. Astor, chairman of the Times Publishing Company Limited, London, today was elected chairman of the Seventh Imperial Press Conference by acclamation.

Col. Astor has been president and chairman of council of the Empire Press Union since 1929. He was the chairman of the fourth, fifth and sixth Imperial Press Conferences.

The Commonwealth Press meets are held every five years. Canadian publishers, who received the conference delegates in 1920, are hosts for the second time since the first conference held in 1909.

A total of 80 delegates, from 14 countries of the Commonwealth, met today in the first business session of the conference.

Moved By Davies

Col. Astor was elected chairman on a motion by Senator W. Rupert Davies, publisher of the Kingston Whig-Standard, who is chairman of the Canadian section of the Empire Press Union.

The motion was seconded by Lord Burnham, director of the Daily Telegraph, London, and vice-chairman of the Newspaper Proprietors' Association.

Senator Davies was elected vice-chairman of the conference on a motion by Col. Astor, seconded by Sir Keith Murdoch, chairman of directors, Herald and Weekly Times Ltd., and managing director of the Herald and Sun News-Pictorial, Melbourne, who leads the Australian delegation.

Sir Keith is chairman of the Australian section of the Empire Press Union.

Adopt Rules

The first business meeting of the conference adopted rules of procedure and also agreed upon the agenda for sessions to be held in Ottawa June 14-17.

Among the subjects on the agenda are: Commonwealth press communications and Colonial press laws (June 14), training for journalists (June 15) and freedom of the press (June 16-17).

Transport Minister Chevrier has agreed to address the conference during the Ottawa stage of the conference.

Firemen said the fire started about 3 a.m. in the living-room of the four-room stucco cottage. Fire Chief Earl Embleton of Stamford said that by the time he and his volunteer brigade arrived, the dwelling was "just a bonfire."

The father said Arline apparently gave her life to save little Fanny. After counting faces, she realized the little girl had not left the burning house with the others. She dashed through the front door leading into the living-room and was engulfed in a surge of flames.

"Arline looked after the children just like a mother", her father said.

Bottle Splint In Eye

MILLBROOK, June 8.—(ENS).—An empty pop bottle accidentally knocked off the counter at Millbrook Creamery Wednesday afternoon sent Mrs. Mervin Trick, an employee, to Peterborough Civic Hospital for an eye operation. Mrs. Mervin had been sitting in the doorway when a parcel was placed beside the pop bottle on the counter. The bottle fell and broke and a splinter of glass entered Mrs. Mervin's eye. The splinter was removed last night at the hospital, but it will be three or four days before results of the operation are assured successful.

Official forecasts issued by the Dominion Public Weather Office in Toronto today.

Synopsis:

Temperatures soared into the 80s in Southern Ontario on Wednesday for the second successive day. Highest values reported were Malton airport 88, Hamilton 87, Toronto, Killaloe and Porquis Junction 86.

The hot weather covered the entire southeastern quarter of the continent. Although the cooler air which has been giving showers over Northern Ontario has edged slowly southward, it will soon retreat northward again. A storm centre 400 miles west of Lake Superior is moving toward Winnipeg. It is responsible for the snow to the west of it and is also giving an extensive area of rain and thundershowers activity to the north.

Another sunny hot day is forecast for Southern and Central Ontario, while Northern Ontario will be somewhat cooler with scattered shower activity continuing.

Forecasts:

Lake Ontario, Niagara, Haliburton regions: Toronto and Hamilton cities. Sunny and hot today and Friday. Winds southwest 20, except light at night. Low tonight and high Friday at Toronto, Trenton, St. Catharines, Hamilton and Killaloe 60 and 85.

Summary for Friday—Sunny and hot.

Used $500,000 Bogus Bills

TORONTO, June 8 (CP)—A recently - smashed international counterfeit ring distributed $500,000 in bogus Canadian $10 bills a senior Royal Canadian Mounted Police officer said Wednesday.

The gang, with headquarters near Buffalo, also printed counterfeit U.S. $10 and $20 bills. It was broken up by the joint effort of the RCMP and United States Secret Service agents, who arrested a Buffalo engraver and a number of his accomplices.

"It is the biggest and most important counterfeit ring with which we ever had any experience," the RCMP officer said.

About $100,000 of the bills have been found in Ontario. The RCMP said about $40,000 in bogus money was recovered with the arrest at Guelph, Ont., of Frank Cipolla, 32; his wife, Edith May laFraniere, 24, of Brockville.

Charles Cipolla, 27, a brother of Frank, was remanded here Wednesday until June 14, charged with having $20,000 in counterfeit money. Charged on the same count are William Ignat, 33, of Winnipeg and Douglas Gordon, 36.

RCMP officials said they are "fairly satisfied" the key figures in the ring are under lock and key.

age of drinking straw which was standing on the counter in a metal container.

James Zahodnik then walked round the counter and made a lunge for his (Hogan's) wife, who was standing in the partition between the kitchen and the part of the restaurant which was behind the counter.

When Mrs. Hogan reached for the telephone, Yuzwa clamped the receiver down and James Zahodnik reached over Yuzwa's shoulder and gave the telephone a yank breaking the wires.

Hogan then went to the other end of the counter to get a short club and three of the men reached over and grabbed it from him.

According to the evidence today, Mrs. Hogan gave James Zahodnik a push out of the door and he dragged her out with him. Then the door slammed. Hogan jumped up to go to his wife, but his way was blocked by Paul Zahodnik. He pushed Paul against the oil stove and scooted out.

Bystanders

Hector Edwards and George Wannamaker, who had been in the restaurant when the four men entered, were with Mrs. Hogan, who was by the panel truck in which the four men had arrived. Mrs. Hogan was screaming hysterically.

Wannamaker and Edwards drove off towards Lakefield—they had not been engaged in the fight — and John Zahodnik and two other men grabbed Hogan. He was hit on the eye and mouth and his shirt, which had been ripped during the fight inside the restaurant, tore more.

John W. Brooke, defending the two Zahodniks, asked if anything had been broken while Yuzwa was behind the counter acting as waiter. Hogan's reply was "no."

"You asked Yuzwa to move," Mr. Brooke queried and Hogan replied that Yuzwa had said OK".

"Everything was quiet at that stance?" Mr. Brooke asked and gan replied "yes."

When Mr. Brooke asked Hogan to name all the damage done to the restaurant during the course of the entire incident, he replied that the straws in the metal container had all been damaged although the container was not broken. Four pies were ruined, the lid of the sugar container was broken, he lost his candies and a stove pipe was knocked down.

"Did anyone during the entire evening offer to pay for the damage?" Mr. Brooke asked. "Yes. Yuzwa said something about it," Hogan replied.

Men Acquitted Of Receiving Quantity Of Wire

Francis McGrath, Charlotte St., and Cyril Gerster, Simcoe St., were today acquitted on charges of receiving a quantity of heavy copper wire while it was being transported by truck from Kingston to the Peterborough plant of the C.G.E. The jury, which heard the evidence Wednesday at the Court of General Sessions at the Court House, announced its verdict today, in little more than half an hour after leaving the court to consider the evidence.

The charges followed the arrest of the two men on October 17, a few hours after city police had found 15 coils of heavy copper wire in a truck owned by Metcalfe and used the day before, by McGrath. The wire was alleged to be part of a load of 112 coils which was at that time, on a truck in the Smith Transport warehouse, Bethune St.

Judge D. B. Coleman had previously charged the jury that it would be a dangerous thing to find the men guilty, if they felt that Metcalfe, the only Crown witness, had been an accomplice.

It would be a reasonable supposition to believe Metcalfe had been an accomplice, but that was a matter which it was the responsibility of the jury to decide.

The only evidence against Gerster, His Honor said, was that he had been at the junk yard when Metcalfe had arrived there with the truck, and had asked "didn't Albert tell you to go in front of Anthony's freight shed?"

His Honor told the jury they had to decide whether to believe that McGrath had used Metcalfe's truck to take a girl home. Constable Donald Mackay's evidence had been that McGrath had told him he used the truck to take a girl home.

Would McGrath have left his 1949 model car for Metcalfe to sit in, taking the truck to drive a girl home, His Honor asked. One explanation might be that perhaps McGrath did not want to be recognized driving the girl in his own car. However, that was for the decision of the jury.

Among other points the Crown had to prove was whether McGrath had known the wire had been in the truck, His Honor explained.

Faithful Attenders At Council Meetings

Delegated representatives of the Study Group of Civic Affairs so far have not skipped a Council meeting.

Their secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Christine Nornabell, sent a letter to the Council Tuesday extending appreciation for assistance and encouragement. Three of the members attended.

Mayor Swanston said the Council was interested in their presence and attention.

"We have seen others undertaking to sit on our meetings," Ald. Adam Sands said, "but this Study Group appears to be the only one that stays with us."

Key Mining Stocks Lower On Exchange

TORONTO, June 8 (CP)—Mining stocks encountered a wall of selling that pushed key issues steadily lower on the Toronto stock exchange today. Leading junior and senior gold producers declined to the lowest average price levels of the year.

Senior golds dipped fractions and a wide list of juniors showed losses ranging to 15 cents. Losses more than tripled gains.

Base metal stocks also turned easier, largely the result of profit-taking on Wednesday's strong climb. East Sullivan, leader in that upturn, paced the decline.

Industrials overcame early downward pressure and moved up slightly. Papers, construction, foods, steels and refining oils were fractionally higher as the list continued Wednesday's advance.

Lower - priced western oils firmed.

Art Vs. Tradition

LONDON —(CP)— A famous clock had to give way to a famous violinist recently. This happened when Big Ben lost its radio spot at 9 p.m. to violinist Yehudi Menuhin, whose solo ran a minute overtime.

Small Child Drowns

CLOYNE, June 8 (CP)—John Louis Van Wych, three, drowned in four feet of water Wednesday near his father's tourist camp on nearby Lake Mazinaw. Cloyne is 50 miles north-west of Kingston.

The child had apparently been fishing off the end of a dock and tumbled in.

Three Rewards

Two men charged in police court today with vagrancy, Joseph Heffernan, 220 Munroe Ave., and Fred Hamilton, Otonabee River Road, were given adjournments of one week.

Albert Quinlan, 307 Bethune St., charged with third offence drunkenness, was remanded on $500 bail to June 15.

Suggest Building Moira Weir To Halt Flooding

TORONTO, June 8 (CP)—Continued early ice-blasting and construction of a low weir north of Belleville, are recommended in a report released Wednesday on conservation in the Moira River valley.

The report, issued by the Ontario Department of Planning and Development, also recommends reforestation and soil conservation programs to check erosion in the Moira watershed.

The Moira empties into the Bay of Quinte at Belleville. It drains 1,056 square miles of land to the north.

In 1936 it flooded Belleville and towns to the north, causing more than $250,000 damage. Blasting of ice in the lower channel has prevented any flooding since, and the report recommends that this practice be continued.

Also recommended is construction of a weir to prevent ice piling into the lower channel. Estimated cost is $140,000.

The report notes a declining population in the northern reaches of the watershed and urges that every effort be made to preserve and restore forest cover in the area.

A soil conservation program including a grassland improvement plan, pilot farms and a wide program of education and research are suggested as a means of counteracting soil erosion in the watershed.

CAMPBELLFORD, June 8 — (ENS)—At a recent meeting of the Campbellford Cheese Board, the following officers were elected for the new season: President Ray Pettey; first vice-president, R. G. Curle; second vice-president, Harold VanVolkenburg; sec.-treas., Gilbert G. Stephens; executive committee: the president, vice-presidents and David Grills, Frank Heagle, Roy Darling. Auditors: Carleton Rowe and Willis Stephens.

The 2,053 boxes of white cheese offered were all sold at 26⅝ cents fob factory.

Lay Summer Plans

CAMPBELLFORD, June 8. — (ENS).—Mrs. Joseph Smith, president of the Catholic Women's League, along with other members will be the representatives of this district at the Diocesan Convention to be held in Bowmanville in the near future. This was decided at the regular monthly meeting of the C.W.L.

A garden party will be held on the lawn of the home of the president, Mrs. Joseph Smith, some time in July. The treasurer's report was presented and final arrangements were made with regard to the tea and cooking sale to be held in the club rooms on Saturday, June 10.

Dep't Engineer Explains Road Subsidies

COBOURG, June 8 (ENS) — The Department of Highways is reaching a limit in its subsidies for roads, E. F. Marston, district Department of Highways engineer, told Northumberland and Durham Counties Council at its session Wednesday. It was true that there had been certain reductions in appropriations but these were only made after very careful consideration, Mr. Marston explained.

A number had reduced their bylaws since last year and these had been approved by the Department. However the department was calling a halt to the extent to which subsidies would be paid as 20 millions had been expended last year of which $600,000 was in Northumberland and Durham.

There had been some surprise in evidence earlier in the session because the Department of Highways had not granted approval to the bylaws reverting to the urban municipalities of Millbrook and Newcastle, road which had been taken over by the counties for improvement. In the case of Millbrook he said, the counties in 1925 had assumed a street that had never been turned back to the counties and nobody knew that it had not been reverted. In 1938 the counties asked for approval of the by-law to revert this street but it was not approved by the department. There was another request in 1949 and so far it has not been approved. Millbrook, he said, had two main connecting links and the northern route would be a heavy responsibility for the municipality to keep up. Newcastle was being given consideration, he said. Mr. Marston pointed out that the Minister of Highways was very interested in regard to urban roads as the urban centres paid into the counties road system and should get the same consideration as the townships. As for Hope street in Port Hope, the first move was up to the counties by passing a by-law.

Warden's Comment

"The trouble is," declared Warden Bruce Jandrew, "that when we take over a street we have a hard time getting it reverted to the urban municipality from which it came. We like to take such things up with the department first, before we are committed to retaining these roads."

In reply, Mr. Marston explained that if the counties wished to take over an urban street and then it is found that the urban municipality wants it keptup to higher standards than those which govern county road construction, the counties council can pass a by-law under which the urban municipality agrees to pay the difference between the two road standards.

Home For Aged

The question of a new addition to the counties home for the aged was brought up again and two of the old tenders were again presented, one for $59,943 and the other for $67,943. Reeve Woodyard said that crowded conditions at the counties home were not any worse and on motion council decided to take no action to build the addition.

Printing Prizewinners

CAMPBELLFORD, June 8 — (ENS)—Shirley Quinlin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Neil Quinlin of Campbellford, a pupil of St. Mary's School, won second prize in the printing contest, sponsored by the Canadian Teacher Magazinne recently. She competed in the group for two-roomed schools in the district from Quebec to British Columbia. Michael Holmes, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Holmes, and Duncan Kerr, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Kerr, both of grade 3 in the same school, received honorable mention in the contest.

Percy Twp. School Boards Object To Area Changes

COBOURG, Jne 8—(ENS)— A large deputation of representatives from school boards in Percy township attended the Wednesday morning session of Northumberland and Durham Counties Council to protest against the bylaw which attached their schools to the Brighton High School area.

Council turned the matter over to the consultative committee to report back before the close of the June session.

The spokesmen for the various boards held views along the same lines, namely, that their school children had been attending Campbellford High School and that it was the desire that they continue to do so and not have to attend in the Brighton area.

Votes taken to sound out the opinion of the school sections concerned had been almost unanimously in favour of attending the Campbellford high school. Codrington separate and Codrington consolidated schools, further south in Percy township than other school sections, still preferred to be attached to the Campbellford area.

Opposing Views

"I'd like to know just where we are on that school question," said Reeve Roy Rodge of Cobourg. "If a group wants to go to a high school area, do they first see the township council about it? Where does our schools committee enter the picture? Last year the wishes of one group was granted and now we have another group with opposite views."

Reeve Ted Woodyard of Clarke Township said that the Consultative Committee had held ten meetings since the last session. However, since the January session there had been changes in the Act. It used to be that the school boards would petition the local township council and from there the request went to the counties council. Under the amendment, the school boards did not have to take it up with their local councils but could deal directly with county council. The committee had been gathering considerable information and expected to be able to recommend something at this session, he said.

Reeve Woodyard went on to state that it had been hoped to have all Durham in the high school area, including Cartwright. The northern part of Cavan township was in the Peterborough suburban area but the Consultative Committee was going to ask that this part be included in the Durham high school area. However it would have to go to the Peterborough County Council first for approval.

Present Petition

The representative of the Cavan school section No. 5, had a petition ready in which the council was asked that no action be taken to detach the north Cavan portion from the Peterborough suburban area.

An efficient transportation system had been arranged and was in operation. Furthermore, the situation was rather precarious in regard to attending school at Peterborough because of the crowded conditions there.

The Peterborough board would beg lad if these county pupils could be transferred to a school in their own county, the counties council was informed.

A Matter Of Form

The attention of the public has been widely called to the case of Mrs. Bessie Ellis-Reid of Shawville, Quebec, who appears to be the victim of an unjust and foolish application of a regulation. Mrs. Ellis-Reid, who is the widow of an Anglican clergyman, rents two apartments; one of these contains four rooms and used to rent for $14 a month, and the other, which contains six rooms, used to rent for $16 a month. Hearing that the Prices Board permitted an increase in rents, she raised the rentals on these apartments by $1.40 and $1.60 a month respectively. She wrote to the rentals board in Ottawa and told them what she had done.

* * *

It was in her manner of performing this latter action that Mrs. Ellis-Reid transgressed. She did not use Form 2 to tell the rental authorities of what she had done. Consequently she has been fined $10. and ordered to pay $200 costs; the alternative is twelve days in jail. She has chosen to go to jail.

* * *

Good for Mrs. Ellis-Reid, say we! By her action she has drawn attention to a piece of bureaucratic nonsense. Of course it is convenient for officials to have people use the proper forms in business proceedings, and people should certainly do so. But if they fail to do so must they pay $210 or spend twelve days in jail?

* * *

We loathe, despise, abhor, execrate and contemn bureaucracy in principle. We recognize it as a necessary evil in practise. But it must never get to the point where it overreaches common sense and common humanity without public protest. The case of Mrs. Ellis-Reid looks like one for intelligent interference by someone above the bureaucratic level.

Toronto's Shakespeare Festival

Last year a modest Shakespeare Festival was held in Toronto. Three plays were performed out-of-doors in the quadrangle of Trinity College. The venture will be expanded this year, and four plays will be given in a four-week festival which begins on June 19. The plays will be A Midsummer Night's Dream, The Taming of The Shrew, The Tempest and Twelfth Night. On the Sunday nights which occur during the festival concerts of early English music will be given in the Great Hall of the College.

We are happy to see this Festival thriving, for Canada needs it badly. It is a sad fact that most Canadians have never seen a Shakespearean play performed, although they are obliged to study two or three of the plays in school. Shakespeare did not write for schoolrooms; he wrote for the theatre, and the farther his plays are taken from the theatre the farther they are from what he intended. People who have been bored by Shakespeare at school have to [illegible] in the theatre. It is [illegible] portunity to see four Shakespearean comedies simply done in charming surroundings. It is well worth a visit.

Villages Changing Too

The post-war bangs and booms have not been restricted to cities. Our villages have been changing, too, though less noisily. Small places may seem to the casual passer-through to be the same one year as the next, but the inhabitant, the visitor who returns summer after summer, or the village son paying a monthly filial call, sees a new house here, another there, a modernized kitchen, the pump gone, a store with its face lifted and a quick-freeze unit. Last year Norwood had no municipal water system, now it has. This year Havelock is to have a new street lighting system.

Our villages are still quiet and pleasant, but they are no longer remote and unfashionable. The Buckhorn housewife is at ease in Toronto. Roseneath people commute at will to Peterborough. Centreville folk have as active a social life as their urban cousins, and probably a more extensive one. Proud villagers now believe—and there is some truth in the contention—that they have the best of both worlds; rural ease and urban conveniences. But their main street is no longer a hitching-post vacuum. In fact, some of them have parking metres.

Democracy—Brockville Style

There was an incident which occurred during the Dominion Drama Festival which was held in Calgary during May which did not, in our opinion, receive as much attention as it deserved. We were impressed by it because it seemed to us to exemplify one or two things about democracy which undemocratic peoples will never understand, and to be very creditable to everybody concerned.

The Brockville Theatre Guild presented Thornton Wilder's play Our Town, and played it extremely well. Anyone who is acquainted with that play knows that it has an unusually large cast, including several characters who have only a line or two to say, but who are necessary if the play is to be rightly presented. One of those tiny parts was played by Brockville's member of Parliament, Mr. George Fulford. He flew from Ottawa to Calgary in order to play it and, within its limitations, he played it very well. The producer of the play was Dr. John L. Carroll, who ran against Mr. Fulford in the 1949 election.

When men can oppose one another politically and then get together to work toward the best possible production of a fine play we think that democracy is working well.

Perhaps it was a good thing that this incident attracted so little attention. If it had happened south of the border we are sure that it would have been in all the papers, the Reader's Digest would have had a gushy, inspirational piece about it, radio columnists would have told about it (getting the names wrong), and political press agents would have told it too, altering the names to those of persons they were employed to boost.

In Brockville it just happened. And that is how democracy ought to work: it should just happe[illegible]

Is The Old Testament Unfit For Children

A Church of England clergyman in Wimbledon, a suburb of London, has received some publicity recently because he says that he does not think that parts of the Old Testament are fit reading for children. Even as a child he found portions of it embarrassing.

We can see what Canon Stevens means, but we do not agree with him. There is much in the Old Testament which, if it had not the prestige of Holy Writ, would attract the attention of such eager obscenity-sniffers as the City Council of Toronto. But we do not think that on that account it should be withheld from intelligent children.

Children have to learn about many unpleasant things, or their ignorance will be dangerous, and may prove their undoing. Innocence must not be confused with ignorance. Now, is it not better that children should learn about murder, rape, incest and ugly passions from the Bible and from the works of Shakespeare than from the police court reports? For the children will learn these things; make no mistake about that. The more intelligent they are, the greater their curiosity will be and the wider it will range. Is it not desirable that their introduction to the seamy side of life should be through books which also contain accounts of life at its noblest?

Everybody recognizes that coddling the body leads to dangerous weakness. Coddling the mind has a similar effect.

NOTE AND COMMENT

A physician remarks that falling in love will cure ulcers. Hard on the heart, though.

We read of a broom factory which was "swept by flames". That's the kind of new broom that sweeps dirty.

A scientist informs us that the earth weighs thirty-six million sextillion tons. Not a thing you'd care to drop on your foot.

Eight types of jet plane, we read, now travel faster than sound. Say anything you have to say to the pilot before taking off.

We have always wondered what a ling was ever since we read about Sir Walter Scott's hero of whom it was said—

He trod the ling
Like a buck in spring,
And stood like d lance in rest.

Now we learn that a ling is a kind of whitefish. The notion of a buck trampling a whitefish, though messy, is undoubtedly one which would only occur to a poet.

One Fatal Flaw

By A STUDENT OF EUROPE

THE Schuman Plan for the pooling of Western European coal and steel production has, as it stands at present, one fatal flaw which, unless clearly diagnosed and corrected now, is bound to wreck it. This flaw is not economic but political. It lies in the insufficient thought that has been given to the constitutional character of the "higher authority" which is to run the scheme.

✧ ✧ ✧

THIS authority would have powers not only equal to, but exceeding, those of most existing national governments. Indeed, perhaps the most unorthodox and sensational feature of the Schuman Plan is that it is not content to transfer to a supranational authority powers now executed by national governments; it envisages the creation of new vast powers, not at present enjoyed by most governments, in order to vest them in a supranational authority.

✧ ✧ ✧

THIS need not be, in itself, an objection to the Schuman Plan. But it is essential to realize that the political powers of such a supranational Coal and Steel Board would be enormous; they are powers such as only the strongest and most ambitious Socialist Governments have so far assumed even on a national scale. The decisions of such a Board would directly influence the economic welfare of millions of people, from steel magnates to humble workmen. Moreover, with the best will in the world, these decisions could not be formulated in advance, apart from the most general statement of long-term aims. The Board would be, in the truest sense of the word, a policy-making body. Its decisions would concern such questions as which plants are to get modern equipment first (and thus a great competitive advantage), which will have to wait, which may have to close down altogether; who is to produce specialized (and more or less lucrative) types of steel; whether, in special instances, the coal is to go to the iron or the iron to the coal (a well-known long-standing French-German dispute, on which it depends whether the Ruhr or Lorraine is to be the rich and booming power-house of Western Europe.

✧ ✧ ✧

WHEN the power to make such decisions is assumed by a national Government, everybody sees at once that this is tolerable on one condition only: that the Government remains under strict democratic control, so that those whose livelihood is affected by its actions can effectively defend their interests from case to case through their Parliamentary representative and, if need be, with their votes. Further, when such powers are assumed by an international authority, national as well as private interests may be affected and must have facilities to argue their case with effect and to bring their political weight to bear.

✧ ✧ ✧

IF control is denied both to the individual and to the nations concerned, then the international authority will have only two futures open to it. If it is powerful enough to enforce its decisions, it will become an irresponsible managerial dictatorship; or, if it is not powerful enough for that, it will become a sham and a flop, and its impotence will be displayed at the first serious clash with really strong private or national interests.

✧ ✧ ✧

LET us now look at the character of the authority which the Schuman Plan envisages. It is to consist of "independent personalities" appointed by the Governments of the participating States, but the decisions of these persons once they are appointed, are to have "executive force in member countries." "Appropriate means of appeal" against their decisions are to be worked out.

✧ ✧ ✧

THIS seems to be the perfect formula for creating an impotent dictatorship. The proposed authority is dictatorial, for it is not under any kind of political control, either by an elected Parliament, or by its constituent elected Governments. The idea of subjecting it to a court of appeal is unworkable, for its decisions are not judicial but political. At the same time, it is impotent, for though its decisions have executive force, the means by which they can be enforced in case of challenge—police forces and military forces—are not in the hands of the authority, but in those of its constituent Governments.

✧ ✧ ✧

OBVIOUSLY both these faults must be corrected. "Executive force" must be placed where it will be backed by real executive power, and where it will be at the same time responsible to an elected and representative body.

✧ ✧ ✧

THEORETICALLY, this can be done in two ways. Either the proposed authority must itself be given full governmental powers, including police and military power, and be made responsible, as any democratic government is, to an elected parliament of the whole area which it governs. That is, the participant nations must form a federation. Or the proposed authority must be placed under a council of its constituent governments — a council which takes the political decisions by negotiation and agreement from case to case and uses the authority as a mere technical executive for agreed decisions. That is, its business must be conducted on the confederal principle.

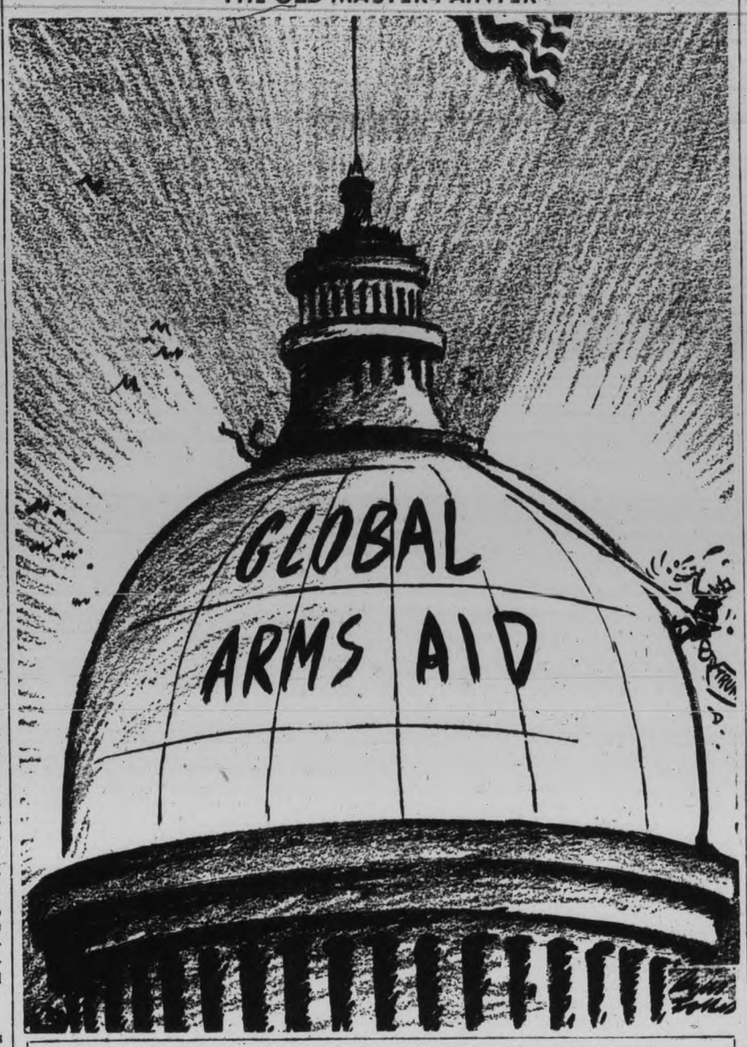
✧ ✧ ✧

IN fact, since the western nations are not ready for full federation, only the second way is at the moment practical politics. If the Schuman Plan is to be made to work at all it must, for the time being, be worked through those methods of voluntary co-operation by Governments which for the past two years have become the established means whereby the common business of the western European and Atlantic community is transacted.

✧ ✧ ✧

MOREOVER, the political body through which the Plan can be worked is already in existence: it is, of course, the O.E.E.C., which, especially now that it is officially and permanently linked with the United States and Canada, has every chance of growing in time into a true Atlantic Ministry of Economics. It is, at present, a near-confederal institution, and may soon become fully and formally confederal.

✧ ✧ ✧



SO far, the O.E.E.C. has worked very well. If it continues to work well and to discharge even to ambitious tasks as those set by the Schuman Plan, it is bound, in time, for reasons of dispatch and convenience, to become fully federal—that is, to acquire direct executive powers and become responsible, no longer to its constituent government but to a common parliament. But that time is not yet.

✧ ✧ ✧

A WESTERN Federation cannot yet be established by general consent. It has to be approached, patiently, by ever extending the range of voluntary co-operation. The great value of the Schuman Plan is that it brings a new and vital sphere of economic life within the range of that co-operation. This value must not be lost by an ill-considered attempt to replace co-operation by dictation.

"THE OLD MASTER PAINTER"

Two "Blessed Events"

(MONTREAL STAR)

When, some weeks ago, a polar bear in the London zoo gave birth to a cub which not only actually survived but, later, came out and put on an almost continuous act every day with its mother, the excitement in London and the provinces was, according to the English press, quite tremendous. The income of the London zoo has been soaring ever since from the multitudes who throng to see her and "Bruma", which is the name of this most attractive small animal, has had her picture in the papers oftener than any human celebrity in a generation.

Now America answers Britain's challenge in the matter of "blessed events." There is another whooping crane in the world. On The Arkansas National Game Refuge, "Jo" and "Crip", two of the only known 37 surviving birds of this species, have produced an offspring, by name "Rusty," and ornithologists are doing the whooping, with excitement and pleasure. One of the finest specimens of bird life in the world, once in great flocks, may, just possibly, survive. (Editor's Note: It did not.)

As between the two, the British have the best show-piece. Bruma does her stuff all day a few feet from multitudes and thereby earns money to pay off the national debt, or something. You can't get within miles of Rusty or the guardains will probably shoot you. They themselves know about him only through telescopes and airplanes. He will probably never earn a cent for anybody. All he will ever do, at best, is fly around and whoop, a dubious contribution to a world that is far too noisy now. Whooping may have been the downfall of his millions of ancestors, for all we know, as it has been of many other creatures, human and non-human alike.

The British are ahead in another respect also. If you want a polar bear badly enough you can always go and catch one, if you feel up to it. A whooping crane is different. A whooping crane has the big advantage of going extinct if things aren't just to his taste. On the whole, therefore, we consider Rusty a bigger achievement than Bruma. May he increase and multiply.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

And it came to pass at the end of two full years, that Pharaoh dreamed.... And it came to pass in the morning that his spirit was troubled; and he sent and called for all the magicians of Egypt, and all the wise men thereof: and Pharaoh told them his dream; but there was none that could interpret them unto Pharaoh....

And Joseph said unto Pharaoh, The dream of Pharaoh is one: God hath shewed Pharaoh what he is about to do. The seven good kine are seven years; and the seven good ears are seven years: the dream is one. And the seven thin and ill favoured kine that came up after them are seven years; and the seven empty ears blasted with the east wind shall be seven years of famine....

And Pharaoh said unto Joseph, Forasmuch as God hath shewed thee all this, there is none so discreet and wise as thou art: thou shalt be over my house, and according unto thy word shall all my people be ruled: only in the throne will I be greater than thou.... And Joseph was thirty years old when he stood before Pharaoh king of Egypt. And Joseph went out from the presence of Pharaoh, and went throughout all the land of Egypt.

And in the seven plenteous years the earth brought forth by handfuls. And he gathered up all the food of the seven years, which were in the land of Egypt, and laid up the food in the cities: the food of the field, which was round about every city, laid he up in the same....

And the seven years of dearth began to come, according as Joseph had said: and the death was in all lands; but in all the land of Egypt there was bread. (Gen. 41: 1, 8, 25-27, 39, 40, 46-48, 54.)

Letter To The Editor

AT ONE ON GREAT THINGS

Sir: The newspapers have given considerable space to the case of a young minister who changed his mind on the subject of the baptism of children. There have been a number of ministers who belonged to a church that practices adult baptism only who have changed their minds the other way for they have sought admission as ministers to the United Church and to the other churches that practice child baptism. I do not recall the newspapers saying anything about their cases and we are glad they did not. For while I believe about four-fifths of the Christians of the world follow the practice we do, we feel that our brethren who do differently are part of the body of Christ. The things on which we are one are the really great things of the Christian faith. Let us all seek the baptism of the spirit of Christ. May God's blessing be upon the young man and all of us.

Sincerely,
(REV.) ALFRED BISHOP,
United Church Minister.

Audie Murphy "Fed Up" On Decorations

By BOB THOMAS.

HOLLYWOOD, June 8 (AP)—Audie Murphy, "fed up" with being the most-decorated U. S. soldier of the Second World War, disclosed today that he has given all his medals away.

"I've been fed up with that 'most decorated' business for a long time," said the soft-spoken young Texan. "I realize that it is an honor, but only because it symbolizes the work done by a lot of other guys, too. But it has never meant much to me."

I asked what has happened to all the medals.

"I gave them away, mostly to kids."

He's not ungrateful for the honors, but he's a modest man with no pretense about his own achievements. He feels deeply the loss of his comrades who didn't come back from the war.

He's equally unassuming about his film career. Although he is playing his fourth leading role, in "Kansas Raiders," he still considers himself more of a farmer than an actor.

Frustration

Ray Milland is so frustrated at not being able to direct a picture that he might even do one under an alias of Joe Doakes or his real handle, Reginald Truscott-Jones.

Milland has urged producers all over the town to give him a whirl at a megaphone. "They all have the same answer," he lamented.

"They tell me that once I direct a picture I lose my value as an actor. I'm supposed to wait until I no longer want to act."

So now he has the idea of directing a picture incognito and using another name. "Then' believe me, if the picture turned out to be good, people would find out who 'Joe Doakes' was," he added.

Westclox Take 14-5 Win Over Marines

Westclox romped to a 14-5 Girls' Softball League triumph over Marines last night at the Bowl as the Outboards faded in the last half. Norma Kennedy, gradually rounding into shape, went good for three frames on Marines' mound but weakened then with S. Williams later taking over. M. Selkirk went the distance for the Clockers to hold her opponents to six hits as she struck out five. The fielding was about even with each side kicking a few around.

J. Vass had four hits in six attempts for Westclox and A. Anderson three, J. McIntyre belting out a triple. C. Rowan led the losers at the plate with a triple and single in four appearances. M. Behan and E. Mantle of this team turned in a good game in the field, while J. Hardy and B. Morrow were probably the pick of the winners, the whole team showing more hustle than their rivals.

The teams:

Marines: B. Ayotte, 3b; E. Mantle, 2b; M. Hill, 1b; M. Walling, lf, c; C. Rowan, cf; S. Wakeford, c; E. Whittaker, lf, p; M. Behan, ss; M. Carr, rf; J. Connolly, rf; N. Kennedy, p; S. Williams, p.

Westclox: A. Anderson, cf; B. Morrow, ss; J. Vass, 3b; B. Anderson, 2b; M. Hawthorne, c; M. Downer, lf; J. McIntyre, 1b; J. Hardy, rf; M. Selkirk, p.

Westclox Winners

In a recent fastball tilt, Westclox won 15-5 over Canoe Co. Henry and Guerin hit homers and Canoe Co. reeled off two double plays. Westclox scored two in the first, five each in the second and seventh, with one apiece in the third, fifth and sixth. The losers got one in the fifth and two each in the sixth and ninth. Teams:

Canoe Co.—Bryan p, Moore lf, Doughty 1b, Hill 3b, Henry c, Bryan cf, Brooks rf, Caccavalla ss, Hopkins 2b, Mongraw p.

Westclox—Gosselin ss, Heffernan 1b, Shearer c, Donoghue 2b, Watson 3b, McDonald cf, Evans rf, Guerin p, Sloan lf.

Umpires, Trennum and Minard.

King George Wins

King George seniors of the school softballers walloped Queen Alex 27-8 in a loose encounter. They had too much plate power to pound home eight runs in the first, two in the third, five in the fourth, 11 in a hefty fifth chukker and one in the sixth. The northerners tallied four in the first, one each in the second and seventh, with tow in the sixth. Teams:

Queen Alex—Kingdon, Whitton, Macklin, Morris, McClennan, Weir, Stewart, McKinney, Brown, Johnston.

King George—McKenzie, Withers, Fairs, Fuller, Smith, Roote, Barker, Barclay, Fell.

Umpires, Messrs. Anderson and Corbett.

Stratton Trophy Captured By R. F. Downey

By HERB MARTIN.

Playing under ideal weather conditions, the Peterborough Lawn Bowling Club held its first open rink tournament of the season yesterday afternoon and evening, and it was for the Stratton Trophy. The honor of winning this beautiful Tankard goes to the veteran Ross Frederick Downey who skipped his rink of "old timers" to win all three games with the greatest number of points. We believe that it is the first time in his long and glorious bowling career that Mr. Downey has ever won this trophy. The other three game winner was B. Jeffries, also of the local club. The remaining prizes were pretty well spread out among other visiting clubs.

Outside Entries

With rinks entered from Cannington, Lindsay, Oshawa, Cobourg, Campbellford and Peterborough the tournament got away shortly after 2:00 o'clock. Two 15-end games were played before the supper hour and one after.

W. Moorehead and his committee kept things going in fine style and the games were all over around 10:00 o'clock.

For the first tournament of the season it was well patronized and all seemed to have a good time.

Winners

First, and Stratton Trophy: Peterborough—C. Williamson, N. Routley, J. Detcher, R. F. Downey, skip.

Second: Peterborough—W. Jones, R. Payne, R. Knox, B. Jeffries, skip.

Third: Cannington—L. Southworth, G. Pilgrim, B. Sproule, W. Livingstone, skip.

Fourth: Cobourg—L. Wilson, G. Taylor, A. McKinnan, W. A. Hoskin, skip.

Fifth: Peterborough—B. Loftus, B. Collis, L. Loftus, A. Black, skip.

Sixth: Peterborough—I. Cipen, F. Mowry, J. Callan, E. Wall, skip.

Down at Port Hope on the half-holiday, the ladies club had five rinks entered in the open trebles tournament. Three of them were successful in reaching the prize department.

First, three wins each, a verandah chair—Mrs. N. Killingbeck, Mrs. R. Hopkins, Mrs. J. Coursey, skip.

Second, three wins, each a bath mat set—Mrs. J. Cullen, Mrs. W. Hepburn, Mrs. F. Staunton, skip

One win, each a box of writing paper—Mrs. H. Darling, Mrs. L Yeotes, Mrs. J. Arnold, skip.

Electrics Lose By 13-4 Score

Ashby's racked up six runs in the ninth inning at the Bowl last night to ride home on a 13-4 victory over CGE in a girls' softball loop fixture. It would have been much closer if CGE hadn't switched hurlers in the ninth. but Ashby's deserved the win on a heads-up brand of ball. They didn't have an error, while Electrics booted five, the hitting being pretty even, with the winners having a little edge. R. Boyce had a homer nullified in the ninth when she missed second base.

D. McFadden had nine strikeouts for the victors and M. Hodgins had six for CGE in eight innings, L. Finnie finishing up. R. Boyce, T. DeCarlo, D. Callan and J. Dunk all stood out defensively. E. McFadden, J. Reynolds, L. Jordan, M. Stewart, E. Simmons, M. Freeman and J. Dunk each had two safe blows for the Ashby outfit. For CGE, M. Boyce and T. DeCarlo were tops at bat with three safe blows each, including a three-bagger apiece.

The teams:

Ashby's: E. McFadden, 3b; J. Reynolds, c; D. Callan, cf; L. Jordan, 2b; M. Stewart, rf; E. Simmons, lf; M. Freeman, 1b; J. Dunk, ss; D. McFadden, p.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

By CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Toronto Ravinas, a new entry this semester in the OLA senior "A" group race, will perform here for the first time at 8.45 tomorrow eve in Miller Bowl. The Petes haven't met them at home or away yet, so we can't tell much about them. They are reported to be building from week to week and expect to field a strong squad throughout the gutted-stick campaign. The Petes are going along okay so far, with two wins in three starts. They were rained out here last start, being tied 5-all at the time near the halfway mark with Mimico Mounties. If the weather is fair, the Friday fray should pack in another big crowd as keen action is assured every lacrosse game.

* * * * * *

Bun Morganson writes in the Tely: "Wholesale switch-around of coaching talent features the Ontario senior lacrosse series. Art Harrison succeeds Chuck Davidson as head man for Mimico, who hope to play their delayed home game Wednesday against Owen Sound. Jack Gair is in command at Hamilton, replacing Eddie Powers, now on the west coast. After several successful coaching tries at Hamilton, Curly Joe Cheevers has returned to the home base at St. Catharines and has already scored two victories with a young crew. Jack Campkin directs Toronto's entry, opening a home stand at Riverdale Terrace, Broadview and Danforth, next Tuesday. Tommy Scott directs play for Weston Lions. Holdover coaches include Jerry Kendall at Brampton, Red Creighton at Peterborough, and Doug Gillespie of Owen Sound."

Fun At Flowing Bowl

Interest is keening up at the Ashburnham Bowl as the weather and the softball races warm up. Tonight, the men go at seven with East City teeing off against the potent Mutuals, followed by UEW against Orphans. Some smart softball seen lately in this speedy circuit as several clubs keep weeding out and replacing players. The lasses play a twin bill there on the morrow, Westclox tackling Marines at seven, and Woollens taking on Ashby's in the nightcap. There, too, competition is hot, the double-header a few days ago in this loop being as neat a one as fans could wish to see.

* * * * * *

Toronto Dovers visit Riverside Park at three Saturday aft to play the senior Petes in the Viaduct Major Baseball League. In third place in the six-team setup now, the Murphyites hope to grab this one and get right back in the scramble for top spot. Doug Plunkett—he of no-hit fame—is likely to be dishing 'em up, as Edger threw the last time, Dadson's arm is slow clearing up, and Whitehill awaits hotter weather. The husky righthander serves 'em hot, having won three starts handily with a string of strikeouts. The Viaduct Loop is proving right interesting so far, and fans shouldn't miss these games.

* * * * * *

Re Other Ball Squads

Mustn't forget the intermediate and minor ball setups. Our intermediate Petes took a nice 8-7 Lakeshore Loop win last e'en in Cobourg, finally reaching young Jamieson and finishing on veteran Max Smith. Bill Thompson started for the visitors but Red Sullivan relieved in the third. The Petes, who are improving and building as they go along, came from behind to win out. Jake Wade led at bat with two for three, and Ray Fitzgerald had two triples. Sonny Beckstead, with Brockville last season—remember that short leadoff chap—plays for Cobourg. Oshawa plays the locals at 6.30 p.m. here Saturday. In minor, juveniles of the west and north end are asked to meet at the southend drill tomorrow eve at 6.30 in the Ex., reporting to Gord Young. Or they may phone him before then at 4332 to arrange for getting on teams.

* * * * * *

Two girls' softball games staged at the Bowl last evening with Westclox taking Marines 14-5, and Ashby's winning from CGE 13-4. This latter game was keen enough till a switch in pitchers in the ninth by CGE paved the way for six Ashby counters. Errors by the Electrics hurt, also. Winners played good ball all the way. That applied, too, to the Clockers—despite several miscues—as they hustled throughout to earn the duke over Marines, who faded in the last half. Marg Selkirk pitched six-hit ball for the damsels from atop Amour Hill. One of the postponed games of May 31, Ashby's vs. Marines, will be run off this Saturday eve.

Trenton Victorious

HASTINGS, June 8 (ENS) — Trenton Intermediates trounced Hastings Legion 13-2 in Trenton Park in a regular TVL fixture. Legion started well in the top half of the first when Fife singled, stole second and third and home on Wilson's long fly.

Trenton tied it up in their half of the inning and from there on it was all Trenton, as Parr on the mound for Trenton, held Legion to just one more hit, a double by Mueller in the top half of the eighth.

Crowley started for Hastings, but a few solid blows and weak support made him give up in place of West in the second inning. West went well until the seventh when Trenton combined five hits and a bobble, one of the hits a round tripper by Parr for five more runs.

$160,000 In Playoffs

BANFF, Alta., June 8.—(CP).—The Canadian Amateur Hockey Association grossed more than $160,000 from all playoffs during the 1949-50 season, Secretary-Manager George Dudley of Midland told the opening session of the association's annual meeting Wednesday. Of this total, about $85,000 will be returned to the clubs in playoff bonuses.

Cobourg Bows To Locals In Neat Game

The Pete Intermediates jumped on cold relief hurler, Max Smith, of the Cobourg Legionnaires on Wednesday night in Cobourg to win their second game of the young Lakeshore Baseball League schedule 8-7.

Jamieson, an 18-year-old, started on the mound for the Legionnaires and held Petes to five hits and three runs going into the top of the seventh. Cobourg was enjoying a four-run lead, 7-3. Don Floyd started Jamieson's downfall with a walk followed by another walk, a single, an error and a triple to bring in three runs.

Max Smith, direct off the bench relieved Jamieson and on a wild pitch to Jake Wade allowed the tying run to cross the plate. McGrath in the extra inning, the eighth, hit a steamer to second baseman Beckstead who bobbled. An error by shortstop Cooper (he threw the ball wild to first on a Conway grounder) allowed McGrath to bring in the winning run.

Fanned 11 Batters

While on the mound for the Legionnaires, Jamieson struck out 11 and gave up seven hits. Smith had two strike-outs on his one and one-third innings.

Righthander Bill Thompson for Petes met trouble early when Hogan tripled in the first. In the second two singles, another triple by Hogan, two errors by Peterborough, and a walk gave the Cobourg nine five runs.

George (Red) Sullivan relieved Thompson after two and two-thirds innings. In the third Cooper doubled and later scored on a pass ball. An error and two wild pitches gave the Legionnaires their seventh run in the fifth to make the score 7-2.

Sullivan required help in the sixth when Cleary of Cobourg reached third base on two singles. A Peterborough double play, featuring Don Conway, Murphy McGrath and Jake Wade, cut short the scoring threat. In the eighth Sullivan gave up a triple to Cleary but managed to nip him off at the plate on a quick recovery of a wild pitch by McGrath.

Bill Thompson allowed four hits in his brief appearance on the Peterborough mound while Sullivan also allowed four but in six and one-third innings.

Jake Wade led the hitting of both squads with two singles in three official trips to the plate. Ray Fitzgerald had two for four, both hits triples, one into left field and the other into right in the sixth and seventh innings. Cleary, Cobourg third sacker, and Tom Hogan, Cobourg rightfielder each had two for four. Both batters had triples.

Yanks Cool Off Detroit With 5-4 Tilt

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

Cooling off the hot clubs is an old Yankee custom. Now it's sizzling Detroit that New York has dunked in chill water.

Red Rolfe's Tigers strode into Yankee Stadium seven straight victories and an .02 edge on first place in the American League Unbeaten since they left home the spirited Detroit club boasted a dazzling road record of 20-3 or .870.

Wednesday the Yankees put the freeze on Detroit 5-4 in the opener of an important three-game series.

Home-run power from the bats of Joe DiMaggio, Phil Rizzuto and Billy Johnson swung the the balance of power in a tight battle between Lefty Newhouser and Vic Raschi.

Staggering Score

While the Yankees and Tigers wrestled through the hottest afternoon of the New York season Boston piled up a staggering 20-4 score against St. Louis.

The Red Sox blasted 23 hits off Brownie pitching while Joe Dobson coasted to his seventh victory. In the last five games, Boston scored a total of 64 runs, better than 12 a game.

Vern Stephens and Clyde Vollmer each hit two homers and Walt Dropo hit one. Roy Sievers and Leo Thomas each homered for St. Louis.

Bobby Shantz pitched the Athletics to their first shutout of the year, a 5-0 night victory over Chicago. Ray Scarborough was the victim.

Snap Losing Streak

Washington snapped its seven-game losing streak, nipping Cleveland 5-4 on Johnny Ostrowski's eighth-inning homer following Irv Noren's single.

Once again Brooklyn took over undisputed possession of the National League lead, whipping Pittsburgh 9-0 while St. Louis took a bad 10-2 licking from Boston. Both were night games.

Don Newcombe, giant Dodger Negro ace, followed his recent five-hit conquest of St. Louis with a six-hit blanking of the weary Pirates.

Stan Attack

Stan Musial joined the other St. Louis cripples during the loss to Boston's Warren Spahn. Stan suffered a cut between the fingers of his left hand, taking a throw from Al Brazle. He will be out for a day or two.

Paces Attack

Sid Gordon, with his 12th homer, a double and single, and Spahn with three singles, paced the Braves' 16-hit attack. Spahn struck out 10.

Rookie Bob Miller lifted Philadelphia Phils into second place—ahead of St Louis and only a half-game behind Brooklyn—with a 4-0 victory over Cincinnati.

Folks will have to take New York Giants seriously soon if they continue to roll up scores like Wednesday's 13-4 romp over Chicago.

The Giants hammered Bob Rush and Dutch Leonard for 17 hits, including homers by Bob Thomson and Al Dark.

Horses Remain Big Feature Of Millbrook Spring Fair

MILLBROOK, June 8—(By Staff Reporter)—If you're crazy over horses, go to a spring fair in the country. In Millbrook on Wednesday, there were almost all kinds—from tiny riding ponies for children to heavy Belgians. But the horses that took the fancy of the crowd were the road horses. Despite a small ring that cut down speed, the crowd leaned forward expectantly when ringmaster Dr. Harold Worton cried: "Drive on" and the horses turned on their speed.

The occasion was Millbrook's 101st annual livestock show, sponsored by the Millbrook Agricultural Society. The fair has been known through the county for many years as one of the finest.

Besides the horses, there were a few cattle and some swine. Cattle were not numerous, one farmer explained, because they hadn't had time to be "fatted up" for the show.

However, horses it was, and old-timers seated in the shade of the judge's stand were calling "Bay horse the winner . . . let 'er go . . . Harry, quit pullin' her."

The Rev. John Foote, VC, MPP for Durham county and member of the Liquor Licence Board, told visitors that the Millbrook fair was rightly called the "Little Royal," and that it had flourished while many other rural fairs had closed.

Flag Presented

In the afternoon, a flag presented to the agricultural society by the Millbrook Lions Club was raised on the memorial flagstaff near the entrance to the fair grounds. The flagstaff and base, erected last year, commemorate the 100th anniversary of the society, celebrated in 1949.

There weren't as many children at the show as there might have been, and there seemed to be no explanation for it until somebody, looking down the steep slope at the south end of the grounds, pointed out a large pond in the Millbrook stream nearly full of shouting youngsters.

The fair did draw its quota of kids, but they were mostly riding the ponies and asking mother for another ice cream cone or a bottle of pop. Somehow, they didn't show too much interest in the livestock.

One feature of the afternoon was the showing of single carriage horses, over 15.2. Ivan Cochrane of Nestleton and his brother Garnet of Port Perry placed one-two, after a brief race around the small ring.

In the four-horse hitch of Percherons class, W. H. Shaw of Manilla placed first with a smooth working foursome, decked out in shining, jingling harness.

Another bright spot came when a mother and son placed first and second in the class for single carriage horses under 15.2. In first place was Mrs. Wes. Cawker of Bowmanville, and her son, Charles, was in second. Mrs. Cawker also won a first in the ladies' single carriage class.

In the Clydesdale section, 18 classes were shown. They were judged by William Henry of Ottawa. A similar number of classes in the Percheron division were judged by Roy Hardy of Melbourne.

Judging swine was Wallace Thurston of Bobcaygeon, and for the Jersey cattle, the judge was J. W. Pawley of Kaledon. Beef cattle judge was John Baker of Campbellford. Judge of light horses was Dr. Fred Leslie of Ottawa.

Officers of the agricultural society are: president, Gordon Staples; vice-president, Jay Whittington; treasurer, P. I. Bentley; sec.-manager, F. Bruce Sargent; directors: H. McIntyre, L. Smith, Roy Ferren, Harry McCamus, Elias White, J. Powell, S. S Staples, Harry Young, S. Donaldson, John Rickard, John Baker, Cliff Hall, Ted McDowell, Garnet Whitfield, Gerald Larmer.

The following is the list of awards.

CLYDESDALES. Brood mare with foal—J. W. Boyd of Orono; foal—J. W. Boyd of Orono; year old colt, gelding or filly—Mr. Donaldson, R.R. 7, Peterborough; J. W. Boyd, Orono; Ralph McLean, Omemee.

Two-year old Clydesdale — Mr. Alan Davis; Harold Donaldson; J. W. Boyd & Son; Mr. McLean of Lindsay.

The first two in the above class were awarded the Charles Brackenridge special prize for best two-year-old or under colt, gelding or filly.

Privy Council May Hear Case

KITCHENER, June 8—(CP)—The Privy Council in London may be called upon to decide the custody of nine-year-old Terry McKee.

The son of a Michigan airlines executive and a socially-prominent California woman has been the subject of a legal battle that has raged almost constantly in the courts of Canada and the United States, since he was a year old. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mark T. McKee, are divorced.

The Supreme Court of Canada Tuesday awarded custody of the child to Mrs. McKee, reported living in a suburb of San Francisco. However, the father, now living on a farm at Linwood, 18 miles west of here, has applied for a postponement in carrying out that award and his application will be heard in Ottawa next Monday.

Meantime, the case is being prepared for Privy Council hearing.

The litigation came before the Canadian courts prior to federal legislation ending appeals to the Privy Council and, therefore, can be taken before the United Kingdom Tribunal.

Crescents Trip Mimico 12-9 In Sr. Lacrosse

MIMICO, June 8—(CP)—The powerful Owen Sound Crescents won their fourth straight Ontario Lacrossee Association game Wednesday night, defeating Mimico Mountaineers 12-9. The win gave Crescents undisputed possession of first place.

Crescents got their margin in the second quarter, ramming six goals behind Taylor in the Mimico nets.

Leading scorer of the night was Russ Slater, who nabbed five counters for Owen Sound. Grant Gillespie and Jack Foote each did the hat-trick for the winners, Woods adding the 12th goal.

Arch and Kenny Dickson led Mountaineers with two tallies apiece, others going to Pritchard, Kapasky, McPhail, Hewitt and Rankin.

Rays Win In 10th

Raybestos got five runs in the 10th and Woollens four in their half of the overtime frame, as the Rays won out 18-17 last night in a wide open, exciting fastball fray, Giles driving in the winning run. Woollens had scored two each in the fourth, fifth, seventh, eighth and ninth after getting three in the first. Rays counted three in the second, four next heat, two each in the fifth and eighth, and one apiece in the sixth and seventh. Crary got four hits and Nichols hit three doubles for the winners, as Schell led Woollens with four, one a triple, McMillan and B. Anderson having three each. Teams:

Royals Thump Baltimore In Doubleheader

By The Associated Press.

The relief pitching of Ronnie Lee, 21-year-old lefthander, continues to be one of the outstanding features of Montreal Royals' drive for the International League pennant.

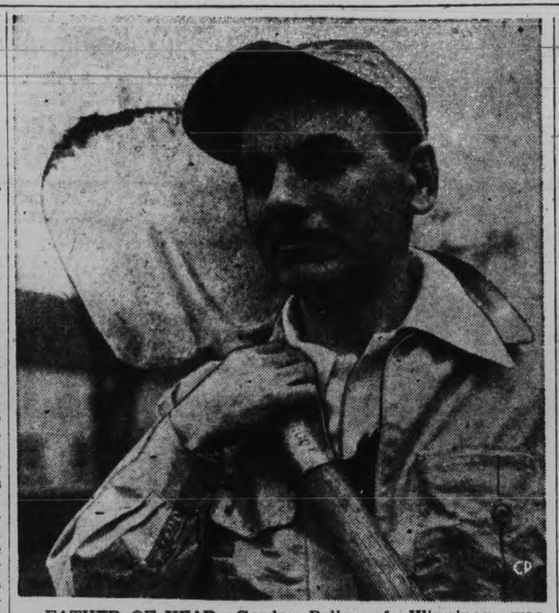
Lee received credit for his sixth relief victory against two defeats Wednesday night as the Royals thumped Baltimore Orioles 11-5 in the first game of a doubleheader. The Royals also took the nightcap 10-4 to move to within a half game of the pacesetting Rochester Red Wings. The Wings blanked Springfield Cubs 4-0.

Lee relieved starter Pat McClothin in the third inning when the Orioles scored a run to tie the game at 4-4. The youngster held the Orioles to six hits and a run the rest of the way and gained the verdict when his mates scored twice in the sixth and five times more in the seventh.

The Royals pounded five Baltimore pitchers for 14 blows, with George Schmees and Don Thompson contributing three apiece.

Scatters Hits

Clyde King scattered 14 Oriole hits in the nightcap to gain his fourth victory in five decisions. The Royals collected 12 hits but made them count off three Baltimore pitchers.



Young Tom Poholsky shut out Springfield on eight hits in picking up his fifth victory for Rochester against one setback. The Wings scored all of their runs off Bob Kelly in the first two innings. Bill Moisan blanked the Wings on two hits from the third inning on.

Toronto Maple Leafs turned back Jersey City Giants 5-3 wrapping up the game with a four-run blast in the third that was featured by home runs by Johnny Mayo and Bud Heslet. Jocko Thompton allowed the Giants only four safeties, including Pete Pavlick's two-run homer.

The scheduled game between Buffalo and Syracuse was postponed on account of the death of Syracuse president William F. Hoffman.

MORE THAN GOLD

An Edmonton man grows double petunias for seed, which he sells fo $200 an ounce.

FATHER OF YEAR—Gordon Pollon of Winnipeg was chosen as Canadian Father of the Year and given the annual $100 award from the Canadian Father's Day Committee. The award recognizes his "unselfish efforts in the face of personal difficulties to man the Winnipeg dikes." Pollon escorted his family to safety and "carried on his duties side by side with his neighbors though grievously ill" with a throat ulcer.

Here and There In Sport

By The Canadian Press

Other than the absence of one man, is there any difference between six and seven-man lacrosse?

"Lots," says the Mann Cup champion Vancouver Burrards.

Six-man lacrosse is a result of a heavy decline in attendance at West Coast lacrosse fixtures last year.

In an effort to give the game more spectator appeal, the Inter-City Lacrosse League cut loose the rover, or seventh man. This produced a hopped-up version of the old game with emphasis on the individual player rather than the game.

Rookies, most of whom are fast and long on stamina, are all for the new game, while veteran players, such as make up the Burrards, want a return to seven men.

Effects of the "new" game have produced a tighter, more interesting league. Clubs well stacked with good players can no longer overpower weak teams with substitutions. With only five men to substitute, the weaker clubs are finding it easier to spread their talent.

Bill Gregus, former Southern Conference all-star fullback with Wake Forest College, has been signed to a contract by Hamilton Tiger-Cats Senior Football Club, Coach Carl Voyles announced on Wednesday.

Bert Lee Can, Oscar Norton's steady-going pacer from London, captured the featured 2.16 pace here at Rodney, Ont., Wednesday in straight heats and paced the fastest heat of the day, a 2.08 4-5 mile, to take the spotlight in the annual race meet sponsored by the Aldboro Agricultural Society.

Well-filled events, fast times, and a good crowd gave the annual meeting a big day. Close to 3,000 fans were on hand.

The Cincinnati Hockey Club Wednesday announced it had signed a working agreement with New York Rangers of the National Hockey League. It provides that the Rangers will loan the local team at least six players during the coming season, and that it will get first choice of the New York surplus.

Hustled from the start by the veteran Eddie Arcaro, Brandywine Stable's four-year-old Cochise clipped four-fifths of a second off the track record while humbling B. F. Whitaker's My Request by four lengths and A. G. Vanderbilt's loser Weeper by 4½ in the $25,000-added Massachusetts Handicap Wednesday at Suffolk Downs. The favored Cochise paid $5.80, 3.20, and $2.20.

Promoter Jack Solomons said Wednesday that Lee Savold will defend his British and European slices of the world heavyweight title in London, probably in September.

"I don't know who he will fight," Solomons said, "but I guarantee you that the man we get will be a worthy opponent."

Middleweight champion Jake Lamotta and challenger Rocky Graziano both said Wednesday that they would like to fight Sugar Ray Robinson, and both declared they can knock out the welterweight king. Lamotta and Graziano will meet in a 15-round title bout in New York's Polo Grounds June 28. Lamotta, who won only one out of five bouts with Robinson, said "I'd like to fight him again, but in a 20-round bout. I'd knock him out for sure."

UE Soccerites Hand Loss To O'Hallorans

UE soccer team made it three straight, Wednesday evening, when they defeated O'Hallorans 4-0 in the elimination series of the Ontario Cup at King Edward Park, before a fair attendance.

A penalty kick in the opening exchanges put O'Hallorans down a goal after a brilliant display of goal-tending by Titchill. UE half backs consolidated their advantage with combination. Their opponents did likewise but were unfortunate with their drives on goal. Just before the interval, Buchan brothers broke through the full backs but Hutchinson made a spectacular save. Quickly Craig drove hard up the centre where G. Foster scored a peculiar goal as the ball dropped under the cross-bar.

With a two-goal deficit facing them on resuming, the losers forced the issue but found a solid defence nullifying every effort they attempted along with the forwards. Again Titchill, O'Halloran goalie, came into the picture with outstanding saves from the foot of Strong and Duffus but he had to admit defeat when the latter sent a rocket drive inside the upright to make it 3-0. Ten minutes to the finish, G. Downer registered the fourth against nil.

O'Hallorans—J. Titchill, goal; T. Scott and L. Payne full backs; F. Booth, E. Cotton and H. Latham half backs; H. Foster, D. Buchan, Milam Pollock and S. Martin forwards. Subs.: E. S. Smith, A. E. McArthur, A. O'Halloran.

UE—A. Hutchinson, goal; A. Downer and S. Murduff, full backs; H. Steel, T. Foster, Jr., and J. Craig, half backs; R. Strong, E. Duffus, G. Foster, S. McGann and G. Downer. Subs.: J. C. Ray, J. Chamberlain, A. Boyd, A. Attard

Referee, T. Foster, Sr.; linesmen, J. Adams and W. Curtis.

Port Hope Whips Colborne By 10-8

PORT HOPE, June 8.—Twenty-three hits were garnered off five pitchers here Wednesday night in a Lakeshore League OBA Intermediate "B" game as Port Hope Ontarios edged the Colborne Dodgers, 10-8. Three moundsmen worked for Port Hope, Wescotte, Holman and Woods, while B. Ball and Cec Hall toiled for the Dodgers. The loss was charged to Ball who gave up seven runs in 2 2-3 innings. Wescotte was credited with the win although he was relieved in the fourth.

Remember When—

Whirlaway, ridden by Eddie Arcaro, romped to a three-length win in the 73rd running of the Belmont Stakes at New York, nine years ago today. "Whirly" became the fifth horse to wear the triple crown by winning the Kentucky Derby, Preakness and Belmont Stakes.

Women's Guild Meets At Rectory

MILLBROOK, June 8 (ENS)—Mrs. A. A. Chote was hostess at the Women's Guild of St. Thomas Anglican Church meeting at the rectory on Monday. The president Mrs. F. Lowery, was in the chair and called on the rector, the Rev. A. A. Chote to open with prayer.

After the secretary's report and the roll call by Mrs. H. A. Turner, the treasurer, Mrs. T. A. Campbell reported a satisfactory bank balance. $80 was raised at the concert in the Town Hall in May presented by the Treble Clef choir of Whitby.

Refreshment are to be served by the Guild in the parish hall on June 13 following the induction service for the Rev. A. A. Chote in St. Thomas Anglican Church.

Mrs. D. Sheppard and Miss E. Kent were supper hostesses.

Joint Celebration

NORWOOD, June 8—(ENS)—Sunday evening guests with Mr. and Mrs. George MacMillan, who jointly celebrated their birthdays were Mr .and Mrs. R. Stevens, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Burns, Allison and Stephen, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Golloher and Laverne of Peterborough, Mr. and Mrs. Hayden C. Jones and Keith, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon McCoy and Betty.

This was Mr. MacMillan's 91st birthday.

Rail Service Restored By CNR

WINNIPEG, June 8 (CP)—Two weary 100-man crews met just south of St. Jean Baptiste in the Red River valley. Their rendezvous meant rail connections between Winnipeg and the international border were back in shape.

Closed May 4, the CNR line was submerged for 38 of its 65 miles along the west bank of the flooding Red. Some 26,000 feet of track had been thrown off the grade by the water's force.

Railway officials said the line will open for regular passenger traffic at midnight tonight. Work trains have already crept from Emerson and Winnipeg toward the middle, their crews dumping thousands of tons of ballast, buttressing roadbed and laying rails.

The CPR, running east of the river but largely out of the flood territory, restored service last week.

Ministers Criticize Sunday Manoeuvres

ST. THOMAS, June 8 (CP) — A special meeting Wednesday of the St. Thomas and District Ministerial Association backed up two prominent local clerics in their criticism of the reserve army holding large-scale manoeuvres at Port Stanley last Sunday, and the Red Cross sponsoring a Manitoba Flood Relief show in a local theatre Sunday night.

Fifteen ministers attended the special meeting. The resolution supporting its members said in part that "citizens who sponsored charitable efforts and other secular activities should plan them for some day of the week other than Sunday."

Housewives Ignorant Of Good Meat Quality

GUELPH, June 8 (CP)—Eastern Canadian housewives are ignorant of meat quality and quite often get sold poor grades as a result, Prof. E. Stillwell of the Ontario Agricultural College said Wednesday.

He was speaking at a demonstration of beef grading attended by more than 500 Shorthorn breeders and their families.

Prof. Stillwell showed his audience 12 cuts of beef purchased in Ontario as "choice prime cuts." Not one could be called choice prime beef, he said.

He advocated that the Beef Producers' Association demand legislation that would bring about a situation like that in British Columbia, where seven grades of beef are sold over the counter.

H and S Wants Curfew Bylaw

OMEMEE, June 8—(ENS)—The Home and School Association has decided to ask the village council to introduce a curfew in the village by passing the necessary bylaw. The matter was discussed on Monday at the last meeting to be held this term. Mrs. H. Green presided.

The treasurer's report showed a balance of $27.87. Mrs. R. Rawlins stated that she had not yet received the desired information from Peterborough Swimming Club concerning terms for swimming instructions, the reply being expected in a day or two. On motion of Mrs. H. Lennox and Mrs. F. W. Pooley, the executive was empowered to deal with the club's proposition when it arrives.

The parents' roll call tied Miss Shea's and Miss Lamb's rooms.

Re-affiliation with Peterborough Home and School Council was approved.

Appointment of the following conveners was announced: Program, Mrs. A. Stephenson; membership, Mrs. L. McQuade; health Mrs. H. Lennox; social, Mrs. W. Wilson; publicity, Mrs. L. M. Curtis; publications, Mrs. F. W. Pooley; press, Mrs S. D. Vaughan; sunshine, Mrs. S. Northey.

The secretary was asked to write a letter of thanks to the Women's Institute for a $5 gift.

Two films were shown and it was decided to show one of them the next day in school for its instructive value. Thaxter Shaw operated the machine.

Lunch was served by the social committee.

Say Buffalo Plant Builds Turbo-Jet Plane

BUFFALO, N. Y., June 8 (AP)—The Buffalo Evening News on Wednesday said the Bell Aircraft Corporation is building a supersonic X-5 which, unlike its rocket propelled X-1, will be a turbo-jet plane.

Bell Aircraft officials declined to comment on the report.

The News says the new plane probably will be completed by September and will more closely resemble a tactical airplane than the X-1.

The speed of the X-5 will be about the same as the X-1, which has been flown approximately 1,000 miles an hour, the News said. Improved models, designated as X-1A's, have more efficient fuel systems and are designed to fly at 1,700 miles an hour.

Downeyville Man Buried Monday

DOWNEYVILLE, June 8 — (ENS). — The funeral of John O. O'Neill was held from his home in the village on Monday morning to St. Luke's Church, Downeyville, where requiem high mass was said by Rev. V. G. McFadden. Burial was in St. Luke's Cemetery, where Father McFadden also said the prayers.

Pall-bearers were five nephews, James McGuire and Morgan O'Neill of Chicago, Ill., Fabian O'Neill and Austin O'Neill of Downeyville, Emmet Fox of Toronto, and Kevin Perdue of Toronto.

Mr. O'Neill was born in Emily Township, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John O'Neill, and was the last of a family of nine. He was a farmer and lived all his life in Emily, and last year moved to the village.

Forty-two years ago he was married to Polly Fox, who survives him. He also leaves one daughter, Mrs. Patrick Clancy (Mary) of Oshawa, and three sons, Lorne of Oshawa, Fergus of Falt, and Harold of Toronto. A large crowd was present from Chicago, Detroit, Toronto, Kirkfield, Peterborough, and Brantford.

Building Permit Legal Tag To Be Lifted

The aphorism about the proof of the pudding was somewhere in Ald. H. Dodds' thoughts the other night as he condemned a bylaw to which he had given assent. Personal and direct experience recommended to him that this bylaw be rubbed out.

Some months ago the council decided that applications for building permits should be accompanied by a legal document showing that there were no overhanging restrictions on the property sites.

These restrictions are drafted and imposed usually by previous owners, and then the city finds itself in the position of necessary enforcement.

There were several instances of late which seemed to recommend the bylaw, requiring a legal declaration that building sites were not bound by restrictions.

Ald. Dodds was the first member of the council to apply this regulation to himself. And in his opinion it was a nuisance. He went about building a garage next to his house. First step was to get a permit. In the office of the department of which he is chairman he was asked something like "what about restrictions on that piece of property."

No declaration of unencumbrance,—no permit. To search the deed involved a five-dollar lawyer's bill.

Common Sense

From that personal experience, Ald. Dodds asked himself whether the city should concern itself in this matter. If anybody desired to build on a piece of land, it was only a matter of common sense to enquire into the possibility of restrictions. Otherwise, why compel people to engage a lawyer to look into a deed.

This question reached the legal committee Wednesday, and their decision was to eliminate this regulation requiring a certificate as essential to the issuing of a building permit. At least that is the recommendation to the council.

That would leave it the option of the owner whether he examined into conditions affecting the property on which he wished to build.

Truck Operators Of District In Conference

First meeting of Peterborough and District Public Commercial Vehicle operators was held in the Empress Hotel Wednesday night. More than 50 operators with representatives of the Automotive Transport Association of Ontario, the Department of Highways, Ontario Safety League and the Chamber of Commerce, discussed recent changes in the Ontario Public Commercial Vehicle Act, labor relations, and the recent Royal Commission on transportation.

J. O. Goodman, general manager of the Automotive Transport Association told of highway truck operators' need for good public relations. He stressed that they should not travel close together, they should keep all running lights on while driving at night and they should have the splash boards placed properly.

The association president, G. M. Parke, attended as well as J. R. McLeod, secretary of the Milk and Livestock Transport divisions, and F. W. Murray, manager of the Motor Transport Industrial Bureau. Other meetings have been held in Hamilton, Kitchener, London, Windsor and Toronto. Later ones are planned for Belleville, Walkerton and Ottawa.

Lakefield C of C Told Ways To Better Develop Tourism

"As a result of a survey completed by the Department of Travel and Publicity, we are able to prove that tourist reservations have increased ten per cent. this year," said its Deputy-Minister Tom C. McCall at Viamede on Wednesday evening. He was guest speaker at the early summer meeting of the Lakefield Chamber of Commerce. More than 50 members and their wives listened to statistics and, tourist resort operators, especially, received some sound advice on selling their services to Americans.

An ardent Canadian and one of the top salesmen of Ontario, Mr. McCall urged Chambers of Commerce to sell their country and its attractions with pride. He commended the Lakefield Chamber on the three-year results they had showed in publicizing the Kawarthas and the ratio of business men and tourist people who worked together as a successful unit for the good of the district.

Lack of Farmer Interest

Mr. McCall deplored the lack of interest with which farmers, nearly everywhere in the province, looked on the tourist industry. He pointed out that they were the first benefactors to receive American dollars for produce. He was introduced by T. J. Lawlor, South Beach Hotel.

Publicity chairman Don Hendren officiated and gave the reports on various topics. He enlarged on the production of this season's latest booklet and introduced several of the hard-working members, such as tourist booth receptionist Mrs. William (Buddy) O'Brien.

Member Archie Stewart explained a plan of the Chamber's about establishing an annual muskie fishing trophy. It is to be held by the resort, who must be a member of the Chamber, whose guest produced the largest 'lunge.

Walter Killoran spoke of the hopes of the fish and game committee in helping authorities to curb fish poaching in the area. Harold Hamblin told of the difficulties of maintaining and increasing memberships.

Historical Interest

Jack Arnott spoke at some length on historical landmarks of the Kawarthas as a branch of tourist attraction that was not being played up by resort operators and people of the district as a whole. He spoke of its pre-Cambrian rock, composed of the world's oldest, and suggested that glacial action on the potholes of the Indian River might be developed as an attraction. He reviewed the old history of the Trent system, including Champlain in 1615. He reminded the audience that Irish emigrant Francis Young settled and built a mill at Young's Point two years after Adam Scott settled on the site of this city. It was suggested that the old Young log cabin, torn down as late as 1926, could have a replica built on its site to create tourist interest.

Mr. Arnott also told of the achievements of the Stricklands, Moodies and Traills who made Lakefield the cradle of Upper Canadian literature, and thought that some reminder should be erected in or near the village of Lakefield in their honor.

At the close of the guest-speaker's address, Mr. McCall was presented with a Lakefield-made paddle, suitably engraved, by Mr. Hendren. Refreshments were served by Mrs. E. S. Ianson of Viamede Hotel.

Trust Approves $45,000 Plans For Fair Ground

The members of the Morrow Trust have given their approval to the $45,000 building program of the Exhibition Board. A copy of their letter received from Col. Frank Bradburn was recently placed with the city council.

The details of the general improvements that are being approached by the directors were recently published. At their meeting last night they decided to move the stage from the old drill hall and set it up in front of the grandstand, mainly for the vaudeville attractions during the exhibition.

The board is also going ahead with the extension of the grandstand and also the erection of a building for the flower show. Some of the directors arranged to meet at Morrow Park this afternoon to determine the location of this building.

Three-way Financing

In the meantime the board is expecting a report from the city council of their attitude toward the proposed improvements, total cost of which is estimated at $45,000. The financing is to be split three ways, $15,000 from the province on the condition that the city contributes an equal amount, and the other $15,000 will be used from monies being paid by the federal government.

The only comment at a recent meeting of the council when this proposal was passed on to the finance committee was to the effect that there seemed to be a strange omission of the county council as one of the expected partners in the Exhibition Board's planning.

Seek To Remove Tourist Cabins

City Engineer Chalmers as building inspector, and Sanitary Inspector R. MacPherson are being asked by the legal committee the same question Ald. Doug. Miller raised at the council meeting Tuesday.

"Is there anything we can do to get rid of the Lansdowne St. tourist cabins, or do we have to let them stay there as they are?"

The cluster of cabins is on the property at 85-89 Lansdowne St., the south side. They were an inheritance at annexation from North Monaghan.

Ald. Miller said they were contrary to a bylaw of the city. A year or two ago they were refused an operating permit, but they are still there.

Ald. Sands held a meeting of the legal committee Wednesday. Their decision was to ask the two officials whether regulations pertaining to the property and cabin operation have been complied with.

The committee is asking City Solicitor Huycke to prepare a bylaw to prohibit the operation of tourist cabins within the city limits.

Lock Strike Talk At Queen's Park Deadlock 1st Day

First day's talk on the strike in the Peterborough Lock Company ended in deadlock. Union and company representatives met with the Hon. Charles Daley, Ontario Minister of Labor at Queen's Park Wednesday.

With Mr. Daley were J. B. Mezler, deputy minister, and Louis Fine, chief conciliation officer.

"Both parties," a spokesman for the company said today, "reviewed their position with the officials, and the company could only reiterate that it was impossible to give the employees anything but last year's agreement, or the report of the board of conciliation, whichever the employees preferred.

"As a consequence, the strike enters its sixth week and we regret it will continue indefinitely —or at least until the union or the employees appreciate the realities of the situation."

UEW Claim

On the other hand, local 527 of the UEW claims that the lock company has "ignored the good offices of the Ontario government."

Said a spokesman: "It soon became obvious to us that the company was not prepared to reach an amicable settlement in the office of the minister of labor.

"Instead, the company indicated that it has given in to anti-union elements in the lock industry and among the other companies in Peterborough, who want the strike prolonged and an attempt made to smash our union by the use of strike-breakers and force."

A union meeting today resulted in a unanimous vote to intensify all efforts for agreement and "to strengthen our picket line in preparation for the company's first strike-breaking attempt".

Union representatives at the meeting were President R. J. Leonard and others.

Company representatives were E. H. Howson, company president, Robert Maybee, vice-president, Alan Heideman, and Claude Bastable.

Result of the talks with Mr. Daley will affect two lock firms in other centres—Yale and Towne, St. Catharines, and Belleville Lock Company, Belleville.

Invitation to settlement discussion came from Mr. Daley as a result of requests from city council, clerical and other local groups.

Ship Minnows In Frozen State

SAINT JOHN, N.B., June 8—(CP)—Members of the Saint John branch of the New Brunswick Fish and Game Protective Association may send "quick frozen" minnows to Peterborough in an attempt to prove they can be shipped alive otherwise than in water or dry oak leaves.

The possibility is under consideration following the oak leaves method of shipping from Halifax to Ontario.

One member of the Saint John branch of the Fish and Game Organization expressed the opinion Wednesday night that minnows could be quick frozen, shipped alive and returned to normal after being placed in water at the end of their journey.

Smelt, he said, had been bought frozen in stores and "came to life" when put in water. He thought minnows were just as hardy, if not more so.

If they are shipped to Ontario in a frozen state of suspended animation, they will go either to the Peterborough Industrial Fair or to Cy Hopkins, Kawartha district baitman.

Grand Jury Recommends Longer Hours Outside For Prisoners At Jail

An increase in the amount of time prisoners in the county jail have for exercise out of doors every day was recommended Wednesday by the grand jury, at the court of general sessions presided over by Judge D. B. Coleman of Whitby. The jury observed that the majority of prisoners have not more than one hour a day for exercise out of doors and it was recommended that in fine weather, including Sundays, two hours a day would be beneficial.

The jury's recommendations followed an all day inspection of the court house and jail and were addressed to Judge Coleman, who said he would see that careful consideration was given to the jury's findings.

There was not a great deal of reading matter for the prisoners, the jury said, and recommended that three or four carefully selected periodicals be made available to them.

Prisoners were provided with only one clean face towel a week. These became very soiled and it was recommended that clean towels be provided twice a week.

One shower bath a week was considered inadequate and it was suggested they be more frequent.

The general cleanliness and conditions of the building was excellent, the jury commented. On the second floor of the court house some repairs to two ceilings were needed. The lighting in the sheriff's and clerk's offices were not good and modern lighting was recommended. The equipment in the wash room was old and out-of-date—improvements to the floor and equipment were necessary.

The jury was concerned over the fact that smoking was permitted in the registry office. In view of the great quantities of papers kept there it was felt that either, smoking should not be permitted, or adequate provision be made in the form of sprinklers and steel cabinets.

The judge replied to the jury's report by saying the 13 men had obviously done their task thoroughly and he gave assurance that he would see the recommendations were sent to the proper authorities.

Reeve Prefers Foxes To Rabbits; Bounty Off

COBOURG, June 8—(ENS)—Reeve Frank George, of Brighton Township, finally got his way in regard to the bounty on foxes. The Reeve of Brighton Township has always held that jack rabbits do more harm than foxes and that when the foxes were cleaned out by hunters the rabbits would multiply very rapidly. As a fruit grower, he would rather see the fox get the odd chicken than have many young trees ruined by the rabbits.

At United Counties council meeting Wednesday, it was pointed out that it was costing about $3,000 a year in the counties to pay fox bounties.

Accordingly, council decided to pass a by-law rescinding the fox bounty by-law and Reeve Frank George sat down quite satisfied.

Thief Gets $224 Unlocked Till In Open Store

A thief stole $224 from the till of Montgomery Brothers' meat department on Robinson St. in a building that was wide open for anyone to walk into.

An attempt had been made to crack a small safe in the office, but the thief or thieves gave up easily. With a sledge hammer taken from the coal yard of McCarthy and Johnston, they knocked off the combination dial and left several marks on the handle of the safe door but that apparently was all they did.

The break-in artists probably gained entry through an excavation which had been dug alongside the fuel company's building, leaving the basement open or possibly through an unlocked door.

It was the first time, said the owners, that any money had been left in the unlocked till overnight.

None of the connecting doors between the cold storage plant which contains the meat department and the rest of the building where the office is located were locked.

Nationalism Said Chief Obstacle To Federal Union Of West Powers

OTTAWA, June 8 (CP) — A Quebec Liberal Senator told the Upper Chamber Wednesday that nationalism is the greatest obstacle to Federal union among the western powers and much of it should be eliminated in order to safeguard peace.

Senator L. A. David said he believed that just as it was necessary to curb individuals to preserve community peace, so countries must be willing to hand over some of their sovereignty to preserve peace of the world.

He was speaking in support of a resolution, sponsored by Senator W. D. Euler (L-Ontario), asking Senate approval of a United States-sponsored convention among Atlantic Pact powers to explore the possibilities of federal union. The Senate has been debating the subject for weeks.

The Upper Chamber also heard Senator Arthur Marcotte (PC-Saskatchewan), propose a motion urging that before any changes could be made in the Canadian constitution, they must have approval by the Provincial Legislatures, if provincial consent was necessary.

Too Much Power

Senator Marcotte said provincial premiers or cabinets alone had no right to legislate on constitutional changes as he said had been done. Purpose of the resolution was to prevent consent of constitutional changes being given only by provincial governments or premiers without the consent of the legislature concerned.

The British North America Act created parliament and the provinces to say it could be amended "at the whim of the prime Minister of Canada or of the premier of the provinces . . . seems to be a constitutional heresy of the first magnitude."

The Senate also approved a report by the joint Senate-Commons Library Committee over the objection of Senator John T. Haig, Progressive Conservative leader. The report recommends the construction of a national library building, asks a $1,000 grant to Microfilm Papers of the Parliamentary Library and urges additions of two members to the parliamentary library staff.

Senator Haig objected to the report recommending a national library because a Royal commission was considering that subject. He said that the report of the commission should be awaited and voted with an emphatic "no" against approval of the report.

Senator David said the world was entering a new, uncertain era and peace depended on the amount of security democracy could offer. It was a duty to spare no effort to bring peace and he believed the suggestion that federal union should be investigated in the west was a step toward that goal.

Eskimo Diseases Same As White Man's

OTTAWA, June 8 (CP) — There's nothing wrong with Canada's Eskimos that doesn't stem straight from the same sort of ailments in the white man's communities, defence officials said Wednesday.

They branded as containing "no truth whatsoever" a new Russian charge, this time that American biological weapons tests in Canada's north caused an outbreak of plague among the Eskimos last year.

Young Guardsman Faints Gets 5 Days Extra Drills

LONDON, June 8 — (Reuters) —A 21-year-old guardsman who fainted at a rehearsal of the Trooping-the-Color ceremony on May 29, has been drilling on the double round London barracks square in a temperature of around 80 degrees Fahrenheit—"for the good of his health."

The Daily Mirror told on its front page today how, while Londoners sweltered in the current heat wave, Guardsman Peter Youdale has been doing five days extra drill after being charged with "falling out on parade."

Peter has been in the Grenadier Guards for 4½ years, and never fainted before. A medical officer who saw him immediately after the rehearsal, certified that Peter had fainted but was physically fit.

The Mirror said the guardsman was formally charged with "falling out on parade." Later he appeared before his adjutant and was given five days' extra drill.

With regard to the extra drills, the War Office spokesman was reported as saying: "That was not punishment. It was remedial treatment."

The Mirror also asked the War Office about another incident reported to have occurred at the Trooping-the-Color rehearsal — a colonel falling from his horse.

The War Office said, according to the newspaper: "That matter is closed."

Germany Purchases $800,000 Newsprint

WASHINGTON, June 8 (CP)— The Economic Co-operation Administration Wednesday announced the approval of German purchases of $800,000 of Canadian and United States newsprint under Marshall-plan aid.

Also approved was a purchase of $100,000 worth of Canadian aluminum products by Greece.

The Marshall-plan authorizations brought the total European recovery assistance to date to $9,139,416,000.

Lower Drug Prices

VANCOUVER, June 8 (CP) — A spokesman for the RCMP narcotics branch confirmed Wednesday a Toronto report of lower underworld narcotics prices in the east as known fact. But he said there is no evidence of west-coast addicts or dispensers leaving Vancouver for that reason.

Apsley Council Reduces Rate For Burleigh And Anstruther 3.3 Mills

A mill rate of 48.2 for the Municipality of Burleigh and Anstruther was set by the council at the regular meeting on Saturday last at Apsley. This is a reduction of 3.3 mills from last rate despite the imposition of a new rate of 5.5 mills for the installation of street lights in the village to be shortly inaugurated, and an increase of 2.3 mills for High School purposes.

This welcome news for the ratepayers is due to the increased assessment of the municipality made in 1949. Among other business transacted by the council was the appointment of Dr. L. O. Bailey of Lakefield as MOH in place of Dr. H. G. Parkin was has left Apsley.

Check Dogs

Because of numerous complaints for residents, of dogs running at large, the council decided governing this nuisance and appointed Elwood Nesbitt officer with full authority to carry out its provisions.

Council also arranged to build an addition to the rear of the town hall to provide sanitary accomodation and storage for fuel. Twelve tons of calcium chloride have been bought for treating township roads, and this work will be commenced at once. Next meeting of council will be held on July 8th, at 1:00 p.m.

Toronto Curbs Use Of Hoses

TORONTO, June 8 (CP) — Sudden summer heat Wednesday caused seven Toronto suburban municipalities to announce restrictions on use of water hoses for watering lawns. The city of Toronto is expected to impose similar restrictions at the end of the month unless there are substantial rainfalls.

The hose restrictions were announced in East York, North York, York Township, Forest Hill, Etobicoke, Scarborough and Leaside.

Temperature reached an official high of 86 degrees at Toronto Wednesday, with 85 at Ottawa and another hot, sunny day forecast for Thursday.

The suburban restrictions generally prohibit use of hoses for lawn watering between the early morning and late night hours.

Neglected List Mayor Fined

ROUYN, Que., June 8 (CP)— Mayor Frederic Hebert, of nearby Noranda, Que., Wednesday was fined $5 for failing to prepare an electoral list for the 1949 civic elections. He pleaded guilty.

Hebert, for 23 years secretary-treasurer of the city, was elected mayor by acclamation when no opposition appeared. He said he had not thought there would be any need for an electoral list in such a case.

The charge was pressed by former Rouyn police chief K. H. Turnbull, a political opponent of Hebert.

London Newsman To Be Guest Speaker

TORONTO, June 8 — (CP) — Alan Pitt Robbins, news editor of The London Times, will be guest speaker Saturday night at a dinner tendered by the Toronto Men's Press Club to winners of the 1949 national newspaper awards.

Mr. Robbins, a past president of the Institute of Journalists, is a delegate to the Imperial Press Conference which opens today in Quebec city and continues next week at Ottawa.

Company Refuses To Boost Bus Fare

OTTAWA, June 8 (CP)—The suburban Eastview Bus Company, urged to raise its fares as a means of providing an improved service, Wednesday night turned the recommendation down flatly.

Eastview's town councillors received the report of the municipal fact-finding body which endorsed the fare boosts and the company's letter turning the suggestion down, at the same time

The fare increase initially was recommended by a firm of United States engineers employed by the fact-finding body to bring in a report of the bus companys efficiency.

The company has a franchise to operate the only bus service in Eastview on the eastern outskirts of Ottawa and to run buses into Ottawa for passengers who commute between the town and city.

Contracts Up

TORONTO, June 8 — (CP) — Canadian construction contracts in May totalled $111,964,700, or $6,000,000 above May last year, says MacLean Building Reports, Ltd. This put figures for the first five months ahead of the same period last year by $5,000,000.

Praises Work

WINDSOR, June 8 — (CP) — The work of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind "cannot be too highly commended," Governor-General Viscount Alexander said here Wednesday at the opening of a new CNIB home for the blind.

YOUNG CASEY JONES—David Turner, 14-year-old engineer, takes seven eager passengers for a ride on the railroad with his father H. Turner, who built it in his spare time. It took the retired railway machinist seven years to build the miniature engine, tender and nine-foot long car. They run over 200 feet on main-line track at the Turner home in Bird's Hill, about 10 miles northeast of Winnipeg.

Draws Good Crowd

OSLO, Norway, June 8 (Reuters)—High School boys and girls packed themselves like sardines into the University Aula hall here Wednesday to see and hear Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt. At the meeting, arranged by Norwegian United Nations Association, Mrs. Roosevelt was presented with a decorated copy of the children's declaration of human rights.

Jail Eleven For Contempt Of Congress

WASHINGTON, June 8 (AP)—Dr. Edward K. Barsky and 10 other officials of the joint anti-fascist refugee committee went to jail Wednesday for contempt of congress, with a last-hour protest that they are victims of a United States program for war.

Screen writers John Howard Lawson and Dalton Trumbo, convicted like the refugee committee group after a collision with the House of Representatives Committee on Un-American Activities, come to court Friday with similar prospects.

All 11 from the "anti-Fascist" organization were convicted for refusal to produce records of their committee, which the Un-American Activities Committee and the justice department have labelled subversive and a Communist front.

Gets Six Months

Dr. Barsky, New York surgeon and chairman of the group, drew a sentence of six months.

The others, all from New York and all directors of the committee, will serve three months. They are Howard Fast, novelist; Dr. Jacob Auslander and Dr. Louis Miller, physicians; Dr. Lyman R. Bradley, language professor; Marjorie Chodorov, housewife; Harry M. Justiz and Ruther Leider, lawyers; James Lustig and Charlotte Stern, Labor union leaders; and Manuel Magana, business man.

The 11, who also were fined $500 each, surrendered under court order Wednesday following loss of their last appeal to the United States Supreme Court last week.

Bevin's Latest Illness Revives Post Speculation

By ALAN HARVEY

LONDON, June 8—(CP)—Foreign Secretary Bevin's latest illness has revived speculation about the man who nearly took the top post in the Foreign Office five years ago. The idea is that if Bevin finally steps down, his place may be taken by Hugh Dalton, who recently became Minister of Town and Country Planning.

Big, bald, broadly-smiling Hugh Dalton once was one of Socialism's top men. It is said that when Labor came to power in July, 1945, Prime Minister Attlee first named Dalton as Foreign Secretary, then switched to Bevin.

Dalton, who since has said ruefully that he was foreign secretary for half an hour, became Chancellor of the Exchequer. He was succeeded by Sir Stafford Cripps in 1947 after allowing budget secrets to become known to a newspaper man before they were announced in parliament.

In Eclipse

Political experts thought Dalton was finished. He toiled for a time in the obscure portfolio of chancellor of the duchy of Lancaster, then moved over to the town and country minister in the government shuffle last March.

Lately his stock has soared. The Independent Sunday Observer reports that Dalton now ranks No. 5 in the Labor hierarchy.

"This means," wrote the Observer's political columnist, "that if Dalton wants to talk to a minister lower in the batting order, his colleague must come to him and not the other way round."

News that Bevin was about to enter hospital for the third time this year stirred Lord Beaverbrook's Sunday Express, which opposes the government, to suggest that a new foreign secretary should be chosen.

In a signed article, editor John Gordon called a younger replacement—"a man at the peak of his mental alertness and physical vigor." Bevin is 69.

Many Possibilities

The Conservative Sunday Times commenting on the possibility of Bevin's replacement by a "younger fitter man," recalled that Dalton has always had his eyes on the job he just missed getting in 1945. But is suggested a more likely choice, if Bevin does retire, would be attorney-general Sir Hartley Shawcross.

At 48, the Times said, Sir Hartley "has the great advantage of comparative youth."

Other papers suggested Hector McNeil, reported to be unhappy in his present job as state secretary for Scotland; home secretary James Chuter Ede, whom even Conservative news papers admire; and health minister Aneurin Bevan.

Elected President

KINGSTON, June 8—(CP)—Dr. J. J. O'Neill, dean of the School of Engineering at McGill University, Montreal, was elected president of the Royal Society of Canada Wednesday.

BY-ELECTION CANDIDATE

Kalmen Kaplansky, a printer, is one of four candidates contesting the June 19 federal by-election in Montreal-Cartier. He is a CCF candidate. The by-election was made necessary through the recent death of Liberal Maurice Hartt.

Truman Asks Special Prayers

WASHINGTON, June 8 (AP)—President Truman appealed Wednesday for the prayers of the religious forces of the country in an effort to secure a peace based on the sermon on the mount and "the moral code in which we all believe."

"Never in the history of the country has a servant of the people—and that is what the president is—needed your support and your prayers as does the present occupant of the white house," Truman declared in a speech at the Augustana Lutheran Church.

Addressing the 91st annual national convention of the Augustana Lutheran Church, the president declared that the world contains room enough and resources enough "for everybody to live at peace with everybody else." He spoke extemporaneously.

Prior to his speech, the delegates adopted two resolutions seeking unity within the eight Lutheran church bodies and also with other protestant bodies.

With less than half a dozen dissenting votes, the delegates also adopted a resolution to join the National Council of the Churches of Christ in the United States of America.

Continue Buy Sugar From West Indies

OTTAWA, June 8 (CP)—Canada is buying most of her sugar requirements from the British West Indies and likely will continue to do so for a long period of time, a government trade expert said Wednesday.

He was commenting on a dispatch from London which intimated that the United Kingdom had to decline a West Indies request that the U.K. guarantee sugar prices from 1953 to 1957 for 725,000 tons—instead of the U.K.'s offer of 640,000 tons—because Canada no longer purchased sugar from the British food ministry.

Dr. Mackenzie Elected New Moderator

MONTREAL, June 8 (CP) — Dr. Francis Scott Mackenzie, noted theological scholar, Wednesday night was unanimously elected Moderator of the 76th General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church of Canada.

Dr. Mackenzie, a native of Ontario's Huron County, is professor of systematic theology at the Presbyterian College, Montreal. He was chosen at the final session of a pre-assembly congress here at which 400 delegates from most parts of Canada were gathered.

At Wednesday's afternoon session, Bamber M. Hannigan of Toronto, chairman of the laymen's committee on stipends, advocated formation of strong laymen's associations throughout all presbyteries. He said the General Assembly could take a "bold step forward" by creating a national council of Presbyterian men.

"We must have in every part of our church an organized body of laymen fully as consecrated to the work of the church as they expect its ministers to be."

Only Nomination

Rev. W. Lloyd MacLellan, of New Glasgow, N. S., nominated Dr. Mackenzie. Seconder was Dr. Henry Cousens of Brockville. There were no other nominations.

Dr. Mackenzie first won recognition in the church while he was a minister in Sydney Mines, N. S., from 1920-25. His work on Cape Breton Island was held to be influential in the organization of the continuing Presbyterian Church after many congregations had joined with the Methodist Church in 1925 to form the United Church of Canada.

From 1929 to 1944, Dr. Mackenzie was principal of Presbyterian College here. He is immediate past president of the western section of the Reformed Churches holding to the Presbyterian system.

Dr. Mackenzie, who succeeds the Rev. C. L. Cowan of Hamilton as Moderator, from 1925 to 1926 was minister of the Presbyterian church, Paris, Ont. He is married to Alexandra MacLean of Lucknow, Ont.

Women Plan Berry Festival

BETHANY, June 8 (ENS) — Mrs. Mervin Smith of Cavan entertained St. Paul's Ladies' Guild of Bethany Anglican Church on Tuesday afternoon for the June meeting. There were ten members present, Mrs. Charles Reynolds presiding. The Rev. T. S. Gault led the opening exercises.

The date was set for the annual strawberry festival to be held on the church lawn June 30. After the supper, an entertainment will be held in the Town Hall, provided by The Rigby Players of Port Hope and will include two short plays, the Barbershop Quartet and several songs and dances.

A letter of thanks was read from Mrs. J. J. Hamilton. It was announced that the Guild would sponsor a program by the Jubilee Singers in November.

Plans were made to give financial assistance to the wardens of the church, who intend excavating a basement under the church to be used for a Sunday school room.

A fire, which totally destroyed the home and contents of Mr. and Mrs. John Biss of Omemee, aroused the sympathy of the members and the sum of $10 was donated to this family. Mrs. Biss is the sister of Mrs. Morgan Bigelow and Mrs. Hector Morton, both of whom are members of the Ladies' Guild.

The hostess was assisted in serving lunch by Mrs. Charles Smith and Mrs. Hope Rayson.

Meetings are cancelled during the summer months. Mrs. Morgan Bigelow has invited the members to her home for the September meeting.

Barbara Brent's BUYS AND WHYS A WEEKLY NORMA ON TV

MONTREAL, June 8th—Here's top-of-the-column news for you! Your favourite corn starch is now available in a brand new package that's easy to open and close! All you need to do to open the new package of DURHAM CORN STARCH — just pinch the top and roll it back! Inside, "Durham" is carefully protected in a paper bag and when you've finished using it, just close the bag, replace the package top — and not a particle of dust will touch the starch. And you'll be thrilled with the recipes on the package! Try the Ann Adam recipe for Lemon Pie — it's particularly delicious!

"I Intend To Marry Mrs. Simpson As Soon As She Is Free to Marry" . . . these fateful words by King Edward VIII to Prime Minister Baldwin set the stage for the crisis that led to his abdication. With pride, often with pathos, but always with good grace, the Duke of Windsor this week reveals many intimate and previously untold facts, such as the quotation above about his private life, and his mental conflict between duty, tradition and love. I know that this moving story will keep you in suspense to the very end. Whatever you do, don't miss this week's instalment of "A KING'S STORY" by the Duke of Windsor—one of the greatest stories of our time. You'll also find it illustrated with many photographs from the Duke of Windsor's private albums—in this week's issue of THE STANDARD—on sale now at all newsdealers from coast to coast.

A Real Bargain Opportunity! . . . Yes, you can get a set of famous Wallace Brothers Silver Plate at half the price and less! All you do — simply save your LIBBY'S EVAPORATED MILK labels — and here's what you can have in the beautiful "Laurentian" pattern exclusive with this Libby Offer — 6 Teaspoons ($3 open stock value) for just $1 and 6 Libby's Evaporated Milk labels — OR — a 24-Piece Set of 6 teaspoons, 6 dessert spoons, 6 forks, 6 knives ($15 open stock value) for only $8 and 24 Libby's Evaporated Milk labels. (Labels from both large and small tins are acceptable for both offers.) Use Libby's Evaporated Milk whenever your recipe calls for milk — use it for tea, coffee and in baby's formula! Libby's contains all the nutrients you expect from fresh, whole milk, plus added Vitamin D! It's today's best buy in milk — so buy it and try it! . . . and, for your silverware, simply send your Libby's labels and money order to me — Barbara Brent, 1411 Crescent St., Montreal, P.Q.!

There'll Be a new "Star" in my salad meals this summer . . . for I've discovered a salad dressing with "out - of - this - world" flavour! It's HEINZ 57 SALAD DRESSING. And no wonder it's good — with the skill of those famous Heinz Chefs behind it! They've mixed this dressing with a truly magic touch! . . . a mouth-watering blend of eggs, edible oil, vinegar, starch, sugar, salt and spices . . . and it's perfect! So whether your favourite salad is a cool symphony of crisp, fresh greens or a hearty blend of nippy cheese and left-over meats . . . you'll find that Heinz 57 Salad Dressing gives it an added "something" that's delicious!

Here's To Your Good Health . . . with the finest "health drink" I know — the juice of one lemon in a glass of water! It's a perfect way for "perking up" sluggish systems without harsh laxatives! You see, this natural fruit juice gently helps your system regulate itself . . . helping you keep regular the healthful way! I know a fashion model whose job depends on her good health and beauty . . . she drinks lemon-'n'-water first thing on arising every morning! So, for health and beauty's sake, keep a supply of lemons always on hand! But be sure they're SUNKIST CALIFORNIA LEMONS . . . they're the finest, juiciest of all!

Speaking of Beautiful Brides — one of the loveliest ever to say "I do!" was Helen Boyd Fuller — now Mrs. Allan Parken Basset. Her wedding was in Montreal—then the happy pair went honeymooning to New York. No wonder Allan fell in love with her! Helen's skin is petal-soft—sparkling . . . and she keeps it that way with extra-mild WOODBURY FACIAL SOAP, the soap with the beauty-cream ingredient. Yes, Helen knows from experience that Woodbury Soap, made by skin specialists, leaves skin soft and smooth. And doctors' tests among women show no "skin-burn" with Woodbury's mild, mild lather! So take a tip from a Canadian "Woodbury" bride—start Woodbury "facials" today—and use Woodbury Facial Soap in your bath for all-over beauty! Just 10c a cake!

Here's Cool Comfort for a warm June night . . . in fact, you'll sleep more comfortably than ever before on a softer-than-clouds, cooler-than-cool "AIRFOAM" mattress and pillows! Yes truly, the Goodyear, Super-Cushioned "Airfoam" mattress is a miracle of comfort! "Airfoam" is pillowy, featherlight latex foam — whipped to a frothy, air-filled texture, then moulded and permanently "set"! It's clean as clean can be — for it's repellent to germs and vermin and neither creates nor holds dust! It's cool in summer — cozy in winter! It lasts and lasts — and lightens housework, too! For here's a mattress that needs no turning! To find out ALL about it — write to me — Barbara Brent, 1411 Crescent St., Montreal, P.Q. — for your FREE COPY of the amusingly illustrated "Goodyear Airfoam" booklet!

Even A First-Time Cook can make delicious desserts with marvelous JELL-O PUDDINGS! Wonderfully economical — you'll find them real budget-savers . . . and so amazingly quick and easy to make! Such a glorious assortment, too, of these creamy, smooth-flavoured puddings! "Flavourites" to delight that man-in-your-life . . . Chocolate, Vanilla and Orange Coconut Jell-O Tapioca Puddings! Perfect desserts to grace any occasion . . . Chocolate, Butterscotch, Caramel and Vanilla Jell-O Puddings!

The Quickest, SUREST Way I Know to mothproof your woollens — suits — coats — dresses or rugs is just this: Spray them with LARVEX! Sounds easy, doesn't it? Well, believe me—it is. And it's a fact that Mr. Moth will starve to death rather than eat anything sprayed with Larvex! Just think! There's no need to wrap or store away—one spraying actually mothproofs the cloth itself for a whole year. What's more, you can wear the "larvexed" garment right away for there's absolutely no tell-tale odour. And Larvex is truly inexpensive. It costs no more to "Larvex" a suit than to get it dry-cleaned!

Your Summer Holidays will be more fun if you're feeling your very best. And, of course we women are much happier when we're sure of our personal daintiness. That's why I heartily recommend NONSPI — the truly effective liquid anti-perspirant! Tuck it into your bag before you go vacationing. It's the ideal "travelling companion" . . . for it will help you enjoy carefree vacation days without fear of offending! It's so easy to apply with its convenient, sanitary applicator. And—you'll see! . . . it actually stops perspiration before it begins! Yet Nonspi is absolutely skin-safe—completely fabric-safe!

Once In A While I make a beauty discovery that I'm extra pleased with! I've discovered that NESTLE "SPRAZE" is the only high-quality coiffure fixitive (it's marvelous!) that's available in a special, plastic "squeeze-spray" bottle with a plastic atomizer that never clogs—and at a truly reasonable price! Nestle "Spraze" is so easy to use in its specially-designed, "squeezable" bottle! Just flick open the atomizer-top—squeeze the bottle—and a few sprays of delicate "spraze" will control unruly wisps all day long! Nice thing about "Spraze" is it's not a bit sticky—it dries in a jiffy—it gives high lustre and "springiness" to your hair! Nowhere have I found such a waveset and such an atomizer for as little as $1.50 . . . and refills available for just 50c!

Your Eyes work hard for you every single day . . . and even though you may not realize it, they're bound to get tired! That's why I suggest that you give them the care they deserve. I use MURINE night and morning and always marvel at the quick, welcome relief it brings . . . helping to banish that tired, used-up feeling when eyes get weary! Containing seven ingredients that blend perfectly with the natural fluids of the eyes, Murine cleanses and soothes delicate eye tissues gently as a tear. Just put 2 drops in each eye! Ask your druggist for Murine today . . . use it regularly even before your eyes complain.

Speaking Of Coffee, I like mine iced in the summertime! Particularly when it's coffee as superbly flavourful as BLUE RIBBON COFFEE! It's a blend that's wonderfully smooth and full-bodied — always delicious — whether it's served hot or cold, like this:—

ICED COFFEE

Pour hot, double-strength, freshly made coffee into a tall glass filled with ice. The double-strength coffee makes up for dilution caused by the ice. To make double-strength coffee place the regular amount of coffee normally used for brewing hot coffee into the coffee maker; use only half the amount of water. Serve iced coffee black or with sugar and cream, as desired.

JACOBY ON CANASTA

After you have played Canasta a few times, you understand the importance and the value of keeping a large number of cards in your hand. This is particularly important when you are trying to pick up a frozen discard pile.

For example, suppose you have 20 cards in your hand. It might be fairly simple for you to hold eight pairs and four odd cards. Since there are only 11 denominations altogether (aces, kings, queens.....down to fours), you are a heavy favorite to get the pack quickly when you hold as many as eight different pairs. Your opponent can discard safely only from three denominations; and the odds are that he either will not hold enough safe cards or will not know which cards are safe.

Now consider the other extreme. You hold only three cards in your hand. At most you can have but one pair, and you may not have even that. It is almost impossible for you to get the pack since even if you are lucky enough to have a pair, the opponent at your right is not likely to hit upon that particular denomination to discard.

The advantage of holding many cards applies also when you are trying to find a safe discard. With 20 cards in your hand, you are bound to have a wide choice. Assuming that you know what is safe, you will probably be in a position to throw a safe card. With only three cards in your hand you may be helpless even though you are quite sure which cards are safe and which are unsafe. You may hold only dangerous cards, and you will be compelled to throw one of them.

I have taken extreme cases to show the general principle. Usually you will not hold as many as 20 cards or as few as three. But the general principle holds good: The more cards you hold, the better chance you have to get the pack and the easier it is for you to find a safe discard.

Q—My partner and I had a natural canasta of sixes and K-K-2 on the table. The opponents had three red threes down but had not melded. It is now my turn to play, and I hold two wild cards and one worthless card and I draw another wild card and want to meld out. May I put all three wild cards with the kings? Or am I allowed to add only two wild cards to the kings? If I must add one of the wild cards to the canasta of sixes, it becomes a mixed canasta, and counts 200 points less. Is that correct?

A—You must put at least one of the wild cards down with the sixes. You are allowed a total of only three wild cards with the pair of kings, so you can add only two wild cards to that meld. As you point out, this makes your canasta of sixes a mixed canasta, worth only 300 points instead of 500 points. However, it pays you to catch the opponents with their full hands and the red threes, even though you must give up 200 points to do so.

Q—Is it permissible to play wild cards alone? For example, suppose I had six kings started towards a canasta. Could I play a wild card alone on the meld of kings to complete the canasta?

A—Yes. That is a perfectly legal meld. You cannot start a new meld with wild cards alone, but once a meld is properly started you are allowed to add a single wild card to it.

We have already noted that when the pack is frozen in the early stages of a hand it is advantageous to hold many cards and disadvantageous to hold only a few cards. However, there are degrees of advantage, and this must sometimes be considered carefully.

For example, suppose you hold 11 cards while an opponent holds only eight cards. You have an advantage, but it is not a big one. A player with eight cards can hold as many as four pairs and therefore has a fair chance to get the pack. He also has a reasonably good chance to pick a safe discard and isn't much worse off in this respect than the player with 11 cards.

Now suppose that your partner holds only three cards. His disadvantage is a very great one. Your advantage of 11 cards to eight over one opponent isn't as great as his disadvantage of three cards to eight or three cards to 11 compared to his two opponents.

The question of position may also be important. For example, suppose you have your full hand of 11 cards and that one opponent likewise has 11 cards. Your partner has only five cards, and one opponent likewise has only five cards. Who has the advantage, particularly when the pack is frozen?

You have the advantage if your partner is discarding to the other short hand. The opponents have the advantage if you are discarding to the short opponent.

Suppose your partner is discarding to the opponent with five cards. He is not likely to give the pack away. The short opponent can hold two pairs at best, and may not have even one pair. Even though your partner will have his troubles with only five cards in his own hand, he has a very good chance to stay out of real danger.

Meanwhile, the opponent with only five cards is discarding to your 11-card hand. He will have his troubles, just like your partner, but he is not as likely to land on his feet. You may have four or five pairs behind him, and when he makes a risky discard you will probably be able to snap it up.

The situation is reversed, of course, if you are discarding to the hand with five cards. You will have no trouble playing safe, of course, but your partner will probably give the pack away before long.

✧ ✧ ✧

Q—The turn-up card is a queen. I must make the first play, and there is a red three in my hand. I need only 50 points for the first meld, and I have four queens in my hand. What is the correct procedure, assuming that I want to replace my red three and meld the five queens?

✧ ✧ ✧

A—First put down your red three. Next draw a card from the stock to replace the red three. (If the replacement is a red three, draw again. But be sure to have only 11 cards in your hand when you have finished replacing your red three.) Then put down your four queens on the table and add the turned-up queen to them. Finally, discard any of the remaining seven cards in your hand. You are left with six cards, and it is then up to the next player to make his play.

✧ ✧ ✧

Q—South deals. Does West have the right to put the first turn-up card in his hand? For example, suppose the first card turned up is a queen. West has only one queen in his hand and cannot meld. Can he pick up that queen anyway?

✧ ✧ ✧

A—No; he cannot pick it up. Whenever you pick up a discard (the original turn-up card is considered a discard), you must meld it then and there. If you can't meld it, you can't pick it up.

Wishing Wells, Flowers Deck All Saints' Hall for Tea

A most delightful tea on Wednesday afternoon in All Saints' Parish Hall was held solely for the purpose of promoting further friendliness among women of the congregation. More than 125 came to spend an hour in friendly conversation and in making new acquaintances, and they were entertained by members of the Women's Church Year.

If anyone had ventured to come with an "unfriendly attitude," they would still have enjoyed this friendship tea for its decorations.

Wishing wells and flowers formed the bases for a charming effect, with flower-covered trellises and border of sweetpeas on a simulated verandah as the background. A large "well" was filled with fragrant lilacs and in every window there were baskets of beautiful spring flowers.

Beside miniature well on the tea table, which was complete with peaked cover and bucket but filled with pansies and lily-of-the-valley for this occasion, stood a pensive Cinderella, about to make a wish. Tall pink tapers in matching cup-holders and a white linen cloth with cutwork design and lace border completed the setting.

Tea-pourers, Mrs. V. Hill, Mrs. T. Griffin, Mrs. L. Dobbin, Mrs. H. Connolly, Mrs. P. Hooper and Mrs. J. Black, wore corsages of lily-of-the-valley made up by the decorating convener, Mrs. F. Gray, who had assistance in the work from Mrs. T. Cook and Miss Vicki Gray. Also Mrs. V. Chandler, who ingeniously made the model well for the table, another to decorate the piano top, and a tiny one which stood on the table where donations were received.

Mrs. J. C. Adams, president of this over-all women's organization, Mrs. H. J. Morley, vice-president, and the rector's wife, Mrs. W. E. Kibblewhite, were welcoming the guests and Mrs. J. Carroll and Mrs. F. Dunford were acting as hostesses. Children were taken to the Sunday school rooms below where they were entertained by Mrs. C. Gilders, Mrs. J. Goodson and Miss E. Carroll.

Shut-ins too were able to come to this party through the kindness of Mrs. G. Penhall, Mrs. C. Collins and Mrs. G. Milne supplying transportation.

Assisting in the tea room were Misses Peggy Patterson, Marie Adams, Mavis Alexander and Mrs. R. Chandler, Mrs. S. Daniels, Mrs. E. Dawe, Mrs. Bert Austin, Mrs. J. Gatfield and Mrs. J. Cooper. The tea supplied were convened by Mrs. T. Doughty and the replenishing was looked after by Mrs. R. Hurrle and Mrs. E. Border.

Anson House Residents Sell Plants, Knitting on Open Day

Nature co-operated to the fullest for the greatest day of the year to residents of the Anson House—"open house," held Wednesday afternoon, and it was delightful to be with them atop the north end hill where breezes cooled.

Their many friends who took advantage of an open invitation to attend were touched with jealousy when they saw some of the advantages these mostly elderly men and women are enjoying. Spacious grounds, well laid out with flowers and shrubbery; verandahs and glassed porches provided for plenty of fresh and and sunshine; views from upper floors almost unsurpassable in the city—looking over the river to Armour hill on the east and over beautiful countryside and the city from other locations.

Nicely furnished sitting rooms and cheery dining rooms are provided, and the reporter was told that meals are "very good." People of advancing years find stair-climbing difficult, but in Anson House they are built to be as easy as possible. The present building, which opened in 1912, was planned with every known convenience for its purpose.

Each resident is responsible for her own room, except the housecleaning, and many use their own furniture. Some find room enough for a bedroom-sitting room setup, and all have comfortable chairs to sit in during the day.

The main problem for them is "something to do". Miss Annie McIntyre has solved it by raising African violets and the visitors Wednesday bought all of these she would sell. Quite a lot of knitted goods and several rugs were sold too, the proceeds to be used for buying more wool. These people also like to help others and have made some supplies for the Grenfell Labrador Mission, the Children's Shelter and some boottees for the Civic Hospital Auxiliary supply.

Board president Mr. James Hamilton was receiving the callers, assisted by Mrs. F. M. Sommerville, a vice president. All other members were on hand to help. Mrs. W. M. Cruthers, Mrs. F. E. Hooper and Mrs. C. C. Pilon were conducting tours through the building, Mrs. F. Hills, Mrs. G. R. Langley, and Miss Claire Mason attending the work tables.

Mrs. Major C. Everitt was ushering into the tea room where Miss Laura Davidson and Miss Helen Munro were the conveners in charge. Mrs. F. M. DelaFosse and Mrs. J. W. Pierce poured the tea and servers were Mrs. Walter Perry, Mrs. Al Clark and Miss Margaret Widdess.

Purple iris and yellow tulips made up the tea table bouquet and other fragrant flowers of the season were placed about the rooms. Attracting much comment and admiration were French lilac trees along the entrance driveway.

Brothers Married In Toronto Double Ceremony

MARMORA, June 8 (ENS)—A double wedding of interest in Marmora and district took place on June 7 in the chapel of St. Michael's Cathedral, Toronto, when Irene Marie Schlosser, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Schlosser, Taber, Alberta, and Virginia Ruth Robertson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Robertson of Marmora became the brides of Charles Henry Black and James Raymond Black, sons of Mr. and Mrs. James Black of Marmora.

The young couples acted as attendants for each other. The nuptial mass was sung and marriage ceremonies performed by Very Rev. H. C. Kyte.

The brides wore dresses of powder blue crepe and dusty rose crepe, both with lace trim and navy accessories. The former wore a corsage of red roses and the latter had white roses.

Afterward the couples left together for a short honeymoon in Buffalo and New York. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Black will reside in Toronto and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Black in Oshawa.

✧ ✧ ✧

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Derry, Gilmour St., are in Toronto today to attend the University of Toronto graduation exercises in which their daughter Miss Nancy Derry is receiving her Bachelor of Arts degree.

✧ ✧ ✧

Mr. Richard Ramson of Ottawa was a weekend guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Ray of Bridgenorth, remaining to attend the graduation exercises of the Peterborough Civic Hospital in which Miss Joyce Ray graduated.

✧ ✧ ✧

The memorial committee of the Silver Cross organization, headed by Mrs. J. E. Patte, Mrs. B. W. Harvey, and Mrs. B. D. Hall, have thanked the Boy Scouts who smartly and capably ushered and helped at the dedication of the chapel at the Civic Hospital last Sunday.

✧ ✧ ✧

Mr. Peter Green, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Green, McDonnel St., a student in the Faculty of Forestry, Toronto, is spending the summer months in western Ontario with the Conservation Branch of the Ontario Department of Planning and Development.

Nuptial Honors

Three showers of gifts were given to Miss Doreen Davey before her marriage on Saturday to Mr. A. J. Anderson. Girls with whom she worked at Canadian Raybestos Company had a dinner party and shower at Marino's dining room. The young people of Elim Tabernacle gathered at the home of Miss Eva Wall, Homewood Ave., in her honor and neighbors of her home at Cresswell gave a shower. Presentation of a mirror was made by her fellow employees and the groom was given a radio by associates in the repair department, CGE.

Auxiliary Has Social Evening

Mrs. S. Whitfield was hostess this week to the Helen Roger Auxiliary of Knox church for a meeting, which took the form of a social evening. The worship service was conducted by Mrs. H. Todd, and after a brief business session, with president Mrs. H. Murduff in the chair, the meeting was turned over to Mrs. Betty Clarke, Mrs. E. Pearse, and Mrs. F. Dunford, for a period of games and contests. Prize winners were Mrs. D. Hubbs, Mrs. A. Kemp, Mrs. J. Kemp, Miss Phllis Kidd, Mrs. J. Donaldson, Mrs. G. James, and Mrs. D. Rhude.

Delicious refreshments were served in the candle-lit dining room. Assisting the hostess were Mrs. G. Myles, Mrs. A. Sproat, Mrs. F. McGavin. No further meetings will be held until September.

YW Council Clears Reports

Eighteen girls, who make up the YWCA Members' Council, met for a buffet supper in the Green Room Wednesday evening. Afterward Miss Jean Hammond, vice-president, conducted the business in absence of president, Mrs. E. Killingbeck. Reports for the World Membership Council being held at Whitby in August were cleared. Plans were laid to hold a country fair in connection with the annual "open house" on October 5. Club activities of the past month were reported. The gym department announced a repeat performance of their ballet will be given on June 22 to raise money for Manitoba flood relief. The swim department is to have an "awards night" on the 23rd. The next meeting will be on September 13 when Mrs. Sophie Zakos will entertain at her summer home.

Y Pageant Repeat On June 22 For Floor Relief

Encouraged by many citizens' expressed wishes to see, or again see, this year's YWCA gym pageant, and "Enchanted Princess" ballet, the director, Miss Caroline Littlefield is arranging to give a repeat performance in aid of the Manitoba Flood Relief Fund on Thursday evening, June 22.

It will again be staged in the Brock Ballroom which is being offered free of charge by manager Jim Laidlaw, and again backed by the Lion's Club with the members acting as ushers and assisting with ticket sales.

The price of tickets is to be lower as it is expected many will be seeing the performance a second time.

Performers young and old are enthusiastic about this opportunity to help the unfortunate in their neighboring province and are keeping up to par by practicing in the intervening time, and juniors and tiny tots will meet their regular ten o'clock Saturday morning schedule this week.

Beatty-Wright Lindsay Nuptials

A double ring wedding ceremony performed in St. Paul's Anglican Church, Lindsay, on Saturday united Elva Grace, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Noble Wright, Lindsay, and Rellan Archie Beatty, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Beatty of Millbrook.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was gowned in slipper satin with a square neckline yoke of net, lily point sleeves and the skirt falling into a circular train. A halo of orange blossoms held her embroidered fingertip veil and she carried white roses and sweet peas.

Mrs. W. K. Richards, sister of the bride, was matron of honor, Miss Verna Jewell and Mrs. Charles Finnie were bridesmaids. They wore pretty frocks of eyelet over taffeta in lime green, maize and mauve shades. Their headdresses were silver and they carried bouquets of spring flowers. Flower girl Nancy Richards wore yellow taffeta and carried a nosegay of sweet peas.

Mr. David Fallis was groomsman and ushers were Ross Wright and Donald Hartness.

After a reception at the bride's home, the couple left on a trip, the bride wearing a powder blue suit with navy accessories. They will live in Millbrook.

MRS. DOUGLAS EARL BRUCE, the former Grace Driver, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Driver of Bethany, was pictured signing the register in Bethany United Church Saturday, after a double-ring ceremony performed by the Rev. W. R. Crandall. Mr. Bruce is son of Mr. and Mrs. Irvine Bruce of Toronto, and the couple will also live in Toronto.

Belmont Lake Friends Honor Couple on Golden Wedding

HAVELOCK, June 8.—(ENS).—A surprise party was held at Belmont Lake on Tuesday evening at the summer home of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Murray of Aurora when friends in the district gathered to celebrate that couple's 50th wedding anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Murray were presented with a table lamp and china cake plate. Mr. Charles Carter of Havelock made the address and Judge William Gillen of Cleveland, Ohio, made the presentation.

A very enjoyable social time was spent, which included speeches voicing congratulation and good wishes. Mr. and Mrs. Murray have been summer residents at Belmont Lake for 20 years.

Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hoy, Mr. and Mrs. John Rogers, Mr. Harry McLean, Mr. James Cummings, Mrs. Borbeau, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Kennedy, Mr. Archie Cummings, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Carter, Mr. E. C. Pace, Mr. James Barlow, Mrs. William Backus, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cromwell, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bard.

Anderson-Davey Vows Taken By Candle-Light

Candle-light and flowers at the altar of Elim Tabernacle were the setting Saturday evening for the wedding of Doreen Isabelle Davey to Albert John Anderson which was performed by the Rev. F. Warburton. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gladwin Davey of Cresswell, and the groom a son of Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Anderson of Bancroft.

Wedding music was played by Mrs. E. Hill and Miss Marion parks sang "The voice that breath'd o'er Eden" and at the signing of the register, "O perfect love."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was gowned in white satin with lace trim, designed with a sweetheart neckline, long sleeves pointed at the wrists and the skirt gathered at the back. Her veil was caught to a crown of orange blossoms and she carried a bouquet of Bettertime roses.

Bridesmaids were Miss Ruth Casey and the groom's sister, Miss Lois Anderson. Their similarly styled outfits were of pink and pale green taffeta with matching hats of lace and taffeta and they carried nosegays of sweet peas.

Mr. Gregory Anderson was groomsman for his brother and ushers were Ray Naylor and Leonard Pillcock.

At the reception held in the Empress Hotel the bride's mother was receiving, dressed in navy sheer with matching hat and corsage of Talisman roses. The groom's mother wore medium blue crepe with a white hat and corsage of pink roses.

Before leaving on a trip to New York State, the bride had changed to a navy dress and navy accessories. On return the couple will live at 80 Ware St.

What's Right

A girl has already planned to go to a movie with another girl when a boy asks her to go to a movie with him.

WRONG: She accepts the date and telephones the girl that she can't go because she has a date.

RIGHT: She tells the boy that she is busy, so that she can keep her promise and not ruin the other girl's evening.

Meeting at Lake Chapter Plans Summer-Fall Work

Members of Otonabee Chapter, IODE, spent Wednesday afternoon at a cottage on Chemong Lake, the guests of the regent, Mrs. A. McWilliams. Two new members welcomed at this time were Mrs. F. Merrett and Mrs. W. Wheeler.

Presentation of prizes for the winter bridge were made by the convener, Mrs. W. A. Burrell to Mrs. W. Curry and Mrs. D. Cameron, Mrs. D. J. Hall and Mrs. W. Comstock.

At opening of the business session a vote of thanks was extended to councillors, Mrs. F. A. Gray, Mrs. D. E. Bell and Mrs. A. Dryland for their success in staging the recent lilac tea.

Plans were made to have war-service, summer sewing and knitting ready for the September meeting. Talent money for the flower fund is to be turned in at October meeting, and the annual fall tea will be held in November. Members were appointed to assist with the IODE tag day for Manitoba relief being held this Saturday, June 10.

After enjoying a lovely buffet supper, the ladies spent the evening playing cards and on the lakeshore. Small prizes were won by Mrs. W. A. Burrell, Mrs. C. Sherwood, Mrs. F. Merrett and Mrs. N. Andrews.

Of Interest to Women

DOROTHY DIX

Woman Hopelessly In Love With Man Who Won't Marry

DEAR MISS DIX: I am a woman of 37, in love with a man who professes to love me, but frankly tells me that he has no intention of ever marrying. He wants to be my lover, but not my husband. Of late the scarcity of his dates makes me feel that he is trying to let me down easy. In fact, there are no dates except of my making. He never takes the initiative. The days that I don't see him are such long hours of hope and fear and desperate desire that I am driven by something stronger than myself to call him on some excuse or other. Usually that results in my seeing him and the world is right again. Must I stop calling him, knowing it will probably mean never seeing him again? Would I be justified in having an affair with him, or may I hope that what I desire is true and that he Is in love with me, but is reluctant to give up his bachelor freedom. ALICE

Dorothy Dix

ANSWER: Nothing else on earth is more pathetic than the besotted folly of a woman who is in love with a man who does not love her, for she refuses to use any intelligence in dealing with the catastrophe.

Facts are Obvious

She shuts her eyes to facts that are so obvious that a blind woman should see them. She refuses to acknowledge defeat, and prolongs her agony by hoping against hope that some miracle is going to happen that will turn a man who is cold and indifferent to her into an ardent lover and make a confirmed bachelor lead her to the altar.

Evidently this man is tired of you, or else you wouldn't have to hound him on the telephone to get him to make dates with you. A man in love is eager for his sweetheart's society and is always planning ways for them to be together. He doesn't love you, or else he would marry you. All this talk about bachelor freedom is forgotten when a man sees a girl who sweeps him off his feet. The very fact that this man proposed an illicit relationship to you is all the proof you need to know that he didn't care enough for you to be tied to you for keeps. He intended to throw you over after the romance wore thin. Otherwise he would have married you to begin with and saved the scandal. Believe me, you have a lot less to weep over as a deserted sweetheart than you would as a deserted mistress.

Of all useless pursuits, the most profitless is running after a man who is running away from you. Give it up and forget him.

DEAR MISS DIX: I am 20 years old and have been going with boys for so many years that I am tired of it all and want to settle down and have a husband and home of my own. I have met a boy that I like and who is in love with me and he wants to start saving for an engagement ring, but I want to get married right away. He is only 18. Can a boy so young be sure of himself? Is it true that youth never knows real true love that lasts? What is your advice? MILDRED

ANSWER: My advice is to wait. If you rush a boy into marriage before he is ready for it, you are certainly heading for trouble. This boy, in the first place, is entirely too young to marry. All that he is capable of at 18 is calf love, and if that lasts it is a miracle and not anything that you have a right to count on.

And, in the second place, the boy has nothing to marry on. He hasn't even the price of an engagement ring. If you coerce him into marrying you now, what do you propose to live on? Are you going to inflict a husband on your mother and father to support or are you going to burden his parents with having to feed and clothe you?

So give up all thoughts of being a cradle-snatcher. Let this poor boy alone. Let him grow up before he takes upon himself the responsibility of matrimony. And if you are so anxious to marry, pick out a man instead of a boy for a husband.

DEAR MISS DIX: Why can't women keep themselves and their houses neat? My home and my wife always look as if a cyclone had struch them. I wish she would spend some money improving her looks and on her clothes. If my clients judged my work by the look of my wife and home, I would never get an order.

A DISILLUSIONED MAN

ANSWER: A slovenly and untidy woman certainly is a grief to her husband, but since the cause of it is sheer laziness there is no cure for it. And that is too bad, because a wife is her husband's show window by which people judge him, and she does him a great injustice when she goes about looking like something the cat dragged in.

"Now remember—the minute you hear me ask them if they'd like a second helping, nip in with the next course."
